Farmers and Labor Men Join To Form Administration in Ontario; E. C. Drury, Premier

Cabinet Already Nearly Formed and Ready to Take Over Reins of Office from Sir William Hearst

(Special to The News via G. T. P. Telegraphs.)

Toronto, October 30.—E. C. Drury is to be the next Premier of Ontario, succeeding Sir William Hearst. He was the unanimous choice of the United Farmers of Ontario and Labor representatives in the new legislature. At a joint conference of the parties Drury said that the new government was practically completed, that all the portfolios had been allocated and that the Government would be ready on short notice to take over the reins from Sir William Hearst.

Ernest Charles Drury was born at Crown Hall, Simcoe County, January 22, 1878. He is the son of the late Hon. Charles Drury, Ontario's first Minister of Agriculture in 1888, who immediately preceded Hon. John Dryden in that office.

UNITED STATES COAL STRIKE IS IMMINENT

Steps Taken by Government to Protect People and Industries.

(Special via G. T. P. Telegraphs.)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—The Government, after the refusal of the miners' organization to call the strike of half a million coal workers ordered for Friday night, moved swiftly to protect the people from great distress.

The first of the many steps to deal with the situation, admittedly critical, will be these:
Ample police or other protection for miners willing to remain on the job.
Revival of the fuel administration armed with full wartime powers to prevent hoarding and profiteering.
Allocation and distribution of coal to homes, railroads and industries.
Efforts to bring the strike to a speedy termination.
The Government will, however, make no effort to bring about the abdication of the officers of the United Mine Workers of America who called the strike, on charge of conspiracy to reduce production of a necessary product.

WEEKLY BOAT BY THE C. P. R.

Company to Run the Princess Beatrice to This Port Commencing Wednesday.

Commencing next week the C. P. R. will run a regular weekly service to this port. On Wednesday next the steamer Princess Beatrice will leave Vancouver at 7 p. m., arriving here Saturday at 7 a. m., and returning will leave the same day at 9 p. m., calling at Dawson Bay, Ocean Falls, Hardy Bay, Alert Bay, Beaver Cove, Powell River, and Vancouver, where she arrives at 7 a. m. Tuesday.

Formerly the C. P. R. ran the Princess May on this route but for some years has confined her northern business to Alaska with calls each way here. The placing of the Beatrice on the run shows reviving interest in this port on the part of the big railway company.

SIX MONTHS AT OKALLA

Chinaman Caught With Four Cans of Opium in His Possession.

Constable Adams was at the boat again yesterday morning and noticed an old and suspicious acquaintance, Young Auk, getting off the steamer. He searched him but found no illicit goods on his person so Auk started off up town. The constable took the precaution to watch him depart and noticed him make some peculiar arm movements so he took up the chase again and made a more exacting search to find that he had four cans of real genuine "hop" on his person. Two cans of opium were concealed under his armpits and two other under his forearm. The total value of the opium was $200.

Auk was immediately taken to the city jail and this morning he appeared before Magistrate McMordie, was found guilty of having opium in his possession and became the first victim of the recent recommendation of the Police Commission, namely, that people having drugs in possession are to get jail instead of fine.

"Six months at Okalla Farm," from the magistrate.
"What!"
"Six months!"
"No fine?" was surprise.
"Come with me," from Constable Adams and he went.

Britain Near End of Entanglements in Russia Announced

British Government Will Not Levy on Capital, but Willing to Examine into Possibility of so Doing

(Special to The News via G. T. P. Telegraphs.)

LONDON, October 30.—The main matter in the first day of the final debate in the House of Commons was the speech of Austin Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer, and Winston Churchill, secretary for war, defending and justifying expenditures as inevitable after the war. Mr. Chamberlain made it quite clear that the Government had no intention of resorting to a levy on capital as advocated by Wm. C. Adamson on behalf of the labor party, but was not disinclined to examine into the possibilities of a levy. The Liberal and Labor members in the course of debate pointed to the strange contrasts between Mr. Chamberlain's optimistic speech of today and the speech of a couple of months ago predicting national bankruptcy and asked what had happened in the meantime to produce this startling change.

Mr. Churchill's speech was a long recital of figures justifying army expenditures and explaining that owing to the reduction in size of the army of occupation in Ger-

CAPITAL AND LABOR IS DISCUSSED BY COLONEL McMORDIE AT LUNCHEON

"It is the duty of everyone to do everything in his power to improve the condition of labor, without at the same time being unfair to capital. By 'labor' I mean all those who use either brain or muscle for the production of wealth. By 'capital' I mean money or its equivalent which supplies the machinery used by labor in the production of wealth. The former is flesh and blood and souls and should not be placed in the same category with labor. Both are necessary to carry on the world's work, both are entitled to compensation, but labor should never be permitted to suffer in order that capital might benefit."

In the foregoing paragraph Colonel S. P. McMordie touched the very root of the economic troubles in an address before the Board of Trade on the steamship Prince George yesterday afternoon with President McCaffery in the chair, and with several prominent guests present, including W. P. Hinton, vice-president and general manager of the G. T. P.; Morton Frewin, of London, England; Captain Nicholson, manager of the G. T. P. steamship line, and a number of railway officials and other visitors.

The Big Strike.
Colonel McMordie referred to the Winnipeg strike. He said that less than six months ago that city was in the throes of an incipient revolution. The workmen were striking to obtain redress of a real or fancied grievance when the Red leaders seized control of the city, cut off the means of communication with the outside world and announced their intention of setting up a soviet form of government. This they were unable to accomplish, but the fact that they did control the city for some days must convince

Second Keel Laid And Names Chosen

Two local built ships to be named Canadian Reaper and Canadian Thrasher; Work is proceeding apace

The Canadian Reaper and the Canadian Thrasher are the names chosen by the authorities at Ottawa for the two ships which are being built at this port. The officials of the Prince Rupert Drydock & Engineering Co. have been so notified.

The keel of the second ship was laid this morning at eleven o'clock and the work at the shipyards is progressing well. There was no ceremony in connection with the keel laying this morning.

It is announced that work will proceed steadily and very soon there will be a good deal of noise heard in the direction of the shipyards.

VICTORY LOAN CAMPAIGN TO OPEN MONDAY

Arrangements Made for Thorough Canvass of the City by Committee of Citizens.

The Victory Loan campaign in this city commences on Monday next. That was the decision of the local committee which met in the Council Chamber yesterday afternoon with Mayor McClymont presiding.

A committee of five to act with the mayor in appointing canvassers was chosen consisting of Messrs. Stewart, Tabrum, Stephens, Mortimer and Arnold, and these have the work of mapping out the districts and organizing the forces for a thorough canvass of the city.

In discussing the campaign it was decided that on this occasion the loan should be looked upon as a business proposal and that the value of the bonds as an investment should be made one of the first considerations.

IMPORT COAL FROM B. C.

Seattle Looks to This Province for Supply—Seize all Coal in Transit.

(Special via G. T. P. Telegraphs.)

Seattle, Oct. 30.—(2 p. m.) An arrangement has been made to import 10,000 tons of coal per month from British Columbia, if the coal strike occurs.

Authority is given to confiscate all coal in transit for the operation of the railroads if the coal miners go out, is the announcement made by the Government. They will curtail coal consumption in all industries fifty per cent.

TRUNK OF LIQUOR CAPTURED YESTERDAY

Broke Open as it Landed on the Dock and Liquor Spilt.

Yesterday while baggage was being unloaded from the Prince George a trunk met with mishap in falling from the sling and it began to leak. Before all the evidence had been disposed of by the witnesses standing by the police were there and took the trunk in tow. They found it to contain seven quarts of Canadian rye whiskey intact and five broken. It was marked from the Government vendor's store and the trunk was checked from Vancouver to Stewart. Somebody in Stewart is due for a sad disappointment.

PROGRESS ON GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY BILL

A Good Deal of Objection Taken to Details of Measure in Committee—Saskatchewan Must Pay.

(Special via G. T. P. Telegraphs.)

OTTAWA, Oct. 30.—The announcement by Hon. Arthur Meighen that Sir Walter Cassels, chief justice of the Exchequer Court, had promised to be the third member of the Board of arbitration which will fix the amount to be paid by the Government for the Grand Trunk, was the development in the debate on the Grand Trunk bill in the committee of the House of Commons.

Considerable discussion of clause seven providing for the naming of a committee of management to operate the Grand Trunk until after the conclusion of the arbitration proceedings took place before it finally passed.

In clause eight providing for the advance of money to the committee of management, the committee struck a snag. Mr. King designated this provision as "thoroughly vicious." Mr. Meighen suggested that it stand over until the Government could ascertain the amount likely to be requested to continue the operation of the system.

Clause 5 providing for the redemption of the Grand Trunk stock after a period of thirty years was held over after Mr. King had moved an amendment striking out the words "after thirty years."

Clause 12, the last in the bill, was held over until tomorrow when the Minister of the Interior will make a further statement respecting the obligation of the Grand Trunk Pacific.

The Minister of Railways informed E. T. Meyers that the Grand Trunk Pacific being in the hands of receivers could not pay interest on its loans from the province of Saskatchewan, therefore the province must meet this interest itself.

NO HUN DELEGATES WANTED IN LONDON

(Special by G. T. P. Telegraphs.)

LONDON, Oct. 30.—Passports have been refused for most of the German and Austrian delegates invited here to confer with the representatives of other countries upon the solution of the internal problems of the Central Empires. This meeting was projected by the "Fight the Fate Council" headed by Baron Harmor, a judicial member of the Privy Council.

FIRST FLAG

Fort Fraser is the first community in the province to attain its honor flag in the present Victory Loan campaign. The little Grand Trunk town's quota was $1,600 but $5,000 had been raised up to Sunday night which entitles it to 5 crowns as well.

RAY COLLISHAW STILL ON DUTY

Flying Near Crimea Peninsula Where He Has Many Adventures.

SHOT DOWN HIS FIRST BOLSHEVIK MACHINE

Confirms Reports of Atrocities and Says They Mutilate Prisoners.

Col. Raymond Collishaw of Nanaimo is now doing duty with a British squadron near the Crimea in Southern Russia. He writes to a friend in Toronto in part as follows:

"Our squadron is the only British unit on this front and we are having some session. During the offensive operations by General Denikine's volunteer army my pilots were 'full out' and most of the credit has been given to our squadron for the 'ground strafing' and bombing shows we entertained them with. Again at T— our fellows showed them a few tricks and all our pilots were praised for their efforts against the Bolsheviks. Since arriving, they have given our fellows twenty-four decorations.

"Yesterday I shot down the first machine ever destroyed on this front. It was a German pilot in a D5 Albatross. He fell near K— on the Volga River.

Carried off Gun.

"A few days ago we were out on a show attacking a flock of Red cavalry and one of my chaps named Elliott, flying at 500 feet, was shot down about six miles over the lines. Neither he nor his observer were hurt. The observer kept the Red cavalry off with the Lewis gun until the pilot set the machine on fire. Then, still totting the Lewis gun, the two started away, keeping the Red cavalry at a respectful distance.

"Capt. Anderson, another Canadian, landed nearly amid all the enemy cavalry, he and his observer scattering them with their machine guns.

"Elliott and his observer then set off to join the second pair, clearing the way with their Lewis. The Bolsheviks immediately surrounded the burning machine just as six Copper bombs went off in it.

The Gas Tank.

"In the meantime a Bolshevik bullet had punctured the gas tank of the rescue machine. So the observer climbed out on a wing and held both holes on each side with his thumbs, Elliott and his observer then got into the machine and got home safely.

"That was some stuff and must have shaken the Bolshie. But all my boys are some stuff.

"We have sixty-two flying officers, fifty-three of whom are Canadians. Three flights of single seater scouts and three flights of big two-seater bombers of the best pattern. I am in charge of my own operations. The volunteer army have a couple of flights. Frequently machines from both sides land on enemy territory to exchange ideas.

"In the areas where there are no railways the opposing armies seem to fraternize. The volunteer army is clothed entirely in khaki with British G. S. buttons, equipped in fact with everything British except ideas.

Largely Cossack.

"The personnel of the volunteer army is largely Cossack, with a sprinkling of refugee Russian officers, who are really fine fellows. In this country everyone is fighting everyone else. Little armies all over the place, the main three being Denikine's in South Russia; Kolchak's in East Russia, and Gregoroff's in the vicinity of Odessa. Gregoroff used to be a Bolshevik colonel and has changed his ideas three times already. Now he is fighting the Bolsheviks, but he is not with General Denikine. Outfits known as the Green Guards also abound. They are simply bands of outlaws and belong to no side. One's life is worth about a dollar in this country.

No Officers.

"The Bolshies have no officers, merely civilians directing the different parties. There are no laws or regulations. The Russians actually drink petrol! So one can imagine what happens when they get well 'lit up'.

"The money of the country is marvellous. They just go down cellar and make it while you await change. Captured Bolshevik money is perfectly good legal tender. No one ever pays fares in the railways. The whole nation just travels around on trains, while the army cheerfully runs the railroad and manufactures the paper money to run it as they need it.

"But they know how to have a good time. They have beautiful orchestras in band stands all over the country, and some of the finest food I have ever tasted I had here.

Saw Atrocities.

"I have seen plenty of atrocious things you have read of and I can vouch for their truth. The Bolshevik line up the civilians in hundreds, shoot and then mutilate them brutally. Another pretty little trick the Bolsheviks play is to strap a basin against a man's stomach with a rat imprisoned in the basin. The rat eats its way out. Oh, they are nice little chaps! They have dropped pamphlets at different points telling what they are going to do to any British aviators they capture. Crucifixion is one of our threatened fates. But we are not worrying.

"There being no telegraph system we have to carry messages everywhere. A forced landing means isolation, as there is no means of getting from one place to another. Some of our boys have been missing for as long as three weeks."

HAWAIIAN BOYS AT WESTHOLME

Complete Change of Program at Westholme Tonight and Additional Musical Artists.

An entire change of program with the addition of a group of native Hawaiians will make the Westholme very attractive tonight. Last night the Hawaiians played and sang at the Prince Rupert Club smoker and were voted first rate. They are certainly artists in their line. "Cohen at Monte Carlo" is the play that is being put on by the Fisher's Follies and it is said to be very funny. For the first three days of the week the theatre has been well filled at each performance and it is expected that with the change of program and the addition of the Hula Hula boys seats will have to be booked ahead in order to secure good positions.
