DAILY EDITION Thursday, May 22, 1930.

MAKE FAIR A SUCCESS

The Fair Board now has everything well under way for the annual fall fair. The prize book is just going to the printers, the hall is being put in shape and the board is actively making plans for the biggest and best fair in the history of the institution.

It has been pointed out that with the placing of the Prince William on the run to the islands and other points it will be easier to get exhibits in the city. Port Clements has some good produce and flower growers and they may well enter this year.

While there is still a possibility of the natives entering their bands and taking advantage of the thousand dollar offer of the board, if they do not come, the local boys are now able to give splendid concerts and the contest being arranged for members of the Boys' Band will be one of the interesting features of the fair. There will be plenty of music anyway.

Stewart is one of the best locations in the district for raising flowers and vegetables. Possibly a Stewart exhibit might be arranged that would show the people of the other sections what that live little town is capable of doing. It would be good advertising for them and Prince Rupert would do well to encourage the idea.

The offer of the board just made to give three good prizes for a floral display is one that should encourage flower growers to take part and show what they can grow and how artistically they can arrange their exhibit.

What is needed now is for local people to be a unit in support of the fair, to talk about it and try to induce outsiders to pay Prince Rupert a visit at that time.

UNITED EFFORT NECESSARY

In the next few months the people of the city will be divided over the election of a member to represent them at Ottawa. Some will support one candidate and some another. While it is a serious matter it is not sufficiently serious to cause people to be at outs with their neighbors. It should be looked upon somewhat as a sport event in which the supporters of either team root for their side but keep happy and refuse to be so serious about it as to allow it to interfere with their other activities.

Though we shall be divided in politics, let us be united for the fair. It is one of Prince Rupert's institutions and must be made a credit to the city and district.

MEETING OF P. T. ASS'N

Interesting Program Enjoyed Last Night—Plans For Tea and Sale

The regular monthly meeting of the Prince Rupert Parent-Teacher Association held last evening in the Booth Memorial School with Mrs. Blance presiding, was well attended.

The treasurer's report showed a credit balance of $121. The meeting decided that the usual grant of $20 be made to each of the larger schools and $10 to each of the smaller ones.

Plans were also discussed for a sale of home cooking to be held in the Booth Memorial School on Thursday, June 19. Conveners for the home cooking are Mrs. Viereck and Mrs. Eastman while Mrs. Hill-Tout is in charge of the tea room. Mrs. G. Hill and Mrs. Cameron are in charge of the ice cream.

Proceeds of the sale of candy at the different schools on the closing day before the Easter vacation amounted to $44.35.

H. McLeod was the chief attraction for the evening with his display of moving pictures taken by himself in Prince Rupert and the neighborhood.

Mrs. T. A. Ross, accompanied by Miss E. Grassie, rendered two solos, "The Cradle Song" (Brahms) and "The Mother Heart," very acceptably and Miss B. A. Leitch gave pianoforte solos in her usual capable style. A hearty vote of thanks was accorded the artists and Mr. McLeod on motion of Miss Mills seconded by Miss Rothwell.

Delightful refreshments were served by the refreshment committee in the Home Economics department after the program.

Price of Grain Alcohol Is Cut For Hospitals

Whereas the price had been raised from $3 to $30 a gallon because of an amendment to the Government Liquor Act under which the commodity could no longer be bought from distillers direct but would have to be purchased through the government liquor stores, efforts of the British Columbia Hospitals Association had been successful in bringing about a system of credits whereby pure grain alcohol could be purchased now at a net price of $5.93 per gallon. This information was contained in a circular from the Hospitals Association which was read at last night's meeting of the local hospital board. Not satisfied with a price which is still nearly double the old figure, the association is working for even further deductions and is hopeful of getting same.

The circular contained a progress report from the Royal Commission which is working on state health insurance and maternity benefits.

It was mentioned that the annual convention of the British Columbia Hospitals Association would be held in Vancouver, possibly in September, jointly with the Western Hospital Association and the Northwestern Hospital Association. A visit from prominent British doctors who would be visiting Canada at that time was expected and they would be speakers. Any resolutions that the local board might have to offer, the communication asked be sent along as soon as possible.

Tempest In Tea Pot Threatened

Ald. Macdonald Resents not Being Consulted in Business of Committee of Which he is Member

A tempest in the teapot was threatened for a time at last night's meeting of the hospital board when Ald. S. D. Macdonald, although not wishing to be too fussy, expressed resentment at having heard two reports from the grounds committee of which he was a member but, although a representative of the city council on the board, on which he had not been consulted. He wondered how many more there were. He thought he was entitled to know, before hearing these reports at a general meeting, what was going on on the committee of which he was a member.

G. V. Wilkinson, chairman of the committee, did not see why work should be held up if a majority of the committee was brought together. It was not his fault that he had not got in touch with Ald. Macdonald for he had attempted to do so and had left a message which he thought was sufficient.

Frank Dibb stated that he might have been remiss in the matter. Ald. Macdonald accepted Mr. Wilkinson's explanation.

Mr. Wilkinson, on behalf of his committee, reported that a new fence had been put up in connection with the nurses' home garden and fertilizer had been purchased. The committee would be undertaking only small expenditure this year as no work on the hospital grounds was contemplated.

ALICE ARM

A large new deposit of molybdenum ore, 200 feet in width, has been discovered on the Tidewater Molybdenum property which is under development by the Dalhousie Mining Co. The strike made quite a sensation here and was hailed as one of the most important that has been made in the district for some time. A shipment of 100 pounds has been sent to the Mines Department laboratories at Ottawa for mill test.

Good progress is being made with work in the district by the provincial public works department. The work on the bridges to connect the road on the flats with Illiance Valley and Silver City trails is well under way; the repairing of the Dolly Varden Railway has proceeded as far as Mile 6 where heavy slides of clay have been cleared from the tracks, and the work of clearing new streets and lanes in the town of Alice Arm is proceeding.

B. R. Wilson, formerly of Prince Rupert, has taken a year's leave on the Kitsault Cafe which has been conducted for the last 13 years by Mr. and Mrs. G. Anderson. The latter will remain in Alice Arm.

LABORATORY IS REOPENED

Miss A. Johnson Engaged As Technician at Hospital With Salary of $80 Per Month

The hospital board decided last night to reopen a laboratory department in the Prince Rupert General Hospital. Miss A. Johnson of this city, who for the past two or three years, has been in the United States, received the appointment of laboratory technician at a salary of $80 per month, with meals but not with room.

Miss Johnson's appointment had been hanging fire for some time as the board had not been able to get in touch with her since last fall. Dr. J. P. Cade advised the board last night that he had heard from Miss Johnson and that she was willing to come here at any reasonable salary and to live at home. She had no difficulty in securing a position elsewhere but merely wanted to get back to Prince Rupert. Medical men of the city, Dr. Cade pointed out, had long been pressing for laboratory facilities. A good deal of this kind of work now went to Vancouver but it would all be done here if the facilities were available. There would be considerable revenue and he was quite confident that the department would be self-sustaining or very nearly so. It would add to the efficiency of the hospital and would be a great convenience both to patients and doctors.

Miss Jean Harrison R. N., lady superintendent, thought it would be advisable to reopen the laboratory. It would improve the standing of the hospital and it seemed there would be plenty of work available.

Ald. Brown supported the move as being merely another step in the general direction of improving hospital facilities and standing such as was the policy of the board.

It was moved by G. V. Wilkinson that Miss Johnson be engaged at $80 per month, seconded by Ald. Brown, and carried.

HINTS FOR GARDENERS

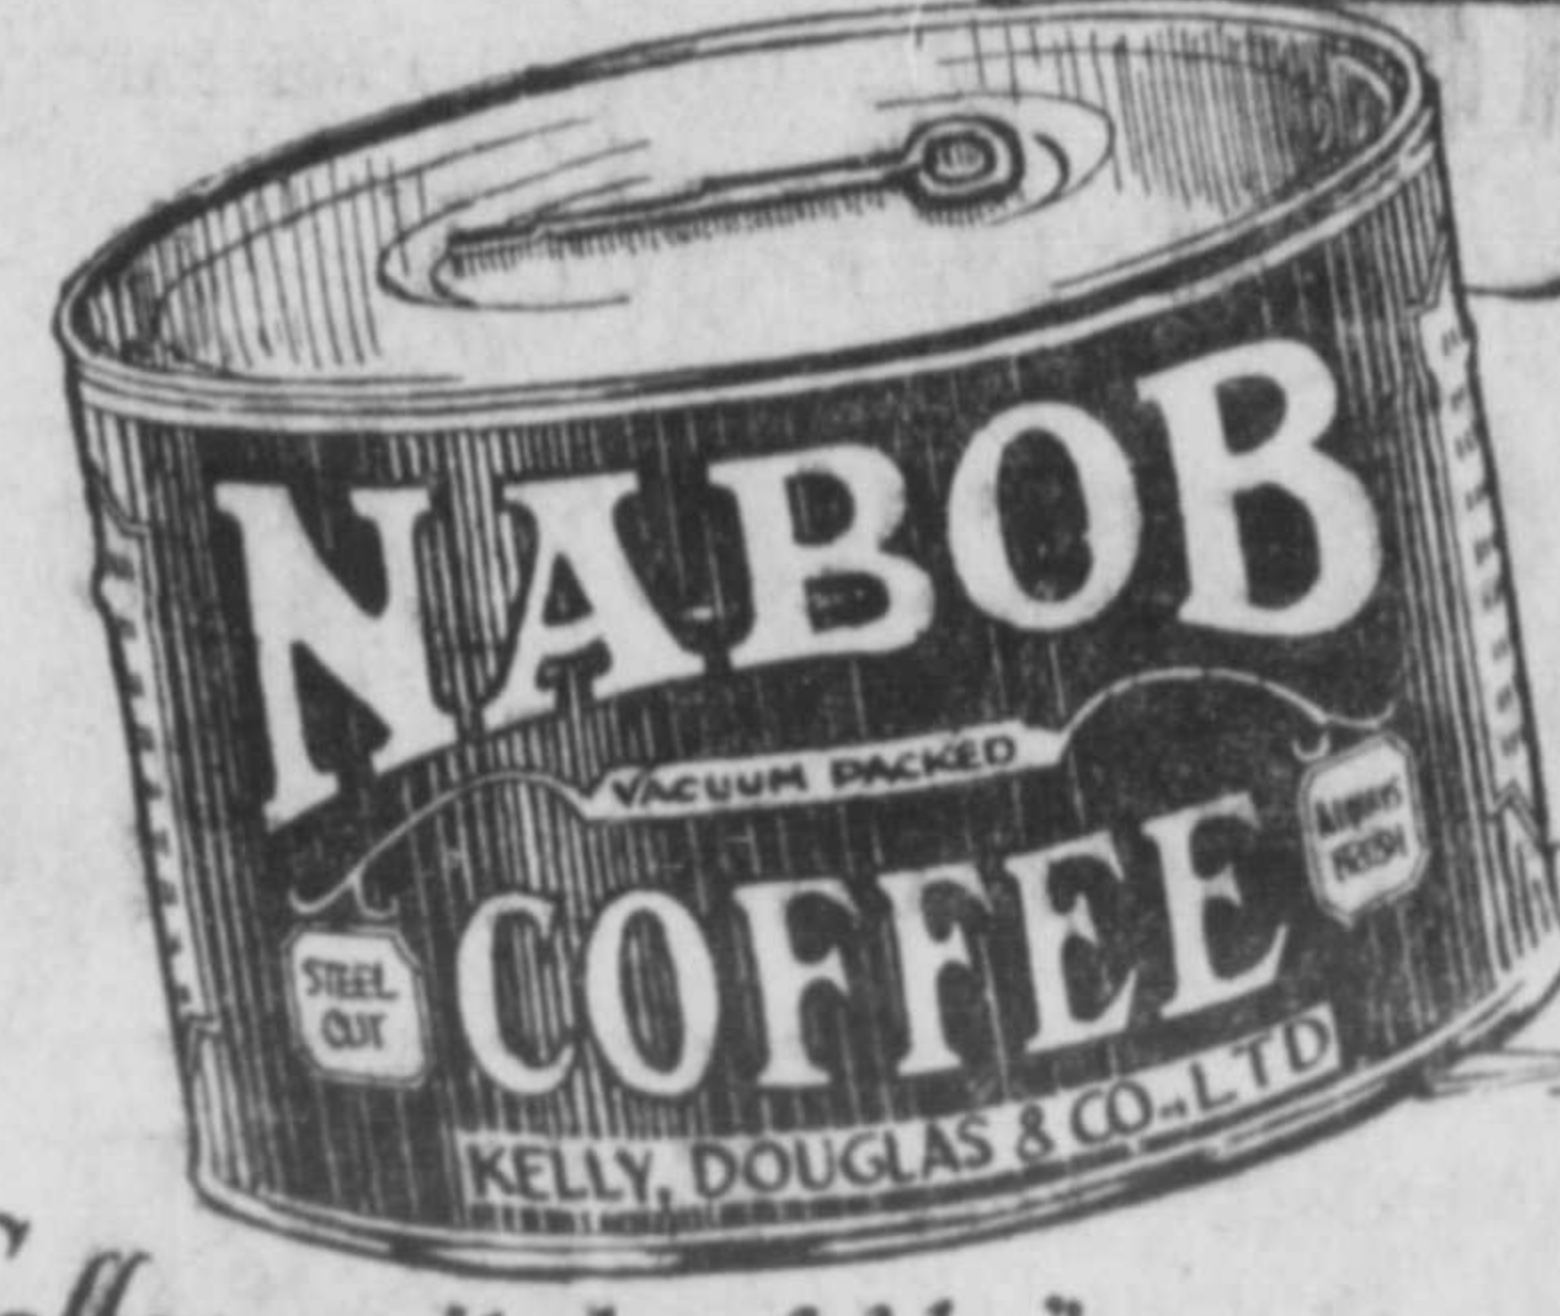

PLANTS FOR ROCK GARDEN

Practically all seedsmen list suitable planting material for the rock garden, that interesting little layout representing a mountainous range in miniature which can be developed in one's own garden. While there are literally thousands of species of alpine plants from all parts of the world, the number that are proving hardy in Canada is limited, and the novice would be well-advised to confine himself at first to any or all of the following varieties which are obtained either as seed or plants; the three best Phloxes (obtainable in plants only) are: Subulata in white, pink and lilac; Amoena, pink and divaricate in white and pale lavender blue; Violas may be secured in many pleasing colors, there are two Primulas, the cortusoides, a rosy lilac, and denticulata, a white to lilac rose, two Arabis, the alpinus, a white, and the alpinus roseus, a pink. Other plants include Alyssum saxatile compactum (yellow); Aubretia (various); Armeria, (rose and white); Calamintha alpina (purple); Campanula carpatia, (blue and white); Cerastium tomentosum (grayish foliage with white flowers); Cheiranthus allioni, biennial (orange); Dianthus deltoides (rose-pink); Gypsophila repens (white); Helianthemum mutabile (various); Iberis sempervirens (white); Linaria alpina brids (various); Silene schafta (rosy-purple); Tunica saxifraga (pink); Veronica prostrata (blue); Lychnis alpina (bright rose).

The secret of successful rock gardening is informality. Use irregular shaped stones, planted firmly, with the pocket of soil between leading back into the centre of the mound, so that there will be full room for root development and moisture supplies will not be cut off. There must be good drainage. Before attempting to establish one of these gardens, it would be well to visit one in your locality, or at least to read a good book on the subject.

A copy of a Fort William paper which has reached this city contains a picture of Miss Lorraine Grant, who graduated as a Bachelor of Science this spring from Manitoba University in Winnipeg. Miss Grant is the younger daughter of Rev. and Mrs. H. R. Grant, formerly of this city and now in Fort William.

SURVEY NOW ON

Locating Engineer for C.P.R. Leads First Party Into Peace River

Implementing the promise made by E. W. Beatty and announced through the Northern newspapers in February last, the first of four parties of locating engineers has arrived in the field to make a final survey for the purpose of definitely determining the most practical route for the route from Peace River to give a railway outlet to connect with the Pacific Coast, says the Peace River Record. The four parties will be distributed over as many proposed routes through the several mountain passes, and will spend the entire summer on their work.

The first of these parties, under J. E. Mercer, locating engineer for the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, arrived on Tuesday of this week at Wembley and have already established their camp twelve miles south west from Wembley from which point they will commence their work of surveying the route through the Monkman Pass.

Starting from a point on the Northern Alberta Railway in the vicinity of Wembley, the first work will be the finding of a route with a favorable crossing of the Beaverlodge river, after which the route will follow generally that of the Red Willow River toward the mountains. The estimated distance from Wembley to a point where the survey will connect with the Canadian National Railway at the western end of the pass is approximately 180 miles and the work will require the entire summer.

When interviewed at his camp Mr. Mercer stated that any information for publication could only be given out from the railway offices. "There is no secret about our work," he said, "because within a very short time anyone will be able to follow the line of survey stakes and see for themselves the route we are taking, but other than this we have no information to give out."

Crew of Eighteen
Asked as to how large a crew would be employed he stated that he now had a staff of eighteen men and would probably add a couple more for transport work as the work progressed. For this purpose pack horses will be required once the mountainous region is reached.

Alex Monkman, Peace River old timer, and the original discoverer of the pass, was an interesting visitor at the new survey camp the first day and is taking a keen interest in the progress of the work.

Other survey parties will be in the field within the next few days it is understood, and will carry on location work through each of the mountain passes including the Pine and Peace passes. When asked regarding these parties who will soon be at work Mr. Mercer stated that he had only one party on the work and had no information regarding the other parties. In reply to a further enquiry as to whether the work is being undertaken by the Northern Alberta Railway or by the Canadian Pacific Railway, he stated that he had no information as to who was responsible for the expense.

Mr. Mercer, is, however, an locating engineer of the Canadian Pacific Railway and is not a stranger in the Peace River country. In 1921 he was the engineer in charge of construction on the extension from Peace River to Be Wyn, which was constructed by the Canadian Pacific.

RANGERS WINNERS

Were Hard Pressed to Beat Montreal Team By 4-3 Score

TORONTO, May 22:—With a finish characteristic of champions, the touring Glasgow Rangers, holders of the Scottish football cup, marked up a victory in their first game in Canada yesterday by defeating Ulster United of the local National League, by a score of four goals to three.

Nine thousand spectators saw the visitors extended for the greater part of the play and, only by heroic offensive in the final stages, did the Rangers display superiority.

The score at half time was one all.

Al Foreman, Whom Townsend Conquered is an Easy Winner Of British Lightweight Crown

LONDON, May 22:—Al Foreman of Montreal won the British lightweight boxing championship here last night by scoring a speedy victory over Fred Webster, the title-holder. Foreman knocked out his opponent shortly after the first round of the bout which was slated for 12 rounds. The Montreal flash opened up with a bruising attack and had Webster in distress after a few blows had been struck. Foreman feinted cleverly at the opening and sent a smashing blow to the Englishman's jaw which sent him sprawling to the canvas for the count. Foreman held the Canadian lightweight title until he was dethroned by Billy Townsend of Vancouver recently.

BOOTH WINS IN SOCCER

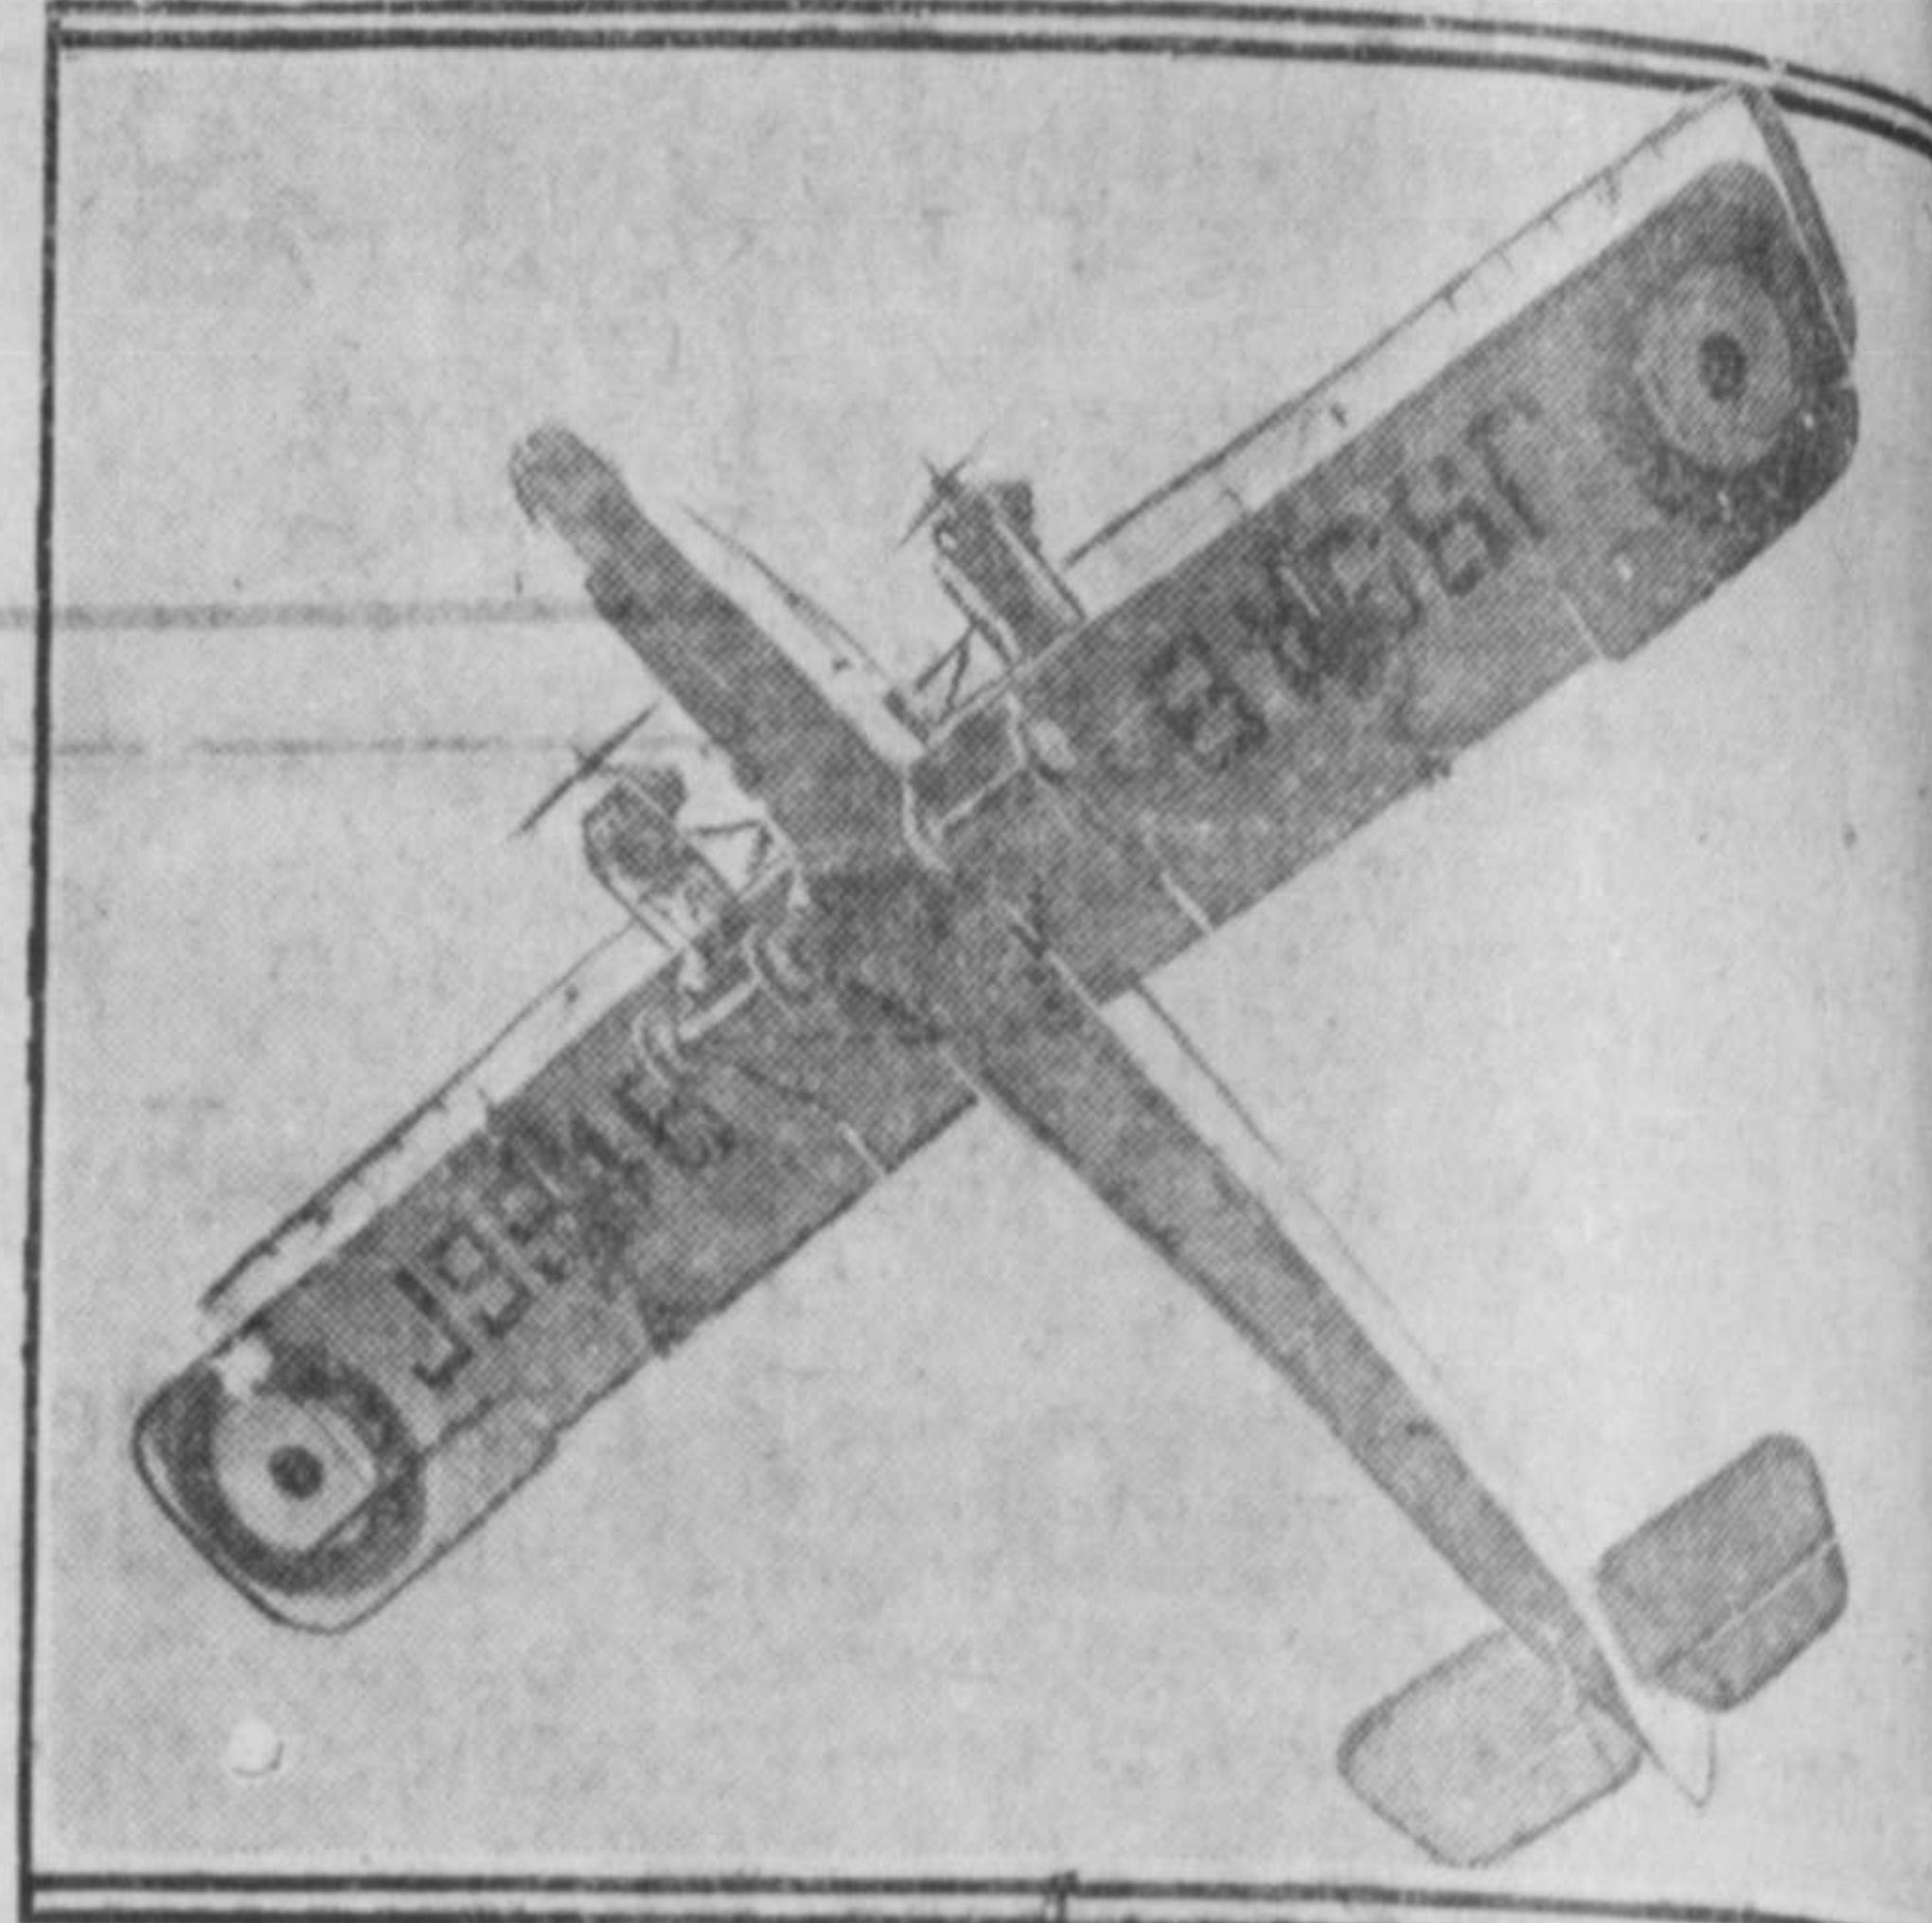

Took Junior League Game Yesterday By Score of 2-0

The meeting of Borden and Booth School in the Junior Football League last evening resulted in a 2-0 win for Booth after a hard fought game.

Taking a line through recent games when High beat Borden 6-0 and Booth won from High 1-0 an easy win for Booth might have been rather lucky to win, though probably they had the better of the game.

Teams

Borden: Morgan; Allstone, Currie; Fisher, Hardy, Dungeate; Willis-croft, Wilson, Fong, Campbell Welle. Booth: Suehiro; Walters, Gomez; Nakamoto, Cross, Davies; Ward-roper, Christison, Ivanson, Holstein Crompt.

SPORT CHAT

This driving an automobile at the rate of three miles a minute down a straight stretch of sand with an ocean at one elbow and soft sand dunes at the other doesn't thrill Kaye Don a great deal. The slim, imperturbable Englishman who failed to equal the 231 miles an hour speed of Sir Henry Segrave at Daytona Beach, but did manage to push his giant Silver Bullet sun-beam up to 183 miles an hour, is on his way back to England now, but with no memories of particularly exciting moments. He'll bring back the Silver Bullet next year for another try at the record.

"It was remarkably easy to control the car at the modest speed I was able to make despite the lumpiness of the beach. The car jumped a good deal and tossed me about a bit but I was never in danger of losing control. The biggest problem I struck was the wet sand on the beach. I didn't skid but my forward wheels threw the damp sand back against the visor and, at times, completely obscured my vision. It's all over so quick, you know, that you haven't much time to think about it." Don is undismayed by his failure to do better with the Silver Bullet. He is confident that with a few minor changes, and a few practice spins, he'll be ready to smash the old mark some time next February.

The launching of Sir Thomas Lipton's challenger, Shamrock V, for the America Cup race in September has stirred interest in sporting circles throughout England. The building of the challenger has captivated and held the imagination of all yachtsmen in Great Britain and Ireland. The alteration of the racing rules governing the cup races next September off Newport, R.I., has added considerably to the growing confidence that it will win the cup. It is interesting to note that the Shamrock's sails are being made in the old Quay Lane sail loft where the sails for Nelson's Victory were made 130 years ago.

ALLOWANCES OF STUDENTS

Proposal of Ald. Macdonald to Increase Student Nurses' Salaries Rejected By Hospital Board

A move of Ald. S. D. Macdonald to have the monthly allowances of student nurses in the Prince Rupert General Hospital increased from $15, $20 and $25 to $20, $25 and $30 was rejected at last night's meeting of the hospital board by a vote of four to seven. Ald. Macdonald, Ald. Brown, who seconded the motion, and R. E. Benson voted in favor of the increase and Robert Gordon, Frank Dibb, Dr. J. P. Cade and G. V. Wilkinson, against. The motion was declared lost by J. H. Thompson, chairman.

While admitting that the Prince Rupert scale was already the highest in the province, Ald. Macdonald still maintained that it was too low to give a workingman's daughter the chance to aspire to the profession. They were prohibited from entering training through inability to maintain themselves financially. He had discussed the matter with many citizens, Ald. Macdonald declared, and he had found none to oppose the proposed increase.

Ald. Brown agreed that, with the present scale, the profession was limited. If a girl was to enter the profession, it might necessitate sacrifice on the part of other members of her family in order to maintain her. He thought the hospital could well afford the proposed increase.

Frank Dibb inquired why the allowance had been reduced a few years ago from $20, $25 and $30 to $15, $20 and $25.

The idea, Miss Jean Harrison, R. N. lady superintendent pointed out, was to put the school on an educational basis, not to provide money for the families. The trend, as reflected by a survey which was being conducted on the continent, was to increase the educational qualifications before students were accepted.

G. V. Wilkinson believed that the present scale was sufficient for the student to carry on. Student nurses as far as he could see, already got allowances proportionate to those in the trades such as printing. As it was, he believed the student could support herself on the present allowance without working hardship on her family. Even at that, they should be willing to sacrifice to learn a profession of the high standard enjoyed by nurses.

Ald. Macdonald declared that he was willing to submit proof that the students could not sustain themselves on the present allowances. It cost money to keep well dressed and for a young lady to maintain the standards of the present day.

Miss Harrison pointed out that the students were provided with their uniforms and their laundry. Financial assistance was not given the students of other professions.

Ald. Brown contended that two wrongs did not make a right. The work involved in learning nursing was harder than in any other profession.

Miss Harrison pointed out that the students were provided with their uniforms and their laundry. Financial assistance was not given the students of other professions.

Ald. Brown contended that two wrongs did not make a right. The work involved in learning nursing was harder than in any other profession.

Ald. Brown contended that the student nurses worked much longer than an eight-hour day.

Ald. Macdonald was of the opinion that, generally speaking, the student nurses were overworked.

Robert Gordon did not believe that the student nurses were worked any harder in Prince Rupert than in other places. From personal experience, he could say that it cost a man little to have his daughter go in for a course of nurses' training. He knew personally of girls who had gone through their training without financial assistance from any one. They received their tuition free and that was one of the most difficult parts of their work as well as one of the most valuable.

Ald. Brown contended that the student nurses worked mighty hard for the hospital and he believed there should be a fair remuneration for their work.

Mr. Gordon referred to the fact that other trades were not being paid more wages here than in Vancouver.

Nevertheless, replied Ald. Brown, an arbitration board had found some years ago that workers, in view of the cost of living and other factors, were entitled to 10% higher wages than in Vancouver.

"And the student nurses now receive over 10% more than in Vancouver," retorted Mr. Gordon.

Chairman Thompson thought that Prince Rupert compared more than favorably with other places in this matter. The hospital had other calls for its money. For one thing there would have to be faced before long the necessity of building a new hospital.

Ald. Macdonald said it was not his intention to compare Prince Rupert with any other place. What he desired was that there should be adequate remuneration here and that, if service were given, it should be recognized.

Miss Harrison pointed out that Miss Randal, registrar of nurses, and other leaders in the profession were opposed to the move of increasing the allowance of student nurses.

Ald. Brown could not see the reason for their stand.

"Would it assist in getting probationers if the allowance were increased?" Mr. Dibb asked.

Miss Harrison replied that there was no dearth of applications for admission to the school but the difficulty was obtaining applicants of sufficient educational standard. There was an increase gradually in the appreciation of the educational policy of the hospital. If any increases were to be made, Miss Harrison preferred that it should be in the way of providing the hospital with a full time instructress which would have to be done, in any case, should the school attain an enrollment of 25 students.

This ended the discussion and the vote was then taken.
