ENDING IS UNCERTAIN

Commons Leaders Have Not Yet Agreed How Long It Will Take to Finish Ottawa Session

OTTAWA, May 8:—Conferences which have taken place between leaders in the House of Commons have not thus far resulted in an agreement as to the length of the session. It was stated on excellent authority, however, that there was a desire to co-operate in getting the business of the house through with reasonable dispatch.

A number of members have expressed a desire to speak on the budget and it is expected that the government will permit the debate to proceed for a few days more at least. By that time, it is possible that a general view of the length of the session will have been arrived at and an idea of what time will be necessary to conclude the work obtained.

Keen Interest Is Being Taken In Canadian Election In Great Britain; Dominion In Limelight

LONDON, May 8:—Word that Canada will have a general election this summer was received in England, apparently, quietly but, as the political contest develops, interest here will be of the keenest. The Dunning budget has aroused the widest comment. From obscure items on inside pages of the newspapers, Canada has suddenly stepped into the limelight. For a moment the budget has passed from the stage but its return and the election to be fought upon it will no where outside of Canada be followed with greater interest than in Great Britain.

MR. PATTULLO'S CANDIDATURE

There seems to be a little haste in trying to intercept T. D. Pattullo's possible candidature for the federal house in the Vancouver district. The member for Prince Rupert when here recently intimated that his name would go before the Liberal convention as candidate for the leadership of the provincial party and he had no desire to take any other course should he be chosen as leader. He would not say absolutely that he would not be in the lists in the federal fight but he said he had no such plan in mind just then.

Doubtless the appearance of Mr. Pattullo at the head of the Liberal contingent of the province in the forthcoming contest would cause some consternation in Conservative ranks. They would much rather have any other person, for Mr. Pattullo is a fighter of renown who can carry the battle into the enemy ranks. His appearance in the field would change the whole aspect in Southern British Columbia. None know this better than the Conservatives and the suggestion that a sure thing in the provincial field is much better than a doubtful federal issue is undoubtedly an effort to prevent such a move.

We hope that Mr. Pattullo will refuse all efforts to move him and that he will continue to represent Prince Rupert. However, it is a matter for him to decide and not for us.

A CURIOUS TIE-UP

It seems curious that the fortunes of the Liberals in Canada and the Conservatives in Britain should be so closely allied. While both Conservatives and Laborites there have expressed pleasure at the Canadian budget the Conservatives seem to have profited by it to win the West Fulham election in London this week. Their tariff policy is very similar to that of the Liberals in this country although on many other questions they probably differ.

The policy of the British Liberal and Labor groups seems to be "cheap food" and let trade take care of itself; although that may not be quite correct either.

GRADUATION OF NURSES

Exercises For Misses Dobie, McRae, Gordon and Martin Who Complete Training This Year

Reception Held

Graduation exercises for Misses Edna Dobie of Copper City, Mary S. McRae of Prince Rupert, Olive M. Gordon of Prince Rupert and Mary Marguerite Martin of Terrace, who complete their nurses' training at the Prince Rupert General Hospital this year, were conducted at First Presbyterian Church last night, the spacious auditorium being beautifully decorated with spring flowers for the occasion. The assembly present to witness the ceremonies and honor the young graduates was so large as to practically fill all the accommodation of the church.

The proceedings opened after the four graduates, accompanied by members of the graduate and under-graduate staff, marched up the aisles to the front seats which were reserved for them, John E. Davey presiding at the piano for the professional march. Opening prayer was offered by Rev. J. L. McLean, pastor of First Presbyterian Church after which Rev. Alfred Wilson, pastor of First United Church, who acted as chairman, made suitable opening remarks.

The address to the graduating class was given by Very Rev. James E. Gibson, Dean of St. Andrew's Cathedral. After opening humorously, Dean Gibson briefly traced the development of the art of healing since 380 A.D., when the first hospital had been established in Rome, to the present day. In those very early days, the art of healing and ministering to the sick had been connected with the church and even last century was conducted under semi-religious auspices. Florence Nightingale, mother of the modern hospital system, had received her training in Germany in a school primarily designed for the training of deaconesses for the church. It was during the Crimean War that Florence Nightingale had sprung into fame and the science of nursing had won such esteem with the public. After that war, the Nightingale fund was established and, about 1860, in St. Thomas Hospital, London, was inaugurated the system of nurses' training such as was followed today.

Four Requisites

Addressing the four graduates more particularly, Dean Gibson urged upon them four attributes which he thought most essential in carrying out their nurses' profession—self-control, good temper, a keen sense of humor and sympathy. Possessing these, their profession would be a delight to themselves and a blessing to the world. Before closing, Dean Gibson congratulated the graduates upon their success and extended to them the best wishes for future blessings.

The presentation by James H. Thompson, president of the hospital board, of diplomas to the graduates and class pins by Miss Jean Harrison R.N., lady superintendent, then took place. Each of the graduates came forward while the audience applauded.

During the program vocal solos were rendered by Mrs. J. H. Carson and W. Plommer with Mrs. H. C. Fraser accompanying.

Before bringing the exercises to a close, Mr. Wilson mentioned that he thought it timely that the labors of Miss Jean Harrison R.N., lady superintendent, and the doctors who had given lectures to the students should be acknowledged at this time. The audience gave hearty applause.

The benediction was pronounced by Rev. J. L. McLean.

Ushers at the church were R. H. Bedford, L. F. Smith and S. J. Hunter.

After the church ceremony, a reception was held at the I.O.E. Hall which was crowded with friends of the graduates and other members of the staff. The graduates were tendered hearty congratulations by all present. Dancing was then enjoyed until 2 a.m. with music by the Premier Orchestra. Fine refreshments were served.

D. H. Hartness, principal of King Edward High School, was the speaker at the weekly luncheon of the Prince Rupert Rotary Club in the Commodore Cafe. His subject had to do with the underprivileged child. G. A. Bryant, president, was in the chair. Some items of club business were also taken up at the luncheon.

NEW STATION IS STARTED

C.N.R. to Build Fine Structure at Hamilton

HAMILTON, Ont., May 8.—Uprising fingers of steel, symbolic of building for future permanence and of the strides commercially made by Canada during the past, was the structure of the new Canadian National Railways station at Hamilton yesterday when Sir Henry Thornton, chairman and president of the National system, "well and truly" laid the foundation stone for the new passenger terminal, a part of terminal improvements which are now under way in the "ambitious city."

It was a day of contrast. A day of linking the past with the present, and of glimpses into the future, so far as visions may be seen. Steel beams, gaily bedecked with flags, pine flooring and upshooting girders, bespoke of the present and gave mute evidence of what is to come. But a bare two blocks away, a squat red brick building told the story of railroading half a century ago. Oratory, roseate in its coloring and firm belief in Canada's development, foretold the glorious heritage of the next generation.

The human link of the past, present, and future mingled with that of wood, brick, steel and concrete, in that the veterans of the Canadian National system were out in full force, with the hundreds of citizens and children, and their work in the upbuilding of the National system received the recognition that was their due for the work which they had done in laying the foundations of the Canadian National. No one paid greater tribute to their efforts than did the president.

"I am happy to see so many of our 'elder statesmen' present today," the president said. "You have laid a firm foundation for a virile and progressive transportation system."

"Although you have retired from active service you belong not to the past but to the present and it is incalculable the influence which you exert upon the present generation of railway men."

"No man may forecast what the future may hold but we may visualize it as something of which we may well be proud. This new station of which I have had the honor to lay the corner stone is but a vision come true that was dreamed in the past. It is a permanent testimonial of the work that has been done. The story of the past has been written in imperishable records of human endeavor and surely we may look forward with confidence to what is to come. It is true there is no such thing as satisfaction or completion, or finish. Achievement only spurs us to greater progress and to greater things in the future. To you veterans who are here in such large numbers, I can merely say "well done" and tell you that you have made traditions of which all of us are proud and which we hope to emulate in the future."

In opening his address, Sir Henry emphasized the progress which Canada had made and stated that the National system fully appreciated the tremendous obligations that it had assumed. It was not, however, an easy matter to provide adequate facilities wherever they were required. The matter of financial necessities was a factor which could not be overcome; but as quickly as consistent the interest of the various communities would receive consideration. In pronouncing the corner stone to be "well and truly laid," Sir Henry deposited a casket which contained the names of the officials of the Canadian National Railways, the City of Hamilton, the members of Parliament for the constituency of the veterans of the National system. Alderman T. M. Wright, chairman of the reception committee, acted as master of ceremonies and spoke of the interest which the National system had evinced in the development of Canada; while acting Mayor D. J. McFarlane welcomed Sir Henry in behalf of the city and presented him with an engraved trowel, which he said was symbolic of the guest of honor as Canada's foremost builder. Sir Henry was the guest of the Canadian Club at a dinner in the evening.

George Enterprise and Windsor Properties at Stewart to Be Active—Duthie Closed Tight—Drum Lummon Proved to Be Big Producer

W. B. George, former owner of the George Copper and one of Stewart's best known pioneer mining men, has returned to the Portland Canal district after spending the winter in the south. During the coming summer he expects to do considerable prospecting in the field further north. Mr. George states that, as soon as weather conditions permit, the George Enterprise will commence operations for the season and the Windsor group on Bitter Creek, in which he is interested, will also continue development.

Angus McKenzie, superintendent of the Premier Border Gold Mining Co., reports that a well mineralized zone in the present workings has been encountered. This porphyry zone apparently parallels or may be a downward continuation of the B. C. Silver or Sebakwe zones. The company has planned an extensive drifting and diamond drilling program for this summer.

Reports from the east received at Smithers have cast a damper on hopes that operations would be resumed at the Duthie mine at an early date or at least that development would be continued. As a result, the dozen or so employees who have remained at their homes on the property are moving away and soon only a watchman will be employed.

After years of work involving the expenditure of much money, the Los Angeles-Vancouver Mining Co. Ltd. has been successful in finding the downward continuation of the ore body from the upper level on the Drum Lummon property in Douglas Channel, about 100 miles down the coast from here. The ore is of wonderful richness and bids fair to fulfil prophesies made in former years that the property may become one of the really big mines on the Pacific Coast. The Drum Lummon has an unusual range of valuable minerals of economic importance in reducing the cost of smelting the ore on one hand and on the other providing a source of revenue to an appreciable extent from the gangue which is usually valueless waste. The metallic minerals are gold, silver, and copper and the non-metals are orthoclase or potash feldspar and quartz. Ore deposits of this type may also develop valuable minerals other than those now recognized or discovered and they are favorable for the occurrence in them of valuable rare and gem minerals. Gold occurs free in the form of nuggets, crystals, flakes and particles, values running from .025 ounces to 2.5 ounces per ton. The silver is in the form of a sulphide and conditions are also favorable for the occurrence of this metal in native form. Silver

1. The very foundation of "Canada Dry" is "Liquid Ginger"—which we make from selected Jamaica ginger root by a special process.
2. This process is exclusively controlled by us and, unlike any other method, retains for "Canada Dry" all of the original aroma, flavour and natural essence of the ginger root.
3. Therefore, the fine old ginger has a basic excellence which belongs exclusively to it and is the property of its makers.

YOU KNOW WHY THIS IS A MARVELOUS BEVERAGE

THESE are the reasons for its exhilarating, stimulating qualities. It has vigor. It has health. And it wins the approval of sportsmen—the lean, lithe, active men and women of this country who respond to excellence and the rigor of the game well played. It is served in countless homes. Is it served in yours?

TEST your Whisky This Way

POUR OUT a portion of "WHITE HORSE" and add an equal portion of water. Roll it around in your glass. First test it by the nose, and its delightful and pleasing aroma will at once be apparent to you, an aroma which almost baffles description. Then test your "WHITE HORSE" by slowly sipping it. Do not swallow at first—allow your palate to detect and appreciate its distinctive and delicious flavour. No other whisky can offer you such mellowness and smoothness or create such a deep sense of satisfaction and enjoyment.

"WHITE HORSE" Scotch Whisky is distilled and bottled in Scotland and sold throughout the world.

ABOUT MR. PATTULLO

Vancouver Province Comments Editorially on His Rumored Move to Federal Field

The maples are budding down by the banks of the Ottawa, and spring is astir where lately winter was overlord, and up on Parliament Hill the politicians have heard the pleasant call of fresh fields, says a Vancouver Province editorial. They have heard another call as well, it seems, and there is no prophet now so cautious that he will not tell you to expect an election when the ides of July are come. Mr. Dunning has brought down his budget, and Mr. Mackenzie King is talking about a new cabinet portfolio—and these are sure signs, so the pundits say, that the national welkin will soon be ringing with the cries of the party gladiators. We must not turn a blind eye to these distant signals, but what about a sign or two nearer home? What, for instance about the latest story concerning Mr. Pattullo, leader of the Liberal opposition in our own legislature?

The latest story is that Mr. Pattullo has fixed the desire of his heart upon Ottawa. He is going to leave us if he can, they say, and he is going down to the capital, to gladden the hearts of the lawmakers there with his eloquence and his sartorial distinction. He has almost been persuaded, so the story goes, that his "entry of a wider sphere would greatly enhance the local Liberal prospects." Strong efforts, we are further assured, will be put forth by the Grand Old Party, in order to induce Mr. Pattullo to become "Ottawa-minded." It seems that if only Mr. Pattullo can be quite persuaded, it will be all over, practically, but the shouting.

It is a very interesting story, and we hardly know what to say about it. It finds us with those well-known mingled feelings with which we hear that we may shortly have to bid goodbye to an old friend. Perhaps, in a certain contingency, we might bear up in the consolation that our loss was Ottawa's gain. But suppose it shouldn't work out that way. Suppose we lost Mr. Pattullo, and Ottawa didn't get him. The sovereign electorate is apt to be so wrong-headed in these matters. Suppose Mr. Pattullo is duly persuaded to throw up his provincial constituency of Prince Rupert, and to enter the federal lists in some riding of Greater Vancouver—and then suppose that the obfuscated electorate refuses to give up Mr. Stevens or Mr. Ladner or some other wicked Tory, and to take on with the good Mr. Pattullo. It is a dreadful thought, and it dims our joy in the springtime, and it distracts our mind painfully from the proper consideration of Mr. Dunning's budget.

Our friend Mr. Pattullo, like a great many of our political friends, never takes our advice, and so we shall not presume to advise him in this great decision. But anybody may indulge in a hope, even about a man as sure of his destiny as Mr. Pattullo, and we do really hope that Mr. Pattullo will not do anything rash. We hope he will remember at least how badly we shall all feel about it, in case he should leave us to start for Ottawa, and

MINING TO BE QUIET

Workers Are Advised By Government Not to Seek Employment in B.C. This Year

VICTORIA, May 8:—Collapse in the price of zinc, silver and copper will result in the cessation of many mining and prospecting operations in British Columbia this summer and the curtailment of others. Metal mine workers, camp cooks and crew laborers are being advised to look elsewhere for employment instead of looking for the usual mine jobs in British Columbia in May and June, it was stated at the parliament buildings yesterday. An encouraging feature, however, is that stimulus will probably be given to the revival of placer and other operations, it was explained.

then never get there after all. We are used to the thought of Mr. Pattullo at Victoria. We can bear to think of Mr. Pattullo at Ottawa. But the thought of Mr. Pattullo in the wilderness—oh, that is a very sorrowful emotion indeed.

HINTS FOR GARDENERS

Lettuce Proves a Vitamine Mine

Now that science has taught the necessity of vitamins in the diet and that green vegetables furnish the most readily available supply, lettuce has attained a position of great importance in the daily menu. It is a mine of vitamins always available, easily grown at home and always in the market. It is training diet for health.

While lettuce is used as a cooked vegetable by those who have tried it as a cooked "greens" this use is practically unknown in America. Lettuce is to be eaten raw. It is most valuable so used. It is the commonest salad material either in itself or as a garnish for other salads.

Lettuce contains the four vitamins, A, B, C and D, all having an important function in the maintenance of health. It makes no difference whether it is head or leaf lettuce that is used, the vitamins are there. While head lettuce has displaced the old-fashioned leaf varieties to a large extent, connoisseurs sometimes insist that the leaf varieties have more and better flavor and a more characteristic flavor of lettuce than the head varieties.

The leaf varieties are the most easily grown in the garden and give the earliest crop. They should not be despised. Grown in rich soil in the cool days of early spring the quality is as fine as that of head lettuce. They give a crop before the head lettuce comes into bearing. Everybody should plant a row of leaf lettuce for the early fresh home salad crop.

The old-fashioned method of serving it was with vinegar and sugar. Then next in popularity was wilting it with fat from fried bacon with a little vinegar, and lastly the French dressing of oil, tarragon vinegar and paprika or other condiments added as flavor. No matter how it is served the green leaves of lettuce furnish vitamins.

There are two standbys of the highest quality in the leaf type of lettuce, the Grand Rapids and the black seeded Simpson. Plant a row of leaf lettuce and it will succeed even if you don't have the best of luck with head lettuce.
