JUDGMENT RESERVED

Appeal of British Columbia to Impose Taxes Under Forestry Act Is Heard

LONDON, Feb. 11.—The judicial committee of the Privy Council reserved judgment yesterday after hearing the appeal of the attorney-general of British Columbia against the Macdonald-Murphy Logging Co. The issue was whether or not the Forestry Act of the province, insofar as it imposes tax on timber, was ultra vires of provincial authority. A further question at issue was whether in British Columbia courts a subject may commence action against the attorney-general to obtain a declaration that a provincial act is invalid or whether such action should be by way of petition of right.

RUMOR IS BASELESS

Report of Canadian Wheat Boycott in London Denied; No Reason for Panic, Dunning

TORONTO, Feb. 11.—Outright denials from British millers, bakers and restaurateurs received by cable today branded as false a rumor that Canadian wheat was being boycotted in the British Isles. Lyons Ltd., large chain restaurant firm in London, emphatically denied the charge that they were active in the reported boycott.

OTTAWA, Feb. 11.—"I see no reason for getting panicky about the wheat situation," said Hon. C. A. Dunning, minister of finance, yesterday. "There is no more wheat in storage now than at this time last year."

WINNIPEG, Feb. 11.—The suggestion that Great Britain has a two and a half months' supply of wheat on hand is absurd, according to George McIvor, general sales manager of the Canadian Wheat Pool. He labelled as "just more propaganda" the report from London to that effect.

Car Licence Receipts Will No Longer Be Expended Upon Roads Provincial Government Decides

VICTORIA, Feb. 11.—Under the government's new motor-vehicle legislation, its obligation to use two-thirds of its receipts from motor licences for highway purposes is being deliberately wiped out in order to assist the administration to restore order in its tangled general finances. T. D. Pattullo, M.L.A. for Prince Rupert and leader of the Liberal Opposition, declared in the legislature yesterday afternoon. Predicting that motorists would not like this change of policy, Mr. Pattullo said that, if the bill passed, motor fees would go into consolidated revenue fund and the only money spent on roads would be such sums as were voted by the legislature for that specific purpose. Hitherto, he explained, expenditure of two-thirds of the total of motor licence receipts of highways was required by statute, while the remaining third was divided up among the municipalities.

LANE BOAT NOW FOUND

Belief Grows That Pioneer Forcher Island Fisherman and Settler Was Drowned

Yesterday morning the row-boat of William Lane, pioneer fisherman and settler of Lewis Island, who has been missing since about Christmas, was found on the beach of Forcher Island in Elizabeth Pass. In the boat was Lane's shotgun, also one oar.

The discovery of the boat lends further to the belief that Lane lost his life. It is now believed that the boat must have swamped and that Lane would have been washed overboard or else drowned while trying to make for shore, the small craft later drifting to the beach.

ATTENTION GIVEN WEST

Eastern Business Interests Alive to Situation on This Coast

VANCOUVER, Feb. 11.—"One of the most noticeable facts in connection with a visit to Eastern Canada is that the eyes of Eastern business interests are turned toward the West. They are particularly keen on the tremendous development of the ports of the Pacific coast and they are closely watching every move we make," declared B. C. Keeley, Pacific coast manager, Canadian National Steamships, who arrived from Montreal yesterday. Mr. Keeley found the Eastern businessmen appeared to be in close connection with the developments in British Columbia.

"Never in history has there been such a tremendous program of development," said Mr. Keeley. Pacific trade routes have been opened up and there has been a remarkable large increase in inter-coastal trade between the St. Lawrence River ports and those of the Pacific coast. We are looking forward to a very busy summer along this line and already have seven boats ready to take care of the business. Not only are the Eastern men interested in Vancouver, but also are keeping close track of the developments and expansion in Victoria, Prince Rupert and other ports along the Pacific coast. There is a close link between our development and theirs, as they realize full well that our expansion will be shared by them."

While in the East Mr. Keeley completed many details in connection with the new pier in Vancouver, also the changes in Victoria and Seattle.

Suggestions For Stewart Mines

Red Top and Enterprise Groups Referred To by Dr. George Hanson of Geological Survey

The vein is of good length and width and should be explored further by open cuts, in order to give more information about its quality and to trace it beyond its present length, says Dr. George Hanson of the federal Geological Survey in writing of the Red Top group in the Beaver River area at Stewart. George Clothier, former resident mining engineer, estimated the average lead content of the property at twenty percent. There are also silver values. Of the nearby Enterprise group, Dr. Hanson says that further prospecting should be done in the hope of uncovering better mineralization. No commercial ore has yet been uncovered, although high-grade, silver-bearing float is rather plentiful.

VANCOUVER UNEMPLOYED

(Vancouver Star)

Those of the unemployed who are determined to make trouble may rest assured that if they compel the police to resort to severe measures they will receive little sympathy from the public of this city.

Vancouver is doing its whole duty by the unemployed. It is providing them with the means of subsistence and exacting by way of return a certain amount of work, work there is no occasion to have done at all at this time.

Many of the men recognize that this is all that can reasonably be asked. Attempts to stir them up to refuse both work and recompense, have largely failed.

There are, however, a number of malcontents who apparently think they can intimidate the city into paying them four dollars a day—a larger amount than many of those receive whose taxes the money would ultimately come. These people were never more mistaken in their lives. Nobody invited them to come here and nobody here is under any obligation to do more for them than make the allowances customary to prevent absolute destitution.

The sooner they understand this the better and if, in making them understand it, the authorities have to take drastic action, it will be with the general approval of the public.

The Letter Box

Editor, Daily News.—We were pleased to read another letter from Bella Coola in The Daily News dated Jan. 20, refuting many of your statements in a sarcastic front page article of the News dated Dec. 26. As you seem to know so little concerning your neighboring district, I thought it might be well to acquaint you re some of our notable facts and features. Our geographical position has already been mentioned in your Daily News, also in an editorial in the Stewart News dated Jan. 3, which states: "The shortest route from Pouce Coupe in the Peace River district to tide-water on the Pacific is via Monkman or Gray Pass to Prince George, thence to Bella Coola." We may further add: This route is not only the shortest Peace River outlet, but it also affords the least engineering difficulties. As the Peace River district is destined to supply large quantities of wheat and other products to the world via a Pacific port, one of most essential considerations is the shortest and most economic route. Added to the claims of the shortest and most economic route, the Bella Coola valley contains the largest area of flat surface suitable and necessary for a terminal port of any other valley in B. C. north of the Fraser Valley. Another and not least important fact is that Bella Coola is situated on a line which is the shortest feasible route, say from England to the Orient. For instance, England, Hudson Bay, Edmonton, Bella Coola and the Aleutian Islands in the Pacific. Unquestionably such a route is the shortest that can be had. Any other would be full of kinks. Freight rates as we know are an important factor to the producer and consumer and who else is there? It's reasonable to say if a road is built on the shortest route in the first place, unnecessary millions will not have to be spent in the future cutting out kinks.

With respect to Bella Coola as a pass from the coast to Williams Lake, the fact that pack trains passed over this route during the summer of 1895, that was the first year Bella Coola was settled by our colony and before any work had been done on a trail through. Since that time the route has been passable for horses at set times of the year. Last year surveys were completed on the McKenzie highway, which at present extends fifty miles inland and eighteen from Williams Lake westward. Cars have come one hundred and fifty miles, this leaves only a short gap which will be completed in the near future. Having lived in the Bella Coola Valley since 1894, I know the conditions and when this highway is completed the country will afford homes for thousands of people.

ALBERT HOMMER,
Hagensbury, B.C., Feb. 10, 1930.

(The article complained of was a Canadian Press article which came in the ordinary course of news and could not be tampered with in The Daily News office. It was not written in Prince Rupert.—Editor).

INTERIOR MINE DEAL

Washington Contractor Becomes Interested in Manson Creek Placer

A transaction of interest was completed this week whereby the control of the mining plant taken through Vanderhoof during 1926 by Geo. W. Otterson was transferred from R. C. McCorkell to G. H. Pomeroy, a large contractor of Washington State, says the Nechako Chronicle.

Mr. Otterson is acting as Mr. Pomeroy's superintendent, and will go in to Manson Creek just as quickly as Mr. McCorkell delivers the additional equipment and supplies required.

Mr. Otterson will remove the plant from the vicinity of Germanen Creek where it is now located to Manson Creek, and place same in operation. The plant was originally designed by Mr. Otterson to work particularly on the gravels on Manson Creek; the gold saving device being his own personal design.

The Kildare Company and 43 Company plants also owned by Mr. McCorkell were not included in this transaction, and will be united to form a complete hydraulic plant to work on his Germanen Creek leases. He is also preparing to install a saw mill on Germanen Creek.

Mr. McCorkell states that the Otterson plant being designed especially for work on Manson Creek was not as suitable as the hydraulic for work on Germanen Creek. Actual mining on both these well known gold bearing creeks this season can be expected.

Sport Chat

Big league baseball season 1930 will get under way on April 15 and close on September 28, official National and American League schedules which have just come to hand show. National League season openers will be: Boston at New York; Philadelphia at Brooklyn; Pittsburgh at Cincinnati; and Chicago at St. Louis. The opening of the National League will find St. Louis at Detroit; Cleveland at Chicago; Washington at Boston; and New York at Philadelphia.

Not a word has come through from California regarding the fight activities, if any, of Billy Townsend. Bill, it was said, was matched with Armand Santiago for January 28. That fight did not come off, probably because Frank Churchill, who directs the Filipino, would not let his boy go in against Billy's poundage as Santiago never makes more than 132. Charlie McArdie, who went south with Townsend under a two-year contract, signed jointly by Jack Townsend and his front man, McCranor, had a fight on the La Barba-Torres card. He is the only one of the Vancouver trouperes to show in the south to date, as far as can be ascertained.

NEWS!
AN ALERT newsboy, on a day when news was dull and sales were few, turned to the advertising pages for inspiration.
"Read about the big reduction sale," he shouted. "Fine quality tea sets at $3.50 and $4. Fancy china-ware sacrificed."
His stock of papers was sold out very quickly.
The case is, of course, exceptional. But it points to the fact that advertising is news—and important news. It is the news of daily life, the news that comes closest to you and those about you. It is news of the furniture you sit in, the books you read, the bonds you buy, the automobile you use, the flashlight, talking machine and food product that give you satisfaction. News that concerns you more vitally than anything else you read. News that is essential to you, because whether you purchase a piano or a pin, you want the best your money can buy.
—and you can always be sure you are getting the newest and best when you read the advertisements.
The advertisements contain pocketbook news—and that's important!

Committee of City Council Holds Meeting

Conference With School Board Last Night With Mayor Orme Presiding

The finance committee of the city council last evening had two conferences, one with the school board and the other with the provincial police inspector, in which the matter of city finances was discussed. Mayor Orme, who asked for the conferences, presided, and others present included Alderman Collart, chairman of the finance committee, Alderman Black and Alderman Pullen.
The whole matter of civic financing was discussed with the school board, including the possible mill-rate for the year and other matters bearing on costs and expenditures. Members of the board showed keen interest in the situation and expressed a desire to co-operate to keep down costs this year as much as possible.

The matter of policing is unchanged. Inspector Spiller showed that the extra man employed here now did not affect the cost to the city, that being governed by the agreement with the provincial government. The inspector promised co-operation to keep all expenditures as low as possible.

Further Worthless Check Complaint

Several Local Concerns Said to Have Been Victimized by Young Vancouver Man

Further complaints have been filed at the city police station against Harry Taylor, who was arrested at the end of last week on a charge of obtaining money by false pretences and appeared in city police court yesterday morning, being remanded for eight days.

It is now alleged that Taylor, obtaining identification from a local estate office by trickery, presented to a city bank and had cashed a worthless check for $50. Still another worthless check he is alleged to have cashed was one for $30 drawn on a Vancouver bank, for which he received cash from a waterfront businessman. The check which resulted in his arrest was one for $10 which Taylor had cashed at the Royal Hotel.

Taylor is thirty years of age and came here recently from Vancouver. When questioned by the police, he said he was a salesman for Solloway, Mills Co.

GIBSON ID. MINE BOND

Frank Cole and George Keys Option Property to Consolidated Mining & Smelting Co.

An option, at a figure which is not disclosed, has been taken by the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Co. from Frank Cole of Prince Rupert and George Keys of Porcher Island on a group of copper and zinc claims on Gibson Island, it was learned this morning at local offices of the Consolidated. Gibson Island, where the claims are situated, is a small island at the north end of Grenville Channel, some 15 or 20 miles below Prince Rupert in the main steamship channel.

During the coming season, Consolidated will do surface work on the property preparatory to determining whether or not development will be proceeded with on a large scale. The property has attracted considerable attention during the past two or three years and the owners as well as others who have been on it believe that it may make a producer of some importance. Last year the Granby Consolidated Mining, Smelting & Power Co. did some work upon it and then let it go.

Telegraph Chief Visits Province

J. G. Davies, General Superintendent of C.N.R. System, in Vancouver

VANCOUVER, Feb. 11—J. G. Davies, general superintendent of telegraphs, of Canadian National Railways, western region, arrived in Vancouver on Monday on his first trip of inspection since his new appointment. One of his most important tasks is to make a careful inspection of the "carrier current" system now used by the Canadian National Telegraphs. "This method of transmission has proved so efficient that it has been necessary for us to instal two additional channels," said Mr. Davies on his arrival. "These will be constructed from Vancouver to Winnipeg to take care of the increased business."

Mr. Davies is well known on the coast, having been manager of the Western Union office here in 1909. He was later located in Victoria for several years.
Accompanied by George Stead superintendent for the British Columbia district, Mr. Davies will visit Victoria on Wednesday.

Singular Behavior

"Mr. Loma is here, my lord." Lord Caterham started violently, for, absorbed in the intricacies of what not to do with the left wrist, he had not heard the butler approach over the soft turf. He looked at Tredwell more in sorrow than in anger.

"I told you at breakfast, Tredwell, that I should be particularly engaged this morning."

"Yes, my lord, but—"

"Go and tell Mr. Lomax that you have made a mistake, that I am out in the village, that I am laid up with the gout, or, if all else fails, that I am dead."

"Mr. Lomax, my lord, has already caught sight of your lordship when driving up the drive."

Lord Caterham sighed deeply.

"He would. Very well, Tredwell, I am coming." In a manner highly characteristic, Lord Caterham was always most genial when his feelings were in reality the reverse. He greeted George now with a heartiness quite unparalleled.

"My dear fellow, my dear fellow. Delighted to see you. Absolutely delighted. Sit down. Have a drink. Well, well, this is splendid!"

And having pushed George into a large arm-chair, he sat down opposite him and blinked nervously.

"I wanted to see you very particularly," said George.

"Oh!" said Lord Caterham faintly, and his heart sank, while his mind raced actively over all the dread possibilities that might lie behind that simple phrase.

"Very particularly," said George with heavy emphasis.

Lord Caterham's heart sank lower than ever. He felt that something was coming worse than anything he had yet thought of.

"Yes?" he said, with a courageous attempt at nonchalance.

"Is Eileen at home?" Lord Caterham felt relieved but slightly surprised.

"Yes, yes," he said. "Bundle's here. Got that friend of hers with her—the little Wade girl. Very nice girl—very nice girl. Going to be quite a good golfer one day. Nice easy swing—"

He was chatting garrulously on when George interrupted with ruthlessness:

Charming Bundle

"I am glad Eileen is at home. Perhaps I might have an interview with her presently?"

"Certainly, my dear fellow, certainly." Lord Caterham still felt very surprised, but was still enjoying the sensation of reprieve. "If it doesn't bore you."

"Nothing could bore me less," said George. "I think, Caterham, if I may say so, that you hardly appreciate the fact that Eileen is grown up. She is no longer a child. She is a woman, and, if I may say so, a very charming and talented woman."

"The man who succeeds in winning her love will be extremely lucky. I repeat it—extremely lucky!"

"Oh, I dare say," said Lord Caterham. "But she's very restless, you know. Never content to be in one place for more than two minutes together. However, I dare say young fellows don't mind that nowadays."

"You mean that she is not content to stagnate. Eileen has brains, Caterham; she is ambitious. She interests herself in the questions of the day, and brings her fresh and vivid young intellect to bear upon them."

Lord Caterham stared at him. It occurred to him that what was so often referred to as "the strain of modern life," had begun to tell upon George. Certainly his description of Bundle seemed to Lord Caterham ludicrously unlike.

"Are you sure you are feeling quite well?" he asked anxiously.

George waved the inquiry aside impatiently.

"Perhaps, Caterham, you begin to have some inkling of my purpose in visiting you this morning. I am not a man to undertake fresh responsibilities lightly. I have a proper sense, I hope, of what is due to the position I hold. I have given this matter my deep and earnest consideration. Marriage, especially at my age, is not to be undertaken without full—er—consideration. Equality of birth, similarity of tastes, general suitability, and the same religious creed—all these things are necessary and the pros and cons have to be weighed and considered. I can, I think, offer my wife a position in society that is not to be despised. Eileen will grace that position admirably. By birth and breeding she is fitted for it, and her brains and her acute political sense cannot but further my career to our mutual advantage. I am aware, Caterham, that there is—or some disparity in years. But I can assure you that I feel full of vigor and prime. The balance of years will be on the husband's side. (To Be Continued Tomorrow)

CANADA'S Export Trade

1928-29

EACH YEAR IT GROWS IN VOLUME AND IMPORTANCE TO EVERY COMMUNITY IN THE DOMINION

Comparative Figures 1928 and 1929 First Ten Months

A perfunctory glance at the export figures of Canada during the past year gives the impression of a general downward trend. Analysis shows, however, that the reverse is true.

Due to conditions which no one can control, the export of raw material, mainly grain and graif products, shows a decrease of $70,700,000.

But, on the other hand, exports of goods, manufactured or partly manufactured, show an increase of $46,500,000, which is at the rate of 9.4%.

The trend of the year's activity in export trade is clearly in the direction of increased exports of manufactured or partly manufactured goods, while the export of raw materials has declined considerably.

Exports For First Ten Months of 1929 Compared with First Ten Months of 1928

EXPORT business now provides more than two million Canadians with their livelihood. So vast has Canada's foreign trade become, that nearly a quarter of our population depend upon it for what they eat and what they wear; for their homes, their savings, their comforts and their luxuries. Export trade exerts its beneficence in every Canadian community and on every Canadian farm.

Roughly, a third of our total annual production—to a value of $1,363,700,000—is shipped to other lands. Per capita, Canadians are the second largest exporters in the world.

ON A SOLID FOUNDATION

Because it is Profitable Business, Canadian effort year by year is more actively directed towards supplying markets abroad. Our export trade stands on a solid foundation. Our goods are in demand. Last year no less than 411 new business agencies in foreign lands were opened by our Trade Commissioners on behalf of Canadian manufacturers and producers. Our exports have become highly diversified. More than 600 distinct classes of commodities are embraced, and the list is ever expanding.

Our goods are finding their way wherever trade routes lead.

IN REMOTE LANDS

Think for a moment of this diversification, and see how our people are blazing the trails of business all over the world. Here are some examples: Fence Wire for New Zealand, Automobiles for India, Lanterns for East Africa, Builders' Tools for Fiji, Agricultural Implements for Sweden, Wallpaper for Chili, Box Shooks for Egypt, Ice Cream for China, Milk for Honduras, Leather for Hong Kong, Fish for Dutch East Indies, Rubber Tires for Czecho-Slovakia, Canvas Shoes for the Straits Settlements, Flour for Portuguese East Africa, Machinery for Brazil, Motor Trucks for Mesopotamia, Radio for Argentine.

The ground is well prepared for still further expansion. Will you take advantage? Canada's 32 Trade Commissioners abroad are constantly drumming up new markets. Wherever a Trade Commissioner's Office has been opened, without exception there has been an increase in trade. The demand for Canadian goods is growing in every country where we are represented.

HOW CANADIANS CAN HELP

It remains, however, for Canadians to grasp the larger opportunities offering. Producers and manufacturers can help our export in several ways:

1. Producing the kind of commodities other countries want.
2. Maintaining production so as to assure continuity of supply.
3. Keeping all products up to rigid standards.
4. Becoming familiar with business methods abroad.

This is Canada's business. It is every citizen's business, because the more goods Canada sells abroad, the more certain and the more ample will be her continued prosperity.

GET LATEST INFORMATION

In addition to the Trade Commissioners' Offices throughout the world, the Department of Trade and Commerce maintains at Ottawa a highly specialized Commercial Intelligence Service. The sole duty of this organization is to assist exporters. If you have an export problem, first write the Commercial Intelligence Service. Up-to-date information will be provided and your business will be facilitated in every way possible.

SKIDEGATE

At the banquet given in connection with the recent opening of the new Town Hall at Skidegate Mission, one of the real old-timers of the Haida tribe, speaking at the time of the progress of the Haida nation, said that the white man had nothing on the aborigines with his new flying machine. The natives of the Queen Charlotte Islands, he said, had legends of a mighty bird, the raven, that used to fly back and forth between the islands and the mainland, carrying members of his tribe upon his back.

Rev. Peter Kelly arrived here on the Prince John last week from Nanaimo to visit with Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Stevens and W. H. Russ. Members of the Haida tribe of the Queen Charlotte Islands have been talking about taking out their franchise and this matter is being taken up with Mr. Kelly. Henry Edenshaw and Alfred Adams were here to meet Mr. Kelly in connection with the matter.

The Consolidated Mining & Smelting Co. has abandoned work on the Ikeda copper claims at the south end of Moresby Island. It is reported the company was unable to come to terms with the owners.

Mrs. J. Renner of Last Chance Farm has as her guest for a few weeks her son, J. C. Hubley of Seattle. It was ten years ago since Mr. Hubley last visited the islands.

Capt. J. Hanft, Jr. is installing a new 30 h.p. Gardner diesel engine in his trolling boat Ia. While the installation is being carried out, his brother, Capt. C. B. Haan, is doing the log towing for the R. Pahul Logging Co. at Moore Channel on the west coast.
