Massacre and Murder and Wells Choked with Dead in Parts of Bolsheviki Russia

So Says Col. John Ward, the Navy Member of Parliament in Recounting Atrocities; Same Would Occur Anywhere under Similar Conditions

When Revolution Starts You Go Back To Jungle Whether You Want to or Not

(Special to The News via G. T. P. Telegraphs.)

LONDON, November 7.—The House of Commons devoted the whole of last evening to a discussion of the Russian problem. Labor members strongly criticized the Government's intervention policy and the cost thereof. The statement was made by Lieut. Col. Lester, one of the Liberal members, that the Bolsheviki were ready to negotiate peace with the entente governments on reasonable terms.

Winston Churchill, minister of war, made a long reply, defending the Government policy. He made no reference to a statement by Col. Malone.

Col. John Ward, laborite member of Parliament, known as "navy member" on account of his participation in the unioning of labor upon railway and canal work, who was ordered to Russia in January, 1918, joined in the debate. Members crowded to the House to listen to the absorbing tale of his experiences in European Russia and in Siberia.

"When revolution starts," he said, "you go back to the jungle whether you like it or not. There was massacre and murder on both sides and you would have exactly the same thing here if a revolution occurred."

Ward drew a terrible picture of life in Moscow during the revolution. Every day bodies tumbled into the streets.

The Colonel said that in some districts controlled by the soviet conditions were good, but in others, ruled by some narrow minded handful, there were occurrences which beggared description. He gave horrifying accounts of Bolsheviki atrocities, during which, he said, the wells were choked with dead. Labor papers in England which called criticism of this regime an attack on socialist democracy did not want to study the facts.

Colonel Ward concluded with the statement that Great Britain helped Russia through the most difficult time and it would be fatal to withdraw in response to an ignorant and uninformed public clamor, just when the atmosphere appeared to be clearing.

(Special by G. T. P. Telegraphs.)

COPENHAGEN, Nov. 6.—German troops supported by heavy and light artillery and an armored train attacked Libau on Tuesday but were driven off by British troops who were supported by British artillery, according to a dispatch received by the Lettish press bureau. In the afternoon a German airplane dropped proclamations on the city. After a prolonged bombardment by enemy artillery a new silent offensive was launched in the evening. It was repulsed by the Letts.

Foreign Ships in U.S. Ports Refused Coal

Fuel Stocks used up at Rate of over Six Million Tons a Day; British Ships to Halifax.

(Special to The News via G. T. P. Telegraphs.)

WASHINGTON, November 7.—The injunction against the bituminous coal strikers continues to be the only visible sign of the contest between labor and the authorities. The second round is expected to take place in the courts on Saturday.

The Government officials took another look at the stock reports this morning and while these indicated coal enough to meet immediate needs, the fact stared them in the face that the daily consumption was about 10,000,000 tons while the daily output has been reduced by the strike to 3,500,000 tons.

It has been decided that while vessels flying the American flag will continue to receive fuel supplies "for the time being," all other vessels will be compelled to await the end of the miners' strike.

NEW YORK, November 7.—There are 210 ships in port here affected by the order of the railroad administration central coal committee regarding discontinuation of foreign tonnage bunkering. Many of these vessels are British and it is believed will be able to proceed to Halifax for coal.

INDIANAPOLIS, November 7.—A motion to dissolve the order restraining officials of the United Mine Workers of America from encouraging or directing the strike of 425,000 members of the union, was filed in the United States District Court by the attorneys for the miners. The restraining order was issued last Friday and the hearing on the temporary injunction petitioned by the Government will take place tomorrow.

DIED AFTER A LONG ILLNESS

James Smith of Digby Island Was Well Known and Highly Respected.

The death occurred yesterday afternoon at 4:20 of James Smith at his home on Digby Island. Mr. Smith had been in failing health for over two years and his death had been expected for some time. He has only been over to the city from the island twice in the past year, both times to attend Masonic functions as he was a keen member of that order. For the past six months he has been confined to his bed and many visits were paid to him during the summer by his many friends in the city. He was a man who was greatly respected by all.

Many Friends.

Mr. Smith, who was 62 years of age, was born in England and came to the United States when he was very young. He followed the mining business and spent the most of his life as a miner. He was a pioneer of Rossland and lived there for many years. He has a number of friends in this city from there. He came to Prince Rupert in 1909 and was in charge of the Dominion Government Quarantine Station from the time it was built in 1911 till he died.

Besides being a Mason, Mr. Smith was a member of the I. O. O. F. He is survived by a widow and widowed daughter, Mrs. Brehaut who resides with the mother at Digby Island. Another daughter of Mr. Smith's, Mrs. Geo. McKay, died at the family home two years ago.

Masonic Service.

On Sunday the funeral rites will be conducted under the auspices of the Masonic Lodge. At 2 o'clock the lodge services will be held and then the body will be taken to the Church of England.

Union Government In Shaky Condition

Majority of 20 in Senate Reduced to 4 and Calder again Threatens Resignation of Administration

(Special to The News via G. T. P. Telegraphs.)

OTTAWA, November 7.—A spirit of independence marked the proceedings of both chambers of Parliament during yesterday. Old time frequenters of the galleries were shocked when listening to the debates. There was difficulty in distinguishing on which side sat the Government and on which the opposition.

The Senate bull-moosed and the Commons insurged. In the former chamber there are nine Government members openly opposed to the Grand Trunk bill. In the latter there was a goodly majority of all Government supporters who differed in a greater or less degree from the report of the civil re-establishment committee.

In the Senate the Government was supposed to have a majority of about twenty, but the administration will be well satisfied if it secures a majority of four on the bill and is bringing in two new senators, Colonel Grant White and W. A. Proudfoot, to make sure.

Another clear-cut intimation that the Unionist Government will not carry on should the House impose upon it the burden of providing additional gratuity for returned men, came from Hon. J. A. Calder, chairman of the special soldiers' committee. The minister said that members should vote as they saw fit, but, he added, if members signify disapproval of the Government's stand by voting down its policy "then another Government will have to carry on."

The majority of the members heard from appear to favor Major Andrews' amendment to the motion for the adoption of the report of the committee. This would substitute the G. W. V. A. plan for the committee's proposals.

Labor Leader Gives Interview.

John P. Frey, an executive officer of the molders' union and a member of the American Labor Commission to the Allies, in an interview published in the Metropolitan Magazine is reported to have said in part as follows:

"Stove-making is one of the oldest manufacturing industries in America; it was also one of the first in which labor organized. Almost from the beginning the employers were organized, and one of the purposes of their organization was to prevent the employees from doing likewise. Thus there was no common ground—as is the case with some of our great industries today. It was a very bitter war that was waged in the stove industry from 1855 to 1890. Each side strove to secure its ends by might rather than by negotiation or convention. There was a complete denial of democracy, the attitude of the employers being the historic one of the industrial Bourbons: 'This is our business and we will run it as we please.' They even went so far in the seventies as to import large numbers of molders from continental Europe."

Succession of Strikes Followed by Treaty.

During all these years the industry was marked by such a succession of strikes and lockouts that there was almost no time when there wasn't one somewhere. One in 1866 and another in 1868 were almost national in scope, the first being forced by the molders and the second by the foundrymen. Many of the foundries went into bankruptcy and many of the men lost their homes and were nationally blacklisted. Weary of this continuous and disastrous warfare, leaders of the Stove Founders National Defense Association and of the International Molders Union began, finally in 1890, to feel each other out. In 1891 a peace treaty was negotiated and ratified between the two national organizations.

"It was the first agreement of the kind in the history of the world; and it is highly significant that it has been entirely successful, though at the time it was received coldly and with suspicion by many of the employers and by a large number of the men. Each side questioned the good faith of the other. The scheme was unheard of, it was revolutionary, it robbed the employers of their business, it was absurd for workmen to think themselves capable of passing on any part of the business, etc. In fact the opposition to this peace treaty and its plan for abolishing war in the stove business, manifested in many instances, equaled that now being shown by some senators toward the peace treaty with Germany and the League of Nations."

Settle Own Family Differences.

"The agreement began by laying down the principle that as the foundrymen and the molders understood their common problems better than anyone else, arbitration by outsiders would be eliminated. There's where the democratic idea came in. They said: 'We will provide a method by which we may settle our family differences ourselves. If we can't settle them nobody can.' That is democracy in industry for you away back in 1891—though nobody gave it that dignified appellation then. The treaty of peace was declared to be above the constitutions of either side. It was agreed that a committee of twelve, six from each organization, should meet together once every year not only to determine what the terms of employment—wages and hours—should be, but also the conditions of labor and the shop rules and regulations. These twelve men are the law-makers of the stove industry and they have been making laws successfully for 27 years—so successfully that there have been neither strikes nor lockouts in that period. They are representative of the whole industry and their laws are as democratically made as the municipal law of the land. Being made by the industry for the industry and not forced on it by outsiders or autocratically imposed by one group of insiders, they are accepted in good spirit and obeyed, whether liked or not. If either side feels that the decision of the supreme body is unjust, it contents itself with waiting for any opportunity to repeal it just as political parties do in political life. Every question is settled by a majority vote. There is no umpire or referee."

Groat Outlook Is Cultivated.

"The committee views the industry as a whole; each half understands the peculiar problems of the members of the other half. Having the broader view, the committee-men often find themselves more advanced than their constituencies. Such a situation is patiently manipulated or 'played.' To make my meaning clear let me explain that sometimes one side will come into a meeting with a proposal that is so well backed by facts and reason that the other side immediately concedes its righteousness. 'But,' they may say, 'though this proposal is right, we must vote against its adoption at this time because our members do not agree with us. To adopt it under these circumstances would be to invite trouble. Give us time to go back to our people and educate them up to this excellent proposal.'"

WHY EXPERIMENT?

Food scientists claim that the leavener is largely responsible for the flavor, texture and wholesomeness of your home baking. That on no other one ingredient does so much depend. It is important, therefore, to use a baking powder that you know possesses the necessary leavening qualities.

MAGIC BAKING POWDER

Contains No Alum

and is the only strictly high class baking powder in Canada selling at a moderate price. Its reputation is built on purity and highest quality.

The only well known medium priced baking powder made in Canada that does not contain alum and that has all its ingredients plainly stated on the label.

HERRING BUSINESS DEPENDS ON MARKET

what our company does this year; will depend very much upon what the market does," comments J. B. Shallenberger, of the Alaska Sea Food Products Company. "We put up 5,300 barrels of Scotch cured herring last season, but still have about half of them to dispose of. They are fine fish, running 350 to 400 to the barrel, and we ought to let go of them at present prices. The future of the Alaska herring business seems to me to be uncertain. We cannot compete with Europe in the matter of labor and freight rates—it costs approximately $6.50 to lay a barrel of our fish down in New York, as against $2.00 from Europe."

This company built a saltery 200 by 40 feet last season, in addition to constructing mess and bunk houses. Everything is in shape for resuming operations this season, if the market warrants.

IS SUPERINTENDENT OF EDUCATION NOW

S. J. Willis, the new superintendent of Education, appointed a few days ago is Canadian born and a graduate of McGill University. While principal of the Victoria High School he conducted the first two years' work of the McGill class and left that position to become associate professor of classics at the University of B. C. He held that position for about eighteen months and then went to King Edward as supervising principal. Dr. Robinson has been superintendent of education for nearly two decades. He was the successor of the late Dr. S. D. Pope. A Dalhousie man. Dr. Robinson came to Vancouver thirty years ago. He was principal of the old Central School, at Cambie and Pender streets, and about 1891 became principal of Vancouver's only high school. He held that position until he moved to Victoria.

How to Finance Victory Bonds

FARMERS:
In the case of farmers, and others who do not receive returns until the end of season, bank managers are empowered to make loans against the 1919 Victory Bond issue for the period of one year, without requiring periodical reductions to be made in the interim.

BUSINESS MEN:
All business men may finance their Victory Loan purchases through their local bank, up to at least 90 per cent. of their purchases, without impairing their ordinary credits with the bank.

EMPLOYEES:
All bond purchases of employees may be financed by the employer through his local bank, up to 90 per cent. of the amount of the purchase. Weekly or monthly payments on account of purchase may be arranged through the employer.

INDIVIDUALS:
Anyone may purchase 1919 Victory Bonds on ten monthly instalments, by paying 10 per cent., and filling out an instalment card. These cards are handed to the bank specified by the purchaser, and the payments during the ten-month period paid in to the bank.

POWER OF LOCAL BANK EXTENDED:
By arrangement between the Finance Minister and the Canadian Bankers' Association, it is announced that where branch managers have a loaning limit for their branches, such limits are to be disregarded insofar as they may be affected by advances to finance 1919 Victory Loan subscriptions.

KING SALMON ARE NOT AS LARGE AS THEY FORMERLY WERE

An Alaska mild-cure operator who has recently returned from the Baranof Island district reports that considerable alarm is felt in that vicinity in regard to the increased percentage of small fish caught there this season as compared to previous years. Although the mild cure pack has been on about the same scale as last year in the Baranof district it has been estimated that out of every hundred King Salmon caught only ten weighed over twenty pounds while the balance average around eight pounds each. As a result large quantities of fish are destroyed which left in the water, would develop to a profitable size.

One of the packers makes the statement that hundreds of tons of these fish have been dumped outside of Baranof Island this season.

Another believes that fishermen and packers should get together and make some agreement whereby the tremendous waste which is now in progress will be permanently stopped. He says:
"I have seen fishermen come in with hundreds of fish and only dispose of about twenty of them in which case the balance had to be dumped. As an example of the change which has taken place within the past few years take for instance Forrester Island. Here we used to get an average of 50 fish to the tierce while now they run as high as 150 to the tierce."

KING THINKS COUSIN WAS WELL PUNISHED

LONDON, Nov. 6.—In the course of an audience with Archibald Forder, a missionary from Armenia, who told of his four years captivity under the Turks in the ravaged country, King George expressed his view of the former German Emperor. The missionary blamed the Germans for instigating all the trouble in the East and the King replied: "Well, they are finished now. The Kaiser has had to run away from his own country. He is well punished for all he did."

$100 BAIL ESTREATED

Chinaman Caught With Three Bottles of Rye Did not Appear

Last night Constable Hugh McGlinchy met the Prince George on her arrival from Stewart. He met a Chinese by the name of Mah Sang Sing, whom he suspected. Mah had made the round trip to the smelter town and Constable McGlinchy was doubtful of his reasons so he arrested and searched him. He found in his suitcase three bottles of sealed rye whisky.

He was brought to the police station where he was allowed to go out on $100 bail. This morning he failed to turn up and the bail was forfeited. Tomorrow he will be up to give his reasons for not appearing in court when ordered. Mah Sang Sing is the proprietor of the West End Cafe.

Harry Moore was this morning given twenty days for being drunk and disorderly.

VIOLA DANA IN 'SATAN JR.' AT THE EMPRESS THEATRE

"Satan Jr." is the feature film at the Empress tonight with beautiful Viola Dana in the title role. It is a story of a somewhat sensational nature and will have a very wide appeal. Viola Dana is one of the big movie stars and doubtless the attendance will be large.

In addition to the feature is the 14th episode of "Houdini." This story loses none of its appeal as it develops. It is one of the big things in the way of serials.

TO DISCUSS STREETS

Resolution Will be Moved at Board of Trade Meeting Tonight.

Much interest is taken in the proposal of the Board of Trade to discuss the questions of roads at the regular meeting of that body tonight in the council chamber. It is understood that J. H. Pillsbury will move a resolution bearing on the subject and a general discussion is expected to follow.

The air route between Vancouver and Prince Rupert will also be up for discussion.

Daughters of Canada

The mother, the nurse, the women with the needle, the ambulance driver, the canteen worker, the "farmerette" and the daughters of industry in factory, office and store—all—inspired the manhood and ennobled the womanhood of Canada by their labours of love and sacrifice in the days of the nation's anguish—now happily past.

And their response, to give and to lend of their money time and time again—was beyond all praise.

And—Canada—being mindful of their past example—and conscious of their all-pervading influence again asks her Countrywomen to buy Victory Bonds. Yes, she asks them to buy them, even at the sacrifice of some cherished longed-for purchase.

It is self denial to do without something that will lend background to ones charm, but the time is not long and the debts of honour must be paid.

There is another thought, too, that wives and mothers will appreciate. The success of the Victory Loan makes for Prosperity. Steady employment is dependent upon prosperity. Without prosperity uncertainty will follow.

Hence Canada sounds a clarion call to her daughters for their aid in making an abundant success of the Victory Loan 1919.

Fine Diamond Engagement Ring $100.00

A diamond is the hardest substance in the world. Nothing will scratch it. It is very hard to break even with a hammer. No acid will affect it. It can be made red hot and will come out just as bright as before.

Yet some diamonds are worth more than others. A diamond is valued for whiteness and beauty, also freedom from small imperfections such as spots and flaws.

I have had 20 years experience in the business and will guarantee satisfaction.

Besides the one mentioned above we have rings at $50, $75, $250, up to a very fine large stone at $1200.
