NEW GOVERNMENT IN INDIA IS LIKELY TWO MORE VANCOUVER WOMEN KILLED BY AUTOMOBILES

Autonomy Except For Certain Subjects is Probable Result of Recent London, Eng., Conference

Eastern Land May Soon Conduct Its Own Affairs In Responsible Manner—Defence, Finance, Foreign and Domestic Relations and Political Charges Exceptions

LONDON, Dec. 29.—Responsible government for India with safeguards was today indicated as the probable outcome of the Indian round table conference. The Hindu-Moslem deadlock remains unbroken. This, however, need not necessarily frustrate the work of laying down general principles of a new constitution. Failure to reach a settlement of communal differences would, however, likely mean modifications in the general scheme in order that adequate protection for the minorities might be assured.

LOW PRICE OF BUTTER

Exclusion By Canada Will Have Adverse Effect on New Zealand

AUCKLAND, N.Z., Dec. 29.—If the new Canadian tariff on butter is permanent New Zealand's exports to the Canadian market will cease in about three years' time and unless there is a tariff in Great Britain on foreign dairy produce, extremely low prices, especially for butter, will result in a permanent lower standard of living and restriction of future progress in New Zealand, according to William Goodfellow, managing director of the New Zealand Dairy Company.

Mr. Goodfellow said Australia and the United States had practically shut out New Zealand dairy produce, and the recent increase in the tariff in Canada would reduce shipments to that country by at least 10,000 tons during the coming season. If the increased Canadian tariff was permanent, the result would be a rapid increase in production in Canada and exports from New Zealand would cease in about three years.

MERGER IS RESTRAINED

Ohio Judge Takes Hand in Proposed Amalgamation of Big Steel Companies

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, Dec. 29.—The proposed million dollar merger of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation and the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co. was denied by Common Pleas Judge David G. Jenkins today when he granted minority stockholders an injunction restraining the combination.

Ten Persons Lose Their Lives As Fire Destroys Queens Hotel, Old Hostelry In Cochrane, Ont.

COCHRANE, Ont., Dec. 29.—At least ten persons and possibly more lost their lives when fire destroyed the old Queens Hotel here early this morning. Only one body had been removed from the smouldering ruins at noon. It was definitely established, however, that the remains of Charles Palangio, his wife and four children were in the ruins. Three other men, who had been seen at the windows of the building during the height of the blaze, were also placed among the dead.

 THIRTY THOUSAND

 SHANGHAI, Dec. 29.—Delayed Chinese dispatches from Lanchow say that at least 30,000 Chinese in Northwestern Kansu Province were massacred during the past two months by roving armies of Mohammedans attempting to start a revolution against the Chinese government.

VICTORIA GETS JOB

Steamer Prince Rupert Going There For Annual Overhaul

VANCOUVER, Dec. 29.—Announcement is made here today by B. C. Keeley, Pacific coast manager Canadian National Steamships, that ss. Prince Rupert, one of the veterans of the coast service, will be given her annual overhaul this winter in the Yarrow Shipyards at Victoria.

"Now that we have returned to the tri-weekly service with our ships connecting the ports of Victoria, Vancouver and Seattle, we feel that it is only right to distribute some of the annual overhaul work to the Victoria shipyards. When ss. Prince Rupert is sent over to Victoria it will assist materially in relieving the unemployment situation," said Mr. Keeley.

At present ss. Prince Rupert is operating on the tri-city service in the absence of ss. Prince David which is now going through her guarantee inspection. It is expected that ss. Prince Henry, one of the new ships, will have completed her guarantee inspection by the end of the year and will be able to resume her service on the tri-city run about the first week in January. As soon as ss. Prince Henry is ready ss. Prince Rupert will be sent in for her annual overhaul which will take about one month.

Property Owners To Reorganize

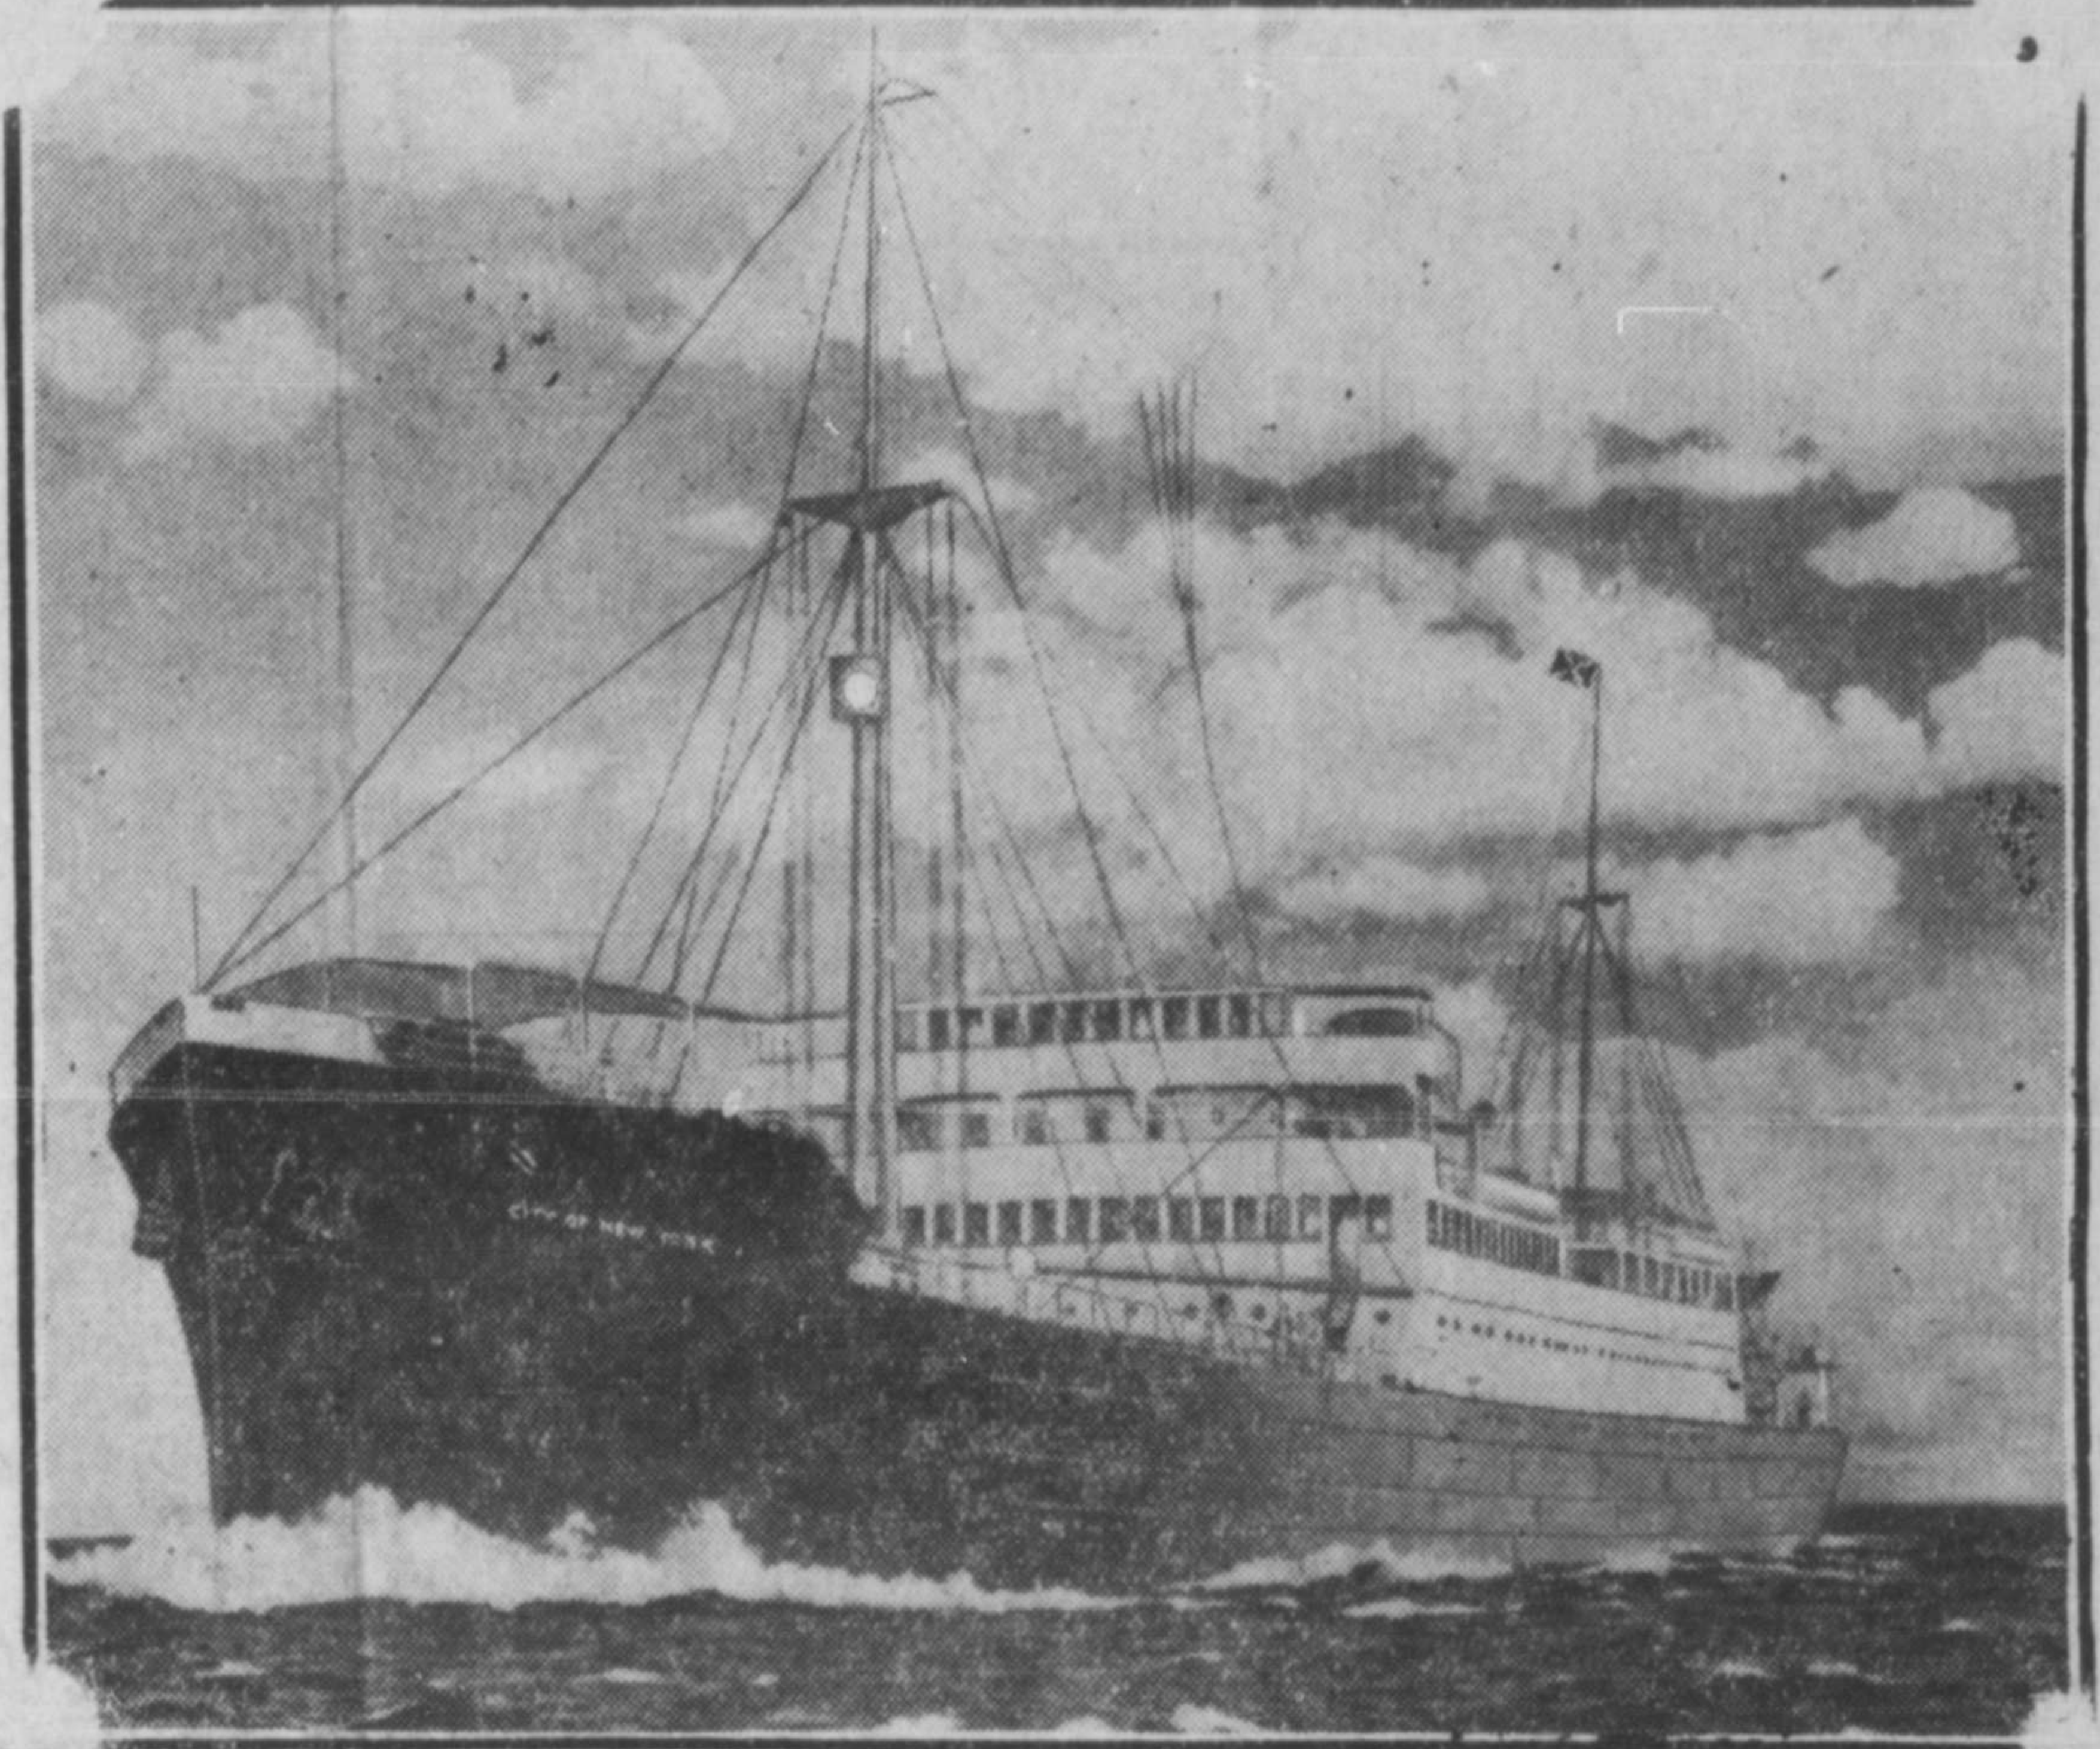

Use of Public Funds Should Be Authorized, They Feel

The old Prince Rupert Ratepayers' Association is being revived in Prince Rupert with a view to taking an active interest in public affairs. Some of the former members feel that a little scrutiny of the expenditure of public money, especially on relief work, would be beneficial. A meeting is being called for early in the New Year when new officers will be elected and a plan of operations laid down.

Mrs. M. A. Hall of Burnaby Is Second to Lose Life—Major Stanley Hill and Taxi-Driver Charged With Manslaughter

VANCOUVER, Dec. 29.—Two women met death in automobile accidents here yesterday. Mrs. Herbert S. Wood, prominent in social and musical circles and wife of a well known local barrister, was killed when the car she was driving and a taxicab collided on South Granville Street. Mrs. M. A. Hall, resident of Burnaby, returning home from church, was struck at a street intersection by a car allegedly driven by Major Stanley Hill and died a few minutes later.

Allen officiating. Mrs. Spencer presided at the organ. After the church service, interment was made in Terrace Cemetery. Pallbearers were J. K. Gordon, W. C. Sparkes, R. W. Charles Lessard of Vancouver Taken In Chilliwack For Killing Mrs. Connell

VANCOUVER, Dec. 29.—Charles Lessard, aged 29, of Vancouver was arrested on the ranch of his brother-in-law near Chilliwack early yesterday on a charge of manslaughter, it being alleged that he was the driver of the car responsible for the deaths of Mrs. Herbert Connell and Miss Allison Candlish on Broadway West on Christmas Eve.

Mrs. Connell and Miss Candlish were the victims of a hit-and-run driver who sped away after the two women had been struck down.

Is Fine Sounding But Not Feasible

(Vancouver Province)
 Mr. Bennett's principle of "Canada First" has a fine sound and has made quite a name for itself in the world. At bottom of course, it is the principle upon which all nations do their business in the world. But sometimes it does not mean exactly what it seems to say. It is becoming increasingly evident that it can not mean exactly what it seems to say in the matter of Canadian wheat. If wheat is to regain its pride of place in the industry and commerce of this nation, it means that we have got to enter an Empire arrangement about it.

MASONS AT CATHEDRAL

Fine Music By Choir and Appropriate Sermon By Dean Featured Service Yesterday

Some one hundred members of the two local Masonic Lodges—Tsimpson and Tyee—under their respective masters, attended annual divine service last evening in St. Andrew's Anglican Cathedral. In addition to the Masons, there was a congregation so large that it taxed the capacity of the spacious auditorium. The occasion was a special Christmas service which was featured by fine seasonal music by the choir under direction of H. N. Brocklesby, its leader.

Speaking appropriately for members of the Masonic Craft, Very Rev. James B. Gibson, dean of the Cathedral, found his text in the "Thy Kingdom Come" phrase of the Lord's Prayer upon which he elaborated.

Special music by the choir included two anthems—"It Came Upon a Midnight Clear," with A. J. Lancaster as soloist, and "The New Born King," with M. H. Blott and Mrs. F. W. Allen soloists.

After the regular service, there was a full choral service by the choir which lasted for an hour. The program consisted largely of old English carols dating from the Thirteenth to the Seventeenth centuries. There were two quartets—one consisting of Mrs. F. W. Allen, Mrs. M. Blott, A. J. Lancaster and M. H. Blott and the other made up of Mrs. Donald Ross, Mrs. C. E. Cullin, H. Lincoln and Mr. Bradshaw. "The Heavens are Telling" from Handel's "Creation" was a fitting finale for the special carol service.

MANY ARE BETTER OFF

Many people in Prince Rupert are better off this year than last. They are earning the same salaries but the cost of living is less, so they are well ahead of the game. Instead of paying fifty to sixty cents a pound for turkeys they this year paid only thirty-five cents and most other goods were also lower.

When we hear some merchants complain about the hard times, we should also hear wage earners, who are carrying on at the old rate, telling how good times are compared with what they have been in the past year or two. What is good for one is not so good for the other, but we seldom hear from those who are benefitted whereas those who are hurt trumpet their grief to the world.

FAITH IN CANADA

We draw particular attention today to the advertisement of the Department of Trade and Commerce which is offering a colored copy of a pledge suitable for a wall hanger or for framing if the coupon on the advertisement is filled out and returned. No stamp is needed on the envelope as it is in the government service.

LOR DMELCHETT

Lord Melchett, one of the leading industrialists in Britain, better known to the world as Sir Alfred Mond; was an outstanding figure in the British world. He was a Jew and inherited from that race many characteristics which helped to make him great. His influence in Britain was very great and his death will be a distinct loss to the Empire.

There's a kind of gasoline that stops knocking. We are planning to order a big consignment and serve it free to those who are not our customers.

Louis Weber, full-blooded Caddo Indian, halfback and captain of Haskell Indians, is said to be receiving serious consideration for berth on All-American football team.

Queen Charlotte Island Logs Important Factor In British Columbia Paper Mill Industry

(From Powell River Digest)

About three hundred and fifty miles northward and westward of Powell River, a group of islands, shaped roughly like an inverted isosceles triangle, rise above the waters of the Pacific. Named the Queen Charlotte Islands by early explorers a century and a half ago, in honor of Charlotte Sophia, consort to stout and stubborn old George III, they are in modern times one of the great logging centres of British Columbia.

Tapering from a width of sixty miles on Graham Island in the north, to less than a mile in the extreme south, with an approximate length of 175 miles from "tip to tip," these islands are famous for the size and quality of their spruce limits; here flourish the celebrated Sitka variety—white, straight grained, long fibred—which in addition to its several uses as high grade finish lumber, is recognized as one of the finest pulp woods in existence.

For many years a large percentage of the spruce used in the manufacture of Powell River newsprint has been logged from the fertile soil of the Queen Charlottes. Operations are still proceeding and will continue to proceed for many years to come. Today one of the chief centres of logging activity in this area is on the borders of Selwyn Inlet, on Louise Island, a smaller member of the Charlotte brotherhood. From these limits come the majority of those big Davis rafts, which the company tug, St. Faith, deposits regularly in our log pond, and which, in addition to their usefulness as newsprint stock, serve as temporary breakwaters when the waves of the gulf run high.

Winter Operations

The Selwyn Inlet operations provide employment for approximately one hundred men during the year. In the fall of the year, usually at the beginning of October, the crews strike for the woods—and actual logging operations commence. Throughout the winter months and on into the early spring, the fallers and buckers hold the spotlight. This is the season when the big spruces yield to the onslaught of the axe and saw; when the high rigger and the yarders are seen in the noon time of their season's activity. Keeping pace with the fallers, the yarding crews assemble the logs in convenient locations, ready for moving in the spring. In the Selwyn operation, six-ton trucks and trailers are used to transport the logs from the operation to the booming ground. In the winter months the truck lines are flanked by huge piles of timbers, "cold decks" as they are known in logging parlance, freshly logged, and thus assembled by the yarders, preparatory for the outward journey to the booming grounds in the early spring.

In March falling operations cease. Then comes the work of breaking up the "cold decks," hauling them to the booming ground—and conditioning the winter's cut for its four hundred and fifty-mile water journey to the mills at Powell River.

The Spring Offensive

The spring offensive opens with trucks and trailers snorting up the truck roads for their loads.

Truck roads are built of logs, broad-axed on the top, and flanked by a guard rail of logs to keep the machines on the "right side of the road." Along these they pass and repass, carrying their cargoes a distance of 5 miles or a mile and a half to the booming grounds. Three trucks and two trailers form the backbone of the present Selwyn Inlet operations, and once the month of March peers around the corner, the crews swing quickly into action. Last year these busy machines moved in the neighborhood of ten million feet of logs, which had been cold-decked during the winter. Their average load approximates 4500 feet. The heaviest drag on record last year was the transportation to the booming grounds of a single, gigantic spruce, scaling in itself, slightly over 10,000 feet, and which made quite a splash when it dropped in the pond beside its "boom" companions.

Hauling the logs down the truck road is not as simple an operation as it sounds. The average grade on the Selwyn operation is 12 per cent; and to ensure the safe handling of heavy loads like the above, the old reliable donkey is commandeered for service. A line is run from the donkey through a five-sheave snubber to the truck and trailers—a double brake, as it were, to protect the load in event of the truck brakes failing to respond.

The "Faith" Takes Over

At the booming grounds the logs are built up in Davis rafts, each raft containing approximately one and a half million feet. Here the company tug, St. Faith, with her 1200 h.p. engine, "takes over," and the work of the logging contractor comes to an end. Throughout the summer the work of hauling and booming proceeds swiftly; and nearly forty million feet of spruce is boomed up in the camp awaiting the arrival of the St. Faith.

During these operations on the Queen Charlottes, numerous trees, eight and ten feet in diameter, have been logged. One particularly fine specimen recently logged on this limit yielded nearly 40,000 feet of number one clear spruce. Sometimes, when operating along the shores of Selwyn Inlet, whole trees are felled, put straight into the water, and bucked to log length with power drag saws while in the water.

From the booming grounds at Selwyn Inlet to the log pond at Powell River would not be a long trip, if you were aboard the Mauretania or the Bremen. Both these flyers, with all boilers in action, would arrive in Powell River sixteen hours out from Selwyn. But the Mauretania and the Bremen are not tugs, and they are not engaged in log hauling.

DEPARTMENT OF TRADE AND COMMERCE
OTTAWA, CANADA.

December 27th, 1930.

To My Fellow Citizens,
Everywhere in Canada.

Ring Out the Old, Ring in the New!

Another few days and 1930, with whatever it has brought us of success or of failure, will have passed into history, and our thoughts will be centred on a new year and on the better times we sincerely hope it has in store for us.

While the opportunities of the past are gone beyond recall, the future is ours to make of it what we will. And we can make it a far brighter, a far more prosperous future, for ourselves individually and for Canada as a whole, if we all resolve to profit by the lessons our experience has taught us.

Among those lessons, surely we have learned how dependent each of us is for his own opportunities and his own advancement upon the well-being of Canadian producers as a class, and how much better it would be for every one of us if in our daily buying we were all to favour Canadian products.

If you believe that "Produced-in-Canada" doctrine is sound common sense, that it points the logical way not only to relieve unemployment but to lay broader and deeper the foundations of our national prosperity, why not make the practice of it one of your foremost resolutions for 1931?

Celebrate the new year by ringing out old habits of carelessness in buying, and ringing in the new resolve henceforth to be studiously careful. For 1931 let this be your creed:

"I believe in Canada.

"I love her as my home. I honour her institutions. I rejoice in the abundance of her resources.

"I glory in the record of her achievements. I have unbounded confidence in the ability of her people to excel in whatsoever they undertake. I cherish exalted ideals of her destiny as a leader among world nations.

"To her I pledge my loyalty. To the promotion of her best interests I pledge my support. To her products I pledge my patronage. And to the cause of her producers I pledge my devotion."

If you are willing to embrace this creed, a copy of same artistically executed in colours, and on heavy stock suitable for use as a wall hanger or for framing, is yours for the asking. Just clip and fill in the coupon herewith. Address your envelope as shown on the coupon. Mail it without affixing stamp, for this particular letter will be carried free.

Very sincerely yours,

A. H. Stevens

Christmas is gone and so is my money and yet the merchants say they had very little business. I suppose they wanted me to mortgage my parental estate.

He wrote to the sender, informing him that the crate was so badly made that it had come to pieces when he was taking the hens home with him and they had all escaped, and, after much searching, he had only succeeded in finding eleven of them. In due course, he received the following reply:
"You were lucky to find eleven

INTRODUCING MR. "B.T.U."

... and the reason why ISLAND Coal is GOOD Coal

As a prominent Canadian fuel engineer says: "There are almost as many kinds of coal as there are varieties of pickles." To most people coal is just "coal". They know it as the stuff that is put in fire grates—but that's about all.

The first requisite of coal is heat . . . and this is why Island Coal is such good coal.

Chemical experiments with three kinds of Island coal showed an average of 13,030 B.T.U.'s (heat units) as against several non-Island, competing grades, which only averaged 10,000.

It's the B.T.U.'s that count! It pays to remember that when you buy Island coal you get a greater amount of HEAT. Experiments showed that the moisture content of Island Coal at pit head averages only 1.37%, where non-Island grades showed 15.43%! Again, the volatility (easy burning) of Island coal is 4.1% greater. In addition to its greater HEAT value, Island coal is the safest, most even, most adaptable fuel on this market . . . especially when governed by automatic control.

Remember, the Island coal business is a major industry of British Columbia; it maintains more than 30,000 people . . . nearly all of whom live on the Island or in Vancouver. Every ton of coal consumed means a day's work for a B.C. miner. Regular work means full pay and maintenance for the miner's family.

The dealers listed herewith all sell Nanaimo-Wellington and Comox coals. Buy home products! Every dollar for imported fuels that goes out of British Columbia is a dollar less at home!

SPORT CHAT

The executive of the Jasper city hockey league met recently and arranged all details for the coming season. Three teams comprise the league—the Elks, Native Sons and the Merchants. On Christmas afternoon the Merchants and Native Sons played and the winners will meet the Elks on New Year's afternoon. These will be exhibition games. The regular league games will start after the New Year. A strong executive has been chosen in A. C. Chesnes, president; P. M. Gibbs, secretary; executive members, S. Knutson, T. Tovey, W. G. N. Johnston. Edmonton teams will be invited to play exhibition games during the winter.

The Marylebone Cricket Club, governing body of the pastime in England, has approved the whole of the recommendations made by the advisory committee relating to experiments to be tried in the County Championship for 1931. This means that if a match is finished the winning side will score 15 points, or if the scores be equal, 7½ points will be awarded each side. Otherwise points will be awarded in exactly the same way as last summer. The recommendation that for the season 1931, as an experiment, there should be no appeal against the light-in-first-class county cricket was also approved.

 At Chicago, the Toronto Maple Leafs scored their second straight victory by defeating the Black Hawks three to two in one of the roughest and most exciting games ever played in the stadium.
 At New York, the Rangers added one more to the long string of defeats which have been suffered by the Philadelphia Quakers during the present season. The count was four to two.

AGRARIAN NEED HERE
 Dane Recommends Improved Quality, Economy Crop Rotation and Co-Operative Selling
 One Hundred and Fifty Farmers More Attended Her "At Home" Yesterday

HALIFAX, Dec. 20.—The creation of markets through improved quality, and economy, through education in the functions of fertilizers and rotation of crops, and the elimination of carelessness in utilizing by-products; these are the main elements in the agricultural system envisioned by a native of Denmark, now in this country, as Canada's greatest agrarian need. The whole system would be supported and bound together by co-operative buying and selling.
 These suggestions are not propounded by a professional expert in the science of farming. They are put forward by L. M. Johnson, a Guyanese country farmhand who has been in this country a year and a half, and who "coming to Nova Scotia, found its soil and climate perfect for mixed farming. Those railway agents had been right about Canada." His observations on farming methods in Canada are contained in what is virtually his first attempt in written English.
 "I chose Nova Scotia," he says, "because my interest was not in wheat factories, but what we in Denmark understand by farming; that is dairy, grain, root-crops, gardenwork, poultry and pig-raising, all mixed together in economical ways. I came to Canada because I wanted to be my own boss, which I found difficult in my country. According to high prices on farms it would there take me quite a number of years."
 Characterizing efforts to improve agricultural conditions in this country as "only trying to put patches on an old shoe instead of finding a way out," Johnson believes the way "to make a sound basis for farming in the future is to change the system or non-system under which we are working now. There is at present no solidity, nothing any man can depend on. If the farmer grows a crop it is just by luck sometimes he will get a reasonable price. Other times it is a complete failure."

BRIDGE IS PROCEEDING

Galloway Rapids Structure Expected to Be Finished in April. Now Building Centre Span
 Satisfactory progress is still being made with the construction of the bridge across Galloway Bay and the expectation now is that the structure, which will connect Kaiser Island with the mainland highway, will be completed in the month of April. Construction of the bridge is quite an engineering feat and the recent high winds somewhat hampered operations.
 The centre or principal span now being fabricated on a temporary trestle-like structure which has been erected near the far shore of Galloway Rapids. On completion will be floated into place by two boats between two concrete piers which have been completed. It will be one of the largest wooden spans of its kind in British Columbia, being 202 feet long and weighing 100 tons.
 The recent high winds have caused some minor inconveniences around the bridge building operation. The wind makes considerable care on the part of the workers necessary.
 While the building of the bridge proceeds, grading of the road beyond Galloway Rapids is going ahead steadily.
 In spite of the recent heavy rain that section of the highway between the city and Galloway Bay has stood up quite well.

DECIDING VOCATION

Professor W. D. Tait Suggests Intelligence Test as Guide To Life Work

MONTREAL, QUE., Dec. 29.—Intelligence tests to determine the suitable vocations for individuals were advocated by Professor W. D. Tait, of the department of psychology, of McGill University, in a recent address. Dr. Tait took as his subject "Vocational Guidance," and emphasized the need for encouraging young people of superior talents, who, he believed were not receiving enough attention today. Men are not born equal, Dr. Tait continued, because of inherited differences, different mental capacities and different environment. Thus there are certain lines of endeavor for which every individual is fitted and if he tried to enter other vocations he would neither be successful or happy nor of benefit to his community, the speaker said. At the present time chance played the greatest part in determining a man's sphere of work, and it was not realized that if everyone was engaged in suitable kinds of work, the culture and the standard of living of the country would be raised, Dr. Tait added.

From an economic, humanitarian, and aesthetic point of view it was necessary to encourage children along suitable lines. If a man is not doing the work for which he is suited, his work is partially wasted. From a humanitarian point of view it must be realized that the welfare of the individual is placed where he can develop a conscientious regard for his work. Then again, a suitable work or hobby helped to unify the personality of an individual, said the speaker.

Dr. Tait placed much faith in intelligence tests. They had passed beyond the experimental stage, he said, and were a dependable means of determining the mental ability of a person. He recommended that school children be subject to these tests, and the curriculum be adapted to suit the needs of the students. By taking into account a student's environment a teacher could determine the type of mental ability of a student. Then, if the mental qualities required for different vocations were known, it would be possible to select suitable occupations for the pupils.

ACCEPT THESE GIFTS WITH OUR COMPLIMENTS

DO YOU think of your newspaper merely as a means of finding out what the famous people in the world are doing, saying, thinking? As an impersonal record of events which do not concern you at all? We have something more than that to offer you. For instance:

Please accept today with our compliments these things as a gift throughout the coming year, which you'll find in our pages: New and better ways of performing old household tasks . . . means of savings steps, time, effort . . . labor-saving devices . . . short-cuts to efficiency . . . money-saving. "Why," you say, "you're probably talking about the advertisements!" Just so—we are.

Think of the advertisements—and read them—as news. News of the world of goods and things . . . news of scientific achievement accomplished for your benefit . . . news that concerns you far more directly than an account of boundary disputes in Baluchistan can ever concern you.

Read the advertisements regularly, and use them as millions of other people are doing—to save you time, effort, money, trouble, when it comes to buying the things that make life a little easier . . . a little brighter. Reading the advertisements will keep you in step with the rapidly advancing standard of living in Canada today.

Every day there's something new in the advertisements as well as on the front page. Be informed on all sides!

British Police Districts Plan Aid Each Other

LONDON, Dec. 29.—Theorizing that two heads are better than one, plans are being advanced for closer co-operation between the police districts of England and Wales and Scotland Yard in Great Britain's age-old war against crime and criminals. Under conditions that have existed for years each borough of England and Wales has sole jurisdiction over its respective territory and Scotland Yard has no standing whatsoever outside the metropolitan area of London, unless called in by officials of the borough.

It is a favorite trick of sensational novelists to bring into their stories a Scotland Yard detective who takes control, ignoring almost entirely the local police. While unquestionably some of the finest detectives in the world today are attached to Scotland Yard, and the organization for the detection of criminals is the most modern in existence, these officers and the organization are maintained primarily to deal with crime within the London metropolitan area. Some time ago Lord Brentford, who, as Sir William Joynson-Hicks, was the then Home Secretary, notified every chief constable in the country that the services of Scotland Yard officers were always available to them, and urged the need for closer co-operation between the Yard and provincial forces. Particularly cases of murder and other serious crime was it urged that the assistance of the Yard should be obtained at the earliest possible moment.

Under the present regulations, however, there is no power to compel local police forces to call in help from Scotland Yard, and in some counties the view is held that local detectives are better equipped to deal with local murder cases. Many counties and boroughs, however, have adopted the suggestion of the Home Secretary with excellent results.

REPORT OF BOY SCOUT TOY SHOP

Three Hundred and Ninety-Seven Articles Distributed This Christmas

The third annual toy shop of the Prince Rupert Boy Scouts came to a very successful conclusion on Christmas Eve, by which time all the toys, etc., were distributed.

This year a total of 397 toys, books, dolls and games were repaired and distributed to 123 children in 42 families. A number of these families were new settlers spending their first Christmas in Canada, and the parcel sent to them was to serve a dual purpose—to welcome them to this country, and to assure a Happy Christmas for the children. Twenty such families comprising 50 children were thus looked after and 193 items enclosed in the parcels.

Twenty-two local and district families, consisting of 73 children were sent a total of 394 toys, etc., and reports from distributors show how much these were appreciated.

The work was carried out by the combined troops of the city under Scoutmaster Miller, Ferguson and Rix. All the dolls were dressed by the Girl Guides under the leadership of Captain Rogers, and the beautiful way in which these dolls were dressed will certainly be a delight to the children who received them.

The sincere thanks of the Boy Scouts is due to all those who assisted them in this annual good turn. Special thanks are due to E. W. Tucker and other members of the Toc H who so kindly gave of their time and energies. Ald. Theo Collart, who loaned the store building where the shop was located; the Northern B. C. Power Co. for their donation of light for the shop; Orms Ltd.; Boston Cafe; G. H. Munro and Bush's Groceries, for so kindly allowing collection boxes to be placed in their places of business; Fire Chief McDonald for accepting toys brought in for the shop; Lindsay's Cartage for carriage; S. E. Parker for the loan of a car for distribution on Christmas Eve; the press for their courtesy in allowing the announcements in their columns; and all those others who through their many kindnesses made the shop such a success. Special thanks are also due to the Anzac Scouts for the wonderful assortment of toys sent down for distribution from here.

There Should Be No Ugly Women!

There are 2 classes of women.

(1) The beautiful, healthy and attractive ones.

(2) Those pitiful ones who don't know how to make themselves beautiful—rather those who don't know the vital importance of Kruschen Salts to physical perfection and attraction!

Kruschen Salts are a perfect blend of the six vital minerals which Nature intended, glands, blood, nerves and body organs should daily receive from food if they're to function correctly—and which are impossible to obtain in the age of modern cooking.

Get a bottle of Kruschen—and before the bottle is half empty your complexion should be gloriously smooth and clear. Kruschen clears blood of harmful acids and poisons, waste matter which cause skin-rashes, blackheads and pimples. Your wonderful hair and complexion will surprise you—mind feels so keen and alert—no more wasted-out feeling getting up in the mornings.

METLAKATLA, Dec. 28:—A musical meeting was held in the Salvation Army Hall under the auspices of the Salvation Army. The program was greatly appreciated by a good crowd present. The service was opened by Envoys Clifton. A prayer was offered by Sergeant-Major Prevost, followed by community singing of an old favorite, "Hark the Herald Angels." Then came an item by the String Band, under the leadership of Jas. Prevost, whose stirring strains of martial music made everyone present prepared for a happy evening which was not wanting as each item followed the other in rapid succession. The passing of time was not noticed until the last item was rendered and then the audience was reluctant to leave.

Special Music Much Enjoyed

Presbyterian Church Hears Junior Choir in Morning and Senior in Evening

Sweet and clear voices of the Junior Choir in Christmas carols and choruses delighted a large congregation which gathered to hear them yesterday morning in First Presbyterian Church. Again the effectiveness of the work which is being carried out by Choirmaster John E. Davey among the young folk was amply illustrated. The program was a well chosen one and the talents of the children were pleasing to all. Soloists were Betty Woods, Dorothy Fraser, Betty Cameron and Allan Kergin. There was also a recitation by Betty Brown.

Again in the evening, there was another special musical service, this time being provided by the Senior Choir before another good-sized congregation. The anthems, "O Zion that Bringest Good Tidings," "The Prince of Peace," and "God From On High Hath Heard" were much appreciated. Soloists during the service were Miss Sheila Stuart, Miss Mabel Iverson, Mrs. James Waugh, Mrs. J. A. Teng, Miss Beulah McKinley, Alex Clapperton, Sam Massey and W. E. Williscroft. There was a quartette by Miss Mabel Iverson, Miss Olive Munro, Sam Massey and S. J. Hunter.

Rev. J. Kennedy, the pastor, delivered appropriate sermons both morning and evening. In the morning, his subject was "A Great Promise," in the evening, "A Short Review of 1930."

The Peace River Block News, published at Rolla, B.C., celebrated its first Christmas with an attractive 24-page special number containing a detailed historical review of each section of British Columbia's portion of the far-flung Peace River country.
