Mackenzie King Is In Humorous and Critical Mood In Initial Speech

Warns Premier-Bennett That He Will Be Expected to Carry Out His Promises—Offers Suggestions Regarding Structure of Cabinet

OTTAWA, Sept. 10.—Crowded galleries and chamber listened with interest yesterday to the first passage of arms between Premier R. B. Bennett and Rt. Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King, Leader of the Opposition, in the House of Commons. Mr. King quoted extensively from speeches delivered by Premier Bennett during the last election campaign. He dealt at length with pledges and promises which he claimed had been made by the Premier in order to obtain power. Dividing these into three groups,

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL

Four Cases Under Elections Act Now Ready For Higher Court But No Judge Available

Capt. Neil McLean, C. F. Davis, Frank Morris and G. M. Hunt, charged with irregularities at the recent federal election here, came again before Magistrate McClymont in city police court this afternoon and were formally committed for trial. They were then taken before Judge F. McB. Young who released each on his own recognizance pending election and trial. No arrangements have yet been completed for the bringing in of a judge to try the cases and it is not expected that anything further will be done with them for at least a week.

BEATING UP IS MYSTERY

Samuel McConnell Suffered Severe Injuries to Head and Face In Hotel Room

Severely beaten up about the right side of his face and head, Samuel McConnell was found on a bloody bed in a room at a local hotel last evening. There is considerable mystery as to how he came by his injuries for he either could not or would not divulge how or by whom he was attacked. Peculiarly enough, no disturbance was noticed by guests or employees of the hotel.

McConnell is a patient in the Prince Rupert General Hospital where he is making a good recovery. The case is being investigated by the city police.

EMPRESS OF JAPAN MAKES NEW RECORD FOR HONOLULU RUN

HONOLULU, Sept. 10.—Breaking all previous records for the passage from Victoria to Honolulu, the new Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Japan arrived here in four days, fifteen hours and fifty minutes. The distance is 2239 miles.

referred to the first group as Mr. Bennett's "Magna Charta of Promises" and his "Cornucopia of Pledges." Canada, the Opposition leader argued the Prime Minister, would expect these pledges to be carried out.

Mr. King had some strong criticisms to offer as far as the ministry was concerned. Why, he asked, was there no Minister of Labor in the House of Commons during an emergency session called to deal with unemployment? Again he wanted to know the reason why Mr. Bennett had not appointed a minister of finance, especially as there were to be tariff changes. He warned the Premier against the "Mussolini touch." The former premier drew a parallel between conditions in the government and the Gilbert and Sullivan opera "The Mikado" where Poo Bah had so many portfolios that he had difficulty in reconciling them. Mr. King remarked that Mr. Bennett now held the portfolio of secretary of state for external affairs, president of the Privy Council and minister of finance in addition to that of Prime Minister.

Concluding, Mr. King declared that the people of Canada would not be satisfied with employment by the government of any "steam-roller process" to complete the work of the session rapidly.

McCaffery has received a telegram from Misak Aivazoff at Winnipeg stating that he has secured a lease of a piece of land from the railway company for the erection of the proposed miniature golf course. The plot is situated on Sixth Street on the grassy flat between the Prince Rupert Hotel and the railway.

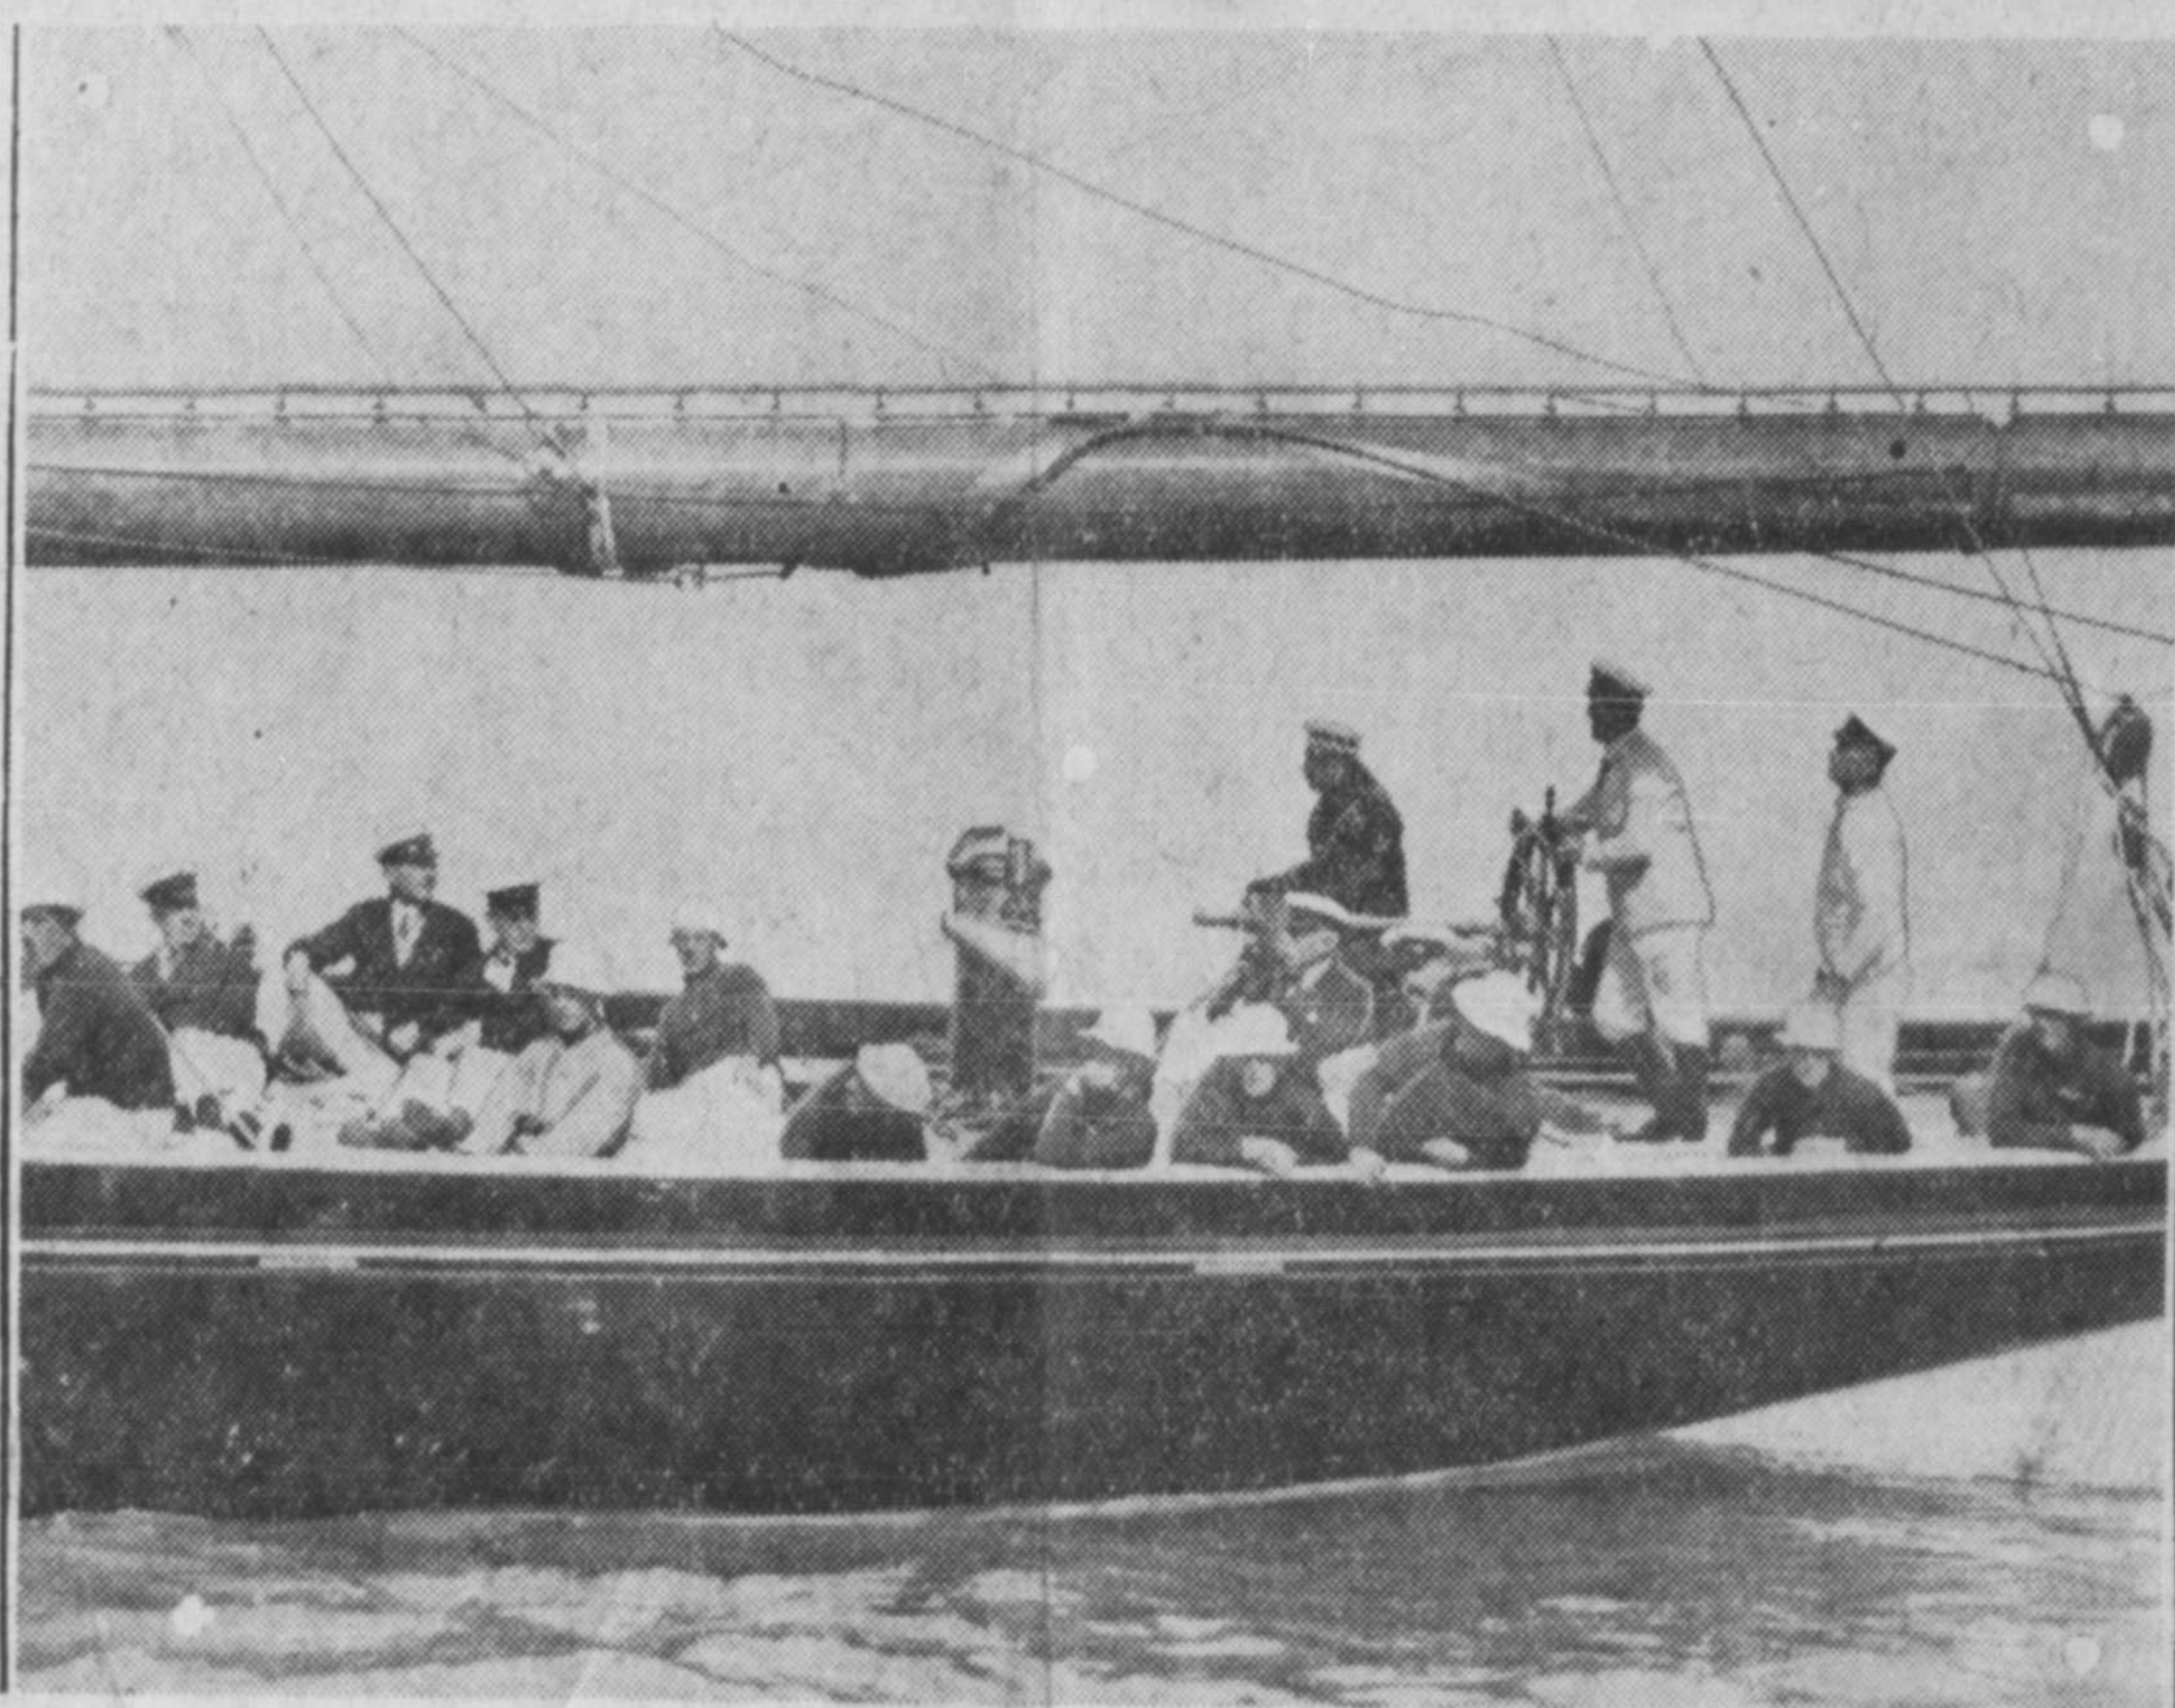

Mr. Aivazoff says he will proceed at once to Vancouver and will bring an expert north with him to lay out and construct the course. The building work will be done locally.

CONTRACTS BEING CUT

Railway Company Is Being Asked to Be as Generous as Possible in Letting Out Tie Work

Boards of Trade of the central interior have been notified by the general tie agent of the Canadian National Railways that no contracts will be awarded ordinary contractors this year and that a limited number of contracts of five hundred ties each will be given to settlers. In view of the serious situation facing settlers of the interior who have depended a good deal in the past on getting tie contracts during the winter, the Vanderhoof Board of Trade has prepared a memorandum asking the railway company to buy as generously as possible. It is expected that other interior Boards of Trade will take a similar action.

Mr. Rorie will be informed that the books are ready for him at any time.

MISSING AT ANYOX

Nothing Has Been Seen For Several Days of D. M. Mackenzie, Scow Watchman

Mystery surrounds the recent disappearance of D. M. Mackenzie who was watchman on the Coastwise Steamship & Barge Co.'s scow Pioneer at Anyox. He was last seen about 11:30 on Thursday evening of last week and it is believed he may have slipped from the wharf or scow sometime during the night. Drugging operations, however, have failed to disclose the body.

Twenty Million Dollars Asked Of Canadian Parliament to Aid In Meeting Workless Situation

OTTAWA, Sept. 10.—Parliament will be asked to vote $20,000,000 for relief of unemployment, Premier R. B. Bennett announced in the House of Commons last night. The resolution on unemployment states "That a sum not exceeding $20,000,000 be appropriated and paid out of consolidated revenue fund for the relief of unemployment in constructing, extending or improving public works and undertakings such as railways, highways, etc. that will assist in providing useful and suitable forms of work for the unemployed." A second resolution providing for certain amendments to the Customs Act and the application of a dumping clause to certain commodities will also be proceeded with.

A single day sufficed for the House to dispose of the debate on amendments to the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne. Shortly after 10 o'clock last night, the motion for the adoption of the address in reply was passed by the House without division. There were five speakers including Premier Bennett and Opposition Leader King.

Fate of Party Learned After Century Mystery; Obtain Valuable Data

W. E. Gilbert, Vancouver Pilot, Tells In Special Article of Work Being Done By Burwash North Magnetic Pole Quest

EDMONTON, Sept. 10.—In an exclusive story by W. E. Gilbert, Vancouver pilot of the Burwash aerial expedition to the Magnetic North Pole, the Edmonton Journal tells of the explorers finding sites of two camps of the men of the ill-fated expedition of Sir John Franklin which vanished in the Arctic 83 years ago. Valuable data concerning the Far North and the expedition which remained a mystery for nearly a century was found at the camp sites by Major L. T. Burwash, Dominion government explorer, the pilot says. This is being forwarded to Ottawa.

Gilbert states that the North Magnetic Pole has been reached and the area around it mapped. In addition, over a thousand miles of Canada's Arctic coastline has been mapped.

This Will Follow Establishment of New Dawson Creek Town in Peace River

DAWSON CREEK, Sept. 10.—Following the survey of the new Dawson Creek townsite, when three hundred lots with streets and lanes were laid out, information has been received that the sidings may be surveyed and locations for elevators set aside at any moment. This will permit immediate construction of elevators in readiness to receive grain as threshed. This will be of great convenience to farmers who will be able to store their crop at the rail head ready to go out by train this fall and winter.

Make Rupert a Seaplane Centre

Proposal by Visitor to Form Syndicate Here to Operate Small Machine

Captain Punnett of Victoria met the council of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday afternoon, President Tinker in the chair, and laid before them a scheme for a syndicate owning and operating a seaplane out of Prince Rupert. His scheme was for twenty or more people to go good at the bank for the money needed to purchase a $5,000 plane and pay the costs of operating until it proved remunerative, which it was suggested would be from the first. Capt. Punnett suggested a small machine as likely to prove most profitable. A number of questions were asked and the idea of the project was endorsed but it was pointed out that the Chamber had no authority to undertake any scheme of the kind.

DAILY EDITION  Wednesday, Sept. 10, 1930

WHAT IS FOOLISH?

The word "foolish" is one that is bandied about rather indiscriminately, especially by people who do not think. Everything is foolish to which they are opposed and everything is wise that they do.

We may take it for granted as an axiom that it is foolish to belittle the efforts of others, even if sometimes they may be misdirected. Much of our energy is misdirected but it is far better than having no energy. The cynic who sits back and criticizes is often the person who never does anything constructive. The worst sin is being useless. The next is criticizing those who are useful.

AN AVIATION CENTRE

Captain Punnett is here trying to form a syndicate to undertake the purchase of a plane, the formation of a flying school and to go into commercial flying. The scheme is a laudable one if practicable. The Alaskan cities have been able to support planes but so far no attempt has been made to locate a headquarters at Prince Rupert. It would seem that for a business man who has some money and who is willing to rustle business this is an excellent opportunity to start. Much will depend upon the management to insure success. It would seem as if it might be better for one or two men to finance the undertaking and take full control but that is a matter of detail. Prince Rupert certainly needs an airplane and it will be provided very soon by somebody.

PEACE OUTLET

The following, from the Financial News, might also apply to Prince Rupert.

In a single session the Vancouver city council heard of the city's difficulty in making its unemployment relief funds go the distance that will likely be required of them, and passed a resolution asking the Federal Government to press for action on the Peace River railway outlet.

The effect of the resolution is to ask the Bennett Government to give an undertaking that it will procure a definite promise of early action from the railway companies or commence the project as a federal undertaking.

The two subjects of unemployment in the west and the Peace River railway building are logically related.

If money is to be expended in British Columbia for care of the unemployed, how much better it would be to provide constructive, respectable work for single men in this way than to keep them in a breadline or some less essential kind of undertaking in Vancouver.

Cutting of ties, slashing of grade, construction of camps, etc., can all be carried on in winter.

Vancouver would take a new lease on life with the bare announcement that work would be proceeded with at once on the Peace River railway outlet.

This development is the biggest single business-builder on the horizon for Vancouver, and indeed for all western Canada, at present.

RECORD DAY AT LIBRARY

Two Books a Minute Handed Out On Day Before Closing For Holiday

It was reported at the meeting of the Library Board last night, G. V. Wilkinson presiding, that on the day before the closing of the library for the holidays 850 volumes had been taken out by borrowers. Mrs. Barclay, who was in charge during the temporary absence of Miss Cruikshank, was assisted that day by Mrs. Cecil Taylor and between them they handed out an average of two books a minute during the time the library was open. This was a record for the Prince Rupert library.

The average for the month of August since the holidays was 327.3 and Miss Cruikshank reported the number of books now on the shelves at 7,298.

FORT ST. The Sisters of Providence conduct the big St. Paul's Hospital in Vancouver and also manage seven hospitals in Northern Alberta, besides many institutions elsewhere in Canada.

In Prince Rupert

G. I. Wilson of the B. C. Tie & Timber Co. is negotiating with the city council on the matter of providing electric illumination and power for the city. Had the company's sawmill at Seal Cove not burned, lighting of the city would have figured strongly in the company's program, he says.

Excavation work started this morning on a new hotel which is planned for the corner of First Avenue and McBride Street. Plans call for a building 80 by 53 feet, three storeys with basement and costing $20,000. The hotel is to be erected by Messrs. Morrow, Frizzell and Shady and Mr. Kirrby, of the Queen's Hotel has already agreed to lease it.

As a result of ptomaine poisoning, twenty members of the crew of the steamer Prince Rupert were stricken while the ship was in Seattle, three of them being taken so seriously ill that they had to be removed to hospital.

AROUND PRINCE RUPERT

Financier Is Much Impressed With Woodbine—Silver Saddle Looks Promising—Unuk River Good Prospecting Field

Hugh McGuire, managing director of the Woodbine Gold Mining Co., has gone back to Vancouver after paying a visit to the property at Stewart on which he was accompanied by M. M. Kelliher, an investment banker of Spokane and Toronto representing eastern capital. In the east recently, Mr. McGuire has been very actively engaged in negotiating financial support to carry on certain important developments at Woodbine which the expenditure of company and personal funds last year indicated were necessary. Any doubts as to authenticity of recent reported finds on the Woodbine are dispelled when one talks with Mr. Kelliher. Following his recent visit to the property, Mr. Kelliher stated that it was possible to actually follow by foot and ore cropping along the northwest sheared zone from the Woodbine portal all the way except at Cascade Creek crossings to the Premier's old discovery workings. Following his inspection, Mr. Kelliher assured Mr. McGuire that money would be forthcoming for further development and that, if this work was completed with satisfactory results, money required for a mill would be available. The first work now being instituted at Woodbine will be to open up the gold ore body shown by diamond drilling which was carried out early this year. A full crew of men is now at work and operations will be continued throughout the winter.

On the Lorraine property an eight foot vein reported to show good ore is being developed, silver lead running about three ounces of silver. Work will also start soon on the Omineca Silver King property with a view to systematic development. The Silver King is stated to have considerable quantities of commercial ore. B. F. Messner and A. T. Harrer are managing directors of the Silver King and Lorraine.

Development work by the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Co. on the Tide Lake group of claims north of Stewart has been closed down for the year, the company's diamond drilling program having been completed. So far no date has been disclosed as to results obtained so it is not known whether or not the big company will exercise its option which expires about the first of the year.

Recent development work on the Silver Saddle property, adjoining the Cronin mine in the Babine Mountains and owned by Messner, Harrer and Messner, shows in open cuts six to seven feet of ore and in No. 2 open cut and No. 3 the vein has also been exposed. This is along the strike of the vein and running into Cronin ground from the Silver Saddle. Another vein three feet wide, 1000 feet east and parallel to the first vein, also shows good grade milling ore. Mr. Harrer states that, while he was trading up the strike of his vein, he ran a crowbar three or four feet down and put in a charge of powder that scattered good ore for a radius of fifty feet in all directions.

In connection with meetings of Cariboo Presbytery of the United Church of Canada, which were held here last week, Rev. Robert G. Dunbar was inducted as pastor of the local church. In the opening event of the public schools field day here last Saturday, Chilco Public School defeated Vanderhoof Superior School in a keenly contested basketball game.

The cross-cut tunnel that is being driven on the Tidewater Molybdenum property has now encountered six feet of good ore. It is the most encouraging development since the Dalhousie Mining Co. commenced operations on the property. It is stated that a European market is assured for the whole output of the mine immediately it goes on a producing basis.

The new truck road, which will eventually be extended to the Naas Valley and on to Hazelton, has now been constructed the entire distance across the Kitsault Flats and a small crew of men is now engaged in clearing right-of-way on the Naas Valley slope. The length of the road from Alice Arm to the Naas River, surveys of which have already been made, will be 30 miles, approximately.

J. Flynn and W. Craig, who have been constructing a trail to the Elkhorn property on Hastings Arm for the department of public works, returned to town last week, having completed the work.

Al Falconer is engaged in filling up the old creek bed on his lots preparatory to moving his barn on them. The new location is immediately to the rear of the present barn site.

B. Turbitt has resumed construction of his new garage here. Concrete foundations and floors have been laid and frame construction of the remainder of the building will now proceed.

BUY COAL AND SAVE

Albert & McCaffery Advise Public to Get In Winter Stock Now; Get Best For Less

World wide unemployment and the difficulties arising therefrom bring economic questions to the fore on this, the eve on what is predicted by many will be the hardest winter this, as well as other countries, has experienced in years. The question of coal naturally arises, as the matter of fuel comes second only to food, and all householders, companies and corporations are now engaged in figuring where their coal supplies are to come from and what the price is to be. Now is the time, by buying, to bring about savings in the winter's fuel bill.

TRAFFIC AT DOCK

Congestion at Stewart Wharf to Be Regulated—Mining Law Amendments

STEWART, Sept. 10.—With the vice-president, Howard Campbell, in the chair, the Stewart Board of Trade ran through a long agenda of business at the regular meeting last Tuesday evening. A matter which aroused considerable discussion was the traffic condition at the Stewart dock on boat nights and, as the general opinion was that taxis should have preference over private cars, the board is taking steps to have this situation better controlled. At the same time a committee will look into the matter of speeding on the Stewart-Hyder road and endeavor to have all motorists drive in compliance with the speed laws.

Several changes in the mining laws, which the board has been advocating for some time, also came up for discussion, and a committee consisting of Messrs. Rolston, Applewhite and Tooth was appointed to put these into shape for submission to a future meeting of the board, together with suggestions for procedure in submitting them to the government in time for the next sitting of the provincial legislature.

An invitation was extended to R. F. McNaughton, district passenger agent for the C. N. R. at Prince Rupert, to visit Stewart and spend several days in the district. It was also decided to have official representatives of the board meet all incoming passenger steamers with a view to assisting visitors with information, etc. W. S. Orr and Hector Stewart were asked to take on this duty.

VANCOUVER STILL BUSY

Not Marking Time In Fight to Have Peace River Outlet There

The "On To The Peace Association" in Vancouver continues active in its not letting up in the fight to have the rail outlet for the great northern wheat farming area brought to that port. The latest thing that has been done by the association was to telegraph Premier Bennett urging the new federal government to take immediate steps towards providing a coast outlet for the Peace River country as one means of solving the unemployment problem.

C. E. Tisdall, head of the Vancouver association, points out that there are now 60,000 people in the Peace River country, that the crop last year was 13,500,000 bushels of grain, and that a record crop is expected this year. "Vancouver needs the trade and the Peace River needs the outlet," said Mr. Tisdall in emphasizing the importance of such work toward meeting the unemployment problem.

Owing to the small attendance of members, the election of officers was postponed until next Tuesday when a big rally of members will be held. Tentative plans for the coming season were discussed. A note of optimism prevailed throughout the meeting, and a most successful season is predicted.

VISION OF OLD

Ancient Diary Tells of Disaster to Come to Cariboo Gold Fields

An excerpt purporting to be from the diary of the late E. C. Stevens, father of Postmaster E. C. Stevens, of Skeena, has come to hand and makes interesting reading. It was written in 1886 at Gernanson Creek in the famous Manson Creek country. It reads as follows:

"As I lay in my chebang on the banks of Lightning, Lo, in the night I dreamed a dream and in the lone watch of the night I saw a vision and there appeared unto me a great beast having one head and two horns and the show of his countenance did make me afraid and fear laid hold of me for his organs of vision did shine like a brass nail in a nigger's heel and the intonation of his voice was like unto the sound of forty hydraulics playing on the blue mud and the concussion caused by his pedal extremities as he perambulated the earth was like unto the sound of a mighty horseman but his words were like unto the words of man for he spoke unto me and said: 'Be not afraid, it is I, the great beast by whose name the mines are called and by the name that they hear am I known. The far off mountain peak is my home and my dwelling is in the high places of the land. My eye hath seen thy poverty and my sleepless vision thy distress. I have seen thy labor as useless as Ashcroft portholes and thy reward as meagre as the reward of a defeated politician. I have seen thy boots as soles as a British Columbia gold commissioner's and thy pockets as empty as the head of a Cariboo County Court judge."

"Now, O Snigle Fritz, if the voice of instruction can teach thee or the words of understanding make thee wise, I will tell of what is yet to be. I will make known unto thee that which will surely come to pass. Behold the days come and the years draw nigh when the great Lowhie shall cease to pay and there shall be no dividends on Conklin's Gulch, when William Creek shall be played out and Antler deserted, when the miner shall say to his neighbor: 'Lend me a piece,' and the prospector shall say to the merchant, 'Trust me for grub.'

"Woe unto them in that day who put their trust in these town lots in Victoria and their hopes in the mines of the Cariboo. Woe unto them who have ease in New Westminster and trust in the mountains of British Columbia for in that day there shall be weeping in the houses of the painted ladies because the miner has ceased to come with his gold or the mines to yield their fine gold."

"Now, therefore, Snigle Fritz, if the voice of instruction can teach thee or the words of understanding make thee wise, get up and get out."

J. G. Binet, Mayo Territory, merchant, who has been on a brief business trip to Vancouver and elsewhere in the south, was a passenger aboard the Princess Louise this morning returning north.

OBJECTING TO POWER

Fisheries Interests Strenuously Object to Development of Meziaden Lake By Power Corporation

When the Northern B. C. Power Company, a subsidiary of the Power Corporation of Canada, applied to the Water Board in Vancouver recently for the right to develop power on the Meziaden River to serve the great mining industry of Northern British Columbia, it was met with opposition from the fisheries interests who stated that the project would destroy 75% of the fisheries.

George Kohl, of Montreal, and L. W. Patmore of Prince Rupert, appeared before the board for the power company.

In view of the conflict between the two industries, the Water Controller allowed the fisheries interests six weeks in which to file additional data.

The power project is a far-reaching one. It is designed to serve not only the town of Stewart but all the mines tributary to it which are now dependent on inadequate equipment. A dam would be installed on the Meziaden River to raise the Meziaden Lake 20 feet but the fisheries interests declared that not only would the salmon run be halted, but the spawning grounds would be destroyed.

The Federal and Provincial fisheries departments and the canning interests associated themselves with the objection.

IMPROVING RAILROAD

First Actual Betterment Work of Season on Local Line Is Commenced This Week

Although culvert filling and ditching work has been proceeding as usual during the summer, the Canadian National Railways started its first actual betterment work of the season on the local line this week when a work train and crew was sent out to fill in two small bridges this side of Terrace. The crew has more bridges east of Terrace to fill in as well as ditching and other general work and will remain on the line until the freeze-up.

The recently organized Vancouver Yukon Club has contributed $50 to the Blakeburn Relief Fund.

Sidewalk Bylaw Finally Passed

City Engineer Ordered to Undertake Asphaltic Work on Third Avenue

At a special meeting of the City Council last evening the Third Avenue asphaltic sidewalk bylaw was reconsidered and finally passed and the engineer ordered to undertake the work by day labor.

Alderman Pillsbury suggested that contracts be asked for the woodwork but as the job was a small one and largely experimental it was decided not to do this.

Richard Linton has arrived in the city from Vancouver to join the staff of the Rupert Motors. He is accompanied by Mrs. Linton.

Hand-to-Mouth Buying Is Passing in America

BY EDWINA NOLAN
Director of Home Service, General Electric Refrigeration Department

A NEW order, insofar as food purchases for the home are concerned, is coming into vogue.

Hand-to-mouth buying is passing. Housewives are not buying for one meal or for one day, but for two or three days, or longer.

It is true that many women still make daily trips to market, but more and more housekeepers are buying in larger quantities, thereby getting the benefit of price reduction by larger purchases, and at the same time making their marketing easier and facilitating the work of meal planning. They are enabled to do this through having facilities for the proper preservation of foodstuffs, which, of course, is essential. Modern electric refrigeration thus is a boon to the housewife.

Many housewives try to pare down food costs and they scheme and contrive to save a dollar here or a dollar there, but the saving seldom is appreciable, for the reason that they buy in small quantities. Saving of as much as 10 per cent can be made through larger purchases.

For instance, in buying meats the hand-to-mouth purchaser orders two, three or four chops, or a half pound of bacon, or a slice of ham. She pays the highest price per pound because it costs more to serve her and to wrap her purchase than it would if she bought in larger quantity. But the woman who buys in lots of five pounds or more, having the butcher cut the meat into chops, roast or stew meat, gets the lowest price. The same is true of fruits, vegetables, fats or salad ingredients. This housewife has planned her meals for more than one day and she knows that her food shopping is done for a while, because she has facilities for keeping her foodstuffs. Her trips to the market, too, are cut in half.

Known by name

In Grandmother's Day: "A dozen eggs, please... are you sure they're fresh?... the last weren't so good... and a half pound of cheese—mild... let me taste it please... no, that's too sharp—let me try some of that one... I guess that will do... and some bacon... not that—it's too fat... have you some leaner?... well I think I'll try it"... and so on, ad infinitum.

Today: "One dozen Silver Seal Eggs, please; a half pound of Blank's Mild Cheese; a pound of So-and-so's Boneless Bacon; a package of Gold Medal Seedless Raisins; that will be all, thank you"... and the shopping is finished!

Have you ever considered what advertised goods mean to you? How many actual shopping hours you save in a year just by knowing what you want before you go to buy?

And more than that—you know just what you're getting. You ask for things by brand name with confidence, for you're sure they'll be the same today as they were yesterday, or last month. Advertisers must maintain standard quality in their products; their advertisements must be your guarantee of reliability. They cannot afford to advertise poor or uneven merchandise.

Read the advertisements regularly. The time you spend in doing so will be regained many times over when it comes to buying. To say nothing of the satisfaction of having perfect confidence in what you purchase.

If you want anything, try a classified ad.
