VERDICT OF JURY

Capt. Burke Came to Death By Exposure and Starvation; Precautions Advocated

WHITEHORSE, Dec. 24:-Capt. E. J. A. Burke, who succumbed in the wilds of the upper Liard River after a forced landing with his plane, came to his death from starvation and exposure, according to the verdict of a coroner's jury here.

A rider which was added to the verdict recommended that. in future, planes in Northern British Columbia be equipped with sufficient food in concentrated form to last for a reasonable period of time as well as rifles and fifty rounds of ammunition and snowshoes for each member of the plane's crew. The jury also recommended that pilots be instructed in woodcraft.

The Spirit of Christmas

(Albert F. Gilmore in Christian Science Sentinel)

THROUGHOUT the world Christians are aware of a joyous spirit which pervades the at-I mosphere during the Christmas season. Something of the heaviness which so commonly accompanies human experience is thrown off and, for a time at least, joy takes the place of depression and the light of love and gratitude lightens the darkness of doubt and fear. Why this phenomenon? What is there in the Christmas season which works so great a change in the mental attitude of the Christian world? Answer to these questions involves a resume at least of the mission of Christ Jesus, a review of his life and works, an evaluation of his message to mankind.

Christians have long believed that Jesus was sent of God to expiate the sins of the world through His death on the cross; that He saves the sinning through the atonement: that acceptance of His teachings and disciple ship with Him lead to forgiveness of sin and the Kingdom of Heaven. To all Christians, whatever their denominational beliefs, Jesus is the blessed Saviour, the burden-bearer for all mankind, the object of deepest reverence and most profound worship. It is for these reasons that Christendom so generally celebrates the occasion of his birth . . . He showed the way which all must follow. Did he not declare in plainest terms, "No man cometh unto the Father, but by Me?"

Not alone by our words but by the thoughts we entertain and by our deeds, then, we manifest the spirit of Christmas. Thus, and only thus, do we properly express our gratitude to him who founded Christianity. We must keep his commandments and follow his example. What are they? To love our neighbor as ourselves; to refrain from unrighteous judgment; to heal the sick; to minister unto the needy; to destroy the erroneous beliefs which confront us; to exemplify in humility and meekness the Christ-spirit which He so perfectly exemplified. Thus do we pay the greatest homage to the Master; thus do we keep the spirit of Christmas. The essence of it all, expressed in the gratitude of good works, is Christian ministry.

This Province Has Confidence That Dominion Will Meet Unemployment Obligations

VICTORIA, Dec. 24:--Hon. W. A. McKenzie, minister of labor for British Columbia, declares that the statement of Senator Gideon Robertson, federal minister of labor, in Ottawa yesterday regarding unemployment monies for British Columbia might lead to some minunderstanding as reported.

"British Columbia," Mr. McKenzie said, "in order to meet the necessities of the occasion with as little delay as possible has been paying money out. The Dominion government allocated a certain sum. British Columbia has confidence in the word of the Dominion Government and has met expenditures as they have been incurred and approved. This means that, instead of waiting until vouchers had been forwarded to Ottawa for approval and being returned before making payment to those who are in need of it. prompt payment has been made.

"The government of British Columbia will later submit the vouchers to the Dominion and receive payment to the amount agreed

The World's First Christmas Gift

(By Florence B. Steiner)

There came to the world a wonderful gift, More precious by far than gold. It brought to the eager, waiting folk Good cheer and joys manifold.

Angels had speeded this glorious gift That means so much to us all, And agnels had guided it on its way Lest any disaster befall.

Then angels welcomed adoringly This gift that came richly blest. They stood and worshiped it where it lay In the starlight, nor dreamed of rest.

All down through the ages the glory remains Still glowing and never defiled, For God's first Christmas gift to the world Was a little Heaven-sent child.
