MARINE HOLOCAUST IN NEW YORK

Millions of Dollars Damage and Two Men Killed When Big Liner Is Burned at Dock in Manhattan

Most Disastrous Blaze in Thirty Years' Waterfront History of Eastern Port; Spontaneous Combustion?

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—Raked by a fierce fire which followed a series of explosions in her hold just after 349 passengers had been discharged, the North German Lloyd liner Muechen was wrecked at her pier here. The blaze was the most disastrous marine fire in the harbor in thirty years and claimed two lives and injured seven before it was brought under control. The damage to the ship is estimated at from $3,000,000 to $6,000,000. None of the passengers were injured.

The fire, of undetermined origin, was discovered in the after hold No. 6 in which was stored nitrate potash and varnish. Spontaneous combustion in this hold is believed to have been the cause of the conflagration.

Terrific blasts ripped up steamer's deck plates, twisted railings and funnels and littered the decks with debris. One man was killed when he was blown to pieces in the hold of a fireboat, was blown into the river.

Discussion in Legislature of Watt Case Between Government Representatives and Opposition

(Special to Daily News)

VICTORIA, Feb. 12.—The first chapter in the Norman Watt case was closed in the legislature yesterday, when the house unanimously accepted A. M. Manson's motion for a return of documents. Hon. R. L. Maitland presented the government's defense and Mr. Manson replied. Mr. Maitland accused the opposition of playing politics, charged that T. D. Pattullo had dismissed four returned soldiers without any complaint against them in 1926, and said that, while he made no suggestion of criminality, the fact that a regulation of the government had been violated by Mr. Watt gave the minister of finance no option but to discharge him, if only as a precedent.

VICTORIA, Feb. 12.—British Columbia public debt totalled $93,084,672 on January 1, 1930, as against $82,887,333 on August 20, 1928, or an increase of $10,197,334, according to figures filed in the legislature by Hon. Wm. Shelly, minister of finance.

C. N. FREIGHT MEN PAYING COAST VISIT

VANCOUVER, Feb. 11.—G. T. Pettigrew, assistant general freight traffic manager, Canadian National Railways, with headquarters at Montreal, accompanied by W. G. Manders, freight traffic manager, western region, arrived in Vancouver yesterday on a trip of inspection over the western lines of the company. This is Mr. Pettigrew's first visit to Vancouver and the Pacific coast.

"I am not only surprised, but particularly pleased at the tremendous growth and expansion of the west," stated Mr. Pettigrew on his arrival. "Throughout the western trip I have found business conditions very much better than I expected. Contrary to expectations, I found a fine spirit of optimism in western business circles and feel that 1930 will be a successful year."

"It is interesting to note that there has been a start made on the shipment of grain from the Pacific coast, a great deal of which is going to Europe. This means the opening up of this class of business from prairie points to the Pacific coast elevators. There should be much activity along this line between now and the spring," he said. Mr. Pettigrew and Mr. Manders will make a close inspection and study of traffic conditions on the western lines before returning east. They will visit Victoria in a few days.

VANCOUVER, Feb. 12.—Judgment was reserved in Supreme Court yesterday by Mr. Justice Denis Murphy on an application argued by Gordon Sloan on behalf of Solloway, Mills Co., Ltd., to have set aside a garnishee order obtained by William H. The plaintiff attached the company's funds in the Royal Bank of Canada here, with the result that the garnishee was paid into court $38,589.

Government Decides To Close Down on Assistance to Industries

VICTORIA, Feb. 12.—The British Columbia Department of Industries will register a net loss of $300,000 on total loans of $1,600,000 extended to industries. Col. D. B. Martyn, deputy minister of industries, informed the public accounts committee of the legislature yesterday. He said that the affairs of the department were being closed as rapidly as possible and the government did not propose to continue the policy of industrial loans. He said that the industries established by the loans had paid more in taxes than the amount lost.

Compulsory Health Insurance In British Columbia May Arise From Royal Commission Report

VICTORIA, Feb. 12.—British Columbia promises to be the first political division of North America to introduce compulsory insurance against sickness, losses of wage earners and other residents of limited income. This is indicated in a progress report tabled in the legislature yesterday by the Royal Commission empowered last April to deal with the subject. Further time for completion of the work was asked for in the report, one passage of which read: "Our investigations thus far convince us that there is justification and a general demand for the introduction in British Columbia of an economically sound and equitable public health insurance plan for the interests of the majority of provincial wage earners, of provincial industries and of the state."

Maitland Tells House Government's Reasons For Local Dismissal

Incident Again Featured Session of Legislature Yesterday; Manson Charges Political Partizanship

VICTORIA, Feb. 12.—Debate on the dismissal of Norman A. Watt from the position of government agent at Prince Rupert last year featured Tuesday's session of the legislature. Before the session ended, the House had sanctioned, without objection by the government, the first of three resolutions before it on the Watt issue calling for the production of documents in the case. Still confronting the House, however, are rival government and opposition resolutions. In the former a departmental enquiry is proposed and in the latter a legislative committee of investigation.

BOGUS BANK NOTE CHARGE

Baggage of Interior Prisoner Examined Here Said to Contain Weapons of Criminal

Having been turned over to a police officer by the conductor of a train, a man giving the name of Mikolj Martynowicz is under arrest at Prince George on a charge of being in possession of forged bank notes. The man, it is reported, attempted to pass a $10 bill on the conductor. The train official, suspecting it was a counterfeit, called the officer who was also riding on the train and the man was promptly placed in custody.

In connection with the same case, police officers visited the local railway baggage room yesterday afternoon and took possession of baggage believed to have been owned by the prisoner at Prince George. In the baggage were found two loaded pistols, percussion caps, cartridges and a quantity of nitro-glycerine.

The prisoner is believed to have been on his way from the prairies to Prince Rupert when intercepted.

Presented by Hon. R. L. Maitland, minister without portfolio, the government's defence for the dismissal of Watt was that, because of government allegations, if it was only a matter of principle, the minister of finance, Mr. Shelly, had no recourse but to discharge him. Mr. Maitland asserted that Mr. Pattullo could have secured all the information on the Watt case from Mr. Shelly without bringing the matter up in the House.

Fourth Worthless Check Complaint

Harry Taylor of Vancouver Committed For Trial on Two Counts

A fourth bad check complaint was made to the city police this morning in connection with the case of Harry Taylor of Vancouver, who was committed for trial by Magistrate McClymont yesterday on a false pretences charge. Today's reported check was for $10 and was cashed by Nick Christopher of the Commodore Cafe. A fifth worthless check is reported to have been cashed by Taylor but the police up to this morning had not definite information of this.

Taylor was committed for trial on two charges, one of having cashed a worthless $10 check at the Royal Hotel and another for $50 at the Royal Bank, having received an identification by trickery.

ORIENTAL QUESTION

Concluding an article on the Oriental question published in two parts in McLean's Magazine, under the title of "British Columbias Racial Problem," Charles E. Hope suggests what he thinks would be a solution. We are not endorsing that solution, but are passing it on for what it is worth, hoping it will tend to impress people with the idea that there may be some other way of dealing with it than total exclusion, which may mean exclusion of trade. Mr. Hope's suggestion follows:

In the past, the only cure which anybody could think was "total exclusion," and this is practically what has happened, so far as the Chinese are concerned. Total exclusion of all Asiatics is still advocated, but many people are beginning to realize that "silent penetration" has gone so far that even total exclusion would not now be a remedy for the economic ill from which we are suffering. It certainly would be of no avail in a national sense, owing to the high Japanese birthrate and the fact that ninety-five per cent of all the Japanese in Canada are in the one province.

A new school of thought is arising which says: "Why have exclusion of any kind for any Oriental race? Let them alone, but be registered on arrival with a six months permit. Admit none without possessing an agreed sum of money, or bank credit. Allow none to become permanent residents except by license. In the case of students, teachers, bankers or merchants exporting and importing manufactures and products of the two countries, or servants and employees of such licensed immigrants, register all now in the country and permit them to continue their present occupations under license, but reduce such licenses gradually from year to year. Negotiate treaties with Oriental countries so that these regulations would be reciprocal and apply to all Canadians in Japan and China or any other Oriental country."

Sympathetic Understanding

Oriental students entering Canadian universities should be encouraged, and even scholarships given with this end in view, as it is very desirable in the interests of both Canada, Japan and China, that we should get to know each other better, and understand each other's culture, ideals and ambitions.

A sympathetic understanding is the surest foundation for international friendship, but to allow the present situation to continue and develop as it is developing, is sure to breed international misunderstandings, jealousies and hatreds.

This new idea of "curtailment of occupation" instead of "total exclusion" has some merits. "Total exclusion" suggests some kind of inferiority complex in the excluded race, which quite naturally is resented. On the other hand, "curtailment of occupation" would be reciprocal, and it is also practically an admission, so far as Canadians are concerned, that we cannot stand up to the Oriental in competition along certain lines of activity. This might just as well be admitted anyway, as it is self-evident because we cannot compete if we are going to maintain our present standard of living and Western civilization.

Canada cannot afford to allow her Pacific province to become Orientalized, either now or at any time in the future. She must at all costs remain mistress of her own destiny.

MAROONS WIN OVER RANGERS

New Yorkers Outclassed in Hockey Last Night; Boston Snatches Victory From Toronto

MONTREAL, Feb. 12.—The Montreal Maroons outplayed the New York Rangers in a clean, fast National Hockey League game here last night, the final score of 5 to 2 being indicative of the merits of play. The stellar goal tending of Roach in the Rangers' net is all that saved the New Yorkers from an even worse defeat.

On the home ice before fifteen thousand fans, Boston Bruins came from behind to defeat the Toronto Maple Leafs in a brilliant overtime game, the score of which was 6 to 5.

DEMPSEY IN RING?

Local Friend Hears He May Attempt Come-back Should Phil Scott Beat Jack Sharkey

Barney Doran has received a big picture of Jack Dempsey, former world's heavyweight champion, in his fighting togs. Judging from the illustration, the Manassa Mauler seems to be in fine condition still despite his absence of a few years from the ring.

In a letter to Doran, Dempsey says that, should Phil Scott defeat Jack Sharkey in the Miami bout on February 28, he is going to prepare himself to re-enter the ring to meet the winner of the Scott-Schmeling bout, in order to keep the title in America.

Doran and Dempsey are old friends from the vaudeville circuits.

Needless Suffering

The next time a headache makes you stay at home—
Of some other ache or pain prevents your keeping an engagement—
Remember Aspirin! For there is scarcely any sort of pain it cannot relieve, and relieve promptly.
These tablets give real relief, or millions would not continue to take them. They are quite harmless, or the medical profession would not constantly prescribe them.
Don't be a martyr to unnecessary pain. To colds that might so easily be checked; neuritis, neuralgia; to those pains peculiar to women; or any suffering for which Aspirin is such an effective antidote.

You need not hesitate to take Aspirin. It is safe. It is always the same. It never depresses the heart, so use it as often as needed; but the cause of any pain can be treated only by a doctor.

NEWS!

AN ALERT newsboy, on a day when news was dull and sales were few, turned to the advertising pages for inspiration.

"Read about the big reduction sale," he shouted. "Fine quality tea sets at $3.50 and $4. Fancy china-ware sacrificed."

His stock of papers was sold out very quickly.

The case is, of course, exceptional. But it points to the fact that advertising is news—and important news. It is the news of daily life, the news that comes closest to you and those about you. It is news of the furniture you sit in, the books you read, the bonds you buy, the automobile you use, the flashlight, talking machine and food product that give you satisfaction. News that concerns you more vitally than anything else you read. News that is essential to you, because whether you purchase a piano or a pin, you want the best your money can buy.

—and you can always be sure you are getting the newest and best when you read the advertisements.

The advertisements contain pocketbook news—and that's important!

DO YOU SUFFER FROM CONSTIPATION?

Countless remedies are advertised for constipation. Many relieve for the moment but they are habit forming and must be continued. Others contain calomel and dangerous mineral drugs, which remain in the system, settle in the joints and cause aches and pains. Some are harsh purgatives which cramp and grip and leave a depressed after effect.

Avoid lubricating oils which only grease the intestines and encourage nature's machinery to become lazy.

A purely vegetable laxative such as Carter's Little Liver Pills, gently touches the liver, bile starts to flow, the bowels move gently, the intestines are thoroughly cleansed and constipation poisons pass away. DISCUSSION IN LEGISLATURE WATT CASE BETWEEN GOVERNMENT REPRESENTATIVES AND OPPOSITION.

not discuss coroner's fees with him at that time. On June 10 he gave a newspaper interview that Watt was dismissed for playing politics. On October 10 he asked the Prince Rupert council if coroner's fees had been paid to Watt on November 8. He asked Mr. Watt for a refund. Two ministers, including Premier Tolmie, today were specifically asked and failed to support Shelly's statement that he had discussed the fee question with the cabinet before going to Prince Rupert. Mr. Shelly today denied using the word "stole." Mr. Manson and other members said they heard it used but would leave the public to judge whether, even if the word was not used, the implication had not been broadcast through the country.

The Barge Case

Following the debate on the Watt case, Mr. Pattullo appealed to Premier Tolmie to clear the name of John L. Barge, 65-year-old sub-agent at Queen Charlotte City, who had been dismissed and charged with appropriating postage stamps and government gasoline. An investigation by William E. Fisher, a strong Prince Rupert Conservative, had held these charges to be proven. Mr. Pattullo said this enquiry cost $750 but need not have been held as Mr. Barge admitted all the facts alleged and explained the reasons for them. The government had not been defrauded and it was a shame for this fine old pioneer to be smirched. He was sure, if the Premier knew the facts, he would have record expunged. The debate on Mr. Pattullo's motion for a return of documents was adjourned without reply.

DISCUSSION IN LEGISLATURE WATT CASE BETWEEN GOVERNMENT REPRESENTATIVES AND OPPOSITION.

not discuss coroner's fees with him at that time. On June 10 he gave a newspaper interview that Watt was dismissed for playing politics. On October 10 he asked the Prince Rupert council if coroner's fees had been paid to Watt on November 8. He asked Mr. Watt for a refund. Two ministers, including Premier Tolmie, today were specifically asked and failed to support Shelly's statement that he had discussed the fee question with the cabinet before going to Prince Rupert. Mr. Shelly today denied using the word "stole." Mr. Manson and other members said they heard it used but would leave the public to judge whether, even if the word was not used, the implication had not been broadcast through the country.

The Barge Case

Following the debate on the Watt case, Mr. Pattullo appealed to Premier Tolmie to clear the name of John L. Barge, 65-year-old sub-agent at Queen Charlotte City, who had been dismissed and charged with appropriating postage stamps and government gasoline. An investigation by William E. Fisher, a strong Prince Rupert Conservative, had held these charges to be proven. Mr. Pattullo said this enquiry cost $750 but need not have been held as Mr. Barge admitted all the facts alleged and explained the reasons for them. The government had not been defrauded and it was a shame for this fine old pioneer to be smirched. He was sure, if the Premier knew the facts, he would have record expunged. The debate on Mr. Pattullo's motion for a return of documents was adjourned without reply.

INSTALMENT XXXVI.

"And," continued George, as he grew more impatient "Eileen has very serious tastes—a much older man will suit her better than some young jackanapes without either experience or savoir-faire. I can assure you, my dear Caterham, that I will cherish her exquisite youth; I will cherish it—er—it will be appreciated. To watch the exquisite flower of her mind unfolding—what a privilege. And to think that I never realized—"

Permission Granted

He shook his head deprecatingly, and Lord Caterham, finding his voice with difficulty, said blankly: "Do I understand you to mean—ah, my dear fellow, you can't want to marry Bundle?"

"You are surprised. I suppose to you it seems sudden. I have your permission, then, to speak to her?"

"Oh, yes," said Lord Caterham. "If it's permission you want—of course you can. But you know, Lomax, I really shouldn't if I were you. Just go home and think it over like a good fellow. Count twenty. All that sort of thing. Always a pity to propose and make a fool of yourself."

"I dare say you mean your advice kindly, Caterham, though I must confess that you put it somewhat strangely. But I have made up my mind to put my fortune to the test. I may see Eileen?"

"Oh, it's nothing to do with me," said Lord Caterham hastily; "Eileen settles her own affairs. If she came to me tomorrow and said she was going to marry the chauffeur, I shouldn't make any objections. It's the only way nowadays. Your children can make life damned unpleasant if you don't give in to them in every way." "I say to Bundle, 'Do as you like, but don't worry me,' and really, on the whole, she is amazingly good about it."

George stood up, intent upon his purpose.

"Where shall I find her?"

"Well, really, I don't know," said Lord Caterham vaguely. "She might be anywhere. As I told you just now, she's never in the same place for two minutes together. No repose."

"And I suppose Miss Wade will be with her? It seems to me, Caterham, that the best plan would be for you to ring the bell and ask your butler to find her, saying that I wish to speak to her for a few minutes."

Lord Caterham pressed the bell obediently.

"Oh, Tredwell," he said, when the bell was answered, "just find her ladyship, will you? Tell her Mr. Lomax is anxious to speak to her in the drawing room."

"Yes, my lord."

Tredwell withdrew. George seized Lord Caterham's hand and wring it warmly, much to the latter's discomfort.

"A thousand thanks," he said. "I hope soon to bring you good news." He hastened from the room.

"Well," said Lord Caterham. "Well!"

"Well!"

And after a long pause:

"What has Bundle been up to?" The door opened again.

"Mr. Eversisigh, my lord."

As Bill hastened in, Lord Caterham caught his hand and spoke earnestly.

Another Prospect

"Hullo, Bill. You're looking for Lomax, I suppose? Look here, if you want to do a good turn, hurry into the drawing room and tell him the Cabinet have called an immediate meeting, or get him away somehow. It's really not fair to let the poor devil make an ass of himself all for some silly girl's prank."

"I've not come for Coddgers," said Bill. "Didn't know he was here. It's Bundle I want to see. Is she anywhere about?"

"You can't see her," said Lord Caterham. "Not just now, at any rate. George is with her."

"Well—what does it matter?"

"I think it does rather," said Lord Caterham. "He's probably spluttering horribly at this minute, and we mustn't do anything to make it worse for him."

"But what is he saying?"

"Heaven knows," said Lord Caterham. "A lot of damned nonsense, anyway. Never say too much, that was always my motto. Grab the girl's hand and let events take their course."

Bill stared at him.

"But look here, sir, I'm in a hurry. I must talk to Bundle—"

"Well, I don't suppose you'll have to wait long. I must confess I'm rather glad to have you here with me—I suppose Lomax will insist on coming back and talking to me when it's all over."

"When what's all over? What is Lomax supposed to be doing?"

"Hush," said Lord Caterham. "He's proposing."

"Proposing? Proposing what?"

"Marriage. To Bundle. Don't ask me why. I suppose he's come to what they call the dangerous age. I can't explain it any other way."

"Proposing to Bundle? The dirty swine! At his age!"

Bill's face grew crimson.

"He says he's in the prime of life," said Lord Caterham cautiously.

"He? Why, he's decrepit—senile!"

Bill positively choked.

"Not at all," said Lord Caterham coldly. "He's five years younger than I am."

"Of all the damned cheek! Coddgers and Bundle! A girl like Bundle! You oughtn't to have allowed it."

"I never interfere," said Lord Caterham.

"You ought to have told him what you thought of him."

"Unfortunately modern civilization rules that out," said Lord Caterham regretfully. "In the Stone Age now—but, dear me, I suppose even then I shouldn't be able to do it—being a small man."

"Bundle! Bundle! Why, I've never dared to ask Bundle to marry me because I knew she'd only laugh. And George—a disgusting wind-bag, an unscrupulous, hypocritical old hot-air merchant—a foul, poisonous self advertiser—"

"Go on," said Lord Caterham. "I'm enjoying this."

"My God!" said Bill simply and with feeling. "Look here, I must be off."

STEWART

Howard Campbell, Duncan McLean, Mrs. M. Stewart and Mrs. F. Young have been elected to the board of management of the local United Church. It is desired to have a resident minister here and if such could be obtained, the congregation would soon be in a position to build a church, a building fund being already partly raised.

The Winter Sports Club, meeting last Wednesday evening at the home of the secretary, Miss Davies, decided to put on a concert in the near future.

On suggestion of H. W. M. Rolston, the Stewart Board of Trade, at a general meeting last week, decided to ask for the establishment of a Canadian immigration officer at Silver Heights in order to assure that no foreigners can illegally gain entry into the country and secure employment at Canadian mines in the Salmon River district.

Taking in a large quantity of supplies with them, Alex Pirie, Charles Samuel, J. McCabe, S. Lee and R. L. Sandy left last week on their return to Meziaden Lake, where they are employed by the Power Corporation of Canada, after spending over a week in town.

The local branch of the Canadian Legion, British Empire Service League, has elected officers for the year as follows: president, J. Scott; vice-president, M. Murphy; sergeant-at-arms, H. Wilkin; chaplain, Father Emil Leray; trustees, H. Bennett, J. Scott and

J. Morrice; executive, W. S. Orr, H. Stewart, H. D. Rochfort and C. Jackson; secretary, H. Applewhite; past president, H. C. Bennett.

A. H. Benkendorf, proprietor of the Hyder Dye Works, who went to Seattle recently to secure treatment for his foot in which gangrene had developed following frost bite, is now making good recovery. It was not necessary to amputate the member as was feared.

The Stewart Board of Trade is urging the establishment of a radio broadcasting station here.

Olah Matheson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Matheson, is making satisfactory progress towards recovery at the Prince Rupert General Hospital where she was operated upon last week for mastoids.

Becomes most popular girl in her set

—after learning why people were unfriendly to her

FLOCKS of eager young men seek Betty—now the most popular girl in her set.

And this is the girl who used to be so lonely, so friendless.

How did she do it? Overhearing a whispered conversation she found out that she, too, was guilty of unpardonable "B. O."

Betty knew what that meant—Body Odor! And then she found an easy way to overcome it, too. She's never lonesome now. She's a favorite with everyone.

"B.O." unpardonable—
yet easy to end

It's almost impossible for anyone with body odor to win popularity and success.

Of course, everyone perspires. Even on a cool day, our pores give off as much as a quart of odor-causing waste. We ourselves don't detect its unpleasantness—because our sense of smell becomes accustomed to a familiar odor. But to others, it is noticeable.

To avoid offending—just wash and bathe often with this delightful, purifying toilet soap—Lifebuoy. Its bland and abundant antiseptic lather purifies pores—giving bath-to-bath freshness and freedom from body odor.

Healthier complexions, too

This same mild, antiseptic Lifebuoy lather also purifies face pores—keeps complexions smooth and clear. Guards health—by removing germs. You'll learn to love Lifebuoy's pleasant clean scent, which tells you it purifies, and which vanishes as you rinse.

Use Lifebuoy a week and you'll use it for life. Get some today.
