Air Force Planes In Air Again Today United States Navy Machines Hop Off From Seattle

After having been held down for the last three or four days on account of rainy weather and lack of visibility, Flight Lieutenant Phinney and Flying Officer Dunlap hoped off at 12 noon today to resume their search for Robin Renahan, missing aviator, and party of two. Except for clouds hanging about some of the mountains, visibility was good.

The immediate intention of the Air Force flyers is to examine minutely some of the mountains and hills hereabouts on which it is considered possible that Renahan may have crashed. Weather was not particularly auspicious for such operations when they left but they were hoping that it would clear.

Word received by telegraph today was to the effect that two United States Navy amphibian planes took off from Seattle late this morning for Alert Bay en route to Ketchikan where they will join the Renahan search.

The Letter Box

ARMISTICE PARADE

Editor, Daily News:

I have read with a great deal of interest the various letters which have appeared of late with reference to the Armistice Parade. There is no doubt that Ex-Service was mistaken both with regard to the 'Reveille' sounded and his impression that a Naval Commander was on parade, and therefore should have been in charge of proceedings. Lieut. Haworth was the only Naval Officer on duty and of course he ranks junior to myself.

With regard to the various Unit Commanders saluting when the parade was dismissed, this really cannot be expected on an occasion of this nature where numbers of different organizations are concerned and military precision is impossible. The only salute I expected to receive was from Lieut. Haworth and this was given with the proverbial smartness of a Naval Officer. Personally, I feel that, although smartness is always desirable if possible, the spirit prompting this annual event is the thing that counts. The splendid attendance on a very inclement evening proved conclusively that the parents of this city have not forgotten those who served and died and are instilling their magnificent spirit into the minds of the children.

The criticism of Ex-Service I am sure was directed by the best motives, and I wish him luck. As far as I am concerned I shall always consider it an honor and a privilege to be asked to assist in any way whatsoever in functions of this nature.

G. P. TINKER.

THE FINAL WORD.

Editor, Daily News:

After reading about The Armistice parade in your Letter Box for over a week now, I am beginning to wonder whether those in The Parade went there to show the people of Prince Rupert, just how much they knew about military etiquette or whether they went there to remember those who did not return from the war.

Most of us have forgotten the red tape connected with the Army and Navy and I think we should all be forgiven for any little mistakes that may have been made on the night of the 11th.

Thanking you for your space, Mr. Editor, I am,

Yours truly,
H. W. MACEY.

EXPLAINS BYLAW NEED

Editor, Daily News:

The Council considers it necessary to explain the reasons for the submission of two bylaws, which are to be voted on by the ratepayers on November 28, 1930.

These bylaws are:

1. For the rough-grading of Eleventh Avenue from Alfred Street to the end of the graded road in McClymont Park.
2. For the construction of a main sewer in Section 5.

The reason for submitting these bylaws at the present time is in order to obtain this City's allotment of $16,250.00 from a vote passed by the Federal Parliament of $20,000,000 for the purpose of relief for unemployment.

The Council has decided that the only works which it could economically promote are the above mentioned, and entitle the City to the Government's contribution.

The City has also passed an initiative bylaw for the reconstruction and completion of the whole of Eleventh Avenue from Conrad Street to McClymont Park. Should this bylaw not be objected to by the owners abutting on the street, this policy will result in the entire re-surfacing and putting the street in first-class condition; the cost to the owners is estimated to be $76.00 per lot; so that the plan will not create a preferential treatment to the owners.

As regards the main sewer, the City Engineer considers this a necessary work, and one which under present conditions should be carried out.

The Council, in view of the above recited facts, strongly recommends the passing of these bylaws

District News

NEW HAZELTON

G. R. Ford of the provincial architect's department, Victoria, spent a couple of days here this week inspecting the new hospital preparatory to its being taken over from the contractor, E. H. Shockley.

The matter of incorporation is now being considered by the property owners of Hazelton. Information is being sought as to the advantages or disadvantages of incorporation under the Village Act.

The site has been prepared by voluntary labor for a skating rink at Hazelton between the new jail and the R. C. M. P. barracks or on the ground formerly occupied by the Hazelton Hotel. The advent of frosty weather is all that is awaited to make a good sheet of ice.

An Indian trapping in the north of this district recently was caught himself in a bear trap and unable to move until assistance arrived. The trap had been set several years previous and had, apparently, been forgotten about.

A daughter was born on Friday last to Rev. and Mrs. Bannister of Hazelton.

Grant Thorburn, formerly in the hotel business in Hazelton and Prince Rupert, passed away recently at his home at Resthaven near Sidney, Vancouver Island.

Miss Kathleen Mathers of Smithers arrived last week to enter the Hazelton Hospital for a nurses' training course.

Another carload of steel for the new bridge arrived on Sunday last. There are a number of cars yet to come.

Mr. Lund, who arrived recently from Vancouver to join the staff of the Royal Bank of Canada at Hazelton, is a patient in the Hazelton Hospital. Bud Gazeley of Smithers is relieving in the local branch during Mr. Lund's absence.

The local road crew wound up its operations for the season last Friday. Much time was spent this year in taking out sand and gravel for the new high level bridge and in building a new road to the bridge and gravelling it.

Miss Stella Maxwell left at the first of this week for her home in Toronto after having spent the past few months visiting here with her aunt, Mrs. York.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Dawson spent last week-end visiting in Smithers with friends.

The skating season has opened in New Hazelton but conditions will be better for enjoyment of the sport when the weather becomes a little colder.

F. M. Dockrill's car was almost demolished on the Smithers Hill at the latter part of last week. His radiator became frozen and he lit a torch underneath it to thaw it out. An explosion followed.

PRINCE GEORGE

Hon. R. W. Bruhn, minister of public works, was a visitor in Prince George this week. He stated that the government would vote $10,000 for relief work in this municipality and that there would be an increase of $15,000 in the allocation for Fort George electoral district.

Inspector William Spiller, formerly of Prince Rupert, has assumed his new duties here in command of the newly created "F" Division of the provincial police.

The board of school trustees, at a meeting Monday night, accepted the resignation of A. D. Noble as principal of the local High School effective at the end of this year. Mr. Noble declined an invitation to reconsider his decision.

Prince George girls' and mens' basketball teams visited Quesnel on Monday and returned with two visitors. The local girls won out over Quesnel 26 to 11 while Prince George men won 30 to 19.

The Prince George Choral Club has been reorganized with James Quayle, president, Mrs. George Abbott, vice-president, and Mrs. C. C.

Reid, secretary-treasurer, F. Knowlton, secretary, and Mrs. W. Fraser will be pianist.

A Ski and Toboggan Club has been organized in Prince George with officers as follows: honorary president, Mayor Patterson; president, Alex Moffatt; first vice-president, Ald. Edward Opie; second vice-president, Alex Wimbles; secretary, Irving Wilson; treasurer, Ald. F. D. Taylor; captain, Pete Sandnes; assistant captain, Frank Lee; executive, Irving Wilson, Levi Gtatham, George Prudente and Gordon Woods.

Women of all ages Attribute their Good Health To the use of this great restorative

It seems that to properly appreciate good health we first have to lose it.

And so it happens that many thousands of women are going about their daily tasks feeling tired and worn out and are wondering how they can win back their energy, vigor and attractiveness.

Many have not yet realized that their nervous systems have given out under the tremendous strain of modern life and that they can never be well and happy until the nervous energy is restored.

Tired, languid feelings give way to health and vigor

Happily the depleted nerves can, in most cases, be fully restored by a few weeks treatment of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Many thousands of women of all ages have proven this in their own experiences, and are today enthusiastically telling their friends the good news.

Others have not yet learned about Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and drag themselves about feeling tired out, lacking in appetite and energy, unable to rest or sleep making themselves unattractive by their irritability and gloomy views of life.

To all such comes this message of good cheer about Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, the great restorative of the nervous system, which has proven itself woman's friend for so many years.

It will bring joy and gladness to your life and through you to those with whom you associate.

WHEN CHILDREN CRY

CHILDREN often cry for no apparent reason. Many times we can't guess what is wrong. The crying may mean a touch of colic; the little bowels may be sluggish—or some other upset. It may mean any of the common little ailments that children suffer. To bring quick comfort to your little one, give a few drops of Castoria. Most upsets of children are soon soothed away by this pleasant-tasting remedy that children all love.

In five million modern homes, Castoria is a mother's first thought when a child is out of sorts, feverish, cross, doesn't eat right or sleep right. When bad breath, coated tongue, or languor tells of constipation. These five million wise mothers know that children should never be given stronger medicines meant for the fully developed systems of grown-ups. Castoria is gentle—safe, yet always thorough and effective for a child of any age. It may be given to the tiniest infant for any little upset. When buying, look for the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher on wrapper.

NEW METHOD EMIGRATION

Yorkshire Will Send Groups of Young Men to Embark on Mixed Farming

LONDON, Nov. 18:—Lord Middleton, who recently toured Canada as chairman of the Yorkshire Voluntary Migration Committee, says the scheme for a co-operative effort for settling young men in large groups to embark on genuine mixed farming was received in Canada with warm approval. One well known head of an organization which has settled some thousands of young immigrants on the land, said: "The scheme strikes exactly the right note; (a) proper supervision; (b) community life; (c) opportunity of ownership under the most favorable circumstances; (d) a chance of matrimony reasonably soon; (e) a right sort of farming rather than a gamble and land starvation."

"If the first tryout meets with the success that we confidently expect," said Lord Middleton, "then there is no reason why it should not be expanded to any extent. A substantial area in Canada would come in to cultivation, and we would have a first rate outlet for the best of the youth of our country whose prospects in England are moderate in the extreme."

"Let it not be thought that I am decrying existing schemes of land settlement. I am satisfied that the great majority of those whom we have sent out in the last few years are happy and prosperous, and in far better shape than they would have been at home." Lord Middleton expresses the opinion that the prestige of British Canada has risen considerably in Canada in recent years.

Commander J. B. Adams, and Mr. Charlesworth, a coal owner, both of whom have interested themselves in the scheme for emigrating boys from Yorkshire to Canada, made an interesting joint talk which was broadcast. Mr. Charlesworth paid a tribute to the type of Ontario farmer with whom most of the boys made their homes. In almost every case, he found the boys treated as members of the family, and being well taught practical farming.

He could not help reflecting on the physical improvement of North Country boys after sometimes only a few months of Canadian fare. He mentioned the case of a Yorkshire mining family who had previously lived in a dilapidated cottage, with two boys and a girl out of work, and the father on short time, and contrasted that life with the happy state in which they were living now at Ivanhoe, Ont. Another point mentioned was the interest shown by all sorts of Canadian people that the boys on their farms should save money, and so qualify for a government loan by the aid of which they could buy their own farms.

COWIE WINS IN SECOND OVER BILLY BAINES

Semi-Final Match Between Dutton and Holm Best on Boxing Card Last Night

Before a fair sized crowd last night in the Empress Social Club Arena, Mel Cowie, of Calgary, featherweight champion of Western Canada, knocked out Billy Baines of Ketchikan in the second round of a scheduled six-round main event. Cowie was too fast and clever for the native and managed to keep him off, with his left. During the first round Baines landed a few stiff lefts to the stomach but they did not seem to bother Cowie. At the bell in the second round Cowie rushed Baines and hammered him hard. He connected to the solar-plexus and then followed it up with lefts and rights to the head. Baines held on but when they broke from the clinch Cowie rushed him again and Baines went down for the count.

The semi-final between Babe Dutton of Prince Rupert and Kid Holm of Calgary was the best contest on the card. Holm won a popular decision. Holm rushed Dutton from the opening bell and it looked as though the fight would end right then. Dutton was on the ropes and Holm landed stiff lefts to the head, but Dutton weathered the storm. Throughout the fight Holm landed hard blows to the head but they seemed to have little effect. In the last round, however, Dutton turned around after a clinch and Holm landed a hard blow to the chin. He had Dutton spinning dizzily when the final bell rang.

Art Brown, who was supposed to have met Pat Clanton in the fourth fight of the evening failed to make an appearance.

Dan Healy won the call over Dan Bagon of Victoria in the third bout. Bagon's queer style of fighting had Healy worried and he was lucky to win. Rupert Fong made a strong comeback in the last round of his four-round go with Johnny Roma, to earn a draw. Fong seemed to be in bad shape in the fourth when he unleashed a series of lefts to Roma's head which staggered him. Marvin Rowe and Dynamite Eckert put on a lively three-round scrap in the curtain raiser which ended in a draw.

Douglas Frizzell refereed all the bouts, and Max Heilbronner and Henry Heilbronner were timekeepers.

ANOTHER VANCOUVER BOY HAD BAD NIGHT

DETROIT, Nov. 22.—Bucky Lawless of Syracuse, welterweight, easily outpointed Billy Townsend of Vancouver in a ten-round bout here last night. It was Lawless' fight all the way and Townsend did not have a show.

Island Boilers For Bushby Plant — Halibut Season Over and Catches Are Being Landed — Hunters Active

Capt. Jim Morrison and Capt. Reg. Green in command of Rupert Marine Products Ltd. power tugs with two large scows in tow left Prince Rupert at the first of this week for Skidegate where they will remove large oil tanks from the old Skidegate Inlet oil plant and deliver them to Prince Rupert where they are to be used in the Rupert Marine Products reduction plant. Capt. Morrison is being given a hearty welcome by many friends on the Queen Charlotte Islands of which he is an old timer, being well known there two decades ago when he was skipper first of the steam trawler Kingsway and later of the Triumph.

Capt. C. B. Haan has returned to his home port at Skidegate Inlet with his seineboat Beatrice H. after having spent the fall engaged in salmon packing in the Vancouver Island district. The skipper, who had a very rough passage north, reported seining in the south very poor this year with fish scarce and prices low.

A salmon marked with a metal tag by the United States Bureau of Fisheries in Alaskan waters was caught 1300 miles away in a Siberian stream only 44 days later. This probably establishes the salmon as the champion long distance traveler of all the fish clans.

Although the bag was not as large as might have been hoped for, the party of brave hunters which visited Knute Inlet, down the coast from here, with Skipper George Cook on the halibutter Teeny Milly at least have the satisfaction of knowing that no bag limit regulations were violated if that is any comfort. The hunters, despite the rain, had a very enjoyable trip, they report. They returned to port on Wednesday night with two deer, two geese and forty or so ducks. In the party, besides Capt. Cook, were Mil Nickerson, Alex Strachan, Eugene Nickerson, Herman Newell and Lawrence Newell.

To Morris Cove

Aboard the halibut boat Tern, Capt. Nels Peterson, a hunting party consisting of Jack Christiansen, Harry Menzie and Pete Jensen left on Thursday of this week for Morris Cove, down the coast from here. The nimrods are expected back on Monday. They were very hopeful of getting a good bag.

Season's Catch

The grand total of halibut landings at the port of Prince Rupert for the year 1930 as compiled in the Waterfront Whiffs was 24,638,000 pounds as compared with 27,807,250 pounds in 1929, 27,036,000 pounds in 1928 and 25,135,950 pounds in 1927. American landings for the season just ended totalled 18,192,500 pounds as against 20,354,500 pounds last year, and 19,554,700 pounds in 1928. Canadian fares this year reached a total of 6,445,500 pounds as compared with 7,452,750 pounds in 1929 and 7,481,300 pounds in 1928. These figures take into account at Prince Rupert and do not include offerings that may have come here but were not actually delivered to the port.

The fact that, by voluntary agreement of the fishermen, 1930 fishing operations did not start until March 1, or two weeks later than the statutory opening date of the season, no doubt, had its effect in lowering landings of the year. This however, could not be held accountable for the whole decrease of over three million pounds. It is evident, as well, that 1930 was not as good a fishing year as the two years immediately preceding it. The fish, whatever the reason may be, have been scarcer this year than last, it is admitted by all connected with the industry.

The 1930 season has also been far from satisfactory financially. Contrary to 1929, low prices have predominated during the year and whatever spasms of high prices there might have been did not compensate for this. Practically none of the boats or operators realized normal profits this year owing to the unsatisfactory price condition. It is hoped that the situation in this regard may adjust itself next year.

Happily enough, there have been few fatalities or serious casualties in the halibut fleet, either Canadian or American, this year. The most serious tragedy was that toward the end of August when the well known American schooner Orient was run down by a steamer in the Gulf of Georgia and sank, the skipper and nine members of the crew losing their lives. The tragedy, however, only fish that was actually landed was not attributable entirely to fishing operations as it happened almost a thousand miles away from the banks. The most serious mishaps for the Canadian fleet were the sinking of the boats Bingo and Inez H., the former on the west coast of Banks Island about the middle of March and the latter on the east coast of Graham Island about the end of March.

Weather conditions on the banks, taking it as a whole, were normal if not a little better. Scarcity of fish brought down the average poundage per trip of the boats.

The Seattle schooner Eagle landed the most fish of any single boat at Prince Rupert during the season, bringing in 301,000 in nine trips. The Majestic ran the Eagle a close second with 300,000 pounds in 11 trips. The Celtic, with 268,000 pounds in nine trips, was the third heaviest lander of fish. The Eastern Point and Reliance led the American fleet for number of fares landed at Prince Rupert during the season, having each brought in 15 catches, the former for a total of 49,100 and the latter, 134,500 pounds. The Alki, making the port of Prince Rupert 14 times during the season, brought in a total of 79,900 pounds.

Canadian Landings

The Vancouver halibut schooner, Takla, Capt. Chris Parkvold, being the largest boat of the halibut fleet, operating out of Prince Rupert, was again during the 1930 season, as it was in 1928 and 1929, high boat for the Canadian fleet in volume of landings. The Takla brought in 242,000 pounds in eight trips this season as compared with 311,000 pounds in 11 trips last year and 293,000 pounds in nine trips in 1928. The Prosperity A., Capt. A. C. Christiansen, with 227,000 pounds in 17 trips, jumped into second place this year. Last year second boat was Capt. Hans Underdahl's Covenant which this year was third with 180,500 pounds in 12 trips.

The greatest number of trips made by individual boats of the Canadian fleet this season was 17. The boats making this number of trips were the Capella for 160,500 pounds, the Tern for 116,800 pounds, the Tramp for 159,500 pounds and the Viking for 115,000 pounds.
