Napier, the New Zealand city which was rased by earthquake and fire (yesterday) is the family home of Mrs. F. N. Good, wife of the city engineer here. Her father and mother and two sisters and two brothers live there now but she has received no word from them. She also has a sister in Hastings, a town which is also badly affected by the earthquake.

HUNDREDS ARE DEAD

Damage in New Zealand Earthquake Disaster Will Run Into Twelve Million Dollars

SCENES OF HORROR

Napier Still in Flames While People Suffer Terrible Privations

WELLINGTON, N.Z., Feb. 4:—Latest reports of the earthquake, tidal wave and fire disaster which visited the city of Napier and district yesterday, indicate that the death list will amount to several hundred persons. Damage will run into at least $12,000,000, it is estimated.

The stricken district is just beginning to recover itself following the holocaust and reports of loss of life and damage are still far from being complete.

Twelve cabinet ministers have left the capital here for Napier and Hastings to give what assistance they can in the conducting of relief work. Premier Forbes stated today that no official statement could yet be made by the government regarding the calamity since the most of reports that so far have been received have been largely based on rumor.

Over one hundred bodies have already been taken out of the ruins at Napier and Hastings reports having recovered 33 bodies.

Napier was still in flames this morning. With the water lines of the city broken by the earthquake, firemen were pumping salt water from the sea.

Committees have been formed to ration provisions to the stricken people and squads of searchers are hunting through the fallen buildings for bodies.

Buildings on either sides of the streets at Napier and Hastings collapsed and tumbled down like so much cardboard. Many people met their doom among the falling walls and roofs. A hospital caved in after patients had started to arrive following the earthquake. The whole staff of a hotel was buried alive as the building toppled over. In Hastings, it is reported, there are only (Continued on Page 4)

Hal McGiverin, Former Member of Mackenzie King Government, Dead in Victoria at Age of 61

VICTORIA, Feb. 4:—Hon. Harold McGiverin K.C., well known Ottawa barrister and former member of the Mackenzie King government without portfolio, died here suddenly last night. He was 61 years of age. Preferring the climate of this coast to the east, the late Mr. McGiverin moved here a few years ago and since then had spent having practically retired from law practice.

Born in Hamilton, Ont., August 4, 1873, the son of the late Lieut. Col. William McGiverin, "Hal" McGiverin, as he was popularly and affectionately known, was educated in public and private schools and at Upper Canada College and Osgoode Hall. He was called to the bar of Ontario in 1893 and became a King's Counsel in 1922.

Elected to the House of Commons for Ottawa in 1908, the late Mr. McGiverin was chosen Liberal whip for Ontario in 1909. He was defeated at the elections of 1911 and 1917 when he ran in support of the late Sir Wilfrid Laurier but was re-elected when Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King assumed to power in 1921. On September 20, 1924, Mr. McGiverin was taken into the Mackenzie King cabinet as minister without portfolio but exactly a year later he retired from public life. He was a man of great personal popularity among political friends and opponents alike and, had he chosen, would no doubt have gone a long way in political life.

Dockrill Coal Mine Outstanding Achievement in Central Interior Revealing Great Possibilities

(By L. S. McGill, Smithers)

Without a visit to the mine itself no one can realize the progress made in the last five months at Frank M. Dockrill's coal mine on Goat Creek, near Telkwa. It is also a revelation of the great possibilities there existing for the development of a major industry which may employ many men when the coal market is available for large scale operation.

Since the beginning of September the old Hunter Basin road has been improved, widened, and surfaced to make it passable for trucks all the way to the mine, which is just seven miles from the railway station at Telkwa. Coal bunkers capable of holding 100 tons have been constructed, as well as bunk-houses, cook-house and dining room, stables, blacksmith shop and other necessary mine buildings. Two main slopes have been run for a distance of 150 and 100 feet respectively and many car-loads of local have been mined and shipped and sold in this short space of five months.

The coal outcroppings owned by the B. C. Coal and Land Company (Toronto and Hamilton capitalists who have now leased the property to Mr. Dockrill) have long been known. As far back as 1898 the splendid showing on the high cut bank along Goat Creek, where the mine is now situated, was discovered. It was early taken up by some of the same people who still hold the thirty-two sections comprising their property. In the course of the more than thirty years they have had it the total cost has been some where in the neighbourhood of a quarter of a million dollars, nearly all of which has gone into the treasury of this province in purchase price and taxes. No coal had been mined until Mr. Dockrill commenced operations this fall.

350 Foot Seam

The seam being mined appears for a length of 350 feet along a cut bank which rises 250 to 350 feet above the bed of Goat Creek at this point, with the coal only about thirty feet above the bottom. This makes an advantageous location for bringing the coal directly out of the mine mouth and to the bunkers without hoisting. The dip of the measures is into the hill at twenty degrees, ensuring that surface conditions will quickly be passed through as development proceeds. Moisture content of the coal will probably be much less as greater depth is gained. The seam now being mined has from one to three inches. Another seam, higher up the clay bank, which is probably the seam which has been mined on Telkwa Collieries, two miles lower down Goat Creek, has seven and a-half to eight feet of clean coal.

The Telkwa River and Goat

Creek coal areas have been found in some places to be faulted and broken up but no indication of this condition is to be found yet in the measures at Mr. Dockrill's workings. Proven coal extends 350 feet in length, 150 feet in width and averages 14 feet in thickness. At 36 cubic feet to the ton this gives an estimated proven tonnage of 20,000 tons all ready to mine and easily mined with the present equipment and facilities. This 14 foot seam gives an average analysis for the whole body of 62.87 per cent. fixed carbon, 29.32 per cent. volatile combustible matter, and 6.76 per cent. of ash, with 13,917 British thermal units. This gives indication of great heating quality of the coal and the low ash content is a most favorable feature. It has already been proven by those using it that it is the best coal for domestic and heating use that has yet been tried out in Bulkley Valley, either local or brought in. It makes a good steam coal but is not suitable for coking purposes.

Economical Operation

While the present operation is only a small one, planned to supply the local needs from Prince Rupert to Prince George, the possibilities seem to be almost without limit. The coal is mined so economically and in the event of a larger operation being warranted a railway to it could be built so easily that production cost should be as low as any coal mine in British Columbia. A coal-burning power plant could be built at the mine and by using this fuel could produce power much cheaper than any fuel oil plant and probably at less cost than even hydro-electric. If such a plant were built it could supply the mines and villages of the surrounding country with electric light and power at very much less than any plan attempted up to this time.

Since there seems a very large body of coal extending south, east and north for a long distance from the present workings there appears to be an ample supply of coal for a large operation. Mr. Dockrill himself and ten men constitute the present crew, but the larger scale production which is well within the bounds of possibility might readily give employment to hundreds or even thousands.

LECTURES IN MINING

Dr. Smitheringale Addresses Afternoon and Evening Gatherings

Dr. W. V. Smitheringale gave his second lecture yesterday afternoon to local prospectors and mining men. His subject was minerals, their composition and characteristics. He reminded his hearers that the prospector very often had to rely chiefly on the physical properties—hardness, color, crystal form, cleavage, lustre, weight, etc., for identification. Under the head of hardness he cited the order as talc, gypsum, calcite, fluorite, apatite, orthoclase, quartz, topaz, corundum and diamond. The speaker dealt for some time on this interesting topic. Continuing, he discoursed on the two great divisions, viz. igneous and sedimentary rock. Dealing with these he developed the idea of the so-called acid rocks and basic rocks. Under the head of sedimentaries, the conglomerates, sandstones, arkose, greywacke, grit, shale, slates, argillites and limestones were mentioned.

The rocks known as tuffs and preceias were also explained.

A number of questions were asked. Some of them were intended to bring out ideas in regard to different kinds of deposits and their possibilities at depth.

About thirty were present and the interest was evident.

Evening Lecture

The topic of Dr. Smitheringale in the evening lecture was erosion. He showed how pacer concentrations are largely due to the process of erosion. He referred to the two steps in the process, first, weathering and second, the transporting of materials of the earth's crust. Under the head of weathering, he referred to the power of frost to talus slopra, etc., to changes of temperature as they affect rocks and to resultant differential contraction and expansion, to the effects of vegetable and animal life, to the effect of resultant acid solvents, to rain, to the action of wind, to the scouring effect of ice, to chemical action, to the process of solution, to the effect of rain; to oxidation, to the process of hydration, to carbonation, to the mechanical and chemical processes as they produce the ever changing contour of our landscape.

Under the topic of transporting of rock, he referred to the tremendous tonnage of rock removed by waters either in solution or suspension. He dwelt on the process of sedimentation and the laying of strata of conglomerates, of sandstones and of shales. Reference was made to the resulting change in equilibrium of the earth's crust, to consequent eruptions, folding, faulting, etc.

Questions were brought up by Mr. Geigrich, head of the field force here for the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Co. which the speaker answered in an interesting and scientific manner. Explaining what he said might be termed the isotherms or levels of ore deposition. Geo. Casey asked certain questions in regard to the possibilities of known veins showing ore lenses at limited depths. Paul Tickoles, a prospector and fieldman, well known in the interior, drew attention to the lack of deeper exploration of ore bodies or veins referring to certain successful deep mining in Brazil, Spain and elsewhere. About thirty-five interested hearers were present.

GEN. BUTLER'S TRIAL IS SET

Court Martial Proceedings to Open on February 15 at Philadelphia Navy Yard

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 4:—Court martial proceedings against Major General Smedley Butler of the United States Marines arising out of statements which Butler is claimed to have made regarding Premier Mussolini of Italy will open at Philadelphia Navy Yard on February 15, it is announced.

The specific nature of the charges will not be made public until notice of them has been formally served upon General Butler.

C.N.R. steamer Prince George, Capt. H. Nedden, arrived in port at 12.30 noon today from Vancouver, Powell River and Ocean Falls and will sail at 4 o'clock this afternoon for Anyox and Stewart whence she will return here south-bound tomorrow evening.

LINOLEUM PEDDLERS

Editor, Daily News:—We wish to warn the people of the city about two peddlers who are canvassing from door to door for linoleum and misrepresenting the product they sell and also the company for which they are supposed to be working. And we take this means of advising prospective buyers of these products that they know just what they are buying—not linoleum with the canvas back but a much inferior product which would retail in the stores for 20c per square yard or less. Also these peddlers do not represent the Dominion Linoleum Company but are entirely on their own as peddlars and do not contribute anything to the taxes of the city except the peddlars license of $50 which they are compelled by law to take out before doing any business.

Thanking you for this space in your paper, we remain,
Yours truly,

OUTLET IS DISCUSSED

Vancouver Politicians Agree That Politics Should Be Brushed Aside in Fight

Politics should be pushed aside in an endeavor to complete a rail outlet from the Peace River country to Vancouver, it was agreed by provincial and Dominion parliamentary representatives of both parties of the southern city when they met the "On-to-the-Peace" Association at a private luncheon in Hotel Vancouver recently.

In a statement issued following the meeting it was said that all legislators present promised support to the project to build a line to connect with the existing P. G. E. Railway. It was considered advisable that immediate action be taken as the great amount of construction work involved would do much to alleviate unemployment conditions.

Those who attended the conference were: C. E. Tisdall, president of the "On-to-the-Peace" Association; Hon. Ian Mackenzie, M.P.; T.

MAYOR LEADS BOOZE RAIDS

Four Arrests Made on Bootlegging Charges in New Washington Town

WENATCHEE, Wash., Feb. 4:—Mayor A. A. Elmore headed a raid which was made in the new town of Rock Island on alleged bootlegging establishments. Four arrests on charges of selling liquor were made.

"If I had only known this would happen! So suddenly! So unexpectedly! And when everything looked so promising!

"And to think that time after time he wanted to increase his life insurance and I talked him out of it. How hard I worked against myself and against my own interests. I wanted a bigger house. I wanted luxuries! I wanted everything except the protection he was urging me to accept.

"I got my own way, of course. The Life Insurance was not taken. I robbed the children of their education, of my care, perhaps of their future success in life. I robbed myself of the children's companionship. For now I must leave them to earn the money needed to keep our little family together - - the money that Life Insurance would have given me if he had had his way - -

"- - and I talked him out of it."

It has been truly said that, "If every wife knew what every widow knows, every man would carry adequate Life Insurance".

And too often it is the children who must pay the penalty of the wife's prejudice.

Capt. Malcolm Campbell Says That His Car Went 260 Miles an Hour—Clocked 194

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Feb. 4.—In an exhibition run yesterday, Capt. Malcolm Campbell clocked at 194 miles per hour but he claimed that, just before entering the course he had attained a speed of 260 miles per hour. At that point, he said, the car slipped out of gear and he was forced to coast over the measured mile in neutral.

Capt. Campbell plans to make an official attempt today to break the existing record of 231 miles per hour which was established by the late Sir Henry Segrave on Daytona Beach course.

High wind today prevented Capt. Campbell from attempting to lower the world's automobile speed record.

Mrs. Renahan to Go to Ireland

Wife of Missing Aviator Plans on Going to Old Country to Live

Mrs. Robin Renahan, who returned to Vancouver last week after spending two weeks here and at Ketchikan in connection with the search for her aviator-husband, who has been missing since October 28 last, will remain in Vancouver for the next few months in the hope that the body of her husband may be found. She will then proceed with her three children to Ireland to take up future residence.

Mrs. Renahan visited Victoria at the first of this week to receive Pilot Ansel Eckmann's account of his unsuccessful aerial search for her husband.

three buildings remaining standing. It was a good sized town.

Panic conditions continue. Terrified people huddle on the beaches of Hawkes Bay. In some cases, food has been brought to them by boats. Roads and bridges were torn up by the terrific temblors yesterday.

700 May Be Dead

AUCKLAND, Feb. 4.—Reports reaching here today estimated that, by the time the final count is made, it may be found that there was a death toll of seven hundred in Napier alone as a result of the earthquake and tidal wave yesterday.

Vessels lying in the harbor at Napier were hurled hither and thither as the surface of the water became convulsed as shock followed shock. When the first huge wave receded, boats were left high and dry on the shore. When the wave came back, they were refloated.

Other reports reaching here stated that the Napier harbor had been seriously disturbed by the earthquake and tidal wave, shore line was practically obliterated and where formerly there is now dry land.

Tonight's Estimate

WELLINGTON, Feb. 4.—An estimate of three hundred dead

Hawkes Bay area, where Hastings and a score of other and villages were devastated by earthquake, was made in Napier tonight. The casualty roll grew today and some feared that number of dead might pass thousand mark.

Scenes of desolation were seen on every hand today, practically all buildings in Napier and Hastings either razed or uninhabitable. Every bank in Napier collapsed while two newspaper offices with modern equipment were totally destroyed.

When the roof of the technical school collapsed, a number of students and teachers were killed. Jellicoe ward of the Napier Hospital and nurses' home were wrecked and number of nurses who had come off night duty being rescued. The nurses showed great heroism rescuing patients from the burning building.

He Stole a Girl and Killed Her

He deposits her remains and runs. But a mark on the wheel says, "I did it."

He left his Mark—and it Convicted him

Walter Hickman, Los Angeles, kidnapped a girl from school. He killed her. Then he demanded $1,500 from her father for ransom. The father paid on a dark corner at night. Hickman drove away; the father found a dismembered body left by Hickman in a sack.

But Hickman's auto stalled, and on the steering wheel he found his finger prints.

In the Los Angeles police department those finger-prints were registered for a previous crime. So they knew the man, they had his picture, and they caught him up in Oregon in three days. Result—this despicable criminal was punished by death in the chair.

Be Careful of Your Marks

You are not a criminal, but you leave your finger-prints on every thing you touch. Those prints are germ-laden, and they all present danger.

You have gathered them by touching things which other hands have touched. You have clasped hands with other hands which, for instance, have checked a sneeze laden with cold germs. Life Extension Institute lists 27 diseases which may be conveyed in that way.

Touch a piece of bread, a candy, and you leave that dangerous imprint on it, unless your hands are clean. And a few germs multiply to millions quickly.

The safe way is to wash hands often, and always before a meal. Not with ordinary soap, but with Lifebuoy Soap, which contains a germicide. There is every proof

WILL RUSSIA DOMINATE THE WORLD?

Is a New Era Dawning?

Will Russia's great upheaval in economics fail or succeed? If it succeeds, how will it affect the civilized world? Every well-read person today is more than generally interested in these questions and it is timely that the inside story of the great Russian social and industrial upheaval has been photographed, as it were, by the mind of a man who has made it a personal study and then written it down for the world to read.

The Truth About Russia

Maurice Hindus, Russian by birth, North American by adoption, has studied economic Russia during the past seven years. He has set down facts dispassionately but with the eye of an artist. He takes you through the labyrinths of the great human problem today being dramatized in Russia. He tells you about the Russian, his property, family, morals; he gives you a picture of Russian peasantry, the proletariat and the intelligentsia; the Cossack, the Jew, Russian women—all the elements he has noted that play a role in Russia, greatest of all world dramas.

Read Maurice Hindus' exciting but none the less educative revelations in the Vancouver Sun commencing February 15th. Delivered by carrier or mail—50c a month. Write direct to the Vancouver Sun, Vancouver, B.C. or your local agent—Lee J. Dell, Box 281, Prince Rupert, B.C., Green 732.

New Building For Library Is Discussed

At the meeting of the Library Board last night, Frank Dibb presiding, J. J. Gillis suggested that this year the board should seriously consider the erection of a new building. He thought a frame building with stucco at an approximate cost of $12,000 would answer the purpose and a good site would be that alongside the City Hall on Fulton Street. If located there it might be heated from the present heating system in the City Hall.

Chairman Dibb said Mr. Gillis' remarks were timely. He thought the board should formulate a policy in regard to the building.

Mr. Basso-Bert said that a solid concrete building would cost very little if any more than a frame building and it would be absolutely fireproof.

The discussion was continued by Mr. Black and others after which it was decided to give it more consideration before appointing a committee to formulate plans.

Permanent officers for the year will be elected at the next meeting.

Account of Local Man's Wedding in South Recently

The following from the Vancouver Province describes the wedding last week of Miss Isabel Garland of Vancouver and Bert Fitzpatrick of this city:

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, 2255 West Fifteenth on January 26, when Isabel Katherine, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Garland, became the bride of Bertram M. Fitzpatrick, only son of Mrs. N. A. Regan of Seattle. Rev. George O. Fallis officiating.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of electric blue crepe and georgette. Her corsage bouquet was of pink roses and lily of the valley, and her only attendant was her sister Hazel, who was attired in a dress of apple green georgette. The groom was supported by J. Herbert, while F. A. Garland, brother of the bride, acted as usher. Little Miss Doris May Garland, in peach crepe and lace, opened the door for the guests, and during the signing of the register Mrs. E. Deane sang "O Promise Me."

After the ceremony a buffet supper was served, when a three-tiered wedding cake centred the table, which was decorated with pink and white streamers and silver vases filled with pink rosebuds and gipsophela. The rooms had been beautifully decorated for the occasion in a color scheme of pink and white, and during the reception the bridal party stood under an arch which suspended a floral bell. Mrs. F. M. Garland, mother of the bride, and Mrs. N. A. Regan, the groom's mother, assisted in receiving.

Mr. and Mrs. Fitzpatrick later left by boat for Prince Rupert, where they will reside.

CIRCULATION REACHES 7312

First Time Citizens Have Borrowed Seven Thousand Books in One Month

The report of the librarian at the meeting of the Library Board last night showed that the circulation of books during the month reached the total of 7312 made up of fiction, 4,537; duplicate pay, 195; non-fiction, 857; juvenile, 1,723.

New borrowers during January numbered 66 while 32 cards were cancelled.

Three books were received by gift and 93 by purchase while 17 were discarded leaving a total collection of 7,733 volumes.

Estimates for the year were passed, those present being Frank Dibb, chairman, V. Basso-Bert, H. F. Pullen, J. J. Gillis, T. B. Black and Miss Cruikshank.

The chairman formally welcomed Mr. Black to the board and spoke of the excellent work done there by his father.

Ripple Rock Is Condemned

Many Northern Skippers Testify in Inquiry in Vancouver Regarding Obstruction

Among well known northern skippers who testified last week at the Ripple Rock inquiry in Vancouver were Capt. Andrew Johnstone, Capt. Dan Donald, Commander B. L. Johnson, Capt. A. J. Edgecombe, Capt. F. T. Saunders and Capt. A. J. Gilbert. All urged the removal of the rock and strenuously protested at any move to build a structure on the rock such as piers or abutments for a bridge across Seymour Narrows.

PROTEST TO BE WIRED TO WASHINGTON

A protest to be made in Washington, D.C., against the proposed international treaty giving the members of the mixed commission power to regulate halibut fishing, the question of wire vs. web spillers, and a protest to be made against natives being given exclusive dockage rights in Thomas basin, figured at the noon meeting of the Ketchikan Chamber of Commerce recently. The meeting was held at the Knickerbocker Cafe.

A wire from the Anchorage Chamber of Commerce asking the Ketchikan chamber to protest against the raise of rates on the Alaska railway was referred to the executive committee for action.

The following wire was received from Dan Sutherland, delegate from Alaska in Congress:

"Regarding your letter of January 3 have discussed matter of trap spillers with bureau of fisheries and learn that they are considering modification of order. They will decide and inform trap holders before time arrives to purchase webbing for 1931 season."

The delegate also advised under date of January 7 by letter in relation to the international treaty, which seeks to give the international fisheries commission power to regulate halibut fishing, in which he said:

"I assure you of my strongest opposition to this treaty and that when the senate committee on foreign relations has its hearing, I shall be on hand to oppose its ratification."

The house bill No. 15065, granting certain rights to the natives in Thomas basin under the name of the Alaska Native Brotherhood was made a special order of business. After a full discussion it was decided to wire Delegate Sutherland, the public lands committee and the secretary of the interior protesting against the passage of the bill.
