Novel Suggestion For Benefit of North Made By Stewart News

In last week's issue we published the map and article by W. R. Smith setting out in detail the idea of re-vamping the Western Provinces of Canada, as to give Alberta and Saskatchewan access to the sea, made possible so far as Alberta is concerned by its taking over the northern third of British Columbia to which Southern B. C. could not reasonably object, as judging by the treatment that the financial and vested interests of the south have accorded the north. They do not want us except as a source of revenue, that enables them to have more money to spend for their own advantage.—Stewart News.

PRINCE RUPERT HAS CHANCE

The very fact that the reports on the Peace River outlet are said to be at variance with each other seems to indicate that Prince Rupert must have some advocates and that there is a possibility of this port being favorably considered. It is rather to be expected that the provincial government report will favor use of the P.G.E. whereas the railway reports may be opposed to such action. This is purely speculation and may not be correct.

We shall look forward with great interest to the tabling of the reports. Doubtless Ottawa despatches will bring some intimation of what is going on during the next week although they may not be able to give the correct news. It is a great opportunity for journalistic speculation and keen work on the part of newspaper reporters. There is bound to be a lot of talk at the capitol and this will be incorporated in the news reports.

EMPIRE DAY

There never has been a time in the history of the country when Canada has been as keen on Empire participation as she is today. The various underground movements toward uniting the two great North American countries seem to have ceased their activities. This does not indicate a lack of friendship toward United States but it does indicate a growing Canadian nationalism with the clear purpose of continuing indefinitely the Empire affiliation.

Empire Day gives an opportunity for those interested to explain the position of this country in the Empire and to educate young Canadians to take their place as citizens of Canada and participants in the greatest commonwealth movement the world has ever seen.

QUEBEC IS RATHER SLOW

Those who live in British Columbia cannot quite understand the mentality of Quebec in refusing to allow women to vote. At one time there were people who dreaded the effect of women's suffrage and prophesied all sorts of dire results should it be allowed. Now we wonder why there was so much fuss made about it. People carry on much as usual and nobody would think of returning to the former condition.

Quebec will pretty soon fall in line with the rest of the world so there is nothing to worry about.

AROUND PRINCE RUPERT

Unuk River Country Described—Platinum and Iridium in Omineca Country—Diadem at Usk Looking Good

The Unuk River, mineral deposits of which are again attracting considerable attention, starts in a low divide in Northern British Columbia. It is sixty miles in length and flows in a southerly direction, emptying into salt water at Burrows Bay which is an arm of Behm Canal, back of Ketchikan. The Unuk River is divided from Portland Canal on the east and the Stikine on the west by a high range of mountains, paralleling the river for its entire length. The watershed between the Unuk River and Portland Canal is divided by a glacier extending for 35 miles, parallel with the river. The waters from the east of this glacier flow into a tributary of Portland Canal. The waters of the west side flow into Unuk River, thus making it impossible to construct roads to connect Unuk River with Portland Canal. At the headwaters of the Unuk River there is a low divide and a natural pass leading into the Iskut River country, giving a direct outlet to Telegraph Creek and the Dease Lake country. The occurrence of placer gold near the headwaters of the Unuk River has been known for years. In the early eighties prospectors discovered gold-bearing gravels on Sulphide Creek and spent several seasons profitably extracting the gold by means of rockers and other primitive methods. The difficulties of transportation were, however, so great that they ultimately abandoned their claims. A primitive trail was built along the north bank of the river and access thereto was thus facilitated. The present wagon road follows approximately the blazes of this old trail. As a more direct way of getting into the region, Dr. Joseph T. Mandy, resident mining engineer, is now proposing that a trail or road be put in from Behm Canal through the Alaska Panhandle. Ketchikan people are also interesting themselves in the project.

Besides gold values, it is understood that George Snell of Vanderhoof, who has a group of claims in the Omineca country of sensational possibilities, got assays of 880 ounces of platinum and 80 ounces of iridium to the ton.

The American Copper Co. has run into a good face of ore in the drift tunnel on the Diadem group near Usk. This tunnel is now in the mountain a considerable distance and the company is very encouraged.

Hints For Home Gardeners

Peonies and Iris Invite Close Study

Make the Peonies and Iris your friends. Learn to know them by name.

All those who have had even the simplest kind of a garden know of the great pleasure to be derived from it. But until one has chosen some one species of flower on which to put extra attention, until he specializes, in fact, he does not get the full joy of gardening.

Peonies and Iris are two of the most interesting families of flowers for the specialist. They are hardy, they are easy to grow, there are hundreds of fine varieties already available for trial and study. Also, wonderful new varieties are being brought out every year to intrigue the fancier.

One of the nice things about gardening is that one is not bound by any set of fashions, color standards or combinations. If some popular variety does not appeal to you, you are not obliged to grow it. And if some other kind not so well known does provide just the shade of color or form of blossom that you like, you will be glad to see it and order it.

Make the Peonies and the Iris your friends, learn to know them by their names, and you will appreciate them all the more. Ask to see blooms of the Peonies Therese, Tourganelle, Philippe Rivole, Fuyajo, Keiway's Glorious, Monsieur Martin Cahuzac, and of the Iris Ambassador, Morning Splendor, Blue Velvet, Pink Satin, Pluie d'Or, King Karl, Candlelight. You will respond to their beauty, and will want to extend your acquaintance to many other varieties just as fine.

Pansies and Their Relatives

Now is the very latest to get seed of pansies planted, as well as seed of their relatives, the violas or tufted pansies, the horned pansies, viola cornuta, the graceful violets, viola gracilis, and last but not least the old fashioned Johnny-Jump-Ups of grandmother's gardens which are now once more offered for sale. The pansies and their relatives are all violets of sorts. The giant pansies which for so long held complete sway in the garden now find rivals in those of more modern size such as the violas or tufted pansies and the rock gardens have brought out a large number of small but beautiful violets.

These have been hybridized until we have a large field from which to select.

The huge flowered pansies with their velvety texture and remarkable range of coloring, however, will never be displaced in popular favor. Their tufted relatives, which are hardier and more perennial in the garden, now approach the old time pansy in size and the modern ones in coloring but lack the size of the modern giants. They make up, however, in their great freedom of bloom over a longer period than the true pansy.

In the violas, one of the finest is the hybrid Apricot Queen in beautiful shades of apricot and yellow. The Bosnian violet, viola bosniaca, a red purple, is a rock garden favorite, and the dark purple Lord Nelson is a favorite in the gracilis type. All are fine garden material.

Pansies and their relatives do not like hot weather. They require moisture and cool conditions to be at their best. They should be given shady quarters for most of the day and soil that is rich and moisture retentive. As soon as they germinate and make their first pair of true leaves they should be transplanted to their quarters to get settled and grow in the cool days of spring. The tufted pansies come into bloom about the same time as the pansies. They make long sprawling stems as the season advances which should be cut off. They will then send up a tuft of stems from the roots which will produce a fine crop of fall bloom. They are more rugged than the highly bred giant pansies and have a fine range of color.

Jersey Gem is one of the finest of the hybrid violas and deserves a place in every garden.

The Man With the Hoe Says—

Make a cold frame if you don't own one.

Get the garden cleared off early and ready for action as soon as the ground warms up.

Give the lawn a good dressing of fertilizer to be soaked into the soil by spring rains. Any balanced commercial fertilizer is good.

Try better peas this year than you planted last year. Some of the new types are great improvements.

Twenty Years Ago

In Prince Rupert

May 22, 1911

Word has been received here from Massett that a canoe has drifted ashore near Miller Creek on the east coast of Graham Island a drowning tragedy being suspected. The little craft was loaded with blankets, provisions, a pair of binoculars and some paper bearing Japanese characters.

General Superintendent W. C. C. Mehan returned to the city this morning from an inspection trip up the line as far as Mile 44. He reports that damage to the bridge at Mile 40, caused by ice, has been almost repaired.

Local constables, special constables and contractors have been subpoenaed to appear as witnesses in the strike trial which is to be held in Victoria.

Snapdragons in the Garden

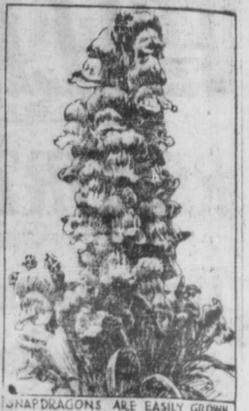

Snapdragons or, as they are becoming well known by their botanical name, antirrhinums, are one of the finest annuals for the garden. Grown as annuals because they bloom the first year, they are really perennials. They will survive the winter in the open ground in well-drained soil if kept dry over the winter. A box or heap of leaves will carry them through safely. The advantage of these older plants is that they come into bloom weeks earlier than seedlings and each plant furnishes a number of stems. A cold frame set over a bed of snapdragons will bring it through safely.

Snapdragon seed is fine and needs careful sowing not to get it planted so thickly that a large number of plants will not be destroyed in transplanting. It is best sown in cool quarters. It germinates rather slowly and at first growth is slow, the seed leaves enlarging before the true leaves get into action. After this slow start, however, it grows rapidly and spins up to a spike of bloom. It has become a popular greenhouse plant.

The tall giant types grown to one magnificent terminal spike are the kind used for greenhouse work. In the garden this type will do well but it cannot be expected to produce the magnificent spikes outdoors that it does under the controlled conditions of heat and moisture in a greenhouse.

A favorite method of growing the tall sorts is to let them grow until they have made twelve leaves. Then pinch out the top, tie firmly to a stake and the plant will branch freely and make an oval bush covered with short spikes of bloom. This method produces the greatest amount of bloom from the plant.

The half-dwarf sorts are usually considered best for garden use, allowed to develop naturally. The dwarf sorts are used for edging. The half-dwarf, tall and giant sorts have much the same range of color. Give the snaps a foot of room to develop in the tall sorts and six inches in the lower growing kinds to produce a mass of bloom. They like rich soil but will do well in poor soil. They want full sun to do their best. It is best to plant in beds of a single color for best grade effect.

SNAPDRAGONS ARE EASILY GROWN

and the snaps now come true to color from seed to a large percentage. They can be used effectively in color schemes, having everything but a blue range.

HOLLYHOCKS IN PRINCE RUPERT

 The question is sometimes asked if hollyhocks can be grown successfully in Prince Rupert. Some gardeners claim they cannot. We should like information on this subject. If they are successful, what varieties and under what conditions? Any amateur gardeners would like to know.

DISPLAY BY GUIDES

Interesting Evening at Rupert East Church Last Night

Last evening in the Rupert East United Church, a very interesting and effective display was staged by the Second Prince Rupert (Rupert East) Guide Company, assisted by the Cathedral Guides. Brown Owl Motte acted as chairman for the evening.

There were a number of dances, that were received with enthusiasm as well as fancy marching, drills, bandaging, signalling displays and campfire singing, to say nothing of the relay races, which took the form of a competition between the two companies. These caused a great deal of excitement among the girls as well as the onlookers. The Rupert East Guides were the winners.

The program was brought to a fitting close by a march past of all the guides, concluding with the presentation of service stars, medals, etc., by Mrs. E. Anderson, secretary of the Girl Guide Association. Service stars were presented to the following girls: P. L. Phedelia Stengal, P. S. Aletha Peachee, P. S. Lillian Croxford, and Guides Alice Gomez, Edna Strand, Ethel Moorehouse and Mickey Casey. P. L. Phedelia Stengal also received her Music Lover's badge.

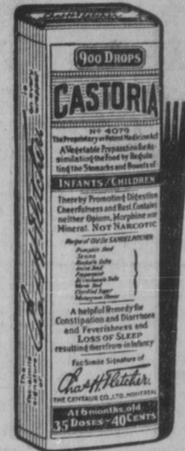

A competition was held among the Rupert East Guides for proficiency and deportment during the evening, silver medals being awarded to the two best guides. It was no easy matter to decide the winners, and at the close of the display C. J. Norrington, who acted as judge declared that there was very little to choose between Guide Alice Gomez and P. L. Phedelia Stengal, therefore the first medal was presented to Guide Alice Gomez and a special medal was awarded by Mr. Norrington for P. L. Phedelia Stengal.

NEIGHBORS TALK

"I am employed in a theatre and it is a problem to make ends meet, as I help support my mother and sisters. I like to dress well but haven't very much to spend on clothes. To give the appearance of variety to my slender wardrobe I change the color of a dress or stockings as soon as they become faded. I always use Diamond Dyes for the work—using them as dyes for dresses and as tints for stockings. I have always gotten such perfect results that our neighbors talk about the great number of new things I have."

"I learned about Diamond Dyes from our wardrobe mistress. She says she has tried all the dyes on the market but none do such splendid work and are so easy to use as Diamond Dyes. I understand they are the world's most popular dyes—and they deserve to be."

Can't PLAY Can't REST —child needs Castoria

WHEN a child is fretful and irritable, seems distressed and uncomfortable, can't play, can't sleep, it is a pretty sure sign that something is wrong. Right here is where Castoria fits into a child's scheme—the very purpose for which it was formulated years ago! A few drops and the condition which caused the trouble is righted; comfort quickly brings restful sleep.

Nothing can take the place of Castoria for children; it's perfectly harmless, yet always effective. For the protection of your wee one—for your own peace of mind—keep this old reliable preparation always on hand. But don't keep it just for emergencies; let it be an every-day aid. Its gentle action will ease and soothe the infant who cannot sleep. In more liberal doses it will effectively help to regulate sluggish bowels in an older child. All druggists have Castoria; it's genuine if you see Chas. H. Fletcher's signature and this name-plate:

WEATHER PROSPECT

Outlook For Holiday Rather Doubtful Yet Not Without Hope—Not So Good Today

While he was not unhopeful, the Weather Man this afternoon would not commit himself as to what kind of weather might be expected for the ensuing Sunday and Monday holiday. With the Ketchikan-Prince Rupert baseball series all ready to go, the promoters of the series as well as the fans generally, are looking anxiously toward this afternoon's grey skies.

The barometer at noon today stood at 29.60—somewhat low and showing a drop since noon yesterday when it was 29.74. However, the glass seemed to be steadying up and it was not impossible that it might start to rise before the day was out. The wind is in the unfavorable southeast direction.

COUNTRY BENEFITS

No Fortune But Pleasant Living There, Says Burns Lake Observer

We do not pretend that a lot of money can be made in agricultural pursuits in this region, or in any other part of the world so far as we know, with the present prevailing conditions; but we do believe that there is greater security here and more pleasant climatic conditions in the Lakes District than will be found in almost any other part of Canada, says the Burns Lake Observer. The country is abundantly watered. There are large quantities of good timber for building and all other purposes. Fuel costs nothing. The climate is mild. Crop failures are unknown. Land taxation is probably the lowest to be found anywhere on the North American continent. The government keeps up a high standard of education in the pioneering districts at practically no cost to the community.

The ticket was bought for him by his father in Durban. "I couldn't buy a ticket. I have not had money for bread," said Mr. Brooks. Mrs. Brooks, after a breakfast of tea and dry bread, was doing some washing. "The first thing I shall do with the money," she said, "will be to buy a new washing board. That's what I want more than anything. In the meantime I shall get on with the washing without the board."

PIPE TESTED by a RANCHER

"Some months ago I visited my ranch on the prairie. I travelled home as usual in the smoker. Delightfully relaxed after my outing in the wind and sun. I was enjoying my pipe immensely. The man who shared my seat suddenly placed his hand on my arm and said, 'What kind of tobacco is that you are using?' . . . I presume from the aroma that it is one of those imported brands.' 'Oh, no,' I replied, 'I used to be a smoker of imported tobaccos but this seems to suit me better . . . its name is Turret pipe tobacco and the price is moderate too. I have been a constant user of it (Turret pipe tobacco) for months.'"

Smokers are always on the lookout for a fragrant, cool, long-burning pipe tobacco and thousands have found it in Turret pipe tobacco. Try it today.

BRINGING UP FATHER

WORRY, anxiety and overexertion of the mental faculties very quickly exhaust the nerve force in the human body.

The vital organs are robbed of the nervous energy which is their motive power. The digestive fluids fail to flow. The muscles of the stomach become weak and sluggish. The digestive system fails to function properly.

This is nervous indigestion and relief comes only with the restoration of the nervous system by using such restorative treatment as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

With increasing nerve force the appetite is sharpened, digestion improves, the vital organs resume their natural functions and you feel yourself again.

EMPIRE DAY CELEBRATED

Seven Hundred Pupils Attended Capitol Theatre For Ceremonies Yesterday Afternoon

The Capitol Theatre was packed with seven hundred children yesterday afternoon when the Municipal Chapter of the Imperial Order, Daughters of the Empire, held its annual Empire Day demonstration for pupils of the public schools of the city. Mrs. John Manson, regent of Municipal Chapter, presided and was accompanied on the platform by other officers of the order.

The theatre program consisted of a patriotic address on Empire Day by Rev. W. D. Grant Hollingworth, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, as well as appropriate solos and choruses. The proceedings opened with a salute to the flag and the singing of "O Canada." Pupils of Borden Street School sang "Empire Day Hymn" and pupils of Booth Memorial School sang "Empire is Our Country." Mrs. H. N. Brocklesby sang "Land of Hope and Glory" and a chorus by pupils of Borden Street School, "Land of Our Birth," followed. Pupils of Booth Memorial School then sang as part songs, "Be Gone, Dull Care" and "The Homeland." After Mr. Hollingworth's address pupils of Booth Memorial School sang "Heart of Canada" followed by a song and tableau by pupils of Seal Cove School. There was a patriotic scarf dance by pupils of Booth Memorial School with a tableau and song by Borden Street School pupils following. Miss Betty Cameron being soloist. The title of the tableau was "The Union Jack" and others taking part were Minerva Brand, Peggy Steen, Eileen Yates, Louis Astori, Bobby Houston, Billy Williscroft and George Dybhavn. The proceedings closed with "God Save the King." A moving picture was then shown the children through the courtesy of Lieut. Col. S. P. McMordie D.S.O., theatre manager, who kindly loaned the theatre for the occasion.

Miss E. P. Grassie and Miss Edna Vickers were accompanists at the theatre. Miss Halliwell was responsible for the training of the pupils of Borden Street School with J. S. Wilson for Booth Memorial School. Miss Margaret Palmer was in charge of training of Seal Cove pupils.

American Landings Overtake Canadian—Repairs to Rio Bonita Completed—Dorothy Again Under I. F. C. Charter

The week of May 16-22 inclusive saw the record of American halibut landings at Prince Rupert for the season overtake Canadian. Ordinarily, American landings do exceed Canadian but this season they fell behind during the months of March and April when the United Pacific Fisheries was unloading the American boats at Ketchikan instead of at Prince Rupert. However, resumption of the old system of buying changed that and, yesterday, American landings at Prince Rupert for the season to date totalled 2,215,740 pounds while the Canadian total was 2,010,740 pounds. The grand total for the season to date stood at 4,226,480 pounds or a far cry from the 7,133,200 pounds at the same date last year.

During the week of May 16-22, prices for halibut at Prince Rupert struck a very low level which was consistent for the period during which most of the fish went into cold storage. The prevailing price for both Canadian and American fish was 7c and 4c while the high price for Canadian fish was 8c and 5c and for American, 9.4c and 4c.

Chicago Deal

With a view to cementing a closer relationship between Robbins Inc. of Chicago and the Rupert Fish Co. the latter a subsidiary of the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co. of Prince Rupert, the Rupert Fish Co. has acquired a fifty per cent interest in the Robbins Co. as from May 1. Charles C. Robbins continues as president of Robbins Inc. with L. F. Kedzie as vice-president. Both will give their full time to the service of the new ownership.

The British Columbia Fisherman, attractive trade journal of Vancouver, has celebrated its first birthday by changing its name to "Western Fisherman" by which title it will, henceforth, be known. In an editorial announcement, the journal says that, "owing to many requests from our sister prairie provinces, the publishers have decided to widen the scope of this publication by including Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba, along with British Columbia in our field of endeavor."

Over fifty-three per cent of the total sea fish catch of Canada in 1930 was taken in British Columbia.

The Fishermen's Co-operative Association of Vancouver has replaced Francis Millerd in the management of the concern with Gene Rousseau. Both Mr. Millerd and Mr. Rousseau are well known in Prince Rupert, the former having been once the head of the Somerville Cannery Co. while the latter was formerly manager of the Lowe Inlet cannery and other plants of the B. C. Packers. It is an open secret that a great deal of discord has existed in the association for some time, culminating in this drastic change. It is stated that many fishermen are speculating as to the wisdom of this action and its probable effect on the future of their associated activities. It is indeed predicted by some that it will not be long before the B. C. Co-operative breaks wide open. Hard times have, apparently, caused a good deal of discontent.

Halibut Depletion

The supply of halibut on the various fishing banks of the North Pacific Ocean has suffered steady depletion through commercial fishing and the only reason why the total catch has been kept up is that new grounds have been worked and fishing has become more intensive as the supply in the older grounds has diminished, says a report of the International Fisheries Commission.

Five hundred thousand pounds of frozen halibut were shipped from Seattle to the United Kingdom and France during the month of March.

C. E. Salter, manager of the Canadian Fishing Co.'s cannery at Haysport on the Skeena River, is back in Vancouver following a lengthy tour throughout the Dominion.

The possibility of a light salmon pack during the coming season is welcomed by Major J. A. Motherwell, chief supervisor of fisheries for this coast. "One season of light fishing," he says, "will do a great deal towards helping conservation of our fisheries resources. When less fish are taken from the waters, it means that there is a maximum escapement to the spawning grounds and, as a result, in three or four years, when in all probability world trade will be on the boom again, there will be a tremendous catch of mature fish available."

Angling Opens

The trout fishing season officially opens tomorrow, May 24, and, with fine weather apparently impending, quite a number of parties will go forth on their initial trips of the year over the ensuing double holiday. Water will be fairly high following the recent rains and that may have an adverse effect upon the fishing. However, hope rises eternal in the angler's breast and there will be few daunted by that or any other reason. We will probably have heard some good ones before we appear again.

When worm fishing, it is a mistaken idea that a big "gob" of worms is a good bait. It is not. It is unnatural. A single worm put on the hook properly is much more effective, and after all it is natural. The great thing to do is to leave the ends free, so that they impart a little action in the water.

Capt. Harry Calderwood of the Digby Island ferry boat Catherine B. is receiving congratulations on the arrival a few days ago of a daughter to bless his home. Harry already has two boys so there is great rejoicing at the arrival of a girl. Mother and babe are doing nicely, we are glad to report.

Repairs to the Vancouver yacht, Rio Bonita, which sustained considerable hull damage two weeks ago in going ashore near the entrance of Melakatta Passage, are expected to be completed this weekend. Contrary to other arrangements, it has now been decided that the New York party, whose voyage to Kodiak Island was interrupted when the Rio Bonita went ashore, will continue their trip north on that vessel. Members of the party are at present on a tour through the Lakes District in the central interior.

Dorothy Goes North

The large American halibut schooner Dorothy called here on Sunday being en route from Seattle to the Gulf of Alaska where it will be used in scientific work by the International Fisheries Commission to which it is again under charter. The vessel had on board several of the commission's scientists. She will be about a month in the north on the present trip and will make further voyages during the summer for the commission.

A report issued by the United States Bureau of Fisheries states that 181,000 pounds of American halibut was landed in Prince Rupert in March this year as against 1,354,000 pounds in the same month last year. Landings of Canadian vessels for the month amounted to 452,000 pounds as against 754,000 pounds.

Capt. Carl Hanson of Ketchikan was in port this week with his new fish packer Lief II, bringing down a load of salmon for the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co. The Lief II is relieving the Arthur H., which has gone halibutting.

Motorship Bellingham was in port Wednesday to load one hundred tons of frozen herring bait for the New England Fish Co. at Ketchikan. This makes 400 tons of bait that has been taken from here recently to Ketchikan.

BIG TRAIL GOOD FILM

"The Big Trail," week-end offering at the Capitol Theatre, which opened last night, is another covered wagon picture but it is sufficiently different to avoid repetition of "Cimarron" and "The Fighting Caravans." The picture contains plenty of action and scenic thrills. The drama has to do with the conquest of the west from the Indians by the early pioneers. John Wayne and Margaret Churchill are the prominent stars with El Brendel and Tully Marshall playing important supporting roles.
