TO REPAIR SHIPS HERE

Announcement Authorized by Pacific Coast Manager Here Night

Col. J. Carleton Brown, Pacific Coast manager of Canadian National Steamships, last night authorized the announcement that annual overhaul of the steamers Prince Rupert, Prince George, Prince Charles and Prince John will be carried out during the coming winter at the Prince Rupert dry dock.

The Prince George will be withdrawn from service next month and will be tied up here for the winter. The Prince Rupert, which received a complete reconditioning early in the summer following her sinking at Victoria, will carry out the winter service. She should need little in the way of annual overhaul.

The Prince Charles is already tied up here. Toward the end of the winter she will take over the Queen Charlotte Island run, while the Prince John comes here for her annual overhaul.

SIR HENRY IS PLEASSED

Appreciates Consideration of Local People for Not Making Great Demands

HAD GOOD VISIT

Was Able to Go Into Matters Needing Attention Here

In an interview before sailing last night on the steamer Prince Rupert for Vancouver after having spent the afternoon here in the course of an inspection tour to the Pacific Coast, Sir Henry Thornton, president of the Canadian National Railways, expressed appreciation of the consideration shown by the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce and citizens in refraining at this time of unusual conditions from asking for anything in the way of major capital expenditures. Sir Henry stated that he had spent a very pleasant visit here and had met all the people he could. Having spent a day and a half in the company of W. H. Tobey, divisional superintendent, while on the way here he had been able to go very fully into the local situation and requirements. In fact the inspection tour so far had proven very satisfactory.

Sir Henry, whose first stop on the coast was at Prince Rupert, expressed interest in the fact that Tom Moore, president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada and director of the Canadian National Railways, had been here just the day before.

Speaking of prospects generally, Sir Henry declared that, despite the present depression, he was very optimistic as to the future.

The railway president was interviewed while here by B. J. Mellish, president, and other Chamber of Commerce officials in regard to various local matters.

Sir Henry and members of his party were entertained during the evening by Mayor and Mrs. C. H. Orme. A visit was also paid by Sir Henry to Mrs. F. G. Dawson, widow of the former local director of the company.

The stay of the presidential party on the coast on this occasion will be a rather brief one. Arriving at Vancouver, Saturday afternoon, Sir Henry will proceed on Sunday to Victoria, whence they will return to Vancouver Monday and proceed East on Tuesday night.

Matters Taken Up

Among matters taken up with Sir Henry were the Peace River railway outlet and the load line for ships using this port.

A vigorous protest was voiced at the project to give the Peace River country an outlet by way of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway. The railway president reiterated previously expressed views that, when a Peace River outlet was built, the port of Prince Rupert would be logically bound to play an important part in connection with same. Sir Henry repeated also that should the Canadian Pacific Railway build the outlet, the Canadian National would afford its co-operation in the matter of running rights to Prince Rupert.

In the matter of discrimination against Prince Rupert as to the load line on ships loading here, Sir Henry promised that he would take the matter up with the minister of marine and urge that the discrimination be removed.

Before dining last evening with Mayor and Mrs. Orme, Sir Henry, with his son, James Thornton, and the latter's bride, a German heiress, had an interesting drive around the city.

On His Final Voyage

Sir Thomas Lipton, great British merchant and yachtsman, who died in London today.

Famous British Tea Merchant Yachtsman Passes After Chill

Was Eighty Years of Age—Spent $10,000,000 and Twenty Years of His Life Trying to Win America's Cup But Never Succeeded

LONDON, Oct. 2.—Sir Thomas Lipton, famous British merchant and sportsman, died tonight from a heart attack following illness from a chill which he contracted several weeks ago. The condition of Sir Thomas had been reported as critical on Wednesday, but last night there was a noticeable improvement and, therefore, his death today was very unexpected. Official bulletins had stated last night that he was well on the road to recovery.

Internationally famous yachtsman and tea merchant, Sir Thomas Lipton spent more than 20 years of his life and nearly $10,000,000 of his vast fortune vainly nursing a hobby to win back for England the America's Cup—a silver yachting trophy actually worth a hundred guineas.

In 1851 the little clipper yacht America, an unknown contender, crossed the Atlantic under her own sail, took her place on the starting line with a field of 18 illustrious "thoroughbreds" of the aristocracy and astounded every sportsman in Britain by hugging to herself the victory and the cup in a race around the Isle of Wight. Six years later the cup became an international trophy, dubbed "the cup of all nations."

Sir Thomas Lipton made four attempts to assuage this blow, which had carried gloom to the heart of every British yachting enthusiast from Queen's palace to peasant's cottage, but try as he might, spend as he would, the battered old mug never budged from its pedestal in the New York Yacht Club.

Just a year before the 20th century rolled around, Sir Thomas appeared off Sandy Hook with his yacht Shamrock I, first of the four famous Shamrock sisters that always proved a mite too slow for the American-built defenders.

Columbia was chosen by the New York Yacht Club to beat the Shamrock, and proved herself full worthy of the confidence.

Lipton's second challenge was issued and accepted in 1900, when Shamrock II was ready for the fray. The yacht Constitution was selected by the New York Yacht Club as defender, but owing to an accident to her mast during practice it was necessary to again bring out Columbia. Her performance was even better than in the first race, whereupon Sir Thomas, his optimism unshaken, began thinking of Shamrock III.

Invaded America

This craft was brought to America in 1903. Sir Thomas recruited an auxiliary fleet of 33 vessels to tender his beloved Shamrock, and employed more than 200 men to handle his miniature navy. The friendly invasion, said to have cost Lipton more than $1,000,000, was no more successful than its predecessors had been. The New York Yacht Club had built the Swift Reliance to defend its honored trophy, and the defense was perfect.

Nothing more was heard from Sir Thomas until 1907, when he again challenged but asked for a modification of the rules and measurement stipulations governing the previous contests. This challenge was declined by the Americans on seven grounds, chief of which was the contention that the cup stood pre-emi-

SAILORS ASHORE

Members of Coastguard Crew Unable to Return to Chelan After Rescue in Bering Sea

SEATTLE, Oct. 2.—Wireless messages intercepted here today said that one officer and a boat crew from the coastguard cutter Chelan with three men from the motor schooner Gladiator were ashore on Cape Sarichen on the northeast side of Unimak Pass in Bering Sea.

Apparently the coastguard crew had rescued the men from the wrecked schooner and were then unable to return to the Chelan.

MAN LOST OFF BOAT

Adolph Leland Swept Overboard From Schooner Clipper Off Shumigan Islands

Capt. John Smeland, who was in port this morning with his halibut schooner Clipper, reported having lost a man overboard during a heavy storm and high seas while hove to off the Shumigan Islands. The man lost was Adolph Leland, aged 40, of Seattle.

The same heavy seas which claimed Leland, who was not seen after being swept overboard, took seventeen skates of gear, chute and gutting table from the decks of the Clipper.

"Wild Bill" Hallahan Turns in Great Pitching Performance and Gives Win to the Cardinals

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 2.—Holding the world champion Philadelphia Athletics to three scattered little hits, "Wild Bill" Hallahan, pitching ace for the St. Louis Cardinals, hurled his Red Birds to a two to nil victory in the second game of the World Series before forty thousand howling home town fans today. The victory for the Cardinals put them on even footing again with the Mackmen in the great diamond classic. George Earnshaw, the Athletics great right-hander, was touched for six hits by the Cardinals and these, converted into runs, were ample to give the decision to St. Louis, even the hardest of the Athletic batsmen finding it very difficult to do anything with Hallahan's great hurling.

The first run came in the second inning on two hits. One run off one hit in the seventh completed

NEW CASH BASIS.

The world is gradually getting back to its old cash basis following a period of credit expansion unparalleled in history. It is difficult work, retrenching to a point where nothing is bought until it is paid for, but it is the ideal system and does away with many worries.

To take up the telephone and order, even groceries, with no thought as to how the bill is to be paid, is so seductive that it causes many a young couple to run into debt. It always looks simple to pay next month. The shortage of cash is in the present.

Under the old system which is being reintroduced as a new one, people are being induced to pay cash with the order or cash on delivery, and it is the best system of doing business the world has seen.

PUBLIC SPEAKING.

These are days when many people, men and women, undertake to speak in public. They are called upon to say something at the lodge, the Church society, or some other gathering and usually they say it very badly. The average man has first to apologize for not being prepared and then goes on to talk for five minutes before beginning to deal with his subject.

The person who has had some training in public speaking forgets the preliminaries. He plunges right into his subject and keeps to it until he has finished, and he always stops talking when he has finished instead of rambling on talking about nothing in particular.

Don'ts of public speaking include "Don't apologize," "Don't talk too long," "Don't cough and sputter," "Don't look down when you should be looking your audience in the eye," "Don't get up to speak unless you have something to say."

Vancouver Sun Expresses Its Views Regarding Completion of Pacific Great Eastern

(Vancouver Sun)
Premier Tominie has said to Premier Bennett: "I will build the P.G.E. to Prince George if you will build a line from Prince George to Peace River."
Ottawa replies: "I will pay half the cost of a line from Quesnel to Prince George." This, in effect, is a refusal to build beyond Prince George.

What Premier Bennett says in his own words is that there is so much money to be spent for relief in the West; he does not care whether it is wasted on duplicating existing highways or, in his opinion, wasted in completing the P.G.E. to Prince George. His attitude seems to make clear that he is not interested in developing Peace River.

This Bennett attitude confirms what Senator Robertson told Vancouver the other day when referring to the Peace River application made by the Provincial government to the Dominion. Senator Robertson said:

"I trust that nothing which I may say or do may interfere with the people of B. C. carrying on any project in which they may be interested, and in which the Federal government is interested only to the extent that it is called upon to bear the cost."

The inference which Senator Robertson gives is that only Vancouver and British Columbia are interested in Peace River; that Ottawa is interested only to the extent that it is called on to bear the cost.

What is our Ottawa government for, if not to develop Canada? Premier Bennett and his cabinet very properly expect the West and B. C. to exult with him in the ten million dollar increased business which the industrial East is feeling as a result of the Bennett tariff; but how much of that increase came to the West and B. C.? How much of that increase comes from the West and B. C.?

Does Ottawa not realize that Peace River is to this end of Canada what industries are to the East?

Herding Unemployed

A government whose vision and organizing and governing ability is confined to herding a country's unemployed into non-productive, expedient road work concentration camps, while a nation-building productive work like Peace River goes untouched, is incapable of governing and developing a big rich country like Canada. It should be told, so. Times like these call for plain speaking and quick action.

Spending three million dollars to complete the P.G.E. from Quesnel to Prince George serves no useful purpose so far as opening up Peace River is concerned.

There are now two back door entrances to Prince George, one via the C.N.R. from Vancouver, and one via the C.N.R. from Prince Rupert; both await the completion of the line from Prince George to Peace River. Why, in the meantime, spend three million dollars building a third back door to Prince George.

If the Bennett Government does not intend to develop and open up Peace River, there is no need for the P.G.E. to be built to Prince George.

There has already been too much financial and railway romancing in Canada. Vancouver wants and asks more of it; public bodies and business men should see that we are a party to no more of it.

The Peace River, as a nation-building national undertaking, capable of providing a future profitable mode of living for hundreds of thousands of Canadians, has merit—or it has not.

Premier Bennett and his colleagues have the vision and business judgment to see that merit or they have not.

Ottawa and all Canada should be wholeheartedly for Peace River development. Possibly Ottawa is not. Right now is the time to find out.

SMITHERS

The funeral of the late Howard Birnie, victim of a hunting accident near Hubert on Sunday afternoon, took place here on Tuesday afternoon. Contrary to the original belief, it is now thought that Birnie was shot by a stray bullet, probably from another hunter, and not from the rifle of his hunting companion, N. E. Blanchard, Smithers school principal. In addition to his mother, brother and sister, Mr. Birnie is survived by a young wife and son.

Two improved properties were purchased at the municipal tax sale here on Wednesday morning, the sum of $330 being realized as a result of their sale.

A large number of local unemployed started to work on Monday on the sustenance basis. Until such time as a comprehensive program has been drawn up, the men will be engaged on various small undertakings throughout the district with temporary camps established for their accommodation.

Acting on complaints received from both pedestrians and motorists Sergeant Andrew Fairbairn has informed the municipal council that it is the intention of the provincial police to take action against all violators of the municipal traffic bylaw.

The village council has made the final payment on a bank loan secured with the heavy program of 1930 and the only other obligation it now has to meet is one of $400 owing the provincial government as a portion of road maintenance.

Judge F. McB. Young in County Court granted an appeal of Robert Mackin, who was convicted in Hazelton by Stipendiary Magistrate Storkey on a charge of supplying liquor to Indians.

John Yorston, appraiser of the Dominion Farm Board, has been in his district for several days during the week. The Board has several loans to farmers in this district.

Douglas Lay, resident mining engineer for the northeastern mineral survey district with headquarters at Hazelton, has been spending several days during the past week here and in the district.

After spending a holiday at her home here, Miss Alice Gazeley returned to Hazelton last week to resume her nurses' training duties at the hospital there.

Mrs. Sidney Robinson has resigned as teacher at Telkwa and her place has been taken by the teacher at Woodmere. To fill the Woodmere vacancy Miss Giraud has been appointed.

PRINCE GEORGE

The provincial library service is not available for Prince George. Herbert Killam, superintendent under the Libraries Act, having advised the city council that the library commission cannot give service to incorporated areas.

V. R. Clerihue has resigned his position as city clerk and city treasurer here, effective October 31. The resignation was presented to the city council at its meeting Monday night and came as a complete surprise.

Harold M. Mathews of Smithers has solved the water problem in the Pineview district, having located a number of water veins over a large area there.

The city of Prince George stands to lose a considerable amount owing to the depreciation of the Canadian dollar on certain bond payments that have soon to be met in New York.

Fred C. Saunders, chairman of the local school board, returned to the city at the first of the week from Chilliwack where he attended the convention of the British Columbia School Trustees' Association.

The marriage took place here last Friday of Miss Ellen Nordick and Carl K. Newcomb. Rev. P. Connal officiated.

Miss Wanda Wall was united in marriage to Horace Edwin Damms here on Tuesday of this week. Rev. Peter Connal officiated at the nuptials.

The Department of Education having ruled that the school trustees must give full time instruction in the local public schools, more accommodation either by renting or by building a new school becomes necessary. The Canadian Legion building or the school basement are possible quarters for classes.

Albert Hornby was found guilty here last Saturday of assaulting a police officer in the person of Georg Keep and was fined $100 at the Supreme Court Assizes.

E. H. Burden returned here early this week after having spent several weeks in the Peace River district.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Johnson and son left this week for Ashcroft where they will take up future residence. Mr. Johnson having purchased the Ashcroft Hotel. He has been a resident of Prince George for 20 years.

SPORT CHAT

"We have never felt so confident of making a good showing at any Olympic Games than at present—less than a year before the games at Los Angeles next summer," said James I. Morkin, president of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada in a statement to the Canadian Press. The track and field team Canada sends to the great California meet will be strong, if not stronger, than any squad that has ever represented the Dominion, in Mr. Morkin's opinion. He foresaw the rise within the next few months of what are known as the "school-boy wonders" to Olympic heights, a mighty battle for track supremacy in Canada between the scholarly brigade and the fleet, experienced "old guard" and a better balanced Olympic team for 1928 than Canada has ever mustered. He pointed to the brilliant showing this month of youthful athletes in the Dominion championships at Winnipeg as indicating what might be expected of the teen-age contingent. Five titles were won by high school students whose chances of developing into Olympic material within a year was noted as "extremely bright" by the A.A.U. of C. president.

"The team we sent to the Olympic Games at Amsterdam in 1928 did amazingly well," said Mr. Morkin. "Canada made her mark that year in the world of international sport and we showed Europe we are capable of producing sprinters, runners and jumpers on a par with our hockey players and our scullers. Canada does not mean to slip behind now that she has won her place in the top bracket with larger nations. The United States, England, Germany, France and Finland have jointly ruled the track and field roost for as long as we intend to let them. I have every confidence that the team Canada sends to Los Angeles will retain and increase the prestige gained in 1928. Judging from performances in provincial and Canadian championships this year our prospects are perhaps brighter than they ever were. We have at least as much Olympic material as we had in 1927 and I believe by next spring some of the younger stars will have developed into outstanding men.

"The fact that schoolboys have been able this season to defeat some of our best trackmen does not indicate that the experienced athletes are going back. To my mind it shows that youth will be a big factor in making up our team next year and that competition for the available places on the squad will be sterner. The Olympic committee was far-sighted enough in 1928 to include several younger men on the overseas team. They have proved since the value of that experience by developing into really great runners and it is to them we will look, in no small measure, to provide a dependable groundwork for our new team. Canadians are taking more interest than ever before in our prospects on the track and field. We were inclined, until a few years ago, to think our only Olympic hopes were in hockey, but our athletes in the last decade have stepped up their power until they can match the world in almost any contest. Now Canadians are hoping that Percy Williams will recover from his injuries and become once more the world-beating sprinter he showed himself to be, and the doings of Jimmy Ball, Alex Wilson, Vic Pickard and a host of younger champions are of vital interest. The splendid performance at Amsterdam brought about the change to an extent and the holding at Hamilton last summer of the British Empire Games completed it. We will have a strong team next summer because Canadians will it and because the Dominion's interest has engendered a revival in track that has given us champions."

CARDINALS HAD NARROW ESCAPES FROM DEFEAT

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 2.—"Wild Bill" Hallahan, who whitewashed the Athletics in last year's world series, applied another coat today in the second game of the series when he turned the Mackmen back by a score of two-nothing, aided by Martin's batting and base running, and put his club back in the fight for the championship. Hallahan, allowing but three scattered hits, lived up to his name for being wild by passing eight batters.

The Cardinals, garnering six hits from George Earnshaw, managed to step out in front in the second when they scored their first tally. With one man gone, Martin, St. Louis centerfielder, who has collected five hits in the series so far, slashed out a double, stole third and scored on Wilson's sacrifice fly.

Earnshaw held his opponents safe until the seventh when Martin started again with a slashing single to left, stole second, reached third on Wilson's ground out, and crossed the plate on Gelbert's bunt.

Both pitchers worked well, Earnshaw striking out five, while Hallahan turned back seven.

The Athletics threatened to score in three innings, fifth, seventh and ninth, but two intentional passes of Williams, by Hallahan, who worked on Earnshaw, cut the rallies off.

In the ninth Fox and Dykes walked and Williams fanned on the third strike, but Moore, batting for Earnshaw, was safe at first when Wilson dropped the ball, filling the bases. Bottomley ended the game when he made a sensational running catch of Bishop's foul.

nently for speed and should be contested for by the fastest and most powerful vessels that could be built. Lipton sought to compete with a little 68-foot sloop, while American racing officials desired a 90-footer, holding that yacht racing, as every other sport, should progress.

Seven years of controversy followed during which Lipton made numerous attempts to procure a modification of the ruling. Finally in 1913 the New York officials agreed to compromise on a 75-foot vessel and Lipton issued a challenge under these conditions which was immediately accepted.

War began, however, before the dates agreed upon for the race, and Lipton's yachts, as well as those of the New York club, were hauled up on the ways for an indefinite period.

Then came the great contest of 1920 when Shamrock and Resolute were pitted against each other for what proved to be the most spectacular of all the international races since the British defeat in 1851. Sir Thomas actually won two of the five races, and had the satisfaction of seeing one of his Shamrocks cross the finish line a victor for the first time since he began racing in America.

In his optimism he ordered a special casket in which to carry the cup back to England, but the casket went back empty.

Aside from his long and ardent yachting career, the life of Sir Thomas Lipton was full of many interesting features, although the weather-beaten sportsman himself was reluctant to admit it.

Born at Glasgow

He was born May 10, 1851, at Glasgow, Scotland, of Irish parents. After a brief schooling, he was compelled to seek work to aid his parents in their struggle for a livelihood, but after two years as a messenger boy, the lure of bigger things got the better of him.

Stowing away on a steamer bound he knew not where, he landed in America and worked for a while on a rice plantation in South Carolina. Making his way to New York two years later, he found that fortune still kept ahead of him, and many a night he is said to have slept on park benches. Finding work at last, he soon had sufficient money to pay his way by steamer back to Glasgow, where he landed without funds but with a head full of American ideas.

Most of all he had been impressed with the American methods of advertising. Describing these in glowing terms to his parents, who had accumulated a few hundred dollars, he succeeded in persuading them to open a small provision store. He advertised boldly and expensively, considering the capital behind him, and soon made his name known throughout Glasgow.

The shop prospered beyond Lipton's most extravagant dreams, and soon another one was opened modelling exactly after the first. He entered the London field, then Liverpool and Manchester and at the height of his business career controlled more than 600 stores in England, America and other parts of the world.

In order to supply his retail stores more directly, Lipton bought a tea plantation in Ceylon, to which he later added a coffee plantation and then a cocoa grove. Soon his teas were known around the world.

In 1898 he converted his various enterprises into a huge limited liability company which relieved him of many business cares and permitted him to give more time to yachting. His fortune later was estimated at $50,000,000.

Self-Made Man

A self-made man, Lipton's first recognition from the British Royal Family came in 1897, when he was knighted for contributing £25,000 to supply the team drunk 300,000 poverty stricken Londoners, during the week of Queen Victoria's jubilee. In 1901 he was created Knight Commander of the Victorian Order, and a year later was made a Baronet. He was a personal friend of the late King Edward VII, who was a man after Lipton's own heart, and Sir Thomas often entertained the King on his steam yacht.

Physically Lipton was tall, straight and of medium build. His skin was whipped brown by the winds, his mustache and little goatee were full gray, his gait betrayed the roll of a sailor, and his blue eyes carried the half-roguish "winkle born of humor" of which Sir Thomas had a goodly share.

Lipton never married, and under English law his great estate probably will go to distant relatives. Once, in conversation with newspapermen, he named his two greatest regrets.

"The first and foremost is that I never have lifted the America's Cup, and the second is that I never have been married," he said.

Union steamer Cardena, Capt. Andrew Johnstone, is due in port at 6 o'clock this evening from the south and will sail at 12 midnight on her return to Vancouver and waypoints.

Next Game of World Series to Take Place on Monday in Philadelphia

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 2.—After the second game of the world series today between Philadelphia Athletics and St. Louis Cardinals, both teams will entrain for Philadelphia where the next three games, if it is necessary to play more than two more, will take place in Shibe Park, home of the Mackmen. As Saturday will be taken up in travelling and there is no Sunday baseball in Philadelphia, the series will not be resumed until Monday.

Should a fifth and sixth game be necessary, it will take place at St. Louis, with the teams returning to Philadelphia for the possible seventh.

John Noble Addresses Electrical Workers' Union and Trades and Labor Council Delegates

John Noble of Winnipeg, organizer of the Electrical Workers' Union for Western Canada, met and addressed members of the local union as well as delegates to the Prince Rupert Trades and Labor Council at a well-attended meeting last night in Carpenters' Union Hall.

Mr. Noble spoke of conditions generally in Western Canada and gave an outline of the recent convention in Vancouver of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, which he attended.

Thomas B. Black, president of the Electrical Workers' Union, was in the chair.

Mr. and Mrs. Noble, who have been here for the past two or three days following the Vancouver convention, will proceed east on tomorrow morning's train.

PUBLIC AWAITS NEW ATWATER KENT RADIOS

1932 Models Represent Greatest Value in History

Dealers are being deluged with inquiries regarding the new 1932 Atwater Kent radios. It is expected that the new models will be placed on display in prominent music stores within a few days.

The new Atwater Kent golden value models are considered to be the finest radio, from the standpoint of value, quality and performance that have ever been produced.

The world trusts Atwater Kent radio and exhaustive experiments and tests were conducted before the new sets were permitted to be released to the public.

The new season's offerings of the famous Atwater Kent laboratories bring with them the greatest values in the firm's history. There are nine models in the new range which will give a wide selection to satisfy every purse and preference. Every one is a magnificent super-heterodyne, with all the most advanced refinements and improvements. New cabinet designs of arresting beauty and grace are finished in genuine No-Mar. A touch of the finger will bring up the glorious golden tone from deep to brilliant, without distortion. This is made possible by the automatic volume control, which is an important feature of the new sets.

It will be necessary to see and hear these marvellous new radios to fully appreciate them. Taken in all, it is small wonder that the Atwater Kent golden value range of radios are being eagerly awaited.

A new electric cooking device punches a hole through the centre of a long roll and toasts it before the insertion of any desired sandwich filling.
