VALUE OF PLANE HERE FULLY DEMONSTRATED

A short flight yesterday in the plane of the Northern B. C. Airways enabled a local prospector to get information in the mountains near here which, otherwise, it might have taken several days with considerable effort to obtain. The man had heard of a quartz vein in the mountains near Warke Canal. After a short time of scouting around in the plane, it was ascertained that there was no such a vein.

RED CEDAR IS CHOSEN

City Council Decides on It Instead of Fir—Order Given

Deciding to use interior red cedar of first grade instead of southern fir for the work, the city council last night gave an order to the Intervalley Lumber and Supply Co. of Terrace to supply lumber to be used in construction of wooden sidewalks on the north side of Second Avenue between McBride Street and Sixth Street. Tenders of the Intervalley company and the Vanarsdol Lumber Co. were identical at $978.74 and decision to accept the former's was based on the fact that its mill at Terrace was closer to the city. However, the order is subject to Intervalley's ability to make immediate delivery. If it cannot do so, the order will go to Vanarsdol which is prepared to deliver dry lumber at once.

The list of tenders offered the council was as follows.

- Cedar Intervalley Lumber & Supply Co., $978.74. Hadland & Sons, Oona River, $1230 plus handling. Billmor Spruce Mills Ltd., $1192.84 plus handling. Vanarsdol Lumber Co., $978.74. WORKLESS DISCUSSED

Federal Minister of Labor Invited Here—Increased Road Construction Sought

It was decided by the city council last night, at the suggestion of Ald. Macdonald, to invite Senator Gideon Robertson, federal minister of labor, during his forthcoming tour of the Dominion to observe unemployment conditions, to include Prince Rupert in his itinerary so he may acquaint himself personally with the local situation.

Another suggestion the council approved of was one from Ald. Rudderham to the effect that Hon. W. H. Bruhn, provincial minister of public works, on a forthcoming visit to Prince Rupert, be urged to have at least $100,000 additional appropriated for construction of the Prince Rupert-Terrace highway. This would help to relieve unemployment here and would also aid in promoting real progress on the road construction. He thought this might fairly be asked in view of the fact that the government was definitely committed to completion of the road.

Mayor C. H. Orme told of correspondence he had with the minister on this subject. The mayor also mentioned that the district engineer expected to have a substantial vote for this work this year.

PIONEER IS DEAD

William Sibbald, Resident Here for Twenty Years, Succumbs Suddenly to Heart Failure

Sudden death last evening removed William Sibbald, one of the city's best known pioneer citizens. He was found dead in the small house which he occupied on Ninth Avenue East. His death is believed to have been due to heart failure. He had been complaining for a few days of pains about the heart.

Born near Manchester, England, about seventy years ago, the late Mr. Sibbald came to this continent as a young man and for a time was engaged in wool buying around Boston. Later he went into the building trade. After the San Francisco earthquake a quarter of a century ago, he came to that city. At least twenty years ago, he came to Prince Rupert and for a while was located on the Queen Charlotte Islands where he did work for the public works department. He was prominent in the affairs of the Conservative party here.

Relatives are understood to survive in the Old Country. A brother visited here several years ago. Funeral arrangements are in the hands of the B. C. Undertakers.

WRATH IS INCURRED

Salmon Fishermen Censure Daily News For Printing News of Fish Arrivals During "Strike"

Local salmon fishermen, at a largely attended meeting last night in the city council chamber, discussed the present market situation for fish and, in the course of the proceedings, passed a unanimous vote of censure upon the Daily News for publishing "apparent negative propaganda against the fishermen." It was announced this morning that this vote of censure had been passed unanimously by the meeting. An item, headed "Much Salmon Moving In," published in this paper yesterday, was the immediate cause for the vote of censure. This item merely enumerated a list of fishpackers that had arrived with fish over the week-end. In view of their being "on strike" for higher prices, the fishermen, apparently, resented this information being published.

The meeting, apparently, in making the overt move, took no heed of the fact that the Daily News has consistently in the past lent its columns at great length to the exposition of the views of fishermen both from public meetings and through correspondence from their representatives.

In view of the vote of censure which had been passed, officials of the fishermen declined to announce what else, if anything, had transpired at the meeting.

VICTORIA, June 9:—Charles Olsen of Prince Rupert lost his appeal before the British Columbia Court of Appeals yesterday against a sentence of four year's imprisonment imposed upon him by Mr. Justice W. A. Macdonald at the recent session of the Supreme Court Assizes in Prince Rupert on a jury conviction of having slashed Warren Scott with a razor. The prisoner declared that he was intoxicated at the time and had been insulted but he was confident that he had not wounded with intent to maim as charged.

Charges made by the prisoner that he had been exhibited in public shackled as a bad man will be made the subject of special police inquiry, the court was assured by A. M. Johnson K.C., crown prosecutor.

VETERAN SKIPPER IS DEAD

Capt. John McLeod, Well Known Here in Early Days, Passes in Victoria

VICTORIA, June 9—Capt. John McLeod, colorful skipper of sealing ships and the early days of Pacific coastal trade, is dead here at the age of 81. He passed away in hospital where he had been a patient for the past few weeks.

Probably no coastal steamship master was better known in Prince Rupert and more esteemed in his day than was the veteran Capt. John McLeod. News of his death will come as a shock to many friends here. As master of the steamer Princess May during railway construction days here and later, Capt. McLeod brought many people for the first time to Prince Rupert on that fine old steamer. The late Capt. John McLeod was a cousin of the late Capt. John C. McLeod, father of Jarvis H. McLeod, collector of customs here, who died last December in Vancouver.

TO HAVE AIRPORT

City Council Gives Northern B. C. Airways Permission to Occupy Waterfront

While not going so far as this time as to grant a lease which might tie the property up, the city council last night, after considerable discussion of the matter, decided to give the Northern B. C. Airways permission to occupy waterfront belonging to the city at the foot of McBride Street where it is planned to place a hangar and establish a float and public airport.

Lease of the property was asked for in a letter from S. D. Johnston, secretary of the Northern B. C. Airways, who outlined the uses to which it was proposed to put the property.

It was proposed to give the company a lease at a nominal payment of $1 per month with suitable reservations as to notice. Ald. Rudderham questioned if it would be fair to other lease holders to let this property go at $1 per month.

Finally, it was decided to merely give the permission to occupy the waterfront, the matter of lease and terms to be given further investigation.

The view was expressed that there was little likelihood of the city establishing floats on the property for the next year or so at least.

BUY FROM PESSIMISTS

The real barrier today to business revival is the psychological power which expresses itself in a fear complex in the minds of thousands of business leaders, many more thousands of business men, not qualified as leaders, and millions of working men and women, who, without courageous generalship to lead the way, naturally lack the necessary confidence to buy even many necessities of life.

In other words, the temporary breakdown of the business structure of 1929 has developed hundreds of thousands of cripples who are prostrated by fear of the present and a lack of confidence in the future.

To quote from Mr. Casson's article: "The Good Book tells the story of a cripple whose weakness was more in his mind than in his legs. The Master said to him, 'Rise, take up thy bed and walk.' He rose and walked and carried his bed."

No one expects business men to perform miracles, but we can put our feet on the ground and try to walk, thereby setting an excellent example to the millions who will join in the march of prosperity.

And quoting again from Mr. Casson's article: "The way to create a fortune is to buy from pessimists. Pay your money and take the risk."

"Frick started his career by buying coke ovens in the slump of 1873. Carnegie made $300,000,000 by buying steel plants in slumps. Hundreds of fortunes have been made by buying from pessimists. Ye Gods! What a chance there is at the moment! In five years from now most American business men will belong to the 'I-wish-I-had-Club.' Then, it will be too late to buy a dollar for thirty cents. The opportunities will be gone."

"When an American business man is depressed, the slump is in his head. There is nothing serious to prevent him from making money if he thinks he will. When fear rules the will nothing can be done, but when a man casts fear out of his mind the world becomes his oyster."

"To lose a bit of money is nothing, but to lose hope—to lose nerve and ambition—that is what makes men cripples. This silly depression has gone on long enough. Get rid of it. It is inside of you. Rise and walk!"

SPENT DAY AT JASPER

Canadian Manufacturers Association Delegates Had Enjoyable Sunday

JASPER PARK, June 8.—Almost a hundred delegates and their wives returning from the annual convention of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association at Vancouver, spent Sunday amid the beauties of Canada's finest national park.

Upon their arrival at Jasper Saturday evening, the party proceeded to the lodge and, early Sunday the majority turned out to try their skill on the sporty 18-hole golf course which adjoins the rustic hotel.

The delegates left on Sunday for Edmonton on the special train operated by the Canadian National Railways. A feature of this train, which has been their home for almost two weeks, is the comfortable new lounge car with its shower bath, its miniature gymnasium complete with exercising machines, its barber shop and its soda fountain.

Yesterday the party was entertained in Edmonton. In the afternoon the visitors were received at Government House and in the evening were tendered a dinner in the Macdonald Hotel by the Alberta government and the city of Edmonton.

MILLIONAIRES WIN FROM ELKS

Antlered Herd Goes Into Cellar as Result of 5-2 Defeat in Last Night's Game

LEAGUE STANDING table with columns W, L, Pct. for Sons of Canada, Millionaires, and Elks.

Andy Donald's Millionaires took the measure of the Elks in last night's baseball fixture at Acropolis Hill by a score of 5-2 and went into undisputed possession of second place while the Lodgemen were relegated to the cellar.

The Millionaires were out to win from the start and deserved full credit for the victory. Jack Nelson pitched for them and allowed but one hit, but was wild walking five men and hitting one. Chenoski was on the slab for the losers, his second game in two days, and allowed five hits and hit three batters.

Farquhar opened the Millionaires first time at bat with a triple to centre which Stone misjudged. Nelson singled. Then Chenoski hit two batters in a row and it looked bad for him. He tightened up, however, and struck out Bury, and then Pete Holmes hit into a double play.

Elks had one bad inning in the third when they allowed three runs to score on five errors and no hits. Farquhar was safe when Stone misjudged his fly. Nelson hit to Skinner who heaved the ball away out into right field in trying to catch Farquhar at second and both runners scored. Zarelli went out. Wendie was safe on Clapp's error.

Redman made a triple in the sixth. He was caught at third when Comadina hit straight to Chenoski. Smith singled. Both runners advanced on a passed ball and then Comadina scored on another one. A Mitchell threw the ball wild to Chenoski and Smith tried to score on the play but was caught in a close decision at the plate.

Elks got one run in the second when Burrows walked. He went to third when Comadina missed the throw to catch him stealing and scored on a passed ball. Their other tally came in the fifth. Alex Mitchell walked and pilfered second. He went to third on a passed ball and scored when Comadina missed Stone's bounder.

Famous Movie Comedian Had Good Hunting at Jasper

JASPER PARK, June 9.—Hal E. Roach, producer of some of the funniest pictures turned out of movie land, and his hunting companion, C. B. Brunson, also of Hollywood, left Jasper Park Lodge this morning by airplane on the return trip over the wild mountain fastnesses stretching between here and Los Angeles.

The Californians have completed a successful invasion of the haunts of North America's most dangerous big game, the grizzly bear. Roach's eleven hour daylight hop from Los Angeles to Jasper National Park, piloted by Capt. J. B. Dickson was a history-making flight. The fliers will not attempt to make the entire journey to Los Angeles today, however, but will spend tonight in Reno, Nevada. A stop will be made for fuel at Spokane, Washington.

The two sportsmen bagged two bear pieces during their hunt in the Moose River district on the west slope of Mount Robson. Monarch of the Canadian Rockies, Roach shot a grizzly and a black bear while Brunson was rewarded with a pair of fine grizzlies. Game of all kinds were seen in Mount Robson district with caribou, moose, mountain goats and deer in abundance.

Our City of Prince Rupert

Nestling at the foot of a mountain and partly surrounded by a beautiful sheltered inlet; blest by nature in having a lovely situation, picturesque foliage, a mild and equitable climate, invigorating and delightful, the city of Prince Rupert is destined to become one of the beauty spots of the world.

Providence has been kind in granting to the district wealth in its natural resources far exceeding that of the storied Indies or the Eldorado of the early discoverers. Fish, timber, mineral and water power abound and invite the attention of the men who would use them.

Added to these advantages the district has the nucleus of an intelligent, a warm hearted and virile population such as have been noted in the past for their deeds of valor and achievement.

The city has all the essentials to human happiness and development. It has splendid schools, a well stocked and efficiently administered public library and churches to suit all tastes. Its theatre is up to the moment in equipment providing entertainment of the very best. Almost every organization of a social and fraternal nature on the continent is here.

The largest fresh halibut market in the world is located in the city and also the largest fish cold storage plant in the world. It is in the centre of the most prolific salmon fisheries in Canada. Pulpwood is going to waste waiting only organization of capital to establish large industries right here. Finally there is plenty of power being provided by the most up to date plant in the country.

The harbor is not only beautiful—it is one of the finest in the world, large, well protected and easy of access, near the ocean and five hundred miles nearer the Orient than any other on the North Pacific Coast having transcontinental service.

What more could be asked? It is because of these things that the Daily News has time and again stated its belief that Prince Rupert has greater prospects of advancement than any other city of its size on the continent of North America.

Like most other places Prince Rupert is today feeling the pinch of depression caused by difficulties in marketing fish and other products; by the slackness of the lumber market and by the slump in mining caused by the low price of silver. All local basic industries are affected adversely but that is a passing phase. Local people are showing faith in the city by taking advantage of the low cost of building. Visitors declare times are better in Prince Rupert than in most other cities. Times have changed and all must adjust themselves to the changed conditions, but for those who stay on the job and work with brain and hand the future looks rosy.

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

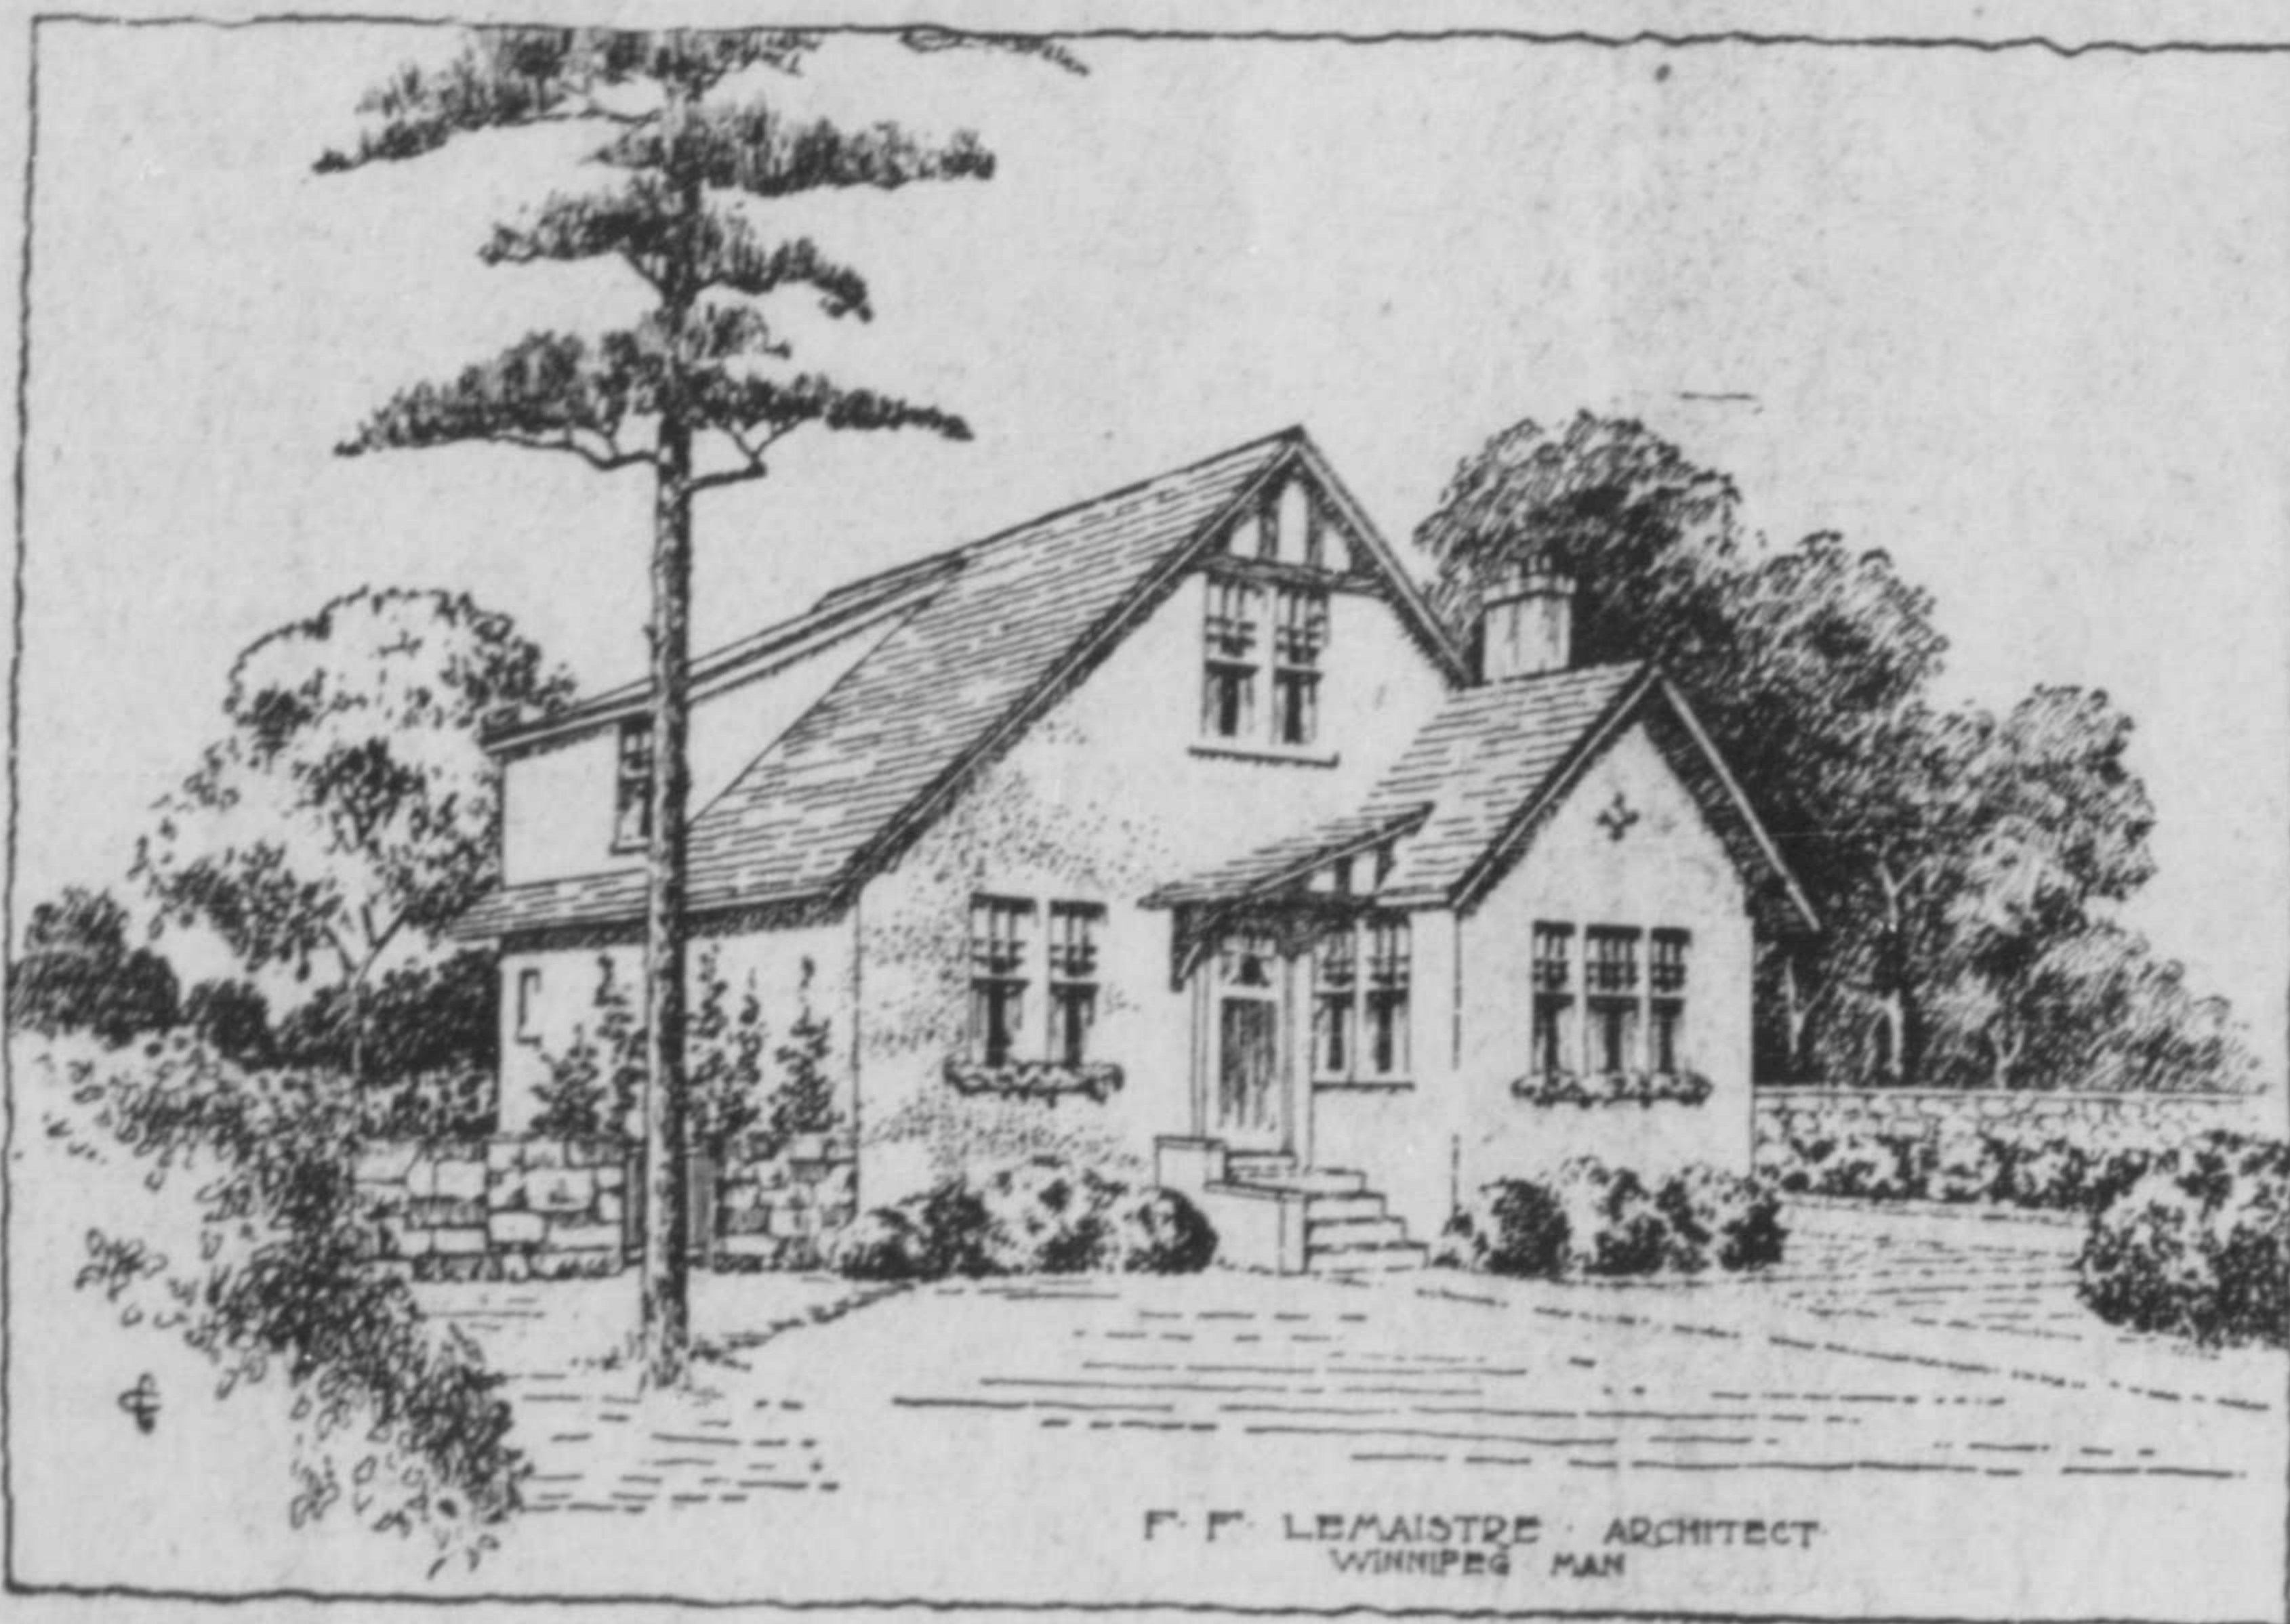

Repairing and Painting Now

Prince Rupert has not been backward this year in painting and repairing buildings with the result that the city looks prosperous. This has a good psychological effect. A few people have felt they were unable to get the work done this year while others who could not afford to employ a painter have done the work themselves.

We suggest that this is a good time to get repairing and painting done. Paint should be put on in fine weather. There are plenty of men able and willing to do the job and the owner of the building will feel much better when he sees the property acclaiming to all and sundry that Prince Rupert is still in good spirits, keeping up her end in the effort to bring about better conditions.

Paint up, mend the fence, nail on the boards, brighten up the sign, beautify the garden. Let the whole world know that we are still in the running. That is the spirit that wins.

EXTREMELY HOMELIKE

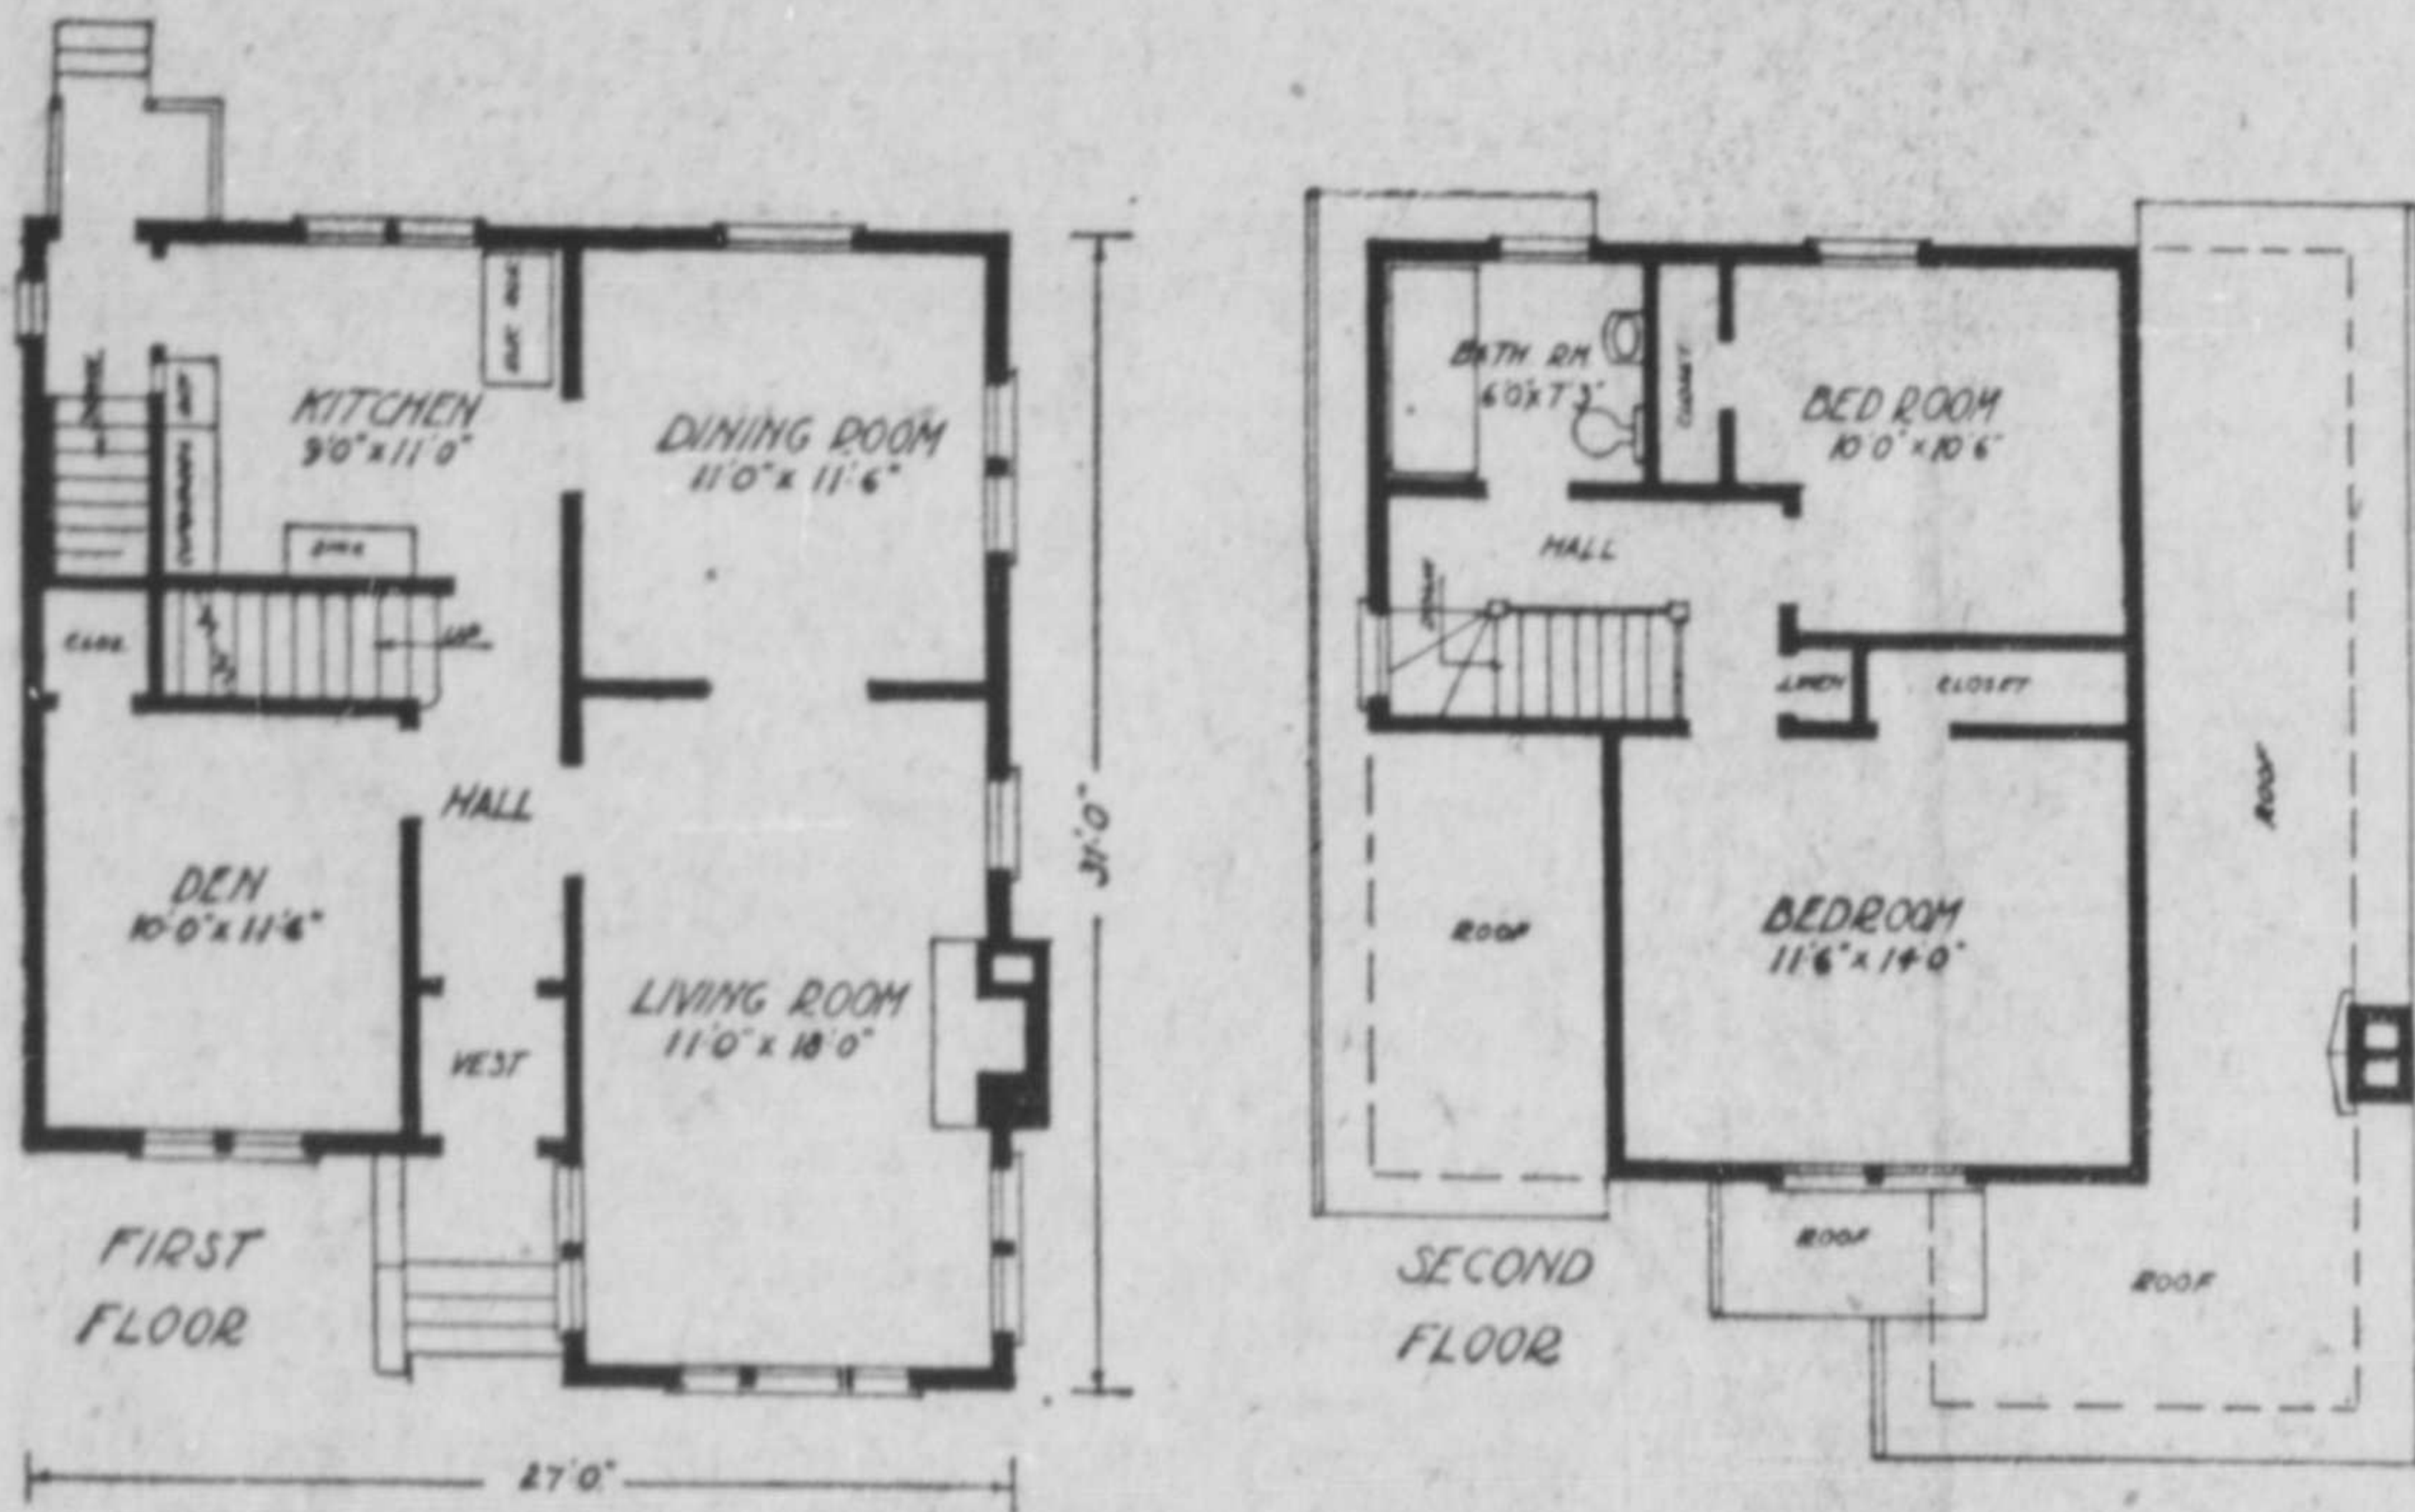

F. F. LEMAISTRE, Architect

In this design of a modern stucco house, gracefulness is coupled with low cost of construction. The reserved use of half-timber has a picturesque effect and accents the porch over the front entrance. With a large proportion of window space at the front of the living room, an appearance of a sun room is given. This room owing to its splendid location and arrangement offers a wide variety of treatment.

Notice the rear entrance does not open right into the kitchen, which in bad weather, is a good feature. Two bedrooms are shown on the second floor, and, if a third is needed, the den on the lower floor could be converted into a bedroom as it already contains a closet.

Asphaltic Walk For Hotel Being Provided For

The city council last night gave preliminary readings to a local improvement construction bylaw providing for the construction of a 17-foot asphaltic sidewalk on First Avenue in front of the Central Hotel. The owners of the hotel have presented a petition asking for the sidewalk.

Council Turns Down Advertising Offers

On the ground that finances would not permit the expenditure, the city council last night turned down solicitations of the Vancouver Province and the Vancouver Star to sell space in forthcoming special issues. The Province special is to be in connection with the forthcoming opening of the new airport here while the Star's will be in connection with the celebration of the diamond jubilee of British Columbia's entry into Confederation.

The city council last night finally reconsidered and adopted local improvement construction bylaws providing for the grading of the northeast side of Seal Cove Circle from Fifth Avenue to Seventh Avenue and for asphaltic sidewalks on the west side of Seventh Street from First Avenue to Second Avenue and on the south side of Second Avenue from Seventh to Eighth Streets.

FAIR BOARD GETS VOTE

City Council Turns Over Sum of $240 to Be Used in Building of Road

The city council decided last night to turn over to the Fair Board the sum of $240 to be used in the project of building a road around the Fair Building. The $240 is made up of $120 left over from government unemployment relief funds and a like amount added by the city council.

Ald. Rudderham, chairman of the board of works, urged that this be done for the Fair Board and Mayor Orme concurred. The motion to this effect was passed unanimously.

Ald. Pullen and Ald. Linzey, as members of the Fair Board, expressed confidence that the grant made by the council would be fully appreciated by the board.

PANELLED WALLS OF WOOD SUITED TO SMALL HOME

They Create a Homelike Atmosphere

THERE is a way of giving importance to the living room which is neglected in the Canadian home. It is to cover the walls with wood panelling and have exposed wooden beams on the ceiling.

A living room which is decorated in this manner seems to be, if it is properly done, more homelike, than one decorated in any other way. There is a sense of warmth and intimacy about walls of wood. The rich colors and the variations of texture produced by the grain lend an air of dignity.

Old English cottages offer some suggestions as to the methods of panelling that are simple enough for any carpenter to make. One method, which is quite effective, reveals appreciations of light and shade which the old carpenters had. Vertical boards were laid up so that every other one was forward of those on either side of it, by about one half the thickness of the board. This was done by having tongues along each edge of half of the boards and grooves along the edges of the other half. By fitting the boards together in this staggered fashion, a feeling of thickness and variety of shade resulted. Other methods were used in early times.

In our own colonial period there were similar wooden partitions constructed, but they were slightly more elaborate. Boards about 18 inches wide were cut to make a lap joint at the edges, and then ornamented by an interesting moulding to hide the joint. Sometimes a moulding was also run down the middle of the board to resemble the joint moulding, and make the board seem narrower.

We can easily sheath our walls, today, with this type of wood finish. Boards of pine, redwood, Douglas fir and yellow pine, or cypress are very well suited to this type of decoration. An ordinary carpenter can do the work, too. In finishing this board, wax rubbed into the wood and slightly colored with burnt umber brings out the warmth of the wood and makes a somewhat dull finish in harmony with the simplicity and crudeness of this kind of wood wainscoting.—Copyright, 1930. In the magazine section of the last Vancouver Sunday Sun appears a feature article in connection with the establishment by the B. C. Telephone Co. of commercial service between Vancouver and Ocean Falls. There are a number of interesting pictures.

ALL READY FOR BEAUTY SHOP SHOW

Performances Tonight at Capitol Expected to be Pleasing Event

For more than two weeks the public has been hearing from more than sixty participants of the merits of "The Beauty Shop," the press and posters have acclaimed the fine qualities of the production, and at various afternoon teas, bridge parties, dances, etc., it has been the one topic of conversation. Now everything is in readiness for tonight's presentation. The last costume has been fitted, the final rehearsal has been held in the Capitol Theatre with all necessary adjuncts and with orchestra, and every member of the big cast of sixty ladies and gentlemen feel they will give the public attending tonight's performance the most pleasing and most professional stage production which has ever been seen in Prince Rupert with local talent.

While "The Beauty Shop" was written especially for Raymond Hitchcock and his company of artists of long experience, it is especially adapted to the use of amateurs as their is nothing strained or extremely dramatic about the piece—scenes where amateurs might feel self-conscious—but on the contrary the audience may relax and really enjoy watching and listening to the best of sixty romp through the clever and hilarious lines and the many tuneful singing and dancing numbers.
