LETTER BOX

OBJECTS TO NOM DE PLUME

Editor, Daily News: I note with a degree of gratitude that you do not intend to place me upon the blacklist, and in deference to the apparent ethical code upheld in the newspaper world I would state that henceforth, I shall address such criticism your sole publication, fully expecting that you will agree to print the same, which, at all times shall be couched in gentlemanly language.

Your nom de plume correspondent however, I consider as almost beneath recognition, and in reply to "interested" would request him or her to come out into the limelight, append his or her actual signature to the communication, and I will undertake to answer any query which in my judgment, will be of interest and utility to the public at large.

Should "Interested" be sufficiently "interested," and have enough red blood, I am willing to meet him or her on any public platform in no defense of myself, but rather the principles, which I feel to be worthy of support.

Until the time when he or she will comply with this request "Interested" may shake his or her dirt for knowledge in the methods most common to the side he apparently represents.

Yours sincerely,
CHARLES LORD,
Citizen.

NEIGHBORS TALK

"I am employed in a theatre and it is a problem to make ends meet, as I help support my mother and sisters. I like to dress well but haven't very much to spend on clothes. To give the appearance of variety to my slender wardrobe I change the color of a dress or stockings as soon as the things become faded. I always use Diamond Dyes for the work—using them as dyes for dresses and as tints for stockings. I have always gotten such perfect results that our neighbors talk about the great number of new things I have."

"I learned about Diamond Dyes from our wardrobe mistress. She says she has tried all the dyes on the market but none do such splendid work and are so easy to use as Diamond Dyes. I understand they are the world's most popular dyes—and they deserve to be."

TERRACE IS AFTER LINE

Would Have C.P.R. Come Down Kalum Valley on Way Westward

Terrace is out after another railway and is to take the matter up with the C. P. R. engineering department.

At the meeting of the council of the Terrace Board of Trade held on Tuesday, E. T. Kenney drew the attention of the meeting to the arrangements of the Canadian Pacific Railway to spend some fifty million dollars in western extension work during this year. He felt sure some portion of that money was meant to be spent in connection with the development of an outlet for the Peace River district. He noticed from the press that there was a talk of the route coming to Hazelton and there joining the Canadian National, but he thought the attention of the heads should once more be drawn to the surveys which had previously been made covering the route from the headwaters of the Naas and coming south by way of the Kalum Valley. He understood the late Lord Rhondda had had such a survey made and it would be available.

The chairman, J. H. Gordon, was of the opinion that the C. P. R. had their own survey of the part in question which he thought was made over twenty years ago.

On the motion of Mr. Kenney seconded by Mr. Nash it was decided to put the matter up to the C. P. R. engineering department.

The Heart is the Human Engine

The motor car which stalls by the roadside or the aeroplane which drops into the sea is no more helpless than the human body when the heart plays out.

The heart is the human engine. If supplied with suitable nourishment and not overstrained by unwise eating and living, the heart is a prodigious worker and meets all ordinary emergencies.

When the nerves weaken the action of the heart weakens. Restore the feeble nerves by the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and immediately you strengthen the action of the heart.

This is the most certain way to overcome heart weakness, and the time to begin treatment is today—now. You can no better afford to delay than can the pilot in the aeroplane. When you receive the danger signal from the heart it is time to apply the restorative—Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

RAILS and RESOURCES

WHERE the forces of nature upheaved the vast barrier of the Canadian Rockies the picks of the first construction crews uncovered mineral deposits. The rails that led to the mines subsequently furnished a means of developing and marketing their ores. ☞ No one ever dreamed that linking the

CANADIAN PACIFIC TODAY

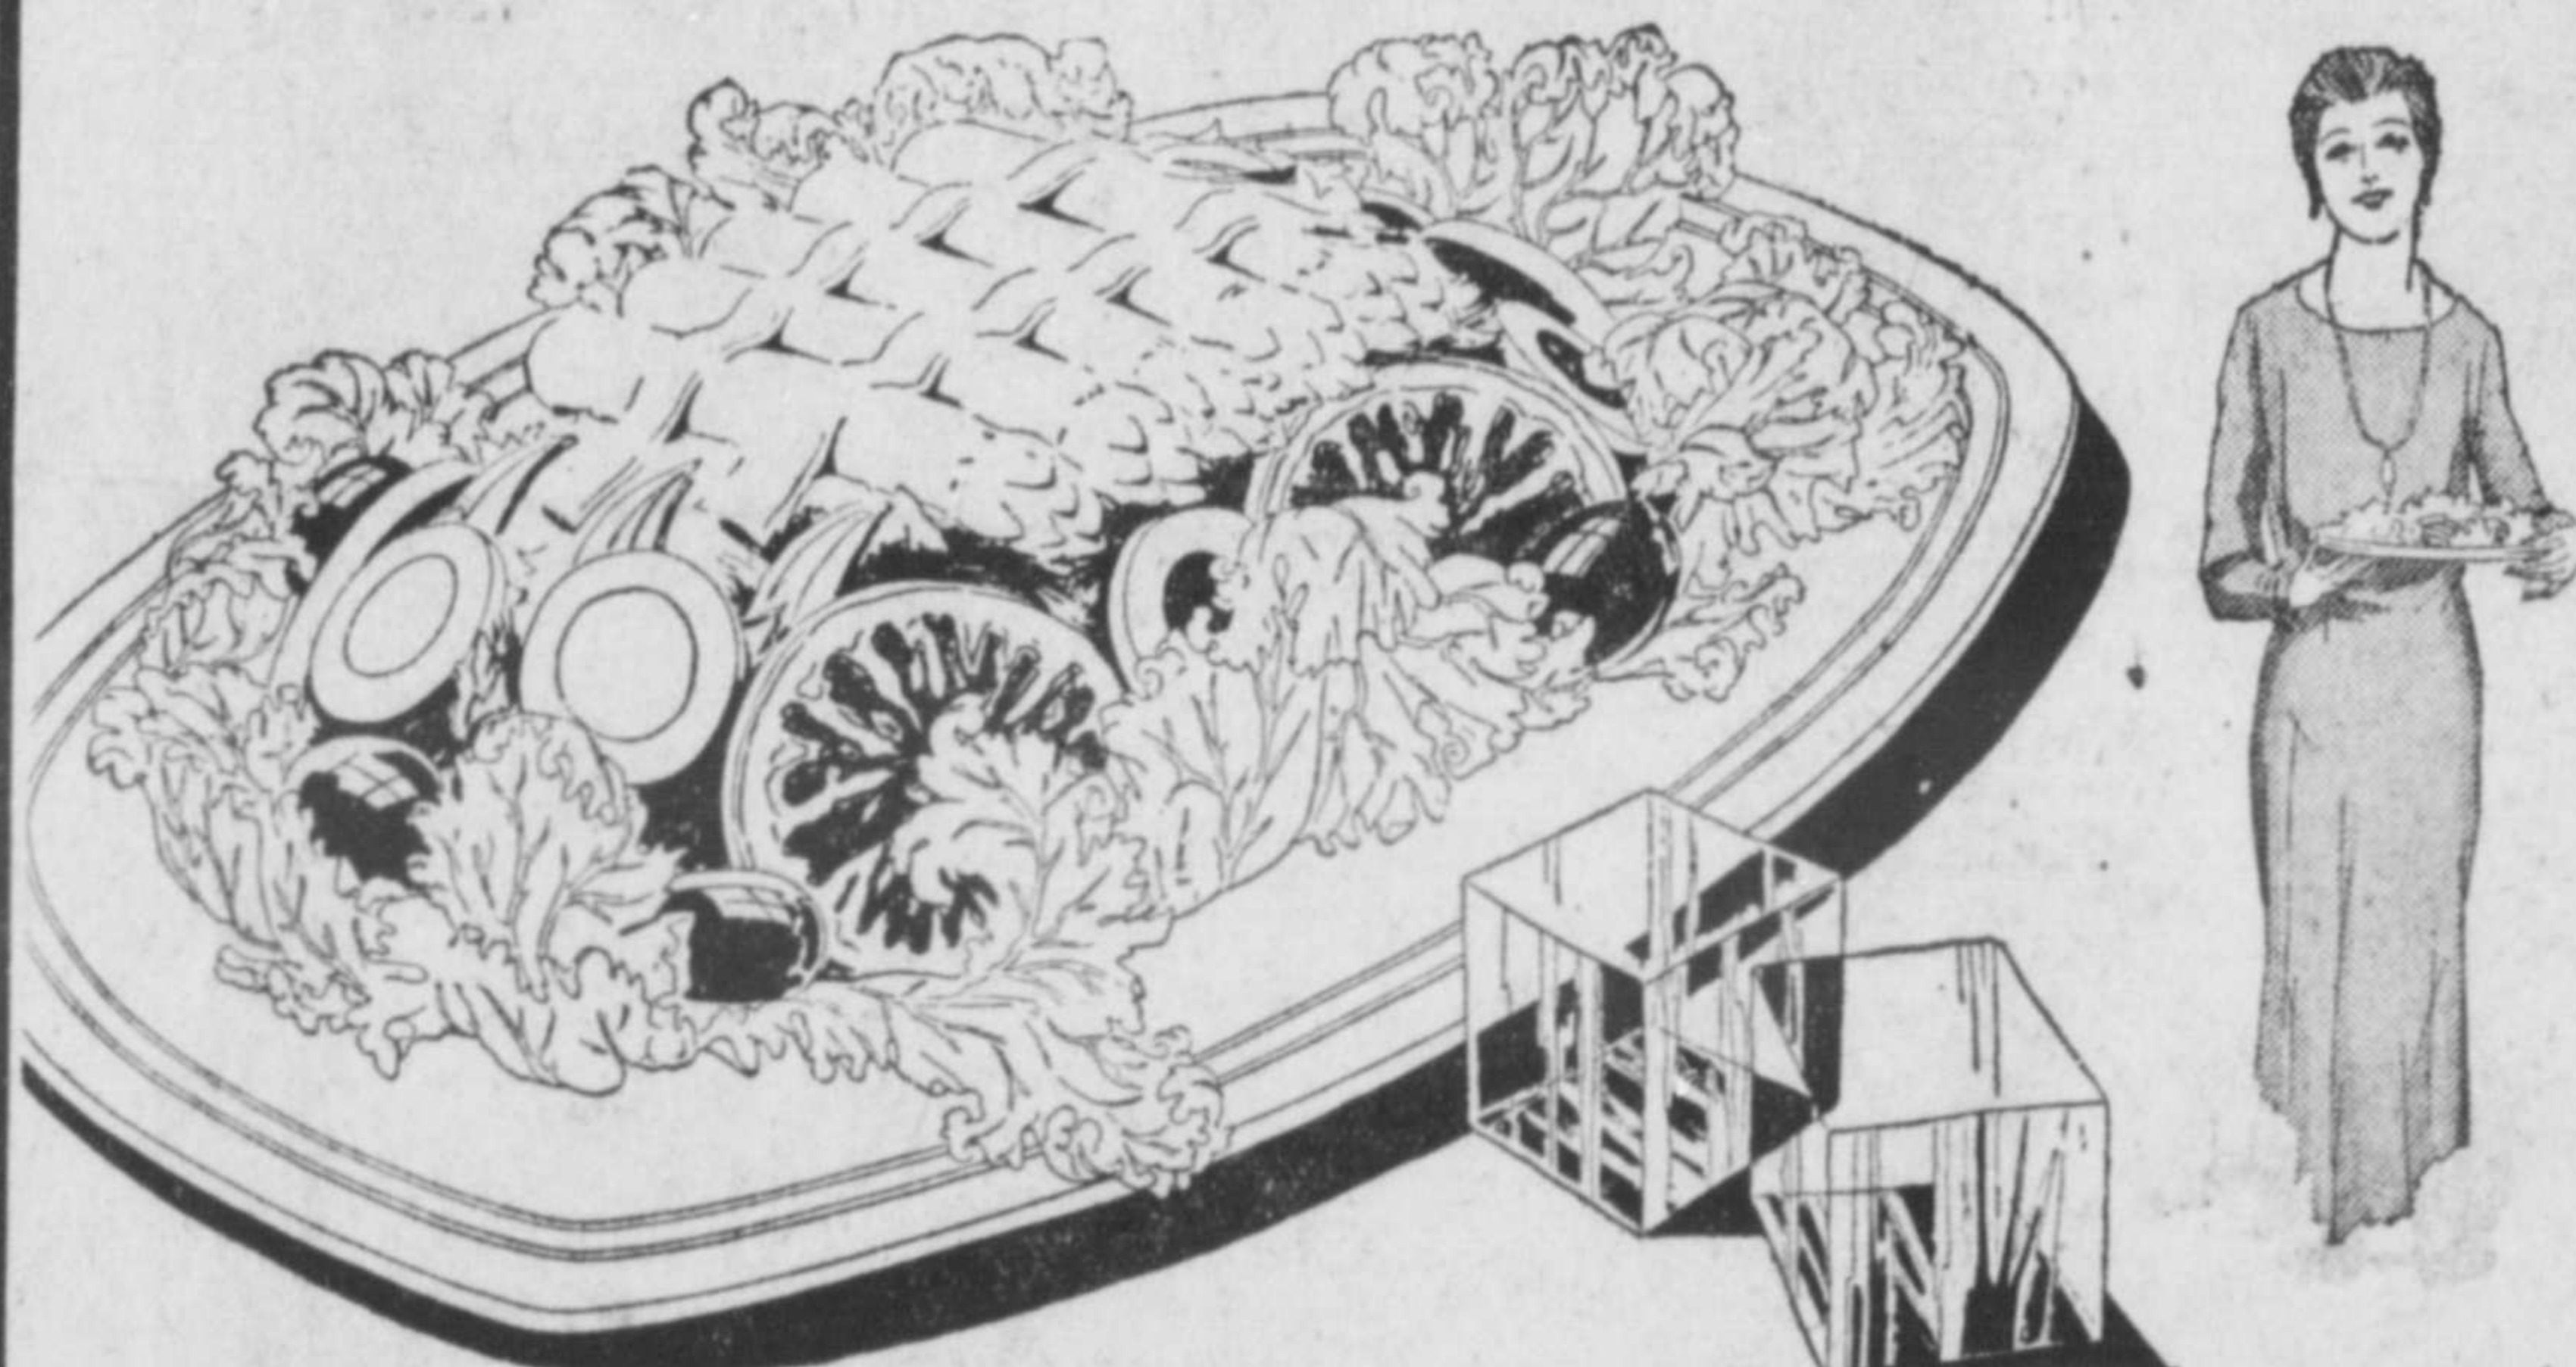

The Canadian Pacific Railway runs from the Atlantic to the Pacific Ocean. Its liners sail from Vancouver and Victoria to Japan and China, and from Montreal, Quebec and Saint John to Great Britain and the Continent. It operates winter cruises to the Mediterranean, the West Indies and Round the World, and a winter service to Bermuda. Its chateaux and hotels represent the latest word in comfort and luxury. Its telegraph service employs 225,000 miles of wire. Its express travellers' cheques are current all over the world. Canadian Pacific offices and agents are to be found everywhere.

The Canadian Pacific Railway maintains a Department of Development, the chief function of which is to initiate, stimulate and foster the development of natural resources in the territory served by its lines. The Department is continually engaged in obtaining and distributing reliable information regarding a wide variety of these resources, developed, partially developed, or wholly undeveloped, included under five main groups—minerals, forests, agriculture, fisheries and water power.

Summary of Halibut Marketing Situation—Salmon Situation May Not Be So Bad—Springs Are Running Well

Developments in connection with the attempt to market halibut co-operatively from Prince Rupert and other Pacific Coast ports continue to be watched with interest. New developments come often enough to sustain the interest that is being taken. The week just past threatened to bring a crisis in the affairs of the United Pacific Fisheries, which is handling the halibut co-operatively, but the concern was able to ride over it successfully. Apparently, new finances became available for it during the week. After a temporary hold-back, the company is also again shipping fresh halibut to the eastern markets.

One feature of the new arrangement, however, which continues to irk the people of Prince Rupert generally is the effect it seems to be having in practically preventing American halibut from being landed at the port. Needless to say, the American halibut boats are not going to waste the time and expense involved in bringing their catches on to Prince Rupert when they are being paid the same down payment at least at Ketchikan as here. Whether or not it is going to prove an efficient system to pay the extra handling charges involved in re-shipping fish from Ketchikan to Prince Rupert instead of having the one handling at Prince Rupert, time alone will tell. Under the arrangement, if the system is not efficient, the American fishermen in the end will suffer through lower proceeds if the co-operative principle is carried out. They may eventually find it to be profitable to bring their fish to Prince Rupert and avoid the extra charges and loss of time involved in the extra movement from Ketchikan to Prince Rupert.

The matter of local management of the concern at Prince Rupert is also being followed with interest. G. W. Nickerson was in charge for a short time and for the past few weeks the Royal Fish Co., of which John Dybhavn is manager, has been handling the co-operative fish. It is stated on good authority that there will be another change when United Pacific gets into its own shipping quarters which are being prepared on the government wharf. The co-operative movement has so far this season been successful in preventing the old buyers from getting any appreciable amount of fish. As a result men have lost employment at the cold storage plant and elsewhere.

It is the belief of some that the battle for control of the Pacific Coast halibut fishery will be fought out not here at the source of supply but on the eastern markets where the large monied interests come actually into competition in the marketing of fish.

To Hartley Bay

The Indian Department's power cruiser Naskeena left Tuesday night for a trip to Hartley Bay, returning to port Thursday night.

Having in tow a service pump barge of the Union Oil Co., the Pacific Salvage Co.'s steam tug Tepic left Vancouver on Thursday night of this week. The tow will be delivered to North Island where it will be anchored, and the Tepic will then come on here, remaining at this port if sufficient work offers to warrant her being kept. The Tepic is a sturdy 100-foot vessel.

There is no definite word yet as to when the hangar, airplanes, etc. of the newly formed Northern B. C. Airways will leave Victoria for Prince Rupert. The outfit was supposed to have been here already but unforeseen delays prevented its arrival. The company expects to be in full operation here early in the coming season.

The Catherine B., an American troller which was seized and confiscated two years ago for violation of the international fisheries regulations, having been remodelled suitably, will shortly be commissioned as ferry boat between the city and Digby Island, taking the place of the Rhona, which for years has served on this run and which has now been condemned as far as passenger service is concerned. Pending the Catherine B. being granted her passenger carrying licence, the lighthouse tender Birnie is taking care of the Digby Island run. Capt. Harry Calderwood, skipper of the Rhona, will be in command of the Catherine B.

Pete Anderson and John Murray, two of the real old timers, who stalked these parts before some of us were born, have been carrying out the job of repairing the gangway to the fisheries floats which collapsed a few weeks ago.

John Dybhavn, member of the Biological Board of Canada, and H. N. Brocklesby, acting director of the Prince Rupert Fisheries Experimental Station, are expected back in the city on the Catala tomorrow afternoon from Vancouver where they have been attending a meeting of the Pacific Coast sub-executive of the Biological Board.

Many of the Puget Sound halibut schooners are reported to have called at Ketchikan during the past few days en route to the fishing banks on their first trips of the season. Bait and ice being available at Ketchikan, few of these vessels have called here.

The Prince Rupert fish handling plant of the United Pacific Fisheries, which is engaging in the co-operative marketing of halibut for the benefit of the fishermen, will be ready for use by the middle of next week and will soon be in active occupation. It is a fully equipped plant, the work of fitting it up having been in charge of T. Ross Mackay. A crew of nine men were engaged for a couple of weeks on the work.

It is possible that, after all, practically all the canneries on the Skeena River which were in operation last year will again work this year, on the higher grades of salmon, at least. It will be only among the plants of the B. C. Packers that there will be any serious reduction of operations, it is expected. This company will, it is understood, operate only Claxton and Balmoral canneries this year. Sunnyside to be used as a fishing camp while Port Edward will not be used at all. Plants of the Canadian Fishing Co. and other smaller concerns will operate as usual, it is expected. Trolling operations will not be interfered with and there should be an adequate market for gill-net fish in which case the salmon fishing should be much as usual this year.

Good runs of spring salmon are on at Island Point (Porcher Island) Pearl Harbor and Warke Canal in Prince Rupert district and a large fleet of trollers is out. Flewin & Brown have opened up their camp at Victory Cove, Porcher Island, and are packing fish to Prince Rupert. Johnny Clausen has also opened his camp on Warke Canal and is packing to Prince Rupert. Indian boats are packing in from Pearl Harbor while fishermen are doing their own packing from Island Point.

Developed Leak

Having developed a leak soon after going out, the halibut boat Imperieuse, Capt. Sigurd Grunfur, put back to port on Wednesday for repairs. The vessel brought in a small catch of 1500 pounds.

Several of the vessels of the halibut fleet are reported to have had a rather rough trip in the vicinity of the Queen Charlotte Islands when the big storm struck there toward the end of last week. Happily, all were able to run to shelter and there were no casualties or damage of importance to any of the boats. However, it was a rather strenuous time while it lasted, it is reported by some.

A local fisherman brought into port about 150 pounds of substance found at sea which he thought might be ambergris but which has not, as yet, been positively identified. Scientists at the Prince Rupert Fisheries Experimental Station do not believe it to be ambergris although they have not been able to positively identify the tumorous substance which is full of tissue. Samples are now being sent to Ottawa. More than once in recent years ambergris finds were believed to have been made although it was found later they were not. PAIN after eating

WHAT many call "indigestion" is very often nothing but excess acid in the stomach. The stomach nerves have been over-stimulated, and food sours. The corrective is an alkali, which neutralizes acids instantly. The best alkali known to medical science is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained the standard anti-acid with physicians in the 50 years since its invention. One spoonful of this harmless, tasteless alkali will neutralize instantly many times as much acid, and the symptoms disappear at once. You will never use crude methods when once you learn the efficiency of this more pleasant way. A small bottle is sufficient to show its merit.

Be sure to get genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for more than 50 years in correcting excess acid. 50c a bottle; any drugstore. Complete directions for its many uses are enclosed with every bottle.

The Genuine Milk of Magnesia is always a liquid—never a tablet. Look for the Phillips' name on bottle.

The past week saw the heaviest halibut landings at Prince Rupert so far this season. A total of 301,200 pounds was brought in of which 268,200 pounds was Canadian and 33,000 pounds American fish. Over fifty boats landed catches during the week, all being taken by the United Pacific Fisheries on the basis of 10c and 7c down payment. So far this season halibut landings at Prince Rupert have totalled but 884,540 pounds as against 3,323,100 pounds for the same period last year. Canadian landings so far this year aggregate 669,000 pounds as compared with 953,300 pounds at the corresponding period. American landings totalling 215,540 are insignificant alongside the 2,369,800 pounds at the same date in 1935.

A Royal Canadian Air Force flying boat, in command of Flight Sergeant E. P. H. Wells with Flight Sergeant A. Anderson as relief pilot, was to leave Victoria this week-end to assist H. M. C. S. Armentieres in guarding thousands of fur seals on their annual migration from the south to their breeding grounds on the Pribilof Islands, off Alaska. The seal patrol off the entire length of the B. C. coast will continue for two months and the aircraft will make daily flights over the migrating seals to insure that they are not molested by illicit hunters.

The schooner Ionic was in port this morning for ice and bait, being bound from Seattle to the fishing grounds.
