The minister arrived on the coast after an aerial tour with Flight Commander Johnson over the Northwest Territories with stops at Aklavik, Great Bear Lake and other points.

No advance word had been received here of Col. Sutherland's visit so there was nothing in the way of formal entertainment for him. He inspected the local armory and the proposed airport of the Northern B. C. Airways and was also taken for a drive to Galloway Rapids.

Col. Sutherland was here last October, being the only member of the Bennett administration to so far visit this city.

HARVEST IS NOW ON

Grain Cutting General on Prairies With Weather Conditions Favorable

WINNIPEG, Aug. 22:—Weather for the past week has been hot and dry and has resulted in grain being brought fast along to maturity. Fields which are still in the soft dough stage have suffered from the continued drought and effects will be shown in smaller kernels. Threshing is general in the southern parts of all provinces but in the more northerly districts cutting is only commencing. Rust is quite apparent but so far most fields with a general infestation are too far advanced to have the grade deteriorated, according to the weekly crop report of the department of agriculture, Canadian National Railways.

In Southern Manitoba threshing is in full swing and cutting is practically completed. More farmers are stacking their grain than ever before in the hopes that, by so doing, they will be able to reduce their threshing bill as stack threshing costs less. In Saskatchewan Valley cutting of wheat is nearly completed and threshing is just beginning. The grain sample in this area is the best in years although the outturn is not heavy. Coarse grains are showing the effects of drought, but no damage from rust, hail, or grasshoppers is reported.

In Southern Saskatchewan weather has been warm with scattered hail storms but resulting damage has been very local, although between Radville and Moose Jaw hail stones damaged buildings and ruined gardens. Very little grain will be shipped from this area.

In the west central section of Saskatchewan centering on Rose-town, cutting is general and weather conditions for harvest have been ideal. Saw-fly damage is quite apparent around Laura and Netherhill, while around Chamberlain grasshoppers are exacting a toll.

The Prince Albert district still remains the bright spot in Saskatchewan and while only about 30% of cutting has been completed there is no damage from any source and prospects are for a good average crop.

In Alberta

Along the Three Hills, Stettler, Oyen, Brazeau, Drumheller, Red Deer subdivision in Alberta weather has been warm and dry with crops maturing quickly and cutting will be general. Some points report slight damage from saw-fly and light (Continued on Page Four)

Entries For Fall Fair Better So Far Than For Previous Years, Says Secretary Vance; Tickets Sell Well

Entries are coming in even better than last year for the fall fair which opens here one week from next Tuesday. Extra prizes offered by the board this year and the excitement caused over the beautyquest and the bringing of an interior baseball team to the city has caused renewed interest in the annual event.

Tickets for the ball are going well and there is great competition between the Elks and the Rotary Club to see which candidate will win the extra $50 prize. While the Gyros were late in starting and are not so far serious competitors for this prize, there is a possibility of their forging ahead and overtaking the others later in the contest. There is a possibility too, that Hazelton may enter a lady. The Moose have decided not to compete but the merchants are busy for their candidate. The entries so far are:

- Rotary Club, Miss Annie Boddie. Elks, Miss Vivian Hickey. Gyro Club, Miss Dora Heilbronner. Merchants, Miss Pauline Furness. The Big Bay Lumber Company will not have an exhibit this year but their place will be taken by the provincial forestry department and an exhibit is expected also from Ocean Falls paper mill. Judges have been appointed by the department of agriculture as follows:

- S. S. Phillips, fruit, vegetables and flowers. H. S. French, field crops and poultry. Arrangements are being made for an expert to judge the sewing and cooking and other departments. The splendid year for flowers so far this season makes it probable that the exhibit will be far ahead of anything previously shown at a fall fair or anywhere else in this city. Several new classes have been provided for and the displays bid fair to be superior to last year.

Of course the big attraction will be the judging for the beautyquest which takes place each evening, with different judges each day and the finals at the ball on the last evening.

DRIVE FOR BUYING AT HOME

A Prince Rupert citizen makes the suggestion that the government in making a drive for buying Canadian goods should prepare a list of common articles of Canadian and foreign make and publish them side by side in the newspapers of the country so that everyone would know at a glance whether the goods they purchase are Canadian or not.

The local man points out that the average person never bothers to ask whether the goods are Canadian and takes what the grocer gives him. The only way to draw forcible attention to the matter is to publish the list and possibly have it printed on cards and hung in the kitchen of every home.

LIVING IS CHEAPER

For some time complaints were made that the cost of meat was too high in Prince Rupert and there was a certain amount of justification for the charge. Now everything is changed. Yesterday one of the Daily News advertisers was offering corned beef at five cents a pound. That price cannot well be beaten. If the cost were less there would be nothing for the producer.

While it is not everyone who cares for corned beef, yet in a time when there are people with little to spend, such a price is very attractive. It has been suggested that by following the advertisements the cost of living may be reduced in many a household.

TRANS-CANADA HIGHWAY

The provincial government is being forced by the federal government to declare itself in favor of a trans-Canada highway which the federal authorities will build. We do not like this. It means that the north will have to pay for a big highway in the south which it is almost impossible for northern people to use on account of its being so far away.

What is needed in British Columbia and on the prairies is two main highways, one in the north and one in the south. Why should Prince Rupert, Prince George, Edmonton and Saskatoon be sidetracked in favor of the cities that are nearer the international border?

Doubtless there will be work done also on the northern highway but this is not quite the same as having it made a national highway and having it completed at an early date by federal grants. If the rate of progress on this highway is to be doubled or trebled, we still shall not be able to get out to visit the rest of the world for many years. A real policy of highway building through Central British Columbia is needed that will within two or three years place one section of the district in touch with the other and enable Prince Rupert or Terrace people to get out with their cars and visit other parts of Canada and the United States.

ROTARIANS AT DINNER

Honor Done to Visiting District Governor Morgan Eastman of Vancouver

A dinner was given last night at the Commodore Cafe by the Prince Rupert Rotary Club in honor of Morgan Eastman of Vancouver, district governor of Rotary, who made an official visit to the club, and left today for Ketchikan. He was accompanied by Mrs. Eastman. Ladies of the members were present and other guests included Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Boddie and their daughter Annie, who is the Rotary candidate in the Los Angeles Beatequest competition.

Mr. Eastman said that he and Mrs. Eastman qualified for the Pioneers' Association because they spent a year in the city and at Port Essington 22 years ago. It was in Prince Rupert their eldest boy was born.

The speaker then went on to deal with the objects and aims of Rotary, classifying them under club service, vocational service, community service and international service. Friendship was the cement binding them together. It was the choicest fruit in God's garden. The way to make friends was to be one.

While the chief object of Rotary was the development of the individual, Mr. Eastman said, it was not a cure-all and made no pretense of being that. He was not intending to deal with the more local phases of its work but would devote his time to what was known as the Sixth Object of Rotary, the development of international good will. He spoke of the Pacific conference to be held at Honolulu next May and urged attendance at it. It was well to get rid of the parochial complex.

The speaker went on to enlarge on the reasons why today no nation could live to itself. The lanes of commerce were crowded with ships and airplanes were every day charting new routes. International barriers were being destroyed. The Rotary plan was to cultivate good will among the nations. School books should give facts and not propaganda, he said. The basic principle of trade was friendship. Strife between nations was suicidal. Racial prejudices should be eliminated.

Mr. Eastman went on to tell how dependent Canada was on foreign trade and quoted a number of eminent European authorities to show the need of a better understanding among nations and that many were looking to Rotary for a lead. Ideals were the essential things in the world today. The cave man was still strong in everyone and it was only idealism that kept it down.

After the dinner the party adjourned en masse to the Capitol Theatre where they enjoyed the showing of "Daddy Long Legs."

Music was provided during the dinner by the Premier Orchestra. Norman Ireland played a piano selection, John Davey sang and there was step-dancing by little Joyce Gawthorne.

The bride's mother wore a costume of black lace with small mo-hair hat and a corsage of American Beauty roses and lily-of-the-valley.

Following the ceremony the wedding dinner was served in the roof garden of Hotel McAlpin. Later the bride and groom left on a motor trip through the New England states. For travelling the bride donned a green ensemble.

Guide to Correspondents

The Daily News welcomes correspondence on live topics of the day or any other subject of public interest, but letters must be brief and to the point. The long-winded correspondent has no place in modern journalism.

Every letter must be signed by the writer, not necessarily for publication but as a matter of good faith and courtesy. All unsigned documents go to the waste paper basket. Letters of a caustic character must have the signature appended for publication.

Letter should be written on one side of the paper only. Correspondents must avoid personalities and the language should be such as would be allowed in the ordinary rules of debate.

Off for Vacation

Take The DAILY NEWS with you When Going on Summer Holidays

Nearly everybody likes to keep in touch with Prince Rupert when away for their holidays. The best way to do this is to order the paper sent during that time. If it is only for two weeks, the News is a welcome visitor and the mails during the summer months are carried almost daily to most points.

Recently a number of Scandinavians have given up the local fishing for the summer and gone on an extended visit to their former homes. In almost every case they order the Daily News sent them while they are away. Several subscribed for a year, others for shorter periods.

No time is too short for us to look after our patrons.

Most of Canneries Closing—Fisheries Experimentalists to Travel—Halibut Landings

With the closing of sockeye fishing yesterday, most of the canneries on the Skeena River ceased operations for the season. Humpback Bay (Porcher Island) and B. A. (Port Essington) canneries are remaining open until the end of the month to put up cohoes. Inverness cannery will remain in operation until well on into September putting up fall varieties. Most of the canneries specialized this season on sockeyes and the pack, although not as large as in a normal season when there is a large production of the cheaper grades, has been quite up to expectations.

Capt. Frank Tyler, formerly skipper of the local power tug Salvage Princess, is still in Alaskan waters in command of the Vancouver yacht Rio Bonita with a party of New Yorkers on board for a lengthy cruise. Capt. Charlie Larkin is still in command of the Princess.

A halibut was tagged by the International Fisheries Commission at Makushin Bay, west of Dutch Harbor in Alaska, June 16, 1930. It was recaptured eleven miles south of Goose Island on the B. C. coast on June 5 last by Capt. John Sharpnes of the halibut fishing vessel Maddock. In the period of 355 days between being tagged and captured it had travelled 1,566 miles, an average of 4.4 miles a day. J. P. Babcock, chairman of the Halibut Commission, says this is a record migration among the thousands of halibut that have been tagged.

Big Day Tomorrow

If weather proves propitious, tomorrow should be a big day at the Salt Lake when the Prince Rupert Swimming Club stages its annual swimming gala. The Pacific Salvage Co. will be in charge of transportation and arrangements have been made to handle a crowd of at least one thousand persons. A fine card of events has been arranged for competition among Prince Rupert swimmers and it is expected there will be keen rivalry for all honors. There will be 27 events in all, the program to start at 2:30 p.m. and conclude about 5:40 p.m. with contests for men, women and children. Due to the generosity of Prince Rupert business folk, it has been possible to offer a splendid lot of prizes.

Within the next fortnight, it is expected that the Northern B. C. Airways will be established in its own base at the foot of McBride Street on waterfrontage leased by the city to the company. The base will be fully equipped with floats and hangar, these being in process of being set up at present. The outfit is one that was formerly used by a southern flying concern.

The Gypsy Moth seaplane of the Northern B. C. Airways, which came to grief on Sunday evening last at Langara Island, arrived here the next night on the power tug Salvage Princess and is now on the pontoons at the dry dock awaiting inspection prior to such repairs being instituted as may be deemed officially necessary. The plane suffered no structural damage but the engine was put out of commission by being totally submerged in salt water. The immersion occurred when the machine nose dived while being towed through a tide rip by an Indian gasboat. Meantime, through the untimely mishap to the machine, a good deal of local flying work which was due to be carried out has had to be either cancelled or deferred.

Capt. W. P. Armour, local manager of the Pacific Salvage Co., is to again take up residence in the cottage on the company's dock here. Mrs. Armour and daughter, June, who have been spending the summer in Alberta, will be returning to the city very soon.

At Biological Station Following the completion of the new building constructed as an annex to the original one, members of the staff of the Prince Rupert Fisheries Experimental Station are now becoming adjusted to their new quarters. The bacteriological department, with Dr. R. H. Bedford in charge, and the mechanical and refrigeration departments, of which O. Young is in charge, are located in the new building while the old building will henceforth be devoted entirely to chemical work with Acting Director H. N. Brocklesby active head of this department.

The office and administration quarters will be moved later in the

Warner Baxter and Janet Gaynor
Take Leading Roles in Captivating Talking Picture

Abounding in delightful heart appeal, "Daddy Long Legs," the week-end feature at the Capitol Theatre, is a really fine picture which captivated large audiences last night. The pretty story of the waif and her benefactor is well enough known. Suffice it to say that the talking picture does it ample justice.

Warner Baxter and Janet Gaynor turn in distinguished performances in the leading roles. They are excellently cast in their respective parts. A more suitable vehicle could not have been found for the dainty Miss Gaynor. Much the same might be said so far as Mr. Baxter is concerned. Both are eminently popular with the moving picture audiences.

The supporting cast is a good one, Claude Gillingwater being one of its number.

WILL HOLD INQUIRIES

Mishaps to Steamers Prince Rupert and Prince David to Be Probed

Capt. J. D. McPherson, Dominion wreck commissioner on this coast, has received commissions to institute inquiries into two mishaps to Canadian National steamers—that of the steamer Prince Rupert, which sank while moored to a dock at Esquimalt last spring, and that of the steamer Prince David, which went ashore in Puget Sound a few weeks ago. The inquiries will be opened as soon as possible.

Assessors will be Capt. S. Vint and Capt. M. S. Cutler with J. Green-shields, marine engineer, sitting in the Prince David hearing in which case a knowledge of engineering is considered essential.

Union steamer Cardena, Capt. Andrew Johnstone, arrived in port at 12:30 midnight last night from the south and sailed about an hour later on her return to Vancouver and waypoints. The vessel was delayed in arriving owing to having heavy freights to discharge at cannery points on the way up the coast.
