A section applicable to Canada for inclusion of the new statute of Westminster was approved. Final acceptance was, however, left over until representatives of the provincial governments have the opportunity to consult with their colleagues.

CITY SETS MILL RATE

Cut Made in Exhibition Board Grant to Allow of 52 Mill Rate Being Set

At a special meeting of the city council last night, it was finally decided to set the mill rate for the year at 52 mills. This was achieved by cutting the grant to the exhibition board to $600 instead of $1200 as it was last year, and by other departmental reductions.

There was a move to reduce the grant to the public library but it was pointed out that the work there was steadily increasing and that the assistant to the librarian must get an advance in pay this year. The library had no means of making up any cut that might be made. It had been particularly useful during the past winter when so many of the unemployed had taken out books and kept themselves from brooding over the situation.

The reduction of the grant to the exhibition board was contested, practically half of the council being in favor of reducing by $400 instead of $600. It was decided to make up the cut by donating to the board vacant lots as they may wish and by aiding in the collections later in the season. The matter of what should go to the board was left in the hands of the finance committee.

"New Clothes Are Best Spring Tonic," Milady Says; a Few New Style Hints Given Here

Letitia Chaffe says—

Sulphur and molasses? I know a much better spring tonic than that—new spring clothes! The bright spring sunshine somehow makes even our favorite winter things look dowdy...our spirits sink...lassitude lays its laden hand upon us. But there is a real physical and psychological regeneration in a new spring outfit. That is why I am advising you to buy yours early. Then, instead of having to do some hurried shopping when the first warm days come...you will be ready to dash out in a smart new costume and effectively put old spring fever to route.

Get Under a Mushroom

An infinitesimal fraction of a crown—plus a brim of fair proportions...the result is the mushroom hat that is such a big feature of the early Paris openings. They are worn...unlike the mushrooms of the earlier era...away back on the head. The brims are as varied as it is possible to imagine...regular, irregular, pleated, wide on one side and practically a minus quantity on the other, the same width on both sides...or any other deviation the designers could imagine. They call for a great deal of acumen in selection, however...or they are apt to be trying to wear.

Watteau type hats are also in the spring picture. They are tipped to show a great deal of the hair...and are developed in not only afternoon and evening hats...but also in tailored models. They call for trimmings, as do most of the spring hats...and so we have the use of the flowers, feathers, ribbons. The straws used are soft ballbuntis, bakus, milans, panamaiaic and the new paper straws.

Blouse on Top

After several seasons of being tucked into skirts, the overblouse reappears in several smart new forms...all of them brief in length. There is the surplice blouse which ends at the waist in a side-tied sash. Schiaparelli introduced it...it is particularly chic in plaids and Paisleys. The waistcoat type...double-breasted in style and buttoned...lends itself to various fabrics...silk and cotton piques, plaid taffetas, gingham, the newer striped silks as well as knitted fabrics. Brief peplums distinguish another type of overblouse...a wide fitting waistband another. Blouses such as these make several smart costumes grow where one grew before...and I find myself very glad they are back.

Happy Medium

Avoiding extremes of mannish and feminine, the 1931 spring sports fashions are a joy to any woman's heart. Gone is the very tailored suit of mannish fabric, with its severe blouse. Gone, too, are the fussy sports frocks of last season. Softness tempers severity with a very flattering result. So you may wear a tailored suit...but it is well to choose a very feminine blouse. The lines of your sports frocks must be kept simple...but you can use a wealth of intricate detailing. Thin woolsens and printed checked silks are smart for spectator and active sports...yellow is the favored color, alone or used in combination. Gray, cinnamon, dark brown and green, navy and black with pastels are the color favorites.

LETTER BOX

ICHABOD! ICHABOD! ICHABOD!

Editor, Daily News:—

I read the edition of your paper of even date, with more than passing interest, and realizing the unique position you hold in this community, it would appear to be regrettable, should you use that position without permitting yourself to be subject to criticism, and therefore trust that you will favor the writer with the necessary space to become a minor critic.

It is with amazement, mingled with regret, that I note, that the implement at your disposal, should, with remarkable continuity, sponsor the cause of decadent and dying capitalistic concerns, operating in this city and district. Your all too apparent choice of language in your editorials, and your selection of news items, in no wise tends to promote pacific relations between local capital and labor.

Your edition of April 7 runs entirely true to form, and I find as a front page item of news, that a whole salmon can be bought in Regina markets for 25 cents, which I accept as potentially true, but for the benefit of the public who read this, without an internal knowledge of the industry, I would state that the salmon referred to is a plain Humpback (trade name Pink), certainly a nutritious fish, but that the fisherman, who produced the same, received the munificent sum of five cents, which probably you, Mr. Editor, will concede to leave an ample margin of profit for succeeding vendors.

While I am in no way actively concerned in the new venture of the halibut fishermen, I heartily commend their collective effort, which action in itself demonstrates dissatisfaction in the past system, and would remark en passant, that the squeal which arises is merely indicative that someone other than the fishermen are apt to be hurt. The fishermen rightly or wrongly feel that they are being subjected to undue criticism, subterfuge and sabotage, which incidentally simply assures them that they are on the right tack. May the boys stay with their end of the bargain, until it is proven a failure, and have the wisdom and initiative, when this comes to pass, to market their own fish, themselves.

Your apparent concern re. the fate of established buyers of this city and district cuts little ice, and your expressed desire for the stability of these concerns will I am afraid, render them little aid. You lack, it appears, the knowledge that there is no such thing as permanence and stability in policies or institutions, which must of necessity have their day and cease to be, and while it may be conceded, with as much kindness as is warranted, that the Cold Storage has been of some material assistance to this city, yet there is no need to adorn the city by means of the press with the customary crepe, at the imminent decease of that philanthropic institution.

It would appear to the writer that the word "Ichabod" might well be carved over the portals of many of the concerns you champion, and should the Daily News desire to escape a like appellation, it would be well for it, and its editor, to scan the horizon, and obtain a new perspective.

The future of this city and country is wrapped up in the welfare of its citizens, and not in the life or death of any marketing machinery. The fishermen of this town believe that the old day is done, and, having cut the Gordian knot, they are well aware that, to permit themselves to be shackled by the old concerns, would mean that their final state would be worse than the former. From an analysis of the past, the fishermen realize that they have nothing to lose, and a glorious opportunity for emancipation. May they carry on!

This is written as a private citizen, and not as representing any organization.

Yours sincerely,

CHARLES LORD.

Local Boys and Girls Again Demonstrate Superiority In Hoop Game Over Terracites

Prince Rupert High School basketballers defeated opponents from Terrace by even more decisive margins in the second set of games last night at the Exhibition Hall. The local boys won 39 to 12 while the Prince Rupert girls were victorious, 22 to 5. The local boys played fine combination and proved deadly shots. The girls also excelled themselves. The locals, if anything, were better than on the night before.

BASEBALL OPENING

"Dutch" Reuther Acquired Himself With Honor in Game Yesterday

LOS ANGELES, April 8.—"Dutch" Reuther, old master of the Big Leagues, acquitted himself with honor yesterday in the opening game here of the Pacific Coast Baseball League when he pitched Seattle to a three to one victory over Los Angeles. The veteran hurler allowed Los Angeles but five hits.

Other scores were as follows for the opening day:

Oakland, 2; Missions, 1.
San Francisco, 8; Portland, 0.
Hollywood, 5; Sacramento, 3.

SPORT CHAT

The path of the golfing rainbow that arches each winter through the west, south and southwest has reached its final pot of gold and the cakes and coffee have been scanty for even the best of the professionals. Counting in the final tournament of the winter play, the South-eastern open just completed at Augusta, Ga., Gene Sarazen, stocky New York Italian, wound up with the highest rewards, a total of $8,332, garnered in eight tournaments.

George von Elm stepped into six tournaments on the winter schedule and took in $7,957.50 in prize money for second place in the standings. Johnny Golden, one of the mainstays of the Ryder Cup team, made $7,790 in ten tournaments, but nearly all of it at Agua Caliente. Some of the better known stars spent poor winters. Walter Hagen won only $2,350. Johnny Farrell, 3,101.65; William MacFarlane, $2,260; Densmore Shute, $1,500, and Bobby Cruickshank about $1,300.

Emblem of national amateur hockey supremacy, the Allan Cup, came back to the west last Thursday. Red-shirted men of Winnipeg won the Canadian title by defeating Hamilton Tigers three to one for the second successive time in the east-west combat. Winnipeg won the first game of the series two to one. Speed won triumph in senior hockeydom gives the Manitoba capital a "grand slam" in amateur competition. Just a week previous, the Memorial Cup and the Canadian junior championship were won for Winnipeg by the toiling Elmwood Millionaires. The Allan Cup victory, too, names the Winnipeg seniors as Canada's hockey entry in the 1932 Olympic games at Lake Placid.

Doug Brennan Still Unable to Play Hockey

VANCOUVER, April 8.—Doug Brennan, burly defence man, will be the only Lion unable to play against the New York Rangers in the series starting here tonight. Doug hasn't recovered sufficiently from that crack on the head he received from Bobby Connors of Seattle Eskimos almost two months ago, to go into battle again this season. The rest of the Lions will all be fit and ready to go against the big leaguers in this series.

The T. A. Kelley Logging Co.'s service boat Norah Jane, Capt. W. L. Dass, arrived in port last night from Selwyn Inlet after an exceptionally rough trip across Hecate Straits. The vessel was forced to run for shelter and lay up for several hours while coming over.

Eleanor Patmore was the outstanding player of the local girls' team. The boys all starred in their game. Helen Greig was the pick of the Terrace girls' team while Bowering and McLeod were the pick of the boys.

The local players left on today's train for Terrace to play in return games. J. W. Plommer of the King Edward High School teaching staff went away in charge of the party.

Boys' Match

The boys' match started with a rush which resulted in Thomas fouling Wingham. There was no score. Vance scored the first field basket three and a half minutes after play on Thurber's pass. Little fouled Thurber, Morrison scoring on the rebound. Morrison scored from under the basket and the same player scored again on a long shot from centre. McLeod opened the scoring for Terrace on Wingham's foul. Thurber and Morrison combined, which resulted in Morrison scoring. Walters scored on Morrison's rebound. Thurber scored on Bowering's foul, followed by Wingham scoring from a tussle under the basket. Little fouled Walters but Walters missed. Bowering missed on Thurber's foul, while Thurber scored a beautiful loop shot from near centre. Bowering scored on Wingham's foul, ending the first half 17-2 in favor of Prince Rupert.

Unger replaced Morrison in the second half. Walters looped one from a scrimmage, followed by Unger scoring on Thurber's pass. Unger fouled Kerr, Bowering scoring on the rebound. McLeod scored after being fouled by Walters. Thurber scored from underneath basket on Wingham's pass.

A flashy piece of combination between Walters, Wingham and Unger resulted in Unger scoring. Terrace called time out. Thomas scored for Terrace on resumption of play, on a beautiful shot from the side line. Walters dribbled under the basket and scored. McLeod missed on Vance's foul. Bowering scored from scrimmage under the basket. Unger scored on Walters rebound. Thurber scored a beautiful loop shot on Unger's pass. Kerr missed on Vance's foul, play going to the other end of the floor and Wingham scored on Unger's rebound. After many attempts Little sunk a long shot. Wingham scored on Unger's rebound. Terrace called time out with four minutes to go. After resuming play again Wingham scored from under the basket on a pass from Unger. Thurber scored 20 seconds off full time to end the scoring.

Prince Rupert—Morrison, 10; Unger, 6; Thurber, 9; Walters, 4; Wingham, 8; Vance, 2.

Rupert boys were all good. For Terrace Bowering, Thomas, McLeod were outstanding. Terrace team suffered great loss when Michiel sprained his ankle so badly on Monday night that he was forced to retire from the series.

Girls' Game

The girls' game started fast, but both sides were a little wild on their shooting. Glass opened the scoring for Terrace on a pass from Greig, under the basket. Four minutes after play, Morrison scored on a pass from Tite to even the score.

A technical foul on Rupert, which was converted by Greig for Terrace, opened the scoring for the second quarter. Boddie put Rupert ahead on a long shot from near centre, and was followed by Johnston scoring on Tite's rebound. Patmore sunk one from centre, after which Terrace called time out. The game started again by Boddie fouling Moore but it was not converted. Boddie scored on Greig's foul.

Patmore made the only basket of the third quarter, after a beautiful dribble down the side line and scoring it from under the basket.

The last quarter opened with a technical on Rupert, Smith missing. Boddie fouled Greig but Greig was

The RECORD SPEAKS for ITSELF

Turrets, too, hold the non-stop record of pleasing cigarette smokers. Month after month, year after year, the demand for Turrets increases because they suit the big majority of smokers.

After all, nothing can replace good, honest tobacco; grown and ripened right out in the field under nature's own sunlight—nothing artificial about that—and the high quality is "inbred."
