KEEP PRISONERS IDLE.

The Prince Rupert city council has decided to go contrary to all the latest developments in treatment of prisoners by refusing to allow the extenson of the gardening well-fitted weather stripping and work done under the direction of Sergeant Service in the neighborhood of the lockup. The men who are unfor- well amount to 20 per cent more of tunately detained there are to be kept in idleness for fear that some future city council might be induced to extend the activities by employing them in competition with local labor.

The work at the city lockup has been mentioned in a complimentary manner by a number of different people, Small Home Service Bureau, Inc. including the labor representatives on the city council. Then when the suggestion is made that the Sergeant in charge be given a slightly wider scope in order that the work may be extended to the slopes around the present gardens, the same people who were pleased with the other work are fearful of having too much of it. They are supported by other members of the council, who also seeem to be opposed to this beautifying of the city.

We are not imputing any but the best motives to the aldermen who opposed the extension of the lockup gardens but we are sorry to see them so influenced by their prejudices as to be unable to support a good movement.

ENJOYING DEPRESSION.

There are people who enjoy depression and like to talk about it. They are like the people who enjoy poor health and never fail to tell everyone about it. Such persons are to be pitied.

We can understand the person who hopes conditions will get worse so as to bring about a change in the present system and thus have good come out of evil. We do not sympathize with that viewpoint, but it is quite a logical line of reasoning. Such a thing might be. To like to talk about depression rather than to think more of the time when the depression will pass and conditions improve is quite different and not easy to understand. It indicates a peculiar disposition and does not make for improvement.

Let us not grovel in the dust or revel in the enjoyment of depressed conidtions, but turn our thoughts to betterment. The present winter will be to many one of the best they have had, for they are assured of regular employment, even if the rate of pay is not high.

A receiver that definitely brings better receptiondue to elimination of interference and background noise

We make great but not extravagant claims for the performance of this newest Victor Super-Heterodyne, R-21. It is an extraordinary receiver . . . the finest, we believe, ever known to radio. Actual performance tests in the continent's most congested areas have convinced us of the truth of this sweeping statement. In selectivity, sensitivity and tone - Victor tone - we are confident that it stands alone, unrivalled.

In the doubly-shielded chassis of Model R-21 are incorporated all radio's newest developments, representing the most advanced design that engineering genius can bring to the super-heterodyne circuit. Automatic volume-control . . maximum range tone-control . . surplus power of two pentode tubes . . . noiseless operation and tonal purity of three super-control tubes . . . in a cabinet of rare and aristocratic beauty.

Double shielding, an exclusive feature, is a tangible factor in the established superiority of the R-21 receiver. This extra shielding is largely responsible for a degree of-selectivity unprecedented in radio history . . . at the same time fortifying the instrument against picking up background noise.

Your Victor dealer will demonstrate the amazing value of Model R-21 at $219.50 . . . also other Victor Super-Heterodynes from $89.50 - all prices complete with tubes. Convenient terms.

DEFENDS ENGINEER

Editor, Daily News:-I noticed an article written b Mr. Gratton, in your paper a few days ago, condemning Mr. Good, the city engineer's sidewalk construction on asphaltic basis, stating that it was purely experimental on Government Telegraphs, has rehis part, and very costly to the

I had been wondering just how long Mr. Good would have his po- provements on the telephone line sition as engineer, pefore someone began to criticize his work. It has never failed; that an engineer do ing three or four years' of satisactory work is trodden on and At the conclusion of the program | riticized, by those who have very tea was served. Mrs. Hinton poured ittle, if any, experience or know-

Mr. Good is no personal friend of mine, so this is not written in The hospital board, on recom- his behalf, but it seems to me that

Eagles Surprised by Advent of About Forty Visitors from Canada's Navy

Ladies turned out in force last night at the Eagles' dance and to meet the situation about forty sailors from the destroyer Vancouver were present and added zest to the occasion. To make the event more memorable balloons were passed around and plenty of fun

A feature of the occasion was the splendid luncheon served at midnight by the ladies, who provided the eats in place of paying an adnission fee.

Music was provided by the Premier Orcehstra, George Brooks was master of ceremonies and Ray Scherk was at the door. Dancing was continued from 9:30 to 1:30.

A. J. Edlund, foreman for the turned to the city after spending two weeks in charge of a crew of men which made considerable imbetween Port Simpson and Prince
