CITY HALL CONFUSED

Developments Come Thick and Fast in Seattle Municipal Affairs

SEATTLE, April 21.—Further developments came yesterday to further complicate the involved state of affairs at the City Hall where the municipal war still rages merrily between the rival factions. One of the day's developments was the allegation that George B. Avery, superintendent of public utilities, had offered to split $1000 with the former superintendent of transportation of a bus transaction. Another was the allegation by the president of the Citizens' Municipal Protective League, which is working for the recall of Mayor Edwards, that his telephone had been tapped.

During the day the city council refused to approve of Stirling B. Hill, the mayor's fourth nominee for the office of city light superintendent succeeding John D. Ross, who was dismissed last winter by the mayor. Significance was seen in a visit of the mayor's secretary to the King County Grand Jury that Edwards might lay additional charges against the deposed chief of the light department.

INTERESTING QUESTIONS

A number of interesting statements were read at the last meeting of the Rotary Club and the members were asked to vote on them as to their truth or falsity. Some of the statements were rather puzzling and we pass them on to the readers of this paper in order that they may, if they think wise, submit them to other organizations for a vote. Here they are:

- 1. It is impossible to employ the Golden Rule in all one's business and professional relationships with one's fellow men.
2. There is no satisfactory basis for co-operation amongst competitors in the same vocation.
3. Newspapers should, as far as possible, protect the public from false advertising.
4. It is ethical to advertise and sell one line of goods at or below cost in order to attract a crowd.
5. Rotarians should not buy from merchants whose business or social ethics are shady.
6. An employer has no responsibility for the encouragement and the assistance of his employees in thrift and self-advancement.
7. Teachers should aim primarily at the development of the individual pupil, rather than at the pupil's examination results.
8. The earning of large profits by an individual or firm (either salary or dividend) carries with it definite responsibility toward those who are paid less than a comfortable living wage—whether they be employees of the individual or firm, or unrelated in any way.
9. Canada should not bar products from another nation without giving considerable notice, if such prohibition is going to seriously affect a basic industry of such other nation.
10. Before any type of labor-saving machine is allowed on the market the government should anticipate and provide for resultant unemployment.

TRANSPORTATION COSTS

It is interesting to note what a great factor in prices transportation has become. In shipping wheat to Britain from the Canadian prairies the wheat pool gives the following figures:

- 1. Out-turn and marine insurance 1.00
2. Loading into boat at Montreal and ocean freight to Liverpool 6.00
3. Handling, brokerage, wharfage, etc., at Montreal 0.50
4. Lake freight Fort William to Montreal by all-water route, including vessel brokerage and terminal unloading charges 9.50
5. Lake insurance, out-turn and C.I.F. brokerage 0.75
6. Loading, inspection, weighing, Lake shippers' transfer, etc., at Fort William 1.50
7. Railway freight typical Saskatchewan point to Fort William 13.50
8. Average country elevator handling charges (average of consigned at 3c and Saskatchewan pool street spread at 4c) 3.50
Total cost of handling and shipping from country point to Liverpool 36.25
Liverpool price (March 31, 1931) per bushel No. 2 Northern, Atlantic April shipment 74.00
Net return to grower at country elevator 37.75

We are a race of sun worshippers. Note how we rejoice over the appearance of the "radiant orb" and how depressed we become in his absence.

Possibly that is why our girls are said to be sun worshippers.

Twenty Years Ago

April 21, 1911

At a mass meeting of workers in the Empress Theatre, W. H. Montgomery charged the police with preventing the laboring classes from getting a hearing. Walter Shaw declared that a plot had caused the Battle of Kelly's Cut, the working class being forced into it to suit the powers in the political game.

A forty-mile gale swept down on the city, windows were blown out, carts toppled over and the ladies were acted impolitely with. However, there was no very great damage.

A horse balanced itself on the parapet on Third Avenue when a delivery rig belonging to the Prince Rupert Fish Market went over a 12-foot cliff. The horse was finally extricated safely after a large crowd had gathered to witness the strange sight.

SPORT CHAT

Talk is heard that there may be neither football or baseball competition at least as far as the seniors are concerned in Prince Rupert, this season. Apparently, if this is going to be the case, it will be due largely to lack of interest or failure of preliminary organization. It is to be hoped that it does not turn out this way. It would not speak so very well of a town of this size—a town that sorely lacks clean outdoor sport at the best—that there should be either baseball or football competition lacking, much worse, if there is going to be neither.

Surely it would seem that there is enough material available with the help of juniors who have been coming along so well. It will soon be time—or is time now, for the annual meetings to be held. There should not be such a thing as no senior baseball or football in Prince Rupert until all efforts have been exhausted to organize the sports. They should not be allowed to fall for lack of interest—an interest which almost every citizen of the community could do worse than show.

A letter from Jack Roberts of this city urging the advantages of co-operative processing of salmon appears in the current issue of the British Columbia Fisherman. Mr Roberts advocates that the government should set aside a fund for loans to fishermen to enable them to process their own product.

MOURNING WARDROBE

"A death occurred in our family and I had to go in mourning. I could hardly afford to buy all black clothes, so decided to dye what I had. I consulted our druggist and he advised using Diamond Dyes. Everything came out beautifully; coats, wool dresses, stockings and all. I have since learned to appreciate the excellence of the black Diamond Dyes. I tried another black dye and the results were impossible. I had to get Diamond Dyes and do the work over. Recently I have tinted my curtains a beautiful raspberry shade and dyed a rug a lovely garnet with Diamond Dyes. They are real money savers—the finest dyes money can buy—I truly believe."

TRIP TO HEIGHT OF LAND PROVES INTERESTING IN CONNECTION WITH TALK OF PEACE RIVER OUTLET

Below the confluence of the Bear with its larger tributary the Sustut, which comes in from the north, the travellers left this valley and, after crossing the river on a raft, they started in the direction of Thutade Lake.

Little Known Country

They were now reaching country which is little known to the white men and about which fabulous tales have been told of "mountains of gold" and "mountains of copper." The big opening near the summit of the divide between Bear River (Skeena waters) and Thutade Lake (Finlay River's head) was passed on October 3 and Thutade Lake camp reached on October 4. This end of Thutade Lake is close to the mountains that form this divide and is a very spogy region, but the north-easterly end of the lake is getting more towards the open country.

Turning off to the north from Thutade Lake they followed an Indian trail for several days to reach Kitchener Lake on October 8. Here they found the headquarters of the nomadic Indian tribes called the Siceanics of whom about one hundred were seen altogether. They are hunting Indians who live almost entirely on game, principally the caribou, instead of fish like those farther to the south or west. They are very suspicious of white men coming into their hunting and trapping grounds and Chisholm was not slow in telling them that he came to see mineral deposits. They claimed to know of rich mineral finds farther to the north but Chisholm did not have time to go with them to see the showings.

It was now getting well into October and Leon George wanted to turn back but the white man urged him on. Northward they journeyed towards Two Brothers Lake and reached the high rolling plateau country that divides the Finlay from the Stikine River system. Here the timber is left behind for a bunch grass region that opens out for many miles to the north and east and makes wonderful grazing country for horses and for the many thousands of caribou which feed here. When made accessible by road or railway Mr. Chisholm thinks it will become a splendid stock raising area.

Mineral Indications

Mineral indications were seen too, but Leon George was unable to show the great mountains of gold and copper of which he was boasting when in Smithers and Hazelton. He showed the creek where wonderful placer gold deposits were said to be found. But the gold pan would show nothing but a few specks of flour gold, nothing worth working even if it had been close to the railway. They also went on to see the mountains of copper but these turned out to be nothing more than a little iron and copper stain. These were the wonderful finds that Gun-a-noot was supposed to have taken Stuart Henderson to visit, when Leon George was a member of the party. The camp-site where Henderson, Gun-a-noot and Leon George had camped when the mineral showings were being investigated was seen. They also saw the cabin of McClair, prospector-trapper who was supposedly murdered by the Indians in this region some years ago. If any mineral of value is to be found in the region, Leon George was not able to show it to Chisholm, despite

REPORT ON YARD HERE

Activities of Local Dry Dock in 1929-30 Reviewed in Government Publication.

In the fiscal year 1929-30, 163 vessels were docked, cleaned, painted and miscellaneous hull and engine repairs carried out in the Prince Rupert dry dock, according to the annual report of the marine department which has just come to hand. Four hundred and eighty-one vessels had miscellaneous hull and engine repairs not requiring docking.

Ship construction at the yard during the year consisted of one 67-foot packer for the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co., two 75-foot packers for the Island Packing Co., four 100-foot scows for the Vancouver Tug Boat Co. and one 41-foot troller for J. E. Eyoelsen.

Record Flight Made to Juneau

Pilot Ellis Lowers Former Record of Pilot Eckman Thirty Minutes

JUNEAU, April 21—A new airplane speed record between Seattle and Juneau, Alaska, was set during the week by an Alaska-Washington Airways passenger seaplane, when it made the flight in seven hours and forty minutes. The plane was piloted by Robert E. Ellis and carried five passengers.

The plane left Lake Union, Seattle, at 7 o'clock in the morning and exactly at noon landed at Ketchikan. One stop was made at Bella Bella, British Columbia, to replenish the fuel tanks. Staying at Ketchikan but a few moments for lunch, the party embarked again, and at 1:40 o'clock arrived at Juneau. The former record of eight hours and ten minutes was held by Pilot Ansel Eckman, of the same company.

It is expected that the new snagboat, built at the local dry dock for the federal government, will be completed and ready to be turned over in about a week's time.

Liberal Members Send Present to Premier's Sister

As prominent a bride as Mrs. W. D. Herridge, the former Mildred Bennett, could not be permitted to make her home in another country without numerous tokens of congratulations from her fellow countrymen and women which expressed themselves in the lovely wedding gifts she received.

The Liberal members from B. C. at Ottawa showed their appreciation of Ottawa's former official hostess by sending a handsome flower vase as a gift to the popular bride.

F. W. Renworth, assistant provincial manager of the Great West Life Assurance Co., after spending the past couple of weeks here and in the district on insurance business, sailed this afternoon by the Catala on his return to Vancouver.

Mrs. A. W. Power, 581 Jane St., Toronto, Ont., writes:—"Eight years ago I had a very serious illness. I had a bad attack of pleurisy and pneumonia and was six months in bed. This illness left me with a terrible cough. I tried several cough medicines, but they did not seem to have any effect. One day my mother brought me home a bottle of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and after I had taken several more I noticed my cough gradually leaving me. Since that time if ever my husband and children or myself have had colds I always get 'Dr. Wood's'." Price 35c. a bottle; large family size 65c.; at all druggists or dealers.

Why Not Build A New House Now?

The question of the condition of Prince Rupert from a housing point of view has been considerably discussed of late. For this reason the Daily News has made a few investigations with the result that it is found that most of the houses in the city are occupied and that the condition in that respect is just as healthy as it was a year ago. One man who owns fourteen houses and some apartments says he has them all rented and all the occupants are paying rent. The condition he considers is better than it was this time last year.

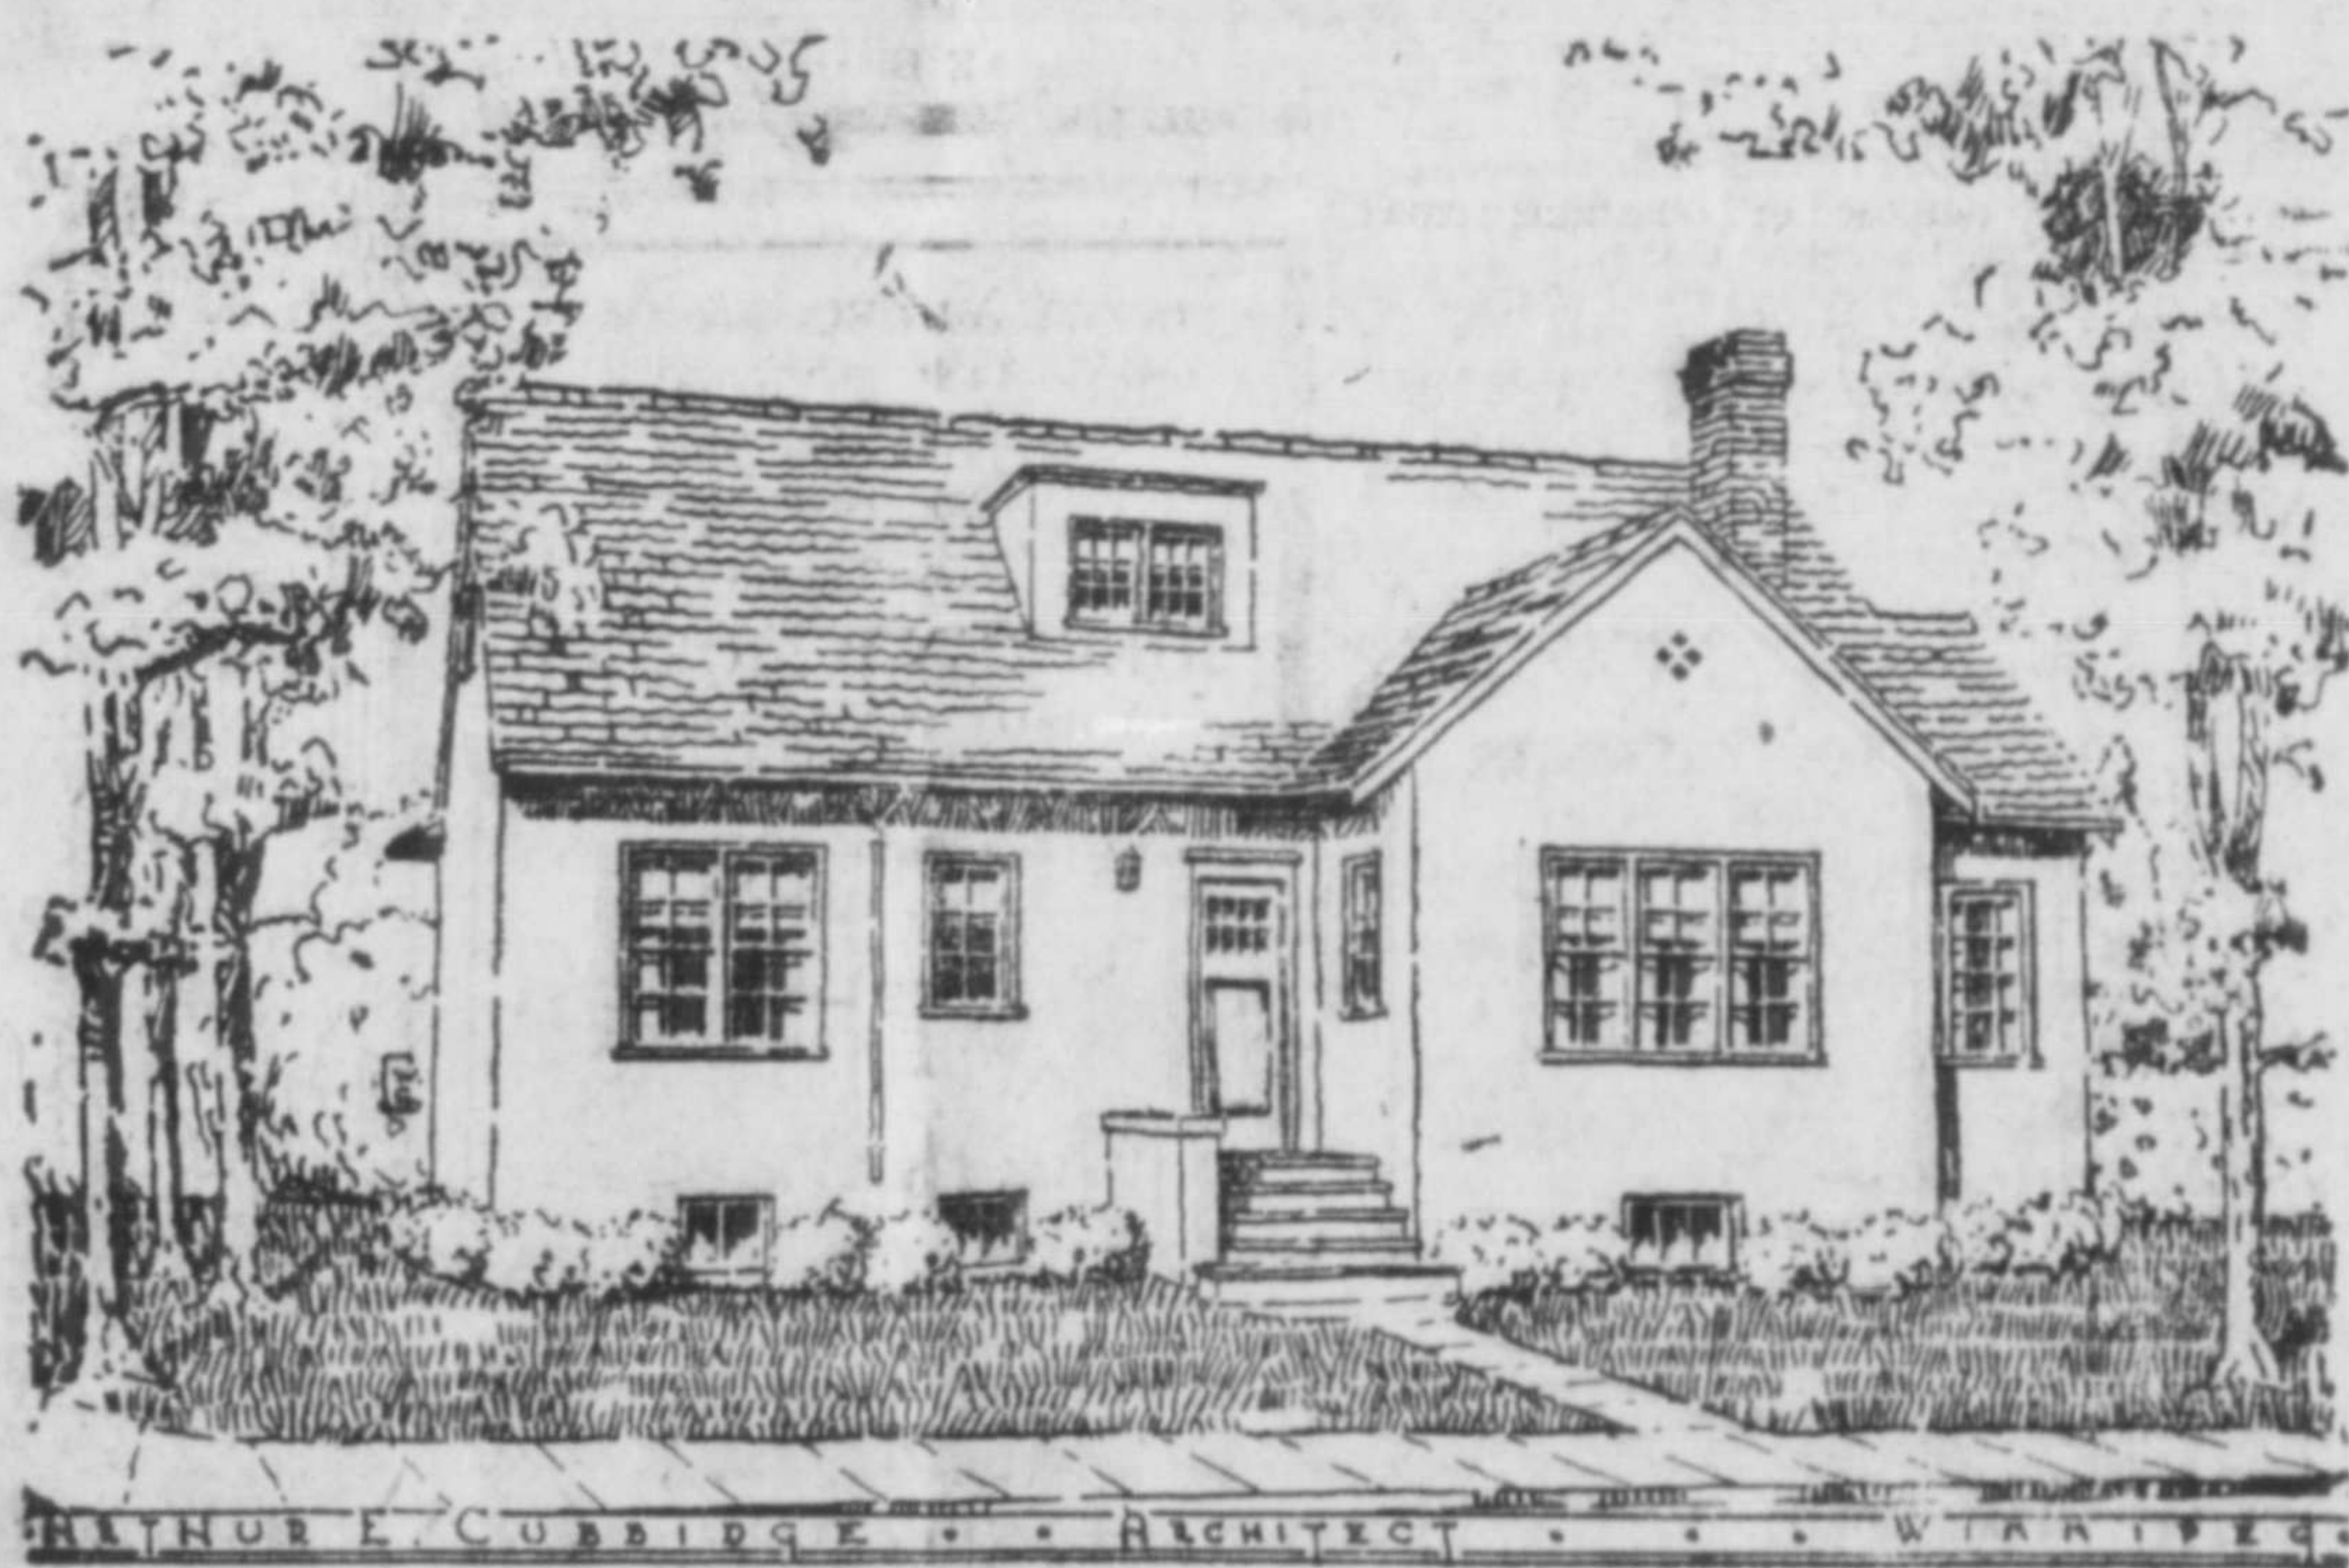

A local man advertised for a house, furnished or unfurnished, expecting that possibly some people might be going away who would be willing to sell out everything at a fairly good bargain. He states that he did not get one offer that he could begin to consider. Every owner who replied to his advertisement asked more than the place was worth and more for the furniture than he could buy it for piece by piece, in most cases twice its value.

If a person wishes to rent a nice little bungalow he finds a dozen others after the same place and sometimes two dozen. That seems to indicate that there is a demand for nice modern cottages or bungalows and that this is a suitable time to encourage house building.

Those who already have houses to rent must remember that if there is no building in the city, the men employed in the building trades must leave and that lessens the demand for buildings.

We suggest that the man who has been looking forward to some day owning his own home would do well to consider the present time to build.

AN ENGLISH STYLE SEMI-BUNGALOW

BY ARTHUR E. CUBBIDGE, ARCHITECT

THE last few years have witnessed great advancements in many spheres, but few are of more importance to the average man than the development of true comfort, beauty, and efficiency in the home. Ownership of a little house such as that here illustrated is the goal toward which thousands of people now aspire. They wish nothing more pretentious; realizing that efficiency and comfortable coziness are apt to suffer, while the type of simple beauty exemplified by this little bungalow is practically impossible to attain in larger houses. Although an exceptionally small floor area is occupied by the hall it is skillfully arranged to form the pivotal centre of this highly efficient plan. Notice how conveniently the tiled bathroom may be reached from each bedroom, the ease of communication between the kitchen and the stairs or front door, and we have but started to realize the advantage which this plan affords. Throughout the house the floors are of oak or maple, but the treatment of the walls and ceilings has been left to the owner's taste and discretion. On the attic floor are two good sized bedrooms and a linen closet, while provision is also made for a future additional bathroom. This whole floor, of course, could be finished as finances permitted should such a procedure appear desirable. The construction is sound and enduring and comprises concrete foundations, white stucco walls, and red slate shingle roof. These last two materials contrast yet harmonize in a very attractive manner. This house was actually built on a 60 foot lot but with its overall width of 38 feet, six inches, it is obvious that 50 feet would be ample. With hot water heating this home cost approximately $4,800, exclusive of lot. Readers desiring further information regarding the plans and specifications of this house should communicate with the architect direct. Address Mr. Arthur E. Cubbridge, 406 Boyd Bldg., Winnipeg, Manitoba. Copyright, 1927, MacLean Building Reports, Ltd. PRINCE RUPERT dealers can supply your house building needs.

FILMS ARE ENJOYABLE

Parent-Teachers' Association Has Interesting Meeting in Booth Memorial School

A display of films loaned by the Canadian National Railways drew a record attendance to the regular monthly meeting of the Prince Rupert Parent-Teachers' Association at the Booth Memorial School last evening. The films were entitled, "Down the Spanish Main," "The Triangle Tour" and "The Lake of Enchantment." The photography in all cases was of the very highest calibre and the choice of scenery was in every way admirable.

Probably the first one, dealing with the trips among the Bermudas and the West Indies was the most attractive in as much as it dealt with sub-tropical and tropical countries with their wealth of foliage, the native life and exquisite islands in sunlit seas. The commercial value of these islands to Canada was also well brought out. The well known triangle tour was particularly well shown and the views of the Lake of Enchantment centering around Maligne Lake will last as long as memory itself.

On the motion of Mrs. Blance, a very hearty vote of thanks was accorded the Canadian National Railways and the local representative, R. McNaughton, W. Cruickshank and W. Harold who operated the machine.

In the business meeting preceding, letters of thanks from the principals of the different schools for donations from the funds of the Parent-Teachers' Association were read. There is no definite word regarding a speaker from the University yet but if sufficient requests are received from various points in Central and Northern British Columbia, a speaker may be provided.

In view of the fact that there was still a substantial balance to the credit of the association, it was decided to increase the grants to the various schools and also to make donations to the home economics and manual training departments. An appeal was made by Mrs. D. McD. Hunter, president of the club, to the ladies to attend the Women's Canadian Club meeting to be held in the Commodore Cafe on Thursday afternoon. The subject will be dental hygiene.

Preliminary arrangements were discussed for the June tea and sale of home-cooking.

Mrs. R. Blance, president of the Parent-Teachers' Association, presided over the meeting, following which refreshments were served.
