It was stated at the meeting that, so far as the local railway employees were concerned, the most of them would rather see shorter hours of work and more men employed rather than letting the men outright.

District Agriculturalist Sees Great Future For Interior and City; Co-operation Is Advised

When Prince Rupert has a population of 100,000, the Bulkley Valley farmers will do a business of a million dollars a year with the city, prophesied S. S. Phillips, district agriculturalist, Smithers, in an address to the Rotary Club at its luncheon yesterday afternoon in the Commodore Cafe. Already the Bulkley Valley is selling $75,000 worth of milk and cream to the city each year and also supplying turkeys, beef, pork, potatoes and other farm produce. Anyone looking at the farm exhibits at the fair could easily see how this business could be increased. The people of the interior would like to see Prince Rupert grow and the city would like to see the interior country develop. This was the basis of co-operation.

Mr. Phillips said that any man who was willing to work hard and could secure a grubstake could make good in the central interior. If he farmed well he would be well off in a few years. Farmers as a class were the best off during this time of depression for, though they might not be getting much for their produce now, they were living pretty well and were continually improving their places. Last year was the only season in 20 years in which the farmers had come near a failure. They raised almost everything they needed. The $75,000 worth of milk sold in Prince Rupert was cash to farmers but, in producing this they were also doing general mixed farming. The skim milk went to the hogs or poultry.

THE FALL FAIR

While doubtless many local merchants were disappointed at the amount of business done during fair week, and some are questioning whether it was worth while or not, we do not think they should look at this annual event only from its financial aspect. As a public institution it has considerable educative value and its scope is capable of extension.

This year the display of flowers at the fair was a revelation to many. Some of the prize-winning blooms have been grown in miniature back yards and in small garden patches that are never seen by the general public. They are not the product of professionals but of amateurs who delight in their work. The flower show has been a means of making these flowers available to the people generally. One man remarked he did not know where all those fine flowers could come from but he might have also been informed that had all the flower growers taken an interest in the show there would have been twice as large a display as was seen this week.

FLOWER SHOW PROPOSED

Flower growers have been discussing the possibility of a flower show earlier in the season. It would be staged in one of the down town halls and would be devoted wholly to flowers and plants and might even include educative addresses and moving pictures of flowers. This would not interfere with the display at the fair as a month earlier quite a different lot of flowers would be in bloom. Early dahlias, asters, stocks, gladiolas and other flowers would be ready and the first crop of roses would be at their best. There would be a better chance of the weather being favorable and as the show would be devoted wholly to the one object, the people visiting it would not be feeling the call of the sideshows or the hot dog stand while inspecting the flowers. If staged the event would be under the auspices of the flower society.

It has been suggested that prizes might be awarded for the best kept gardens at the time of the show.

CALLING FOR TENDERS

The department of marine when it calls for tenders goes around like a thief in the night and announces its need in such a manner that the majority of people will not know about it. It posts up a notice in one or two so-called public places instead of putting the advertisement in the newspaper where it belongs and paying for it like any other respectable business person. It and the post office department are the worst offenders in this matter of paying for its publicity. It is doing a 1931 business in an eighteenth century manner.

This system of refusing to call for public tenders through the newspapers came in for condemnation in connection with the sale of boats by the department. The system was condemned by a public meeting of fishermen in this city. It leads to suspicion that some graft is going on and that the department wishes only its friends to know that tenders are asked. When a contract running into many thousands of dollars is asked it is hardly fitting to refuse to pay the modest fee that is charged for a small notice in the newspapers.

We do not blame the members of the government for this state of affairs. It is a departmental matter coming under the purview of A. Johnston, deputy minister of marine at Ottawa, who is the chief offender. No matter which government was in power, the department has been in the habit of doing this in the same manner, an underhand, secretive manner, that should not be tolerated in a democratic country. It is no wonder that the public is suspicious of governments when they do their business in that way.

HAZELTON BOYS LOSE AGAIN, 16-0

Lambie Held Opponents to Four Scattered Hits—Nelson Made Four Hits to Lead Batters

In the second game of the Fair Week series between Prince Rupert and Hazelton, the locals again shut their opponents out while they ran wild scoring 16 runs on the same number of hits and 11 errors.

Big Bill Lambie was on the hill and turned in a fine game, allowing four scattered hits and hitting one man. Jack Nelson was behind the plate for the locals and caught a snappy game, and led the batters with four hits, including a double.

The final game of the series is being played this afternoon with several of the younger city players on the lineup. Following is a short score of the game.

LOCALS WIN LACROSSE

Defeated Aiyansh 5 to 2 Yesterday In Rough Game

The second Aiyansh-Prince Rupert lacrosse game was won by Prince Rupert by a score of 5 to 2 yesterday, Rupert thus standing with a lead of three goals in two games.

Veterans and young subs sprung a surprise on the Indians, the former showing how the game ought to be played and the latter displaying an exhibition of speed.

From the face-off, Prince Rupert rushed, Clanton showing his heels to opposition to give the ball to Unger who drove in the first score.

In the second period Bill Gosnell went through on his own to make it four for Rupert. In the final period, Joe Gillis, a mere youngster, stick handled his way through to make Rupert's final score.

The Indians forced the play desperately, striving to pull the game out of the fire but the Rupert defence was not to be beaten.

Referees were J. Adams and Bill Macey.

Guide to Correspondents

The Daily News welcomes correspondence on live topics of the day or any other subject of public interest, but letters must be brief and to the point. The long-winded correspondent has no place in modern journalism.

Every letter must be signed by the writer, not necessarily for publication but as a matter of good faith and courtesy. All unsigned documents go to the waste paper basket. Letters of a caustic character must have the signature appended for publication.

Letters should be written on one side of the paper only. Correspondents must avoid personalities and the language should be such as would be allowed in the ordinary rules of debate.

DISTRICT AGRICULTURALIST SEES GREAT FUTURE FOR INTERIOR AND CITY; CO-OPERATION IS ADVISED.

The livestock industry, Mr. Phillips said, was holding its own. The valley had imported more pure bred sires than any other part of the province and now they were planning for the farmers to finish their stock instead of selling them at the close of the grazing season. In that way they would supply the very best beef.

The sheep industry had increased five hundred per cent in the past couple of years and very soon they would ask Prince Rupert people to demand Bulkley bred lamb for their tables. There was all kinds of natural feed for the sheep and they did well in the district.

Mr. Phillips also spoke of the raising and marketing of turkeys and other poultry of the pig and chicken clubs for young people, of the raising of timothy seed, the shipping of which this year he estimated would bring at least $40,000 of outside money into the district. The central interior had the produce for sale and they asked Prince Rupert to give them a chance for the local market when it was possible to fill it. Potato graders were being put in and although not yet organized for marketing they hoped to ship their produce to Prince Rupert. He made a plea for tolerance for the fruit growers of Terrace, the farmers of the Bulkley and all those in the interior who were looking to Prince Rupert as a market. Today some of the farmers looked upon the brokers as bandits but he knew many were not that. He told a story to illustrate how there might be faults on either side.

Concluding Mr. Phillips said he considered that co-operative marketing between Prince Rupert and the interior would be of more benefit than any government assistance they might secure.

At the conclusion Mr. Phillips was thanked for his able address by President George Munro. Other guests introduced were Mrs. E. P. Jenner, judge of women's work; H. F. Glassey, president of the fair board; Wiggs O'Neill of Smithers, and W. D. Smith, manager of the N. B. C. Power Co. Ltd. at Stewart.

GIRLS TIED IN CONTEST

Judges Unable to Decide Between Dora Heilbronner and Vivian Hickey in Beautique

There was a tie in the Beautique judging at the Fair Building last night between Miss Dora Heilbronner, candidate of the Gyrro Club, and Miss Vivian Hickey, representative of the Elks' Lodge, and, as a result, these two young ladies, with Miss Annie Boddie, Rotary Club candidate, 1st night winner, and Miss Pauline Furness, 2nd night choice, will go on this evening for the final judging by nine unknown selectors. The judging and coronation will be the principal feature of the big Beautique Ball which will bring the Fair to a close tonight.

Last night's program again included vaudeville turns by Giddy & Giddy, Adolphe Seretney and Miss Rita Delroy of Vancouver with splendid music by the Prince Rupert Boys' Band and Greenville Band rounding out the entertainment.

Again much interest was taken in the exhibits and the concessions operated by the Rotary and Gyrro Clubs received a good measure of play.
