More Looms Proposal Rejected; Quarter of Million Out of Work

Another 250,000 Will Have to Be Let Out Because There Will Be No Material For Them to Work With

MANCHESTER, Eng., Jan. 17.—Lancashire cotton mills were closed today against 250,000 weavers whose representatives flatly refused to accept "more looms per weaver," a system inaugurated by the mill owners. In addition to the weavers, another 250,000 spinners and members of the various finishing trades will be laid off shortly owing to lack of material. The lock-out has followed several weeks of negotiations between the mill owners and the weavers who failed to reach an agreement, neither side being willing to compromise. The mill owners declare that they must go out of business unless the weavers agree to work more looms each.

RAILWAY OPENING

Arrival of Northern Alberta Line at Dawson Creek, B.C. Duly Celebrated

The official celebration of the opening of the new Hythe-Dawson Creek extension of the Northern Alberta Railways in the British Columbia Peace River was held at Dawson Creek on Thursday of this week. There were many officials of both the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railways in attendance as well as representatives of governments and other bodies.

Dr. R. W. Alward, newly elected member of the legislature for Fort George riding, took part in the celebration. Dawson Creek is in his riding.

Regular passenger service over the new Hythe-Dawson Creek extension was inaugurated on Thursday.

BRISTOL IS SAFE SEAT

Labor Party Scored Big Victory Over Conservative and Liberal Candidates

BRISTOL, ENGLAND, Jan. 17.—The Labor party retained its stronghold in the constituency of East Bristol at the by-election yesterday. Sir Stafford Cripps, solicitor general, was elected, receiving over 7,000 votes more than the Conservative and Liberal candidates.

The result had been taken for granted as the seat was strongly Labor in the last three general elections.

Vice-Regal Party Left St. John Last Night—Mr. Justice Duff Is Named Administrator of Canada

ST. JOHN, New Brunswick, Jan. 17.—Lord and Lady Willington said goodbye to Canada last night and sailed on the steamer Montclair for England. As the liner left her berth at 9 p.m. and turned in the harbor, a salute of nineteen guns boomed across the waters, bidding official Godspeed to the vice-regal party.

OTTAWA, Jan. 17.—Mr. Justice Duff of the Supreme Court of Canada last night became administrator of the Dominion of Canada pending the appointment of a new Governor-General when the oath of office was administered to him.

New Lutheran Mission Boat

Above is a sketch of the proposed new mission boat of the Lutheran Church for service on the British Columbia and Alaska coast. The boat, which will be 54 feet, 10 inches long with capacity for four passengers, will be built either in Vancouver or Prince Rupert. Headquarters of the vessel will, it is expected, be in Prince Rupert. Rev. P. E. Foese of Bellingham, now in the city, will be in direct charge of the marine branch of the church's work. He has had much experience in other parts of the world in such work.

Big Missouri Mill Largely Of Experimental Nature Designed To Ascertain Best Ore Methods

The 100-ton pilot mill which has been established at the Big Missouri mine in the Portland Canal district by the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Co., is largely in the nature of a sampling mill, designed primarily to determine the values of the silicified ores of the property, the metallurgical aspects of the ores and the best methods for their treatment. In other words, the mill is largely of an experimental nature and, for the present, is not designed especially as a producer although, of course, it will produce concentrates.

The mill started operations on December 17 and was turning out concentrates before Christmas. The ratio of concentrates to ore has not yet been definitely determined. It is expected, however, that the ratio will be a good deal less than the ten to one ratio of the Premier mine whose ore is especially rich. The Big Missouri is likely to produce about one ton of concentrates to 50 tons of ore or, if 100 tons of ore were handled daily, there would be two tons of concentrates and so forth whatever period of time might be taken into consideration. These figures are only tentative.

Meantime, at least, it is understood that Big Missouri concentrates will go to Trail for smelting. The company will likely wish to make certain metallurgical tests at its own plant there.

The possibility is that the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Co. may add a cyaniding mill at the property for the production of bullion.

WILL PAY STUDENTS

Freedom From Financial Problems to Be Given Distinguished Scholars

BOSTON, Mass., Jan. 17.—Plans to gather a group of distinguished young students and relieve them of all financial worries for a period of three to six years in order that they may develop their talents for the benefit of art and science were set forth in the report for 1929-33 by President A. Lawrence Lowell of Harvard University. Following the example of European universities, Harvard will house and feed these students and even pay those who require additional financial assistance. The plan as applied to non-religious institutions is new in this country.

As those qualifying for the fellowship must not be over 25 and must have a doctor's degree, usually secured by students older than this, the young men selected must be unusually brilliant. They will live together in apartments already provided for, and an important part of their training will be their association with one another.

The practice of such fellowships was begun by Cardinal Wolsey of England about 1520, when he founded Christ Church at Oxford. His principle of providing food for the intellectuals and having them dine together, will be followed at Harvard. Prize fellowships at English colleges have produced a large number of distinguished men, commented President Lowell. One-half the British winners of the Nobel prize had been holders of such fellowships at Trinity College, Cambridge, England.

"We hear so much about co-operation in research, and that is good in working out well-defined problems, which requires great labor and often the collaboration of different specialists," stated President Lowell. "But it is not all. It aids in solving difficult and intricate problems; yet it does not touch the greatest of all contributions to thought, that of discovering a wholly new problem to be solved. This, like a work of art or literature, is essentially the creation of a single brain. To select men capable of this, to set them at work in surroundings most adapted to entice and fructify imagination, is certainly worth while if it can be done."

"The plan would be to have the prize-men selected in any subject by a body of older fellows eminent in various fields, upon evidence of remarkable promise; to provide them with ample stipends, and appoint them for three years with a reappointment for three more if their work in the first term justified the renewal."

Since most of the suggestions made in the annual report of the president are put into effect when the university opens in September, it is believed that September will be the beginning of the experiment.

Whether or not the students will take examinations in their work has not been announced. Since they can have no higher degree than the one they possess when beginning the plan, their work will probably be judged in the light of original research.

Hundreds of Tons of Sulphuric Acid Spill But Effects Stopped

Three Persons Killed By Falling Chimneys In Storm and Marine Traffic Badly Tied Up By Gale

LONDON, Jan. 17.—A violent storm which raged over Great Britain and the continent last night abated today after causing considerable property damage. The roof of the Claudon-on-Tyne chemical factory was ripped off, spilling hundreds of tons of sulphuric acid, but employees hurriedly neutralized the acid, preventing what undoubtedly would have been serious consequences as it spread through the neighborhood.

Three persons were killed by falling chimneys and signs. Marine traffic was badly tied up by the gale.

PRICE WAR ON LIQUOR

One Syndicate Tipping off Coast Guard as to Movements of Other. Theory Advanced

HALIFAX, Jan. 17.—The possibility of a war to extinction between two syndicates, which have elevated the game of beating the Eighteenth Amendment to the sphere of big business, is seen here in the capture by the United States coastguard within the last two months of seven rumcarriers, all of them, incidentally built in Nova Scotia yards or registered in provincial ports. Bad weather forcing the boats in for shelter, and an extra patrol during the holiday season, are not sufficient, in waterfront opinion, to explain the remarkable success of the enforcement cruisers in snaring the speedy supply craft. The coastguard, the theory is, are being used as a weapon by one syndicate against the other, following initiation of a price-cutting contest.

The Mazel Tov, of Lunenburg, was the first seizure in the present series. She carried 403 sacks of liquor and was taken on November 2. Twenty-one days later the Good Luck yielded 501 cases. She was built in 1930 and carried a steel-plated deckhouse. The Maskingine, biggest of them all, fitted with a high powered wireless and smoke-screens, was taken into Providence on December 17, with 1,600 cases on board. The Shanalum with a big Christmas load was towed into New York a day or so later. The Audrey B. of LaHave, had her hull battered by three one-pounders before she surrendered on Christmas Day to the destroyer Nemaha. Coastguards found 2,800 sacks of liquor on board the Elnor Joan, at Greenport, L.I., on December 28. And on the last day of the month the Radio 11, of Shelburne, was brought into Boston by the patrol boat Active, after several rounds of shot were fired.

Whether or not a rum war has been declared, that two months period of coastguard success has cost the men behind the trade, in vessels and cargo, at least $1,000,000.

RICH OIL DEPOSITS

British Columbia Has Acquired These by Taking Over Peace River Block

VICTORIA, Jan. 17.—Rich new resources of coal, gas and minerals, in addition to the vast agricultural and timber lands, have been added to the future wealth of British Columbia by acquisition of the Peace River block, it has become apparent since the inception of a survey of the area undertaken by the provincial government in association with the two large transcontinental railway systems. While detailed reports of the surveys which were under the direction of Major C. R. Crysedale have not yet been presented, indications pointing to important discoveries in the lands recently ceded to British Columbia from federal control have been brought to the attention of the provincial authorities, it is understood.

FUR FARMS NUMEROUS

VICTORIA, Jan. 17.—There are in British Columbia over 360 fur farms scattered all over the province. Most of them are devoted to raising foxes, but a few specialize in other species such as beaver, marten, mink, muskrats and racoons. At the end of 1929 there were 3,600 foxes reported, 63,000 muskrats, 1,900 mink, 120 beaver, 110 marten and 138 racoons. These farms are scattered from the south of Vancouver Island to north of Prince George. With its many sheltered valleys and varieties of climate the province is considered to be well adapted for fur farming.

DAILY EDITION Saturday, Jan. 17, 1931.

THIS IS THE REASON

What did we tell you? You have sold the best paying utility the city had and where are the promised industries? This is what we have heard recently from several local people.

In answer, we suggest those who do not see immediate results exercise a little patience. Rome was not built in a day and it will take years to build Prince Rupert. We are just as satisfied as ever that the city did the right thing in disposing of its power plant. In the first place the city would have found it difficult if not impossible to raise two million dollars for a new plant such as the one that has been built at Falls River. In the second place, even if the plant had been built by the city, it would have had no financial backers to make it a paying proposition. Money for building would have been borrowed at about six per cent and the income would have paid less than three per cent on the outlay. The city would have had to pay annually the other three per cent out of general revenue, which would have been a very considerable burden.

THE BRIGHT SIDE

The bright side of the present situation is this. The men who have their money in Prince Rupert are men with vision who see a great future for the city and port. They realize that while they must take a loss today they will be able to turn it into profit before very long. To this end they will work and while we in Prince Rupert are quietly reposing and hoping, they will be working to bring about the condition on which their future profits depend.

Profits may be terrible, as our friends the socialists suggest, but they will help us. The vision of future profits will bring about activity here as sure as the fact that the sun will rise tomorrow. This is the bright side of the picture and in the meantime Prince Rupert has an excellent power supply with no danger of a present shortage. Under these conditions why should we not be optimistic.

Hoist Ship Through Window

When it was decided to exhibit in a London department store for the Christmas season, the historic half-ton water-line model of the Canadian Pacific super-liner "Empress of Britain" which had been featured a few weeks previously in the Lord Mayor's Show, it was found necessary to lift the model about thirty feet in the air so that its great size might be safely admitted to the department store by an upper window. The photographer has caught the scene just as the model is entering the window. Traffic was blocked for an hour during the hoisting of the model, which was carried out with complete success.

Says Prince Rupert Will Continue to Progress Steadily Along Path of Prosperity

As a result of the recently published power number of the Prince Rupert Daily News the Montreal Gazette has written a lengthy editorial article about the port under the heading "Power for Prince Rupert" as follows:

"Prince Rupert, which received its name little more than a quarter of a century ago, and which was incorporated as a city in 1910, has formally opened a new hydro-electric power plant, in which the citizens are taking great pride. The Daily News of that city on the Pacific Coast, which serves northern and central British Columbia, has issued a special power number, which describes in detail the big undertaking, instituted at a cost of $2,000,000. The company concerned is the Northern British Columbia Power Company, Limited, which is prepared to supply any amount of power up to 100,000 horsepower. It is declared that the plant is capable of providing sufficient power not only for the city and district as they are today, but has resources calculated to meet the needs of Prince Rupert when it has attained the dignity of a large manufacturing city and a seaport trading with all the countries of the world. There is no limit to the possibilities, it is asserted. Electric power is being generated at Falls River, brought to the city by cable a distance of forty miles, crossing the Skeena River by means of steel towers, and so distributed to the consumers. In accordance with its contract, the company has commenced to erect ornamental street lighting standards, which will be picturesque as well as serviceable. The power dam is of solid concrete, designed as a gravity section, flood discharge being provided for by a spillway 187 feet long and two sluice-gates, each 20 by 20 feet. The penstock is a riveted steel pipe six feet in diameter and 765 feet long. The powerhouse is a reinforced concrete structure, the foundations of which extend to a depth of 24 feet below normal tail-water level. This Falls River plant, the first of a series, will itself develop 32,000 horsepower.

"The Daily News publishes some facts about Prince Rupert which show that the company is justified in establishing its electrical enterprise there. The city is the terminus of the Canadian National Railway, and is the nearest point in British Columbia to the Orient. It is the centre of the Pacific halibut and salmon fishing business, and also of extensive mining and lumbering operations. The harbor is a fine one, open all the year round, and boasts the largest fish cold storage plant in the world. There is a modern dry-dock and shipbuilding plant and the grain elevator has a capacity of 1,250,000 bushels. In the neighborhood are twenty salmon canneries, several wholesale houses, export fish houses, retail shops, railway shops, fine modern retail stores, abattoir, mills, etc. The city has good hotels and restaurants, a high school with first-year university classes, four public schools, seven churches, clubs and other social institutions.

"Premier Tolmie, in a message of congratulation, expressed the belief that the power plant would have a far-reaching effect on the industrial development of the city and territory, and said that the development indicated a very high confidence in Prince Rupert as a gateway to the great northern area of British Columbia. Mayor Orme, who had the honor of turning on the power, expressed similar sentiments, and the Daily News pointed out that men of wealth and influence now recognize Prince Rupert as an important point with a great future. Altogether, the big power event brought forth evidences of pride and faith in the community and its future. The advances in a quarter of a century from a wilderness post to a prominent trading centre is a record worth noting, especially at the present time. Like the rest of Canada, Prince Rupert will continue to progress steadily along the path of prosperity. The enterprise and industry of its citizens are assurance of that."

Father Charles Webb, O.M.I., parish priest here for the Roman Catholic Church, sailed last evening on the Princess Alice for a trip to Vancouver.

NEWS OF THE MINES AROUND PRINCE RUPERT

Woodbine May Join Up With Premier Extension—On Silver King Business—Big Demand For Telkwa Coal

Given almost three years' additional time to fully explore the ground, Woodbine Gold Mining Co. has renewed an agreement with Charles H. Lake for the property acquired from Mr. Lake and associates and is now entering upon a deal which, it is said, may result in the consolidation of Premier Extension with Woodbine. This was announced by Hugh McGuire, managing director of the Woodbine, before he left the coast a few days ago to conclude negotiations in the east with Premier Extension interests. The renewal of the Lake agreement was in accordance with the wishes of eastern interests associated with Woodbine which are now prepared to proceed with the Premier Extension consolidation. The Extension deal would give the Woodbine all the ground between the Indian and the Premier, sweeping from the Big Missouri ridge southward, following the ore zone that has made Premier famous.

TALKS ON POLITICS

By-Elections in British Columbia Are Discussed By Vancouver Province

In British Columbia, at this season, when the last of the turkey has gone into high, there comes a touch of politics in the air, says the Vancouver Province editorially. It is one of our own local signs of the New Year, and this year, as ever, it is infallible. News from the provincial capital these days is full of political intimation and conjecture. Colonel Cy Peck, Y.C., is resigning in The Islands; and who will succeed him there? There is a by-election campaign on in Fort George; and Mr. Pattullo's Grand Old Party of the opposition has washed its hands of it. There is a terrible storm brewing about Beer; and Beer, it is darkly hinted, will flow in the Legislature—but not, God bless our souls, as a social beverage. Also, there are rumors that Hon. Finance Minister Jones, surveying the fiscal scene has made up his mind to drastic public economies, and that he may even propose doses for us which are bound to be unpleasant for almost everybody but Mr. Pattullo, who regards unpleasantness as the chief characteristic of any rascally Tory government.

For the moment, the by-elections are the thing. Fort George is in the throes of it, with a Conservative and an Independent campaigning in the wild north country just south of "Sixty," and with Mr. Pattullo washing his hands of the whole business. His self-denying abstention, as we understand it, is taken on the high grounds that (a) January is no time to hold elections in those parts, and that (b) the by-election was sprung, in the most unscrupulous Tory manner, while he was on his vacation back east. But Mr. Pattullo will make no self-denying ordinance in The Islands. Col. Cy Peck, now serving in his new job as a member of the soldiers' pensions appeal tribunal, is giving up his old constituency, and a three-cornered fight is threatened, and Mr. Pattullo sees the light of a great hope to redeem the memory of North Vancouver, where the wrong-headed electorate voted for the wretched government, and to forget the outrage of Fort George, where the Grand Old Party sternly washed its hands.

These adventures and excursions will pleasantly occupy our political minds for the next three or four weeks, and then, when the Ides of February are come, we shall have the session, and the full rigor of the annual game at Victoria. We have not yet been told that it is going to be a short session, but that forecast is bound to come, and is just as bound to be falsified by the event. Two weighty issues will greatly occupy the statesmanship of British Columbia, according to all present indications, and one of them will be

B. F. Messner left Smithers this week for Vancouver on business in connection with the Silver King mine in the Babines. While in Vancouver, he will also make arrangements for holding the annual meeting of the Lorraine Mining Co.

There has been a demand for coal equal to the supply and the bunkers at the Telkwa mine have been kept empty by several trucks making the haul from the mine to Smithers. Shipments to outside points have also been made and in the development work necessary it has been difficult if not impossible to get a surplus.

Moose Whist Drive and Dance Success

Some 150 Persons in Attendance at Enjoyable Affair Held Last Night

The whist drive and dance held last night by the Moose Lodge proved a very enjoyable affair. About 150 persons were in attendance during the evening.

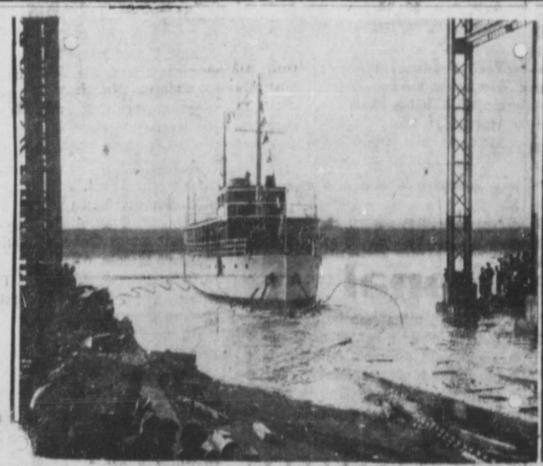

Prize-winners at whist were: Ladies' first, Miss M. Dent; second, Mrs. E. J. Large; third, Mrs. Cecil Rose; men's first, Godfrey Brochu; second, C. R. Biggart and Percy Smith.

After cards, delicious refreshments were served with P. O. Peterson and Abe King in charge. Dancing then followed until the early hours of the morning, splendid music being furnished by the Premier Orchestra.

W. B. McCallum was master of ceremonies for whist and Gillis Royer for the dance. J. M. Morrison presided at the door and Hans Langholm was in charge of a clock checking room. The committee consisted of Andrew McDonald, Peter Peterson, N. S. K. Brewer, and V. E. Peterson.

Finance and the other will be Beer. Probably, as is the way of legislative sessions, other burning questions will arise, and other crises will powerfully engage our emotions; but certainly it looks now like high times about Finance and about Beer. Hon. Finance Minister Jones, under the stern eye of Mr. Pattullo, will explain—if it is explicable to mortal legislators—the virtues of financial retrenchment and reform. And the government, locked in deadly combat with the brewers, will take a strong line on Beer.

Altogether, that is to say, politics as usual in the glad New Year!

THE "BEAUTY" THAT MIGHT HAVE BEEN!

NOTHING is sadder than a girl who just misses being beautiful. Often the reason is simple—improper elimination.

The poisons from constipation often cause pimples, sallow skin, dull eyes—headaches and even serious disease.

But every girl can banish the evils of constipation by eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN regularly. Its bulk sweeps the system clean.

Two tablespoonfuls daily are a wonderful health prescription. Try it with milk. Add fruits or honey. Delicious when combined with canned peaches. ALL-BRAN is non-fattening.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

Congratulated For Having Undervest

TORONTO, Jan. 17—One of the city's leading doctors, examining a girl for symptoms of bronchitis, was heard to say in joyful tones, "You've got an undervest on! young woman. I congratulate you! You're the first sick woman I've seen this winter who admits she's worn such a thing. That's why I get 'em, you see!

"Another thing I noticed in my patients' conversation amused me the other day. Two women happened to mention 'petticoats,' and the daughter of one, a girl of 15, said: 'What is a petticoat, Mum? And she wasn't dumb, either.'"

ISLAND COAL GOOD COAL

BIG LUMPS AND LITTLE LUMPS

MANY people, when ordering coal, will specify "all large lumps." Consequently, the dealer, being anxious to please, has to screen and pick his coal on arrival from the mines. The result is that he has often only a narrow market for small lumps, and to offset this, he must charge a higher rate for large lumps.

Large lumps or small lumps . . . of either Nanaimo-Wellington or Comox Coals . . . have identically the same heat value. Thus by demanding large pieces, the consumer forces the dealer to charge more. Furthermore, if your coal is too large to go into your furnace door, it has to be broken up. This process turns a certain amount of the fuel into dust . . . a further loss if you have paid extra for large lumps! Another thing, large lumps in your furnace mean large air pockets, which by the draught they create, carry the heat up the chimney. More out-of-pocket loss!

It always pays to buy "Nanaimo-Wellington" or "Comox" Coal, just "as is." They contain more heat per dollar and are the most economical fuels for either domestic or industrial requirements.

Patronize these dealers. They are all reliable merchants. They are big employers of labor and they will also be glad to show you why it will pay you to support Home Industry.

VANCOUVER WHEAT

VANCOUVER, Jan. 17—Wheat was quoted on the local Exchange today at 54c.

QUESTION OF READJUSTMENT

A condition of affairs exists throughout Canada and the world which appears difficult to solve. However, there is one thing upon which all people agree, and that is that an adjustment of costs of commodities must be made. As an illustration: with the present price of wheat a readjustment in the price of bread should be considered. The same is true of other necessities of life and materials.

All of which leads up to the fact that ALBERT & McCAFFERY, LIMITED, are prepared to adjust the price of any material they have for sale. If the price of coal is lowered we will also lower our price. The prices of many building materials have been changed, and we are prepared to change our prices.

If interested in the above, call or phone 116 or 117, Albert & McCaffery Ltd. (15)

PRINCE GEORGE

Weather in Prince George has been considerably cooler during the past week with a minimum thermometer reading of two above zero. At that, it is a great deal milder than is usual at this time of year.

All offices were contested at the civic election here Thursday, interest centering in the fight for the mayoralty between Mayor Patterson and Ald. J. H. Johnson, ex-mayor.

The Prince George Athletic Association offered to rent the proposed new sports and games building here from the city at a yearly rental of $40. Curling rentals would be in addition to this. The bylaw, however, was turned down.

The following are principal 1931 officers of the local Rebekah Lodge: noble grand, Miss Ruth Douglas; vice-grand, Mrs. Peterson; recording secretary, Mrs. J. F. Abbott; treasurer, Miss Callum; warden, Mrs. Gillingwater; conductor, Miss Pearl McInnis. Principal officers of the Oddfellows' Lodge are: noble grand, D. G. Fraser; vice grand, Wesley Clark; warden, Jim Baker; conductor, J. Clapperton.

With five polls to hear from, latest figures for the recent provincial by-election in Fort George riding gave Dr. R. W. Alward, Conservative, 142 to 690 cast for his opponent, C. P. Deykin, Farmer-Labor candidate.

The Prince George chapter of the Model Aircraft League of Canada resumed activities with a meeting last night. Many local boys are enrolled in the organization.

The death occurred this week of Matt Vensky, a member of the local Eagles' Lodge. His funeral took place yesterday under the auspices of the lodge.

Benny Wendle Knocks Out Billy Bagshaw With Stiff Left Clout In Fourth Round; Was Fine Card

Benny Wendle, local welterweight, defeated Billy Bagshaw, also of Prince Rupert, with a knockout in the fourth round of their scheduled 10-round bout last night at the Empress Social Club Arena. Going into the fourth with a good lead on points, Wendle launched a solid left drive to the chin which put Bagshaw down for the count. Wendle fought very carefully during the entire bout and made Bagshaw miss repeatedly. In the first round, the referee warned Benny for hitting low when his glove glanced down off Bagshaw's. Both boys started slowly with Bagshaw forcing a little toward the end of the round. It was a good draw.

SPORT CHAT

The annual winter carnival at The Pas, Man., will be held the week commencing March 2nd with the internationally famous 200-mile non-stop dog derby, starting on the historic banks of the Saskatchewan river on March 3. The course again will be from the Pas to Flin Flon and return. Organization into committees was effected last week and the men named will start work at once towards making the derby one of the most colorful in the annals of the entire north.

Entries in the Carnival Queen contest are expected from Winnipeg, Saskatoon, Regina, Flin Flon and Sheridon, as well as The Pas. Already seven mushers have indicated their intention of racing in the 200-mile non-stop dog race. For the first time in the history of the dog race in this country a woman, Miss Thula Gee'an, famous woman musher from McCall, Idaho, will face the starters' gun. She has established a remarkable record in the middle west states as a dog racer, and has victories over a score of men drivers to her credit.

Leonard Seppala, probably the greatest American musher of the day, is likely to enter this race for the first time. Last year he had hoped to compete, but his dogs were not in condition for the long race. Others in the race will be Emile St. Godard, winner in the major races at Ottawa, New Hampshire, and Quebec last year; Earl Brydges, defending champion; Kenneth Brydges, Earl's younger brother, racing in the major event for the first time; Sam Pranteau, a veteran of northern trails; and Hector Campbell of Flin Flon.

DO YOU TAKE AN INTEREST IN THE FASHIONS OF 1931?

WITH which we make bold to remind The Men there are fashions in radios, razors, automobiles and fountain pens as well as wearing apparel.

Most women appreciate the authenticity of the fashion news—in regard to silhouettes, coming frills, passing fancies, and the colorful details of the mode—to be found daily in the advertisements. Fashions these days are not confined to clothes. Automobiles, interior decorations, table service, vacations, even breakfasts are more satisfying, if, to use the word of the thirties, they are SMART.

Advertisements are continually chronicling the fashions that are smartest. Advertisements keep you informed of the mode in merchandise of all kinds. Advertisements are full of information about the new ideas that make Canadian life what it is today.

If you are interested in better living, you are bound to find the advertisements worth while!

TO TRADE WITH FIJI

AUCKLAND, N.Z., Jan. 17.—The decision of the legislative council of Fiji to seek a reciprocal agreement with Canada to the exclusion of Australia and New Zealand is causing some concern in New Zealand. Efforts are now being made by the New Zealand government to come to an understanding with its tropical neighbor.

Interest in Fiji in the trade position between Canada and Fiji was awakened in June last when the Canadian Trade Commissioner in New Zealand, M. Croft, whose territory also includes Fiji, paid a visit to Suva and addressed business men and planters there on the advantages to be gained by Fiji as a result of increased trade with Canada.

Last year's trade returns showed that Fiji purchased from Australia goods valued at £543,963, while that country bought from Fiji only £52,691. The position with New Zealand was better, Fiji purchases totaling £140,418 while New Zealand took goods to the value of £202,797. But while Canada bought goods to the value of £546,489, Fiji purchases totalled only £84,822. Australia, whom Fiji treated best, treated her worst.

"How long," asked members in the Fiji legislature, "was Canada going to be content to buy from us and receive comparatively nothing in return?" In lumber, it was said, preference to Canada could well be given.

In order to protect its own banana and sugar industries, Australia had shut out these commodities from Fiji by high tariff rates. Sugar, bananas and copra are Fiji's chief exports and fears were expressed in the council that a heavy blow to the colony's sugar industry would result if Canada, tiring of such a "hit and miss" trading policy were to establish a definite preference system with the West Indies.

In supporting the motion Sir Maynard Hedstrom considered that greater preference should be given Canada for her salmon as most of the Fiji supplies came from there. Canada, he thought, would not be so keen to tax raw products, but might give them preference on copra. Other members spoke in support of the motion and eventually it was decided to appoint a committee to go into the matter of concluding a customs tariff of reciprocal with some part of the Empire, preferably Canada.

Merchants in Auckland, the city that figures most prominently in the Fiji trade, are inclined to view the latest development with some concern. When the matter was brought before the attention of the Auckland Chamber of Commerce, the president immediately called a meeting of his executive, which promptly referred the matter to the department of trade and industry for a report.

Government officers replied that negotiations are now being entered into with Fiji with a view to furthering trade relations between the two countries.

In Fiji, however, popular opinion favors Canada as a more desirable source of trade. As was pointed out in the discussion in the legislative council, New Zealand was a small Dominion and could take only two-thirds of Fiji's sugar production and only one-third of its bananas.

"If we are to have a trade agreement let us have one with a Dominion that could take all." This remark by one of the members is a representative opinion of the business community of Fiji.

Motherwell Discusses Salmon Situation—Spring Salmon and Herring Running—Halibut Fishing to Start February 15

There is really no world salmon surplus for 1930, Major J. A. Motherwell, Chief Supervisor of Fisheries for British Columbia, announces, publishing final statistics for the year's salmon operations along the coast. Though the British Columbia pack exceeded the 1926 record by 157,000 cases, the world pack is 423,100 cases under its record. Japanese and Russian packs, which are always disposed of first because of their lower prices, have moved freely into consumption and should not interfere with the free marketing of the Canadian product.

It is expected that large sales will be made in France. Dealers have bought more slowly this year than usual, and early sales have been less; but an upward trend in sales is expected soon. An extreme advertising campaign during the year has cleared away large quantities of salmon, and the effort to dispose of stocks has been assisted by grants from the Dominion government. Indications are that the sockeye pack in 1931 will be considerably less than last year, and that the run of pinks will not amount to less than 50% of the 1930 run. Since 1926, sales of British Columbia salmon have been extended materially in such markets as Australia, New Zealand and Italy. Information is available to the effect that one of the largest B. C. companies sold more sockeye in the United Kingdom in the fall of 1930 than in the whole of 1929.

Return to Ocean Falls

The provincial police cruiser P. M. L. 4, which has been here for several weeks, will soon be returning to her post down the coast, it is expected. The skipper of the P. M. L. 4, Corp. Stone, has been engaged in relief duty here.

Mr. and Mrs. Len Weaver returned to town on the Flying Spur on Thursday from a trip down the coast as far as Lowe Inlet. They are spending a good deal of the winter here. Len Weaver is a well known fur buyer.

Pacific Salvage Co.'s power cruiser P. M. L. 2, Capt. Bill Williscroft, was due back on Thursday night after a 10-day trip to various waterpower sites in the district with T. Herman of the Dominion water power and hydrometric service. Warke Canal and other points were visited by Mr. Herman on the P. M. L. 2.

Leaving Tuesday morning for Falls River with a cargo of stores for the power plant, Pacific Salvage Co.'s service boat Pachena returned to port next afternoon. The vessel brought in a crew of five local men who had been spending since last summer at Falls River cutting logs in the new flooded area behind the Power Corporation's dam. The logging outfit was also brought back.

After having been under charter for a year to the Power Corporation of Canada for use in connection with the Falls River hydro-electric plant construction work, the power tug Billmor has been returned to its owners, the Pacific Salvage Co., here. Immediately on her arrival, the Billmor was taken on the pontoons at the dry dock for propeller and other repairs. The vessel is now moored at the company's floats. During her charter to the Power Corporation, the Billmor was skippered by Capt. Lorne Peck.

Leaves For Massett

Having been called over to pick up a sick man and bring him to town, the Royal Fish Co.'s packer Jedway, skippered by Capt. Johnny Hartlin, left Thursday night for Massett. The vessel was expected back today from the islands with the patient.

Early January has seen the start of the spring salmon and herring runs around Prince Rupert. Otherwise, winter fishing is continuing quiet.

There have been no cod fishing boats out since early December when the Metlakatla boat Wolf got into trouble near Lucy Island, the two members of the crew, Henry Rudland and Pete Laporte Jr., being caught in a squall and blown out to sea, having never been seen since. The Wolf had been fishing for the Bacon Fisheries and other boats had planned going out but the tragedy dampened the spirits of all and no further boats went out.

Capt. Ralph Green arrived in Prince Rupert last Saturday with the first fresh herring catch of the season to be landed at the port. The load, brought in on the Eleanor Mac, consisted of 4,000 pounds. The fish were caught by gillnet in Portland Canal. Green is expected back today with another load, there having been no intervening landings. Gammon & Watt's seineboat is prospecting for herring at Pearl Harbor and other seining grounds. It may be a few weeks before herring seining gets in full swing.

Spring salmon are now being caught by Port Simpson natives in waters around their town. The fish are of excellent quality but, so far, there have been no more fish available than were needed at Port Simpson. During the past week Bill Tate, hand troller, was the high man with three fish in a day. Others have been catching one and two. Quite a number of native boats are engaged in fishing.

Few if any boats are fishing crabs but the seiner Provincial, Capt. Claude Lee, left this week for Winter Harbor in the Naas River area and intends to fish crabs there if sufficient quantities are offering.

Continual unpleasant rainy and windy weather has been mitigating somewhat against fishing operations for the past few weeks. The possible reward has hardly been attractive enough to tempt anyone to go out and face such uncomfortable weather as has been prevailing.

Start Fishing February 15

As far as can be learned at the present time, halibut fishermen are intending to start 1931 fishing operations on February 15, the legal date for the opening of the season instead of waiting until March 1 as it was mutually agreed to do at the opening of the 1930 season. This experiment did not prove a great success last year and many of the boats never recovered from the trips and, possibly, the money they lost by not starting at the appointed date. It will be February 1 before preparations for the season's fishing operations commence to any extent.
