IS FASTEST TRAIN YET

Afternoon Express from Swindon to Paddington Hits Up Nearly 70

LONDON, Sept. 30.—"On and after September 14 the Great Western Railway will schedule its afternoon express from Cheltenham to London to run the 77.3 miles from Swindon to Paddington in 57 minutes, equal to an average of 69.2 miles an hour from start to stop, and making the train without question the fastest in the world," says a correspondent of The Times.

"It is many years since it was first demonstrated that express trains could be regularly scheduled, on suitable tracks, at well over 60 miles an hour, including the time lost by stopping and starting and a reasonable number of delays en route. In the United States, as long ago as 1900, the 55½ miles between Camden (Philadelphia) and Atlantic City were covered daily by four trains of the Philadelphia and Reading Company (two in each direction) in 50 minutes. This gave an average speed of 66.6 miles per hour and was equivalent to running from London to Brighton in three quarters of an hour. At the same date the competing Pennsylvania company scheduled its 59 miles between the same two stations, also in each direction, in 55 minutes, or at 64.3 miles per hour, and there were several other runs in the United States at over 60 miles per hour, and one in France, but none in England. "Until the war, the Atlantic City trains held the world's record by a comfortable margin, varying slightly at times. Thus the Pennsylvania at one period booked a train from Atlantic City to Camden in 52 minutes, or 68.0 miles per hour. Meanwhile England in 1914 had only four trains booked at over 60 miles per hour, the fastest being Darlington to York, 44.1-4 miles, at 61.7, and the longest Paddington to Bath (slip), 106.7-8 miles, at 61.0. Both these runs are still made. "The war upset all standards of train speeds, and the Atlantic City

PLANT SOMETHING.

This is the time of year when a good many of next year's flowers should be planted. Tulips should go into the ground for next spring blooming. Peonies, delphiniums and a good many other perennials may be moved at any time, preferably soon. Snowdrops, crocuses, daffodils and narcissus do best if planted now. By taking an interest in the garden in the fall it is possible to get good results in the spring.

THE FINANCIAL CRISIS.

While people insist that there was a crisis recently in Great Britain and that the country was in grave danger, it now seems as if the change made for the purpose of remedying the situation is a great thing for the country and one that should have been made long ago. Despatches to some newspapers indicate that the industrial condition is already favorably affected and that work is being found for the unemployed.

In Canada it is difficult to estimate the result of the drop in the price of the Canadian dollar. It has not so far affected the sales of halibut here although the fishermen are paid in Canadian money and if they wish to exchange it into American have to take a large discount.

The tendency of the depreciation in the dollar will be to discourage buying in the United States and thus build up home industries.

GOLD PRODUCTION.

The Nelson Daily News discusses the financial change as it might affect the mining industry. It says:

"The subject of international currency is one of a myriad complications. But one of the effects of the decision of Great Britain to depart from the gold standard would seem to be to increase the production of gold. It is obvious that, if the pound sterling is at a discount, the gold miner will receive more pounds per ounce. If the depreciation in pound sterling continued for any length of time, the depreciation would cause gold to go up in proportion to the depreciation in countries where the pound sterling is used. There would thus, for some time in any event, be an advantage in favor of the gold miner.

"In the case of Canada, the extent to which the gold miner can profit from a depreciation in the pound sterling must depend, to a very large extent, upon the degree of depreciation of the Canadian dollar.

"Another feature of the situation which may assist the gold miner is that there will apparently be an increase in the price of silver, and silver, of course, is often found in the same ores as gold."

New Carrier Collection System

In view of the depression and to make it as easy as possible for people to pay, the Daily News is to be sold on a weekly basis, payable in advance.

The delivery boy will collect each Friday evening for the week following. He buys the papers and sells them to the customers, so there will be no credit given. The boy cannot afford it. Please do not ask him to return for the weekly payment. Have it ready for him.

Customers now in arrears will pay the amount owing at the office, but this will have nothing to do with the regular collections made by the boy. He will be doing business on his own, and if he does not make his own collections will not deliver the paper.

Those paid in advance will continue to receive the paper until the subscription expires. Any wishing to continue the yearly payments may do so, and we pay the boy.

The price of the paper will be 10c a week, payable strictly in advance. That means six papers for ten cents.

It will take a few weeks to get the new system running smoothly, and in the meantime we ask for the co-operation of the readers of the paper. The routes not going on the new system this week will do so just as soon as the lists are made up and the boys properly instructed. Help the boys to set up in business for themselves!

GO EASY ON JOURNALISM

Is It Necessary to Subject Bereaved to Journalistic Indignity?

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Under the heading "Graveyard Journalism" the Quill (Sigma Delta Chi) says editorially:

"It is time that editors and publishers change the manner in which their reporters and cameramen cover funerals. Granted, that the funeral of a prominent citizen, official, business or professional man, or a notorious gangster has news value and should be covered. But in that covering of the 'news' is it necessary to compel the widow, children and other relatives of the deceased to run the gauntlet of a hovering flock of photographers and reporters; to face a battery of cameras as they follow the casket of a loved one to the hearse? Is it necessary to subject them to that indignity?"

"Photographs of the scene at the home or church, or of the funeral procession itself, are of news value and can be obtained from vantage points without literally pointing the cameras at the faces of the mourners. But the orders from the city desk or the news-photo headquarters seems to be: 'Be sure to get the widow and the casket.'"

"Is it necessary that the photographers follow the mourners to the very grave itself, there to level their cameras to catch the grief of those assembled? See them scrambling to the tops of monuments, trampling over the tops of graves to make their 'shots.' Should there not be some degree of privacy to a funeral or burial? Should there not be some self-imposed line beyond which decency and respect would not permit a cameraman to intrude himself?"

LAND SCRIPT PROPOSED

Settlement Would be Carried on by Provincial Government Along P.G.E. Extension

VICTORIA, Sept. 30.—Settlement of the great empty areas through which the extension of the Pacific Great Eastern to the Peace River will pass will be carried on as the line advances if the plans of the provincial government are adopted at Ottawa.

Moreover, the settlement will be that of young men with heart and strength for a pioneer life that will ultimately find them in possession of comfortable farms. The country is to be developed by the men who build the road through it.

Realization of a prospect alluring to ambitious young men who are now out of work depends on the consent of the federal government to plans which, according to authentic information, have been worked out by Premier Tolmie and his advisers to encourage settlement of the new country along the line to Finlay Forks as rapidly as it is opened up by the advance of the railway.

To this end, young men are to have the preference when choice is made of workers on construction. They will be paid wages on a given scale and, in addition, will receive scrip available for location purposes for a definite period. Title to the land selected under the scrip would be completed after two years of continuous occupation as settlers.

It has been learned that the plan has been laid before Senator Gideon Robertson, minister of labor, to whom it appealed strongly and that Ottawa is greatly impressed with it.

262 Miles Required

The length of the railroad to be built would be 262 miles—82 miles from Queen's to Prince George and

Quite Different Old Style House

A RATHER ATTRACTIVE MODIFIED COLONIAL

W. J. MILLER, Architect

Here is a small Colonial house with rather unusual features. The stonework of the front square bay and entrance stands out in pleasing contrast to the brickwork of the rest of the house, resulting in individuality and distinction.

The brick foundation walls of the house are 14 inches thick laid up in cement mortar. Above this the walls are 9 inches thick composed of rough full-range buff bricks with raked joints. Window sills and trimmings are of Indiana limestone.

Built on the popular centre hall plan, each room is easily and directly entered. The floors are of hardwood throughout with the exception of the bathroom, which is composed of tile. In the main rooms the trim is of willow which when stained is somewhat similar to gumwood and has a very attractive appearance. The kitchen and bedrooms have enamel trim.

The hot water heating system is equipped with a blower giving great satisfaction and efficiency in the heating of the home.

Many features, which are intended to aid the housewife in her activities, are incorporated in the plans. In spite of all these, the house has been designed with a view to economy and the cost is surprisingly low.

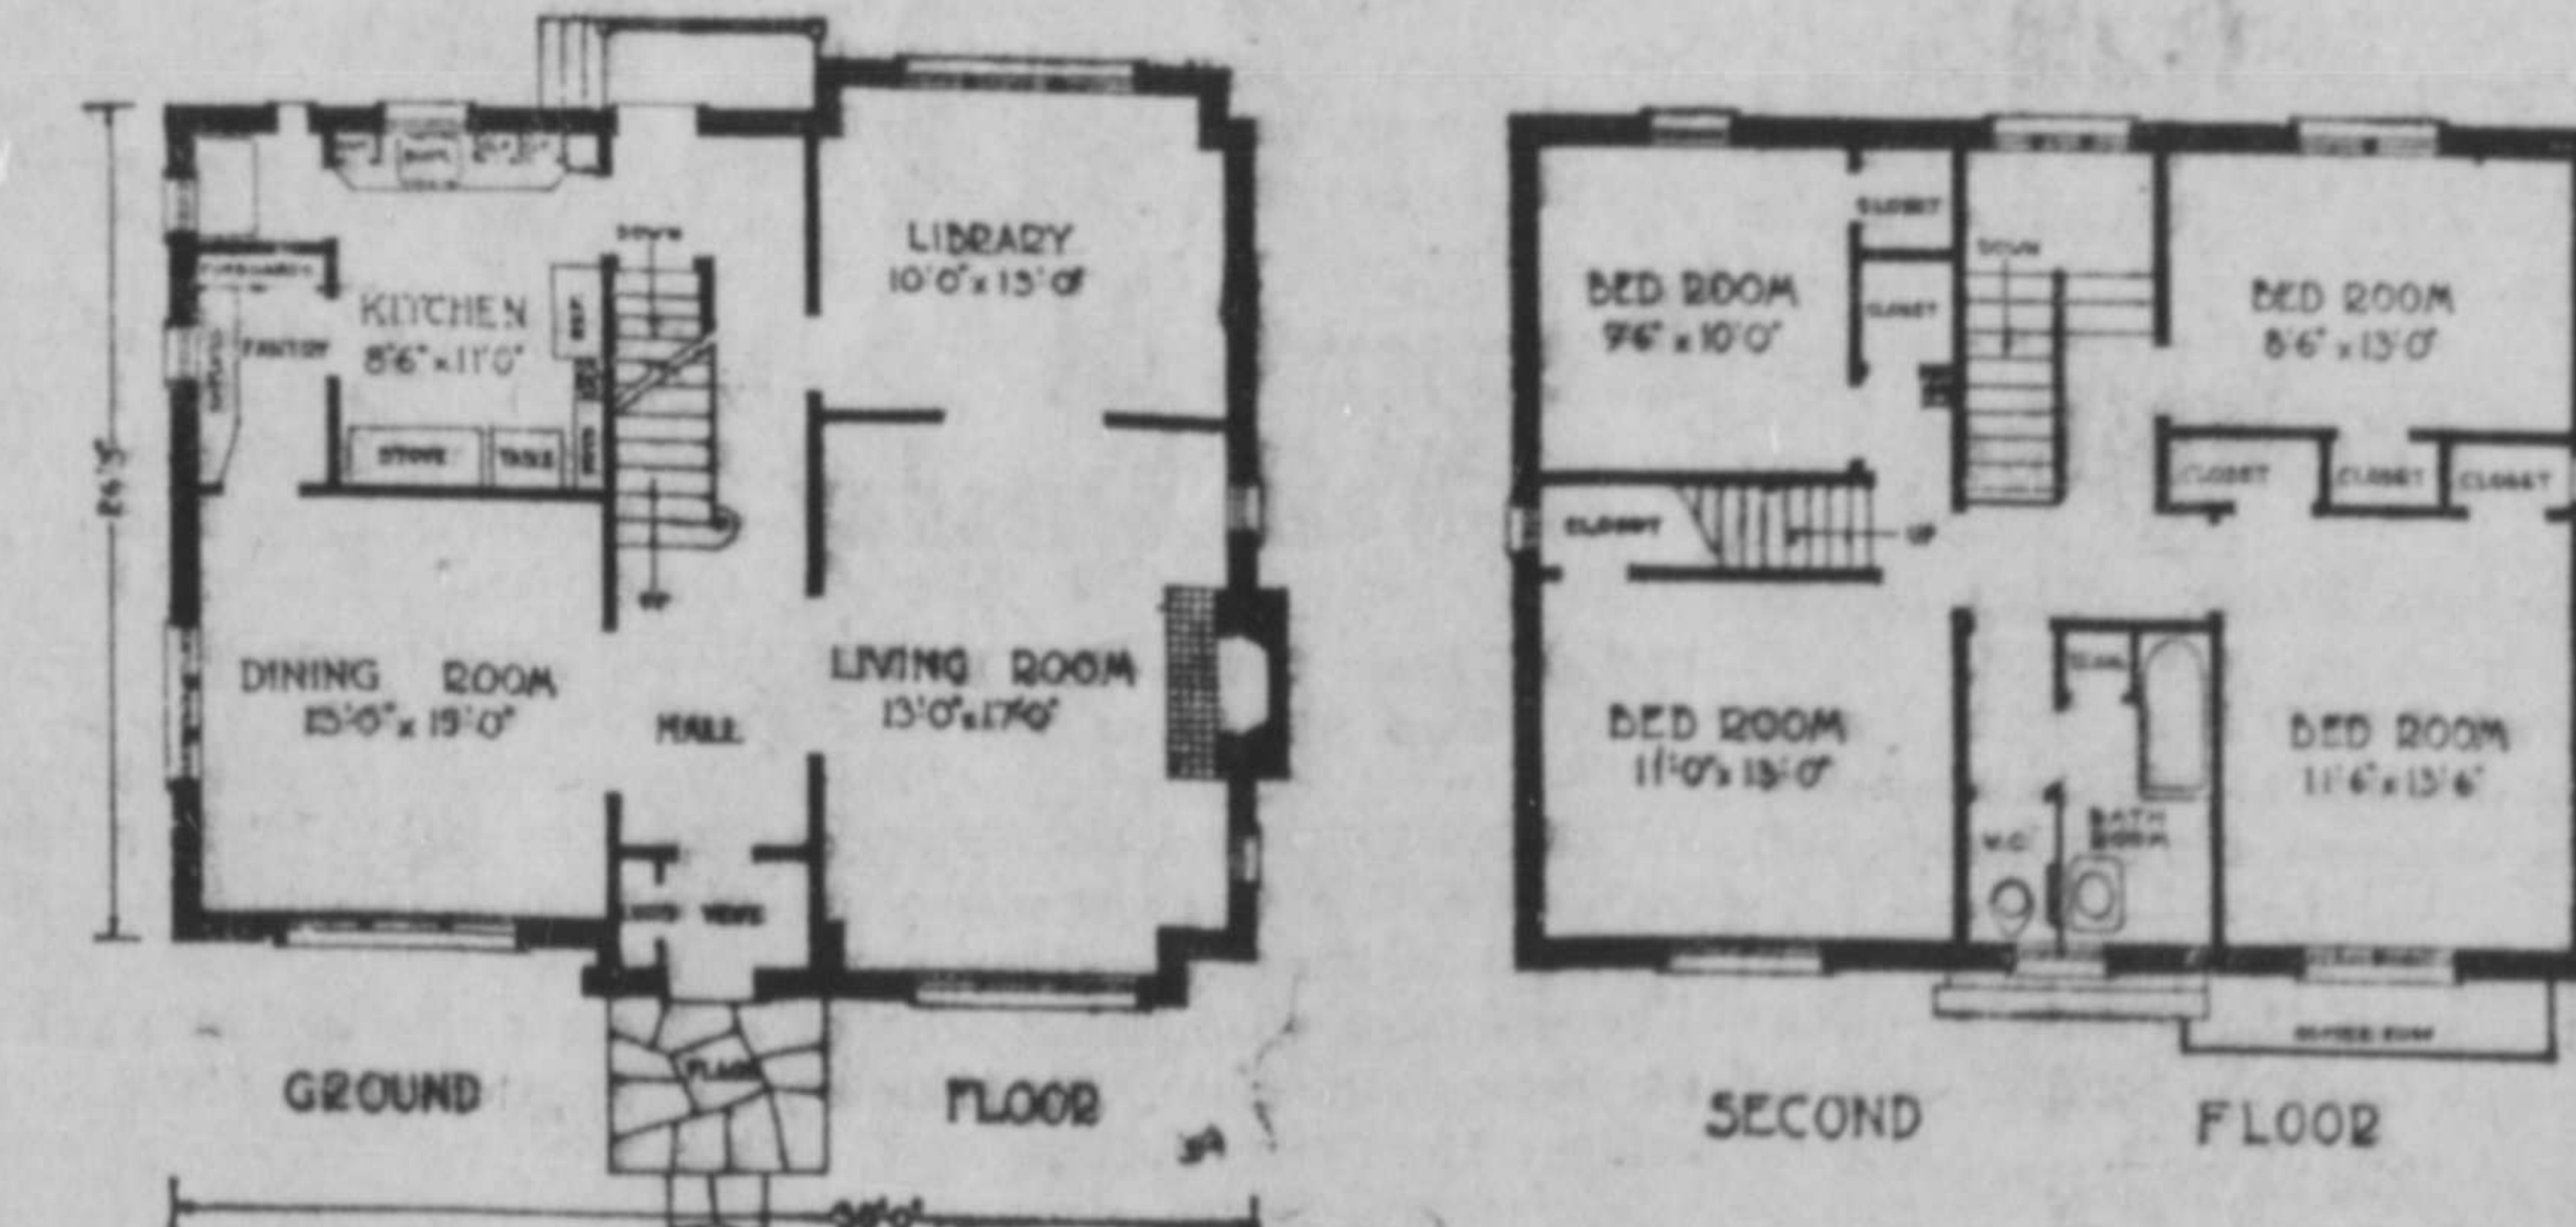

A laundry chute is constructed from the second floor to the basement. This feature alone is a great factor in the saving of steps for the housekeeper.

Outline Specifications

Size of house: 26 ft. 3 in. by 35 ft.
Suitable lot: 50 ft. frontage.
Walls: Brick and stone.
Roof: Cedar shingles.
Cubic contents: 32,000 cubic ft.
Approximate cost: $8,500.

Readers desiring further information regarding a house of this design should communicate with Mr. W. J. Miller, 105 Rochester Avenue, Toronto, and mention design No. 289. Consult a local architect if designing architect is too far removed.—Copyright 1931.

Tom Koloff, discoverer of the new mineral field in the Yukon district which was referred to in press dispatches yesterday, is well known in Prince Rupert and district. He was formerly employed at the Surf Inlet mine and after that at the Premier mine. He is known as a hard-working and capable hard rock miner.

Mr. Koloff went north four or five years ago after having spent two or three months in the city. He proceeded from here to Whitehorse. He is a Bulgarian and is well known to people of that nationality in Prince Rupert.

CARDINALS ACCLAIMED

Paraded Triumphant Through City of St. Louis Yesterday

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 30.—Manager Gabby Street and his National League champions, the St. Louis Cardinals, rode in triumph through the downtown streets of the city yesterday. Thousands of cheering people crowded the streets and traffic was tied up. Airplanes soared overhead to take part in the salute. The parade was led by the mayor of St. Louis.

PITCHING QUESTION

Tom Derringer to Be on Mound for St. Louis Cardinals in First Game

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 30.—Manager Gabby Street has virtually decided to use long Tom Derringer on the mound for the St. Louis Cardinals in the opening game of the world series tomorrow.

Connie Mack, whose Philadelphia Athletics arrived here this afternoon at 4:30, as usual, veils his pitching selection in mysterious secrecy although it is believed that he may start Waite Hoyt for the opening game.

The Athletics are the outstanding favorites in betting.

The first two games of the series will be played here on Thursday and Friday and the scene will then shift to Philadelphia where the third game will be played next Monday.

SALARIES DISCUSSED

Twenty-Five Per Cent Cut May Be Made in Pay of Major League Ball Players

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 30.—Baseball magnates gathered here for the opening of the World Series tomorrow, express more concern about the salary question next year than who will be victors in the annual baseball classic.

With the National League facing a decrease in receipts of $1,000,000 from last year and the American League no better off, a salary slash for players, which may be as drastic as 25%, seems about the only preventative against bankruptcy for at least some of the clubs.

SPORT CHAT

Canada has a superabundance of strong men and if someone will go to the trouble of hustling a couple of the muscular gentlemen out of the backwoods, the Dominion might suddenly find itself with a weight-thrower or two capable of cutting some kind of a figure at the Olympic Games next summer. As it is, this division is hopelessly backward in Canada and no wearer of the Maple Leaf is likely to challenge the supremacy of United States and Germany in the weight field. A little hunting up in the north country, believes Capt. J. R. Cornelius, coach of the last two Canadian Olympic track and field teams, might be productive of the strength needed. "The woods," he said here recently, "are full of muscled, just the kind of beef it takes to make weight throwers. But we haven't tapped the lumber camps yet. It might be a good idea if we did."

If Canada is to do anything about the situation, it must be done in a hurry. But in two years has an athlete done anything in a weight-tossing way in this country that even remotely resembled an Olympic performance? Since Doris Pilling, the juvenile thrower from Cardston, Alta., started to slip after his return from the Amsterdam Olympics, the matter has been gradually become more serious. Pilling is not expected to reach his 1926 form with the spear again. There is no figure on the horizon who looms as even a possible successor and the shot-putters, discus throwers and hammer-throwers are not of a quality that will even faintly arouse the interest of the committee selecting the team for Los Angeles.

Giant George Sutherland, a fair-haired, good-natured farmer who competes for Calgary Olympic club, is one of the best all-round athletes in Canada. With the weights, he probably is the most consistent of the lot. And George is a good jumper. He won two firsts and three seconds at the Dominion championships this year and out-scored every individual at the title meet. But George Sutherland is not an Olympic prospect, because the big fellow is just a general worker. He likes heaving the 16-pound shot about as well as doing a running hop, step and jump. He is about as good at one as the other. For that matter, he is equally proficient at the hammer-throw, with the javelin and the discus. If necessary, he can do tricks with a caber with the best of them. Sutherland's winning hammer throw at this year's championship was 139 feet, 5 inches. The world's record is 189 feet, 6½ inches. He threw the javelin 155 feet, 6½ inches. The world's mark is 232 feet, 11½ inches. One of the best and most popular athletes Alberta has ever turned out and a performer who has color, Sutherland still is only an old-fashioned all-round man. Five Olympic "specialists" would beat him with ease at five events.

Abe Zvonkin, Hamilton's red-headed husky, is in a similar fix with apparently little chance of becoming proficient enough at one event to make a place on the Los Angeles-bound squad. He won the shot put with a throw of 39 feet at the Dominion championships and his winning discus throw measured 124 feet—many feet short of records in both instances. Capt. Cornelius would like to sound a call to the lumberjacks, the beefy boys who have never seen a shot of a discus or any kind of a hammer except of the carpenter-adopted variety. Under good coaching he thinks they would become quite prime weight men. "Some of those fellows," he said, "would throw shots unheard-of distances if we could get them under instruction. We must go after them some day because Canada can't send a balanced team to the Olympic games without them. Right now, with thousands of unemployed men crowding the cities, is the time to search. There are plenty of big fellows out of jobs who could be induced to join athletic clubs. Keep your eye open for the workless lumberjack and get him busy at throwing things and you'll see something."

trains have never been restored to their former brilliance. On the other hand, a very large number of other schedules in the United States, chiefly on the fast business service between Jersey City and Philadelphia, have been raised to the 60 mile level—for example, 22 trains daily between West Trenton and Jenkintown at from 60.0 to 62.9 miles—and the total for the States is reckoned in scores.

Speeders Restored
"In England the restoration of pre-war speeds took place in most cases about 1923, in which year the Great Western introduced what was then reputed to be the world's fastest train by booking the run from Swindon to Paddington in 75 minutes, or at 61.8 miles. In the summer of 1929 this time was reduced to 70 minutes (63.3 miles per hour), at which figure it held the world's record till April of this year.

Toll-Gate... On July 14th, 1931, this great pacing horse established a record for the fastest four-beat race ever contested in the history of harness racing. The average time for the four beats being a trifle under 2 min; 1½ sec.

The RECORD SPEAKS for ITSELF

The World's Record Pacing Horse commands the homage of all horsemen for his speed, his stamina and his courage—while quality, mildness and fragrance are the outstanding qualities which have established the record for popularity held by Turret cigarettes in the race for public favour.

After all, nothing can replace good, honest tobacco; grown and ripened right out in the field under nature's own sunlight—nothing artificial about that—and the high quality is "inbred".

Montreal and Toronto by an hour and a half, and incidentally allowed only 110 minutes in one direction and 108 in the other for the 124 miles between Smith's Falls and Montreal West, involving start to stop speeds at 67.6 and 68.9 miles per hour, respectively, and so getting ahead of the Great Western's record for the time being.

The new timing of the Cheltenham train, however, definitely regains the lead for England, and is a remarkable undertaking, seeing that the middle 73 or 74 miles of the journey will have to be run in the hour, merely to keep time. There is, however, no doubt as to the possibility of the new schedule, which has often been beaten in the course of making up time on the former 70-minute allowance; nor is any risk involved, the whole route being entirely free from sharp curves, and being also protected by the Great Western's special automatic system of Swindon-Paddington average; but where the signals displayed in April of this year the Canadian Pacific cut its time also between

Crooks Hold Up Service Station and Get Away

But Finger Print Convicted One of Them

On a November evening two masked men walked into a Service Station in Phoenix, Arizona. One covered the proprietor with a revolver while the other rifled the till.

A confederate then drove up in a big sedan and the robbers, rushing out, leaped into the car which sped away. The proprietor, taking a revolver from his desk just had time to rush to the curb and empty it after the fleeing car, puncturing a tire as the car disappeared in the rain.

Three miles outside of the town the crooks abandoned the car, boarded a radial and apparently got clean away.

Not quite, however! Keen-eyed detectives found finger prints on the left front door of the car which, when developed, were found to be those of a well-known bad man, convicted of many crimes. His picture was circulated and within two days he was caught, tried and convicted. His finger print was dangerous—for him.

Danger in Your Prints—on Foods

Some prints bring encounters with the police. Your prints will not do this, but they do bring you into contact with disease germs. Everything you touch—money, a door-handle, a street car strap—has been touched by many other hands. These hands may have been exposed to disease germs—if they had checked a cough or sneeze they certainly would have been. Such germs would be on the things you touched.

before meals to be sure of removing all germs. Ordinary good soap, of course, will not do. There is only one soap that has been shown by laboratory tests to be certain to kill germs. This is Lifebuoy. It contains a germicide. Lifebuoy will also keep you free from body odour. A bath in the morning or before going out in the evening keeps one safe for many hours.

A Luxurious Soap Too

Yet there is nothing harsh about Lifebuoy. Its rich, gentle lather comes from two fine palm oils, blended to form a beauty soap which is kind to even the most delicate skin. You will find it wonderful for your complexion. There is no perfume to Lifebuoy—just the extra-clean scent of the germicide which soon disappears but tells you that you are safe.

ADDRESS UNIQUE

Gyro Club Hears L. S. McGill in Interesting Lantern Lecture

Highly interesting and very unique was an address given before the Prince Rupert Gyro Club at luncheon yesterday by L. S. McGill, prominent barrister and mining man. Instead of making a stereotypical speech, Mr. McGill took his listeners by magic lantern on a tour of Central British Columbia and showed them many interesting scenes and spots in that vast empire which the speaker described as being as large as England and with quite as great possibilities. Agricultural, lumbering, mining as well as straight scenic views were among those offered by the speaker. Even to many who might have thought themselves quite familiar with the Bulkley Valley, the pictures proved a great revelation.

In his opening remarks, Mr. McGill declared that the development of the city of Prince Rupert and the hinterland in the interior would ever go hand in hand. Some time the resources of that district would make a great city of Prince Rupert. Meantime there might not be much money in pioneering but there was a great kick in it. Mining, particularly, Mr. McGill predicted, would help to eventually make the Omineca district one of the most prosperous parts of Canada and the world.

In the course of his lecture, Mr. McGill quoted familiar passages from Robert W. Service's poems to suitably illustrate certain junctures in his remarks. Among persons to whom Mr. McGill paid tribute for helping in the development of the central interior were E. F. Orchard, founder of Smithers; Olof Hanson, M.P., who had played such a great part in the timber industry, and Peter Schuler, veteran Smithers man.

At the close of his lecture, Mr. McGill was heartily thanked on behalf of the club by President C. C. Mills.

Guests included Harold Lanning, Vancouver; B. J. Mallish and Dr. W. T. Kergin of Prince Rupert. Mr. Lanning was the winner of the luncheon raffle.

The "Question Box" of Richfield News Flashes on the air last night answered a question by Eimer Tulloch of Prince Rupert as to the origin of the saying "Anyone can lead a horse to water but no one can make him drink."

Marriage of Miss Elizabeth Russell to Local Oil Man

A quiet wedding took place on September 14 at Canadian Memorial Chapel, when Elizabeth Florence (Betty), youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Russell, 2316 West Twelfth, became the bride of Theodore N. Le Page, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. N. S. Le Page of this city. Rev. G. O. Fallick officiating.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, E. A. Kinz, Miss Bessie Ogilvie acting as bridesmaid and B. McWaters supporting the groom. During the evening of the register Ernest Cotton sang "Until." Following the ceremony a reception was held at Hotel Georgia, after which Mr. and Mrs. Le Page left on the evening boat for Prince Rupert, where they will reside.—Vancouver Province.

(Mr. Le Page is the new manager here for the Home Oil Distributors Ltd.)

Twenty Years Ago

In Prince Rupert

September 30, 1911
Sam Ronlot and George Evans, injured about the face and eyes from the effect of loose powder which exploded while they were mucking in the Granby mine at Goose Bay, were rushed here aboard the company's speedy boat Kipling and are now receiving treatment in the Prince Rupert General hospital at the hands of Dr. W. T. Kergin. It is hoped that their eyesight may be saved.

Having tired of gossiping about a bride for the Prince of Wales, London people are now speculating upon who may become the husband of little Princess Mary Victoria, who is now fourteen years of age. The name of Prince George of Saxony is prominently mentioned.

Considerable damage was done to the office of the Mack Realty this morning by flying rock from a blast on the new City Hall site.

Man in the Moon

Now that the streets of Prince Rupert are so busy it is about time some really stringent traffic regulations were passed. Everyone over sixty years of age should be compelled to keep off the streets and those under sixteen be allowed to travel only with a guardian.

Now that times are quiet it might be a good plan to try writing our own epitaphs and then digging ourselves in.

Beneath this stone lies Joe McCann. He owned full many an acre. He was, it seems, a self-made man. And how he loved his maker!

Many people will wonder if a disarmament treaty should eventually be signed, whether it will apply to Chicago.

Ald. S. D. Macdonald, who attended the recent convention in Vancouver of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, returned to the city from the south on the Prince Rupert this morning.

1932 Atwater Kent Radio Soon To Be Displayed

Golden Value Models Finest Ever Produced

The new Atwater Kent golden value models, which will be fully announced directly will be distinguished by new low prices for this famous line of radios and will embody many new features and refinements.

Exhaustive experiments and tests were conducted before the new models were considered perfect enough to go into production.

The new advanced superheterodyne circuit will be included in all the 1932 models which will give them a knife-like selectivity that shuts out the unwanted station as if it were silent. Quick-vision dial, finger-tip action station selector and automatic volume control are other valuable features of the new Atwater Kent models.

Cabinets of pleasing symmetry, emphasized by exceptional beauty of design, are finished in genuine No-Mar, and are manufactured by Malcolm & Hill, well-known makers of No-Mar furniture.

Atwater Kent golden value models include two small compact—powerful little sets that offer big radio performance in space-saving form. There are also four Console models and a new radio-phonograph combination. The complete range thus offers B.C. buyers a wide selection to meet all tastes and purses.

The new Atwater Kent radio sets will be on display at the showrooms of prominent dealers throughout the province shortly.

Discriminating prospective purchasers are awaiting the appearance of this new line before buying.

WON'T HELP NORWEGIANS

VICTORIA, Sept. 29.—Just how important a Pacific outlet for the Peace River railway has become was indicated when it was made known at the Legislative Buildings that the government does not favor a vast Norwegian colonization scheme in the northern territory until this railway is built.

If the Canadian League of the Norwegian Bygdelaag wishes to go ahead with its plan to colonize 320,000 acres northwest of Fort St. John it will have to go ahead without immediate government assistance, it was stated at the Legislative Buildings.

Hon. N. S. Lougheed, minister of lands, said he had been told of the Norwegian League's scheme for bringing hundreds of established prairie wheat farmers west to the mixed farming area of the Peace but explained that the government could not sponsor it at this time. Seventeen hundred pre-emptors have taken up land in the Peace River country this year, he said, and most of them have to be given employment now in the government's relief program.

Any other settlers who went into the north now would also have to be cared for under this program, the government fears.
