ELECTION PROCEEDS

Small Interest Being Taken In Today's Poll For Aldermen and Mayoralty Term Question

Voting started very slowly today in the municipal election, only 36 ballots having been cast in the first hour and three-quarters up to 9:45 a.m. While there is not a very keen interest being taken in the voting this year, it is expected that well over five hundred votes will be cast.

Alderman Collart explained that, at the beginning of the year, there was a bank overdraft of $50,000. At the end of the year this had mounted to $100,000. The loan was covered, however, by work done for which debentures had not yet been issued, amounting to $129,504.27 and by accounts owing to the city by the provincial government amounting to $15,440.37.

Inauguration by the Imperial Airways in the project. Under the air-ocean plan, freight will be carried from New York to Karachi in sixteen days, cutting fourteen days off the fastest time by steamer. The saving between New York and a point like Bagdad would be much greater—thirteen days by air-ocean service and sixty days by steamer.

Two Principals In Burke Air Tragedy—Martin and Wasson—Here On Way South Yesterday

Two of the principals in the ill-fated episode which followed a flight made last fall into the Liard River district by the late Capt. E. J. A. Burke and party were in Prince Rupert yesterday bound for the south. They were Robert Martin ("Three Finger Bob"), grizzled old prospector-promoter of the north, who survived the experiences which caused Burke's death from starvation and exposure, and Everett L. Wasson, heroic young aviator of the Treadwell Yukon Exploration Co., whose persistence and courage were ultimately rewarded after almost two months' efforts in rescuing two members of the lost party alive and recovering the frozen and emaciated body of the third. It was interesting to see and talk to these two men, one advanced in years, the other little more than a mere youth, who have been so much in the public eye during the past three months owing to their sensational adventures. It is difficult to say which is the more interesting. Certainly both have an epic story to relate.

It. He will say that Joe Walsh, his guide over the desolate snow wastes, was the real hero. But those who know that there were two heroes—Joe Walsh was one and that fine youth the other.

Great honors are being prepared for Everett L. Wasson in Vancouver and elsewhere in the south. But a much more momentous thing is to occur for him than these tributes. His prime purpose in going south at this time is to marry a pretty Vancouver nurse, Miss Florence Jones, whose acquaintance he made a few months ago at Whitehorse where she was carrying on her duties of mercy. Miss Jones, just resigned from the Whitehorse hospital staff, was also aboard the Princess Norah yesterday afternoon.

Another member of the party was Mrs. Bob Martin who waited long anxious weeks at Wrangell for word of her husband and then, when she had high given up hope, learned that he was safe. The news was almost unbelievable, Mrs. Martin said. She had been rejoined by her husband at Wrangell Tuesday night, the day before they arrived here.

Also associated with the Burke episode more or less indirectly was another passenger aboard the Princess Norah yesterday afternoon in the person of Mrs. W. J. Barrows of Victoria, whose husband was pilot of one of the Pacific International planes which crashed at Telegraph Creek a few weeks ago while en route north to join the Burke search. Barrows' plane went through the ice of Sawmill Lake and he had a miraculous escape from drowning. He is now at Whitehorse with his plane, having arrived there from Telegraph Creek about the time Wasson was bringing the Burke party out.

Mrs. Burke Coming Out
It had been expected that Emil Kading, Capt. Burke's mechanic, might also have been coming south on the Princess Norah yesterday but it was learned on arrival of the steamer that he was still at Atlin and would probably come out in a few weeks' time in company with Mrs. Burke, the widow, and her small family. Kading, a sturdy German air mechanic, is reported to have suffered the least of the trio from that racking experience in the north. Although having lost some twenty pounds before being rescued, Kading's resiliency soon restored him to normality after he had been brought out.

Mrs. Burke is preparing to come south to Vancouver as soon as possible. With husband and father gone, the little family has no further interest in the north except for cherished memories which distance will never prevent from reverting to that small graveyard under the pines at Atlin. There a brave gentleman and fond husband and parent rests in his long sleep. And planes which crashed at Telegraph Creek will gradually become a dim recollection.

MUNICIPALITY IN GOOD SHAPE FINANCIALLY IT IS SAID BY ALDERMEN.

or informally. Ex-Ald. Perry was under a misapprehension in regard to the council's attitude. He explained clearly the unemployment problem and said he believed the council had been acting in the best interests of the city. He paid a tribute to the engineer and other heads of departments in the city and spoke of the spirit of co-operation that had prevailed in the council. The aldermen had disagreed in many matters but had treated each other courteously. If there had been any success in the past year, it was the team work that was responsible for it.

The Aldermen

Alderman Linzey said he was glad to see competition for the offices. He had been on the utilities committee and referred to the work done by that committee. The new street lighting system and the elimination of wooden sidewalks were marks of progress. He had not been influenced in the council by any party, group or club. He spoke of the false representations that had been made against the retiring members of the city council. He welcomed the activities of the Ratepayers' Association and would join it. He characterized the criticism that the members of the last council were too harmonious as just an election dodge. There had been no scrapping or swearing at each other. Alderman Macdonald dealt particularly with the work of the utilities committee of which he was the chairman. While the city had lost revenue from disposing of its best paying utility the finances were in a healthy condition.

Telephone System

Dealing with the telephone system, Ald. Macdonald said the profit on it for the past year amounted to nearly ten thousand dollars. In January of last year there were 1661 installed telephones and, by the end of the year, this number had increased to 1712. At the beginning of the year the number of subscribers was 1453 and at the end 1490.

The fire department, which came under the same committee, had a good record.

Mr. Macdonald explained the street lighting plan and said that soon the property owners on the streets lighted down town would have to pay possibly fifty per cent of the cost. He was opposed to taxing improvements. While he had moving for a two year term for mayor, it was not part of his policy. He was not an aspirant for the mayoralty and never would be. He also mentioned the radio situation and favored trying to remedy the present situation. Concluding he said that labor in this city was out to upbuild. Their whole thought would be for the benefit of Prince Rupert.

At the conclusion of the speech John Carrol asked a question in regard to an interview he had had with Mr. Macdonald in which he claimed unseemly language had been used. Mr. Macdonald apologized for any hasty words that were spoken in anger.

In Critical Mood

Mr. McCutcheon was in a critical mood. He announced that he was opposed to a tax on improvements. He feared that if the present bunch were returned, they would put it in force. He also was critical of the work of the city engineer and said he had heard that the work could have been done for half the amount it cost. He favored annual elections of mayor and aldermen. He thought there was poor management in the city with extravagance. One of the first things he would urge if elected was a road to the new floats from Sixth Avenue.

Alderman Collart answered a number of Mr. McCutcheon's criticisms and then gave the figures mentioned at the beginning of this report. One or two questions were asked by George Casey and answered.

First Appearance

N. Mussallem explained that this was his first appearance in the role of an aspirant for office. If he were elected he would do his best to serve the city.

Alderman Brown, last year's chairman of the board of works, explained what work had been done this year, referring particularly to the savings which had been made by the engineer as published in the Daily News that evening. In addition to extending the fire protection system, through building water supply loops, they had cleaned up Cow Bay, Hays Creek and done a lot of detail work. The sum of $10,300 had been expended in good work. They had taken the preliminary steps toward the building of the

ENROLMENT IN SCHOOLS

Total Number of Pupils for Month of December Was 1061—Sickness Lowers Percentages

Steadily growing enrolment in the schools of this city totalled 1,061 in the month of December, reports of principals, read at last night's monthly meeting of the board disclosed. Attendance figures were as follows:

	Boys	Girls	Totals
High School	92	113	205
Booth School	224	224	448
Borden Street	162	161	323
Seal Cove	34	26	60
Westview	13	12	25

Totals 525 537 1061
Percentage attendance for the month were as follows: High School, 94.7 per cent.; Booth 91.87 per cent.; Borden, 91 per cent.; Seal Cove, 93.63 per cent.; Westview, 90.12 per cent. Mumps and other ailments accounted for the low percentages principals reported.

In the High School report, Principal Hartness stated that a total of 330 persons had paid to see the school's Christmas entertainment, "The Gypsy Rover." The school flag-pole was broken down. Mr. Hartness asked for certain mimeograph supplies the purchase of which the board authorized.

Miss Mercer referred to the splendid co-operation of the teaching staff in connection with the staging of the Christmas entertainment. The board met with Miss Mercer's request for the installation of some cupboards in the primary rooms.

Effects of recent rains in causing some of the school buildings to leak were reported. The board decided to defer the making of repairs until spring when weather will be more favorable for the work.

School Trustees Are Farewelled

Teachers Express Appreciation for Happy Relations With Board

In view of the fact that two members of the 1930 board—J. H. Thompson and W.R. McAfee—were retiring, Miss S. A. Mills, principal of Borden Street School, on behalf of the city teaching staffs, took opportunity at last night's meeting of the school board to express appreciation for co-operation and amicable relations which had prevailed between board and teaching staff during the past year. It was to be hoped that similar relations would continue in 1931.

D. H. Hartness, principal of the High School, endorsed Miss Mill's remarks.

Mrs. Spencer, board chairman, expressed appreciation for the sentiments which had been voiced and added her hope that relations during the coming year would be as satisfactory as they had been in the past.

Examinations Of Children

All Five Doctors of City to Take Part in Work—Closer Quarantine Urged

In answer to an inquiry by Trustée W. R. McAfee, Secretary J. O. Williamson stated at last night's school board meeting that arrangements had been made whereby all five doctors of the city will carry on medical examination of school children in February and March.

Mrs. T.M. Spencer, chairman, thought there should be closer quarantine than was now being observed. Trustée McAfee agreed with this.

road to the fishermen's floats but the permission of the railway commission to use the crossing was still lacking. It had been applied for. There had been a great saving in street maintenance and he believed the board of works had done good work this year. He was running as a labor candidate but he and Ald. Macdonald were not Reds or Communists or destroyers.

Questions were asked by Messrs' McLean and Carrol after which the meeting adjourned.

QUESTION OF READJUSTMENT

A condition of affairs exists throughout Canada and the world which appears difficult to solve. However, there is one thing upon which all people agree, and that is that an adjustment of costs of commodities must be made. As an illustration: with the present price of wheat a readjustment in the price of bread should be considered. The same is true of other necessities of life and materials.

All of which leads up to the fact that ALBERT & McCAFFERY, LIMITED, are prepared to adjust the price of any material they have for sale. If the price of coal is lowered we will also lower our price. The prices of many building materials have been changed, and we are prepared to change our prices.

If interested in the above, call or phone 116 or 117, Albert & McCaffery Ltd. (15)

BAGSHAW'S KNOCKOUTS

Supporters Claim he Will Win Over Wendle by This Route—Benny May Outpoint Him, Though

If the big local boxing bout tomorrow night should end in a knock-out, it is the popular opinion of followers of the cauliflower industry here that it will be Billy Bagshaw who delivers the telling punch. If it is settled on points, however, it is conceded that Benny Wendle would be the more likely winner. In fact, it is felt that either boy has a very good chance.

Bagshaw has a great knockout record, having won all the fights of his career except one by the kayo route. His ability to lay them low may prove a distinct advantage to him in the argument with Wendle. In fact, Bagshaw has lost but one fight in his career, that having been to Henry Deeth of Anyox when he was accidentally disabled in an early round. One of the outstanding victories of Bagshaw's career was his flashy win by knockout last summer over Able Seaman Moore of H. M. S. Despatch, former light-weight champion of the Atlantic fleet. Others of Bagshaw's knockout victims have been Crawford of Ocean Falls and Able Seaman Jones of H. M. S. Colombo.

Now... A Famous Canadian Dietitian tells you a tasty new way to serve CLOVER LEAF SALMON

 director of Chatelaine Institute, Toronto, suggests menu with her favorite salmon recipe.

"There are many ways to prepare Salmon for tasty salads and sandwiches for bridge luncheons, afternoon teas, children's school lunches and the main dish for week day meals," says Miss Campbell. "The recipe I particularly favor, however, is Moulded Salmon Salad prepared this way:

MOULDED SALMON SALAD

- 1-one pound can of salmon
- 1/2 cupful of chopped celery
- 1/2 green pepper, chopped
- 1/2 teaspoonful of salt
- 1/2 teaspoonful of paprika
- 2 teaspoonfuls of lemon juice
- Few grains of cayenne
- Boiled salad dressing

"Remove the skin and bones from the salmon and shred. Mix all the ingredients together, using enough salad dressing to moisten.

Pack into a wet mould and chill thoroughly. Loosen the edges with a knife, and turn out on to a bed of lettuce. Garnish with green peas. A very attractive salad is one made in a ring mould, and the centre filled with green peas."

"When served with Luncheon menu suggested below, it makes a delightfully balanced meal:

- Cream of corn soup
- Cheese crackers
- Moulded Salmon Salad
- Hot biscuits
- Pineapple mousse
- Fancy cakes
- Coffee."

Scene in one of the kitchens of the Chatelaine Institute, Toronto, where this Moulded Salmon Salad recipe was prepared and tested.

DO YOU TAKE AN INTEREST IN THE FASHIONS OF 1931?

WITH which we make bold to remind The Men there are fashions in radios, razors, automobiles and fountain pens as well as wearing apparel.

Most women appreciate the authenticity of the fashion news—in regard to silhouettes, coming frills, passing fancies, and the colorful details of the mode — to be found daily in the advertisements. . . . Fashions these days are not confined to clothes. Automobiles, interior decorations, table service, vacations, even breakfasts are more satisfying, if, to use the word of the thirties, they are SMART.

Advertisements are continually chronicling the fashions that are smartest. Advertisements keep you informed of the mode in merchandise of all kinds. Advertisements are full of information about the new ideas that make Canadian life what it is today.

If you are interested in better living, you are bound to find the advertisements worth while!

MILLS NEW GYRO HEAD

Elected President at Luncheon Yesterday—Smith Re-Elected Secretary

The Prince Rupert Gyro Club, at its regular monthly business luncheon in the Commodore Cafe yesterday afternoon, elected Charles C. Mills as its new president for 1931, succeeding Claude A. Kirkendall, who was the head of the club last year.

Edward J. Smith was re-elected secretary while H. A. Breen is the new treasurer, succeeding Douglas Nelson.

To the executive, William Cruikshank and L. W. Waugh, both past presidents, were elected for two year terms. Other directors for 1931 will be W. H. Tobey and C. E. Starr, who are completing two year terms.

Installation of officers will take place at a stag dinner on January 28 with a committee consisting of L. W. Waugh, W. Cruikshank and M. H. Blott in charge.

W. W. Watts and G. C. Arsenau have been named auditors for the club.

A hearty vote of thanks was accorded E. J. Smith for his services as secretary last year and further appreciation was accorded when he was re-elected to the office with a large majority.

The club decided to support the 1931 exhibition in Prince Rupert by complying with a request that members be named to act as delegates to the annual meeting of the Northern British Columbia Agricultural & Industrial Association and to run for the 1931 board at that meeting. W. H. Tobey were named as representative of the club in this connection.

W. H. Tobey gave the club a brief report on activities in connection with the gymnasium movement and the advisability of putting on the musical comedy "H. M. S. Pinare" under direction of H. N. Brockleby was again discussed.

NEWS OF THE MINES AROUND PRINCE RUPERT

Molybdenite Promising As Producer—Revival of Silver Price Will Mean Much For Toric—Bonanza Gets New Bunkhouse

"The outlook for an eventual profitable production of molybdenite from this property is encouraging," declares Dr. J. T. Mandy, resident mining engineer, in the preliminary review of mining operations for British Columbia in commenting upon the Tidewater Molybdenum property near Alice Arm. Dr. Mandy described work that was already carried out on the property. The object now is to block out sufficient ore to warrant the construction of a mill. Dr. Mandy acknowledged that work was being efficiently and conservatively conducted under the direction of Angus McLeod.

Speaking of the Toric mine, also at Alice Arm, Dr. Mandy had the following to say: "Active exploration of the Toric was continued up to the middle of April when, on account of the depressed and uncertain silver market, operations were suspended. Very encouraging results were met in the winze and lateral work from it which showed an increased width of the ore body with sections of high grade ore and a fair general average value. Should the silver market improve, it is understood the Britannia Mining & Smelting Co., which owns a controlling interest in the property, will probably resume operations."

The new bunkhouse at the Bonanza mine near Anyox has been completed and is now occupied by men working at the camp. This bunkhouse replaces one that was destroyed by a landslide on November 10, several men who were in it being killed.

DEATH OF PIONEER

Alexander Campbell Murray Dies at Fort St. James Where He Had Been For Fifty-Five Years

Stuart Lake's most picturesque character, Alexander Campbell Murray, who for nearly fifty-five years had been associated with the service of the Hudson Bay Co. at Fort St. James, passed away on Saturday morning last at Fort St. James. The funeral was to take place on Wednesday afternoon of this week and it was expected that people from all parts of the district would assemble to pay their last respects.

The late Mr. Murray, whose father established the Hudson Bay trading post at Fort Yukon, was an authority on the history of the company in British Columbia. He was educated at St. John's College, Winnipeg, and travelled from Winnipeg to Fort St. James when it took six months to make the trip.

Canadian Gold Bars Replace Gold Coin

Finance Department Has Million Dollars of Gold In Possession At Present Time

OTTAWA, Jan. 15—Canadian gold coins, which were exceedingly popular some years ago, are not manufactured nowadays at the royal mint, nor have they been minted since the year 1913. This information was obtained by the Citizen at the mint here recently. It is thought there may not be any more gold coinage in the Dominion for a long time. International exchanges are generally settled in gold bullion.

The mint is making gold bars, though, and these are being stored, distributed throughout the Dominion, or shipped abroad, as the occasion demands.

It is understood that the finance department of the government has more than $1,000,000 in gold bullion in its possession at the present time. The mint also at present contains 1,000,000 ounces of silver to be used in making silver coins.

Alterations For Fire Protection

Certain alterations of a more or less important nature at Booth Memorial School in the interests of fire protection were recommended to the school board at its meeting last night in a communication from the provincial fire marshal's department. One suggestion, that of installing a door in one of the basements, has already been complied with. The other recommendations will be dealt with by the 1931 board.
