China and Japan Reported Ready to Accept League of Nations Truce Draft With Certain Modifications

TOKYO, Nov. 27:—With British troops taking a hand in the Manchurian situation yesterday, the Japanese immediately started to change their tactics. The British were preparing to accord military protection to Chinchow, the last important strategic railway point not already occupied by the Japanese. British investments at Chinchow are estimated at $125,000,000.

The movement of British troops was followed by a Japanese military conference at which it was decided there would be no further military operation against Chinchow without direct authorization of the Tokyo government.

EPOCHAL BROADCAST

The national broadcast on Wednesday evening when the premiers of all the provinces spoke briefly in advocating support for the National Service Loan was an epochal event. Each premier spoke from his own province and each was heard equally well. All spoke well and several took advantage of the occasion to advertise their own provinces throughout the rest of the Dominion. It was an indication that Canada is not very backward in regard to radio service except that it lacks a few of the more powerful stations that would reach places like Prince Rupert which are handicapped through being too far from the broadcasting stations to get good results all the time.

What is needed is a series of big national stations that would be powerful enough to insure daylight reception all the time.

WILL THERE BE AN ELECTION?

About a month ago a rumor went around to the effect that a provincial election was imminent and it was to take place before the new year. Inquiry at Victoria elicited the information that a number of members of the legislature were trying to force an immediate election but that the members of the government were not at that time favorable to an appeal to the country, presumably not until the P. G. E. problem was satisfactorily settled.

Since that there have been many rumblings emanating from the capital indicating that a seismic disturbance was possible at any time. The rather futile efforts of the administration to cut down expenditures in the face of falling revenue and the semi-official announcement that something like five million dollars more would have to be collected from the people in taxes in 1932 over and above the amount collected in 1931 and has had an effect with the result that yesterday the leader of the opposition sent out a public warning that an election might be called at any

Should there be an election before the next session of the Legislature it would have to come early in the new year because the Legislature should sit in time to vote money for the carrying on of the business of the country before the end of March.

It was not expected here that an election would take place before next summer and it is still possible that the Legislature as at present constituted may carry through the annual spring session.

Another possibility is that they may hold a brief session, vote enough money to carry on and then make their appeal to the people for another lease of life.

Pullen mentioned the fact that the provincial government owed the city up to the end of 1930 the sum of $62,998.54 local improvement assessments. This money had been paid out by the city in making roads and sidewalks in front of property owned in different sections of the city by the provincial government. Even on the property on which the liquor store is built the government owes the city over a thousand dollars. If the government paid its local improvement assessments it would be a great relief to city taxpayers. The provincial government owns in different parts of the city over three hundred lots of which 54 are in the Westview section. The association referred the matter to the executive to investigate and report at a future meeting of the association.
