TAKE ANOTHER SHOT

A naturalist divided an aquarium with a clear glass partition. He put a lusty bass in one section and minnows in the other. The bass would strike every time a minnow approached the glass partition. After three days of fruitless lunging, which netted him only bruises, he ceased his efforts and subsisted on the food that was dropped in. Then the naturalist removed the glass partition. The minnows swam all around the bass, but he did not strike at a single one. He was thoroughly sold on the idea that business was bad. Moral: Take another shot at the glass partition. Maybe it isn't there any more.

Can't PLAY Can't REST

-child needs Castoria

WHEN a child is fretful and irritable, seems distressed and uncomfortable, can't play, can't sleep, it is a pretty sure sign that something is wrong. Right here is where Castoria fits into a child's schemethe very purpose for which it was formulated years ago! A few drops and the condition which caused the trouble is righted; comfort quickly brings restful sleep.

Nothing can take the place of Castoria for children; it's perfectly harmless, yet always effective. For the protection of your wee one-for your own peace of mind-keep this old reliable preparation always on hand. But don't keep it just for emergencies; let it be an every-day aid. Its gentle action will ease and soothe the infant who cannot sleep. In more liberal doses it will effectively help to regulate sluggid bowels in an older child. All druggists have Castoria: in genuine if you see Chas. H. Fletcher

LL you've got to do is to look at a blackberry to see if it's "ripe". Of course, all coal is black, but there are certain grades which are immature or "unripe".

Coal is graded as "good," "bad" or "indifferent" according to its age. The older the coal, the better it is for heating purposes. The "youngest" coal suitable for fuel is known as "lignite". It is so young that it retains the texture of the wood from which it was formed.

True, lignite is a fast, free-burning fuel, yet its average heat content is approximately one-third less than that of bituminous coal, which is more aged, and contains less moisture and a much higher percentage of combustible matter.

Nanaimo-Wellington and Comox Coals are among the highest grades of bituminous coals in the world, because of their high average heat value.

The consumer's best value is Island Coal, because, in addition to its heat content, it costs less than the imported varieties.

Remember, all coal looks alike . . . it's all black . . . but you'll get 30% more heat per dollar from Island Coal.

It is expected that the International Fisheries Commission in the near future will bring actively forward proposed new regulations for the conservation of the North Pacific halibut fishery in which there is still serious decline to be noted. If more drastic regulations are not imposed, the members of the commission feel, it will be a matter of a short time before the halibut become extinct altogether.
