Glue Process Perfected and May Lead to Establishment of Factory to Handle Waste in Making Oil, Meal

A process of manufacturing glue from fish offal without interfering in any way with the production of fish meal and oil has been perfected at the Prince Rupert Fisheries Experimental Station, according to L. F. Smith, who has been in charge of the work and who addressed the Prince Rupert Rotary Club on the subject yesterday.

The process is an exceedingly simple one. When the oil and meal are extracted a liquid comes off which is composed of glue, water and salts. The difficulty has been to get rid of the salts without too great cost. After many experiments, it was found that commercial sausage casing was admirably suited for the purpose in that the salts passed through the walls of the casing while the glue was retained.

It is probable that a glue factory may be established in Prince Rupert in connection with the local fish reduction concern, a factory that will prove a valuable adjunct and be the means of saving a great deal of what, up to this time, had been looked upon as waste material.

Mr. Smith, in his address, reviewed the condition up to the work of experimentation and told about what was being done in eastern glue factories. He dealt with the process of making fish meal and fish oils and the value of research and, particularly the commercial features and the waste accompanying the old process. He showed that the glue manufactured under their new process was of good quality and offered to further demonstrate the work to any who were interested and who would visit the experimental station.

Bank Deposits In 1930 Higher

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Despite the depression of 1930, bank deposits in the United States for the year were more than $1,000,000,000 ahead of the year previous, government statistics show. Further evidence of the increased thrift of the American people last year was the care they took of their automobiles.

CASE BODY IS FOUND

Portland Mail Flyer Lost His Life in Crash of Plane

PORTLAND, Jan. 30.—The body of Walter E. Case, Varney Air Line mail flyer of this city, was found entombed in his crashed plane in Columbia National Forest by searchers yesterday afternoon. The wreck was found on a steep mountainside in exceptionally rugged country. To be recovered, the body and the plane will have to be drawn by ropes for a distance of 200 feet up a sheer cliff.

Case became missing last Thursday morning while flying from here to Pasco, Wash. He is believed to have crashed that day. The wreck of his plane was sighted the day before yesterday by Al Davis, search flyer.

Green Onions Pulled, Honeysuckles Leafing and Rhubarb Above Ground in Alaskan Town

Writing to his friend, Commandant William Kerr of the Salvation Army, Joseph F. Ward, judge of the United States court at Skagway, says that the Alaskan town like the rest of the coast, is having a remarkably mild winter. There has been no frost as yet to form ice for skating, green onions were pulled outside this month and sold on the Skagway market, honeysuckles are in leaf and rhubarb is well above the ground, Judge Ward says. The people at Skagway are only hoping that there will not be frost now so as to spoil the growth.

VICTORIA, Jan. 30.—Opportunities such as existed for no other pioneer settlement on the continent lie open for the development of the virgin lands of the Peace River district of British Columbia, free from the infestation of weeds and the spread of disease in livestock which had to be met and combated in older agricultural settlements, it was pointed out by Hon. William Atkinson, minister of agriculture, shortly after his return from an inspection of the district.

Dominion and provincial departments of agriculture have drafted fresh plans for the extension of weed-cleaning and veterinary services to the farmers, said Mr. Atkinson.

Differences on Indian Policy Between Baldwin and Churchill May Cause Conservative Split

LONDON, Jan. 30.—The birth of a new faction within the ranks of the British Conservative party is seen in some circles today as a probable denouement of disagreement on the problem of Indian policy between Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin and Rt. Hon. Winston Churchill.

From correspondence between the two leaders which has just been published it appears that Mr. Churchill, while his warm personal friendship for Mr. Baldwin is undiminished, thinks it best that he should refrain from meetings of the party's business committee.

Mr. Baldwin, while equally warm in his personal remarks, accepts Mr. Churchill's view.

POLITICAL CANDOR

By daring to be unpopular with her supporters, Miss Margaret Bondfield, Britain's first woman cabinet minister, has set an example in political courage which many a male politician will view with dismay, says the Winnipeg Tribune.

It will be recalled that some time ago Miss Bondfield, in her official capacity as Minister of Labor, announced that mill girls and others out of employment who refuse to accept the jobs everywhere waiting for them in domestic service would be disqualified from receiving unemployment benefit. That Miss Bondfield meant what she said is evident in a recent decision under which a number of unemployed Lancashire girls have been disallowed benefits for refusing to accept domestic service jobs offering to them.

Such decision has aroused considerable resentment against the Minister of Labor. She is charged with advocating "conscript labor," with betraying the class from which she comes, of having her ideals of social justice blunted by contact with employers, and all the rest of it.

Assailed in such manner many politicians and most cabinet ministers would either at once give in, or at least attempt to explain that they had never meant what they appeared to have said. But not Margaret Bondfield. She has briefly replied that she holds to her decision, and that if it has made her unpopular, unpopular she must remain.

This is an example of political courage and honesty much needed at a time when so many politicians are out-bidding each other in cajoling the electorate. But it is a question whether Miss Bondfield's "unpopularity" will continue very long. It is one of the encouraging things about the working of democracy that the few who speak their minds frankly and fully, without fear of the consequences to themselves are invariably taken back into public esteem.

Popularity, like happiness, seldom lasts for the man or woman who sets out deliberately to seek it. This applies to politics. Democracy is not fooled for long by the smooth speeches, promises and bribes showered upon it by plausible politicians with their eyes on the next election.

SOCIALISM DISCUSSED

Twenty Years Ago

In Prince Rupert

January 30, 1911

Fire this morning completely destroyed a two-story boarding house owned by Mr. and Mrs. Haudenschuld on Third Avenue about two blocks east of McBride Street. The fire started in the room of a lodger who lit a fire to cook his own breakfast. The structure was soon a mass of flames and other lodgers, newly awakened, had narrow escapes with their lives.

Mah Ling, a Chinaman, was slugged last night on Comox Avenue and lost his roll of $45. He claims to have been assaulted by two men who jumped out of the shadows as he passed by.

Rev. F. W. Kerr preached a sensational sermon last night on the social evil before the congregation of First Presbyterian Church in the Empress Theatre.

Rev. C. E. Motte Speaker at Meeting Last Night in Salvation Army Citadel

Over fifty men were present at the Salvation Army Citadel last night to hear Rev. Charles E. Motte, pastor of Rupert East United Church, deliver an interesting address on the topic of "Christ and Socialism."

Commandant William Kerr presided and a musical program included community singing and vocal solos by Moses Alexee, Mrs. Emil Carlson and Louis Pitcher.

Commandant Kerr awarded proficiency certificates to Corps Cadets Edward Harmon and France Pierce.

The proceedings came to a close with serving of coffee and doughnuts, these refreshments being appreciated by all present.

MEN HOLD BANQUET

Annual Anglican Event Proves Very Successful in Cathedral Hall

The annual men's banquet of the Anglican Church was held last night in the Parish Hall, Mayor Orme presiding, and it proved very successful. The banquet, prepared by the members of the woman's auxiliary was excellent and the entertainment well above the average. There was plenty of light humor and also a serious vein provided by Rev. Canon Rushbrook and Dean Gibson which gave it that proper balance.

Regret was expressed by Mayor Orme and the other speakers at the enforced absence of Bishop Rix, which was deeply regretted. The Bishop always took the deepest interest in these events which he had initiated years ago. The Mayor said it seemed too bad that the Bishop should have travelled so far safely only to return home and be knocked down in the street.

Rev. Canon Rushbrook spoke of the church as being the greatest power in the world for good. He did not refer to the denomination to which he belonged or to the church organizations generally but to that which, for the past two thousand years had stood for idealism in art, literature, ethics and social advancement. It was a spiritual thing, the relation of man to his God and the relations of men to each other. The men and the buildings were simply the outward manifestations.

Dean Gibson opened in a light vein leading up to a serious talk to members of the congregation on such matters as religious conviction and tything. He deprecated the tendency toward material things and gave as the seven most important factors in the world today the Bible, the church, the home, the Sabbath School, the law and the press. There was a tendency to turn the back on God. While there was a great deal of talk of the brotherhood of man, this was ineffective without the fatherhood of God. The program follows:

- Toast—"The King" (with musical honors)
- Chairman's address.
- Community singing—Led by F. Bradshaw.
- Song—Mrs. J. H. McLeod.
- Song—A. R. Hunter.
- Recitation—Miss Beryl Birch and Miss Adele Thurber from "The School For Scandal."
- Song—R. Bradshaw, "Glorious Devon."
- Toast—"Our Church," proposed by Canon Rushbrook, responded to by Dean Gibson.

Song—Mrs. C. L. Monroe.
Sketch—"The Parson," Alec Connon.
Toast—"The Ladies," proposed by Chas. Evitt, responded to by Alex Rix.

Closing remarks by chairman.
Doxology.
Mrs. T. Andrew was convener for the supper. The committee in charge of tables consisted of: Mrs. J. B. Gibson, Mrs. A. T. Parkin, Mrs. Geo. Rorie and Mrs. Bazett-Jones. Those helping were: Mrs. W. A. Woodland, Mrs. Alex Rix, Mrs. Parlow, Mrs. Trelevan, Mrs. J. P. Cade, Mrs. J. Johns, Mrs. C. C. Mills, Mrs. Hinton, Mrs. C. Evitt, Mrs. J. Nichols, Mrs. Rayner, Mrs. W. C. Aspinall, Mrs. Russell Smith, Mrs. Wm. McCallum, Mrs. Elliot Homer, Mrs. W. J. Greer, Mrs. W. A. McLean, Mrs. E. W. Tucker, Mrs. Stamp-Vincent, Mrs. S. V. Cox and Mrs. Smeeton.

INFLUENZA SPREADING

Epidemic in Europe Mild But Persistent—120 Dead in Spain

LONDON, Jan. 30.—Influenza has been spreading rapidly over Europe during the past two weeks and, although it is generally of a mild type, the epidemic shows indication of abatement. The most serious report came from Spain where 120 persons are reported to have died in the past week.

In London, many firms are running with skeleton staffs. A. W. Lipsin sailed last night for the Prince George for a trip to Vancouver and elsewhere in the south.

Dr. Wood's
Her Two Children Coughed Day And Night
 Mrs. Fred. T. Kilnappel, R.R. No. 1, St. Agatha, Ont., writes: "My two children were coughing, day and night, from a very severe, whooping cough. I tried every kind of medicine I could think of, but they got no relief. A friend told me I should try Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, so I got two bottles of it, and before they were used the children were rid of their coughs. It is a very good medicine, and I would not be without a bottle in the house."

LEAFS WIN IN HOCKEY

Toronto Takes Second Place in Canadian Section By Winning Over Ottawa

OTTAWA, Jan. 30:—Toronto Maple Leafs took lone possession of second place in the standing of the Canadian section of the National Hockey League by defeating the local Senators last night. The Senators were leading two to nothing at the end of the second period but a whirlwind rally by the Leafs in the final frame overcame Ottawa's advantage.

In an inter-sectional game at Montreal, the Canadiens gave Philadelphia Quakers a good wallop. After a slow start, the Canadiens ran on a rampage through the Quaker defence.

In the American section, Boston Bruins once again turned back the New York Rangers to tighten their hold on first place.

Last night's scores:
Philadelphia 1, Canadiens 7.
Toronto 3, Ottawa 2.
Boston 4, New York Rangers 3.

SOCCER BRIBERY

Former Scottish International Player Is Found Out and Goes to Jail

GLASGOW, Scotland, Jan. 30:—For attempting to bribe a soccer player to throw a match, Archibald Kyle, former Scottish international player, was yesterday sentenced to three months' imprisonment with hard labor.

Kyle offered $500 to William Moffat, captain of the Hamilton Academicals, to allow his team to be beaten by Leith Athletic at Hamilton on January 3.

ESKIMOS WIN OUT

Defeated Portland Two to Nil in Pacific Coast Hockey League

PORTLAND, Jan. 30:—Seattle Eskimos went back into first place in the Pacific Coast Hockey League by defeating Portland Buckaroos two to nil here last night. The game started roughly with several penalties in the first period but settled down later to a clean exhibition. The first goal came in the second period and the second in the third.

Seattle is now even with Vancouver at the head of the league and Portland is in the cellar.

Young vs. McLachlan.

There are indications that the cradle of hockey may soon lose its famous tenant—the Ottawa Senators. Another possibility is that the team will merely change hands, to be operated in the future by a new syndicate of Ottawa sportsmen.

Word that the team which has long represented the capital in the National League, and brought many a world's professional hockey championship to the city, is up against it financially, came from an officer of the club, Redmon Quain, director and legal adviser of the Ottawa Hockey Association, said: "We are anxious to keep the team in Ottawa but we cannot afford to any longer."

The natural construction to be placed on the Quain statement is that the Senators are on the sale block. A disastrous slump into which the team has fallen in the last few weeks has tumbled them deep into the cellar of the league standing. A dwindling in the gate receipts for their home games has followed, and operating the team nowadays is hardly a paying proposition.

The statement of Director Quain was prompted by reports that formation of a syndicate of influential sport fans and Ottawa service club members to purchase the Senators was a strong likelihood. "Such a course would please us immensely and would relieve us of a difficult obligation," said Mr. Quain. He also let it be known the hockey association would be willing to grant better terms on purchase to an Ottawa syndicate than to one which would operate the team elsewhere and leave the capital city without a professional team.

A prominent member of the Gyro Club said efforts are being made to interest a number of Ottawa sports followers in the acquisition of the team. Sentiment is strongly in favor of the move, he commented, but the matter is in a purely embryo stage.

T. P. "Tommy" Gorman is mentioned by The Journal as the likely managing director of the Senators Club if the reported deal goes through. Gorman piloted the Senators for many years, during which they won the world's championship several times. At present he is assistant-manager of the Agua Caliente, Mexico, Jockey Club.

SMITHERS' HOCKEY TEAM EASILY DEFEATED TELKWA

Except for a rally in the early moments of the second period, Smithers had little difficulty in defeating Telkwa 8 to 3 in the first hockey game played between the two towns in five years. It is likely a return game will be played before long.

YOU NEVER KNEW BRAN COULD BE SO DELICIOUS

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is a delightful surprise. It is as good to eat as it is good for you.

This appetizing ready-to-eat cereal protects and relieves you from constipation—and from the headaches, the dizziness, the lack of "pep" that go with it.

Start the whole family on this health-habit tomorrow. Two tablespoonfuls of ALL-BRAN, eaten daily, will prevent and relieve both temporary and recurring constipation. In severe cases, eat ALL-BRAN with each meal.

Delicious with milk or cream, fruits or honey added. ALL-BRAN also furnishes iron, which brings color to cheeks and lips. At all grocers in the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

The Man Who Stole Her Gem

He Left His Mark

A society woman in a Western city left her home one afternoon. A robber entered and stole her jewels—from a safe. He appeared to have left not a mark or clue. Whatever he touched, including the safe, had been rubbed or washed. But he forgot one thing, as robbers always do. A carelessly placed drinking glass on the sideboard showed he had taken a drink. The glass bore a thumb-print.

The police had that print on record, with a photo of the man. He was quickly found and the jewels were in his room. The owner of them back—the man—was in prison sentence. All because a finger-print touch.

So Do You—on Foods Dangerous Finger-Print

This true story shows how you leave finger-prints on everything you touch. They will not incriminate you honest people, but they often do some fearful damage. Those prints are germs. Life Extension Institute lists 27 diseases which may be conveyed by such imprints on food.

These germs come from touching things which other people touch. People who have colds, perhaps, and have coughed or sneezed in their hands. People with other troubles. We cannot dodge those germs if we mingle with people, and handle what they touch. In a card game, for instance, every card may convey some dangerous germs to you.

The safe way is to wash your hands often, and always before you eat. Not with ordinary soap, but with Lifebuoy. That contains a germicide powerful that no active germs exist after its use.

Wash your hands with buoy often. Teach the habit to your children. Health is valuable to risk. Many people are warding off a number of troubles in that way.

But Lifebuoy is not a medicated soap. It is an exquisite based on two palm oils, which world has never learned to make a better beauty and bath soap. No perfume save the scent of health you will come to think finest odour on earth.

Your nearest dealer sells buoy. Why not buy a box and test for yourself its true qualities? Lever Brothers Limited, Toronto.
