RATEPAYERS DELEGATION AT MEETING

Finance Committee of City Council Hears Views on Reducing Assessments

A delegation from the Prince Rupert Ratepayers' Association met the finance committee of the city council Wednesday and strongly urged that assessments throughout the city should be reduced.

Mr. Arnold was the chief speaker for the delegation and he gave a number of reasons why the Ratepayers' Association favored a change in assessment. That in force at present was not equitable. What they asked was that the properties throughout the city be assessed at their real values and not at fictitious values as at present.

TO RAISE BILLION

Drastic Tax Increases Proposed By Hoover and Mellon

WASHINGTON, D.C., Dec. 11.—Under the new budget plan, announced by President Herbert Hoover and Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon, it is expected the public treasury will be enriched by almost $1,000,000,000.

Plenty of opposition to the budget is developing. Senator James Coussens, Michigan, wealthiest member of Congress, declares that it does not go far enough.

PEACE IN PROSPECT

Japan Accepts League of Nations Proposals—China Still Hesitating

PARIS, Dec. 11.—The council of the League of Nations had renewed hopes for a settlement of Manchurian difficulties after it had been advised that the Japanese government had instructed its representatives to accept the League's truce proposal with but one reservation—that Japan be allowed temporarily the right to deal with banditry as it sees fit.

Under the League council's proposals, both Japan and China would undertake not to institute warfare and to keep the League advised at all times of developments in Manchuria.

China remains firm on the stand that Japanese troops should not be allowed to continue policing of Chinese territory in Manchuria.

Those Who Have Salaries Are Asked to Help Those Who Have None Result Adverse Conditions

There are dozens of families in Prince Rupert today that find themselves, through no fault of their own, carrying on without means to purchase for themselves anything more than the bare necessities of life.

To these homes it is proposed to carry a ray of sunshine on Christmas Day. Hampers will be made up and distributed to needy people by the Salvation Army provided they can find the money with which to do it.

There are also families in the city where little or no reduction has been made in the salary and they are able to live for less than for many years past.

PASSED UP AGAIN

Prince Rupert was ready to submit important evidence before the Railways Commission during its visit to the coast but the commission did not think it of sufficient importance to come here. Also there is a line of railway over which it is suggested there may be running rights given to each of the big companies, but that made no difference to the commission. Northern British Columbia had no interest for them.

And yet we fancy we can see the day when both railways and politicians will be anxious to visit the section of country between Prince Rupert and Red Pass. Vancouver and Victoria will not always be looked upon as British Columbia. The north will yet come into its own in spite of the attitude toward it of the people in the south.

STANDARDIZATION OF TEXT BOOKS

One of the standing grievances of British Columbia parents has been the high cost of text books for the children attending schools. While the provincial government provides free books for some subjects in the grade schools, when it comes to the high schools, the parents buy them all and they are very expensive.

It would not be so bad if there were some attempt to stabilize and standardize the school books. At present different books are used in the different provinces with the result that the cost is higher and pupils moving from one province to the other have to buy a new set of books. Books are changed often and only in a few cases can be handed down from one member of the family to another. It seems to the average ratepayers as if the whole system should be remodelled.

REFUSE TO SPEND

The ratepayers of Vancouver refuse to spend any money. They voted down the bylaws put before them this week, thus registering their opinion that the present was not the time for municipalities to make any expenditures that could be avoided.

Prince Rupert, unfortunately, is in a somewhat similar condition. The present state of the money market makes it absolutely necessary that the city curtail expenditures to the fullest possible extent. There is no alternative. The coming year, no matter what council is elected, will be a lean one so far as city expenditures are concerned.

CHRISTMAS OPERETTA

High School Pupils Give Acceptable Entertainment in "Lady of Terrace"

Last night, at the Moose Hall, the High School presented their Christmas operetta, "The Lady of the Terrace" to a full house.

The story, set in Ireland, is woven round an Irish legend of lost jewels and beautiful visions appearing in the moonlight, and the fortunes of Gerald Craugmont, the young heir of an impoverished estate. The principal cast was well supported by a strong chorus of Irishmen and girls who, with their character dresses of green and orange and brown, and their bright songs and dances, did much to carry the story along. Particularly bright were the choruses "Bills, Bills," "We're Irish Now For Aye," "Tipping," and "You Must Do as the Irish Do."

Bert Cameron, as Gerald, sang remarkably well in "I'm Feeling Blue," and in the theme song "Lady of Yesteryear," while Betty Cameron, as his aunt, Lady Stamford, did full justice to her part as the Dowager of the Castle. Her singing was especially commendable in the numbers "The Old-Fashioned Way" which she sang and danced with Mr. Chandler (Tom Marshall) and the trio with Peggy (Lillian Jones) and Clare (Beatrice Berner). "Irish Harps are Playing,"

Sir Clarence (William Tobey), an English cousin, playing opposite Peggy (Lillian Jones) in a comedy part gave an excellent account of himself, holding his audience at all times and getting much humor into his part, notably in his monologue "I'm a Deuced Clever Chap." Peggy, Gerald's gay young sister, showed she could keep Clarence "guessing" with her bright repartee and swinging song "I Love All the Boys." She also sang "You Must Do as the Irish Do," supported by the chorus and an Irish jig by a picked group of boys and girls.

The servants of the house, Dennis (Bob Moxley) and his wife, Molly (Ruthana Wood), quarrel every time they meet from the beginning of the play, as Molly finds her husband dancing awfully funny jig, to the end, when they fight in dialogue and song over the respective merits of "The O'Hara's and the O'Toole's." Molly, too, recounts the legends of Old Ireland in the number "We Believe in Fairies."

Fortunes Recouped
Gerald rents his home to Mr. Chandler (Tom Marshall) and his beautiful daughter, Clare (Beatrice Berner). Mr. Chandler is rich enough to recoup the fortunes of the Craugmonts and helps smooth Gerald's path with the air of the chorus—and his money bags—in a very good number, "Tipping," while Clare, in a more sentimental vein, sings sweetly of "When It Rains in Springtime," and "Tall Blue Hollyhocks." In these songs she is supported by a special chorus in blue and silver dresses. She and Gerald fall in love and, finally, she is instrumental in finding the missing jewels, which Gerald and she decide shall remain in the Craugmont family.

During the Chandlers' stay the vision on the Terrace appears. Margaret Anderson, as the Lady of the Terrace, glides gracefully across the stage, humming a sweet refrain, "Mist Made of Moonbeams" which is taken up by the chorus. Two little pupils of Miss Craig's, Gloria de Wolf and Nona Hodgson, add much to the effectiveness of this chorus by a most graceful toe dance. Miss Craig also taught the other dances given during the operetta.

The villain of the piece is Gerald's Uncle Michael, the Squire, (Roderick Church) who holds a mortgage on the estate, threatens foreclosure and is foiled by Clare's finding of the jewels and betrothal to Gerald. Michael really lives his part as he plots with his lawyers in "There'll Be Trouble," quarrels with Clare, and at the very end bargains for the jewels.

In all, elaborate costumes, pretty dances, bright choruses, clever principals, and a story that moves along quickly and certainly, added together, make a very satisfying evening's entertainment.

The personnel of the choruses included: R. Tobey, A. Ivanson, D. Sutherland, J. Obuchina, D. Arney, O. Fulton, P. Palmer, W. Murray, R. Wilson, L. Wilson, R. Parker, P. Fisher, W. Williscroft, F. Reich, K. Green, M. Schubert, K. Kellback, E. Dalgarno, F. Thompson, A. Thurber, M. Jones, M. Geary, D. O'Neill, V.

the best interests of the city at heart.

Alderman Pullen argued that it would not be correct to take present values as real values. In boom times assessors refused to consider inflated prices as real values and so at a time of depression the extreme low should not be considered. The assessments could not jump up and down with all the vagaries of a real estate market.

Aldermen Collart and Black supported this idea.

In conclusion the mayor expressed pleasure at having had an opportunity of discussing the situation with the delegation. He felt that if they would submit their ideas to the court of revision appointed by the next council, they would be given careful consideration. The city assessment roll was now complete for the year and could not be changed. He agreed that the assessment could be improved upon and was sure the members of the council would welcome the help of a committee from the Ratepayers' Association in revising the roll. Other members of the committee supported him in this.

The delegation then withdrew and the committee held a lengthy session with the city's banker in which the whole financial situation was discussed.

WHAT HAS BRAN TO DO WITH BEAUTY?

THE natural beauty of sparkling eyes, a smooth, lovely skin, and an enthusiastic personality come from a healthy body. The first rule of health is regular elimination. Otherwise, constipation soon develops. Headaches, poor appetite, loss of energy, sallow skins are usual consequences. Beauty and health may be seriously impaired.

Here's where bran is so important. It supplies two things needed to prevent ordinary constipation. Vitamin B, to tone the intestines. "Bulk," which gives them exercise. Both promote regular habits.

A safe, pleasant way to get your daily bran is with Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Two tablespoonfuls daily of this delicious ready-to-eat cereal will usually prevent and relieve both temporary and recurring constipation. If you suffer from intestinal trouble not relieved this way, consult your doctor.

ALL-BRAN supplies iron for the blood.

Enjoy Kellogg's ALL-BRAN either as a cereal, or in cooking. Recipes on the package. How much better this is than taking pills and drugs.

At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

Five tubes actually do the work of seven and do it more efficiently in these new Majestic Models. The "224" tube acts both as oscillator and detector—a new double function never before introduced in a radio set—thereby eliminating one tube. The new "247" tube has a power output equal to two ordinary "245" tubes—thus eliminating another tube. Saving these two tubes saves dollars for you!

Majestic first introduces in these radios the new "Spray-Shield" Tube—entirely self-shielded—eliminating the usual metal shield "cans." Another absolutely unique development in radio!

Majestic Radios for 1932 not only have these noteworthy improvements—they are the lowest-price, greatest-dollar-value Majestics ever produced.

PUCK RACE IS CLOSE

Montreal Canadiens Shut Out New York Americans Last Night

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—The race for leadership in the international section of the National Hockey League was tightened up in an interesting manner as a result of the victory of the Montreal Canadiens over the New York Americans by a score of three to nil last night. The Americans are still in the lead but their margin over the Canadiens has been reduced to a single point.

The New York Rangers increased their lead of the American section to four points by defeating the Montreal Maroons 3-2 in a tight contest.

Boston Bruins and Detroit Tigers were unable to break a one-all tie and both crept up a point in the American section.

Guide to Correspondents

The Daily News welcomes correspondence on live topics of the day or any other subject of public interest, but letters must be brief and to the point. The long-winded correspondent has no place in modern journalism. Every letter must be signed by the writer, not necessarily for publication but as a matter of good faith and courtesy. All unsigned documents go to the waste paper basket. Letters of a caustic character must have the signature appended for publication. Letter should be written on one side of the paper only. Correspondents must avoid personalities and the language should be such as would be allowed in the ordinary rules of debate.

NEW ROADS BUILDING

Further Areas in British Columbia Being Opened up To Tourist Travel

British Columbia is launching an extensive road building program, designed to improve her existing systems and to open up to the automobile tourist hitherto inaccessible regions in the interior, says the National Revenue Review. In all nine projects have received the serious consideration of the Provincial Government and work has already commenced on several.

Chief among the projects already under way is the new Trans-Canada highway, which will run from Victoria north to Nanaimo, on Vancouver Island, and from Vancouver, on the mainland, to the Alberta boundary, via Kamloops, Revelstoke, and Golden. Between the latter places, a gap of 183 miles, following the "Big Bend" of the Columbia river is being constructed, and the route will be improved along its whole length.

Work has also commenced on a short stretch of highway, along the north bank of the Fraser river between Agassiz and Haig, which parallels the Trans-Canada and provides an alternative route for motorists. Work will also start immediately on a new road to the United States boundary which will connect Vancouver with the Peace Arch at Blain. The new route will be shorter than the existing one via New Westminster and Pacific Highway, and will be partially new construction.

Another project likely to be proceeded with is the Southern Trans-Provincial Highway from Hope through the Hope mountains to Princeton and thence to the Crow's Nest Pass. From Hope to Princeton, the route, all of which is laid out and a 30-mile stretch south of the latter point completed, describes a great semi-circle to the south reaching its highest point in Allison Pass at an altitude of 4,200 feet.

Northern Roads

Another route, crossing the province in the north is also included in the program. On this Northern Trans-Provincial Highway, new construction is contemplated east of Prince Rupert, west of Hazelton and east of Prince George.

In the interior, the program provides for the construction of a new highway up the North Thompson son to Jasper; general improvements to the Cranbrook-Golden road, and to the Cariboo road from Spences Bridge, Thompson river north to Prince George.

Coastal projects contemplated are the continuation of the West Coast road on Vancouver Island, west of Jordan River and the construction of the Ucluelet-Tofino road further north. On the mainland construction of the remaining links necessary to give Vancouver road connection with Powell River is expected.

Thrill Prices at Capitol Theatre

The Capitol Theatre is announcing a drop in the price of admission for Thrift Week, commencing today. The first picture to be shown at the reduced rate is "Raffles," the fascinating story of the young man with the nimble fingers and "It," which is the week-end offering. The ladies are charmed with him and he uses that charm for his own temporary advantage.

Many have seen "Raffles" as a classic of the stage, but it is more elaborate in the picture and slightly different.

ADDRESS ON EVOLUTION

Dean Gibson Heard at Rotary Luncheon Yesterday Afternoon

Declaring that the Bible account of creation was not opposed to the evolution theory but that they fitted in nicely one with the other, Very Rev. J. B. Gibson, Dean of St. Andrew's Anglican Cathedral, gave an intensely interesting address on evolution to the Rotary Club at its weekly luncheon yesterday afternoon.

The Dean spoke of the controversy that had taken place over evolution. New truths were hard to get into the minds of men. He reminded his hearers that the earth was originally thought to be flat and then it was discovered that it was round but people were slow to believe it. Today it was an accepted fact.

Darwin did not appear to have had the idea that the evolutionary theory was opposed to the Biblical account. It was Darwin's successors who brought out the idea more forcibly and even today the idea seemed to be prevalent that the evolutionary theory and the Bible account could not be reconciled.

Dean Gibson then went on to point out that the six days were undoubtedly six periods, not necessarily 24-hour days. The order of development as set out by evolutionists was the same as that given in Genesis. The nebular theory was that the earth was once a part of the sun, that it had been thrown off as a vaporous mass and gradually solidified. The crust was formed but the interior of the earth remained at an intense heat.

Process of Evolution

Light was the first thing created, it being the unifying force binding the proton and the electron together. The atmosphere came second. Then the seas were formed and the dry land, lower forms of life came into being and plants, crustaceans, fishes, amphibians, birds and animals followed in order. Finally man became a conscious being.

Various theories accounted for the beginning of life. One was the mechanical theory that conditions were such that life began spontaneously but the generally accepted idea was that there was a vitalizing force which brought forth the spark of life. This force was what men called God. "In the beginning God" There must be a supreme mind to bring about such a wonderful creation.

pounded the theory that all life came from a common stock. The history of evolution is the story of the development of a being with the human power of choice, of freedom and of recording experience. There was nothing unreasonable in this or contrary to the story of creation.

Then came the spiritual life, developing from the mental. Consciousness separated man from the lower animals. Man is a spiritual being, continually evolving. The world is getting better. In fact the good in the world is very much greater than the bad only through the newspapers attention is continually drawn to the bad.

In the process of evolution no one could tell to what man might evolve. Possibly some day progress may be so great that men may become as gods.

Moving Picture Director Is In Grave Condition

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 11.—David Hartford, noted director who has long been identified with the American moving picture industry, is in a serious condition suffering with heart trouble. His recovery is despaired of.
