MRS. BUTCHART'S WORK

Victoria people have publicly acknowledged the splendid work Mrs. R. P. Butchart is doing for the country by allowing visitors in any number from all over the world to visit her beautiful gardens at Brentwood. It is one of the beauty spots of the island. It is the one place outside Victoria visited by all tourists. Victoria cashes in on it to the extent of many thousands of dollars annually and it is a special boon to those who cater to the tourist trade. The Native Sons and Daughters of B. C. made no mistake when they awarded her the medal.

Usually work is what people try to avoid but just now it is the one thing they desire.

THE BEAUHARNOIS ODOR

The word Beauharnois is being telegraphed to all parts of the country and the name is beginning to have a very disagreeable odor. Not only were part of the profits of the company diverted to political purposes but individuals made much more than a legitimate gain therefrom, according to the reports which come from the nation's capital.

It is to be hoped that the committee will keep at work until everything is laid bare in connection with the concern and its manipulation.

Apparently the farmers feel just as badly about the marketing of their product as do the fishermen. Both find it difficult to get along just now and the rest of the community is in the same jackpot.

METHODS HAVE CHANGED
 (Edmonton Journal)

The Vegreville Observer, in recalling a by-election that was held in that constituency during the summer of 1906, notes that it then had the first of the discussions with the Journal that have lasted for twenty-five years. It is impressed by the fact that this newspaper "used more vigorous language in those days than it ventures to use now." Liberals were called "pettifogging politicians" and "irresponsible demagogues."

If these are typical examples of the terms employed at that stage in the Journal's history, it has no apologies to make for the change in character of its language since then. It cannot see that by resorting to them it would be helping any cause that it champions. Nor does it believe that any large proportion of its readers would approve of a return to the slangwhanging methods that were at one time commonplace in political controversy. Most newspapers have in recent years concluded that mere abuse of those with whom they disagreed did not serve any good purpose. The Observer itself has proceeded on that theory.

In reading the extracts that are published on this page from the files of the London Times of a century ago, one must be struck by the contrast between the violence of the language of the editor of that day and that used by his present successor. But this does not mean that the latter is any less vigorous in the expression of his opinions. There are some who can never distinguish between violence and vigor. But there really is a difference.

The city treasurer reports that so far taxes are coming in well, so it is clear that some people have money today. If the city taxes are paid, the municipality will be able to carry on without calling in outside aid to manage its affairs. That's some comfort.

BOY TELLS STORY OF TRIP

JENSHOW, China, July 22.—How to elude bandits and Communists along the battle-torn shores of the Upper Yangtze River was discovered recently by a Canadian lad who journeyed from Toronto to Western China. The following article describing his experiences was written for The Canadian Press by Julius Paul Jolliffe, 13-year old son of Rev. C. J. P. and Mrs. Jolliffe of the United Church of Canada Mission: "We arrived at the river port of Hankow. Officials of the boat company told Captain Micklow that a river steamer which arrived the day before reported it had been fired on. Our steamer was owned by an American company and therefore was guarded on her passage from Shanghai to Hankow by marines from the American gun-boat.

"A new guard came on board at Hankow. They carried about five rifles, two Lewis guns, four long-range Brownies, and three of four Thompsons. Each guard also had a .45 revolver and some riot guns for close range. Besides this the captain's cabin was protected with armor-plate for the passengers' refuge if need be.

"The guards did nothing while they were on duty but clean their guns and smoke their pipes. When not on watch they would borrow the captain's gramophone or have a snooze. They were quite good-natured and did not mind the slams I gave their country, in which we went back as far as 1812 in our disputes.

"The next morning the captain told us all to keep on deck near the bridge, because firing was expected and he wanted us to be ready to go to his cabin, where we would be protected by the armor. His orders seemed unnecessary because all looked so peaceful around us. Nothing happened that morning, however, and at noon the captain decided it would be quite safe for us to take lunch in the saloon, which was just below the bridge.

"We were busy eating when we heard something suddenly go 'Pop!' 'Twas a bullet from the Reds before anybody could say Jack Robinson. Our guards had all become attentive and gave the Reds such a reply I am sure they wished they had not fired the first shot, while we in the dining room took refuge on the floor.

"The next morning the guards were 'Cap' and 'Brownie'. The latter had numberless freckles, plenty of avoirdupois, and a boastful tongue. The rest of the guards were on deck or sleeping, except for one who was enjoying himself in the bath tub. At this time we were passing a town where the Red flag waved on high. Nobody thought anything of this when suddenly... Crack! Crack! The good man in the tub must have been greatly embarrassed. He immediately jumped into his underwear, seized his rifle and ran to his post.

"We were all on deck and it did not take us long to look for a safe spot. Most of our company quickly lay flat on the deck behind the smoke-stack, while I, who was talking to the guards, witnessed the two of them jump up. Brownie yelled, 'Come on guys, here's some more fun.' Whereupon he ran to the bridge with me at his heels to give the Reds a reply. I stumbled over some guns—which made Brownie rather angry, and he made a few ejaculations I will not repeat. I amused myself by picking up cartridges, which were falling on the floor like rain and still hot. Then I crept into the captain's cabin where soon all were assembled. In a few minutes the captain came, saying, 'It is all over now but we will have it again in a little while, so stay where you are.' With that he walked over to his bureau, which was built in the wall, and took out two black revolvers and two boxes of cartridges. The guards had ordered coffee, but the boy who brought it saw they were firing at the time and thought it was for us. When we passed the spot they looked for their coffee.

"That night we went over a very shallow spot on which we could hear the boat scraping the bottom. Next day we heard another boat just behind us got stuck at this place. The Reds gave them a reception they had not expected. In order to get away they had to throw overboard half of their cargo, and the Reds sent them a letter asking them to surrender, which of course they did not do. They were rescued by a British gunboat.

"The next morning we passed Temple Hill, which is known as the Reds' headquarters. Here we had another lively time; it was a cannon they fired at us this time. The captain, who was on the bridge, said he smelt its powder. He said the shell had passed a couple of yards above the bridge. As for the rest of the trip it was uneventful.

"I have heard that the Chinese government is doing its best to put down the Communist activities in this locality."

Italian Consul Visiting West

Leaves Jasper Park Lodge For Pacific Coast Today

JASPER, July 22.—The Conte R. Di Villanova of Ottawa, Italian consul general to Canada, left today over Canadian National Railways for the Pacific Coast after a day at Jasper Park Lodge where he greeted more than a dozen Italian members of the lodge staff at an official reception, which was tendered them in a charming gesture on the part of the diplomatic chief.

The Consul is accompanied by the Contessa Di Villanova.

Great Speed In Railway Work

LONDON, July 22.—An important part of the scheme for reconstructing Paddington Station was begun and completed in three hours of hustle. Between one and four o'clock in the morning a gang of 100 men removed sections of old tracks and crossing points, laid new tracks, demolished portions of the wall of No. 8 platform, dug trenches for the new platform wall, removed the material, lowered new sections of concrete platform into position, moved large quantities of material into position. The work is claimed to be one of the largest operations ever concluded in three hours.

WEDDING OF RUPERT MAN

John W. Plommer of Prince Rupert High School Staff Takes Bride at Vancouver

The marriage took place at Ryerson United Church, Vancouver on Monday of Lyla, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. Stewart, and John W. Plommer, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Plommer of Vancouver. Rev. Mr. Wilkinson performed the ceremony, and music was provided by Alan Thompson.

Of flowered chiffon, showing touches of black and green, with rose tones predominating, was the gown worn by the bride, who was given in marriage by her father. Encircled with a narrow belt at the natural waistline, the slender bodice showed a deep, befrilled Bertha collar, the effect being furthered in the series of ruffles on the very full skirt, which revealed white slippers to match long gloves. Her picture hat featured a crown of rose lace, brimmed with green mohair, and pink roses were carried in a bouquet.

The bride's sister, Miss Madalyn Stewart of Seattle, attended her, wearing a colorful frock of lemon yellow, contrasting with Chanel blue. Silk net was the material of her dress, the skirt of which was long and full, and the bodice and the chic coat were finely tucked. A large hat in yellow matched the gown, and shoes and gloves were blue. The bridesmaid's bouquet was of yellow snapdragons and delphinium. Jack Thompson was groomsmen.

An informal reception followed at the home of the bride's parents, where Mrs. Plommer and Mrs. Stewart, mother of the bride, assisted in receiving the guests. Yellow and blue flowers were arranged through the rooms, and the bride's table, centred with mauve and pink sweet peas, was presided over by Mrs. Howard W. Hudson.

For travelling, the bride chose a sports frock of yellow rajah silk, showing touches of skipper blue, a panama and white polo coat. After a honeymoon in Washington and on Vancouver Island, Mr. and Mrs. Plommer will reside in Prince Rupert.

GROWTH OF PROVINCE

Remarkable Advancement Shown in British Columbia During Past Sixty Years

VICTORIA, July 22—The celebration of the Diamond Jubilee of the entrance of British Columbia into Confederation, held in Victoria this week, marks a period of remarkable achievement.

Within sixty years the population has grown from about 40,000, of whom less than 10,000 were whites, to over 600,000. Where there was not a mile of railway there is today over 5,000 miles. Roads have grown from the Cariboo Highway, 500 miles long, to a system of 25,000 covering practically the whole inhabited area of the province. The fisheries, then considered so negligible that no record was kept, now yield well over $20,000,000 a year.

The forest production of B.C. has risen from lumber exports valued at about $250,000 a year to a total production that has reached over $90,000,000 in a year. Mining from about $3,000,000 a year, confined to placer gold and coal, has risen as high as $68,000,000 in a single year. Agriculture from a small production for local needs rose to a yield of over $60,000,000 two years ago. British Columbia, the neglected cornerstone of sixty years ago, today produces more wealth per capita from primary industries than any other province in Canada. It contains the third city, and is first of all in lumber, fish, silver, lead, zinc and commercial apples.

Newsboys Are Still In Lead At Softball

The Newsboys were again victorious yesterday by defeating the Borden All-Stars, two games out of three. The first game was a clean walk-away, the News winning 7 to 1.

The second was closely fought and Borden Street edged out the winners by the score of 5 to 2.

The third was won by the Newsies by a comfortable margin and during it Borden was nowhere dangerous.

Dungate pitched fine ball for the winners, walking but two men.

Batteries

Borden—Welle and Postula, and for Newsies Dungate and Campbell Munizaba and Santerbane played well for the losers, the former doing good work in the left field.

OBJECTS TO SELECTION

Sporting Editor, Daily News:—Your selection of a team to represent Rupert against the Navy boys is good, with the exception of Wilson as outside right, whose displays for Regiment have been weak and not worthy of a novice, and how the committee of the Regiment Football Club put up with his brand of football is beyond me spectators who pay to see some decent football. He may be approaching the veteran age of footballers and would show a good example to the younger players by standing down in favor of one of them. Regiment have two wins to their credit which were achieved more by making play on the left wing than on the right.

My selection for Rupert would be: Laidler or Smith; Watson, Jack; Edgcombe, Currie, Hadden; S. Dickens, Russell or Murray, Baptie, A. Dickens, Norrington.

A SPECTATOR.

FINAL STAGE LIFE HISTORY OF HALIBUT

Schooner Dorothy Gone to Seward Expecting to Complete Cycle Of Life There

JUNEAU, July 22:—The schooner Dorothy carrying a group of scientists who are searching for the life history of the halibut, is on its way to Seward near where it is hoped to find the tiny halibut in their final stage to complete the records.

The vessel has been paying visits to northern waters for several years, gathering data in regard to this unill now little known fish. Gradually they have pieced together the evidence secured by dredging and fishing until the chain is almost complete and it is expected that by fall the whole life history of these fish in Western Alaskan waters will be a matter of record. The information was necessary before any steps could be taken to preserve the halibut from depletion.

SPORT CHAT

The betting on the fight to take place between Jack Sharkey and Mickey Walker is two to one on Sharkey.

Some local interest is being taken in the match at Ketchikan between Norman Wilson and the Dixie Kid. The former is known in Alaska and B.C. and the latter is a member of the crew of the cruiser Detroit. The American Legion is arranging the bout.

Last evening's Mobley Cup football fixture between the Merchants and the Regiment was postponed owing to the bad weather. This is the first time this season that a football game has had to be postponed. The next game on Friday evening will be between the Merchants and the Legion. This game ought to be of special interest as the Legion is anxious to wipe out the sting of the six to one victory of the Merchants in their last encounter and they are confident that they can take the measure of the tradesmen.

The leading goal scorers for the season, all competition games included, are Baptie with eight goals, Albert Dickens with seven, Norrington with four and S. Dickens and McKay with three goals each. Amor, Russell, J. Murray, W. Murray, Fong and Colussi have two goals each to their credit while H. Dickens, Douglas, Howe, D. Smith, Bussanich, D. Jack, A. Hodgkinson, Bond, Wingham, Tinker, Wilson and Lyons have one each to their credit. W. Murray scored against his own team while Skinner has put two past his own goalie.

The standing in the Mobley Cup (City League) to date is:

| | P. | W. | L. | F. | A. | P. |
|-----------|----|----|----|----|----|----|
| Legion | 3 | 2 | 1 | 8 | 8 | 4 |
| Regiment | 3 | 1 | 2 | 9 | 8 | 2 |
| Merchants | 2 | 1 | 1 | 7 | 8 | 2 |

Footballers particularly will hear with regret of the accident to Percy Tinker who broke his kneecap when he slipped on a greasy plank while across the harbor on Sunday. Percy is known to all football supporters as a real sport. For many years he has given his best, and it was a very good best, too, in football circles. While not so fast as he used to be he is still able to show the younger generation how it should be done and this year has turned out for the Regiment and scored for them. He is chairman of the Regiment Football Club. All will join in wishing him a speedy and complete recovery and trust that he will still be able to turn out and give the ball an occasional kick.

ROYAL TIME AT STEWART

T. D. Pattullo Went South This Morning After Leaving Message With Daily News

Before leaving for the south yesterday, T. D. Pattullo, who has just completed a tour of the north, stated to the Daily News that he appreciated very much the courtesies that had been extended to him and was especially pleased at the enterprise of the people of Stewart in putting on such a splendid celebration. It gave him great pleasure to be present there along with H. F. Kergin, M. P. for the district, and Mrs. Kergin. He felt grateful for the royal time they had given him. He did not address any public meeting there, but simply went there to take part as a citizen.

Mr. Pattullo said he felt sure there would be great developments in the north as soon as conditions changed. The wealth of the country was so well known now that nothing could hold it back permanently.

After his arrival home Mr. Pattullo will leave for a tour of the Peace River country which is at its best just now. He plans to travel all over the British Columbia section of that huge district, so that he may be in a position to help them solve their problems in the Legislature.

Psychic Investigators Assert Visions From Beyond Reported in Winnipeg Case Are Not Unusual Phenomenon

WINNIPEG, July 22—Following the strange case of Mrs. Frank Dart of this city, who saw the vision of a dead friend 24 hours before she herself was killed in an automobile accident, the Winnipeg Tribune conducted enquiries among investigators of psychic phenomena and found a general belief there was no absolute barrier between this state of existence and the next.

The investigators were not surprised by the case of Mrs. Dart, claiming visitations from beyond are a usual occurrence.

Mrs. Dart, as grand marshal of the grand chapter of the Eastern Star, was performing the last official act of her term of office. She was to place a wreath on the altar in memory of Sister Edna Backus, of Winnipeg. As Mrs. Dart moved toward the altar the vision of her friend appeared beside her. "She was as I knew her in life," Mrs. Dart later told a friend. Almost exactly 24 hours later Mrs. Dart was killed.

The Tribune went to Dr. T. Glen Hamilton, whose reputation as an investigator of psychic phenomena extends far beyond this continent. He said such apparitions appeared to Mrs. Dart have been frequently observed by many reliable witnesses. "Clairvoyant visions," is perhaps the better term. The stage was set for the vision to come and Mrs. Dart had the faculty necessary to see it. It might have been visible to other clairvoyants had any been present.

Evidence Abundant

"The evidence is abundant," said Dr. Hamilton, "and to many conservative, scientific minds who have had the opportunity and experience to enable them to judge the case, it is sufficient to establish a claim that there is no absolute barrier between this state of existence and the next. The evidence, which is indisputable, includes the handwriting, the spoken word, the choice vocabulary, mannerisms and a score of other habit features to say nothing of photographic records of semblance of persons projected through from an unknown, an 'X' state of existence. This state of existence is separated from us by a great gulf, but a gulf which is not impassable to a well-controlled form of energy dominated and directed in accord with mysterious laws by unseen intelligences acutely alert to solve the problem they have set out to prove.

Investigators have come to the conclusion that back of these phenomena there are unknown psychic laws of some kind operating. The investigators included such men as Flammarion, the noted French astronomer of Columbia University.

"Naturally," said Dr. Hamilton, "the popular enquiry arises: 'Was this particular incident of a monitory nature?' Investigators cannot say; here we are on unscientific ground. We can, however, say this: In our work, which includes extensive observation of clairvoyant phenomena, as well as photographic experiments, we have found a good many instances which emphatically indicate that the clairvoyance was based on actual fact. Proof of this type, however, can only be obtained when

Emphatic Claims

Many investigators are emphatic in their claims that results of research have lifted the edge of the curtain that hides from us another state or condition of existence; that they have talked with those beyond.

To these searchers after truth, such instances as that related of Mrs. Dart fit consistently with other incidents and the laws governing such phenomena. In such instances, however, Dr. Hamilton said, one should have confirmatory evidence from several sources before taking them too seriously.

The RECORD SPEAKS for ITSELF

A record made and a record held is indeed a record worth while. Turret's record for popularity with Canadian smokers is one which was established years ago and one which has been on the increase ever since.

After all, nothing can replace good, honest tobacco; grown and ripened right out in the field under nature's own sunlight—nothing artificial about that—and the high quality is "inbred".

Guide to Correspondents

The Daily News welcomes correspondence on live topics of the day or any other subject of public interest, but letters must be brief and to the point. The long-winded correspondent has no place in modern journalism.
 Every letter must be signed by the writer, not necessarily for publication but as a matter of good faith and courtesy. All unsigned documents go to the waste paper basket. Letters of a caustic character must have the signature appended for publication.
 Letter should be written on one side of the paper only. Correspondents must avoid personalities and the language should be such as would be allowed in the ordinary rules of debate.

Gold Seekers At Former Diggings

Many Australians Out of Work Seek Gold in Old Workings in Victoria

MELBOURNE, Aust., July 22.—Streams that used to be flecked lavishly with gold, old centres and camps conspicuous with their scars of old-time mining operations, are calling men from the cities of Victoria to prospect for gold. Scattered over the vast state thousands of men are fossicking (searching about), driven by necessity from the cities which have let them down in their struggle for employment. It is a strange phenomenon.

Men of all trades and professions, from sailors to professors, from clerks to laborers, have gone out into old scenes of industry and vanished wealth to pick up crumbs which the diggers of other days might have overlooked, and hoping to "strike it rich." They have pitched their tents all over Victoria. Even within 10 miles of Melbourne there are groups of men on the banks of the streams with their pans, delving and sieving from dawn to sundown.

Australia needs gold as it never has done in its history. All the present day gold seekers are unemployed. They have been assisted by the state, which provides them with tools, equipment, and rations. Every party is led by an experienced miner. But the men who have never mined before predominate in this army of gold seekers scattered over Victoria. Very few have given up the hunt, although the work is back-aching and heart-breaking. They are men who have never been idle in their lives, men who are glad to do something to help themselves. It is the spirit which, it is believed, is going to bring Australia through her difficulties.

At any rate, there is something to show for the pluck of these fossickers, grocers, counter hands and clerks. The output of gold in Victoria for the first quarter of this year was nearly 9,000 ounces, doubling the previous yield. At the present rate of exchange this is valued at $215,000.

Man in the Moon

Some people can't pay and others won't and one is just about as harmful as the other.

If folks would only pay their debts as quickly as may be How rapidly times would mend. Try it, for once and see.

The other day the editor said there was a crisis in the affairs of the country. Well, there was a crisis in my affairs at about the same time. My grocer told me I'd better pay my bill, which is a nasty thing for a grocer to do when he might know a man can't pay money he doesn't have. I used to think grocers were nice people.

Nearly everybody in Prince Rupert a year or two ago was trying to get four dollars for one by buying stock certificates. Now they are sore because one of the senators got what they were trying to get. That's human nature. I guess.

Water, water everywhere but not a drop to drink. That's what the House Committee seems to be saying when they investigate the Beauharnois stock.

KETCHIKAN ENTERTAINS WAR VESSEL

Reception and Dance Given by Eastern Star For Officers and Two Dances For Men

KETCHIKAN, July 22.—The United States cruiser Detroit arrived here last evening at 6 o'clock and anchored in the straits. She is a fine vessel, 550 feet long and has a displacement of 9,500 tons although she is known as a 7,500 ton ship. Her engines develop 90,000 horsepower and she can make a speed of 35 knots. Her largest armament consists of 10 6-inch guns. From her decks two airplanes can take off, impelled by catapults. For her protection she has 50 watertight compartments.

The ship arrived here from Stewart where the officers and crew had a wonderful time. They will remain here several days.

Suitable entertainment is being provided here for the ship's company. The officers will be the guests at a reception and ball given by the Order of the Eastern Star assisted by all members of the Masonic Order in the city.

For the men there will be two dances in Redman's Hall. Baseball games and other sports are being arranged including a boxing match between Norman Wilson and the Dixie Kid.

Among the passengers arriving from Vancouver this morning on the Prince George was Miss Kirkendahl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Kirkendahl, Fourth Avenue West.

Locusts Injure African Crops

NAIROBI, Kenya, July 21.—The Kenya Government announces that there will be adequate food supplies in the country if there is no further serious injury by locusts before the next harvest, but if there is more damage to present crops a scarcity of food is threatened. Should profiteering in maize arise from that threat, the government will give every encouragement to private firms to import maize, or will import it themselves. If necessary the government will prohibit the export of maize.

Steamer Prince Henry arrived here early this morning from Skagway and other Alaska point and two or three hours later proceeded to Vancouver. She had 171 passengers out from Alaska, ten of which left the vessel here. A number of local people went south including T. D. Pattullo and Major Moolie who have been touring Northern British Columbia.
