The Board also approved of a project for the building of a sidewalk alongside the railway track at Haysport and crossings of the track in three points for the convenience of residents at that point. For years the track there has been used as a thoroughfare between the cannery on one side of the track and the settlement on the other. E. F. Jones appeared before the Board as counsel for the city of Prince Rupert, while R. W. Hanington of Vancouver acted as counsel for the Canadian National Railways. The commissioners were Mr. Justice C. P. Fullerton, chairman, and J. A. Stoneham.

Strong Opposition Against Premier at Seaham But Ladies May Save Him

Half of the voters in Seaham are women, and that fact may help the Premier, for his geniality, kindness and good looks are very popular among the ladies.

James Coxson, the official Laborite candidate, is the Premier's opponent and it is conceded that he will make a strong run in the traditionally socialist riding.

USING THE ELEVATOR

While filling the elevator once and using it for storage purposes is not very satisfactory, it is better than having the local house left empty. There is always a possibility that it may be used more as the season advances.

We are having rather a bad time over our elevator in Prince Rupert, but not worse than they had in Vancouver, where for several seasons it was not used even for storage purposes. Our day will come, as sure as day follows night.

MIGHT HAVE BEEN TODAY.

(From Harper's Weekly, October 10, 1857)

It is a gloomy moment in history. Not for many years—not for the life-time of most men who read this paper—has there been so much grave and deep apprehension. In our own country there is universal commercial prostration and panic, and thousands of our poorest fellow-citizens are turned out against the approaching winter without employment.

In France the political cauldron seethes and bubbles with uncertainty. Russia hangs as usual like a cloud dark and silent upon the horizon of Europe; while all the energies, resources and influences of the British Empire are sorely tried, and are yet to be tried more sorely, in coping with the vast and deadly Indian insurrection, and with disturbed relations in China.

Of our own troubles no man can see the end. If we are only to lose money and by painful poverty to be taught wisdom, no man need seriously despair. Yet the very haste to be rich, which is the occasion of this widespread calamity, has also tended to destroy the moral forces with which we are to resist and subdue the calamity.

CAR FOR EVERY EIGHT CANADIANS

Ottawa has been doing some calculating, and the statisticians have come to the conclusion that if every automobile in Canada would hold eight people then everybody in the Dominion could ride at once. In other words, there were 1,239,888 motor vehicles registered at the end of last year, or one for every eight persons, as compared with one for every 8.2 persons the previous year. Ontario led registrators with 564,669 cars, and also led in the per capita column, with one for every 5.9 persons in the province. Ontario may have the cars, but Saskatchewan has the roads. The Ottawa officials discovered that there were 394,372 miles of highway open for traffic in the Dominion, and that Saskatchewan led with 154,859 miles. Alberta was next with 62,426, and Ontario was third with 52,270 miles. It is thus very noticeable that the province with the greatest number of cars is far from having the greatest mileage of roads on which to use them. Which circumstances prompted Hon. Leopold Macaulay, Minister of Highways for Ontario, to say in a recent address that the density of traffic in Ontario was becoming rather serious. He illustrated his point with the remark that if all the motor vehicles in average daily use in Ontario were placed end-to-end they would stretch a distance of 1100 miles.

SIDEWALK WORK

There has been some protest at the work done on the local bitulithic sidewalks and a correspondent has flown to the defense of the engineer. We do not think the engineer needs any defenders. His work is too well known in the city since he arrived here. We are ready to admit that some of the sidewalks are rather better than others but they will all improve as they are used more and very little expense will make the others equally as good.

The city council is a unit in acknowledging the excellent work the engineer is doing. His estimates have been all very close to actual costs, usually slightly higher and the work is better than has been done here for many years. The present council owes much of its success to the engineer.

POWER IS DISCUSSED

"Trapping Sunbeams" Is Subject of J. F. Little at Rotary Club Luncheon Yesterday

INTERESTING STORY

Tells How British Thermal Units Leave Ocean and Finally End Up at Consumer's Homes

"Out somewhere, some day, some hour on the Pacific a shaft of sunlight darts its rays on the water of the ocean and here and there is given birth to the justly youngsters named B.T.U. or British Thermal Units," said J. G. Little, manager of the Northern B. C. Power Co., in an address on "Trapping Sunbeams" at the Rotary Club luncheon yesterday. "During this same period, thousands of other units are born and together are wafted up into the heavens in preparation for their journey. The group is now called a cloud and, gently sailing along until it comes to the high mountains of the Skeena, it rises higher and in this effort due to the decreasing pressure of the atmosphere, falls apart into the water shed of the Falls River. Some of them have changed their state, resting in the higher altitudes having given up too much of their energy, they are frozen and turn to snow and ice; others assume the same quality or condition as they had on the Pacific an dfall as rain. They have, however, several hundred feet to fall before they return to the level of their birthplace and still retain some of the energy imparted to them.

"So far, these units have travelled a considerable distance by means of water or vapor and they will utilize this means of transportation for some considerable time. It is well to mention that water has been made the vehicle for the energy up to this point.

"In illustrating their progress I will continue to use the same vehicle, although B.T.U., as I said before, will change their transportation facilities as conditions warrant.

"After tumbling down hillsides, combining into streams and creeks, they arrive at a dam obstruction and are diverted through a penstock and, in their anxiety to escape, they enter a waterwheel thence to an electric generator where they are shot on to the transmission line under varying pressure until they arrive at their final destination, Mr. Consumer. From the time they enter the penstock and generators combining with their friends, they attempt to escape. Some escape as heat and are lost due to friction in bearing winding, copper, governors, auxiliary apparatus, etc. As you know, when two bodies in motion come together, heat is usually generated, except probably in the case of the student who was asked by his professor if heat were always generated when two bodies in motion come together. The student answered: 'No, Sir, I hit a guy yesterday and he knocked me cold.'

"The designer knowing their propensity to escape before they arrive at their destination, has taken several preventative measures over a period of time which ensures that more and more of these units are disciplined and brought to the desired goal.

"The engineer terms this efficiency. In the meantime some 10 per cent have deserted through the turbine, 5 per cent through the auxiliary apparatus, and probably 10 per cent through the transformers and transmission line and step up and step down transformers. Out of each hundred that entered the penstock, 30 have deserted, only 70 arriving at the end of the transmission lines.

"Quite a further percentage desert before they arrive at Mr. Consumer's as on the slightest provocation they escape and do so through the substation, distribution transformers, distribution lines, meters and house wiring before the balance are finally put to work.

Radio Interference

"You will see, therefore, that all the effort expended by the designer is confining this energy within certain channels and the more efficient the method the less the cost eventually to the consumer. Some of these units, however, are so overjoyed when they arrive within the city limits that they insist on spilling over on McBride Street and causing the radio fans, in indignation, to write to the wise men in the East to stop them from leaving the lines and raising Cain in their loud-speakers. They complain so

Man in the Moon

Some people give according to their means and others according to their meanness.

Jake says he knows what's wrong with the world. It's those chaps who won't pay him what they owe that set everything wrong.

Mrs. Jones says her servant girl must be Japanese because she is so intent on smashing china.

Jake says when he was single she wept on his shoulder, and now she sits on his neck.

It's John Davey, I think, who says that no matter how low the Canadian dollar goes, tenners are always at a premium.

There was a man in the office the other day who argued that all doctors were burglars. Anyway, they both give the same advice: "Sleep with the windows open."

Evelyn: "What are you thinking about, Dick?"

Dick: "Same as you're thinking about."

Evelyn: "If you do I'll call Dad."

"Mercy, dearie, what a pretty new sweater you have on. It seems to be of some highly colored yarn."

"Yep—and you ought to have heard the highly colored yarn I had to tell my husband to get it."

"Look here," said the young man to his bride of six months, "most of the buttons are gone from all my shirts."

"Well, now," replied the bride, "I'll have to buy you some shirts next time I go shopping."

often and loudly that I am beginning to get into the same frame of mind as the boy who had his face slapped six times and came to the conclusion she meant it.

"The most efficient plants utilizing coal, super heat or high pressures and most economical heat cycle work at about 25 per cent efficiency overall. In the case of water power, this efficiency at the present day is in the neighborhood of 90 per cent. We cannot therefore look for a great relative improvement in the latter and have a considerable field for improvement in the first mentioned. Do no judge from his statement, however, that hydro electric power is in all cases more economical than that from coal. This is not so, as in many parts of the country today, coal and oil still hold and will continue to hold a very dominant position in the public utility field.

"To continue the picture, the energy after arriving at the substation is diverted, some of it wholesale to the Canadian Fish and Cold Storage, which works most of the time; the Dry dock, which works some of the time, and to the elevator, that should work all the time but usually works none of the time.

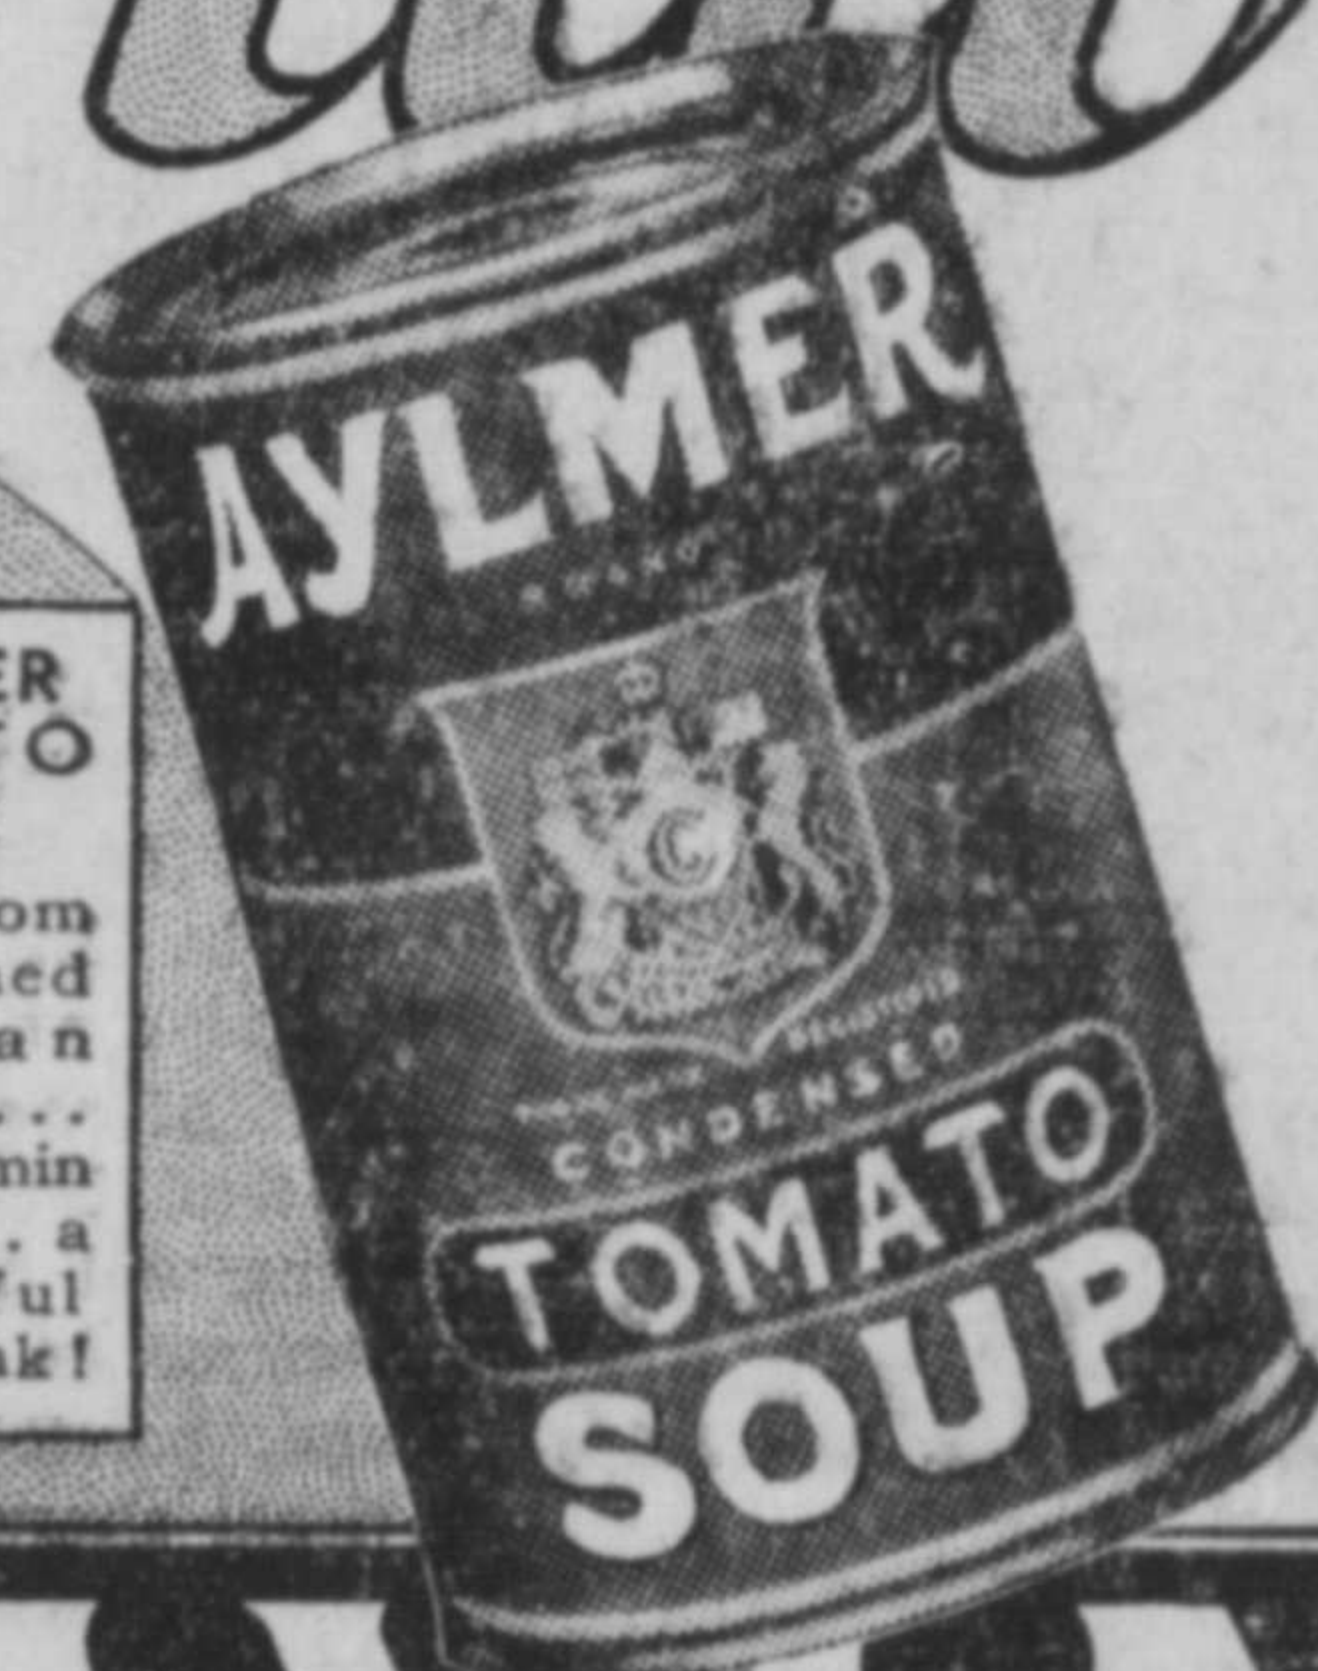

"The balance is distributed for small commercial and domestic purposes, and to complete the conversion of the sun's rays from the Pacific to the home we can insert a special lamp in a socket and derive these health-giving rays at the snap of the switch whether it is stormy or clear during any day of the year, in winter or summer or any hour of the day or night."

Bagshaw Beats Deeth

PROGRAM LAID OUT

Visit of Lieutenant Governor and H.M.C.S. Skeena to Be Observed

H.M.C.S. Skeena, which is making a cruise of British Columbia ports with Hon. J. W. Fordham Johnson, Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia aboard, has left Vancouver and will be calling at Powell River, Alert Bay and other points before arriving at Prince Rupert on October 26. The Lieutenant Governor is accompanied by his A.D.C., Major A. Seldon Humphrey, and secretary, A. M. D. Fairbairn.

The following tentative program has so far been arranged for the ship's visit at Prince Rupert:

Football match, Prince Rupert vs. Skeena.

Whaler race, local unit R.C.N.V.R. vs. Skeena.

Dance for ship's company.

Joint luncheon to Lieutenant-Governor and officers of H.M.C.S. Skeena under the auspices of the city council and Chamber of Commerce.

Theatre party, Capital Theatre and presentation to ship.

The time-honored custom of making a presentation of plate to a new ship is to be carried out, and the Lieutenant-Governor has been asked to present same to the H.M.C.S. Skeena on behalf of the residents of Skeena district, at the Capital Theatre on Tuesday, October 27.

Small donations are being collected from various parts of Skeena district and all local banks have kindly consented to accept contributions that may be offered.

The presentation committee have made arrangements with the Capitol Theatre to have a suitable picture displayed during the vessel's visit and the management advises that it has been fortunate enough to secure a splendid British picture entitled "Tell England," which depicts naval and military operations at the famous Gallipoli landing during the Great War.

Tod Morgan Is Winner of Bout

Outpointed Sammy Santos in Eight Rounds at Seattle Wednesday Evening

SEATTLE, Oct. 16:—Tod Morgan, former junior lightweight champion, took the decision from Sammy Santos, local Filipino, in an eight-round bout here Wednesday night.

Sturdy Local Boy Too Good For Smart Opponent From Anyox and Got Call; Knockouts in Prelims

The solid hardhitting little Billy Bagshaw of Prince Rupert, took a well-earned decision from Henry Deeth of Anyox in the fairly close main event of Owen Fisher's boxing card at the Empress Social Club last night. The bout went the full six rounds and was not lacking in action for both the boys mixed with a will all the way. Bagshaw was the more effective hitter although the clever Deeth was not flying any distress signals, despite the fact that he took a lot of punishment in numerous slugging exchanges which featured the bout. Over-anxiety caused Deeth to miss a good deal but he also dealt a full share of the blows. They were not as hard, however, and made little if any impression on the local boy.

They slugged hard right from the start of the first round and Deeth did some wild lunging. Bagshaw landed some stiff rights to head and body, one hard blow going into Deeth's bread basket. Deeth also landed a few but they were rather light. Both missed plenty.

In the second, Deeth went in after Bagshaw and landed some light ones. Billy also landed and they were harder. Deeth was quick but was not wearing as well as Bagshaw. The round was featured by plenty of action.

Bagshaw made a slugging start in the third while Deeth landed light ones. Billy let some haymakers loose but Deeth either dodged them or made them glance.

Deeth took the lead in the fourth and missed again in some lunges. Such ones as landed did not seem to affect Billy very much. Bagshaw staggered Deeth with a left to the jaw.

They danced around in the fifth looking for openings and the going was not so lively. Both got the odd one in.

Down on points, Deeth forced the going in the sixth. Bagshaw mixed freely and they both landed with Bagshaw hardest.

The decision was given by Douglas Frizzell, who refereed all bouts, and two main-event judges—Provincial Constable George Wyman and Jack Judge. The weight of both Bagshaw and Deeth was announced as 138 pounds. Deeth was a shade the taller and more rangy than the stocky Bagshaw.

The Preliminaries
Babe Dutton won the semi-final by knocking Dan Parent out in the second. They slugged fairly hard in the first round, Dutton wanted very badly to mix but Parent held him off with his long right and looked good himself. They were slugging hard soon after the start of the second when Parent ran hard into Dutton's left. He was dazed and went down for a count of six. Dutton followed right up and put Parent down again with a right swing on the jaw for another count of six. Parent came up again and Dutton bowled him over with another hard swing to the jaw. Parent went down again on his back with a thud and Referee Doug Frizzell carried him to his corner. It was to have been a four-round affair.

Russell Boyn and Jack McRae did two rounds of nothing but tap dancing but the inactive affair livened up slightly in the third and last round. McRae was apparently scared for he let Boyn slug him enough to get the call.

Pete Holm finished Fred Boulter off with two swats in five seconds. Dazed by a blow as soon as the opening bell went, Boulter hit the canvas with a hard left one on the chin and that was that. They carried the Tiger away to the dressing room.

Alex Walters and Chuck Hickey provided a real lively three-round curtain-raiser. Hickey led in and was plenty game but Walters was a little bigger. They slugged themselves out of breath and both were pretty tired when it ended.

Max Heilbronner was timekeeper for the evening.

The crowd was a small one and Owen Fisher, undoubtedly, lost money on the show.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16:—Billy Townsend of Vancouver will have another big chance for further prominence in the pugilistic picture tonight when he meets Pally Walker, ranking middleweight, in the main event of a boxing show at Madison Square Garden.

The fact that it is Townsend's second engagement in the Garden within a week speaks a great deal for the regard in which his boxing talent is held.

Pleading guilty to charges of being inmates of a gambling house, eleven local men were each fined $15 in city police court by Magistrate McClymont this morning. The cases arose out of two convictions against A. Donald for being the keeper of a gambling house. An appeal to the Supreme Court which was made in these cases failed. City Solicitor E. F. Jones acted as prosecutor in today's cases and T. W. Brown appeared on behalf of the various defendants.

TAX RATE ALARMING

Duty of Taxpayers to Take Interest in Civic Affairs is Stressed

HONEST ASSESSMENT
President of Ratepayers' Association Makes Annual Report

"We cannot but view a constantly rising tax rate with alarm, especially with the tremendous amount of vacant property reverting to the city through tax sales and becoming non-tax-paying," declared M. M. Stephens in his presidential report at the annual meeting of the Prince Rupert Ratepayers' Association last night. "It does not require any stretch of imagination to foresee the danger of the tax-paying property soon narrowed to little more than the property upon which improvements have been erected. It would seem to be the duty of every taxpayer to take a keen interest in the city's business and to do his or her utmost to see that city councils use the greatest care in the expenditure of revenues. We must sooner or later face an honest assessment and when this is done our tax rate will be greatly in excess of what it is today. It is time that we realized that we are living in and financing a small town and not a large city. Perhaps nothing should bring home to us the seriousness of our situation more clearly than the fact that the figures given for the late census show our population to have decreased in the last ten years.

"It is with regret that I am unable to be with you this evening on the occasion of the annual meeting of the association, and the following is but a slight review of the business of the association, with which all of your directors are familiar, conducted throughout the year. This report is of necessity one about which your directors have not been consulted for the reason that I have been confined to the house for nearly two weeks.

"At the outset, I wish to thank the officers of the association, and particularly the directors, for the liberal and valuable assistance which they have at all times rendered throughout the year, and to say that it has been a real pleasure to work with this board.

Government Block
"One of the early objects of the association this year was the preparation of a report to be made with a view to inducing the provincial government to sell block 21, section 1 of this city, which is known as the Government Block. Unfortunately, while the committee was engaged in the gathering of data with which to make a strong presentation of this matter through the city council, the council took the matter up with the provincial government and the data gathered for this purpose was of no use as far as your committee has any knowledge. I feel that this matter should be followed up vigorously immediately after the municipal election in January with a view to having the matter brought to a successful conclusion or better still, if your new executive could arrange to obtain the assistance of the mayor and the

C.P.R. steamer Princess Mary, Capt. James Flood, is due in port at 3:30 this afternoon from the south and will sail at 10 p.m. on her return to Vancouver and west points.

to have members of the aldermanic board elected annually. This is another matter which I think should be followed up by your new officers, particularly in view of the result of the plebiscite of the wishes of the electors regarding the election of mayor for two years at a time."

Guide to Correspondents

The Daily News welcomes correspondence on live topics of the day or any other subject of public interest, but letters must be brief and to the point. The long-winded correspondent has no place in modern journalism. Every letter must be signed by the writer, not necessarily for publication but as a matter of good faith and courtesy. All unsigned documents go to the waste paper basket. Letters of a caustic character must have the signature appended for publication. Letter should be written on one side of the paper only. Correspondents must avoid personalities and the language should be such as would be allowed in the ordinary rules of debate.

"I've found one way of getting better breakfasts for less money. I serve Shredded Wheat. I don't know anything else that gives so much nourishment and costs so little. It's so easy to digest that every one likes it, too—especially when I cover it with fresh fruit. Shredded Wheat is whole wheat, and with milk it contains every food element we need for growth and good health."

INITIATION IS STAGED

Prelims Go Through Tortures at High School

The annual initiation of the Prelims at the Prince Rupert High School took place on Thursday afternoon and as usual it proved to be an overwhelming success.

The first year pupils were put through a number of horrible torture chambers and handled in a rather rough manner, especially by the second year students who, having been the initiation victims last year, were eager to get revenge. Perhaps the Prelims were mistreated somewhat, but there were no great casualties.

The Prelims were forced to wear short pants, large green bow ties, hats and socks which gave them a very comical appearance indeed. After being thoroughly thrown about, whacked and passed through the deadly torture chambers so that they no longer were able to stand on their feet they were formally initiated as High School students by taking the oath which is "to obey, to serve, and to respect all senior students."

The initiation was an undertaking of the Students' Council. Those in charge of the various tortures were Rupert Ross, Bill Vance, Olaf Hanson and Carl Smith.

PRINCE GEORGE

The board of school trustees of this city, at a meeting last Friday night, decided not to proceed with the proposed amalgamation of the South Fort George school district with the city schools. Difficulty of securing accommodation was the principal reason for abandoning the project for the meantime at least.

There are now approximately 750 men working in nineteen unemployment relief camps which are now operating along the highway between Quick and Longworth.

An effort is being made by supporters of the Independent Labor Party in the north to have Dr. Lyle Telford of Vancouver make a speaking tour of the central interior.
