FISHERMEN'S STRIKE IS CALLED OFF

THORNTON SEES BUSINESS REVIVAL IN HOOVER PROPOSAL

Halibut and Salmon Operators Decide Not To Insist on Tie-ups

Boat Owners Themselves Will Be Left to Decide Upon Action Individually—Closing of Port Is Being Sought

"Strike" situations so far as both halibut boat owners and salmon trollers are concerned were terminated yesterday by vote of those concerned in either case. The halibut boat owners, at a meeting last night, decided to abandon the effort to bring about a general tie-up of the fleet and, instead, it will be left to the owners individually to decide whether or not it is advantageous for them to fish under existing conditions. The salmon trollers, by a large majority on secret vote yesterday afternoon decided to end the "strike," also leaving it to the fishermen individually whether or not they wish to fish. Both the halibut fishermen and the salmon trollers have been endeavoring to force a "strike" or general tie-up because of low price conditions. It is reported that the salmon trollers were offered better prices for cohoes by the fish buyers.

The halibut boat owners decided to circulate a petition asking the government to close this port to American halibut boats until such time as the United States government has removed the two cents duty against Canadian fish entering that country.

Olof Hanson Takes Up Cudgels For Home Town Fishermen Last Night In Addressing Commons

Tells Parliament of Advantages Americans Have Over Canadians in Using This Port—Should Subsidize Fish or Have Duty Removed

OTTAWA, June 24.—Difficulties that Canadian fishermen suffer on the Pacific Coast in competing with the United States fishing fleets were brought to the attention of the House of Commons last night on a motion to go into supply. Although Canadians pay much higher prices for gasoline, lines and nets, said Olof Hanson, Liberal member for Skeena, their competitors from Seattle are able to fish on the same banks, bring their catches into Prince Rupert and ship them in bond into the United States without paying the United States import duty. He suggested that the government should either subsidize the Canadian halibut and salmon industry two cents per pound or enter into negotiations, through the Canadian minister at Washington, to have the duty removed.

NEAR RIOT YESTERDAY

Striking Trollers and Indians Reported to Have Had Run-in on Cow Bay Floats

What is purported to have been a near riot is reported to have occurred yesterday afternoon on the Cow Bay floats. According to the story, some striking salmon trollers started to shout "scab" to a party of Indians. A couple of the natives made no response but one husky buck is reported to have objected to the epithet and, to put it colloquially, "socked" one of the strikers and "put him out." The natives having shown their mettle, the little episode soon died down.

The police stated this morning that no report of the incident had been made to them.

Canadian National Head Thinks Moratorium May Bring About Prosperity

Railway Budget Presented to Parliamentary Committee; Requirements Total $104,208,000

OTTAWA, June 24.—The war debt moratorium of a year proposed by President Hoover of the United States might be the one factor that would stabilize business and start it on the road back to prosperity, Sir Henry Thornton, president of the Canadian National Railways, told a special parliamentary committee dealing with finances of the Canadian National yesterday.

"Personally, I think it is," Sir Henry said.

The 1931 budget of the Canadian National presented to the committee showed total net requirements of $104,208,000 which would be either voted by Parliament or raised through securities authorized by Parliament.

It is reported to be the largest single tour party that has come out of San Francisco so far this season.

Is Here to Conduct Research Work in Connection With Use Medicinally of Halibut Oil

That he was here to conduct research work at first hand on halibut liver oil, which had been found by scientists to contain a much larger proportion of a certain health giving vitamin than did cod liver oil, the old cure-all, was revealed by C. F. Lanwermeier, chemist of the Abbott medicinal laboratories, Chicago, in an interesting talk before the Prince Rupert Gyo Club at luncheon yesterday.

Mr. Lanwermeier left the suggestion that it was quite possible that his company might before long be in the market in a large way for halibut livers from Prince Rupert.

Already experiments along this line had been conducted with halibut from Prince Rupert but it had been considered more advantageous for him to come to Prince Rupert and conduct his research work right upon the ground, Mr. Lanwermeier stated. The speaker gave his audience some interesting details of chemical research on a large scale such as was conducted in his own laboratories where there were forty men engaged exclusively in research work.

Mr. Lanwermeier also disgressed long enough to compare conditions in the present depression here with those in Chicago. The people in Prince Rupert had no idea of what hardship in the large cities really meant. Mr. Lanwermeier also alluded to the notorious gangster activities of Chicago. It was not such a bad city, however, on the surface as might be believed. Any person could walk along the streets in the

DEVELOP OWN FARM COUNTRY

It's very satisfactory to know that with the failure of the crops on the prairies and the low price of wheat, a good many of those looking for land are turning their attention to the farm lands of Central British Columbia. The development of this country is the hope of Prince Rupert and as this city grows the market for the products of the interior farms will increase. The prosperity of the two are so closely allied that they cannot be separated.

EMPLOYMENT FOR EVERYBODY

The announcement yesterday that the federal government had recognized the seriousness of the present labor situation and was preparing to meet it and that in the meantime they will pay a goodly share of the relief of actual destitution came as welcome news to a good many. There have been hundreds of men and women who have been fearful of the coming winter but now there should be no such fear. The government has awakened to the fact that a crisis has arisen and they are preparing to meet it.

We shall all await with interest the announcement of what it is intended shall be done. The country could raise all the money it wanted to help kill Germans. There should now be no difficulty raising a little money to handle the present situation in a manner which would give honest employment. This would save lives, save men's self-respect, save the country from reproach and the statesmen from oblivion.

CONTRACT PROPOSED

Many people who are familiar with the local situation and with the amount of work done on the highway, both on the Kaien Island and mainland sections, strongly advise that either the whole or a large section of it be let in one big contract or a series of good sized contracts. This would insure that within a reasonable time the highway would be of use to the people of the province, whereas the present method is not bringing very good results.

In this we are not criticizing the conduct of the work being done today. The method under which it is being carried on makes it impossible to produce results. All we suggest is that sufficient progress be made so that, even if we do not get a chance to use the highway ourselves, our children at least may do so.

GAS PRICE TOO HIGH

M. P. Claims Canada Mulcted of $24,000,000 By Oil Companies

OTTAWA, June 24:—Contending that the Canadian people were paying over four cents a gallon more for their gasoline than they should, G. E. Bothwell, Liberal member for Swift Current, speaking in the House of Commons, put the blame for this on the tariff. Canada used 600,000,000 gallons of gasoline a year, and if it was costing four cents a gallon too much, it meant the oil companies were taking $24,000,000 from the people of the Dominion.

Mr. Bothwell went extensively into the dividends paid by the principal companies selling gasoline, and dwelt on the undertaking not to increase prices because of the increases in the tariff made at the emergency session.

Duty Increased

At the last session the duty was increased to 2½ cents a gallon. The highest gasoline brought into Canada by the oil-producing companies was the only kind that came into competition with that of Turner Valley.

Mr. Bothwell turned to the written assurance given by the Canadian Oil Company, British American Oil, McColl Frontenac Oil Co., and Imperial Oil Co., not to raise the price to the consumer as a consequence of the tariff protection given at the September session of Parliament.

He intended to examine the financial structure of these four companies "to find out if they need the protection given" and also if the lumping provisions should be applied respecting gasoline. As a matter of fact, he believed the result of the tariff changes had been to increase the price of gasoline in this country.

"I think," said Mr. Bothwell, "that it will surprise hon. members of this House to find we are being mulcted in Canada to the extent of from four to seven cents per gallon."

"The people of this country have been mulcted by the higher gasoline tariffs and they should be relieved," declared Mr. Bothwell. The farmers in 1930 used 130,000,000 gallons of gasoline and the four cents difference in price represented $5,000,000 in exorbitant taxes. Canada as a whole used 600,000,000 gallons of gasoline, which meant, "the oil companies are taking $24,000,000 from the people of this country if they are charging the four cents extra."

PETTINESS IS DECRIED

Courts No Place to Settle Neighborly Quarrels, Declares Chief Justice

VANCOUVER, June 24:—The law courts are not the place for settling neighbors' petty quarrels, according to Chief Justice Aulay Morrison of the British Columbia Supreme Court.

"There seems to be a growing tendency amongst cranky neighbors to avail themselves of the services of magistrates and at the public expense to set the law in motion," commented the chief justice when awarding Steve Koverchuk, lumberman of Langley Prairie, with damages against Thomas Madgen, a rancher of Sperling, for malicious persecution.

"De minimus non curat lex," quoted the chief justice, and his translation of the maxim is that the law looks with disfavor upon the expenditure of public money on matters of trivial importance. The case in question belonged to that category, in his opinion.

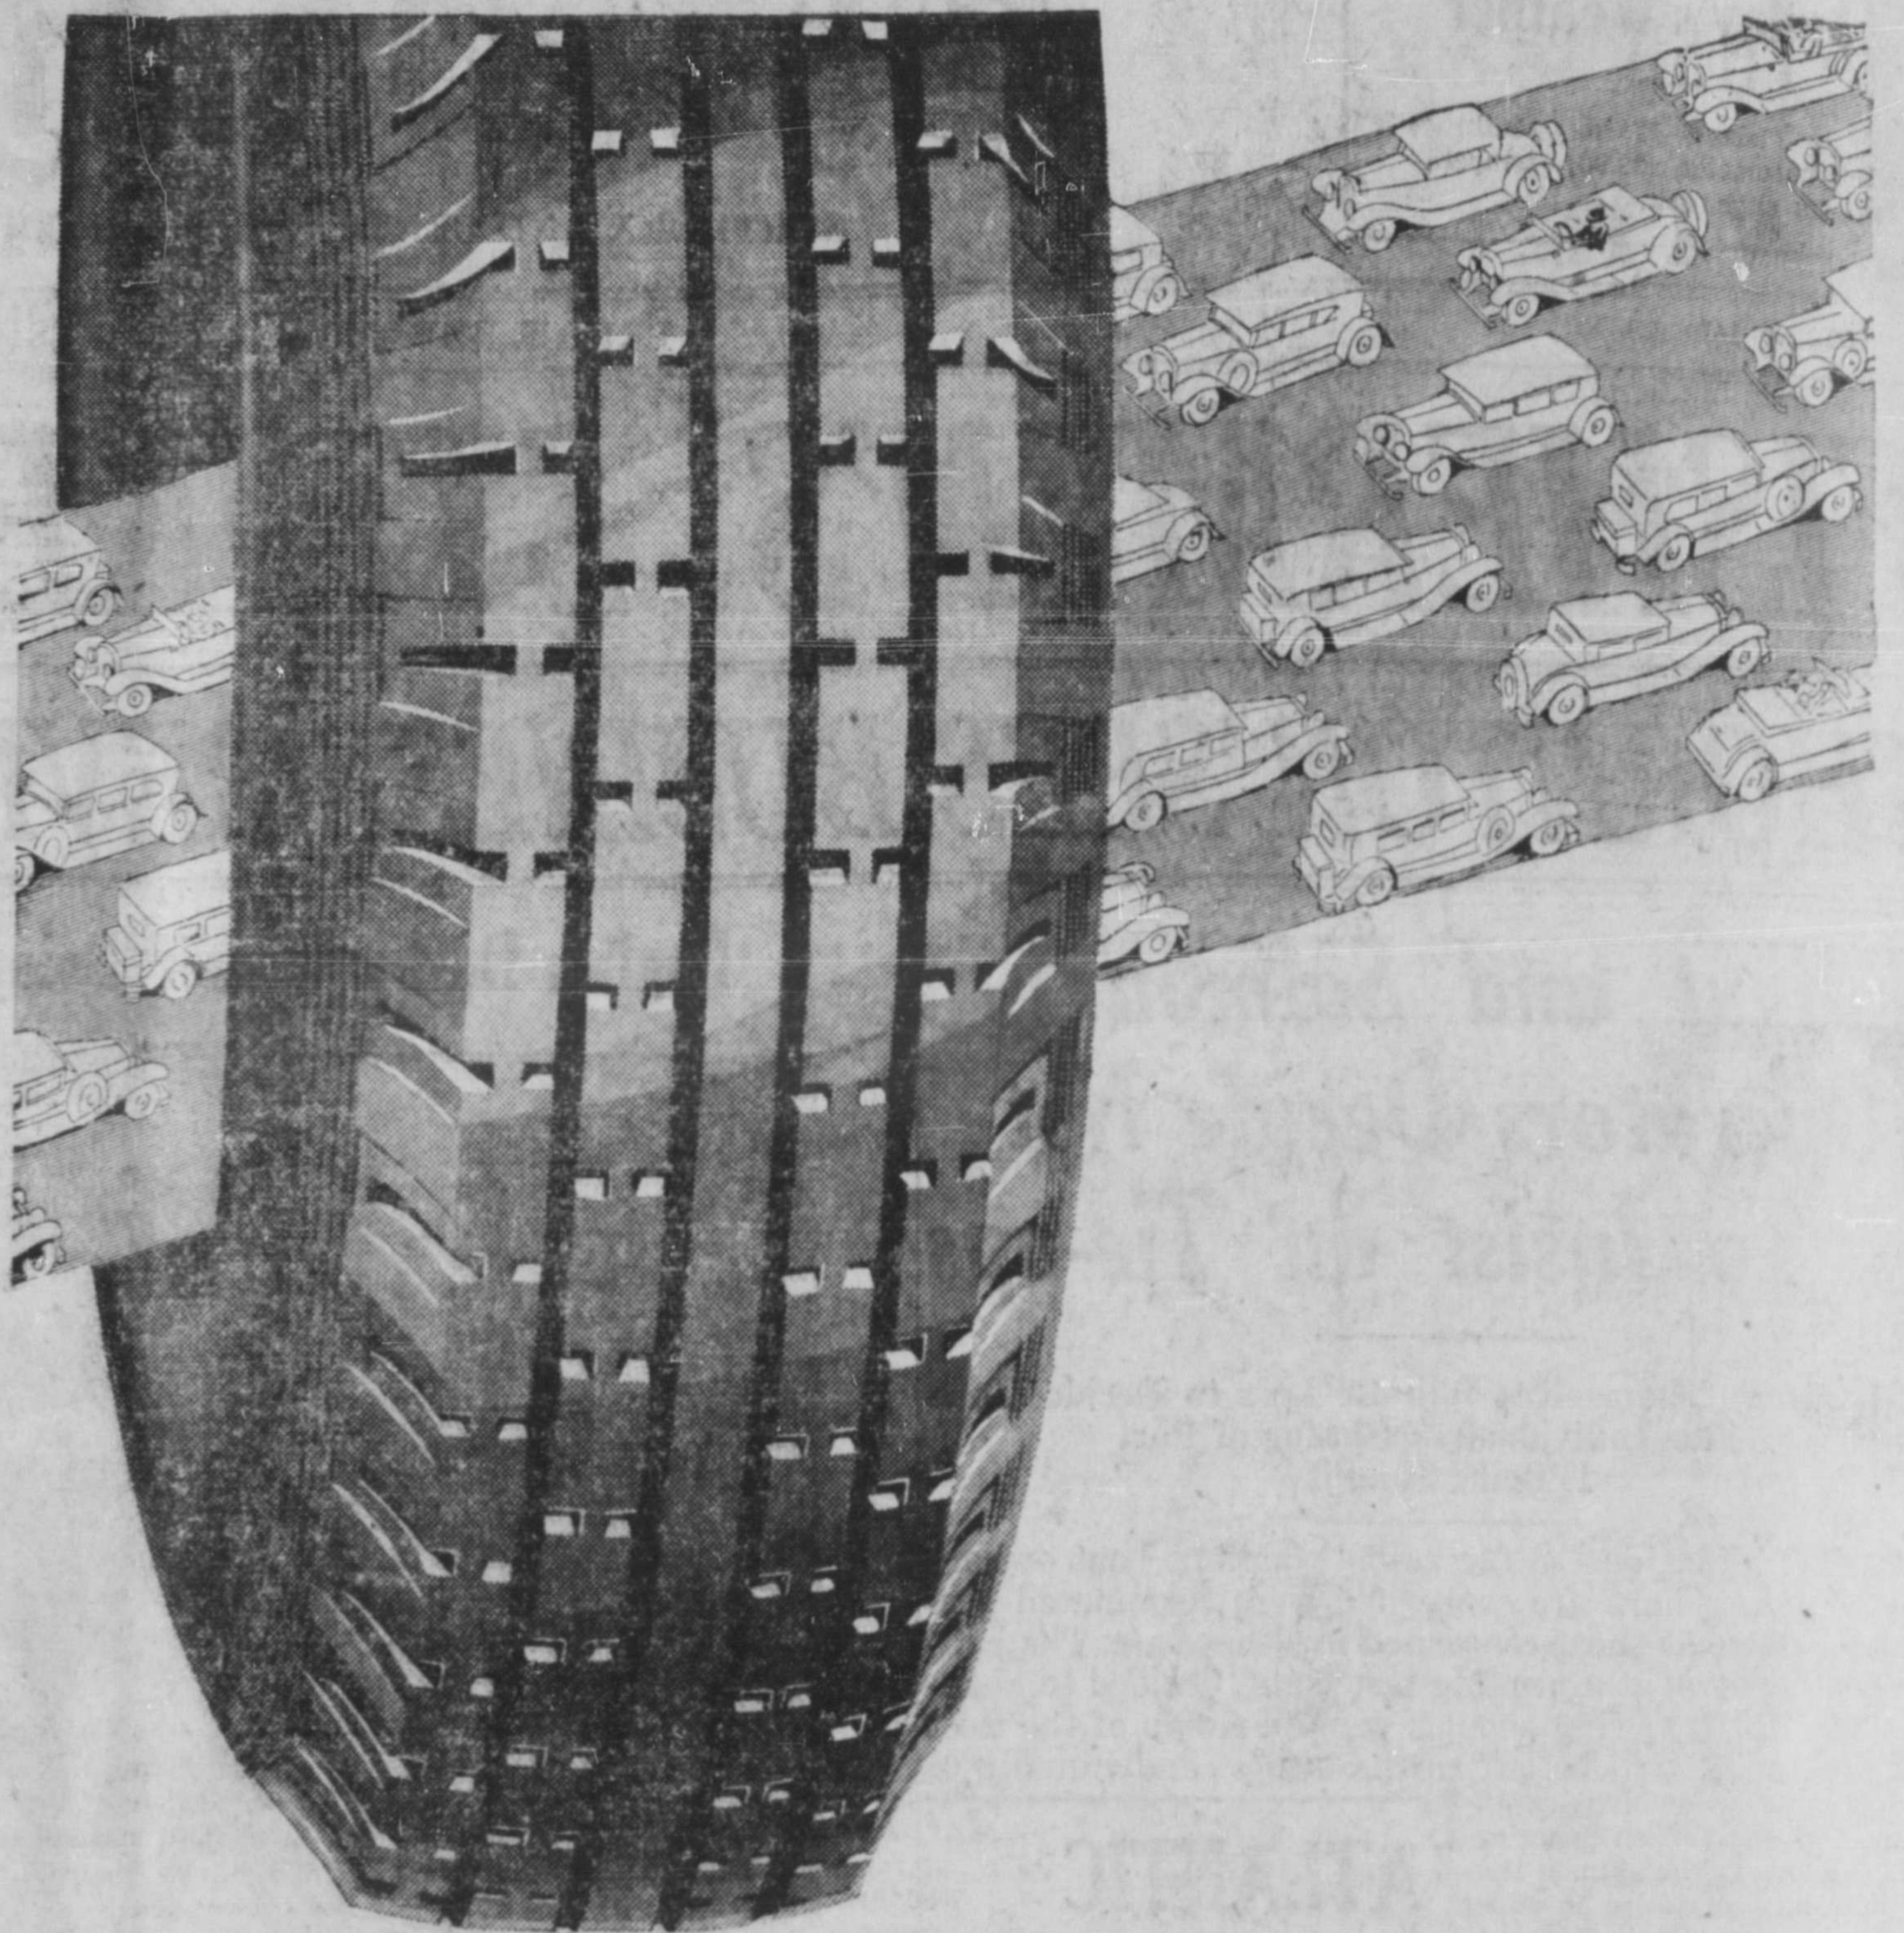

Some time ago Madgen, an elderly bachelor living alone, charged Koverchuk with the theft of a partially decayed burnt log from his premises. The charge was dismissed by the magistrate.

Although Madgen valued the log at a few dollars, the chief justice observed that any value seemed chimerical. The land from which the log was taken is in an inaccessible portion of the district of Westminster, he pointed out, and had been sold by Madgen to Koverchuk.

Scattered neighbors of the parties took sides and were called as witnesses, he said. They would have been better employed in attempting to gain some result from their own uncongenial soil, he added.

The evidence established that Koverchuk had nothing to do with the log.

"A prosecutor must not act upon mere tattle or rumor," warned the judge.

Jake says there's one pest he dislikes worse than a politician and that is a slug. He says he's ready to offer a reward of a job on the highway to anybody who can tell him how to kill them.

I hate a politician;
I hate a dirty bug;
I hate all mean and slimy ways,
That's why I hate a slug.

There's a certain editor in town who gives lessons in gardening. He's not editor of a daily paper so that lets my boss out. This pseudo editor (whatever that may mean) says he gives the slugs two chances for their lives before condemning them to the bottomless brine pit. He grabs them by the nape of the neck, brands the figure "1" on its cuticle and then with a snort of glee chucks it over the fence to annoy his next door neighbor. If it returns he brands a figure "2" on its cutis and with words of condemnation shies it at the small boys in the road. For the third offence nothing but capital punishment is effective, so he takes a cauldron fills it with a saline solution and immerses the slimy brute, holding him down until he yells for mercy and then cracks him over the jaw and leaves him to welter or sizzle or whatever the proper word is in the pot of perdition.

FOUR PUPS MOTHERED

Tabby Cat in Victoria Has Strange Brood—Mother of Dogs Died

VICTORIA, June 24:—Mothering four puppy dogs is the self-appointed job of an elderly cat owned by Mrs. P. L. McLaren of this city.

The pups are the sons of High-born Billy Boy and Twisild Tinker, both of impeccable antecedents in the aristocracy of dogdom. About the same time that they came into the world, Maggie, the cat, gave birth to four kittens, of more doubtful ancestry.

When the mother dog, Tinker, died following an operation. Mrs. McLaren had four motherless pups on her hands and also Maggie and her brood. The pups were worth a good deal of money. Mrs. McLaren was bewildered, but Maggie settled the problem for her by volunteering as the foster mother of the tiny dogs.

Mrs. McLaren has gradually disposed of the kittens but she has been able to keep the puppies, thanks to Maggie. The cat, as a matter of fact, showed marked preference for the pups since the beginning. During the kittens' adolescence, Maggie used to push them aside in favor of the pups.

Kodiak Island Hunting Party Returning Home

A big game hunting party from Chicago, consisting of Mark Merriam, Judge Brothers, George Dryden and Eastman, who have been on a trip to Kodiak Island during the past few weeks, returned here by yacht yesterday afternoon and proceeded on today's train on their return to Chicago. The party had good success in hunting Kodiak bear and had one live cub to take home with them.

A party of eight members of the California Camera Club from San Francisco were passengers going north aboard the steamer Prince Rupert this morning to make the round trip to Skagway. Returning here next Monday morning, they will disembark from the steamer and proceed by train via Jasper and Vancouver enroute home.

Oscar Mello, St. Louis Browns second baseman, who rested off eight straight hits, raising a batting average from .250 to .390, claims it was due to spinach diet.

SPORT CHAT

Speaking at the Edmonton meeting of the Cosmopolitan Club which recently entertained the Edmonton Grads as guests of honor, Coach Percy Page declared that in all sincerity and honesty he considers his present team the greatest and smoothest working machine that ever carried the Grads' colors. "When I say this, I am paying full respect to the stellar girls who have played with teams of past years, but judging on both individual and team play, I believe that the team here today is the finest that I have yet coached," the famous coach informed his audience. "You can teach a lot of rules, but in the excitement of a game, the team members must think for themselves. That is what I rely on most. Everyone of the girls is remarkably intelligent and that is their strongest point," the speaker continued.

"Since 1915, the Grads have played 348 challenge games and won 340 of them. That is an average of 97.7, or means that these girls can be depended on to carry through what they start about 98% of the time," Coach Page declared. Percy Page informed his audience that the Grads never went on any special diet, but ate just whatever they were used to. Marriage does not bar a girl from remaining on the team, although in the past those marrying preferred to give up basketball. Religion also has nothing to do with a girl making the team. Her religion is never mentioned. Ability is the only criticism. In conclusion, Coach Page declared that he hoped to hold the present team together at least until after 1934 when the Olympic games in London, England, would include basketball and provide an opportunity for the Grads to win new honors.

OFFICES WINNER

Defeated Station By Score of Two to Nil in C.N.R. Softball Last Evening

In a Canadian National Recreation Association Softball League game last night, Offices defeated Station by a score of two to nil. The Station was rather erratic in the first two innings, letting in one run in each, but, after the second inning, no score was made by either team.

Both teams played good ball and the match was watched by a large crowd of fans. Batteries consisted of Boulter and Geddes for Offices and Styles and Skattebol for Station.

The next game will be played Friday evening between the Station and the Round House.

DE LUXE FISHING TRIP TO BE TAKEN BY ST. PAUL MAN

F. J. Hopkins of St. Paul, vice-president of the Janny-Semple-Hill Co., large wholesale hardware firm, arrived in the city by train today from the east. He will proceed by yacht from here for a de luxe fishing trip in Alaskan waters.

MERCHANTS WIN GAME

Defeated Regiment Two to One in Dominion Day Cup Soccer

Was Good Game

Large Crowd Attends Despite the Threatening Weather

The Merchants recorded another win last evening when they defeated the Regiment two goals to one in the second game of the Dominion Day Cup soccer series. The interest that is being shown in football this year was evident by the large attendance in spite of threatening weather. The wind, especially in the first half, interfered with good football.

The Merchants played down hill and, with a strong wind, did most of the pressing in the first half but the Regiment defence was very reliable and kept the Merchants forwards from scoring for a long time. DeJong was very prominent and gave his forwards chances that they used to keep the Merchants defence busy. Tinker gave Norrington a chance that forced Menzies to save. McKay made openings but Edgecumbe stopped S. Dickens. Kelsey and Thurber tackled surely and still the Merchants could not score. Laidler saved a fine drive on his knees and punched away a dangerous cross from Hill. Currie shot badly but later a drive of his was diverted past Laidler by one of the defence and the Merchants were a goal up. On the balance of play they deserved it. Wilson centred to start an attack that forced Douglas to give a corner. Then Tinker was well fed by Fong and the ball was sent on to Norrington who went clean through to score a fine goal and put the teams level. Tinker soon after tested Menzies again.

With the hill in its favor, it was expected that the Regiment would make things warm, but the Merchants had rather the better of the second half. Amor centred but Laidler punched clear. S. Dickens had a couple of openings but Edgecumbe balked him and then Thurber came across to save at the expense of a corner. Wingham stopped H. Dickens and Norrington got away to centre and Tinker went close. Then Sheehan's shot was saved and Wilson dropped one just over the bar. The game was a good one to watch now. McKay played with the ball till he lost it when a pass would have been more helpful to his team. Currie's shot was wide. A lucky header by A. Dickens gave McKay an open goal and Laidler had no chance with the shot. Regiment tried hard but was unable to draw level and the Merchants ran out winners by the odd goal in three.

Regiment: Laidler; Kelsey, Thurber; Edgecumbe, DeJong, Wingham; Wilson, Fong, Tinker, Sheehan, Norrington.

Merchants: Menzies; G. Mitchell, Douglas, Hill, Currie, Hardie, Amor, McKay, A. Dickens, H. Dickens, S. Dickens.

Referee, W. Barton; linesmen, A. Clapperton, G. Blake.

Good Game to Watch

In spite of the wind, it was quite a fair match to watch. The Regiment began with only ten men, Watson being an absentee and a substitute was not available till half way through the first half. Laidler, as usual, was safe in goal and was unfortunate to have the first goal scored against him as he appeared to have the shot covered till one of his own defence diverted it. Kelsey played a great game at back and was ably seconded by Thurber. Edgecumbe was a hard man to beat, his persistence and speed being big factors. DeJong was a great defender especially in the first half, and in the second made attempts to force the game. Wingham was always in the thick of the battle though his kicks went wrong at times. Tinker showed that he has still lots of football and was very useful. Norrington was the best forward but with Fong damaged early in the game and Sheehan only a substitute the forward line was weak.

Menzies was tried out several times and was safe. Douglas was the neater back. Mitchell was effective. Currie, at centre half, was again valuable in defence and in setting his forwards in motion. Hill and Norrington had many a tussle with the honors about even. Hardie never left Wilson's side but with a good inside man on the Regiment forward line this policy will not pay. Amor was fast and centred well at times. The Dickens brothers all showed their usual football ability but none of them scored. McKay's goal was a gift after the ball had hit Dickens' head.

The Merchants claimed they had the ball in the net in the first half a second time but the claim was properly disallowed. The claims of some of the older players at times are quite evidently a cheap attempt to influence the referee. Some day the referee will give one of these perpetual claimants his walking orders for ungentlemanly conduct and it would be as well for the players concerned to take a hint. It's not the game and the rule book provides an adequate penalty.

A NEW RECORD BREAKER IN THE SKIES
 C. W. A. Scott, the British Aviator, established a double Trans-Continental air record when he flew from England to Port Darwin, Australia, in 9 days, 3 hours and 20 minutes. Flying time . . . and made the return journey from Australia to England in 10 days, 13 hours.

The RECORD SPEAKS for ITSELF

THOUSANDS upon thousands of miles—over mountain ranges and storm-tossed seas—under sunny skies and through misty banks of clouds—these are the trials of those who would establish air supremacy.

In a cigarette, quality is the deciding factor—and Turret's long established record grows more impressive year by year.

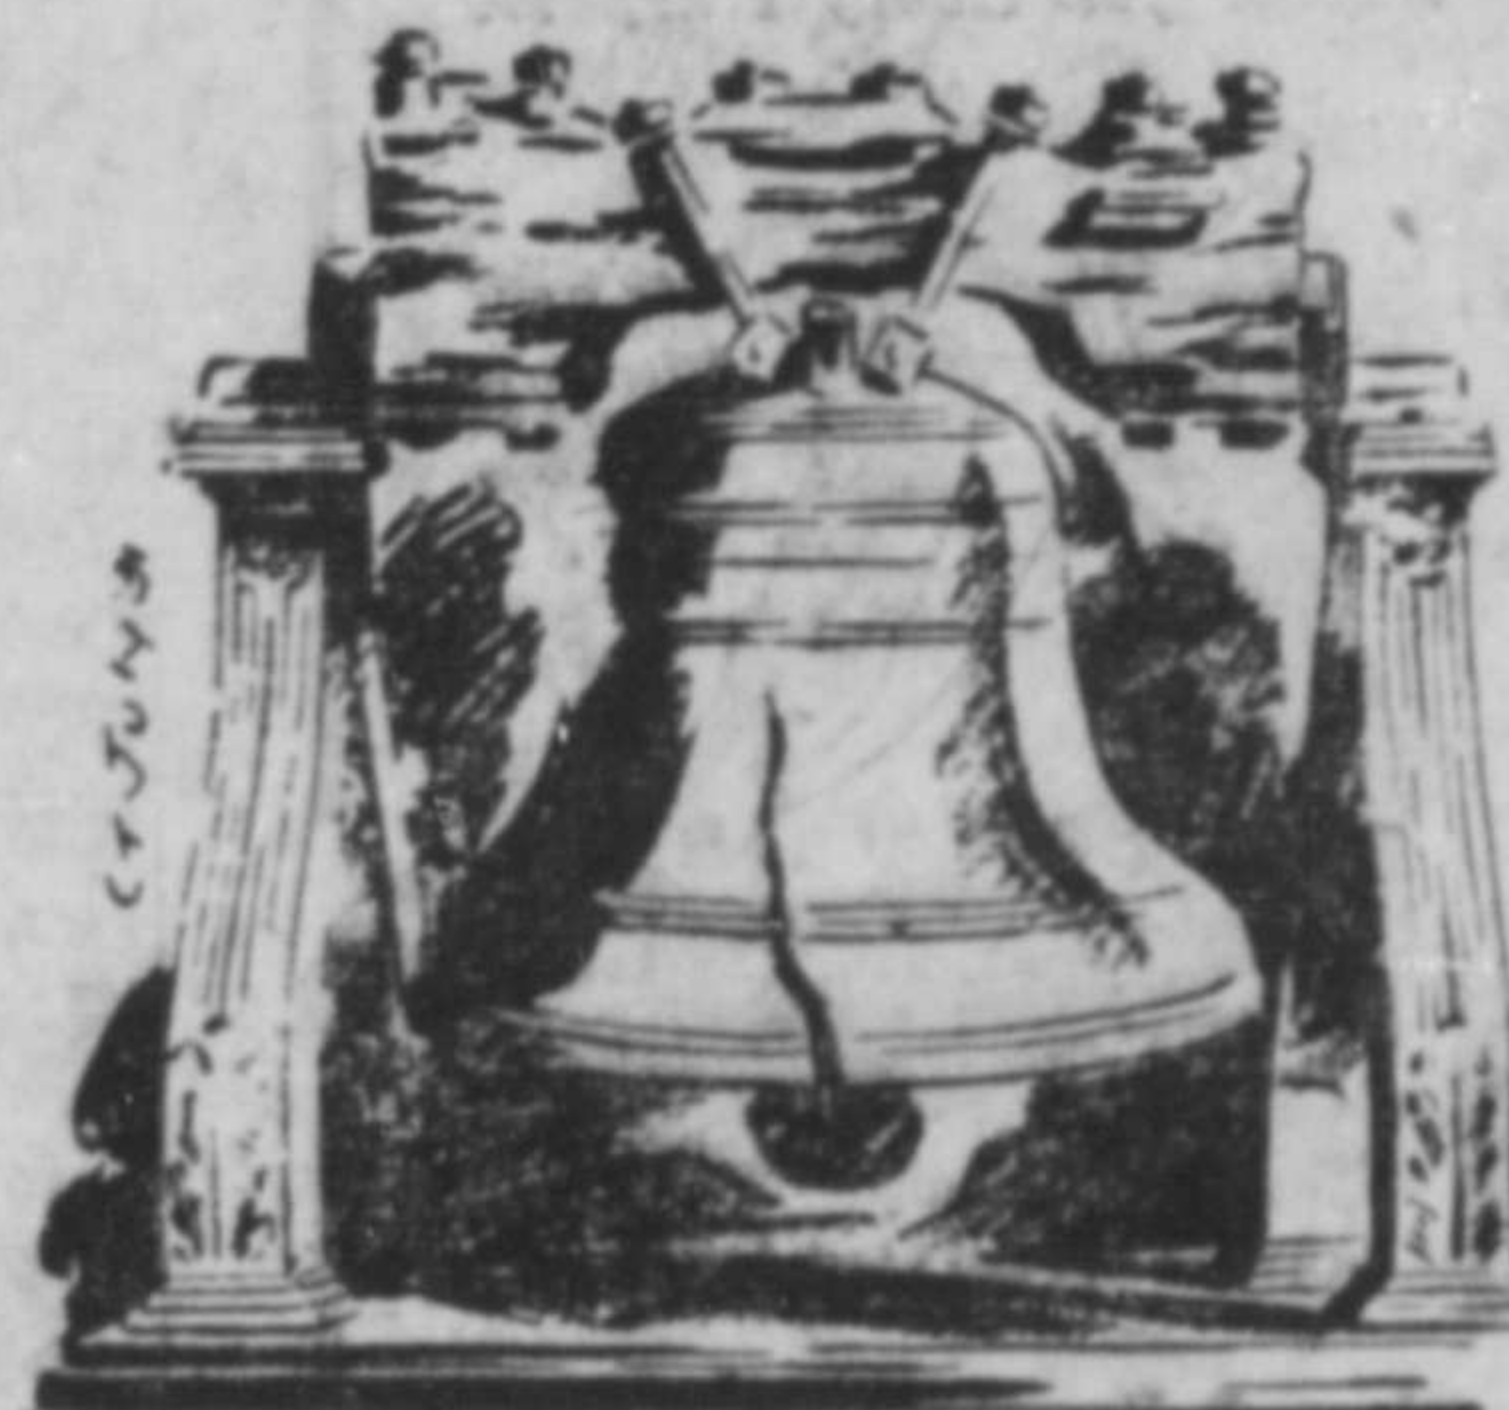

After all, nothing can replace good, honest tobacco; grown and ripened right out in the field under nature's own sunlight—nothing artificial about that—and the high quality is "inbred."

LONG TRIP IS PLANNED

Two Seattle Men Will Use Canoe, Pony and Automobile in Traversing Yukon and Alaska

DAWSON, June 24.—Lyman Culver and James Cassidy of Seattle, will attempt a 3,000-mile journey this summer by canoe, pony and automobile through the Yukon and Alaska. They have already arrived at Ketchikan and will shortly begin their long overland trek.

A 16-foot canoe, powered with an overboard engine, will take them to Skagway, where they will ship over the famous Chilkoot Pass to the headwaters of the Yukon. There they will start their main trip, travelling nearly 2500 miles by sail, paddle and dmotor to Nome, on the west coast of Alaska.

They will camp at night along the river banks, but the canoe is arranged so that one can sleep while the other steers in case they want to travel day and night.

When they reach the mouth of the Yukon, they will have to skirt the edge of Norton Sound for 200 miles to Nome.

The men plan the trip for pleasure, adventure, and the chance to take pictures of the wilderness. They figure it will take them most of the summer to travel through the Yukon and across Alaska, then they will prowl about in other waters along the west coast until the last boat leaves Nome and Bering Sea for Seattle next November.

Since their small canoe cannot carry many provisions, they will depend upon small settlements along the Yukon to replenish their supply, and will, if necessary, live on game which they hope to be able to shoot along the way.

Donald, arrived in port at 11 o'clock this morning from Vancouver, Powell River and Ocean Falls and sailed at 3 o'clock this afternoon for Skagway and other Alaska points, whence she will return here southbound next Monday. There were 203 passengers travelling on the vessel, the large majority being round trip tourists.

Farewelled by many well-wishing friends at the boatside, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. McNaughton and daughter, Helen, and, son Jack, sailed this morning on the Prince Henry for San Francisco to which city Mr. McNaughton has been transferred in the passenger department of the Canadian National Railways. They will sail from Victoria Sunday on the Ruth Alexander.

SOILS ARE DISCUSSED

Prince Rupert Flower Society Heads Address By Dr. Bedford

About two dozen garden enthusiasts of the Prince Rupert Flower Society met in the City Hall last evening to hear Dr. R. H. Bedford of the Prince Rupert Fisheries Experimental Station lecture on soils, their content and their relation to plant growth.

The discourse was given in an admirably simple manner. While the remarks applied to soils in general, particular attention was given to local muskeg soils. By the use of lantern slides, the life of soil bacteria was graphically portrayed.

Soil contents and soil deficiencies or needs were discussed with reference to plant growth. Various fertilizers were also dealt with. By the use of slides the effects of fertilizers were shown.

M. A. Burbank, president of the society, invited questions at the close of the lecture, some of those present taking advantage of the opportunity. The president also expressed the appreciation of all present to the speaker for his interesting address and extended an invitation to non members present to attend such lectures whether they were in a position to join or not, horticultural work being of more than passing importance.

Twenty Years Ago
In Prince Rupert

June 23, 1911
Ald. S. D. Newton has resigned from the city council, having accepted a challenge from Ald. J. H. Hilditch to resign and run against him. Ald. Hilditch states that he will hand in his resignation on Monday. The challenge came in the course of a heated controversy in the city council over the engineering department.

A public holiday was observed in Prince Rupert as well as elsewhere in the British Empire on coronation day. The weather being fine, most Prince Rupert people spent the holiday picnicking.

The Baptist Brotherhood has been organized in Prince Rupert by Rev. W. H. McLeod, pastor of the local Baptist Church.

Grand Jury

Faint Print Traced Him

One night last October a young man broke into a jewellery store in Norwich, Conn. He had broken into other stores and escaped the police. He wore gloves to leave no trace. He would break a windowpane, then turn the catch and raise the window. This time he received a slight cut from the glass and took off his glove to examine it. Then he made a slip as all criminals do. He forgot and touched the glass with the cut finger. The Police found the faint print and traced him. Soon he was on his trial before the grand jury. His prints betrayed him.

Prints on Food—Danger!

Your finger prints are dangerous to you too. Not because of crimes—of course you do not commit any. But because of the disease germs your fingers leave on food as you eat it. There is the danger. These germs you have picked up from things that other people have touched with hands that perhaps checked a cough or sneeze. Colds and flu germs are transmitted most commonly this way. Life Extension Institute lists 27 diseases which may be transmitted through the hands.

That is the way your prints are dangerous to you. Through germs. They enter your mouth—on a chocolate, a biscuit, a fruit—and if you are run down you may become seriously ill.
