MODERATOR TELLS ABOUT SAD VISIT

Scene of Desolation in Southern Saskatchewan Where Head of United Church Visited

Rev. Dr. E. H. Oliver, head of the United Church, who is here today, tells about the terrible conditions of the farmers in Southern Saskatchewan. They passed through drought-stricken country from Regina to Weyburn and on to Amulet, where their first field with a crop, "and that a decidedly poor one" became visible and a sudden rain forced them to halt. The Moderator was making a preliminary survey of conditions affecting the United Church, which is bearing a major responsibility in the dried-out areas, and was reporting to United Church offices.

Nations Wondering If She Can Re-Establish Confidence Among Her Own People

With Communism making a bid for recognition on one side and fascism on the other, the present administration is trying to steer a middle course but how long it will succeed is matter for speculation.

Huge Factories Being Erected In Russia Under Five-Year Plan Of Industrializing the Nation

This is the third of a number of stories on present day conditions in the Soviet Union.

MOSCOW, July 25:—Two new slogans have been blazoned across the Soviet Union as additional spurs to the proletariat. "Five hundred and eighteen" and "1040" now are catch-phrases throughout the nation, for these two sets of numerals represent the number of industrial enterprises and tractor stations, respectively, which the government hopes to complete this year under the five-year plan.

Often linked together much as a college football cheer, the two slogans are chanted at meetings of workers, spread in white letters on flaming red banners in streets and public places and spoken over the radio daily to the farthest corners of the Union.

Steel mills in widely scattered sections of the country, turf cutting plants in the north, sawmill plants in far Siberia, scientific institutes for the study of minerals, chemicals and other industrial materials represent only a few of the enterprises contemplated under this ambitious phase of the campaign to industrialize the nation.

Many of them will be large, many small. More than 100 plants have been finished and opened for business, and, if the schedule is adhered to, an average of more than one a day will be completed during the remainder of 1931.

Among the larger plants already finished are the Klin Artificial Silk Mills, two hours from Moscow, with an estimated annual production of 26,000,000 roubles (about $13,000,000); a giant works at Cheliabinsk, producing ferro-silicate, ferro-chrome and other iron compounds, and a copper smelting plant in the Urals.

Best known and largest among the "518" enterprises is the great steel plant now in the course of construction at Magnitogorsk, to be known as "the Gary of Russia."

Others projected for the year include new coal mines, saw mills, waterworks, power stations and dams, iron and steel plants, coke plants, machine building works, farm implement plants, locomotive works, automobile and tractor works, roller bearing plants, boiler factories, oil refineries, chemical factories, textile factories, printing establishments, motion picture film factories and building materials.

The "518" enterprises will represent an intended capital investment of 4,000,000,000 roubles (about $2,000,000,000).

The "1040" campaign is designed to establish and place in operation that number of tractor stations in strategic sections of the agricultural region. These stations, embracing machine shops and space for varying numbers of tractors, are set up in close proximity to collective and co-operative farms so that the tractors can be sent under their own power when needed to the desired localities.

The Soviet government lays great stress on the tractor as a necessary implement for the successful completion of the agricultural program in the five-year plan.

LINDBERGH NEW PLANS

Difficulty Found in Providing Fuel For Flyers at Point Barrow Owing to Ice

NEW YORK, July 25:—Charles A. Lindbergh has made another change in his plans for the flight of Mrs. Lindbergh and himself to Japan. He has now decided to cross Canada to Alaska and thence to Point Barrow. From there he will fly by way of the Keurle Islands to Tokyo.

POINT BARROW, Alaska, July 25:—Weather conditions have formed a solid ice pack here and no movement of any vessel is possible.

A cutter with gasoline for the Lindbergh plane is five or six days' steaming from here, but she will not be able to approach unless a change occurs.

This it is hoped will occur in time to provide fuel for the flyers.

Ramming Revenue Cutter Deliberate By Josephine K.

HALIFAX, July 25:—What was at first reported as an accident is now shown to have been a deliberate move on the part of the skipper of the rum-runner Josephine K. when she rammed the American cutter that overhauled her.

It develops that when the schooner found her case hopeless she put the engines to full speed and steered direct for the cutter smashing into her and cutting a hole in her hull.

Woman Has Right Beautiful Clothes Says Ralph Connor

Famous Preacher and Novelist Does Not Like Ugly Things—Not Even Ugly Congregations

MONTREAL, July 25.—"Every beautiful woman has the right to beautiful clothes, and those to whom nature has been less kind have even more right to them," stated Dr. C. W. Gordon, better known throughout the Dominion as "Ralph Connor," the novelist, from the pulpit of Emmanuel Church here recently. He pointed out that the ideally lovely countenance was one which expressed beauty of spirit and disposition and, as it came from within, it did not, as he expressed it, "wipe off."

An ugly church building, or a church membership which was untovely with-bickering and dissension, was in his opinion an outrage, not only against good taste, but against all that the church should stand for.

Ideally, the church should be able to get the world and civilization out of the present chaos, concluded the preacher, who stated that the clarity of vision enjoyed by ideal church members should be such that not only would they know without any shadow of doubt just where their duty lay, but would also be guided as to their proper procedure in business or on the stock market.

Hollywood Not Capable Testing The Sanity Case

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., July 24.—Will Rogers says "this is sort of given down and outers a chance day." They pounced on Ma Kennedy, "Aimees" mother" after the poor soul had tried to scare up some fun and amusement. They started to examine her sanity, but they couldn't find anyone in Hollywood capable of making the test. Can't see much satisfaction (only for the politicians to have something to point to with pride in times to come) in sending old man Fall to the pen. He got the $100,000 but he evidently didn't put up oil lands for security, for he has lost the ranch to Doheny for the same $100,000. Course everything wasn't exactly on the up and up, but that was one case that was tried entirely by politics.

Five Thousand Men Engaged in Building Giant Cunarder on Clyde to Cross Atlantic in Four Days

HALIFAX, July 24.—Less than a century ago Samuel Cunard peddled vegetables through the streets of this city to secure money with which he could embark on his sensational career as one of the Empire's greatest steamship line operators. Today, the line which he founded in this old garrison city, is building an express liner on the Clyde

UNEMPLOYED ORGANIZED

Constitution Drawn Up and Forwarded to Respective Premiers, Federal and Provincial

The unemployed of the city have organized and drawn up a constitution copies of which have been forwarded to Premier Tolmie at Victoria and Premier Bennett at Ottawa. It follows:

UNEMPLOYED ASSOCIATION OF PRINCE RUPERT, B.C.

This association will be called the Unemployed Association of Prince Rupert.

It is the purpose of this association to safeguard the interests of its members in the handling of relief work. To see that no member is unduly discriminated against, and to promote a humane policy of equal rights to all and special privileges to none. To co-operate with all other branches of organized bodies in the struggle for the attainment of a better standard of living for our members and the continuity of good principles and ideals. To attain that end members must strictly abide by the following bylaws:

1. Any member who by act or word does or says anything detrimental to this organization or his fellow member, shall be subject to discipline, if not expulsion, by the organization.
2. There will be no fees for membership in this organization, and no public collections will be made at mass meetings.
3. This association shall have the power to affiliate with other organizations of similar aims and objects.
4. The rule of all meetings, business or mass meetings, shall conform with Hobart's "Rules of Order." The order of the meeting will be the business of the unemployed, but the chairman will hold it to his good discretion of giving the privilege of the floor to anyone.

The Resolution

The following is a copy of the resolution passed last week relating to unemployment:

WHEREAS, we, assembled at mass meeting in Moose Hall, Prince Rupert, B.C., on 19th July, 1931, consider that unemployment relief as it is being administered at the present time is inadequate to meet the critical situation now prevailing;

AND WHEREAS the City of Prince Rupert has gone the limit as regards direct relief for the single unemployed to the extent of $4000.00 per month from September, 1930, to March, 1931, being 25% of the revenue collected in the City of Prince Rupert.

THEREFORE be it resolved, that the federal and provincial governments give direct relief to the resident single men, the minimum to be five dollars an fifty cents ($5.50) per week, on the basis of fifty cents (50c) per day for meals and two dollars ($2.00) per week for rent, being the minimum possible for the workers to exist.

THEREFORE be it resolved, that the federal and provincial governments institute legislation whereby we will have a system of unemployed insurance.

AND, be it further resolved that we are not in favor of the "dole" system as it is at present in Canada.

Sailors of Cruiser Given Drive Over Ketchikan Road

KETCHIKAN, July 25.—As one of the entertainment features for the members of the crew of the steamer Detroit, practically all the cars of the city were assembled for the purpose of giving the men a drive over the Tongass Highway.

The big cruiser left this morning southbound.

which, when completed in 1933, will be the largest and most luxurious merchant float afloat. This gigantic new ship, symbolic of the faith which Samuel Cunard had in the future development of his native land and in ocean transportation between the old and new worlds, is truly the scientific marine marvel of the age.

Known to the trade as Number 534, this 1018-foot Queen of the Seas will cost the Cunard line and the British government a total of $10,000,000 before she slides gracefully down the ways in 1933. Other developments in connection with the harbor facilities for the giant vessel include a new $20,000,000 pier on the Hudson, while a new graving dock, to cost approximately $10,000,000, will be built at Southampton.

Sea sickness, that disagreeable feature of ocean travel experienced by many travellers, will it is thought be a thing of the past on this new ship. She will not roll even in the heaviest seas, for the steadiness of the ship will be assured by a $1,000,000 gyroscopic device which weighs over 300 tons. The reading of a partial list of the features of this new giant of the seas will impress the layman with some of the marvellous developments being made in trans-Atlantic Ocean liner construction by British marine-engineers.

Her engines will generate 200,000 horsepower.

Ten miles of carpet will be used to cover her floors.

She will have 10,000 electric light fittings.

A total of 30,000 tons of steel will enter into her construction.

She will have 12 turbines, seven turbo generators, and 300 electric motors.

The catering department will have 200,000 pieces of crockery.

A row of 14 lifeboats will line each side of her upper deck.

She will have ventilators with mouths large enough to swallow a subway car.

Decorations for the ship alone will cost $2,500,000.

There will be an elaborate chapel where services will be held daily.

About 5000 men are now busily engaged on construction of the ship on the River Clyde, Glasgow, and it is hoped that she will depart on her maiden voyage in October, 1933. This immense trans-Atlantic express liner will have accommodation for 5000 passengers, and with a sister ship soon to follow, will maintain weekly service on the New York and Canadian service of the line. It is expected that with her speed of 35 knots she will be able to make the Atlantic crossing in four days.

Ignatius Tribich Lincoln Was Spy, Forger, German Official, Chinese Agent and Now Priest

PEIPING, China, July 25.—Ignatius Tribich Lincoln, former member of the British Parliament and known for his long record of international adventures, is a Buddhist priest here with the name Chao Kung.

Wearing the gray robe of a Buddhist monk, Lincoln, who was born in Austria but later became a naturalized British subject, said he began to study Buddhism some years ago. Finally he decided it was the only antidote against "the grasping greed and gross materialism of Europeans and Americans."

Twelve circular scars on his shaven head indicate that he has gone through the painful burning ceremony supposed to testify that a candidate for the Buddhist priesthood is dead to all sensation. Symbolical of the Buddhist wheel of life, the marks are burned into the scalp with small wafers made of incense and charcoal.

About 30 years ago Lincoln, now 53, studied for the ministry in the Anglican Church. "Christianity has become bankrupt and Chinese Buddhists should send missionaries to spread their doctrines abroad," he said.

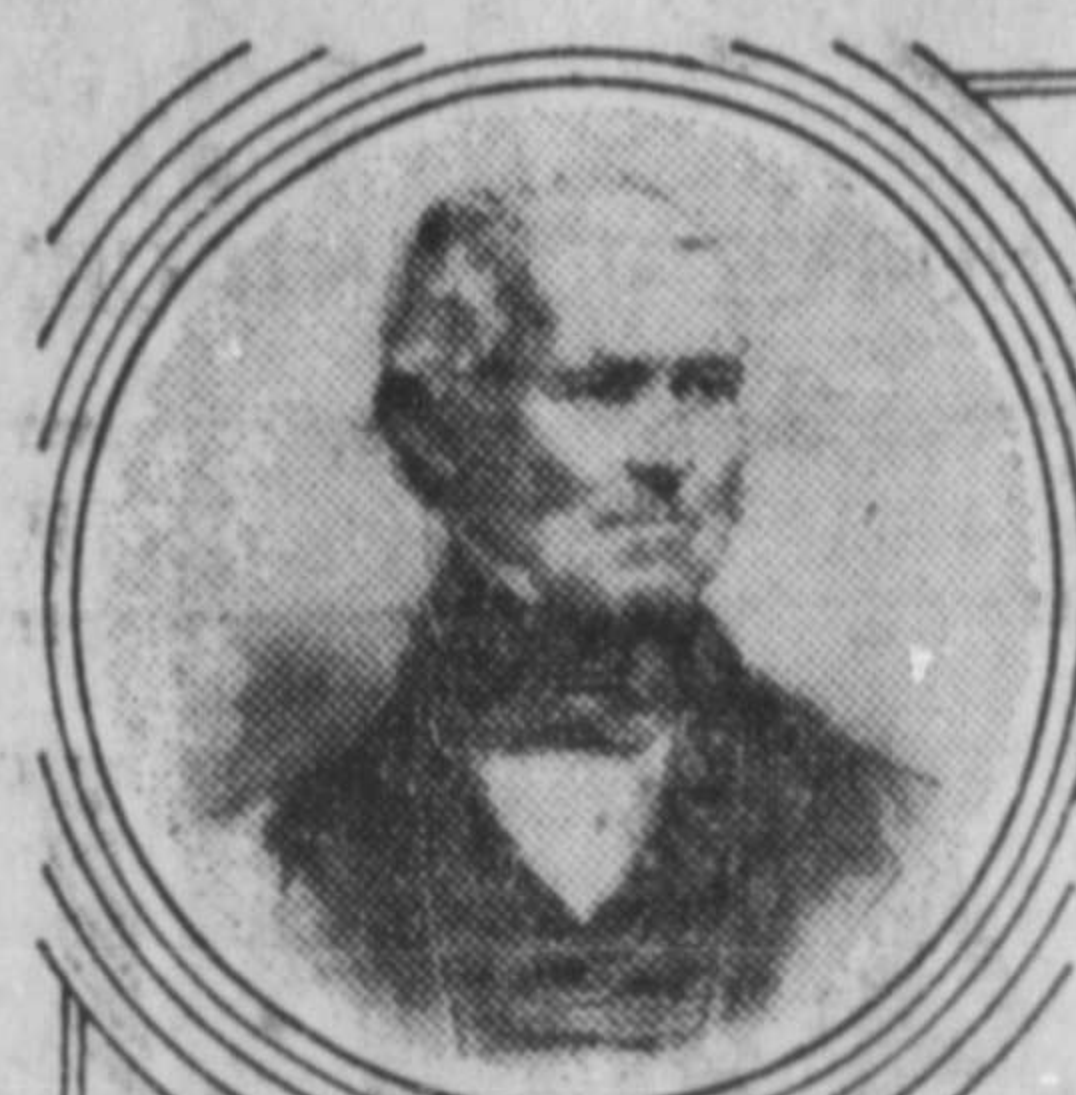

Saying that he is the first foreigner to take the Buddhist vow in China, Lincoln plans to devote the rest of his life to his chosen religion.

"When I became interested in politics," he said, "it was the most unfortunate step in my life and I am very glad that it is over."

Ignatius Tribich Lincoln, whose Austrian name was Trebitsch, thrived New York in 1915 when, arrested on information furnished by the British Embassy, he declared that he had been a German spy and made public purported "spy revelations." Later he repudiated the "confession."

Escaping from custody three months later, he taunted police through statements to the newspapers until his recapture. Extradited from New York to England in 1916, he was tried by the British on a charge of forgery. After serving a

Sir Samuel Cunard founder of the Cunard Line

S.S. "BRITANNIA" 207 feet long

S.S. "AQUITANIA" 902 feet long

NEW CUNARDER "No. 534" 1018 feet long

This composite photograph gives some idea of the progress made in steam navigation since the year 1840, when the Cunard Line inaugurated the first regular steamship service across the Atlantic. Few Canadians realize that this great enterprise was founded by a Halifax, N.S., man, Sir Samuel Cunard.

The pioneer ship of the Line was the little "Britannia" only 207 feet long and of 1,100 tons. She made her maiden voyage from Liverpool to Halifax in July 1840. And now, just 91 years after, her giant successor, the "Aquitania" of 45,000 tons, will make another historic call at Halifax on July 31 on one of a series of week-end cruises from New York.

Soon the greatest passenger liner ever built, the Cunarder known at present as No. 534, of 73,000 tons gross, now being constructed on the Clyde, will bring the story of steam navigation to even greater triumphs of speed and luxury.

Takes Burning Test

Former Member of British Parliament Says Buddhism Antidote to Grasping Greed of West

PEIPING, China, July 25.—Ignatius Tribich Lincoln, former member of the British Parliament and known for his long record of international adventures, is a Buddhist priest here with the name Chao Kung.

Wearing the gray robe of a Buddhist monk, Lincoln, who was born in Austria but later became a naturalized British subject, said he began to study Buddhism some years ago. Finally he decided it was the only antidote against "the grasping greed and gross materialism of Europeans and Americans."

Twelve circular scars on his shaven head indicate that he has gone through the painful burning ceremony supposed to testify that a candidate for the Buddhist priesthood is dead to all sensation. Escaping from custody three months later, he taunted police through statements to the newspapers until his recapture. Extradited from New York to England in 1916, he was tried by the British on a charge of forgery. After serving a three-year prison sentence he was deprived of his British citizenship and deported.

Going to Germany, he was placed in charge of the censorship under the short-lived Kapp regime in Europe, where he was reported in 1919. He fled to Austria upon collapse of the Kapp government and was expelled from that country in 1921 for alleged treasonable activities.

Exiled from England, he went to China, engaged in supplying arms to various factions, made a fortune and bought an estate in Ceylon. But he was drawn again to Europe, where he was reported in 1928 endeavoring to obtain a loan for the Cantones government of China. Soon after that, his arrival in Peking (now Peiping), disguised as a Buddhist monk, was reported.

Napir Moore of McLean's Magazine and Mrs. Moore Spent Several Hours Here Today

Prominent visitors today on the Prince Henry were Mr. and Mrs. Napir Moore of Toronto. Mr. Moore is the editor of McLean's Magazine, the representative Canadian publication which is known so well in the west.

The visitors were keenly interested in Prince Rupert and were delightfully surprised at the progress made here, especially after the stories they had heard about the city. It had been represented to them as a place where it always rained.

While here they visited the points of interest including the cold storage and enjoyed seeing the gardens. Incidentally they took moving pictures for private exhibition in the east.

The visitors are continuing this afternoon to Skagway and will return on the same boat.

SPORT CHAT

France is ahead one point in the Davis Cup tennis finals at Auteuil, France. This makes it necessary for Britain to win both the remaining singles games, which is scarcely likely. Everything depends upon these last two games.

Max Schmeling stated, after his recent successful encounter with a gentleman from the south, that Charlie Retzlaff, Duluth boxer, was the lad most likely to become his successor, although, of course, the German is figuring on hanging on to the title for a few years yet. After seeing Retzlaff perform in New York the other night, Joe Jacobs expressed agreement with his protégé, and boxing critics are beginning to sit up and take notice when the Duluth man is one of the principals in the squared circle. He impresses the men capable of looking ahead as a chap capable of going places.

MODERATOR OF CHURCH IS ON VISIT

Rev. Dr. Oliver Speaks at United Church to Large Congregation; Reception Followed

Taking as his subject, "Adventuring with Christ in Canada," Dr. E. H. Oliver, Moderator of the United Church in Canada made a profound impression on a large audience that heard him speak last evening in the First United Church.

Dr. Oliver expressed his great joy at being able to visit the very western fringes of the Dominion and regretted exceedingly that an emergency call from the headquarters of the church gave him no option but to return immediately to the east and so forego further opportunities of meeting with the peoples of British Columbia in the outlying districts.

Referring to the fact that this year was the sixtieth anniversary of the entrance of British Columbia into the Confederation, a great adventure at that time, Dr. Oliver stated that the greater adventure was to consolidate that progressive event by getting the people to do what God wants. This could only be done by the full co-operation of the people, for God was a working struggling, battling God, who accomplished His ends by work and that through the agency of his followers. So long as man remains free he struggles for nothing so incessantly as for someone to worship, some great ideal to attain, some high end to reach.

With his intimate knowledge of Canadian history, for Dr. Oliver is a recognized historian, the speaker related in an interesting and forceful way the stories of many of the great adventurers in Canada in the past, those in exploring, settling, advancing the economic and commercial prosperity of the Dominion. What a legacy they have left us, what an inspiration in their accomplishments. The bringing in of peoples from all parts of the world was a tremendous responsibility and it demanded a recognition of our responsibility to hold before them the highest ideals and they are those set forth and exemplified by Jesus Christ.

The greater adventurer of all time was Jesus Christ. In good company one can go anywhere and do almost anything and so Dr. Oliver finished with a moving plea that in the company of Jesus Christ and His followers we should go on adventuring in Canada in a glorious company and with a glorious hope in our hearts for the greatest progress in our Dominion.

Native Peoples

The meeting was presided over by Rev. A. Wilson who also read the lesson. Rev. V. Sansum lead in prayer. A notable feature was the address of welcome given by Rev. Pearce, pioneer missionary of the Indian people. Mr. Pearce came at the express wish of the Indian peoples to extend warm-hearted greetings from the chiefs and native councils. They were painfully disappointed that Dr. Oliver could not attend the native rally that had been planned. Thousands of Indians were to attend and with favorable tides and the full co-operation of the cannery managers a monster assembly would have greeted him. He assured Dr. Oliver of the sympathy of the Indians and their faith and reminded the audience that he himself, before Christianity had reached this coast, had seen a slave woman who had been captured in Alaska done to death on the shore at Port Simpson and then five cannibals had devoured her body and drunk her blood. To Father Duncan he also paid high tribute. Christianity had made such atrocities impossible. He then presented Dr. Oliver with two native wooden spoons.

Dr. Oliver was evidently impressed with the words of Rev. Pearce, and asked him to assure the Indians of his keen disappointment at being unable to visit them. It would have meant more to him than to meet any of the great assemblies in any of the cities of Canada. Their greeting gave him a peculiar pleasure.

Mrs. H. C. Fraser sang "The Holy City" with fine feeling and interpretation. Mrs. A. Wilson was accompanist and also played for the hymns.

Later a reception was held at which those in attendance had the privilege of meeting Dr. Oliver.

The majority of people ask nothing better than a comfortable routine that keeps them in food and clothes and does not require too great an exercise of brain matter.—Ida M. Tarbell.

RIDING IN THE CLOUDS

The pictures show: a typical trail ride, camp scene, fording a river, and the sterling type of cowboy, who is guide, friend and counsellor to the disciples of the saddle.

Up, out and away from the cares and limitations of modern life; sharing the joys of long days in the saddle in flower-studded Alplands and stately passes with a goodly company of kindred spirits; happy evenings round the campfires and restful, health-giving nights in the wine-like atmosphere of the mountains; such is the life of the Trail Riders of the Canadian Rockies, on their annual expeditions from Banff and Lake Louise, which have long since become famous items in the summer programs of the two great Canadian Pacific Railway hotels at these renowned holiday places. Carefully planned rides, of varying durations to suit all comers; experienced guides, cooks and horse-wranglers; a pack train always ahead to welcome the riders at the evening meal, with the night's camp all ready for occupation; horses that are as sure-footed as goats all contribute to making this form of holiday one of the most original and enjoyable on the American continent. Canadian Pacific lines carry enthusiasts and new recruits from four corners of the earth to Banff and Lake Louise, each summer. This year the official four-day ride will be held from July 30 to August 2, covering 52 miles through Banff National Park, in territory with special appeal to the photographer and fisherman, and will be followed by a 10-day ride of greater mileage.

for as follows:
Eight car loads of stock were shipped out of Milestone in one week as there was no feed.

At Lang, the price of drinking water was 25 cents for three pails. People save the water in which they wash their hands and dishes to try to water their gardens.

The straw stacks had been fed to the stock and had disappeared. Scarcely any stock could be seen. A few sheep near Lang were gleaming a precarious sustenance off some poor stubble.

A farmer had shot 12 horses, as there was no water for them to drink.

In a few low sloughs some grain had germinated, particularly since the recent showers, but, in the main, sand stretched to the horizon with little drifts along the fences and beside the roads. The usual rains from the end of May to July had not materialized. It was the third year of the drought.

It is as true today as it was six months ago, that the program of new construction has suffered less shrinkage in this country than in the United States.—Victoria Times.

OTTAWA, July 25:—Persons who go so scantily clothed as to offend against public decency or order will, if the bill approved by the House of Commons is passed by the Senate, be liable to three years in prison. The bill is aimed at the Doukhobors whose nude parades have annoyed the people in some parts of the country.

Guide to Correspondents

The Daily News welcomes correspondence on live topics of the day or any other subject of public interest, but letters must be brief and to the point. The long-winded correspondent has no place in modern journalism.

Every letter must be signed by the writer, not necessarily for publication but as a matter of good faith and courtesy. All unsigned documents go to the waste paper basket. Letters of a caustic character must have the signature appended for publication.

Letters should be written on one side of the paper only. Correspondents must avoid personalities and the language should be such as would be allowed in the ordinary rules of debate.

Slight Falling Off in Salmon Catch—Little Change In Halibut Situation—Nameless Will Soon Be Back in Service

Owing to the dull weather there has been a slight falling off in salmon fishing this week but the Skeena River is doing well, the catch to date being just about the same as it was at the corresponding date last year. This is better than was expected. While no one is making big money there are pretty good wages being earned by fishermen, a number of men reporting having taken over forty dollars worth in one day.

The dull weather has extended all up the coast and as a result the fish have been swimming below the reach of the nets.

Rivers Inlet has gone down a little over last season but it is as good as expected.

So far as can be gathered none of the cannery managers have received any new instructions yet in regard to the lower grades of fish. The instructions at the beginning of the season were to take no pinks except those that came in on the sock-eye nets.

Pinks have already shown up in considerable quantities around Nanu but that is the only part of the district where many are being taken. Cohoes are coming in from some of the trolling grounds but they are not very much in demand. They will not be running full until the middle of August.

Much interest has been taken here in the ramming of the halibut boat Sunset last week in the south by a tanker. The boat brought 36,000 pounds of fish to Prince Rupert and was offered 6c and 3c but refused it and went to Seattle with her catch. It is reported that both the vessel and catch were insured.

There has been little change in the halibut situation in the past week or two. The base price has been six and three except for yesterday when the Tahoma, an American boat was offered only 5.5 and three and held over until this morning. Thursday morning an American boat, the only one in port, sold for something over nine cents for first class fish.

The halibut boat Curlew was towed into port Sunday with a broken engine crankshaft. She is having repairs made at the Star Welding shop.

During the week the Annie O of Port Simpson brought in 50 cohoes but failed to sell them and took them away to the canneries.

Packer Edenshaw, chartered to the Canadian Fishing Company, has been diverted now to Butedale instead of bringing her fish here. The salmon are being frozen at the plant there.

Doug Frizzell's speed boat "Nameless" has been laid up for a week or two as a result of trying to leap a log at the wrong angle. Doug says it's no trouble to leap a log or a dozen logs as long as you take them at right angles. When the boat is going forty miles an hour you hardly notice jumping a pile but if you try to do it while turning a corner there is trouble. That was what happened when the boat broke her gear casings two weeks ago and the part had to be sent away to be renewed.

If it's a fine day tomorrow Doug expects to have everything running as before and once again the residents of Westview will see that queer blue streak up the harbor which is said to be the wake of a little 14-foot craft that can't be seen because of the speed it is making.

Nameless is run by a 52 horsepower Evinrude that almost lifts her out of the water. It is officially known as a 4-60.

Mrs. Jud Thurber has joined the ranks of the yachtsmen by taking over the Elsinore from Stan Parker. Stan has bought the Donnie R. from Alex Rix. He went out in her to Warke Canal a few days ago and came home with a bunch of fish. She behaved so nicely on the trip that Stan decided she must be his.

It is reported that George Dawes was out Sunday with the Valquero when the engine became disgruntled and in spite of all the petting that could be done refused to work. Slowly and sadly the usually spry looking yacht returned at the end of a rope.

John Manson is another citizen who now is entitled to the prefix "Skipper." Captain Manson is the proprietor and pilot of the boat ing. Within a few hours the professor was on the job there and he is setting his scientific mind to work to try to find the cause of the phenomena.

It is said that there have been similar occurrences in past seasons at other points in the neighborhood but not to the extent that has been reported from the Naas.

Within a very short time the bacteriological department of the experimental station will be moved to the upper floor of the new building. One or two of the rooms are already completed. The general offices of the station will be in that department very soon.

Captain Thomas McMeekin has just assumed a yachting cap, his right to its use being because of his acquiring a yacht from Norman Moorehouse, the same that was once the property of Louis Amadio. It is equipped with a three and a half horsepower Holiday engine and it is said can make ten miles an hour downstream.

There are so many captains on the waterfront that when the marine editor was told of Captain Elsie McQuatt being in town he naturally thought she must be skipper of a boat. Instead of that he finds she is skipper of the Salvation craft in Winnipeg attached to Grace Hospital and that she is in the city visiting with Miss Almond on Second Avenue, getting away from the scorching winds, the blazing sun, and mosquitoes of the city that considers itself the centre of the continent.

Word was received from Ketchikan last night that the trollers at that place had marketed 50,000 pounds of salmon since the men started fishing last Sunday.

The salmon pack for Southeastern Alaska up to yesterday amounted to 210,000 cases.

Wide Variety of Fish Distributed

Government Hatcheries Active In Sending Out Fry of Salmon, Trout and White Fish

OTTAWA, July 25.—More than 479,000,000 fish eggs, fry, fingerlings, and yearling fish, and a few older fish, were distributed last year from the hatchery establishments operated by the Fish Culture Division of the Canadian Department of Fisheries.

There were Atlantic salmon, speckled-trout, rainbow trout, brown trout, loch leven trout, salmon trout, cut-throat, Kamloops trout, cut-throat and Kamloops crosses, ouananiche, landlocked salmon, pickerel, white fish, sockeye salmon, spring salmon, coho salmon, chum salmon, steelhead salmon or trout, and Kennerly's salmon.

By such distributions, which go on from year to year, the Fish Culture Division assists nature in maintaining and increasing the existing supplies of fish in various Canadian waters, stocks lakes and streams which are barren, and introduces different species of indigenous, thus making more swim where fewer swam before, aiding both the commercial fisherman and the anglers.

The largest distribution was to the hatcheries in the prairie provinces. From the hatchery establishments in Manitoba there was white fish distribution of over 130,000,000 and a pickerel distribution of over 107,000,000. In addition there was a salmon trout distribution of upwards of 195,000. From the hatchery at Fort Qu'Appelle, Sask., nearly 15,610,000 eggs were sent out—white fish, by the greater part, some pickerel and some brown trout. The distribution from the Alberta hatcheries reached a total of more than 250,000.

Bring your best Prince Rupert

The Fair Board is anxious to encourage residents in the districts around Prince Rupert to bring their best to the

FALL FAIR

Which will be held the

FIRST WEEK IN SEPTEMBER

Local residents believe that they can grow flowers better than any place within two hundred miles. Can they? The Fair Board would like to have the districts pit their horticultural skill against the Prince Rupert Flower Society and see if they cannot wrest away some of the prizes, especially that for the best floral display.

A cordial invitation is extended to all to compete.
