Halibut Landings During March
Little Better Than Quarter of Last Year

Halibut landings at the port of Prince Rupert for the month of March this year totalled 601,000 pounds as against 2,108,700 pounds last year and 2,823,200 pounds the year previous.

The fact that the Seattle fleet was not in operation and that marketing conditions here were rather unsettled contrived to cause small landings in the month just past. This will probably be rectified during the coming month.

FINES HERE ARE HIGHER

Police Court One Institution That Is Not Suffering From Depression

There is one institution at least in Prince Rupert which does not seem to be suffering from the hard times and that is Magistrate McClymont's city police court. Fine collections of the police court for March this year totalled $825 as against $686 in the same month last year and, to date this year, $2,007.50 has been collected as compared with $1086 in the first three months of 1930.

CUSTOMS REVENUE SHOWS DECREASE

Customs collections at the port of Prince Rupert for the month of March this year amounted to only $6,560.96. This is a large decrease from $21,096.15 which was the revenue from this source for March, 1930.

BUILDING INCREASE

Year Over Same Month in 1930

Building permits issued at the office of the city engineer during the month of March, just ended, represented a total value of $9,518 as compared with $9,100 in the same month last year. The list for March this year includes a combined store and dwelling structure at the corner of Fifth Avenue and Green Street for J. H. Sheddon and a residence on Fifth Avenue East at Hays Cove Circle for Ben Johnson. The list for March is as follows:

NO HALIBUT IN

There were no halibut boats in this morning with catches. With the American fleet now at work, it is expected that landings may be heavy toward the end of the week.

United Pacific Not Shipping Halibut East But Freezing; Two Boats Sell to Storage

Having received orders to ship no more fish to the eastern markets, the United Pacific Fisheries is now freezing what halibut it is taking here. The concern is, however, undertaking to make the same down payment of 10c and 7c as previously.

The Takla, which had the largest catch offering yesterday, did not dispose of its fish after all to the United Pacific Fisheries but sold it to the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co. for 8½c and 5½c. The Bobby was another boat which disposed of its catch to the Cold Storage yesterday. It had 150 pounds.

The American Wave and Canadian Covenant, in this morning with catches of 7,000 and 12,000 pounds respectively, are holding over. It is understood that the Covenant may proceed to Vancouver with its catch.

While the fishermen still seem to be confident that the new plan of marketing here will eventually work out to their satisfaction, many rumors are heard as to the situation and it is understood that there is likely to be a showdown within the next day or so.

RUSH FOR PLATINUM

Excitement Grows at Edson; Many Citizens Leave For Scene

SAMPLES EXPECTED

Those at Scene of Discovery Express Great Confidence

EDMONTON, April 1 — With excitement growing to a more feverish pitch, Edson's platinum rush to Obed, 40 miles west of that town, is continuing in full swing, with 120 claims staked on Monday and 80 more up to noon on Tuesday.

While the rush continues, no samples for assay have been received by the provincial analyst or the University of Alberta, despite rumors in the Edson district that the university has assayed the ore. Samples, however, are expected within the next 24 hours.

G. Dolan, Edmonton, who found the platinum claim, arrived back in the city on Tuesday morning, but has little for newspapermen.

On Tuesday afternoon he went over to the University of Alberta to see Dr. J. A. Allan, to get information as to the glacial history of the find.

Easy For Edsonites

The rush for riches is far afield from the old-time Klondike drives or even the more recent rush into a reported strike area in the south of the province. Edson residents simply are jumping into their cars, bouncing across 40 miles of Jasper highway, parking their machines and staking their claims. Then they can turn around and go back to Edson—making a little trip that requires, for the stomach's sake, only a few sandwiches and a flash of coffee; mighty different from the days of frying pans and salt pork.

The scene of the reported find of platinum is on Sullivan creek, about five miles west of Obed, at a point where it intersects the highway. The roadway cuts across the stream three miles up from its mouth with the Athabaska river and claims are being staked on either side of the highway.

Express Confidence

Those experienced in the ways of ores are reported to be showing great confidence in the value of the platinum findings. Dr. J. A. Allan, head of the department of geology at the University of Alberta, declares, however, that while the platinum indications in the glacial gravels which cover the entire district in which Obed and Sullivan Creek are located, there is likelihood that there have been concentration sufficient to make the ore value up to $1,100 per ton, as enthusiasts claim. He is anxious to get samples.

Postmaster Carmichael at Obed indicated to stakers on Monday that he has great confidence in the discovery.

A. E. McDonald, superintendent of the Edson division of the Canadian National railways, is reported to have gone to the scene of the find to investigate on behalf of the railway.

Tell of Excitement

Arrivals in Edmonton tell of the excitement prevailing and the rush to the scene of the find.

"The road was crowded on Monday with cars taking people in to stake," said one visitor. "They are coming from miles around and feel certain that they have a rich placer mining area."

Most of the staking is on what is commonly known as Sullivan Creek, which is crossed by the Jasper highway. It is reported that claims have been staked all the way to the Athabaska river.

Parties have arrived in the city to file upon claims staked last Sunday, the day before the rush. They have found that the original location claim must first be filed upon as future entries will be numbered accordingly. As a result, it will be necessary for a surveyor to leave for the field at once to locate the original claim of William Erwin and Jerry Dolan. Parties have ten days to file from the time their claim, which is some 20 acres in area, is staked.

NEWS OF THE MINES AROUND PRINCE RUPERT

Dalhousie Meeting With Success in Tidewater
Molybdenum—Independence May Reopen
Soon—Prosperity Doing Well

The Dalhousie Mining Co., it is reported, is still meeting with unusual success in the development of the Tidewater Molybdenum property, a short distance down the inlet from the town of Alice Arm. Development work at the present time is being concentrated on a raise from the lower level to the upper and extension of the upper drift. Work has been suspended on the extension of lower drift, this being caused by the fact that more ventilation is needed. It was therefore decided to drive a raise to the upper drift. When this raise has been completed, the lower drift will be continued until it has cut through the whole series of ore bodies, thus giving a great depth on them. This lower drift has been driven in ore throughout its entire length which is very encouraging. The raise is also being driven in ore and the extension of the upper tunnel shows that, as greater depth is obtained, the ore becomes richer. Development work which has so far been done indicates that the Tidewater Molybdenum may, in the near future, become a steady producer.

A. St. Claire Brindle, well known throughout the north as a mining engineer, addressing the British Columbia Chamber of Mines in Vancouver recently, advocated free airplane transportation for prospectors to remote areas in the north to facilitate the search for gold.

S. P. Fitzgerald, who returned to Stewart last week after spending the winter in the south, is very enthusiastic about the future of the Portland Canal district. As soon as the stabilization of silver is accomplished, he is confident that there will be ample funds available for mining. As far as the Independence property was concerned, Mr. Fitzgerald stated that some assessment work was to be carried on now with the possibility that regular operations might be resumed before the end of the year.

R. S. Watson, representing the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Co., has started off recently from Vanderhoof for the Nation River area in the interest of his company.

"It is with a very great deal of satisfaction that I can report a very highly successful year for the Prosperity Mine Syndicate under the efficient management of the Premier Gold Mining Co.," stated George A. Mehfield, president at the recent annual meeting of the Prosperity Syndicate in Victoria. "The Prosperity has made a remarkable record for the fourteen months of production to January 1, 1931, and this in face of severe climatic conditions and the constantly declining price of silver. Since taking over the management of this property, Premier has advanced for development $139,025; additional claims, $4,100; mine equipment, $50,629.01; material and supplies on hand, $11,036.08. During this development there has been a charge for interest of $23,648.04. Now I am able to report that during this short fourteen months of production these charges have been paid off with the exception of $33,827.64 while to offset this balance due, we have a credit of $65,755.09 which is the total of uncollected proceeds of ore sales, ore in bunkers, plant and equipment, supplies on hand and additional property, leaving a credit of $32,428.03 and, in addition to this, we have piled at the beach several thousand tons of silver ore with content of about 20 ounces which would make a nice asset with higher price for silver. The mining and tram cost of this is all paid. During the fourteen months a total of 20,853.41 wet tons were mined and shipped to smelter, contents of which were 412.25 ounces of gold and 1,546,299.9 ounces of silver with gross smelter value of $575,876.68 or $29.33 per ton. The production cost was $362,189.34 or $18.45 per ton, leaving a net profit of $213,687.34 or $10.88 per ton

One very important factor in the development of the property has been the recently increasing gold content of the ore, having practically doubled in January shipments.

SPORT CHAT

Twenty years in professional hockey, during which time he played on four world's championship teams, is the remarkable record of Russell "Rusty" Crawford, coach for the Prince Albert Mintos. Having outlasted 90% of the players who performed with him in his best days, Crawford attributes his lasting qualities to his life on the farm. "I was always fit when the season opened," he remarked. "I like farm life, and I like to play around with the boys and coach them in amateur hockey. The young fellows are more interesting than the pros. They are the future stars of the hockey world." Crawford, with his wife and seven children, live on the farm which he filed on as a homestead in the early days of his career. He is a successful mixed farmer.

When "Rusty" did not report for hockey duty last autumn, it was the first time since 1919 that his name had not appeared in the line-up of some professional team either in Canada or the United States. His exact age—a mystery to his friends, is estimated to be somewhere about fifty. He commenced his hockey career at Vernon, Ont., his home town. Coming to Western Canada, he first went to Vancouver to work for a packing company. He left there in the fall of 1907 intending to go to Montreal to play with the Wanderers in the National Hockey Association. But W. M. Van Valkenburg, of Regina, who later donated the senior trophy to the Saskatchewan Amateur Hockey Association, met him at the Regina station and persuaded him to play for the capital city team that season.

"Rusty" proved a valuable addition to the Regina team and his fame spread throughout the province. The years 1908-09 found him with the Prince Albert Mintos. In 1910 he played with Saskatoon Ho-Hos, or Wholesalers and with a Saskatoon all-star team in Winnipeg. During the 1910 season "Rusty" joined the Quebec Bulldogs, in the National Association and helped that club to win the league championship and the Stanley Cup. He was one of the stars of the Quebec team which boasted such notables as Joe Hall and Mummery. He broke into print during the winter of 1913 by clashing with another veteran of today, Newy Lalonde, who then was playing with the Montreal Club. The Quebec team broke up in 1916 and Crawford was sold to the Toronto Arenas and in 1918 was on his second Stanley Cup team when the Arenas defeated Vancouver for the honor.

In 1921-22, when R. M. "Bob" Pinder recruited an "amateur" team to represent Saskatoon in the Big Four League, he signed "Rusty" as one of his forwards. When pro hockey made its debut on the prairies, he went to Calgary Tigers and again stood out as one of the best forwards in the circuit. Calgary traded him to Vancouver Maroons where he played until the Western Canada League disbanded. Vancouver sold him to Minneapolis Millers and, despite his years, was in the line-up in practically every game that his team played. Even last winter, when many people thought him through, he came through when a goal was needed when his blistering shots put his club on the right end of the score. At mid-season his weight generally was less than 150 pounds.

MALCEWICZ IS WINNER

Knocked Bonnie Muir Cold With Body Slam in Tacoma Last Night

TACOMA, April 1.—After having been staggered for two rounds and more with a rapid fire of reverse headlocks by his Australian opponent, foxy Joe Malcewicz knocked Bonnie Muir cold with a body slam in the fifth round of a wrestling bout here last night and Muir was unable to come back. The bout was scheduled to go eight rounds. It was a hectic match with Muir holding the lead until Malcewicz turned the finishing trick which was the first and only fall of the match.

Malcewicz seemed virtually groggy after a series of reverse headlocks which had been inflicted upon him when he caught Muir with the body slam, the Australian's head landing on the canvas with a terrific thud. He was knocked cold and that was the end of his wrestling for the evening.

Malcewicz had tried earlier in the bout to slam Muir but found the latter too heavy. Headlocks by both men featured the bout.

FYFE-SMITH IS HOPEFUL

B. C. Director of C. N. R. Addresses Vancouver Board Transportation Bureau

VANCOUVER, April 1.—At the regular meeting of the transportation bureau of the Vancouver Board of Trade here on Tuesday, J. Fyfe-Smith, who was recently appointed director for the Canadian National Railways in British Columbia, was introduced.

"While on my recent visit to the Old Country," stated Mr. Fyfe-Smith, "I paid more attention to railway matters than heretofore. The railways in Great Britain and Europe are going through very trying periods just the same as the railways in Canada and the United States. The development of motor truck transportation has made serious inroads into the earnings of all railways, but I feel sure that, with close supervision of operating costs, matters will adjust themselves and, with better times to come, the railways will continue to play their important and useful part in the development of the country."

BRINGING UP FATHER

By George McManus

"I Robbed Your Dresser Drawer"

"This My Signature"

A certain city had an epidemic of house robberies in daytime. The robbers would ring doorbells and if anyone answered, they would make some excuse and depart. But, if no one answered, they would break in through a window or a skylight. One such robber left his finger print on a broken piece of glass. The police had that print on file. They knew the robber, his gang and their records. The crooks were all picked up and convicted. All because one of them had left his finger print.

Germes in Every Print

This is told to remind you that we all leave finger prints on everything we touch. Most of these prints are germ-laden. We pick them up from others—by handshakes—by touching things they have touched. Then we convey them to the mouth, where they breed and so get into the system.

Lifebuoy Extension Institute lists 27 diseases which may be conveyed in this way. The most common is a cold. A hand used to check a sneeze or a cough may convey germs to others.

We cannot escape these germs. Every hand-shake, every touch conveys them. The best we can do is to kill these germs before they reach our food.

Lifebuoy Soap is made to do this. Millions of people, in all countries of the world, protect themselves in this way. No perfume, but a scent of safety which tells you it purifies and yet disappears in a few minutes. And Lifebuoy contains a germicide. Countless laboratory tests have proved that Lifebuoy kills germs or makes them inactive.

Wash your hands with Lifebuoy often. Wash them always before eating. No ordinary soap kills germs.

Stops Body Odour, Too

Lifebuoy is a beauty soap, made from two palm oils. No soap is better for your skin and complexion. Yet it offers you supreme protection against germ infection.

Also against body odour. A bath with Lifebuoy, before you go on a party or before you start the day's work, insures you against bodily odours for many hours.

You will learn to love Lifebuoy's extra-clean scent which tells you it purifies—and protects.

Keep Lifebuoy handy on your wash basin and bath so the family can use it. Get some Lifebuoy from your grocer today.
