British Columbia Will Co-operate in Ottawa's Demand For Lower Cost

Only Those in Extreme Need Are to Be Employed and Camps Are to Be Used Only For Those Really Up Against It

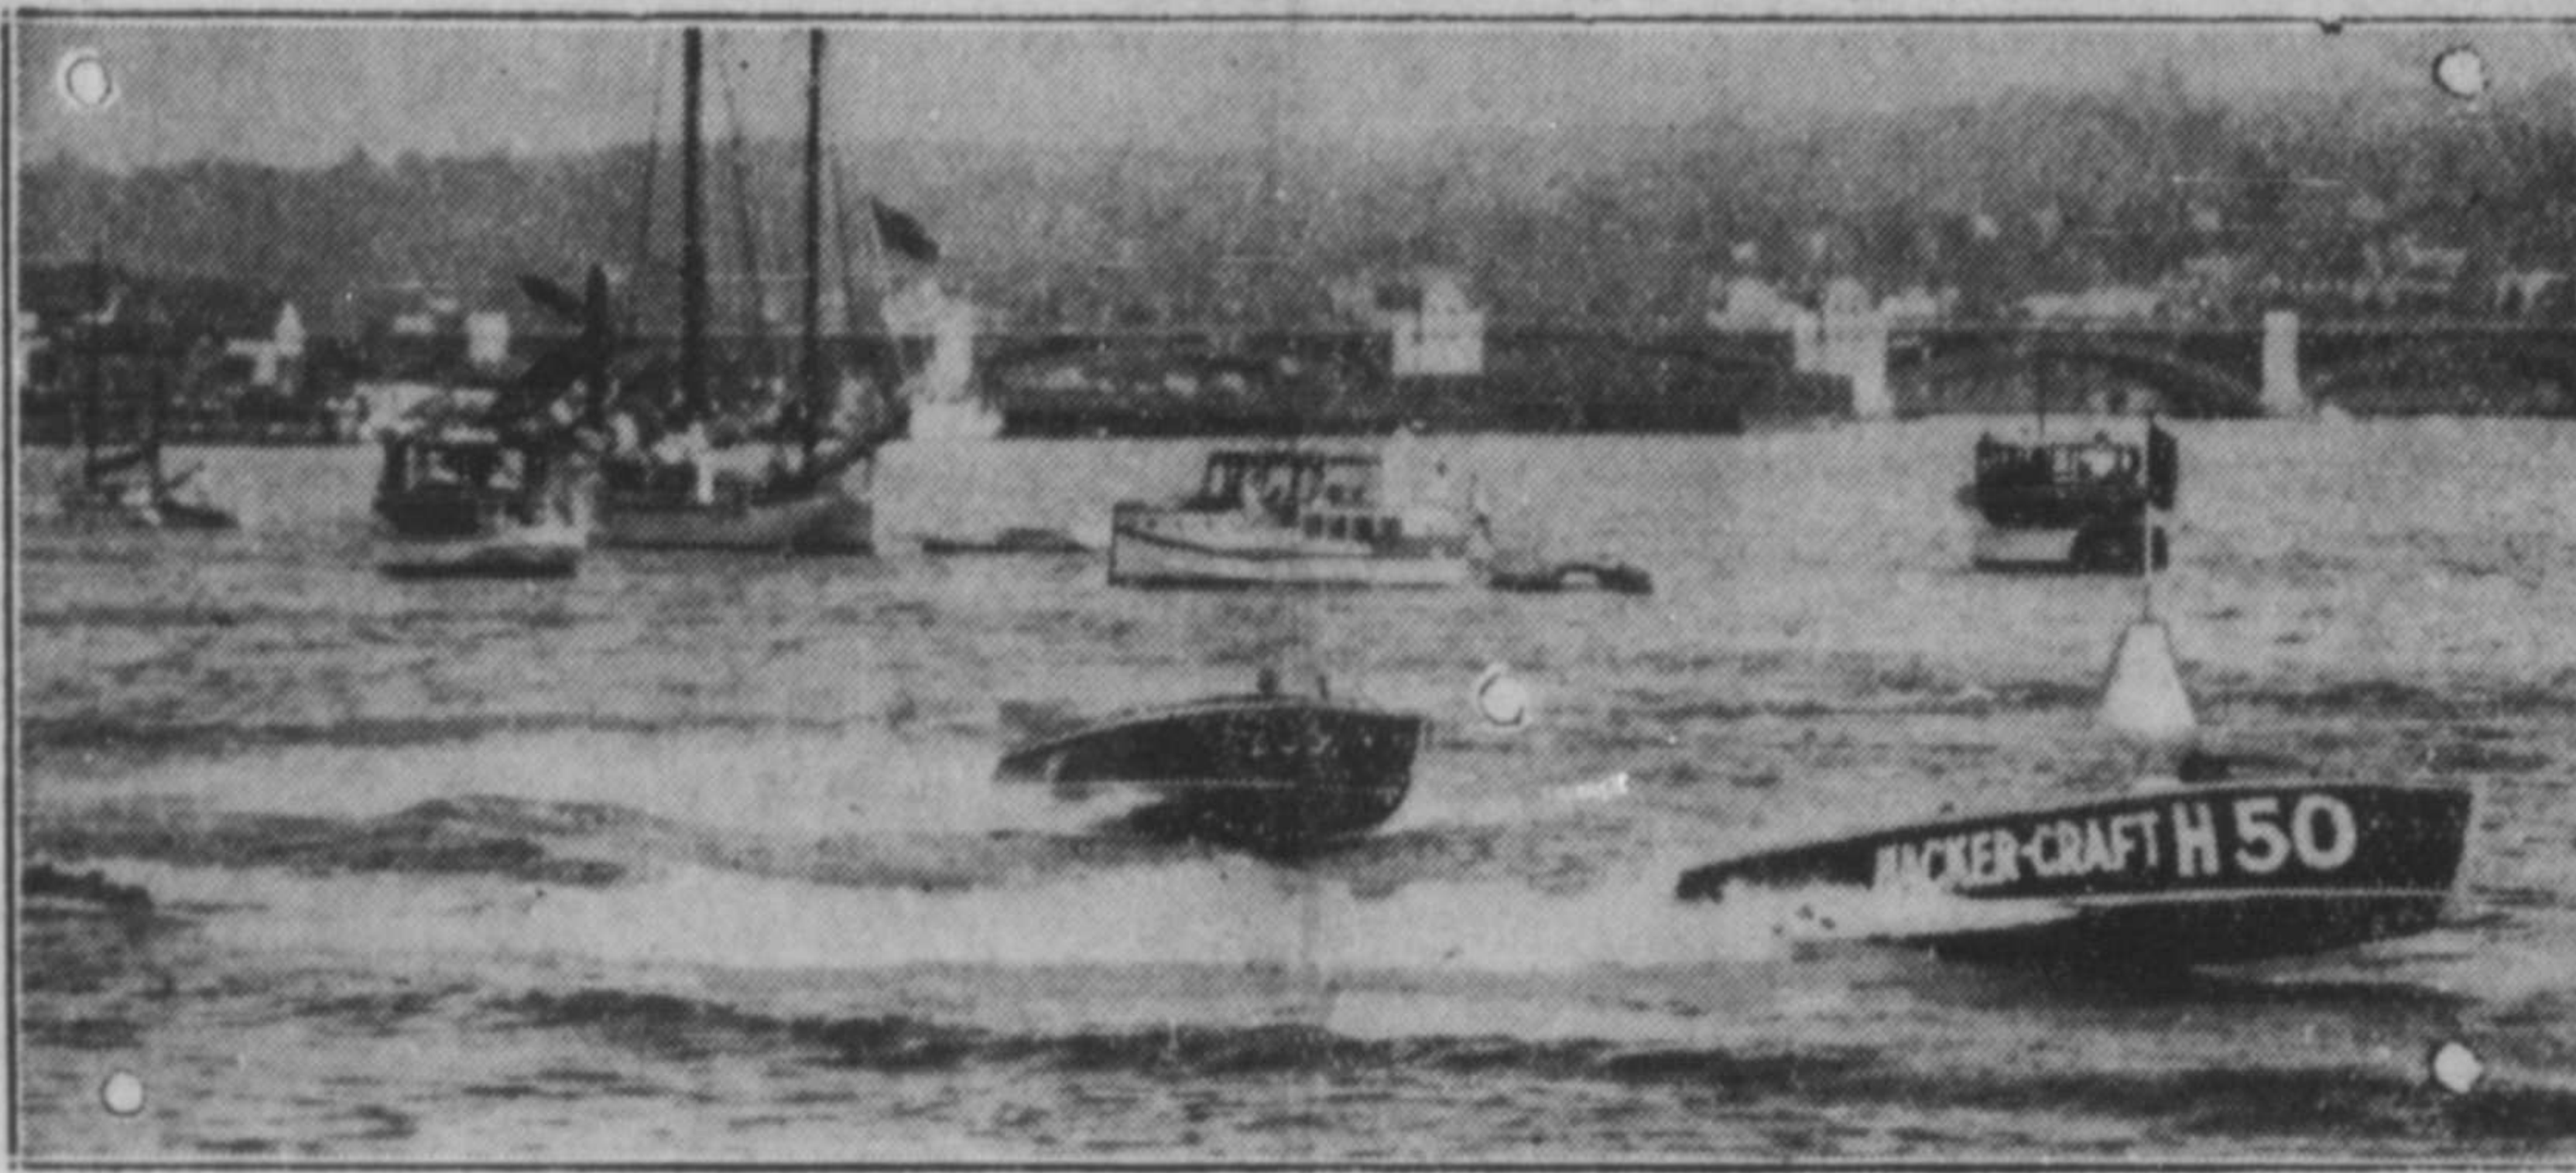

VICTORIA, Oct. 31.—Every effort is being made to reduce the British Columbia relief program to minimum needs and full co-operation will be given the federal government at Ottawa in its desire to keep the cost of unemployment relief expenditures as low as possible, Premier S. F. Tolmie stated today. Ottawa had insisted that only those in extreme need be employed and made it very clear that the camps should be used only for the needy and not primarily for giving work, the Premier said.

Body Found In Peace Country

Believed to Be Remains of Man Named Bryan Who Was Hunted By Police Last Spring

A body which was found a few days ago in the rough Halfway River country in the Peace River Block is believed to be that of a man named Bryan who was trailed into that country last spring by Provincial Constable Pomeroy of Hudson Hope after he had stolen a car.

Bryan escaped from Constable Pomeroy soon after he had been placed under arrest and made for the woods. A police posse spent several days hunting for him but gave up the search, believing that, owing to the wildness of the country, Bryan would have to come out for food. The body, which was found by George Campbell, had been badly mutilated by animals.

Mrs. Van der Sluys is a native daughter of Prince Rupert and is very well known and popular. The groom has resided in the city only a year or so. The couple, who will reside here, will have the hearty congratulations and best wishes of their friends.

CONDITONS IMPROVING

Foreman of Daily News Mechanical Department Tells Cheerful Tale On Arriving Home

"The impression I have gained throughout my holiday trip in the south and east has been that things are decidedly on the mend and that by spring we shall be finding a very decided improvement in business conditions everywhere."

That was the opinion expressed this morning by D. McCorkindale, foreman of the Daily News mechanical department, who returned from Vancouver after having visited as far east as Port Arthur and Fort William at the head of the Great Lakes, and having met representatives of many of the big business firms.

One example of the trend of things was that manufacturing firms were branching out into western Canada and the coast, some opening agencies and one even having erected a $750,000 factory in Winnipeg, as well as opening up in Regina. The directors being confident that conditions were improving and wanted to be ready to meet it.

The big firms in Vancouver report that there are no more loose stocks to be picked up and from this time on they will have to buy straight from factories, which will have to resume the manufacturing of required products. This will improve conditions. In fact stocks are running low everywhere and people who have not been buying clothes and other articles must do so soon. They can hold off only for a certain length of time.

A general opinion is expressed that the northern parts of the provinces will first feel the effects of the return of improved conditions. There is quite a noticeable movement at the present time into northern Saskatchewan, Alberta, and parts of the Peace River in British Columbia.

Mr. McCorkindale said that people everywhere seemed fully convinced

BEER PARLOR IS HELD UP

Two Armed Bandits Took $1500 in Money as Well as Checks From York Hotel in Vancouver

VANCOUVER, Oct. 31.—Two armed bandits held up an employee of the York Hotel beer parlor late Friday and robbed him of $1500 and checks and escaped.

that the improvement had commenced and, in spite of the widespread unemployment and the present necessity for relief, the present condition of affairs would very soon be looked back to as the slump of 1930-1931.

Mr. McCorkindale also expresses confidence in regard to mining development in this district. Information he received while away was to the effect that new and increased activity might be expected in the north in the near future. An improvement in the silver situation very soon is generally expected.

All professions are now open to women in Spain except the church and the army.

A SEVERE HANDICAP

The inheritance of a fortune of fifteen million dollars by the two sons of Thomas Edison is a great handicap for them. Happily they are not just starting out in life and have probably already acquired the habit of dealing in millions, a very necessary art under the circumstances.

One reason why Edison was a great man was because he started life as a poor boy. Had he started with five or seven millions he would probably never have been heard from. He would have gone down in history as simply one of the derelicts who went through life under the serious handicap of unearned wealth.

It is probable that some day the world will learn that inherited wealth is a real handicap and will take steps to prevent it. In the meantime all we can do is to hope that the Edisons will not be injured by their fortune.

FOOLED WITH GUNS

It seems desirable to return once more to the warning against the careless use of firearms. Two boys playing with guns were both shot and killed. That should surely be a warning to all to be careful.

Boys are the worst offenders with firearms but grown people, particularly those who are not in the habit of using guns, are often very careless.

RELIEVING DESTITUTION

The relief camps are to be used only for the relief of destitution and not for the purpose of finding work for the unemployed. That is the latest news in regard to what is to be done at the highway. Those not actually needing the employment are not to get it.

It is probable too that there may be some curtailment on the city relief works. Just now complaint is being made that while some destitute people with large families do not get enough to keep them alive, others who do not need the work are employed. In regard to the first complaint, provision is made for helping those with large families from direct relief. The other complaint is more difficult to meet.

A SATURDAY SERMON

"AROUND FIFTY"

By Canon W. F. Rushbrook, B.A.
St. Peter's Church—Seal Cove

Sir William Osler takes a foremost place among the world's famous men. Two interesting biographies of this great Canadian have been written—one, of two large volumes, by his friend, Dr. Cushing, which deals chiefly with his position in the world of medical science; the second, by Mrs. Ried, a lifelong personal friend of Sir William and the Oslers. "The 'Great Physician's' character," she says, "was a singularly happy combination of a Puritanical sense of duty, a warm sympathy with suffering humanity, and an invincible gaiety and joy of life." Both writers bear witness to his deep religious convictions.

Sir William is chiefly remembered by the laity for the pseudo-statement attributed to him, that a man of fifty should be put in the lethal chamber, because his life's possibilities were over. He did not say the above, but he did, in other words, make the assertion that the man or woman who lived to be fifty surrounded by religious, educational, social and industrial opportunities, and, at the age of fifty, had not sincerely attempted to make good might as well be dead, as the possibilities of making a first beginning in middle life were practically nil.

On the other hand, for the one who had struggled to attain, the fifties ushered in a period of the purest and finest kind of possibility of mental concentration, home joys, social influence and industrial prestige.

He also recognized that middle life, say from forty-five to fifty-five, marked a danger zone for the individual. It is the pubescent period of old age as the ages from ten or twelve to twenty-one are the years of pubescence, for manhood and womanhood.

Osler probably got his idea from the prayer of the Jewish prophet

Habakkuk which reads thus: Hab. 111:2: "O Lord revive thy work in the midst of the years—in the midst of the years make known." Turned into modern English it might read thus: "O Lord revive thy work when I am middle aged; when I am middle aged let me not lose the true vision of Life."

Reared in Rectory

Dr. Osler was not only reared in a Godly Anglican rectory but was himself for several years a theological student. He was very familiar with Biblical prophetic literature.

Habakkuk, when he uttered his prayer, was possibly in the middle life danger zone, and also under the depressing and morbid influence of a decadent, thoughtless and God-forgetting society. He felt the downward drag of the nations but the upward lift of a great faith in God.

Just as during adolescence tremendous physical and nervous changes take place in our youth so, roughly speaking, from the ages of forty-five to fifty-five, physical and nervous changes of a very startling character occur in adults. It is a time when there should be a revival in life, when we should bring our wills and our better instincts face to face with Self and it's environment, and ask God to "make known" to "give us a vision" of what this strange new thing in our life means.

Cast your thoughts adown life and see if it is not true that most of Life's saddest tragedies occur during this period and often because men and women fail to realize that the change is not in the attitude of husband or wife, or children, or society, but in themselves. They blame society, in its broader or narrower sense, for what is their own morbid changing self.

It is a period when we should pray that God would revive the love, the trust, and the visions of youth and ripen them into understanding companionships of maturing age.

We have in middle life reached life's apex. If we are not men of faith and vision we may become cynics and the horizon of the backward glance be bounded by sordid things. We count the tragedies—there! there! there! there! miserable domestic, political and industrial happenings. A glance down the other slope towards Life's end is no brighter—the outlook is sadder, if anything.

There cannot possibly be a worse mental attitude than the cynical, because we bring to bear upon our life, not the vision of good and bright possibilities, but a dead faith. A faith that no longer trusts man, and consequently, cannot clasp the hand of God. Such a person is an isolated unit, shut in by evil at the very time when, if his declining years are to be filled with contentment and peace his outlook should be brightest and his faith in God and in those about him, surest. O Lord, in middle age keep Life's vision bright.

A better COAL
BUT YOU PAY less!

VERY seldom is it possible to offer a better coal costing less than an inferior coal. But it's true in this case. Vancouver Island Coal... "Nanaimo-Wellington", "Lady-smith" or "Comox"... at today's prices, give you 30% more heat per dollar than your money will buy in any lignite coal available in Prince Rupert.

Just to prove this: There are, on the average, 13,030 B.T.U.'s* per lb. in these famous coals, as against 9,840 in the average lignite coal (imported). For the Island Coal you pay $13.50. For lignite you pay more.

MUSSALLEM'S NEW STORE

Opened Cash and Carry Number 3
This Morning in Meeker Block

Today the Mussalem Grocery company opened its third cash and carry store under the management of N. Mussalem, the founder of the business. The new store which is commodious, bright and cheery, is located in the Meeker Block, away from other cash and carry stores and particularly convenient for those living in Westview or any part of the west end of the city.

Mr. Mussalem stated when seen this morning that he was putting in the new store as an extra service to the customers who had been dealing with him and who found it difficult to be accommodated in the other Third Avenue store. Also he expected to extend his business in the new direction. Customers would there find the same unfailing courtesy and effort to serve as in the other two stores and would get the same wonderful values.

Mr. Mussalem has been in business in Prince Rupert for the past twenty-one years and during that time has worked up a clientele of which he may well be proud. He says his one aim is to serve the public and give them just as good prices as they would get in the south. He buys a lot of his produce from northern and central British Columbia and does considerable out of town trade. This is made possible by extensive advertising which is kept up all the time.

All that Mr. Mussalem says he would ask just now is for the people of the city to call and see him in his new store and be convinced of what he is doing for them.

Interesting News! To the Buying Public of the City of Prince Rupert:

The new Cut Rate Shoe Store located in the Meeker Block, just opposite the New Empress Hotel, is now under the management of Frank Blackford, who wishes to announce new low prices on all footwear for men, women and children.

Whether it be street or dress shoes for the ladies, school or Sunday school shoes for the boys and girls, dress or work shoes for the men, Frank says: "We have them all at rock bottom prices."

Our values are high; our prices are low. A visit to this store will convince.

We guarantee all our footwear to be at least 25 per cent lower than elsewhere—so why pay more? Our entire stock of rubber footwear is made by the leading rubber manufacturers in Canada, including Goodrich Hi-Press, the highest grade rubber footwear makers known today. Our prices on these high grade rubbers are actually lower than the wholesale cost as we take our cash discount and are satisfied with a small profit and quick turnover, so you are at all times assured of a fresh, clean stock.

We will consider it a favor to have you come in and look around and compare our prices. Don't forget the address.

Halibut Landings Are Away Down This Year—International Fisheries Commission to Confer With Fishermen—Investigating Keeping of Fresh Fish

With landings accounted for up to yesterday, the day before the closing of the fishing season, it is evident that halibut landings at the port of Prince Rupert for the 1931 season will fall more than seven million pounds below the aggregate for the 1930 season. Up to yesterday, landings at Prince Rupert amounted to a total of 15,316,940 pounds as compared with 22,991,100 pounds up to the corresponding date last year. Canadian landings have reached a total of 5,558,300 pounds as against 6,227,000 pounds last year while the big decrease comes in American fish which totals 9,758,640 pounds this year up to yesterday as compared with 16,784,100 pounds at the corresponding date in 1930. Ten more Canadian boats were still to arrive with their catches yesterday while the number of American boats still out was uncertain.

Landings for the week of October 24-31 were light at a total of 209,700 pounds of which 84,200 pounds was from Canadian boats and 125,500 pounds from American. The high price of the week for Canadian fish was 11.4c and 4c which the Covenant was paid for 25,000 pounds and the low 10c and 4c which was paid the Helen 11, Joe Baker and Livingstone for catches of 3,000, 3,500 and 13,000 pounds respectively. For American fish the high price was 13c and 5c paid the Excel for 16,000 pounds and the low 8c and 4c received by the Eureka for 500 pounds.

Again On Executive

At the recent convention in Montreal, T. H. Johnson, manager of the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co., and John Dybhavn, president of the Royal Fish Co., were re-elected members of the executive of the Canadian Fisheries Association. Other British Columbia executive members are C. F. Todd of Victoria and J. S. Eckman and A. L. Hager of Vancouver. Dr. W. A. Clemens, director of the Nanaimo Biological Station, is a member of the scientific division committee of the association. The convention approved the action of the Dominion and United States governments in putting into effect the longer closed season on halibut fishing. The convention also passed a resolution favoring fish traps.

H. C. Numan, Ketchikan manager for the New England Fish Co., and in the early days stationed at Prince Rupert in the service of his company, is now on his apple orchard near Wenatchee, Wash., where he is making satisfactory recovery from the effects of a serious operation performed at Portland late in the summer. Mr. Numan does not expect to return to Ketchikan until late in the year.

Prince Rupert halibut fishermen are not alone in their plight of having failed to make money this year. The condition seems to be a general one. Take for instance the Lunenburg, N.S. fleet. Most of the boats have now returned to their home port from the Grand Banks and Sable Island grounds after their summer trips. Fares for the most part were much smaller than usual and, this combined with exceedingly low prices which have witnessed a drop to a cent a pound, has caused many of the boats to fail to meet expenses which are about as high as ever be the fishing good or poor.

Perry L. Smithers, for the past 15 years vice-president and general manager, has been elected president of the Booth Fisheries Co. which has one branch in Prince Rupert. Mr. Smithers has been associated with the Booth company for upwards of 21 years. He succeeds K. L. Ames, who has been named chairman of the board of directors of the company.

As a result of this year's cruise of the schooner Dorothy in the Gulf of Georgia, many important facts regarding the movements of young halibut were learned. The Dorothy this year was under charter to the Commission from May 18 to August 4 and ran in excess of ten thousand miles. It is understood that Dr. Will F. Thompson, director of the International Fisheries Commission, intends to have further conferences with the fishermen in regard to suggested measures for continuing conservation of halibut in the North Pacific Ocean. Capt. Dan Larson, Capt. David Ritchie and J. M. Morrison will represent the fishermen of Prince Rupert in these conferences which will take place after the fishing season is over, starting at Seattle. All other halibut ports on the coast have named their representatives.

Included in a number of interesting reports by members of the Prince Rupert Fisheries Experimental Station staff on principles underlying the preservation of fish in a fresh condition is one by Dr. R. H. Bedford which states that bacteria in actual numbers are not very plentiful in the deep parts of the ocean but the number gradually increases as land is approached, nearly thirteen times as many being found at the mouth of the Skeena River as from sea water beyond the influence of any river. Temperature is cited as perhaps the most important factor in preservation of fresh fish, the most rapid bacterial growth being at temperature of between 68 and 77 degrees. Even though fish are preserved by ice there is still a slow but sure growth of bacteria continually attacking the fish and, if the temperature is allowed to rise, the bacteria rapidly increase. Experiments are now being made to determine whether bacteria die at a temperature of below 23 degrees. The result of this experiment will have direct bearing on the question of best temperature for refrigeration and the time that fresh fish may be satisfactorily held.

parently in a still more favorable position. Packers in British Columbia are showing no signs of concern over the outlook. Their attitude is, no doubt, influenced to a considerable extent by the fact that there was such limited production in British Columbia this year.

For the second consecutive month, Seattle halibut landings in September topped those of Prince Rupert, the southern port receiving 2,346,500 pounds as compared with 1,742,000 pounds in Prince Rupert. Higher prices prevailing in Seattle made it desirable for many of the larger American boats to make the longer run south. Many boats of the southeastern Alaska fleet having been withdrawn from operation also had an adverse effect upon Prince Rupert landings. The Pacific Fishermen suggests that there is reason to believe that some of the American boats, taking note of the Canadian movement for the closing of the port to American craft, have sought to give a mild demonstration of the effect of such action by voluntarily going elsewhere.

Doc Clapperton, popular assistant wharfinger at the government wharf, returned to his duties this week at the expiring of his annual fortnight's vacation. He is feeling much refreshed as a result of the holiday.
