WHEEL IS RENAHAN'S

Identification of Equipment Found Near Ketchikan Is Made By Officials

SEATTLE, Jan. 7.—Officials of the Alaska-Washington Airways today identified the wheel found on the beach at Annette Island, near Ketchikan, as part of the equipment of the missing plane piloted by Robin Renahan. They expressed the opinion, however, that Renahan had thrown the wheel overboard in the probable effort to lighten his ship in order to fly inland. With ice forming on the wings of his plane on the evening of October 28, officials said, probably every effort would be made to lighten the ship.

Pilot Ansel Eckmann, at present at Prince Rupert, will be instructed to continue the search inland.

Second Wheel Found KETCHIKAN, Jan. 7.—The second wheel belonging to the plane piloted by Robin Renahan was found today near Point Davidson, fifteen miles south of here, by an airplane dispatched by the Ketchikan Chronicle. The first wheel was found a week ago by a party of hunters.

Pilot Eckmann left this afternoon for Ketchikan, having decided to go there to positively identify whether or not the wheel was from Renahan's plane. He will be back here tonight and expects to resume his search tomorrow, carrying out the plan of first taking another look around local waters before proceeding to Stewart to start the expedition into the interior.

MERRYFIELD IN CONTROL

Is Again Boss of Party Machine in Vancouver—Had Uphill Fight During Past Year

J. E. Merryfield, well known old timer of Prince Rupert, has again obtained control of the Conservative party organization in Vancouver through having been elected secretary of the main association there. Mr. Merryfield took a hand, it will be remembered, in the recent federal campaign here in support of the unsuccessful candidate, J. C. Brady.

A year ago, Mr. Merryfield was virtually cast out of the party after a hot fight which ended, in his defeat as an officer of the Vancouver association. Since then, however, he was successful in a long and uphill campaign to get back on top again.

CARD OF THANKS

New Ratepayers' Association Being Formed In City; Large Initial Gathering Last Night

At a largely attended meeting of tax paying citizens last evening in the City Hall, it was decided to proceed with the organization of a body to be known as the Prince Rupert Ratepayers' Association. After considerable preliminary discussion, a temporary chairman, secretary and executive of five was elected after which the meeting was adjourned until a later date, possibly in about a week's time, when the executive will present full details of proposed constitution, etc. There were fully sixty property owners present at last night's meeting and great interest was taken in the proceedings.

At the opening of the meeting, F. W. Hart, who had taken a leading part in bringing the gathering together, was voted to the chair. After some desultory discussion regarding aims and objects of the proposed organization etc., it was decided to organize and the election of temporary officers was proceeded with. George B. Casey proposed that a committee be named to proceed with organization and report at a later meeting. Some objection was taken, however, to this course and it was agreed, instead, to have a temporary executive.

M. M. Stephens was elected temporary chairman in a contest with F. W. Wesch, Wilfrid Gratton and T. Ross Mackay.

George B. Casey received a unanimous nomination for temporary secretary.

F. W. Wesch, R. F. Perry, Fred Wesch, Alex. Mackenzie and Wilfrid Gratton were named members of the temporary executive, other nominees having been F. J. Fuller, Fred Wermig and Fred Rogers.

In accepting the chair on election, M. M. Stephens thanked the meeting for the honor. He asked, however, that, when it came to choosing a permanent list of officers, he be excused referring to the objects of the organization, Mr. Stephens expressed the opinion that the most of those present were on hand because of personal interest. The ratepayers were beginning to feel the load of taxation. It would be to the best interests of all concerned, urged Mr. Stephens, if there was a good strong ratepayers' association.

The organization would be able to assist the city council with good advice and it would be headed by those in office. By getting together, problems could be discussed and there would be better understanding by all. In the past, Mr. Stephens felt, too little attention had been paid to civic affairs. Had there been an association to study municipal finances, proposed bylaws, etc.,

WINNIPEG, Jan. 7.—Premier Bracken of Manitoba stated today that, during the conference of western premiers yesterday, Premier Bennett had given assurance that the provinces would be called upon to pay only five per cent of the old age pensions charge instead of fifty per cent now contributed. Serious Discrepancies Are Revealed by Means Sweeping Check-up

Nature of Irregularities Was Such That Officers Were Ordered to Relinquish Their Duties Pending Complete Inquiry

OTTAWA, Jan. 7.—Officials of the National Revenue Department today confirmed Montreal reports to the effect that four officers of the customs service had been suspended. Serious irregularities had been discovered as a result of a sweeping investigation and, while full reports had not yet been received, the nature of the irregularities was such that four officials concerned had been suspended pending a complete inquiry.

It was stated by departmental officials that serious discrepancies had been revealed in connection with the entry and delivery of imported goods.

LIBRARY INCREASE

Circulation Showed Gain of 11,858 In 1930 Over 1929

Librarian's Report

Final Meeting of Retiring Board Held Last Night

During the year just past the Prince Rupert Public Library increased its circulation of books by 11,858 over the previous year and the building is now packed to capacity with well filled shelves and one of the problems of the near future will be to provide larger accommodation and more assistance for the librarian. This was the main theme of the reports and discussions at the meeting of the library board last night, G. V. Wilkinson presiding.

The financial report showed that the expenditures had been kept down to $183.03 below the appropriation.

The report of the librarian is given here in part:

"The necessity for a larger building has been so much discussed that it is superfluous to emphasize it; the added shelving will afford relief for a short time and it is gratifying to be able to retain the table and the magazines for another year. In the present economic depression, the library is obviously a boon to men not always employed, and many of them are taking advantage of it.

"The striking increase of nearly twelve thousand volumes more than last year shows that the library has entered upon a larger phase; henceforth we shall, during the winter months, be dealing with a higher circulation, probably of from five to six thousand books every month; the last three years show a steady upward trend:

"1928	45,555
"1929	46,980
"1930	58,838

"There are obvious difficulties in charging such a large number of books at a table such as we now have; the lack of a proper charging desk slows up the work and causes great inconvenience to both the public and the staff; one of the advantages of a better building will be the use of a circulation desk; a wagon for carrying books to the shelves is also badly needed, but could not be employed in our present quarters. One of the recent inquiries—

PROBLEM OF INDIA TODAY

Sir Henry Lawrence Tells of Problems Confronting British Statesmen

BRISTOL, Eng., Jan. 7.—Speaking on the subject of India before the Royal Empire Society, Sir Henry Lawrence recalled the essential object for which the Round Table Conference on India was summoned. The Indian States were more than one third of the area of India, and had a population of seventy millions. Sir John Simon, therefore, suggested that the problem should be discussed in a conference where the representatives of the Indian States could meet the representatives of British India and of the British Government. Mr. Ghandhi opposed the conference and declined to come to it by putting forward claims which he knew could not be accepted. It was of no value to deprecate this man. He was a political factor of great power and it was important to understand the source of his influence.

His father and other relatives were prime ministers of various small Indian States and he was destined to follow this profession, but he broke away from the family traditions and went to London to read for the Bar. He violated his caste principles and had, in fact, spent his life in rebellion.

"Exploitation of the Masses"
He avowed from the dock in 1922 that the Rowlatt Bill was passed to deprive the people of all time liberty and that he had come to the conclusion "that the government of India exists solely for the exploitation of the masses."

Ghandhi had a real desire to find grievances and cure them. He was a man of infinite courage and patient perseverance but also an admirable actor and a most skilful propagandist. In America the Ghandhi cult was an amazing thing. The American people were asked to believe that British dominion in India was based solely on treachery, fraud, forgery and unprovoked aggression. Why Ghandhi shunned the Round Table Conference was because he knew he could not carry his policy there. A discussion in which the Mohammedans and other Indian communities expressed their views would expose to the world how little substance there was in his scheme of a united India under the domination of an oligarchy of Hindu politicians. The Indian politicians claimed Dominion status and the right of secession from the Empire.

The Right of Secession
Mr. Ghandhi, Mr. Shastri and many other political leaders had lived to old age under the protection of British Courts of Law and it appeared impossible for them to appreciate that the border tribesmen did not recognize legal documents. Was it possible for the British Empire to surrender into other hands the protection of the people of India from these dangerous neighbors?

If India received Dominion status with the right of secession from the British Empire this would necessarily confer on each province the right of secession from India.

A Federation
The Simon report showed in every paragraph the justice of the claim that it had been written in a spirit of genuine sympathy with the people of India. But if India was to have equal status with the other members of the British Commonwealth, it must enter as a Federation, speaking with one voice as Canada, Australia and South Africa had done.

Sir Henry Lawrence referred to British trade and industry, and, concluding, said that because of liberty with a realization of practical difficulties, it was in the best tradition of English statesmanship.

Not to be outdone by proposed Rockefeller radio centre, in New York City, Berlin has just finished giant building, shown above, in which will be housed broadcasting stations, radio laboratories research work and museum.

NORTHERN B. C. NEWS

VANDERHOOF

The fine new provincial police headquarters and residence here is nearing completion, the contractor being John McInnis of Prince George. It is a splendid addition to the buildings of the town.

New Year's Eve was celebrated with a brilliant fancy dress ball over 130 persons being in attendance at the affair which was held under the auspices of the Canadian Legion. Mrs. E. F. Wynne Heath won the prize for the best dressed lady. Rev. S. B. Prockter for the best dressed man, Misses Marjorie Jones and Betty Lamb for the most original costumes, Mrs. R. H. Moore and Miss Charlotte Rogers for the most comical characters.

A. Bryan Williams, game commissioner for the province, has advised the local Conservative Association that the department will always be pleased to grant permits to settlers for the killing of game whenever it is needed for food purposes.

Vanderhoof has received the sum of $618 from the provincial government for its share of liquor profits and the sum of $137 for pari-mutuel.

Already in 1931 there have been as many marriage ceremonies in Vanderhoof as there were in all of 1930.

Mrs. N. Burdette has been quite ill during the past week and her condition is causing relatives and friends some anxiety.

The marriage took place here last Friday. Rev. S. B. Prockter officiating, of Miss Demetra Marchova and Jorge Tread. The bride arrived only recently from her native home in Bulgaria.

The skating rink here was opened for the season on Sunday of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Birch have moved into their new home on Burrard Avenue which was completed recently by Mervill Averill.

Mrs. A. A. Hutchinson returned to Vanderhoof on Saturday night last after a lengthy visit with her parents near Winnipeg.

ALICE ARM

New Year's Eve was happily celebrated in Alice Arm with a dance in the Alice Arm hotel, a large crowd being in attendance. The passing of the old year was exemplified by Jerry O'Connor as 1930 while little Ronald Evindsen represented 1931. Hosts for the dance were Mr. and Mrs. Ole Evindsen. Fine music was furnished by the Alice Arm orchestra and delicious refreshments were served.

Harry Smith has been appointed local agent for the estate of the late John E. Stark, who died a few months ago.

Weather is still exceptional for this time of year here. Not a particle of snow lies on the ground and the soil is free of frost.

TERRACE

Miss Annie Lips, who spent the Christmas holidays at the home of her parents, returned to Prince Rupert on Sunday to resume her studies in the High School and St. Joseph's Academy.

The Canadian Legion held a very successful New Year's Eve dance here. A large crowd attended, all enjoying the local orchestra's good music. Novelties, paper hats and soft drinks were sold at decorated stands. A. Beecher presided as floor master.

Foster McLeod spent the last week-end with his parents Mr. and Mrs. A. McLeod.

Stuart McLeod left on Saturday for Smithers to spend a few days with his brother, Foster, who is employed in the C.N.R. shops.

Miss Elsie Reid returned on Friday via Prince Rupert to Vancouver after spending the holidays at the home of Mrs. Grely.

Capt. A. B. V. King, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. King, who has been visiting with his parents for the past two months, has returned to Prince Rupert.

Miss Blanche Ball, who has been the guest of her aunt, Mrs. C. A. Pinter, for the past three months making many warm friends, returned on Saturday to her home in Edmonton.

Miss Mary Smith returned to U.S. on Monday after enjoying the Christmas holidays at the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Smith.

STEWART

New Year's Eve was, as usual, celebrated this time with a memorable dinner, entertainment and dance at Premier, many visitors from Stewart being present for the occasion. The community hall was made to resemble an igloo and flood lamps gave the effect of northern lights. For dinner, there were 56 tables. After dinner, there was a program of entertainment to which Miss Evelyn Blanton of Hyder, S. A. McPherson of Stewart, Paul Wals, Mrs. Smurthwaite and Miss Bancroft contributed. At midnight, Jake Klicker appeared, garbed as 1930 and gave away to 1931 represented by young Leonard Manning. The orchestra, whose members were costumed in white parkas, gave an excellent account of itself. The proceedings broke up at 2:30 a.m.

The dog licence bylaw here will go into effect shortly. W. H. Wakefield has received the appointment of official dog catcher.

After an extended illness, Andie Archie, one of the best known players of this district, passed away at his home here. Deceased came here in 1905 and engaged in prospecting for some time with Jim Nesbitt. They located the Prince John group which became well known. The late Mr. Archie was born 71 years ago in Nova Scotia. Rev. Evan Baker officiated at the funeral which took place on New Year's Eve.

The village of Stewart has received $313 in distribution of liquor profits by the provincial government and $210 in pari-mutuel, making a total of $523 for the municipality.

ventions in library work is a machine for charging books, replacing the hand method now employed; if this innovation is satisfactory it will be a boon to small libraries, increasing accuracy as well as saving time.

"It is pleasing to note the increase in non-fiction circulation of 1329 volumes over last year. Libraries everywhere are putting emphasis upon the inducing of better reading instead of merely more reading; the trend is away from circulation only, and especially away from the circulation of fiction alone and towards the educational aspects of the work. The use of the technical books for instruction; the reading of all works which educate, which enlarge the vision and cultivate the mind, this is what we wish to encourage. To provide reading matter not only for recreation but also as an aid to life, this is the function of the library. Special attention should be given in the selection of books toward providing those which can be read with interest and profit by those who desire something more satisfying than fiction but who have not the taste for fine literature or abstruse discussions.

"The increased circulation puts emphasis upon the question of an assistant; Miss Miller has done very well and is now familiar with the circulation. Very little time is available for instruction but I am hoping to be able to take up the classification with her very soon and to start her upon simple cataloguing as soon as she is ready for it. The ten hours a week she now gives us may be sufficient for the winter but next fall, it will evidently be necessary to increase this time; in order to put the work upon a sound basis, I believe that double her present time, about twenty hours a week, will be required. The burden of putting away books is a heavy one and later it may be found advisable to employ a page; this method is considered the best and cheapest by most libraries.

"In connection with the books added to the library, I wish to note that no record has heretofore been kept of those which are new volumes and those which are only replacements; I suggest that from now on, the record show this difference so that it may be known how many new additions are made to the collection.

"The mending shows a slight increase over last year's record of 102 volumes; this year 121 volumes were repaired and returned to circulation. Considerable more time would be required for this work in order to make much impression. Miss Miller's working time does not allow her to take it up, and as it is advisable for her to learn, this is an added reason for her to give us more time in the future. In general it may be said that our large circulation makes all the rest of the work subsidiary to it, that under present conditions in the winter months, only incessant effort keeps things moving with a fair amount of efficiency and that increased help will soon be required to maintain the work on a basis satisfactory to the public and to the board.

"The highest point in circulation was reached in November, 1930, when 6055 volumes were charged, with an average of 238.2 May.

1930, showed the largest number of books added in a single month, being a net total of 120 volumes. The highest number of new borrowers came in October and November, each month the borrowers' record was 70.

Secretary's Report

The year 1930 was a record year in the history of the library, our shelves contain 614 more books than at the close of 1929, making a grand total of 7654 books.

Our borrowers show an increase over 1929 by 316 making our total borrowers for 1930, 3209.

Our circulation also shows an increase of 11,858 over 1929 creating a record during 1930 of 58,838 books circulated.

Owing to the ever-increasing popularity of the library we have been compelled to add new shelves, and the space in the building is now taxed to the utmost.

The board engaged Miss Edith Miller to assist our librarian in the work and she has given entire satisfaction.

The board feels they should again express their appreciation and confidence in Miss Cruikshanks, the librarian, who has carried on the work so capably and kept the library working so efficiently.

During the year 11 regular meetings were held the attendance being as follows:

- G. V. Wilkinson (chairman) 9
- V. Basso-Bert 5
- F. Dobb 10
- J. J. Gillis 10
- Mrs. Kirkpatrick 7
- P. H. Linzey 11
- H. F. Pullen 11
- Miss Cruikshanks 11

DEPARTMENT OF TRADE AND COMMERCE
OTTAWA, CANADA

December 27th, 1930.

To My Fellow Citizens,
Everywhere in Canada.

Ring Out the Old, Ring in the New!

Another few days and 1930, with whatever it has brought us of success or of failure, will have passed into history, and our thoughts will be centred on a new year, and on the better times we sincerely hope it has in store for us.

While the opportunities of the past are gone beyond recall, the future is ours to make of it what we will. And we can make it a far brighter, a far more prosperous future, for ourselves individually and for Canada as a whole, if we all resolve to profit by the lessons our experience has taught us.

Among those lessons, surely we have learned how dependent each of us is for his own opportunities and his own advancement upon the well-being of Canadian producers as a class, and how much better it would be for every one of us if in our daily buying we were all to favour Canadian products.

If you believe that "Produced-in-Canada" doctrine is sound common sense, that it points the logical way not only to relieve unemployment but to lay broader and deeper the foundations of our national prosperity, why not make the practice of it one of your foremost resolutions for 1931?

Celebrate the new year by ringing out old habits of carelessness in buying, and ringing in the new resolve henceforth to be studiously careful. For 1931 let this be your creed:

"I believe in Canada.

"I love her as my home. I honour her institutions. I rejoice in the abundance of her resources.

"I glory in the record of her achievements. I have unbounded confidence in the ability of her people to excel in whatsoever they undertake. I cherish exalted ideals of her destiny as a leader among world nations.

"To her I pledge my loyalty. To the promotion of her best interests I pledge my support. To her products I pledge my patronage. And to the cause of her producers I pledge my devotion."

If you are willing to embrace this creed, a copy of same artistically executed in colours, and on heavy stock suitable for use as a wall hanger or for framing, is yours for the asking. Just clip and fill in the coupon herewith. Address your envelope as shown on the coupon. Mail it without affixing stamp, for this particular letter will be carried free.

Very sincerely yours,

FEEL MEAN?

Don't be helpless when you suddenly get a headache. Reach in your pocket for immediate relief. If you haven't any Aspirin with you, get some at the first drugstore you come to. Take a tablet or two and be rid of the pain. Take promptly. Nothing is gained by waiting to see if the pain will leave of its own accord. It may grow worse! Why postpone relief? There are many times when Aspirin tablets will "save the day." They will always ease a throbbing head. Quiet a grumbling tooth. Relieve nagging pains of neuralgia or neuritis. Or check a sudden cold. Even rheumatism has lost its terrors for those who have learned to depend on these tablets. Gargle with Aspirin tablets at the first suspicion of sore throat, and reduce the infection. Look for Aspirin on the box—and the word Genuine in red. Genuine Aspirin tablets do not depress the heart.

Heart and Nerves So Bad Was Unable To Sleep For Hours

Miss Theresa M. Bavary, Gallingertown, Ont., writes: "I was troubled, for almost a year, with my heart and nerves, especially on retiring at night when I would be unable to sleep for hours. I was easily fatigued, and became very excitable and irritable. A friend recommended Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and after taking them for a few weeks I could enjoy a good night's rest, and rapidly regained my former state of health."

MAN CAN'T SLEEP GETS NERVOUS, HATES PEOPLE

"I could not sleep and got so nervous I hated everybody. Since taking Vinol, I can sleep 10 hours and feel full of pep all day."—Julius Bender.

For 30 years doctors have prescribed Vinol because it contains important mineral elements of iron, calcium and cod liver peptone. The very FIRST bottle brings sound sleep and a BIG appetite. Nervous, wornout people are surprised how QUICK Vinol gives new life and pep! Tastes delicious.—Ormes Ltd., Drugs.

North of Line Hockey Leaders Defeated Last Night By Rivals Across the Line

MONTREAL, Jan. 7.—Leaders in the Canadian section of the National Hockey League toppled before their American section rivals last night. The Montreal Maroons travelled to New York and dropped a one-sided decision to the Rangers while the second place Canadiens were badly outplayed by Detroit Falcons here.

Toronto Maple Leafs, in third place, were able to hold the lowly Ottawa Senators to a draw at Ottawa and gained one point on the leaders.

Boston Bruins added to their lead in the American section by defeating the fast-slipping Chicago Black Hawks who dropped to third place behind the New York Rangers.

Last evening's scores:
Toronto 2, Ottawa 2.
New York Rangers 5, Maroons 1.
Boston 5, Chicago 2.
Canadiens 2, Detroit 6.

SPORT CHAT

R. J. Verne, of Vancouver, president of the Western branch of the Canadian Amateur Ski Association of Canada, has given his approval to the holding of the western championship meeting and the Olympic game trials at Prince George, if the newly formed association there will arrange to take the meeting over. This meeting was to have been held at Grouse Mountain, but the collapse of the traffic bridge over the Narrows at Vancouver rendered it inadvisable to hold the meeting there this season.

The decision was communicated to Pete Sandnes of the Prince George organization and came in the nature of a surprise, as, while it was hoped the western skiing championship meeting might be brought there, there was no thought the Olympic games, trials would also be sent there. It will be from among the contestants in these trials that the representatives will be chosen for the Olympic games at Lake Placid in New York State.

If the officers of the Prince George association decide to go ahead with the meeting in their city the date will have to be fixed in between the Dominion championship meeting at Revelstoke on February 3 and 4 and the annual tournament of the Burns Lake club, which is to take place on February 14. Mr. Sandnes says it is a remarkable tribute to Prince George that the Olympic trials should be sent here, while the Dominion championship meet comes so close at Revelstoke, but he thinks this decision was reached in view of the superiority of the facilities on Connaught Hill for jumping, which by the way very closely resembles those of Lake Placid, and the superiority of Prince George district over Revelstoke for conducting cross-country races.

Mr. Sandnes says a meeting of this kind should bring together at least 25 contestants in the skiing contests from outside points in addition to a considerable number of spectators. The Canadian National Railway makes a practice of issuing special fares to the travelling public for the annual tournaments of the skiing associations, and in connection with the suggested meeting in Prince George there is a probability special concessions will be extended to all contestants entered in the jumping and other Olympic trials. The suggested date for the Prince George meeting which will include two days of sport, is around February 8.

High Grade of Ties Required By C. N. Railway

Word has been received by boards of trade in the central interior from the general tie and timber agent for the Canadian National Railway to the effect that the railway desires as many No. 1 ties as possible this winter. It is desired to educate the tie cutters into selective cutting of trees so as many No. 1 ties as possible may be yielded.

BURYING OF CAPT. BURKE

Vancouver Province Writes Touching Valedictory For Intrepid Northern Airman

They have done the last honors for Captain Paddy Burke, says the Vancouver Province editorially. They made him a grave in the little burial ground of Atlin, among the pine trees, where it looks across the frozen lake. They buried him there, with the Union Jack for shroud, and six returned men to carry him for the last time, because he had been a soldier of the Great War. The people of that little lonely outpost were all there, to stand beside the dead man's widow and his children, so that they might not be altogether lonely in his death. The comrades of his last adventure by air and land were there, Emil Kading and Bob Marten, who were with him when he died on the trail. Gold Commissioner Wright read the service at the grave. This was at Atlin, in sixty north, where the nights are long in the winter solstice, where men are few and friendship is dear, and death has sometimes a very bitter sting.

There was pride as well as sorrow in the story that was told in the burial ground of Atlin, and the people who stood at the grave of Captain Burke had all their share in both. All the wilderness of the north country was one community in the adventure of the search after those three men, forced down in their airplane in the Liard country and compelled to attempt the long trek to Atlin. The attempt to save them all three alive had been such a gallant and staunch thing. The ultimate rescue of two of them, waiting for death by the side of their dead friend, was splendid with the pluck and skill and endurance of the young airman Everett Wasson and the guide Joe Walsh. The story of the vigil kept by Kading and Marten, waiting for the same death which had come to Burke, was a story of the heroic, with no smallness in the make of it. We are right to think that the people were greatly moved who stood in the little burial ground of Atlin and heard the voice of the commissioner go up on the still air among the pines.

It had ended at this graveside, in an outpost of the northern wilderness, and the neighbors and comrades of Captain Burke were saying their last good-bye to a good man; and the wife and the children who had waited and watched through all those long weeks had their pride and their affection to comfort their grief. And yet, surely, that is not the last word, and that could not have been the only comfort. For the story of the Burke adventure is strong and splendid in human friendship, which endured to the uttermost. And there is no comfort in life that is better than that, and none on the way to death.

LIEUT. COL. BELL DIES

Noted Canadian Medical Man Passes Away In New York at Age of Fifty-Two

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—Lieut. Col. F. McKelvey Bell, prominent in the Canadian Medical Service during the Great War, died yesterday at the polyclinic hospital where he was a member of the medical staff. He was fifty-two years of age.

Born in Kingston, Ont., April 10, 1878, the late Col. Bell was educated in that city at the public schools and collegiate institute. He graduated in medicine from Queen's University in 1903. The same year he became a licentiate in the State of New York and in 1904 was admitted to the Ontario College of Physicians and Surgeons. For a year he was a house surgeon in the Penitentiary and Workhouse hospitals and the Home for the Aged and Infirm in New York City. In 1904, he established a practice in Ottawa and was a staff surgeon of St. Luke's Hospital.

The late Col. Bell's army experience started several years before the Great War when in 1907 he joined the Fifth P. L. D. G.'s Regiment at Ottawa as lieutenant. In 1911 he was a medical officer in the standing army with the rank of major. Immediately on the outbreak of the Great War, he went overseas and received further promotion.

The late Col. Bell wrote a number of treatises for the New York Medical Journal and the Journal of the American Medical Association. He is survived by a widow and one son and one daughter.

Col. Bell was an enthusiastic hunter tennis player and bowler. In 1911 he was president of the Ottawa Medical Association. In politics he was a Conservative and in religious belief a Presbyterian. His permanent home was in Ottawa.

Appreciation Library Work

Steady Growth Has been Maintained Since Inauguration In 1922

At the meeting of the Library Board last night, H. F. Pullen spoke appreciatively of the work the library had done. Since it was established in 1922 it has grown steadily, each year showing a growth in circulation and in the number of books added. Each librarian had done her part well.

Now the library was facing somewhat of a crisis in having to find larger quarters, either through the enlargement of the present building or by securing a new one. Mr. Pullen did not favor moving into the old St. Andrews Society building just now, owing to insecurity of tenure. It would cost a good deal to move and the other building would have to be repaired at a cost of not less than $1,000 and even then there would be drawbacks. Fuel would also cost more in the other building. The only policy just now, it seemed, was to carry on until financial conditions improved.

J. J. Gillis suggested that a rented building might be secured. The efforts of this year's board should be directed to securing new quarters.

V. Basso-Bert said Mr. Pullen voiced the opinion of members of the Board. He concurred in all that had been said.

It was mentioned at the meeting that the retiring members this year were G. V. Wilkinson, Mrs. Kirkpatrick, Alderman Linzey and Alderman Pullen.

SEARCHERS ARE BUSY

Active Search Being Made For Doukhobor Youth Missing From Road Camp

Under the direction of three police officers, no less than twenty-three men, mostly volunteers, are searching today for William Antisees, 18-year old Doukhobor, who became missing last Friday evening from a wood-cutting camp on the Kaien Island highway near the city limits where he was employed.

The seashore thereabouts has been searched and efforts were today being directed toward the mountainside on the right hand side of the road.

SCOUT ASS'N IS PLANNED

Lack of Assisting and Advisory Body Is Felt Here

The Boy Scouts of Prince Rupert and district have been working under a serious handicap in not having an organization of adults called a Local Association which usually assists the troops in raising funds for camps, equipment, obtaining examiners for badge examination and in general, to promote and increase Rover Scout, Boy Scout and Wolf Cub activity in this community. The Local Association would bear a similar relation to the Scout Troops as the school board does to the schools.

Through the kindness of a friend of the Boy Scouts in the city a prize will be given to the Scout or Cub who through his influences obtains the greatest number of names of adults who before January 31 would be willing to become members of a Local Association. The fee is one dollar per year and membership cards would be issued when the association is formed. Anyone who is interested in boys' work, ladies or gentlemen are invited to become members.

Another Close Search to Be Made In This Vicinity For Robin Renahan and Comrades

Pilot Ansel Eckmann of Seattle decided last evening to spend a few more days around Prince Rupert searching the mountains for possible trace of wreckage of the plane of Pilot Robin Renahan, who has been missing since October 28. Should the search near here again prove fruitless, Eckmann will proceed to Stewart to conduct a search of the interior from there. A conference between Eckmann and police last night was of the opinion that Renahan probably came to grief either on the water or on the mountains close to Prince Rupert in the misty rain on the evening of October 28. It is considered unlikely that he could have or would have gone into the interior although it has been decided as a last hope to conduct a search there if no trace is revealed around Prince Rupert. Eckmann yesterday afternoon spent three hours in a search of inlets between Prince Rupert and Stewart. He went as far into the interior from Stewart as Mezladen Lake and also scanned the territory on the west side of Portland Canal. About five hundred miles' distance was covered by Eckmann yesterday. Except for a few patches of low fog over Portland Canal, weather was cool and clear with visibility excellent. Eckmann planned today to go over the ground back of Smith Island the north end of which Renahan was reported to have skirted, flying towards a mountain to the east, on the night he became missing.

The previously accepted report that the lighthouse keeper of Lucy Island heard a plane going north on the evening of October 28 is being questioned now. In view of this, the police boat P. M. L. 8 was to go out today and interview the lighthouse keeper with a view to getting a definite statement from him. If it turns out that a plane was not actually heard going over Lucy Island, it might still be possible that Renahan did not get north of here as had been assumed.

If it is necessary for him to search in the interior north of Stewart, Eckmann will continue on pontoons as at present, making base at Stewart. Arrangements have been made to have the P. M. L. 8 take 80 gallons of aviation gas from here to Stewart for refuelling of Eckmann's plane, there being no aviation gas in stock there. The plane is fitted with both sending and receiving radio equipment.

Government to Help
It is reported here, although no official confirmation is available, that the Canadian government is planning on sending two ski-equipped Royal Canadian Air Force planes to engage in a search in the interior for Renahan.

Pilot Eckmann reported after his search yesterday that all the interior country north and east of Stewart is covered with a smooth and, apparently, deep blanket of snow. It would be difficult if not impossible to locate the wreck of a plane under such conditions. About the only hope of finding anything would be if Renahan and his companions were alive and well and able to signal.

Mrs. Renahan, wife of the missing pilot, is understood to be coming to Prince Rupert.
