STEWART POLITICS

Conservatives There Opposed to Shake-Up in Tolmie Government

STEWART, May 21:—The attitude of Vancouver Conservative Association in demanding reorganization of the provincial government, a general election before the end of this year and a provincial convention, is roundly criticized in a resolution passed recently by the Stewart Conservative Association of the Atlin Provincial Conservative Association.

In the preamble to the resolution, it is pointed out that: "Whereas, a convention of the party was held last November which endorsed the policies of the government, and whereas three members of the cabinet are members from Vancouver and another member of the said cabinet is more or less a Vancouver man, making a total of four, and whereas the present financial conditions of the country as a whole make it extremely difficult for any government and whereas this association has been extended every courtesy and consideration by the government as far as circumstances would permit."

The resolution deplores the attitude of the Vancouver associations and records emphatic protests against a convention.

TRUE BILL RETURNED

Case of Rex vs. Sowry Now Proceeding at Supreme Court Assizes At Prince George

PRINCE GEORGE, May 21:—A true bill has been returned by the grand jury at the Supreme Court Assizes here in the case of Rex vs. Sowry. The hearing of the case by Mr. Justice W. A. Macdonald and the petit jury is now proceeding.

Rex vs. Sowry is a double murder case which comes from the Peace River district. In this the accused, Michael Sowry, a Ukrainian resident of Hythe, Alta., is charged with the murder of Joseph and Annie Babchuck, on or about August 18. They apparently were murdered in their bed in their cabin at the southern end of Cecil Lake, a few miles northeast of Fort St. John. This crime was not discovered until September 2, when a man engaged to do some work for Babchuck, going to the Babchuck cabin found the bodies in the bed. The bodies were badly decomposed by this time but an autopsy disclosed that the deaths had been caused by rifle bullets.

When Inspector William Spiller and Detective McBryne of the provincial police took up the task of solving the tragedy their investigation extended from Fort St. John to The Pas in Manitoba, and weeks later resulted in the arrest of Michael Sowry at Hythe, Alta., where he was living with his family. The prisoner was taken to Fort St. John and on his preliminary hearing was committed for trial upon the double murder charge.

OPINION DIVIDED

L'Evenement Upholds Action of Quebec Legislature in Refusing Franchise to Women

MONTREAL, May 21:—Newspaper opinion is divided over the question of granting the provincial franchise to women; a privilege which was recently again rejected in the provincial legislature. L'Evenement (Quebec) says: "There are people who do not rightly understand the indifference of the province of Quebec towards the women's vote. Because women in English provinces exercise their suffrage in provincial elections, the Anglo-Canadian press thinks that the same should be done in Quebec."

"Nevertheless, it takes very little mental effort to see that French-Canadians are reacting against this feminist tendency, just as France and other European nations are reacting against the example given by England in this slide towards universal suffrage. Has the giving of the vote to women done any appreciable good to England? Are French politics suffering much through the absence of women in electoral tempests or in parliamentary life? Moreover, here, women, after having tasted of the right to vote in federal elections, are not crazy about the innovation. Therefore the Quebec legislature is right in not granting the right to vote to a female population, the majority of which does not want it. If ever the ideas of French-Canadian women change, it will always be easy to allow them to participate in the turmoils of political fights."

La Patrie, (Montreal) commented: "This latest defeat of the rights of women was expected. Hon. Mr. Taschereau had prophesied it when he counselled women not to present again this year measures which the House had already decided several times, but to pin their faith in the possible changes that the next elections might make in the personnel of the House. Those behind the movement did not take the advice and there are many who believe that they were right. A persistent and continuous agitation will be more useful to their cause than a passing surrender could be harmful. The obstinacy of our legislators, once more brought to light, will bring from the other provinces the usual comment which will not be of a nature to heighten the prestige of our province. In the remainder of the Dominion, women have the right to vote. That Quebec is the only province to refuse this right to women does not mean it is right. In our province women have the right to vote in federal elections and they are eligible for the House of Commons. (Continued on page five.)"

Hon. F. P. Burden Tells London Listeners of Country Along Canadian National

At a city luncheon given by the Royal Empire Society at the Cannon Hotel in London recently in his honor recently, Hon. F. P. Burden, Agent General for British Columbia, told his listeners that along the Canadian National Railways there was an excellent country, adapted when cleared and cultivated, to mixed farming. That country was comparatively new, and the shipping of its surplus agricultural products to the more thickly populated areas in the south, was not yet a paying proposition, as the proper railway connection had not yet been established.

The same was true of the greatest and richest agricultural area within the province, the great Peace River country. Direct railway connection with the coast was at present lacking, and those farmers now settled there, although they could produce grain excelling in quantity per acre yield and also in quality, were not as prosperous as might be expected because of the difficulty and expense of getting their products to a market.

JIM McNIVEN RETIRES

J. D. McNiven, known to many local labor men as "Jim," deputy minister of labor, is about to retire on a pension. He has held the position for a long time and the change in government made no difference to him and to his work. He is generally regarded as a real labor man but at that a safe one. He is not a Bolshevik.

Mr. McNiven was a printer for many years. For a long time he was foreman of the composing room at the Victoria Times and he was just as popular there as he later became in his other work. His retirement will be a distinct loss to the province.

BUYING FOR CASH

There is a great tendency these days toward buying for cash instead of running accounts. By doing so it is often possible to save money. Much bookkeeping is saved to the merchant as well as the risk of losing accounts and the cost of collecting.

On the other hand if no credit were given there would be no pianos purchased, very few cars, radios and other luxuries.

It is claimed by some citizens that practically all merchants are given credit by the wholesaler and there is no reason why this accommodation should not be passed on to the consumer. While that is correct, it is also true that the merchant who pays cash can often buy to much greater advantage than his rival and his customer gets the benefit.

WAS IT BRITAIN'S FAULT?

It is stated that Great Britain may have been largely responsible for the present business depression. Ordinarily, that country has been the world's biggest money lender but that has all stopped and those requiring capital have had to go elsewhere. United States and France are holding a large part of the world's gold and they have failed to open their purse strings with results which have been felt everywhere.

Britain is still the wealthiest of creditor nations and stands today at the base of the world's credit structure. With that country financially crippled, all the world suffers. That is the way one writer puts it.

WHO'S WHO

John A. Mooney

BRINGING to bear upon the affairs of the World's Grain Exhibition and Conference a long agricultural experience, John A. Mooney is the managing director of this coming event to be held at Regina in 1932.

Mr. Mooney was born in Quebec Province and after leaving public school made his entry into the world of commerce by accepting employment in a sawmill. In 1895 he entered the Ontario Agricultural College and four years later, heeding the call of the West, secured a homestead at Dauphin, Manitoba. He soon had 700 acres of heavy scrub land under cultivation.

In spare time Mr. Mooney devoted his energies to the study of agricultural matters and soon became recognized as a competent judge at seed fairs. In 1906 he travelled Western Canada on a "good seed" train under the auspices of the Federal Department of Agriculture, and in 1908 moved to the Regina district, where he operated a 450 acre farm.

Mr. Mooney established the Mooney Seed Company, distributors of good seed. He is closely associated with the Canadian Seed Growers' Association and with other producers' organizations.

CONTROL OF PRODUCTION

Bolstering Consuming Power Makes For Better Business

"You know, Mr. Witmark, I can't help wondering sometimes at the way my business has come along. It can't be all due to my own ability. I'm sure of that. It seems everybody wants an airplane of his own."

Mr. Witmark stroked his smooth chin and looked out of the window of his bank upon the row of model 1946 airplanes parked in the dealer's landing field. He let his thoughts slide back for a moment to the trying times of business in 1931. Fifteen years had made a tremendous difference. There was no doubt about that.

"Yes, you airplane fellows are having a good time," he said. "And, if you'll pardon me for the remark, it isn't all due to your own ability by any means. We bankers are in a position to see that. Your business is good because everybody's business is good. People are prosperous."

"Yes," replied the airplane dealer, "but what makes them prosperous? Back in 1930 and 1931 there were millions unemployed. Thousands of banks were closing their doors. Everything was in a mess. And they put it down to overproduction. What's become of overproduction now? Our industries are producing more than ever."

"That's a fact. And what's more, we haven't overproduction, as you say. Well, industry has learned to control production. But that's only half the story."

"The other half of the story is that industry has learned that any steps to bolster up the consuming power of the people are just so many steps toward better business."

LETTER BOX

SIDEWALK LUMBER

Editor, Daily News:—

With reference to the question raised in your Wednesday editorial:

I am informed by a man with 30 years experience that cedar should last almost if not quite as long as Douglas fir for this purpose.

But it seems to me we are rather missing the point. Suppose a local timber should wear out a year or even two years sooner than the other kind, won't this loss in wear be more than made up to the city by the gain in business?

Let the financial authorities figure it out. First the direct returns to the city resulting from the employment of local men at the local plant. Taxpayers citizens instead of social burdens, live industry instead of idle capital.

Maybe the order is not big enough to affect the district very largely, but, coming at a time when even the proverbial straw seems lacking to some of us its ultimate accumulated result ten years hence is hard to overestimate.

Then consider the indirect results. Surely the tradesmen bring much revenue to the city. Won't local industry mean more business to them and more dues to the city?

We cannot expect to develop Prince Rupert by supporting outside industries at the cost of idle local plant. It seems a shortsighted policy to take dollars out of the locality in order to secure a possible few cents worth of longer service.

True, all the country needs help and work, but "charity begins at home" and I venture to think that if the city authorities consider the local needs first, the local resources will automatically provide the money to replace the sidewalks far ahead of the time they will be required.

And the cedar may last as long after all.

BEER IMPORT IS PROTESTED

Delegate of Trade Councils Intervenes Government

A delegation from the anti-national trades councils of Vancouver, Victoria and Prince Rupert waited upon the British Columbia government to protest against the importation into the province of beer from St. Boniface, Man.

In the good old days of the five-cent schooner, these parochial patriots never objected to the importation of beer from Seattle or Milwaukee. The boundary between Canada and the United States was, of course, merely an imaginary line. But the provincial boundary between British Columbia and the rest of Canada should now, they declare, be made a real barrier to trade.

The provincial government not only turned down the delegation's request to regard Eastern Canada as a foreign country but also gave orders to permit the supply of beer from far away Quebec.

TRACES OF DINOSAURS

Monstrous Animals Used to Roam Peace River, Government Report Says

VICTORIA, May 21.—The government of British Columbia has begun to learn something of the family life of this province's first inhabitant, as lived well over a million years ago. These intriguing facts, concerning dinosaurs which lived in the Peace River country even before the extension of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway was proposed, were given to the government in the final report of engineers and geologists who conducted a survey of P.G.E. land areas in the last two years. While the discovery of dinosaur tracks in the Peace River district was reported some time ago, the present report provides the first authentic details of these relics and their meaning in the long story of British Columbia's past.

The report declares that up in the Smoking Valley, tributary to the Peace River, particularly in Burning Canyon, a few miles west of Hudson's Hope, numerous tracks of this mesozoic order of fantastic sized reptiles are graven in the living rock. Jack Bocoek, geologist on the P.G.E. resource survey, reported traces of the dinosaur tracks early in the survey. Dean Brock, of the University of British Columbia and other scientists, examined fossils set in the rocks at Otter Tail, 50 miles west of the Peace River from Rocky Mountain Portage, near the site of the recently rediscovered spurs. Photographs and sketches were made of the tracks and the fossils, and efforts are to be made to carry out the rocks containing the fossilized remains at Otter Tail, for reconstruction of the saurians from plastic molds.

FROM GRAIN TO SACK QUAKER FLOUR MUST MEET THE HIGHEST STANDARDS

EVEN wheat which grades the highest is not always good enough for Quaker Flour! Before it can be milled, every bushel must meet the tests of our chemists for its actual food value.

Then through every process of milling, Quaker Flour is hourly tested. Sample loaves are baked daily in our own kitchens. If the flour does not conform to the rigid Quaker standard it can not bear the Quaker name.

You can make delicious bread with Quaker Flour in half the time and with half the effort. No kneading or setting the sponge. Just follow instructions given in our booklet "The Quaker Method of Easy Bread Baking." A copy free if you write us... or ask your dealer. The Quaker Oats Company, Saskatoon. 1561W

SPORT CHAT

A greater test for golf than Carnoustie, where the British open golf championship will commence on June 1, could not be found anywhere, not even at St. Andrews. The champions will meet this year to battle over a great sandy tract of golfing country, stretching away to the sea from whence tricky breezes blow, with fine turf on a sandy subsoil, menacing sandhills and menacing burns. And the course throughout has been bunkered.

Two hundred and fourteen golfers are entered. Australia, the United States, Argentine, Colombia, Manila, Germany and France will all be represented. Bobby Jones, who won the British Open, British Amateur, and United States open and amateur last year, has of course retired. But British champions will face strong competition from a United States contingent that includes Gene Sarazen, Johnny Farrell, Joe Kirkwood, Tommy Armour and Horton Smith.

Half of the competitors will play 18 holes at Carnoustie and the other half, 18 holes at Barry in the first round. On the second day the groups change courses to complete the 36-hole qualifying round. The championship proper will be for the hundred best scorers over the Carnoustie course—72 holes over June 3, 4, and 5.

NEW TEAM ORGANIZED

Merchants to Have Third Soccer Entry—Enthusiastic Meeting Last Night

A Merchants' team for the Senior Football League this season was successfully launched at a meeting last night in the City Hall. The team will be the third in the league this year.

Bert Morgan, president of the Prince Rupert Football Association, presided over the meeting. He reported that satisfactory support which had been accorded by the merchants had resulted in the sum of $93.25 being realized. Thereupon, F. W. Crawford, president of the Vancouver Tobacco Co. and a director of the Grotto Cigar Store here, made it the even $100. The fund was boosted to $105 when W. J. Alder offered a donation of $5.

The election of officers for the Merchants' team resulted as follows:

- Honorary President, Thomas McMeekin.
- President, Fred Hardy.
- Vice-President, Jack Preece.
- Secretary-Treasurer, Robert Arthur sr.
- Playing manager, Sam Currie.

This executive was given authority to add to its numbers.

A vote of thanks was tendered to all the merchants who had accorded the project their support.

Sam Currie reported that the Merchants' team would be ready for the opening of the season on May 29.

BIG SCORE IN SOCCER

High School Defeats Booth By Margin of 9 to 1

High School had a decisive victory over Booth School last evening in the Junior Football League, winning by 9 goals to 1.

The game was much better contested than the score would indicate but the greater speed and superior finishing of the High School, coupled with weak goalkeeping on the part of the Booth goalie, accounted for the big score.

Cross early got through for High's opening goal and then Arney's long drive beat Bremner for the second. Cross converted a third from close in to give High a much bigger lead than the balance of play merited. Booth attacked and the perseverance of McMeekin provided an open goal for Christison who scored for Booth. Walters got through to score and then, when through again, shot at Bremner who did well to save. Cross shot well from a free kick but Bremner saved well. A centre from Fisher hit the crossbar and Walters had no difficulty adding the fifth for his side.

The play was fairly even in the second half with the same result, the speed of Walters giving him three more goals while Marshall got one that Bremner should have stopped.

For Booth Ferguson and Eby defended well. Gomez played a sterling game at centre half and Crompt was very effective. Christison was always a strong player with McMeekin one of the pluckiest and cleverest players on the field. Sandturbane, Alf Ritchie and Kirkendall all did well.

High was best served by Cross, Walters and Jim Ritchie. Marshall and Fisher were also useful.

C. J. Norrington refereed and Wingham and Kanaya were linesmen.

The Letter Box

GRATEFUL TO MERCHANTS

Editor, Daily News:—May we trespass upon your valuable space to tender to the merchants of Prince Rupert our warmest thanks for the support they gave to our project of forming a "Merchants' Team" for the football competitions of this season.

On organizing we found that we had only two senior teams entered and for the proper interest to be taken in this sport it is absolutely necessary to have three teams at least in our various senior competitions and we were faced with the difficulty of financing and organizing a third team.

It was suggested that the merchants be approached with regard to this and in the short period of two days, canvassers had been appointed and the merchants had responded to the appeal nobly and sufficient funds had been collected to ensure the success of the "Merchants' Team."

An organization meeting was held last night and a competent executive elected and we feel confident that, under the capable leadership of these gentlemen, the Merchants' Team will be heard from this season in the front rank of senior football in Prince Rupert.

Again we thank all who so kindly helped to finance this team, thus boosting the game of football and sport in general in Prince Rupert. The Prince Rupert Football Ass'n.

FRED E. WERMIG,
Secretary-Treasurer.

OPINION DIVIDED

mons and for the Senate, but our provincial legislators do not think that women are fit to vote in our provincial elections. How can that be logical, and how can the opposition of the majority of our legislators be justified when the Council of the Bar Association itself saw no reason why the entry of women to the profession should be prohibited.

The Gazette said: "The Quebec legislature remains consistent in a thoroughly inconsistent attitude towards female suffrage. The one good thing that can be said of the rejection of the suffrage bill was that the vote was non-partisan. The brevity of the debate was out of all proportion to the importance of the issue and the lack of any ministerial contribution to the discussion is likely, quite unnecessarily, to accentuate the sense of grievance which promoters of the measure must inevitably harbor. The one Liberal to speak against the bill was Amedeo Caron, who hails from the Magdalen Islands, where, it is safe to assume, the women's suffrage movement is not particularly lively and where Mr. Caron runs little risk of retribution. The fact that the woman suffrage movement is not sufficiently widespread in Quebec to impress the members of the legislature may supply a reason, of sorts, for the repeated rejection of franchise bills, but it is not a good reason if the principle upon which the women are founding their claim is a sound one. It has been considered sound in other provinces and in other countries, many other countries, and its acceptance has had very solid grounds. Legislation, nowadays, is reaching steadily into new fields of domestic activity, and in many of these fields the feminine judgment is likely to be far more valuable, because of the practical experience behind it, than the judgment of the meer man can ever be."

ASSURING PROSPERITY

Business Craft Developed Through The Centuries Prove Inadequate, and Now Economists Are Seeking New Ways

Builders of the ships of commerce and industry are engaged today in one of the greatest tasks since their first frail craft were buffeted and battered by the winds of economic uncertainty. For centuries they have bent their efforts to fashion a vessel strong enough to ride the gales of depression and reversal. Now they are searching for ways to make the very storms abate. Economics has taken on a new meaning. Once it merely explained what happened. In the wake of one of the world's most trying periods of business, it is being viewed as a means through which some greater measure of control can be exerted over those factors which sway the course of Labor and Capital. These things have transcended academic bounds. The housewife has become interested because the price of eggs and bread is affected. The shoemaker is concerned because, strangely enough, some people seem to be without shoes simply because there are too many shoes in the country. The banker looks at his profits and the mechanic looks at his wages—each of them wishing that the ships business would sail a bit more smoothly so that every man could be sure of his income. A way to stop the storm—this has become the key to the task to which economics has set itself. It is not sufficient to explain the "economic environment" of the day. If the environment is not suitable, perhaps it can be changed. There is a growing conviction that this is entirely possible and that depression can be not only shortened, but actually prevented.

SPEAKS OF CALEDONIA

Bishop Rix Addresses Columbia Diocesan Board in Duncan Vancouver Island

That the Diocese of Caledonia was the largest and most varied among the dioceses of Canada, was the claim made by the Very Rev. G. A. Rix, Bishop of Caledonia, at the diocesan board meeting of Columbia W.A., held in Duncan, Vancouver Island, a few days ago, when the bishop was given a very cordial greeting by a representative gathering of W. A. members from Duncan, Quamichan, Somenos, Cowichan Valley, as well as from Victoria.

The bishop paid a high tribute to the splendid work done in the very early days of the diocese by the famous Archdeacon Collison, whose name will ever be linked with the foundation work of the missions, so well and truly laid by that intrepid missionary. That his son, the present Archdeacon Collison, has faithfully followed in the footsteps of his father was shown by the progress made by the Indians of the present day, who are carrying on the work for themselves in a highly creditable way, even where no missionary is resident among them. The bishop spoke in glowing terms of the wonderful fishing, logging, mining and agricultural industries carried on in his diocese and of the opportunities afforded the church of ministering to all sorts and classes of men, who are employed in these undertakings, and an outline was given of the plans to build six churches, and of the caravan work to be started this summer.

The bishop concluded by commending a holiday tour through his diocese, which would be full of surprising interest to anyone taking it. Mrs. Schofield returned a very hearty vote of thanks to Bishop Rix, which was enthusiastically endorsed by the meeting.

HIGH PAID MINISTERS

Cannot Expect to Become Leaders in God's Kingdom, Missionary Declares

Rev. Captain R. C. Scott, of the Coast Mission Service, at the recent United Church conference in Victoria, protested at perfunctory passing of sections concerning the Kingdom of God movement and secured reopening of the whole report on a basis that religion could only become a force through material things. After telling of distress among workless men, he voiced an appeal for leadership and an example, declaring "the system of production and distribution is at fault, not only outside the church, but inside as well. I do not see how ministers who are getting big salaries can expect to become leaders in God's Kingdom."

Rev. J. K. McMinn of Kelowna supported Captain Scott, saying "he shows the way to more than lip service."

The County Court case of Guirekas vs. Killas & Christopher, set down for today, has been adjourned sine die.

MINISTER SPEAKER

Rev. Dr. F. W. Dafoe Addresses Parent-Teachers on Educational Values

Taking as his subject "Educational Values and Ideals," Dr. Rev. F. W. Dafoe gave a thoughtful and thought provoking address at the Parent-Teachers Association meeting held at Borden Street School last evening.

Dr. Dafoe pointed out that the values of education were not fully recognized. This was true of parents generally and was applicable even to some teachers. There was still a tendency among many citizens to regard education as a side issue. This was a very mistaken stand and showed a lack of appreciation of the importance of education to the community and the life of the world.

Education should impart knowledge. The speaker gave an imposing list of the great benefits that have accrued from the knowledge acquired by our forefathers and the application of it in the varied walks of life. Even greater results awaited the application of ever increasing knowledge in the future. More knowledge would improve considerably the lot and conditions of the so-called laboring classes.

Education must also develop cultural tastes. This accomplished in youth would improve the nation. The people had a value to the country as important as the value of the country to the people. Democracy could not be higher than the level of its citizens.

Service to human progress was another ideal of education the speaker continued. It must not have a merely mercenary aim. In this connection the speaker expressed a hope that the day would come when as high ideals of altruistic service would be forthcoming from all commercial and industrial and professional workers, as was expected from ministers, teachers and doctors. And, finally, all advance must be towards God and the inculcation of spiritual truths a matter of daily moment. This, not the teaching of spiritual dogmas, was the only hope for a nation.

Mrs. Blance presided over the business meeting, and conveyed to Dr. Dafoe the appreciation of the
