Local Fishermen and Owners of Boats Agree To Sell Their Fish Exclusively to Big U. S. Firm

United Pacific Fisheries to Purchase Halibut Here and at Seattle for Atlantic Pacific Co. at 12c and 9c

Fifty of Seventy Boat Owners Here Sign Up with New Concern

If Experiment Proves Successful Local Fish Buyers Will Go Out of Business and Fish Exchange Disappear

Three hundred boat owners and fishermen of Prince Rupert, dissatisfied with prices that have been paid them during the past few years and seeking some sort of cooperative marketing of fish, at a meeting here last night agreed to market their fish exclusively with the United Pacific Fisheries of Seattle, which concern, on behalf of the Atlantic Pacific Fisheries, a large American company, doing business throughout the United States, will pay a flat rate of twelve cents for first class fish and nine cents for second. This price, the boat owners and fishermen declare, is much better than the average they were paid last year. The United Pacific Fisheries will have officials on the ground here within a week, it is stated, and will do business in the premises on the Government wharf, formerly occupied by the Shruballs Fisheries. Some fifty boat owners signed up last night with the company. There are about seventy boat owners altogether here.

The same price will be paid for American and Canadian fish alike and the grading basis will be that of 1930—namely, first class fish to be that weighing from 10 to 80 pounds.

Should all the boat owners agree to do business exclusively with this firm, it would have the effect of putting local company buyers out of business and closing up the business of the Fish Exchange. The boat owners and fishermen seem to be confident that the new system will be successful.

G. W. Nickerson presided over the meeting which was held in the Elks Hall and which proved very enthusiastic.

The following telegram was received by the local branch of the Deep Sea Fishermen's Union from P. B. Gill, general secretary-treasurer in Seattle:

"The United Pacific Fisheries have made a deal with the Atlantic Pacific Fisheries to take all fish shipped from Seattle and Prince Rupert at 12c and 9c for the present, later price to be determined when our internal troubles are settled. Last year's weight will prevail."

Another telegram stated that the United Pacific Fisheries was starting to do business in Seattle today and was making immediate arrangements to handle Canadian fish at Prince Rupert, officials of the company being due here within a week.

Eventually, it is expected the United Pacific Fisheries will be buying at all halibut ports on the coast.

On Account of Premier Tolmie And Attorney-General's Illness Legislature Forced to Adjourn

VICTORIA, February 28.—The first delay in the business of the legislature came yesterday when Hon. J. W. Jones, minister of finance, in the absence of Premier S. F. Tolmie and Attorney-General R. H. Pooley, both of whom were confined to their homes with colds, requested an adjournment until next Tuesday afternoon after the routine of the day of government bills had been heard in committee stages. T. D. Pattullo, Liberal leader, with its prior announcements of opposed the delay but gave way after taunting the government business of the session.

Drastic New Taxation Scheme Is Approved By Tory Caucus and Will Be Included In The Budget

All Citizens in British Columbia From Richest to Poorest to Be Hit by New Revenue Plan—Will Produce About $1,500,000

VANCOUVER, February 28.—The Vancouver Daily Province yesterday published the following dispatch from Victoria: "The taxation system of British Columbia was in the melting pot here Friday, after a Conservative caucus had discarded all its earlier proposals for increasing revenue and voted, instead, for a universal income tax of one half of one percent to apply to every citizen from the richest to the poorest in addition to the present income tax. While there was strong minority opposition against the new universal income tax scheme, leading Conservative members said it seemed bound to be implemented in the budget.

"The proposals originally adopted by the caucus to produce $1,250,000 new revenue were scrapped Wednesday night with the exception of the increase in the bank tax. "The new tax would produce about $1,500,000."

FISH BIDS ARE WRONG

Erroneous Impression Caused by Dispatch Yesterday From Ketchikan

Figures obtained here yesterday for frozen fish prices in Chicago on February 15 contradict very emphatically the statement in a dispatch yesterday purported to have been made by Capt. Ingvald Hansen, president of the American Halibut Vessel Owners' Association, that word had been received from a Chicago distributor to the effect that halibut would not sell for more than 5c. per pound on the Chicago market today. Following were frozen fish prices for February 19 in Chicago according to the word received here:

Chickens, 11c. to 13c.
10 to 40 pounds, 12c. to 15c.
40 to 80 pounds, 10c. to 12c.
Whales, 12c. to 13c.
Fresh fish prices would be higher than even these.

CHICAGO, Feb. 28.—Al Capone was convicted of contempt of court here yesterday and was sentenced to six months' imprisonment in the County jail.

Communism is Roundly Denounced in Decision Rejecting Its Produce

Minister of National Revenue for Canada Does Not Mince Matters in Announcing Stand Taken by Government

OTTAWA, February 28.—Importation into Canada from Soviet Russia of coal, wood, pulp, pulpwood, lumber and timber of all kinds, asbestos and furs has been prohibited by order-in-council, Hon. E. B. Ryckman, minister of national revenue, announced yesterday afternoon after a meeting of the cabinet. The government, Mr. Ryckman declared in a statement, is convinced that in Russia there is forced labor in the cutting and transport of timber and in the mining of coal, that political prisoners are exploited, that the standard of living is below any level conceived of in Canada and that, broadly speaking, all employment is in control of the Communist government which regulates all conditions of it and seeks to impose its will upon the whole world.

The statement proceeds: "This is communism, its creed and its fruits which we, as a country, must refuse to support by interchange of trade."

Italy and Rome Expected to Sign London Naval Treaty Soon

ROME, Feb. 28.—Although there are certain formalities yet to be disposed of by the Italian government, there seems to be little doubt that Italy will accept the proposed accord with France and become signatory with that country to the London Naval Treaty.

Before finally agreeing, the Italian government desires to be satisfied in regard to certain political aspects of the treaty and, in the final analysis, the whole thing will probably be up to Mussolini.

Play Had Another Good Showing In Church Last Eve

The second presentation of "Melvina's Courtship" in the First United Church went off last evening even better than on the first night. The audience was larger and was very responsive. During the intermissions, piano selections were played by Norman Ireland who is a master of the instrument. After the play, members of the cast were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Vickers. "Melvina's Courtship" will be repeated next Tuesday evening at Rupert East United Church.

Corp. J. H. Smith Goes to Interior As Divisional Clerk For Provisional Police

Accompanied by his wife and members of the family, Corp. J. H. Smith, divisional clerk of the provincial police here for the past seven years, left on this morning's train for Prince George to which point he has been transferred in a similar capacity. His departure from the city will be generally regretted for he has become well known and was popular among many friends. He was particularly active in connection with the affairs of the Orange Lodge and the Baptist Church. The change amounts to practically an exchange of positions for Constable J. H. McClintock, divisional clerk at Prince George, is Corp. Smith's successor here.

MARK SITE OF FURNACE

Historical Monuments Board Expected to Commemorate Efforts to Establish Blast Industry

BROOKVILLE, Ont., February 26: The Historic Sites and Monuments Board has, after preliminary investigation, placed upon the agenda for its next meeting, the question of designating the site of Lyndhurst (formerly Furnace Falls), in Leeds County, of what is generally agreed to be the first blast furnace for iron that was established in Upper Canada. It was on Sept. 13, 1800, so General Cruikshank, the chairman of the board has discovered, that a certain Wallace Sunderlin (sometimes referred to as "Captain") approached the Executive Council of the province asking permission to erect works at the Big Falls of the "Gannanockway" (Gananogue) River. These works were to include a sawmill and furnace for the manufacture of "Potash Kettles and other furnace ware that shall be necessary for the use of people in this country." and Sunderlin undertook, in addition, to build a bridge across the river and to invest the sum of $7000 in the enterprise.

The site of the proposed works was then in the veritable backwoods. Settlement did not extend for any great distance back from the St. Lawrence. The building of the Rideau Canal, destined to give the interior of Eastern Ontario its first impetus, had yet to be undertaken. Fifteen years or more were to pass before the settlements of disbanded soldiers were to be established on the shores of the Rideau. Nearly all of the surrounding country was wild and undeveloped, connected with the river-front only by roads that could have been little better than blazed trails. Yet Sunderlin, who hailed from Tinmouth, Vermont, seems, with true Yankee perspicacity, to have perceived opportunity in such a field. In some manner he had discovered there were deposits of iron in the neighboring township of Bastard and he had conceived the idea of utilizing them and the water-powers of the Gananogue River to put his scheme into effect.

Because the waterfall in question lay remote from the settled area, the land in the vicinity had yet to be allotted for patent and Sunderlin asked the government, as encouragement and in return for his investment, to grant him a "sufficient tract of land for timber, coal and ore to carry on said business." He undertook to have the works completed within a year from Oct. 1, 1800, and he furnished the Executive Council with a list of persons whom he proposed to bring from the United States to assist him. The council appears readily to have acquiesced in the suggestion. It granted him the permission he sought (with the provision that the works were to be completed within the specified time or forfeited without compensation) and the Surveyor-General was instructed to appropriate 2400 acres of land where Sunderlin should designate, of which 1200 acres were to be his when the conditions were performed. Thus was born Upper Canada's first iron furnace.

Sunderlin made haste to fulfill the conditions imposed. By November, 1801, so Dr. Solomon Jones, an early magistrate and judge of the Johnstown District Court, informed Chief Justice Elmsley, he had erected the iron-works and "a good sawmill" and had built "a good bridge." Moreover, Dr. Jones reported that he had seen the forge that had been opened and "two bars of iron manufactured which appeared to be of good quality" and a considerable quantity of "coal wood made into Pitts and burnt into coal." From this it may be judged how primitive were the methods Sunderlin employed.

At the same time the originator of the scheme was joined by Ephraim Jones, one of the most prominent Loyalist settlers in Augusta township and an early member of parliament, who also invested a sum of money, and at a later period Bradley Barlow of Fairfield, Vermont, became a third associate. The ore used is described as "zealy" hematite of inferior quality and limited quantity obtained on lot 25 in the tenth concession of Bastard township. It had to be drawn a considerable distance and the supply had obvious limitations. Whether for this reason or because of other difficulties, the undetaching did not realize the expectations of those who launched it. A certain number of pots and kettles were cast for the use of the settlers, but these are said to have proved failures. Sunderlin sold out to his associates and, presumably, returned to Vermont. The remaining partners allowed the iron works to fall into decay. As early as 1816 it was reported they were in "a state of ruin and no great use was ever made of them." to which information is appended the opinion that "the height of the fall, the constant supply of water, abundance of ore and other advantages render it a matter of regret that so valuable a property is not put to use."

Fred Wesch

President of Prince Rupert Radio Association

To that use the property has never been put. Other mills have been operated at "Furnace Falls," but the iron works never recovered from their decline and no attempt was ever made to revive them. They have, indeed, become little more than a legend, insofar as the people of Lyndhurst and the surrounding country are concerned.

Today if one wishes to ascertain where the first iron furnace in the province was operated, one must pause in the still rather obscure village of Lyndhurst, not without admiring the beauty of its surroundings, pass across the yard of the stone grist mill, and descend a steep narrow wooden stairway that leads to the edge of the swirling stream. There, in a stone-strewn plot of ground used as a poultry yard, there may be observed under a tree that has sprung out of the foundations of the establishment, all that remains of the iron furnace. It consists of a few stout timbers, that have survived a century or more, protruding from the unpromising soil and two or three large lumps of slag—nothing more to show for Wallis Sunderlin's enterprise and investment or to furnish proof that in this out-of-the way spot, there was made the first attempt to put Ontario's iron ores to commercial use.

ISLAND IS GOOD COAL

B.T.U. DEFEATS JACK FROST

UPON the cosy warmth of your home during the winter months, the good health of your family largely depends. Similarly, the amount of heat you can maintain is dependent upon the coal you use and the manner in which you fire your furnace.

It is a simple matter to determine the coal with the highest heat value. Science makes it possible for you to know without doubt that certain coals contain as high as 13,000 B.T.U.'s or heat units to the pound . . . and that others contain only 10,000 or lower.

Any Combustion Engineer will tell you that Nanaimo-Wellington or Comox Coal from the rich bituminous seams in the Vancouver Island field, show an average of 13,050 B.T.U.'s or better.

WHEN CHILDREN CRY

CHILDREN often cry for no apparent reason. Many times we can't guess what is wrong. The crying may mean a touch of colic; the little bowels may be sluggish—or some other upset. It may mean any of the common little ailments that children suffer. To bring quick comfort to your little one, give a few drops of Castoria. Most upsets of children are soon soothed away by this pleasant-tasting remedy that children all love.

In five million modern homes, Castoria is a mother's first thought when a child is out of sorts, feverish, cross, doesn't eat right or sleep right. When bad breath, coated tongue, or languor tells of constipation. These five million wise mothers know that children should never be given stronger medicines meant for the fully developed systems of grown-ups. Castoria is gentle—safe, yet always thorough and effective for a child of any age. It may be given to the tiniest infant for any little upset. When buying, look for the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher on wrapper.

SEATTLE IS AT TOP OF PACIFIC COAST HOCKEY LEAGUE

Eskimos Scored Two To Nil Win Last Night Over Portland Buckaroos; Vancouver Ousted

SEATTLE, February 28.—Defeating Portland Buckaroos by a score of two to nil last night, Seattle Eskimos went to the head of the Pacific Coast Hockey League class. It was an exciting enough match in the first two periods but with Seattle ahead the two goals and playing a strictly defensive game, as Portland vainly attempted to score, the last period was rather slow. Bobby Connors was the hero of the game scoring both goals for the Eskimos one in the first period and the other in the second.

Four thousand persons witnessed the match.

Bringing the puck down unaided Bobby Connors made the first goal for Seattle eleven seconds before the close of the half. He shoved the puck in past Andy Akerhead from about a yard out.

The Eskimos' second goal came twelve minutes after its start of the second period when Connors scored again in much the same manner as before.

In the third period although Seattle played a largely defensive game. There were certain break-aways and Akerhead had several minor escapes. Toward the end, Seattle took it very easy, playing all his men defensively and not attempting to score.

Seattle needs but one more victory to be assured of a place in the post-season play-off with Vancouver for the league championship. Vancouver needs but a draw to be similarly assured. Portland's chances are, therefore very slim.

The league standing is now as follows:

	W.	D.	L.	For	Ag't	P.
Vancouver	12	3	8	48	44	32
Seattle	12	9	8	52	44	33
Portland	9	8	12	47	47	26
Tacoma	2	1	7	12	24	5

Relation of the Liver and Kidneys

Such that each suffers when other deranged—Both regulated by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills

When the liver becomes sluggish or torpid in action, the kidneys have to help out with the work of filtration. When the liver fails the kidneys have all the work to do.

Hence the beginning of trouble is usually biliousness, indigestion and constipation and after a time the kidneys begin to be affected and there comes backache, urinary derangements and kidney disease.

The remarkable success of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills is due to their unique combined action on the liver, kidneys and bowels. They get at the cause of trouble and remove it no matter how complicated it may be. Promptly and thoroughly they cleanse the bowels or intestines, arouse the liver action and thereby relieve the overworked kidneys.

When You
INDULGE

EVERY man, woman and child will occasionally over-indulge. But don't suffer for your indiscretions. It's folly to do so when you can so easily sweeten and settle a sour, upset stomach with a little Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

Heartily eaters have long since learned the quick comfort this perfect anti-acid brings. Smokers know how it neutralizes nicotine; brings back a sweet taste; guards the breath. Women know what it does for nausea—or sick headache. And when children have over-eaten—are bilious, constipated or otherwise upset—give them a little of the same, pleasant-tasting and milky-white Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

You'll be through with crude methods once you learn the perfect way. Nothing else has the same quick, gentle effect. Doctors prescribe it for indigestion, nausea, heartburn, gas, sour stomach and headache. It has been standard with them for over 50 years.

Insist on genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia; a less perfect product may not act the same. The genuine is always a liquid—never in tablet form—and the name Phillips' is always on bottle and wrapper.

Halibut Boat Owners and Fishermen Agree—Saga Here Enroute to Banks—Important Fishery News This Week

Halibut boat owners and fishermen of Prince Rupert are to be congratulated at having come to agreement this week on fishing terms for the coming season. It was particularly gratifying that the settlement was reached before any great controversy or feeling over the matter developed. At that, there was not a very great issue at stake. Yet often little things like this develop into more serious affairs than at first might be expected. The effect of the agreement is that the boat owners accept the amended offer of the fishermen whereby the latter will not be responsible for share in "hole" trips after a month of disablement or tie-up has elapsed. On this point there was a compromise on both sides, the fishermen having previously asked for a period of three weeks while the boat owners were desirous of maintaining the old agreement whereby there was no limit of time wherein the fishermen might be still responsible for share in the liabilities of "hole" trips. While there is apparently no weakening, as yet, in the ruling of the fish buyers whereby first class fish in future will be that between 10 and 60 pounds instead of between 10 and 30 pounds as before, prospects are that most of the Prince Rupert halibut feet will get to work by March 1, the late agreed upon, or soon thereafter. Happily enough, the situation here is much different to that in Seattle where the boat owners and the fishermen are still deadlocked over the issue of what shall constitute a boat's share, the owners demanding 25% for boat's share whereas the fishermen will not countenance anything but the former 20%. It is confidently expected that the decision on the part of the local boat owners and fishermen to delay the start of the season's operations to March 1, two weeks after the statutory opening, will result in considerably higher prices for fish when buying gets under way. There seems to be good reason to anticipate that this may prove to be the case. At that, the fishing season will be cut from nine to eight months this year, in view of the treaty decision between the United States and Canada that the close season shall henceforth start on November 1 instead of November 15.

"The use of too much gear," says Hon. S. L. Howe, provincial commissioner of fisheries, "has made it necessary, in the interests of conservation, to reduce fishing seasons so much, that it is often difficult for fishermen to make a living. For the same reason the overhead cost of producing canned fish is increased, as operators must use as much gear as possible to make a reasonable catch in the limited season allowed. This, in turn, affects the sale of British Columbia fish in foreign markets in competition with the fish of other nations which do not experience similar difficulties."

Frank W. Allen, for several years a member of the staff of Edward Lipsett Ltd. here, has been promoted to a post with the company in Vancouver and will be leaving soon for the south to assume his new duties. Mr. Allen has become popular among many friends during his residence in Prince and his departure will be regretted. He has taken quite an interest in yachting affairs while here, being the owner of the power cruiser Colifer which, it is understood, he will take south with him.

The canned salmon export market is still in the uncertain stage. The next few months should show more clearly what is to be expected as an ultimate return for the pack. Russian canned salmon is no new thing—as some people seemed to regard it—and the quantity available for consumption in Europe is no greater than has been in other years. British and continental brokerage houses and importers may have shown more caution than usual in the placing of orders this season. But the closest observers are confident that those orders, however belated, will materialize.

Enroute to the halibut grounds on its first trip, the 45-foot halibut boat Saga, Capt. Hendrick Hendricksen, was in port this week from California, having arrived Tuesday night. The Saga, as stated before in these columns, was built during the past two years in California where Capt. Hendricksen had to go for the benefit of his health. It is a trim craft and was examined with interest during its stay here. The vessel is equipped with a 40 h.p. Fabco-Tuxham diesel engine. Accompanying Capt. Hendricksen was his wife, who herself played an important part in connection with the building of the boat, and Ed. Marks. The little vessel made the long trip up from California entirely under her own power.

The licence of the British Columbia Fishermen's Co-operative Association to erect a salmon cannery at Coal Harbor, Vancouver, has been renewed after considerable controversy by the city of Vancouver. The association held a licence in 1930 and did some dredging in preparation for construction but did not erect the new building. The application for the new licence was finally allowed.

Possibly more progress was made during the past week toward the object of co-operative handling of fish at Prince Rupert than has been achieved at any time in the past. Both producers of salmon and halibut seem to be quite keen about the idea and it is quite evident that not a few of them are willing to cough up the hard earned cash to help the thing along.

The gathering last Saturday night in the City Hall when salmon fishermen got together to discuss the proposal to co-operatively handle and process their fish was possibly the largest fishermen's meeting that has ever been seen in the city. Great enthusiasm was also displayed and it may be judged that, if the fishermen do not establish a cannery of their own here, it will be only failure to secure the necessary funds that will prevent them. In fact, if all salmon fishermen are to be taken care of under a co-operative plan, it will be necessary to have a cannery to handle their product. Like enthusiasm for the idea of co-operative market exists among the halibutters, both boat owners and fishermen having during the week endorsed the proposal of deducting 2½ percent from the gross stock of every boat in order to create a fund with which to carry on co-operative marketing.

The Sitka Cold Storage Co., of which W. P. Mills, prominent Sitka business man is the head, has completed negotiations for the purchase of the cold storage plant of the Booth Fisheries at Sitka and will operate it in future as a public freezer and storage. The plant, established in 1913, has a storage capacity of 1,500,000 pounds of frozen fish and manufactures sixteen tons of ice daily. The plant will be in charge of W. W. Knight, who was bookkeeper under the Booth regime while J. P. McNeill, who has been superintendent of the plant for years, will remain in that capacity. The deal is of much interest to the halibut fisheries of the whole coast.

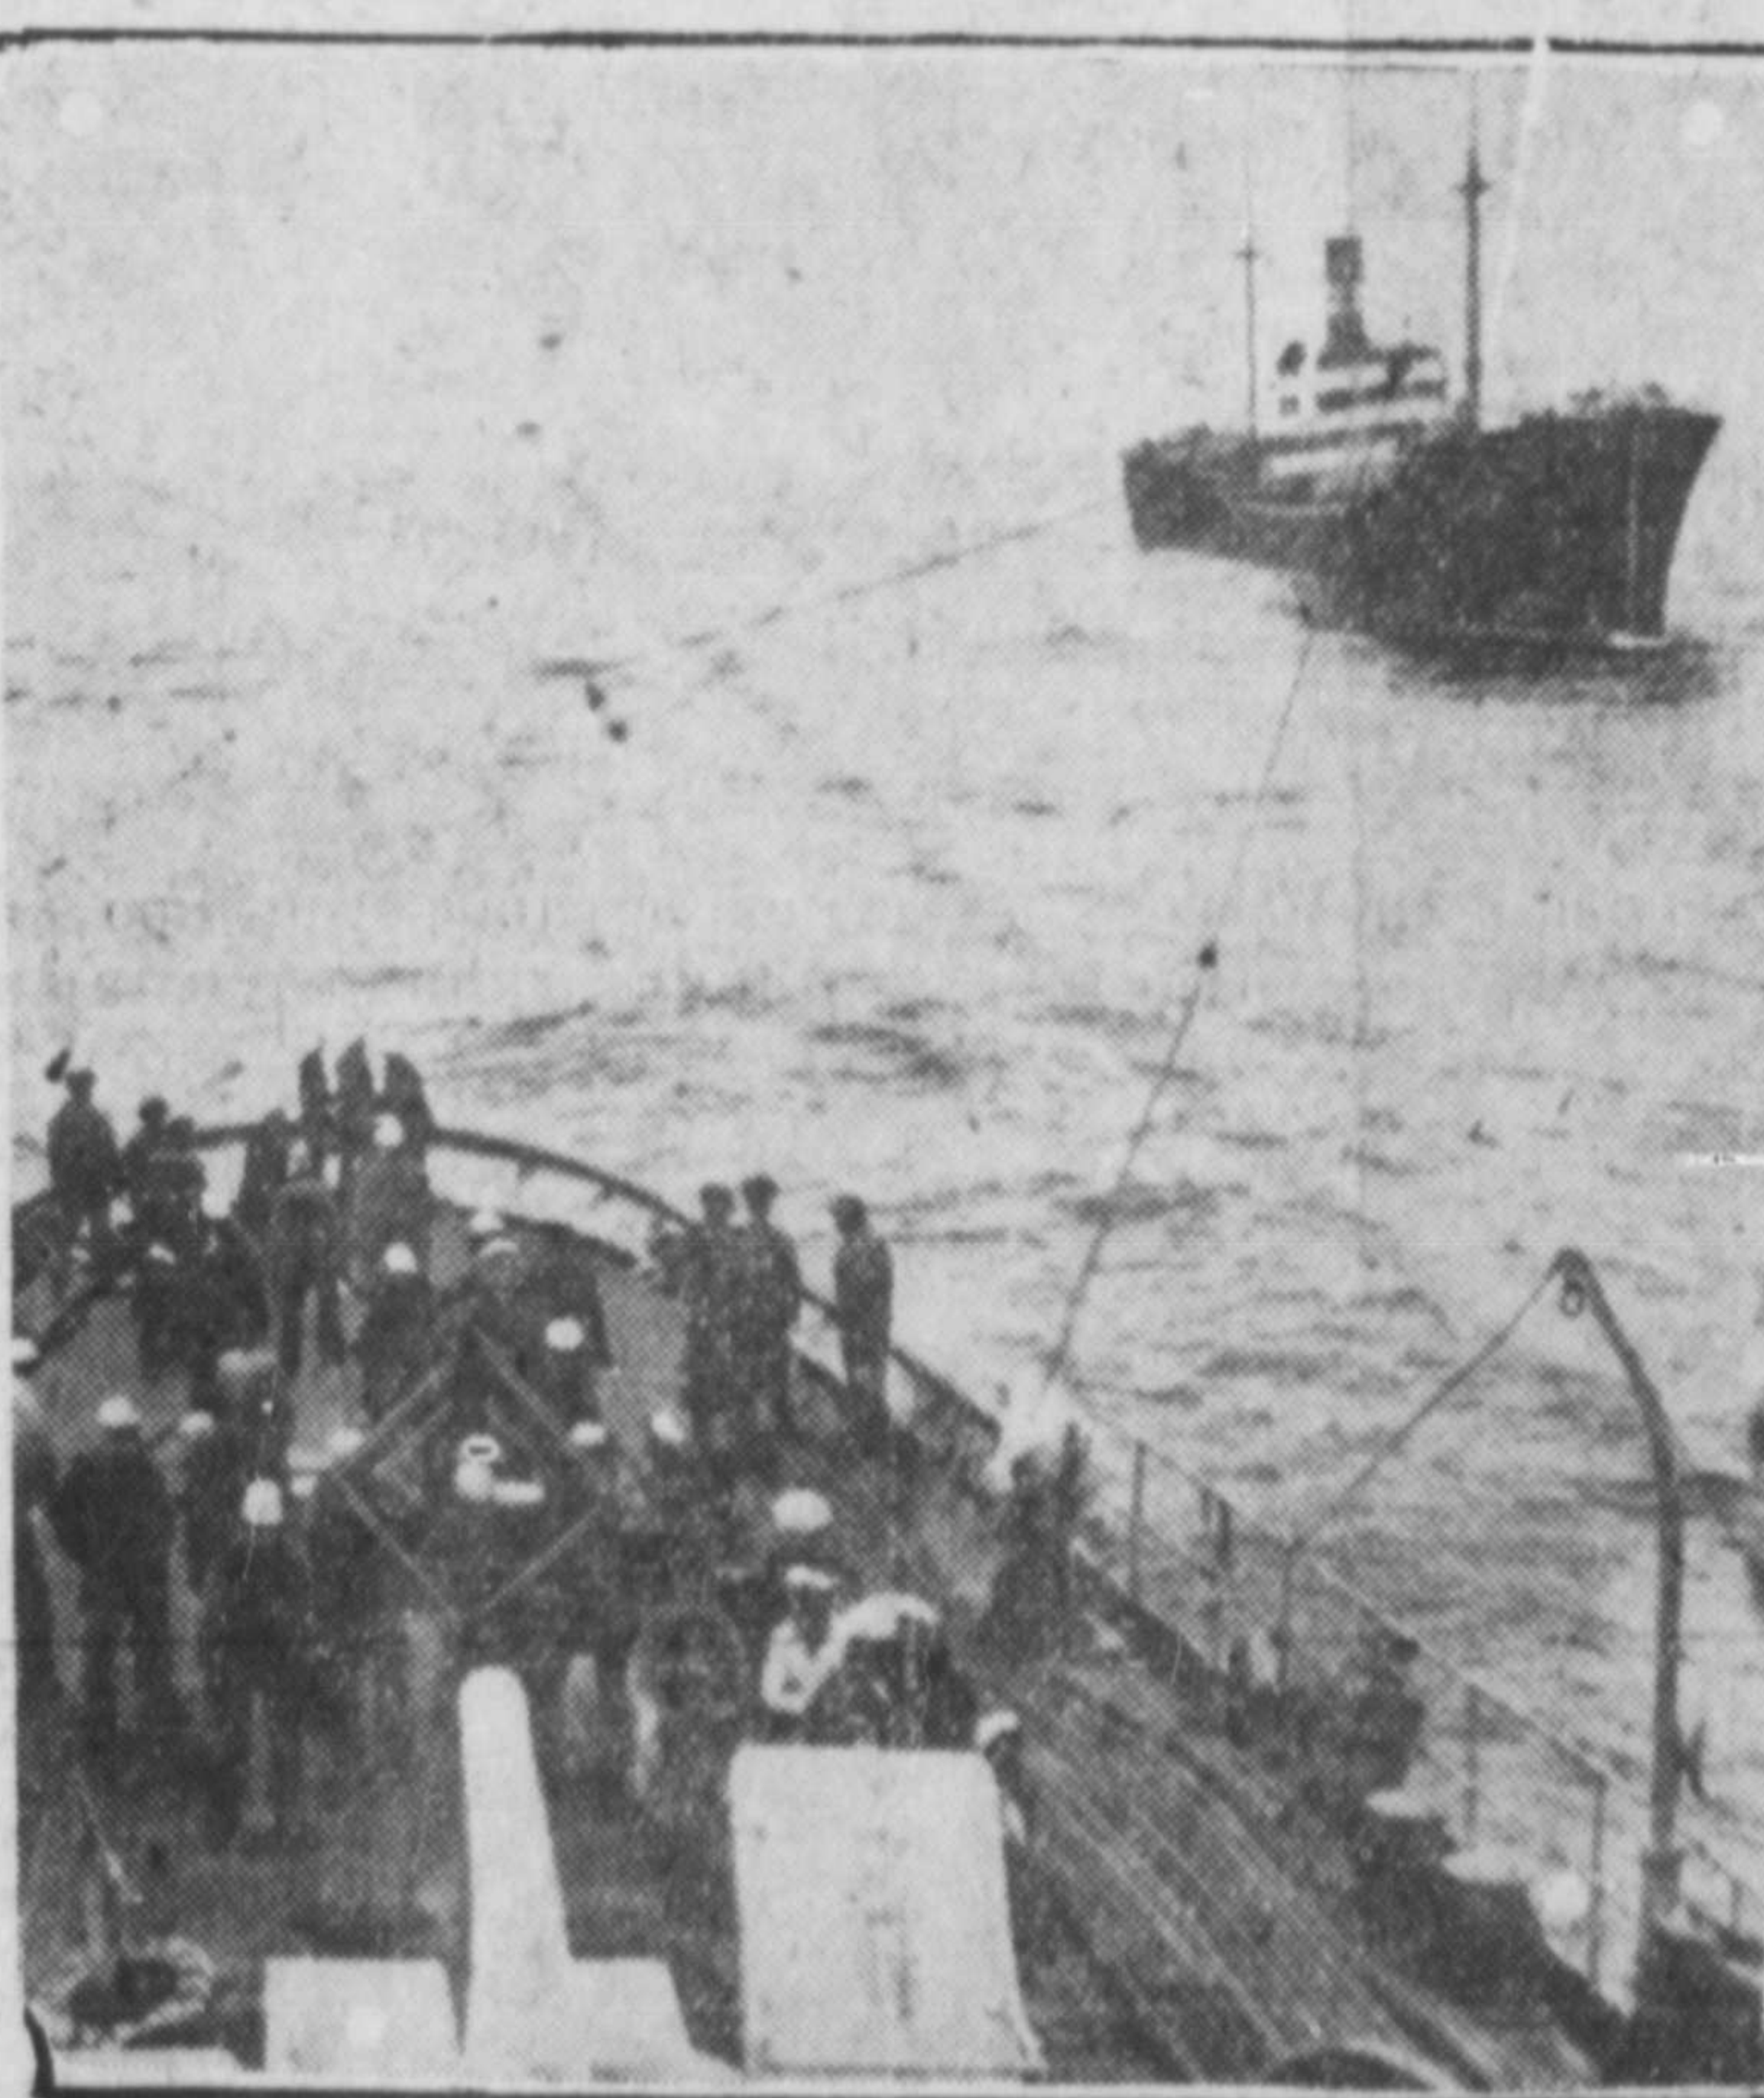

Mariners are advised by W. I. Stamford, acting agent of the marine department that the pile dolphin marking the shoal off Dundas Point in Melakatala Passage, B.C., has disappeared and this shoal is now being marked temporarily by a red spar buoy.

A worth while pack of canned clams was put up during the past season on the Queen Charlotte Islands whence also came quantities of fresh abalone.

The past week has been a particularly eventful one from the standpoint of news of interest to the fisheries. Among the more important events have been the following:

- Saturday—Federal fisheries regulations for 1931.
- Five halibut boats so far leave for the grounds.
- Six local halibut boats drift into harbor from Cow Bay moorings.
- Mass meeting of salmon fishermen approves formation of Association to engage in handling and proceeding of salmon.
- Sunday—Halibut boat owners accept fishermen's terms for 1931 halibut fishing operations.
- Monday—Halibut boat owners agree on principal of deducting 2½ percent from gross stocks to finance co-operative.
- Tuesday—United States Senate approves international halibut treaty which adds another half month to yearly close season.
- Prince Rupert halibut fishermen agree on principal of deducting 2½ percent, from gross stocks to finance co-operative.
- Wednesday—Seattle halibut owners and fishermen fail to agree upon fishing terms for season.
- Thursday—Boat owners appoint trustees to handle co-operative marketing fund.
- Friday—Eleven halibut boats have so far returned from halibut banks to Ketchikan. Fish receiving 12c. and 15c.

Allan M. Davies returned to the city on the Princess Mary yesterday afternoon from Kelowna where he attended a Loyal Orange Lodge convention recently.

In answer to S.O.S. call from liner Ettingham, Mojave, coast cutter, battled mountainous seas to get to scene. Mojave took it in tow and brought disabled liner into Halifax, N.S.
