Opposition Labor Party Took One-Third of Popular Vote in Election; Nine Women Elected

OPPOSITION GAINS ONE

Three More Seats in British General Election Are Reported Since Yesterday

LONDON, Oct. 29.—Three more ridings in the British general election on Tuesday reported since yesterday, the National Liberals gaining one seat and the Independents two as a result.

National Government supporters now have 551 seats and Opposition followers, 60.

The four final results from London University, Inverness and two from English universities may not be known for some days.

PRESENT OF DESTROYER

Commander Brodeur Hands Handsome Memento to Mayor

Just prior to H. M. C. S. Skeena sailing for Port Simpson yesterday, Commander Victor G. Brodeur R. C. N., presented to Mayor Orme a large photograph of the "Skeena" in a handsome frame. The photograph, which was taken while the crack Canadian destroyer was cruising with the King and Queen of Siam and Royal party aboard, is presented by the Captain and Officers of H. M. C. S. Skeena to the residents of the Skeena district and, after being on exhibit for a few days, will be hung in the council chamber of the City Hall, and will serve as a pleasant reminder that the warship, which bears the name of the local river, made her first official call, on being appointed to the Pacific Station, at the port of Prince Rupert.

All Lady Members But One Are Conservatives—Thomas Had Tremendous Majority—Future of Lloyd George Causes Speculation

LONDON, Oct. 29.—Although the Opposition Labor Party was able to win only a relatively small number of seats in the British general election on Tuesday, it is estimated that, in the popular vote, Labor had more than half as many ballots as the Conservatives who took four-fifths of the seats. Taking into account the first 394 returns to be received in the election, figures compiled here showed that Conservatives received 6,155,467 votes; National Laborites, 208,278; National Liberals, 935,250 votes; Opposition Laborites, 3,495,612, and others, 128,935 votes. Later tabulation gave the National government two-thirds of the popular vote.

Returns from three isolated Irish seats were expected to be in late today but it may be several days before the results in the last four ridings to be accounted for are learned.

In Seaham Harbor riding, the focal point of the whole election, Premier J. Ramsay MacDonald received 28,978 votes and his official Labor opponent, William Coxson, 23,027. The third candidate, a Communist, polled 677 votes.

Record Majority
The remarkable victory of coalition government broke the previous record for size of party governing majorities, the previous record majority having been 370 which the Liberals were accorded in 1903.

Rt. Hon. David Lloyd-George, Liberal free trade leader, was given a substantial majority in his Welsh constituency of Carnarvon District. What will be the fate of Mr. Lloyd-George is a matter of much interest and speculation. There is a possibility that he may become official leader of the Opposition following the defeat of Rt. Hon. Arthur Henderson, the Labor leader. If not this, it will in all likelihood be political oblivion for the former Premier who is now 63 years of age.

Lady Astor had a majority of 10,000 in her riding of Sutton Plymouth. Eight other women were successful in the election and all were Conservatives except Miss Megan Lloyd-George, Georgian Liberal.

Rt. Hon. Winston Churchill, diehard Conservative and stormy petrel of British politics, piled up a big majority. He was accorded a margin of 15,000 votes over two opponents combined in Epping, Essex.

Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas had one of the most tremendous majorities in the whole election, piling up a lead of 27,000 in Derby seat.

Twenty-five Communist candidates were in the field but not a single one was elected. The result of the election was the worst blow that had been dealt the Labor party since it became a factor in British politics and leaders of the party are still virtually stupefied at the outcome.

Stewart Hospital Is Being Closed

Financial Situation Forces Directors to Take Drastic Step

STEWART, Oct. 29.—Directors of the Stewart General Hospital recently decided to close the institution down on October 31 unless financial assistance of a more substantial character is forthcoming meantime.

REPORT ON BAY ROUTE

English Ship Owning Concern Not Enthusiastic About Shipping Through Fort Churchill

OTTAWA, Oct. 29.—Owners of two steamers which made test shipments of wheat from Fort Churchill on Hudson Bay to England this year have failed to report favorably on this shipping route, it was revealed here yesterday.

No serious criticism has been made of the route by the Newcastle-on-Tyne interests which own the ships in reporting to the Department of Marine, but the efficacy of the route is questioned, particularly on the grounds of the short shipping season.

The company, nevertheless, states that it is ready to do business with Fort Churchill if and when such business may offer.

Third Officer Is Held Responsible for Wreck of American Steamer Columbia

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 29.—Third Officer Anthony Belluchi had his certificate suspended for a year by the court of inquiry into the wreck on September 13 of the steamer Columbia on the west coast of Mexico. He was found guilty of gross negligence, which was held responsible solely for the wreck. Other officers of the Columbia were exonerated.

MANY BOATS STILL OUT

Fifteen Canadian Halibut Fishing Vessels Still Out on Last Trips of Season—No Fish Today

There was no sale of halibut on the local Fish Exchange this morning, no boats being in with catches.

It was estimated this afternoon that there are still fifteen Canadian boats out as well as the American boats Tahoma and Wave which make this their headquarters port. The number of American boats still out is not known here. The fishing season will come to a close on Saturday at midnight.

Bravery of Prince George Officer Is Being Recognized

Provincial Constable Douglas J. Bingham of Prince George, son of former Chief of Police W. J. Bingham of Vancouver, has been awarded a parchment certificate by the Royal Canadian Humane Association for heroic conduct a few months ago in saving Mrs. G. F. Grosskleg of Vancouver from drowning in Burrard Inlet.

Bingham plunged into the water after he had seen Mrs. Grosskleg slip and fall from the North Vancouver ferry wharf. Although fully clothed, he managed to bring her to the surface and supported her there until help arrived. The accident occurred late at night.

There were three other $50,000 prizes, one going to Youngstown, Ohio, another to West Harris, Maine, and a third to Butler, Pennsylvania.

SIX LIVES IN DANGER

Actors Narrowly Escape Death in Making Film at Sea Off Portsmouth, England

LONDON, Oct. 29.—Six actors narrowly escaped death one night recently in the making of a submarine film at sea off Portsmouth. They were acting in a scene showing the crew of a sunken submarine escaping by means of life-saving apparatus.

As no submarine could be "flooded" for the purpose the actors had to descend under water by a rope. One member of the crew, Wang Wong, a Chinese, found himself entangled in the rope, and forgetful of his perilous position removed the mouthpiece. Water rushed into the apparatus and filled it, and Wang could not rise.

Sydney Seaward, one of the actors, reaching down and dragged the Chinese up to the surface, but Seaward, unable to support Wang and his own weight, was himself in danger until rescued by a boat. There were five actors to be "rescued" and the delay over the Chinese had made their plight a real one. A strong current had set in and was carrying them away, and though all could swim they were cumbered by the weight of the life-saving apparatus.

By the time the rescue boat reached the last of the five he was at the point of sinking.

Holding of Imperial Economic Conference in Canada as Soon As Possible Urged by Bennett

OTTAWA, Oct. 29.—Premier R. B. Bennett announced last night that the Canadian government will propose to the various governments of the Empire that the Imperial Conference, which was postponed last August, meet at Ottawa at the earliest possible date.

Premier Bennett expressed the hope that former difficulties which mitigated against holding the conference in the Canadian capital had now been removed. He based this hope on the result of the British general election.

DAILY EDITION Thursday, Oct. 29, 1931

EVERYONE FEELS BETTER

Yesterday among the business fraternity of the city there was a decidedly more optimistic feeling as a result of the outcome of the British elections. The opinion was freely expressed that it was the beginning of the upturn and that all the British nations and possibly all the nations of the world would benefit from the feeling of security and hopefulness that the election result had brought about. If other places feel like Prince Rupert, the psychological effect throughout the nation will be that conditions will improve, for the depression is the result of a psychological condition. When we feel normal we shall be normal. With improvement in Great Britain and a desire in that country to trade with the other sections of the Empire, fostered possibly by preferential trade relations, Canada is bound to feel the reflex. We may well look for better times before long.

RELATIVE SIZES

Olof Hanson, member for Skeena, draws attention to the fact that Great Britain, where the election was held Tuesday, and where over six hundred members were elected, is only about half the size of the constituency that he represents. That is why it is possible to have such a brief campaign. Travelling about the constituencies is not a problem there as it is here. To travel all over Skeena constituency would take several months, at least. Ours is a country of great distances, of difficult transportation, of high mountains and deep and fertile valleys. It is, speaking generally, an uninhabited country, for there is settlement only at a comparatively few points and even there settlement is sparse. Britain is a garden country, where most of the land is cultivated or in use as pasture. Cities are not far apart and towns and villages in large numbers intervene.

MEANING OF ELECTION

The election in Britain does not mean that the people of that country are not in sympathy with labor and its aspirations. It means that they are not in sympathy with those who would wreck the country in the hope of upsetting the present order and replacing it by another. The British people are not like people of a good many other nations. They have always been leaders in world improvements and especially in improving the condition of the workers and they will continue to be that. They have tried experiments, some of which have succeeded and some of which have failed. There are no illiterate people in the country, such as was the case in Russia where the bulk of the people could not read or write at the time of the revolution. They are all more or less intelligent, read the newspapers, discuss politics and social questions and are beginning to move about and mix with their fellows in other parts of the country.

Doubtless labor in that country will learn a lesson from this election. It is an object lesson to the world and will have a salutary effect everywhere.

WORLD CONSCIOUSNESS

The interest taken almost throughout the world in the British elections is an indication of the spread of the spirit of world consciousness. The one-ness of mankind is also shown in the keen interest taken in the Japanese efforts to take Manchuria and the influences at work holding them back.

The time will come in all probability when there will be a world federation including all nations but this will be very gradual. Possibly prior to that there will be a federation of the English-speaking nations.

INTERFERE WITH WORK

Bruhn Fearful of Ottawa Action on Relief Work—Political Influence
Banned

Serious curtailment by Ottawa of British Columbia's constructive relief plan, well under way, will mean that a large number of men who have not yet been absorbed by work now proceeding will have to go on direct relief.

It will mean, too, states Hon. R. W. Bruhn, minister of public works, in an interview with the Vancouver Province, that men now employed in camps may have to be rotated on jobs. This will result in dissatisfaction among the men and inefficiency in the work, he declares.

While he did not describe it as such in so many words, the minister clearly indicates that drastic revision of relief schemes by Ottawa will mean dislocation of B. C.'s plans—almost disorganization. Mr. Bruhn returned to Vancouver Sunday after a ten-day trip in Northern and Central British Columbia. He has not been in close touch with Victoria, and is not certain of developments there or in Ottawa.

"If Ottawa seriously curtails the program agreed to by their representatives earlier in the year," said Mr. Bruhn, repeating a question, "it will mean that a large number of men not yet placed on work will have to be looked after by direct relief. It is my belief that direct relief is obtainable, not only to the unemployed, but to the general public. I believe that the majority of people in this province agree that men should be given the opportunity to work. In view of Mr. Bennett's statement that every man must be provided with work I take it that direct relief is objectionable to the federal authorities.

Warned About Cost

"People of British Columbia have been warned what this relief work will cost, but I think they are prepared to meet the situation by the present method. From my conversations with citizens in all parts of the province I think the sentiment is strong in favor of providing work—that is of value to the province.

"It must be remembered that the work we are doing is mainly on the trans-Canada highway—new construction—or improvement on existing highways. What we are doing is advancing our road program a few years. The work will have to be done eventually.

"The value of work as against direct relief is impressed on one who has made a trip such as that I have just finished. I was in Prince Rupert, in Skeena, Omineca, Prince George and in the camps between Ashcroft and Spences Bridge. I think the greatest benefit is providing work for young men. Keeping these men from idleness means everything to the future of this country. "After all, the allowance paid these men is barely sufficient to take care of them. We are getting good work from the men now in camps. In the northern parts of the province we are employing as many settlers' teams as possible, and using little machinery. A few weeks' employment for these settlers and their horses may be enough to tide them over the winter.

"Facts of the case are that unless additional work is opened up in the near future we will be faced with the necessity of rotating men now employed. This will create dissatisfaction among the men and result in inefficiency. It may seem that the number of men now employed—between 11,000 and 12,000—is large; but the fact that there are 57,000 registered unemployed is eloquent of the need, not only to carry on present undertakings, but to open new work. With the exception of gangs on the highway east of Prince George, the number of transients employed is not large. Most of them are residents of the province.

Influence Banned

"While I have received no specific complaints on the score, I have heard it rumored that political influence is interfering with employment at camps. I know that this is not so in most places, and if such is the case in any instance it will be searchingly investigated both by provincial and federal authorities. The same thing applies to purchase of supplies. This is being carried out without discrimination. I find that purchases of supplies locally has created quite a revival of business in the smaller communities. "During my trip I have made it plainly understood that political discrimination will not be tolerated. It has been said, too, that men are employed in camps who do not need the work. After consultation with Mr. Michael McGeough, representative in British Columbia of the federal department of labor, on this phase of the situation, it has been decided to appoint local district committees which will be charged with the task of passing on the qualifications of registrants. These committees will be composed of Provincial Government agents and representative citizens, who will see that strict impartiality is observed. It was the original wish of the Dominion Government that men allotted work at road camps should be engaged through the federal employment office where they were registered. This system was observed. It will now be supplemented by supervision of selection by the committees, to be appointed immediately," concluded the minister.

TO MATCH DEMPSEY?

Former Champion Has Not Yet Heard of New York Bout—Off on Another Tour Soon

RENO, Oct. 29.—Returning here yesterday from a hunting trip in the Northwest, Jack Dempsey, former world's heavyweight boxing champion, stated that he had not heard from Jimmy Johnstone, promoter of Madison Square Garden, in regard to a rumored match between himself and Primo Carnera or Vittorio Campolo in New York next February.

Dempsey made it plain, however, that he had no intention of taking on any of the major heavyweights of the day until he was assured that he was in the best of physical condition.

Jack is about to start on another barnstorming tour which will take him to Illinois, Iowa, Nebraska and Texas.

SPORT CHAT

The distinction of being the only Montreal-born player in British professional soccer, and possibly the only Canadian, goes to James Keneway, who sailed last week for Glasgow to join the famous Glasgow Celtic Club. Keneway, who has been goal-keeper for United States teams, returned to Montreal to visit his parents before leaving for Scotland. He is recognized as one of the best soccer goal-keepers on this continent, and has received a year's contract for Celtic.

Max Carey, former Pittsburgh centerfielder and later coach of the Brooklyn Robins of the National League, has been named manager of the Robins for 1932, succeeding Wilbert Robinson. Carey was named at a meeting of the Brooklyn Robins directorate. His selection was said to have been unanimous. The deposing of Robinson, portly boss of the once high flying Robins for seventeen years, brings to an end a bitter war, which has been waged for several years between Uncle Robbie and the heirs of Charles Ebbets and Steve McKeever, one of the largest stockholders in the club. Carey's contract is for one year.

GROVE IS SELECTED

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Robert Moses (Lefty) Grove, star south-paw hurler of the Philadelphia Athletics, has been voted the most valuable player in the American League for the 1931 season by a committee of newspaper sports writers. Lou Gehrig, New York Yankees, with 58 points, was second choice and Al Simmons, Athletics, third with 51 points.

Some time ago Frank Frisch of the St. Louis Cardinals was selected most valuable player in the National League.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—The State Boxing Commission has denied a license to Benny Leonard, former world's heavyweight champion, who has been desiring to re-enter the ring as a welterweight.

RELIEF WORK

Editor, Daily News:—In reference to relief work in this city: I saw in last night's paper that they were cutting down the work to 16 days. I cannot see that this is any relief for men with families. There are some cases in this city it would not allow them six dollars a month each. How does a council expect men to live on that? Do they mean the children are to starve when other men with no dependents nor house rent to pay are allotted the same? They seem to be the men that get the job with the most money in it.

I hope when the inspector arrives in Prince Rupert he will look into these better than our council, and give fair play and that he will strike off those who have been put on by influence of strawbosses and foreman.

KITIMAAT INDUCTION

Rev. Wm. Burton Takes Over Pastoral Duties at Native Village

The induction of Rev. Wm. Burton into the pastoral charge of Kitimaat United Church took place recently. The inconvenience of reaching Kitimaat made it necessary to have the service on Sunday during the visit of the "Thomas Crosby" and the customary induction program had to be somewhat curtailed by reason of the fact that only two members of the Presbytery were able to be present. Nevertheless the service, the first of its kind held in that district, was one of much interest and profit to the congregation assembled.

Following a brief baptismal service by Mr. Burton, the Rev. W. H. Gibson of Bella Bella, chairman of the Presbytery, presided, preaching from the words of Paul in Acts 15: 26. The usual questions having been submitted and answered, Mr. Gibson in the name of the Presbytery, formally inducted Mr. Burton into the pastoral charge of Kitimaat after which Capt. Oliver addressed words of counsel to the congregation.

Not the least helpful contributions to the whole service was the singing of Charlie Scott, brother of Capt. Scott of the Crosby, both widely known for their successful marine missionary work up and down the coast.

Guide to Correspondents

The Daily News welcomes correspondence on live topics of the day or any other subject of public interest, but letters must be brief and to the point. The long-winded correspondent has no place in modern journalism. Every letter must be signed by the writer, not necessarily for publication but as a matter of good faith and courtesy. All unsigned documents go to the waste paper basket. Letters of a caustic character must have the signature appended for publication. Letter should be written on one side of the paper only. Correspondents must avoid personalities and the language should be such as would be allowed in the ordinary rules of debate.

Capt. Henry Edenshaw of Massett Visits Vancouver

VANCOUVER, Oct. 29.—Less than a hundred years ago the Haida Indians in their long black war canoes came down from their villages on the Queen Charlotte Islands and spread terror in the region now occupied by Vancouver.

But when Henry Edenshaw, 65-year-old son of the late chief of the Haidas, came to Vancouver recently the situation was reversed. The noise and activity of the city terrified the Indian. He was eager to return to the peace of the Queen Charlottes.

Civilization, however, is not a new thing to Edenshaw. For twenty-six years he has been a lay reader of the Church of England and he attended the general synod meeting in Toronto.

Like many of his tribe, Mr. Edenshaw is a "white Indian." While his face and hands are dark, he rolled back his sleeves to show an arm as light as that of any white man.

He explained that the origin of the Haidas has never been settled, but that they are very different from any other North American Indians.

His Father Was Hero

His father, the late Chief Edenshaw, is the hero of many incidents which have come down in the history of the Pacific Coast. He is credited with being largely responsible for establishing peace between his warlike people and the whites.

Mr. Edenshaw is a quietly dressed, quietly spoken man. Black coat, dark grey trousers, a gold nugget as a tie-pin, and another as a watch fob, because he likes "natural things best." It is hard to realize he is just one generation removed from Indian warfare and bloodshed.

His mission work has included assisting in the translation of three of the books of the Bible into the Haida language.

Conditions among his people aren't so good as they have been, but they'll manage, he says.

"They can get all the fish and game and wood they need free and pay no taxes."

A total of 548 girls, the majority between the ages of 12 and 16, were dropped from the rolls of New York public schools during the last academic year because of marriage, one bride was 12, three were 13, 48 were 14 and 133 were 15.

Presbyterian Young People's Hallowe'en Social Is Enjoyable

The regular meeting of the Presbyterian Young People's Society was held Tuesday evening in the Church hall which was tastefully decorated in Hallowe'en colors. Forty-one members were present with President E. J. Smith in the chair. Miss Caroline Mitchell was the speaker for the evening and gave a very interesting address on her recent trip to the Orient.

Hallowe'en games in charge of Rev. W. D. Grant Hollingworth were played for the balance of the evening, Bishop Thurber winning the prize for the treasure hunt.

The meeting closed about eleven o'clock, with refreshments, which included the customary Hallowe'en apples and peanuts.

The committee in charge of the program consisted of Miss Eileen Osborne, Miss Helen Walker, Miss Sheila Stuart and Jock Redpath.
