Invaders Are Ready to Use Heavier Artillery In Attack On Chapei

Defenders Given Until Today to Evacuate—British and United States Troops Blockade Flank Movement at Border of International Settlement

SHANGHAI, Feb. 9.—Having been unable with the artillery used so far to force the Chinese defenders out of the Chapei native district of Shanghai, the Japanese gave notice to the Chinese last night that it was their intention to enter Chapei and that, if the Chinese had not withdrawn by today, they would use larger guns on the position. This is taken to mean that the Japanese intend to bombard the settlement with large naval guns from warships anchored in the Whang-poo River.

Foreign powers continued their protest yesterday at Japanese military planes continuing to operate over the international settlement. British soldiers took a hand yesterday in blockading a flank attack of the Japanese against the Chinese at the border of the international settlement. United States Marines assisted the British troops. With Japanese troops on the one side and Chinese on the other, the British and Americans were believed to be in a delicate position.

It is believed that Burstall took his own life during a fit of despondency. He was the son of the late J. F. Burstall of Quebec and had a fortune of $200,000 in his own right. Despite this, he had resolutely refused to leave the north.

Cornett Proposes to Reduce Four Northern Seats to Three

The above is included in a plan for redistribution which has been put forward by J. W. Cornett, M. L. A. for South Vancouver and chief government whip in the legislature. Mr. Cornett's plan is to reduce the number of seats from 48 to 40. Victoria city representation would be cut from four to two.

ACTION AT LAST

While action is rather belated we are glad to know that the governments at Ottawa and Victoria have united to give employment to the men working in the road camps. Half-time is a good deal better than no work. While the rate of pay has not been mentioned, doubtless the men will be given enough money to pay for their clothes and smokes.

We still think the men should have been provided work all winter but all Prince Rupert people will be pleased to know that something is being done during the early spring. It will harden the men for other employment that they are hoping to get later.

DOES IT MEAN ELECTION?

Plans are apparently being developed for the transfer of the P. G. E. to a wealthy syndicate which will relieve the province of part of the interest charges against the road. The railway is considered by the syndicate to have no value, so they are asking the government for over twenty million dollars worth of land and timber and mineral rights for the twenty million dollars it is suggested they may pay over. They will then complete the line to Vancouver and extend it to Prince George and presumably into the Peace River country.

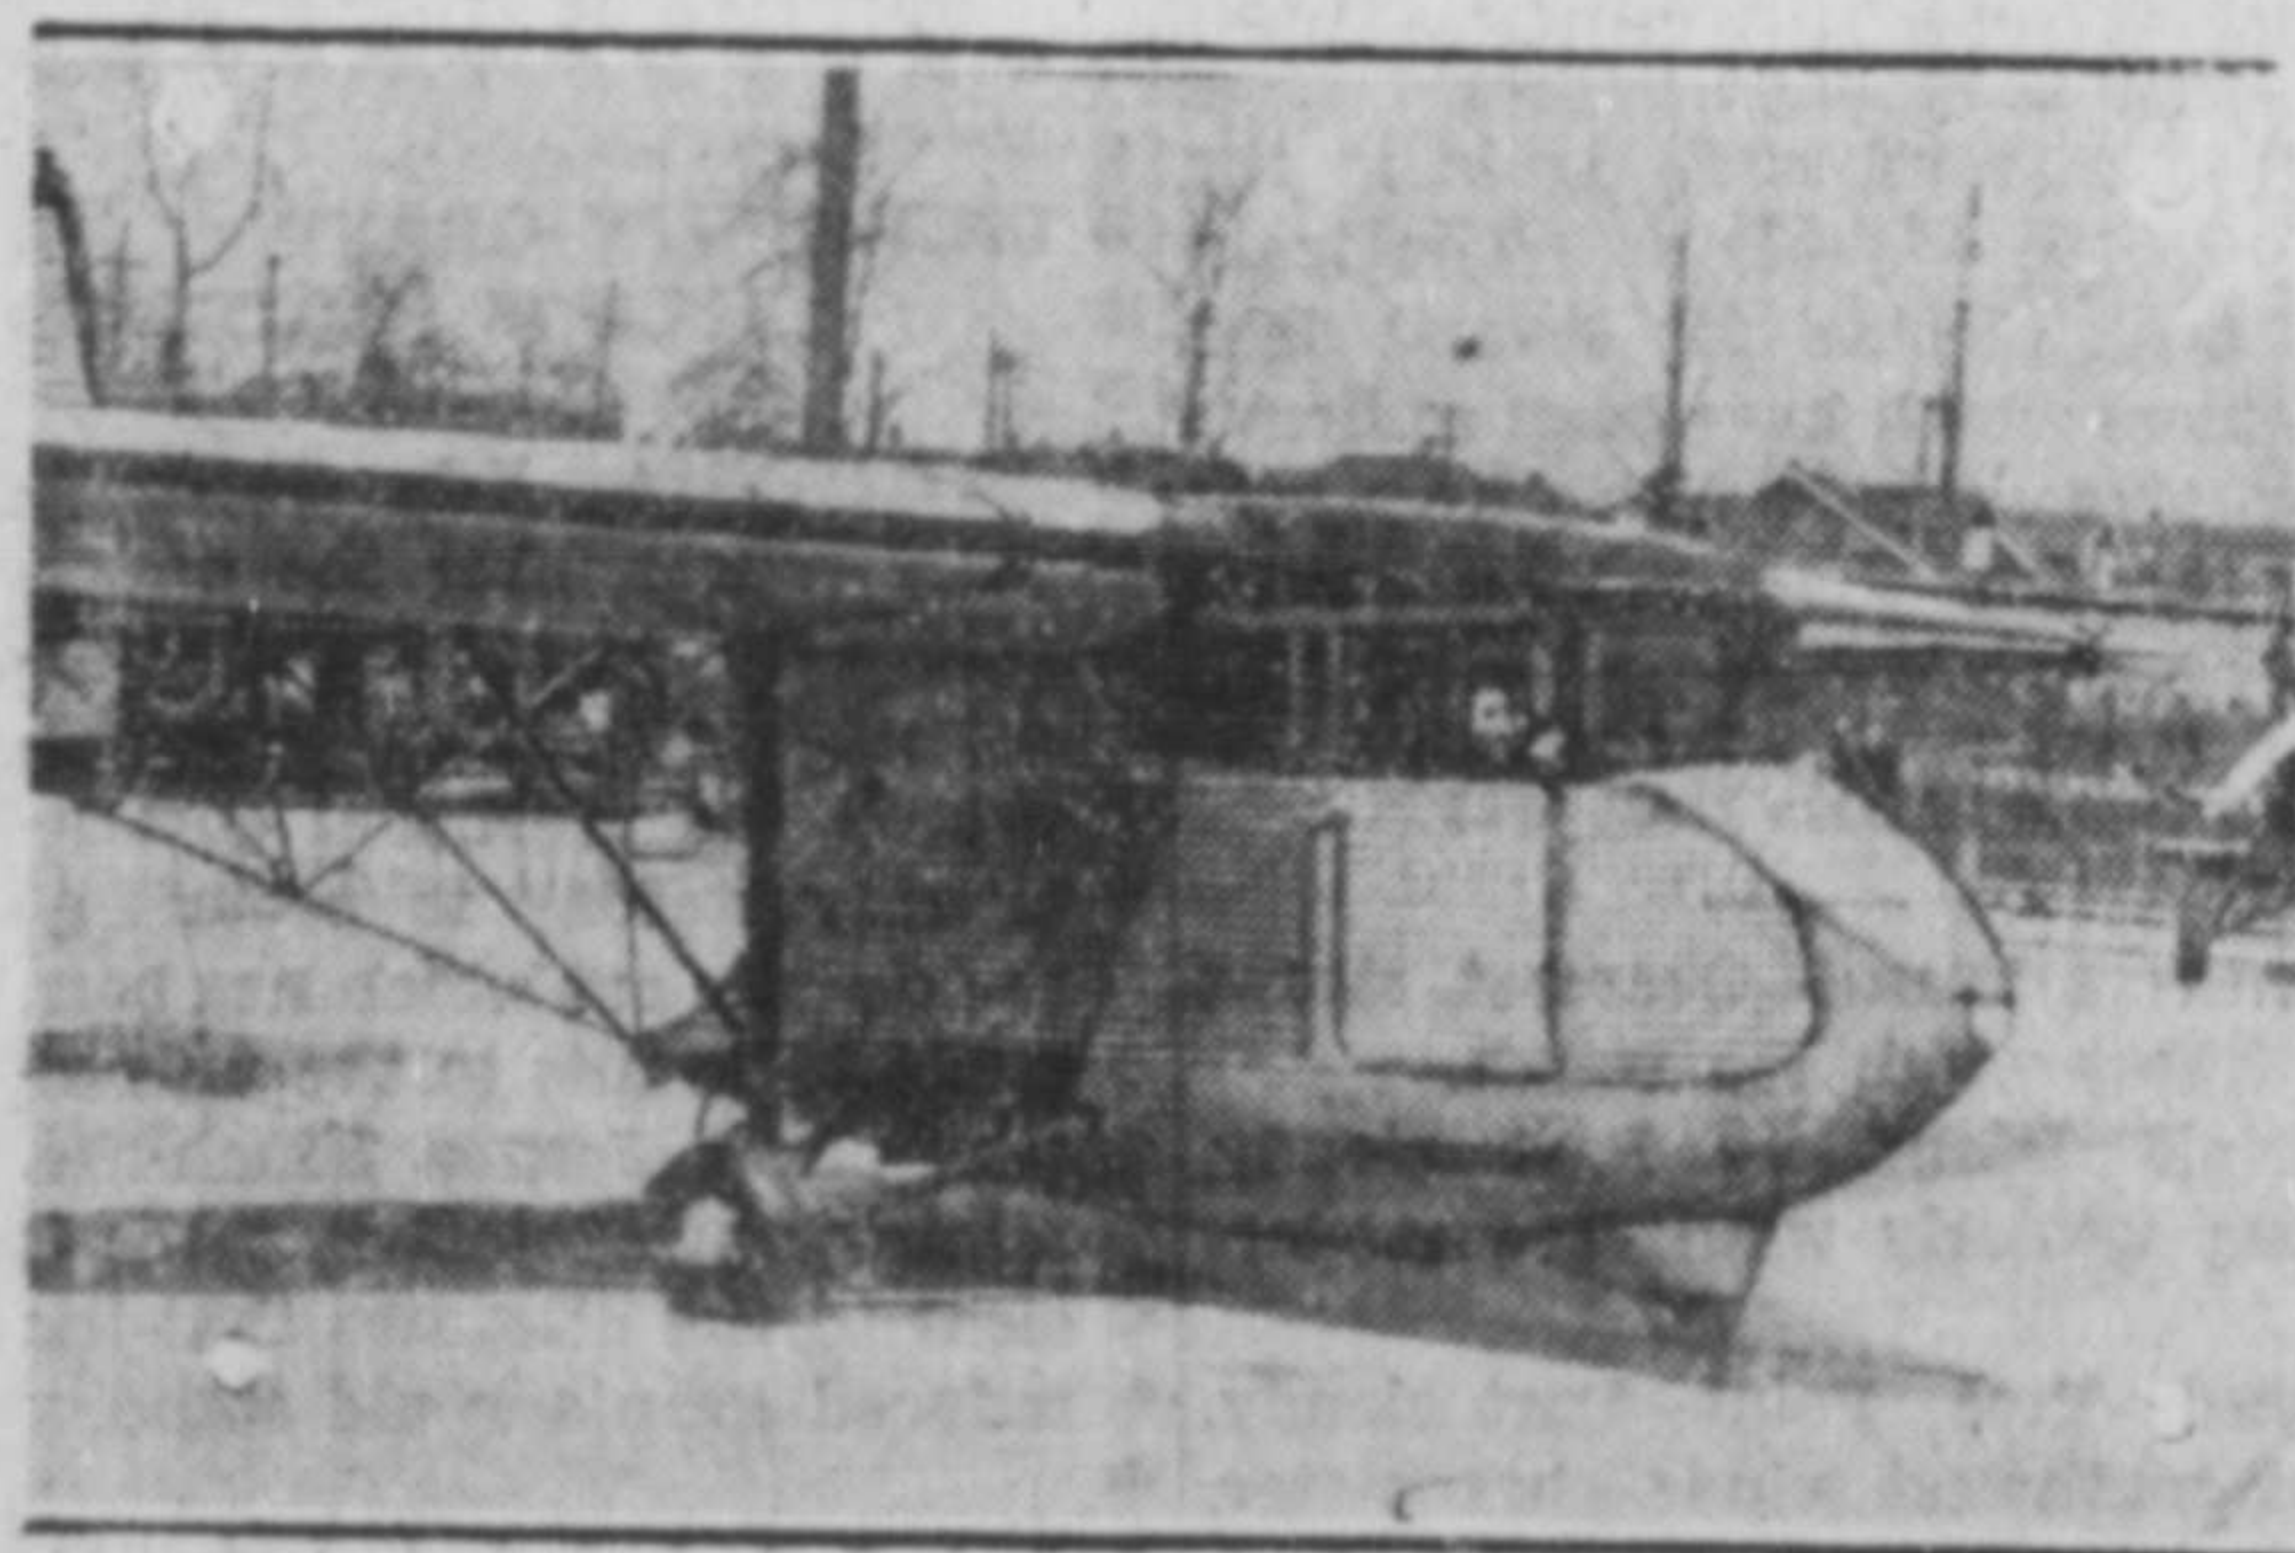

This scheme has been incubating for the past two years but for a year the government refused to have anything to do with it. They were hoping that one or both of the two big railroads would take over the P. G. E. and make it part of their system. Having failed in persuading the C. P. R. and the C. N. R. that the line had any value, the government has turned to the syndicate and is said to be trying to work out a scheme which the electors may approve.

To go to the people on their record even the most optimistic government supporter realizes would be futile. Every indication is that they would be beaten just as the government candidate was beaten in Columbia. They might as well resign as do that. Now they have turned to the Pacific Great Eastern line which has wrecked former governments and cling to it as a means of pulling them out of the political slough. In this dilemma they have invoked the aid of the federal government and it has come forward with a scheme of part-time payments for the unemployed. This is looked upon by some people as a sure sign that a provincial election is in the offing.

WILL THEY TAKE THE BAIT?

Will the electors take the bait? That is another question being asked. Supporters of the government say that the new constituency to be formed in Peace River will vote for any railway scheme that will give them coastal communication. Prince George, already in the government fold, is also expected to vote for it along with Quesnel. North Vancouver stakes its industrial life on the railway and Vancouver will back it also. That is the view of government supporters. Opposition supporters say they are not so sure that the people will take the bait. They think that when T. D. Pattullo starts to pick the scheme to pieces the people will realize that it would be unwise to trust the present group with the administration of the affairs of the province any longer no matter what scheme may be concocted for luring the electors.

SCRAPPING OLD BOAT

Princess Royal Through After 25 Years of Service

Another link with the colorful past in British Columbia and Alaskan shipping will be severed next month when ss. Princess Royal of the Canadian Pacific Railway's British Columbia Coast Steamship fleet will be scrapped after 25 years of service.

Survivor of a famous trio of ships which included the ss. Princess Beatrice and ss. Princess May in the B. C.-Alaskan service during the earlier years of the century following the spectacular Yukon gold rush when the north country rapidly was unfolding its wealth to an ever-increasing army of pioneers, the Princess Royal witnessed a great portion of the northland's interesting history.

In her earlier days on the Alaska run she was the carrier of bearded, high-booted miners, sleek, well-dressed fur dealers, merchants and traders, dance hall girls, trappers, mining engineers, tourists and all the interesting characters who travelled into the north. In her strong boxes was gold from the Klondyke and Bonanza Creek and she witnessed the humor, tragedy and high adventure of a stirring decade in the history of the Land of the Midnight Sun.

SS. Princess Royal was built by the British Columbia Marine Railway at Victoria, B.C., in 1907. She was of timber construction, length 228 feet, beam 46 feet, draft loaded 15 feet and speed 14 knots. In her day a veritable "luxury" liner, she carried 600 on day runs and "slept" 164 on night runs.

Ran to North Coast
 Originally designed for Northern B. C. and Alaska service she first went into the north run with the old Princess Beatrice and Princess May. When the Princess Sophia came out in 1912 she was withdrawn from the Alaska run and used on local routes out of Vancouver and Victoria. For a time she was in the overnight service between the two B. C. cities.

As she became more or less outmoded by smart new sister-ships in the B. C. Coast Steamship fleet the "Royal" developed into a sort of floating jack of all trades. In 1926 and 1927 she operated on the Vancouver, Powell River, Union Bay, Comox route and in April, 1928 replaced the Princess Beatrice on the Vancouver, Ocean Falls, Prince Rupert service, taken over in May, 1929 by the Princess Mary. Since then she has operated regularly on the Vancouver, Powell River, Comox runs with the exception of periodical transfers to the Vancouver, Victoria and Gulf Islands service. A commodious ship, the Princess Royal was unfailingly popular with regular travellers. Oldtimers, especially, will recognize in her passing the disappearance of another of the fast disappearing little band of ships which since the early part of the century have carried civilization along 1200 miles of rugged coast.

During her long career many officers of the B. C. Coast fleet have served on the Princess Royal, among them Capt. C. D. Neroutses, manager of the B. C. Coast Steamship service, who was once her captain.

CAUSE OF INSANITY

Due to Emotional Upsets in Mind, Medical Science Finds

MONTREAL, Feb. 9.—"More and more is medical science driven to the finding that the cause of insanity is dependent upon the emotional upsets of the human mind upon the thinking side—the intellect."

In a comprehensive review of conditions breeding mental instability and medicine's fight to cure insanity, Dr. E. C. Menzies, of the Verdun Protestant Hospital, stressed that the subject was an important one "for in Montreal there are more hospital beds devoted to the care of mental patients than there are to those physically ill." He was addressing the Lions' Club.

He found that a lack of interest in the fight against the scourge of dementia came about as a result of a widespread feeling that mental cases were more or less hopeless, as compared with the physical cases. As a matter of fact, this feeling was largely erroneous since the percentage of mental patients discharged from hospitals as fit to resume their former occupations is nearly as large as the percentage discharged from purely medical and surgical wards.

The feeling of hopelessness arises from the fact that the percentage of mental patients who do not get well have to remain in the hospital for the rest of their natural lives—often 30 or 40 years.

Emotional breakdowns played an important part in insanity," he continued. "Most mental patients had their mind intact, but had suffered a mental breakdown as result of their failure to support emotional stress. People who were unable to stand lacerations to their emotional life, people who failed to face emotional problems squarely—these were the mental patients of the future," the speaker stressed.

Today's train from the east, due at 10:40 this morning, has been delayed for about five hours in arriving on account of a snowslide on the Skeena River at Mile 59.7 just east of Salvo. It was expected this morning that the train would probably arrive about 3:40 this afternoon.

The Letter Box

POLICE ADMINISTRATION

Editor, Daily News:—
At the present moment our voters are called upon to give most serious consideration to the question of our police administration, and next week to express their opinion by ballot.

To my mind there is at present very little, if any, justification for submitting this issue to the people. The time of the annual municipal election would have been the most appropriate.

At the present time people are generally making an endeavor to centralize police administration and struggling in many places to remove same from local politics. Why should it then be advisable for our city to put its police affairs back to politics? The ordinary law-abiding citizen feels satisfied that since 1926, when arrangements were made with the provincial police, we have had the most efficient police administration in the history of our city. Do we want to revert to conditions as they existed prior to 1926?

It may be safely said, that we are over-governed. Up to 1926 we had three police forces in our city. It was to remedy this and to avoid duplications in police matters as well as to remove the police from "string-pulling" local influences that our voters in 1926 and once later decided to have the provincial police assume the function of city police.

It has been suggested that this proposed change is in the interest of economy. It is estimated that it will cost our city about $3,000 to again set up their own police department. Under present economic conditions are we justified in spending this money? The provincial police are now operating under a definite agreement with the city as to number of men on the force. If the present number of men is considered too large, the matter can easily be adjusted between the council and the province and the cost reduced accordingly.

According to city records the cost of operating the police department from 1911 to 1925, inclusive, was an average of $15,823.00 per year. The cost from 1927 to 1931, inclusive, under provincial police, was an average of $14,258.00, or an annual saving of $1,565.00.

Where does the economy then come in with a proposed change? The function of the police is to see that the laws of our country are observed, and our ordinary average citizen has no quarrel with the police in their endeavors to enforce the law, or to see that it is not openly violated.

It would almost seem, that the only reason for a change would be to give some people a chance to interfere in police administration, or to direct just how and when the law should be applied. We do not want that. We want the law enforced without partiality or favors, and this can only be done under our present system.

In the best interests of our city it is to be hoped that the voters will go to the poll on the 18th and vote for the continuing of the provincial police, both in the interest of economy and fair enforcement of the law without political or local interference. This done, the city council will no doubt at an early date come to some satisfactory arrangement with the provincial government for a reduced force at a correspondingly reduced cost.

Mrs. Walter Miller, Natch Hill, B.C., writes:—"The climate here in the winter time is very changeable, and the children catch cold very easily. I have always found that a few doses of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup will relieve them at once. why the Daily News had such a large circulation in the city. It was easy to answer. ## TALL ARE SMARTER

Effects of Disease on Intelligence of Children Investigated

LONDON, Feb. 9.—Are tall children more intelligent than short ones? Dr. Shepherd Dawson, in his report, "Intelligence and Disease," issued by the Medical Research Council, claims that they are. He states that children of a higher intelligence tend to be slightly taller than other children.

The report presents the results of an inquiry conducted at the Royal Hospital for Sick Children and the Ruchill Hospital, Glasgow, into the effect of disease on the intelligence of children and the relationship between intelligence and physical development. One thousand children, "drawn almost entirely," it is said, "from the very poorest and most miserable strata of society," have been examined. Dr. Dawson says there was "clear evidence of a correlation between height and intelligence which was greater for the boys than for the girls. The broad result of the investigation is that only disease of the brain itself affects intelligence. It was found that acute and chronic disease—other than cerebral—had little, if any harmful effect on intelligence, and, indeed, might have a stimulating effect.

RECONCILE VILLAGES

Indians of New Metlakatla, Metlakatla and Kitkatla Agree to Bury Old Differences

Progress is being made in efforts of the natives of New Metlakatla, Alaska, to effect a reconciliation with those of Metlakatla, B.C., and Kitkatla. The recent visit of four representatives from St. Elizabeth's Church, Ketchikan, to the church people of Metlakatla was part of the effect to bring about this reconciliation.

Those who know the early history of the Church of England Missions on the Northern British Columbia coast will remember that in those early days there were serious divisions of opinions between the founder of the mission, William Duncan, and the authorities of the Missionary Society which sent him to this field of service. The result of these differences was the withdrawal of Mr. Duncan and a large body of his followers from Metlakatla to Annette Island in Alaska, the work at Metlakatla being continued under Bishop Ridley. Father Duncan as he was familiarly called, established himself and followers on Annette Island calling their village New Metlakatla and his organization the Christian Church.

Of recent years a large number of the descendants of these natives have desired to return to the fold of their mother church. There has been erected a fine church building in Ketchikan and a progressive congregation is connected with it.

For some time this congregation has desired to establish friendly relationships with the people of their mother church at Old Metlakatla and this was brought to a head by the deputation of four headed by their native pastor, the Rev. Paul Mather. This deputation was joyfully received by the church people of Metlakatla. They were entertained by every organization in the church and village and the visiting deputation provided a fine banquet for their hosts. During these festivities the Ketchikan brethren presented from their people of St. Elizabeth Church the following resolutions:

Resolution Presented
"Whereas, we, the Tsimpsian members of St. Elizabeth's Episcopal Church in Ketchikan, Alaska, wish to be reconciled to our brother members of the Anglican Church in Metlakatla, B.C., therefore, be it resolved:
"1. That the undersigned committee, representing the communicants of St. Elizabeth's Church, sends cordial greetings and felicitations and heartfelt gratitude to the members of your community.
"2. That this committee wishes to express its sincere sorrow and contrition for this long-standing separation and misunderstanding in the tribe and its willingness, yearning to do all in its power to terminate this unchristian situation as soon as possible.

"3. That the two branches must ever bear in mind the noble soul, leader and apostle, Father Duncan, who led us forth from darkness into light in order that we may see, in whom and by whose work and ministry, we, the two Anglican branches of the tribe have a common bond and a common ideal. He was faithful to the end, and when our Heavenly Father took him from us, our hearts turned lovingly back to the church which had sent him to us, which is now shepherding us, administering the sacraments and feeding us with the Word of Life.

"4. That this same church of which we are both members should bind us together, heal our wounds, cleanse our faults, and make us truly one in heart, soul, and life in Him, who is the Author and giver of our life.

"5. That the God of peace may make us one, that His Spirit may guide us into all truth, and that we may work and pray in oneness of spirit to His honor and praise.

"Robert Ridley,
"Walter Calvert,
"Alex F. Guthrie."

Message in Reply
In return the Metlakatla church people gave the deputation the following message to be taken back to the church people at Ketchikan:

"On behalf of the members of St. Paul's Church, Metlakatla, B.C., we the undersigned leaders extend to you our hearty welcome on this your mission of reconciliation.
"We join with you in your sorrow and contrition for our long past separation and your desire to terminate the result of those evil days which occurred in the first days of the church at Metlakatla, B.C.
"We do not forget Father Duncan nor Bishop Ridley and others who were pioneer missionaries among us Tsimpsians and who opened our eyes to see the Light of the Gospel and who although they have departed to Eternity yet speaketh.
"We hereby declare that the church people of Metlakatla, B.C. welcome your offer of reconciliation and pray that we may all live in love and fellowship until we gather around that throne where only love and fellowship can enter.
"Signed on behalf of the congregation of St. Paul's Church, Metlakatla, B.C.

DRAMA IS POWERFUL

"Ladies of the Big House" is Heart-appealing Talking Picture

"Ladies of the Big House," current feature offering at the Capitol Theatre, is a heart-appealing story of a girl who is willing to, and does, make any sacrifice to preserve love. Caught unjustly with her man in the toils of the law, she takes desperate chances to triumph over fateful forces which are pitted against her, only to see each hope for success go glimmering until the last dramatic climax which brings all to a sunshiny conclusion.

As implied by the title, a penal institution makes the setting for a good deal of the picture. Those who saw and liked such pictures as "City Streets" and "Five Star Final" will appreciate "Ladies of the Big House."

Leading parts are taken by Sylvia Sidney, who is gaining note as one of the younger dramatic actresses, and by the handsome and good natured Gene Raymond. Wynne Gibson, Rockcliffe Fellows and Purnell Pratt are among those playing important supporting roles.

This is the first showing in British Columbia of "Ladies of the Big House," which only recently completed a successful run in one of New York's largest theatres.
