Gold Treasure Taken From Sunken Ship After Years' Struggle For $5,000,000

BREST, France, June 10.—The first fruits of two years of struggling to wrest a fortune of $5,000,000 from the bottom of the sea were reaped when divers from the Italian salvage ship Artiglio II rose above the surface today with $45,000 from the hold of the sunken steamer Egypt. The gold, in bullion form, represents the fruits of a quest which has cost 15 lives and two strong ships.

The Egypt was rammed and sunk off the French coast by a cargo steamer in 1922. Divers broke through into the gold room last November but winter weather prevented them from bringing any of the treasure out until now.

Five Planes Will Go To Great Bear Lake After Trip to Coast

Arrived Yesterday Afternoon and Landed on Shawatlans Lake—Objects of Expedition Are Revealed By Leader of Party

J. H. Eastman, head of an aerial prospecting expedition numbering five seaplanes, which arrived in Prince Rupert Thursday afternoon from Detroit, explained that the flight to the Pacific Coast was merely a side trip for the purpose of investigating a placer gold claim in Northern British Columbia southeast of Juneau. The real object of the expedition, Mr. Eastman declared, is to prospect for gold and other minerals in the Great Bear Lake area but it will be a month or six weeks before ice conditions will permit the operation of aircraft on Great Bear Lake and, for that reason, the trip to the coast is being made. The party decided to come west after being advised at Edmonton of ice conditions on Great Bear Lake. Soon they will fly back to Edmonton whence they will proceed north to their ultimate destination where they will spend the season.

The five planes, soaring at great height, arrived here at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon from Hazelton and left at 11 a.m. today for Juneau after refuelling and servicing. Instead of landing on the waterfront here as it was expected they would, all except one came down on Shawatlans Lake where they spent the night. Mr. Eastman explained that the ships were landed there because it was desirable to tie them up in fresh water and also where there was no tide. Furthermore, none of the pilots were familiar with landing facilities here.

Early this morning fuel was taken out to the planes at Shawatlans Lake to fill their tanks for the flight to Juneau. Two Weeks From Detroit It was two weeks ago yesterday that the five planes left Detroit. They immediately crossed into Canada at Windsor, Ont., and have made several refuelling stops on the flight across Canada. They spent a day or so at Edmonton and then flew over the Rocky Mountains to Prince George where they arrived Tuesday. On Wednesday the aerial fleet flew from Prince George to Hazelton with a two-hour stop at Burns Lake enroute. The flight from Hazelton to Prince Rupert, about 160 miles, took one hour and forty-five minutes. Good weather conditions have favored the expedition so far and there have been no untoward incidents. The planes, all Eastman flying (Continued on page three)

ONUS ON BRITAIN

It looks as if the European countries were trying to put the onus on Britain of breaking their reparations agreement with United States. Britain was the only country that was in a position to borrow to any large extent during the war and the result was that much of the war financing was done through her. The United States kept out of the big fight until near the end and made huge sums of money supplying the contenders with arms, ammunition, food and other necessities for the conflict. Some of this money was loaned to Britain and used by her or passed on to the allies for use in the war.

In reviewing the history of the war Europeans conclude that the United States should be assessed at least the amount of their loans to Britain as their share of the cost of the war. That would mean repudiation of the war debts as is being suggested. When France asks Britain to repudiate her debt to United States it indicates that she is a party to the general movement to have the war debts cancelled. If this were done it is intimated that the business of the world would begin to improve and the present period of depression would pass away. The whole question will be discussed at Lausanne but the chief stumbling block is the United States elections in the fall. Whatever action is taken at Lausanne will be used for political purposes by one or more of the U. S. parties and as the Senate must ratify any action taken it is not likely that anything will be settled this year, at any rate until after November.

PLACER MINING

Gold is still king and as placer mining is the easiest and surest way of securing the pure metal, thousands of people are today engaged in washing the sands and gravels of the various gold-bearing rivers and creeks of the country. With wages low and unemployment rife many men who ordinarily would not take a chance on two or three dollars a day with a gold rocker now feel themselves rich if they can secure that much and board and house themselves in the country without having to punch the time clock. The result is that more gold is being produced from placer mines than for many years past and this summer seems likely to make a new record. Men tire of the concentration camps and consult the mining engineer or mining men as to the possibilities of setting up a rocker on some creek not too far from human habitation. They get the best information possible and then set out to win the gold which has lured people since the beginning of time.

PREMIER IS INDISCREET

Bennett Criticized By Financial Post For His Action

It was a most unfortunate coincidence that the prime minister of Canada should have been throwing out some indiscreet hints of serious financial trouble in Canada just when the "pegs" of minimum prices for Canadian bank stock were greatly reduced, says the Financial Post editorially. There went out from Ottawa last week the news that the government had taken up to itself extraordinary powers to meet financial crisis. There went out from the stock markets of Canada the news that the stocks of our leading banks had taken a headlong tumble in price. Naturally the governments and financiers of the world put two and two together and there was almost a panic raid on Canada in the middle of last week. Cables were received, by banks, trade representatives and government officials from practically every country in the world demanding to know what was going to break in Canada. People telephoned the office of The Financial Post asking confirmation of the wildest rumors. At least one of the largest newspapers in the United States sent a reporter to Canada to get the story and when he could not find anything upon which to base a sensational yarn he made up his

"facts" and sent a panic story anyway. In a time of general world crisis, when nerves are on edge, when capital is timid, when it is so difficult to keep things on an even keel, any such panic feeling is apt to cause immeasurable harm. It is a tribute to the solidity of Canadian institutions that there was little surface rippling to indicate the tenseness behind the scenes as a result of the false impressions that were circulated.

What Premier Sought
 The prime minister was seeking emergency legislation but he already had all the powers he needed to meet any important crisis. He was simply asking for powers to be used in case of dire necessity, not for powers to meet an immediate situation. But he did not make this clear. His statements were indiscreet and indiscreet. They were misinterpreted, as was inevitable. The removal on the Montreal Stock Exchange of the higher pegs on the bank stocks merely brought these shares down to the prices at which they were being sold in private transactions anyway. The action was on no significance. The Financial Post has opposed minimum stock prices from the start and has forecast that the dropping of pegs would lead to misinterpretation.

In trying times like this the public authorities and the directors of our financial institutions such as the stock exchanges, should consider their actions and statements carefully.

SALMON SELLING

Newfoundland Firms Are Co-operating in Disposing of Frozen Stocks

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., June 10.—Since the introduction of modern rapid freezing methods into the Newfoundland salmon fishery, an important industry has been developed which in 1930 resulted in the sale of approximately 4,000,000 pounds of product. Last year, however, production was severely restricted due to a large carryover on the British market and also to the lowering of consumption in Great Britain due to depressed conditions there. Production was less than half of the previous year although exports reached over 3,000,000 pounds as compared with approximately 4,000,000 pounds in 1930.

For 1932, according to H. R. Brookes, director of Job Bros., another small output is expected and the objective for the season is being set at only 1,000,000 pounds with both Job Bros. and Harvey & Co. co-operating for the season. Both these firms are co-operating with British houses in order to build up a steady permanent market for this product. According to the St. John's Daily News, the price to be paid for salmon will be four cents per pound on the east coast, that is one cent per pound less than last year. On the French shore and on the Labrador coast the price will be three cents per pound.

yachts, designed by Mr. Eastman and manufactured by the Detroit Aircraft Co., are comparatively small two-place machines. The fuselages are metal-covered and the wings are of fabric over metal framework. They are biplanes and are equipped with 180 h.p. Curtis-Challenger engines. Their cruising speed is about 85 miles per hour and maximum speed 110 miles per hour.

There is only one man in each plane, all extra space being used for carrying equipment and provisions. The personnel of the flight party is: J. H. Eastman, Frank Byerley and J. J. Harrigan of Detroit; E. C. Burton of Toronto, and D. M. Emery of Ottawa. The expedition is being financed by a Detroit and Toronto syndicate. All arrangements have been made for the flying in the Great Bear Lake region. It will be necessary to freight fuel and supplies north from Fort McMurray to the base of operations of the planes.

REGIMENT WON GAME

Home Oil Unfortunate Last Night in Having 6 to 2 Defeat Inflicted Upon Them

Home Oil was unfortunate to lose by such a wide margin as 6 to 2 to the Regiment in last night's City League football fixture. The losers had a much larger snare of the play than the score would indicate and lost only through lack of experience of the younger players and slackness of defence. Weather was ideal and a large crowd of fans witnessed the match with considerable interest. The game ended nine minutes before full time by mutual consent of the captains after the ball had burst.

Teams were as follows: Home Oil—Moxley; Stalker and Jye; Murray, Webster and Howe; Fisher, Nakamoto, Davies, Marshall and Palmer.

Regiment—Smith; Blake and Watson; Edgcombe, Wingham and Walters; Redpath, Vance, Colussi, and Clark.

J. A. Johnstone was referee and linesmen were Gomez and Ferguson.

The Regiment seemed little handicapped by the fact that it had only ten men on the field and had the first half all in its favor except for an occasional break-away by Home Oil. After 25 minutes Edgcombe scored the first goal for Regiment, Colussi making the second in 30 minutes, Clark the third in 35 minutes and Vance the fourth in 42 minutes on a cross from Walters on the right wing. The teams crossed over with the score four to nil in favor of Regiment.

Second Half

In the second half, Home Oil made a much better showing and the game was considerably more even. The Oil men tried hard and were unfortunate in not having a more even score. Slackness in defence was a weak point. Three minutes after the start of the period, Nakamoto opened the scoring for Home Oil with a good goal from a corner kick taken by Palmer. Three minutes later Colussi made the fifth for the Regiment after a fast run on the left wing. In 17 minutes Home Oil scored another through Palmer who took a corner kick, the ball rebounding to him and he returning it to goal over Smith's head. What appeared to be a goal for Home Oil even then was made sure of when Blake of the Regiment deflected it into his opposing goal. Moxley saved well when Walters put in a good shot. Webster then had a good shot at the other end but Smith saved well. In 26 minutes, Regiment scored again through Clark. With nine minutes to go to full time, the ball burst and the game was awarded to Regiment by mutual consent of the captains.

Webster, Nakamoto and Stalker gave Home Oil best service while Watson, Wingham and Colussi starred for the Regiment.

The final game of the City League schedule will take place next Tuesday night between Home Oil and Merchants.

City League Standing

AVOIDING DEFAULT

Imperial Oil Co. Comes to Rescue of Newfoundland in Financing—Monopoly is Granted

In this time of extreme depression when world financiers turn a deaf ear to those offering government bonds, Newfoundland is preventing default on $2,500,000 of bonds falling due on July 1, 1932, by an underwriting agreement with Imperial Oil Co., which has for many years exercised a virtual monopoly in the importation and sale of the principal petroleum products, says Financial Post. Enabling legislation has been passed whereby Sir John Middleton, Governor—or someone acting in his absence—can sign an agreement, effected with Imperial Oil by three experts employed by Government to guide it through these troublous times, whereby that company underwrites at 97, $1,750,000 of a new $2,500,000 issue of 5½ per cent. bonds to be offered the people of Newfoundland.

In return Imperial Oil is given a legal and actual monopoly of its business in Newfoundland in place of the virtual monopoly obtained by it under competitive conditions during he past 15 years. Present duties and sales taxes are removed automatically with the signing of the agreement and in their place a royalty of 8 cents a gallon on gasoline, 15 cents a gallon on lubricating oils and 4 cents a gallon on all other petroleum, is collected for a special fund to look after the payment of interest and sinking fund on the new bonds. Imperial Oil collects the royalty in the price of the products and pays over to the special fund $300,000 a year and any more that is collected to be consolidated fund of the government at the end of the year.

which was on a different island from that on which the residence was located.

The bottles were tendered as exhibits and Constable Raybone was ordered to open one and sample it. He then testified that it contained Scotch whisky.

After the evidence of Constable Raybone had been heard, Staff Sergeant McNeill asked for another adjournment of eight days in the cases of Bostrom, Edwards and Mulhern. T. W. Brown objected to the adjournments, stating that he was ready to go ahead and suggesting that the evidence of another crown witness, whom he saw in court, be taken. The magistrate granted the adjournment in view of the fact that this case could not proceed until after the original Swanson-Berquist case in which adjournment had already been granted.

This, it was mutually agreed, will be the final adjournment and it is possible the hearings may come on within the eight days.

DOES YOUR BUSINESS NEED A DOCTOR?

Now, Mr. Businessman, have you ever tried to diagnose the reason for that sudden drop in profit over the figures of "last month?" If the temperature of your business alarms you there is no need for you to lose any sleep—the remedy is simple.

ADVERTISE

"Ah!" you say, "But that's all very well. I'm only a small man and can't afford it." That's the reason the small man remains a small man. The big men in business today did not become big by hiding their light under a bushel, they advertised, and Advertisized, and ADVERTISED. Advertising is as necessary to a "sick" business as the doctor's services are to a sick person. And it will find the money to pay its own bills, if done judiciously, from the increased volume of increased profits. Start with a small appropriation tomorrow and test the idea for yourself—after all it's RESULTS that count today. We have an expert advertising man at your service at any time. He will advise you as to size of space to use and see that your space is filled with "business bringing" copy.

IN "THE DAILY NEWS"

FIGHTING OF FIRES

Head of Victoria Department Gives Interesting Talk on His Work

Fire prevention and fire fighting was the subject of an interesting address yesterday afternoon at the weekly luncheon of the Prince Rupert Rotary Club by V. W. Stewart, chief of the Victoria fire department and provincial grand prior of the Knights Templars.

Mr. Stewart, who has been fire fighting for many years and who knew the Prince Rupert fire chief before Prince Rupert was founded, laid stress on the fact that fire fighting was now a profession and a good deal of study was required to keep a member of the staff up to date. He found that his men at Victoria read technical books and fully qualified themselves for the work. The great thing was to get into the fire and at the same time keep down the amount of damage done by fire and water. In this work chemicals were used very largely.

The chief suggested that people travelling should always investigate the egress so that in case there should be a fire they would be able to escape. Many lives had been lost because of failure to do this.

In rating a town, the underwriters took cognizance of the condition of the streets, the efficiency of the water supply, the number of telephone connections and the fire alarm and fire department organization.

Telling of the big fire in Victoria when the Albion Ironworks was burned and 65 buildings in all were destroyed, Mr. Stewart said the fire jumped as much as five blocks at a time, the dry shingles igniting readily. The air was dry and it was only the coming of evening that made it possible to stop the spread of the blaze. Similarly at Berkeley, Cal., recently the fire departments of all the surrounding municipalities could not stop a fire until late afternoon when humidity increased.

Summarizing some of the reasons for fires, Mr. Stewart laid stress on the use of combustible celluloid as one great danger. In Victoria a fire had been caused in the window of the Hudson Bay Company by the sun shining through a piece of plate glass used as a stand and forming a lens which ignited a duco finished piece of wood.

LABORATORY YIELDS NEW FACTS ON KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN

Its "Bulk" and Vitamin B Help Relieve Constipation; Also Has Blood-building Iron

New laboratory experiments demonstrate that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN has sufficient "bulk" to exercise the intestines, as well as Vitamin B to help tone the intestinal tract.

In addition, Kellogg's ALL-BRAN supplies twice as much blood-building iron as an equal amount by weight of beef liver.

Now you can overcome common constipation by this pleasant "cereal way," and banish the headaches, backaches, loss of appetite and energy that so frequently result.

No need to worry along with pills and drugs, which often lead to harmful habits.

Instead, just eat two tablespoons daily of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN—adequate for most types of constipation. If your intestinal trouble is not relieved this way, see your doctor. The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of lettuce. Inside the body, it forms a soft mass, which gently clears the intestines of wastes.

Special processes make ALL-BRAN finer, softer, more palatable. It is not habit-forming. Equally tasty as a cereal, or used in cooking. Recipes on the red-and-green package. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

Freighter Named After This Port Is at Vancouver

The Reardon Smith freighter Prince Rupert City, named after this port, arrived at Vancouver at the end of last week from Australia to load grain and other cargo for the United Kingdom. The skipper of the Prince Rupert City is Capt. C. Wilson, former chief officer, who succeeded Capt. Roper, the first master, who died on the ship's last visit to New York. On the last voyage of the ship she carried cotton from New Orleans to Japan, thence a cargo to Australia and then came to Vancouver to load for home.
