CENTRALIZED CONTROL OF TWO GREAT RAILWAYS URGED

Eighty Million Could Be Saved by Merging Management Meantime

John Hackett, Quebec Conservative Member, Has Plan For Temporary Solution of Problems Facing Transportation Systems of Canada

OTTAWA, April 21:—Centralized control of the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific railways as a temporary solution of a problem "surpassing all others in perplexity and peril" was urged upon the House of Commons yesterday by John Hackett, Conservative member for Stanstead. He estimated a saving of some $80,000,000 to the two roads thereby.

Mr. Hackett said that the roads must remain separate entities but as a temporary measure, a central board should operate the two systems.

Estate of John Watkins Divided Among Relatives

John Watkins, well known pioneer resident of Stewart, who died on February 7 last, left a net estate of $12,305, the will having been filed recently in Supreme Court at Vancouver for probate. He bequeathed $500 to a brother, Edward Watkins, of Brisco; $200 to a brother, George Watkins, of Victoria; $200 to John Cowan of Vancouver; $150 to Mrs. J. A. Grant of Terrace; $800 to a sister, Mary Ann Davis of Newport, England, and the residue to a niece, Annie E. Watkins, of Brisco.

Water Divining Is Carried Out

Well Drilling Operations Carried Out by Provincial Government. In Prince George District

In answer to questions by A. Wells Gray, Liberal member for New Westminster, Hon. N. S. Loughheed, minister of lands, stated at the recent session of the Legislature that well drilling operations had been carried on by the government on crown property in the Prince George district at Pineview, the cost having been $1,077.45. Water divining was the method followed, the work having been carried out by Miss Pennse and H. W. Mathews who received remuneration of $701.60 and $75 respectively.

Not All This Province Is On Pacific Slope

In the minds of most Canadians, British Columbia is always thought of as lying entirely along the Pacific Coast west of the mountains. It is not generally realized that about 27% of the total area of the province according to the Topographical Survey, Department of the Interior, lies within the Mackenzie River watershed, or that its northern corner is 300 miles east of the mountains in the basin of Liard River, the greatest and least known of the three main tributaries of the Mackenzie, namely the Athabaska, Peace and Liard. Moreover, a large part of this area is a continuation of the fertile plateau which extends from the Great Lakes to the Rockies and contains some of the richest farming land in the country.

EVENING OF GOOD MUSIC

Prince Rupert Singers Gave Splendid Account of Themselves in Capitol Theatre Last Night

Band Played Well

Other Musical Numbers Added to Enjoyment of Large Audience Under Gyro Auspices

There have been good concerts in Prince Rupert often but seldom, if ever, one that was so consistently high class as that given last night at the Capitol Theatre by the Prince Rupert Singers under the able direction of H. N. Brocklesby. It was an all-star event with pretty much an all-star cast. Every person who took part could sing, but the real skill was in bringing about the proper coordination in the choruses. This the conductor did as has seldom happened in Prince Rupert. Undoubtedly, it was an outstanding musical event and one that no music lover could have afforded to miss.

The opening was rather dramatic, the theatre lights being all extinguished, and then, from the darkness in front after the curtain had gone up, came the beautiful soft strains of "Were You There When They Crucified My Lord?" by the mixed chorus. It was a very effective number and made a splendid opening impression. All the choruses were well sung, the group of sea chanties by the men proving particularly popular with the audience owing to their theatrical setting. The men were sitting around in the tap room of an old country tavern. The reason for choosing a former medical missionary for tapster was evident as he was the life of the party and he also made a wonderful pirate in a later number. The comedy parts were also well taken and appreciated.

Owing, apparently, to the lack of room on the stage the ladies had to be separated into two groups, sopranos at one side and contraltos at the other and the result was not quite a happy one. Those sitting in the side seats could distinctly hear the farther group a fraction behind the other, owing doubtless to the difference in distance. The ladies too did not know their scores well enough to keep their eyes on the conductor, the performer watching him being the exception rather than the rule. These criticisms are not meant to detract from the splendid performance the ladies gave. Happy numbers were chosen for them and the result was very pleasing.

Inchape Rok
Inchape Rok, the finale of the event, would have been appreciated better earlier in the evening, it being well toward midnight before this number was completed. Even the members of the chorus seemed a little tired after their very strenuous efforts. Possibly a happier number would have been better to have given the audience just before leaving.

Director Brocklesby is certainly to be congratulated on the wonderful results he obtained and the efforts of himself and his choir were certainly appreciated. Outstanding among the other numbers on the program were the piano solos by the Miss Marie Ballagns. It was difficult to realize when listening that she was only eleven years of age and that her musical career is practically all before her. Surely, she will make

Rotary President From Ketchikan Is Speaker Today

William Spaulding, president of the Ketchikan Rotary Club and fuel dealer of the Alaska City, was the speaker at today's regular weekly luncheon of the Prince Rupert Rotary Club. Mr. Spaulding spoke on the subject of the International Convention to be held in Seattle on June 20 of this year and made a plea for as large a representation as possible from the local club to that important gathering.

Copper City Ferry Queries Answered

Minister of Lands Gives Information at Request of Liberal Member For Skeena

In answer to questions by Dr. H. C. Winch, Liberal member for Skeena, Hon. R. W. Bruhn, minister of public works, stated at the recent Legislature session that ferry men were employed by the government from time to time as needed to operate the government ferry at Usk. J. Smith, P. R. Skinner, W. R. Kendall and L. G. Skinner were named as being among those employed to operate the ferry between 1912 and 1931. Remunerations paid in various years for operating the ferry were given as follows: 1928-29, $534; 1929-30, $478; 1930-31, $498.32; 1931-32, $20.84.

Forest Fires at Terrace Probed

Questions of Fernie Labor Member Answered in Legislature by Minister of Lands

In answer to questions asked at the recent session of the Legislature by Thomas Uphill, Socialist member for Fernie, in regard to investigation of forest fires in the Terrace district, Hon. N. S. Loughheed, minister of lands, stated that complaints of a certain person of Terrace relative to forest fires which occurred a number of years ago and other matters were investigated by departmental officers in 1930. As far as the investigators could find out, the complaints were unfounded and the results of such investigation were not made public because they were not considered of public interest.

Prairie Countryside Is Lashed By Fierce Wind--Deep Snow Too

Drifts Piled Up Three Feet Deep on Country Roads and City Streets--Wires Down and Motor and Railway Traffic Paralyzed By Big Storm

CALGARY, April 21:—Winter returned to Alberta today, pounding the countryside with fierce winds that drove accompanying snow into huge drifts and piled it three feet deep on country roads and city streets. Wire communications were torn asunder by a thirty-mile an hour windstorm. Motor and railway traffic was disrupted and many autos were marooned. Numerous telephone poles were toppled over.

SWEEPSTAKE FOR ROADS

Resolution of Labor Member For Fernie Ruled Out By Speaker at Session of Legislature

Under a resolution of Thomas Uphill, Socialist member for Fernie, which was ruled out of order by the Speaker, at the recent session of the Legislature, the House would have approved in principle the operation of sweepstakes based on the main English turf events under the supervision of a non-partisan board of management to be appointed by the government and responsible to a member of the government to be operated within the borders of the province for the purpose of raising funds to give employment and, more particularly, the building through Northern British Columbia of highways and that steps be taken to legalize such sweepstake operations under the government.

F. Neville, who is interested in the development of placer gold showings in the Lorne Creek district, arrived in the city from the interior on this morning's train.

"May Outshoot Us With Our Own Bow Unless We Do Likewise"

(By Moses H. Nickerson)
HALIFAX, N.S., April 21:—I think more of the Japanese progress in fishing than of their success in fighting, as respects a campaign for conquest, like the one just played out. Of all the things those people learned from civilized lands through the Open Door, the art and the expansion of the fisheries occupied one of the foremost places. The Japanese mind is strictly practical, not given to fantastic theories. It knows that useful learning has to be acquired by sight, touch and test. The department of their administration which took charge of fishery affairs was that of agriculture, modeled on the British plan. They sent a young man named Shimoda to Gloucester, over 30 years ago; and he served a seven years' apprenticeship on board the schooner Grayling, seiner and set-line trawler according to season. Captain Reuben Cameron, renowned.

Will Continue Vacation School On Skeena River

TORONTO, April 21:—Rev. E. R. McLean, field secretary of religious education of the United Church of Canada for British Columbia, reported here that the young peoples' union of Vancouver presbytery had backed a north coast minister in establishing three vacation schools, enrolling children, mostly Indians and Japanese, at the Skeena River salmon canneries.

BRITAIN AND IRELAND

According to one of the members of the British government, the people of Britain are not worrying much over the Irish question. They say that if Ireland wishes to separate herself from the Empire she is at liberty to do so. It will be a matter for the Irish people to decide.

Britain is Ireland's best customer and Ireland buys heavily from Britain. The interests of both are for union and both would be satisfied to have it so remain were it not for the politicians. However, when the Irish people find that nobody cares what they do about it, they will probably decide to remain in the Empire.

REACTIONS FROM CHANGES

Quite often various changes seem very desirable but different reactions follow. In the United States today it seems desirable to curb the craze for gambling on the stock exchange. If they do this, the business is likely to be transferred to Montreal and if Montreal refuses to handle the business it will go to Mexico.

When the framers of the dry laws in the United States secured the constitutional changes necessary, nobody thought it would lead to lawlessness such as has followed.

So in almost all the experimental legislation everywhere, the reactions have been unexpected and in many cases the experimental legislation has had to be repealed. Abuses spring up and unexpected results follow.

MUSICAL EDUCATION

In these days of radio when a great deal of first class music is brought to the home without effort and when all that is necessary is to turn a dial and sit in an easy chair and enjoy, there is a tendency to neglect musical education. Pianos are no longer in very great demand and young people are not taught to play musical instruments or sing as they once were.

Turn from this picture and see a musical organization such as that which gave the concert last night at the Capitol Theatre and we find that interest is still taken in local musical effort. There must have been five hundred people out to hear the singers. There is still a realization that the only way to really enjoy music is to create it.

We take pleasure in congratulating the Prince Rupert Singers, members of the Boys' Band and other local artists who last night gave such an excellent performance. It should prove an encouragement to others.

Sores Broke Out All Over Her Body

Mrs. T. E. Cliff, Kelwood, Man., writes: "My little daughter's hands and arms broke out in sores which spread all over her body. Nothing I tried gave her any relief until I got a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters, and I could see an improvement, as the sores began to disappear. I gave her three bottles and she has had no more trouble."

JAPANESE IN MARKET

ned as a fish killer then, and of wider reputation now as a travelling commercial agent for the great firms at the Boston Fish Pier.

It was through Captain Cameron (who in boyhood days had been my pupil at Clark's Harbor, where he was born in 1863) that I formed a writing acquaintance with that persistent pioneer, young Shimoda. He had learned to express, in tolerable English, his fisheries ideas and aspirations, all good and workable. He was a close reader of my Coast-guard while he fished out of Gloucester; and on going home, after his seven years' term, he sent me a full report of the newly organized industry, there, on an extended scale. In the regular vernacular, the gist of which I found out by the aid of a Chinese laundryman, who knew nothing of the language, but read it fluently in his own speech, since those crab-shaped letters (the same in Chinese) stand for things, not sounds. I kept in long distance touch with Shimoda, by occasional notes, until he became a high-powered member of the bureau subordinate to the agriculture department. He went to the Siberian Coast during the Russo-Japanese war, and the thread of intercourse was broken. But I had become pretty well posted in the pushing fish-enterprises of far away Japan.

And now the sequel: I was in Halifax during the spring of 1905, attending the legislative session, when a message came from the City Club that a Japanese gentleman was a guest there and desired an interview with me. This was Mr. Matsuzaki, a member of the agriculture department, commissar of the fisheries, who had just flitted from Washington to Ottawa, and then to Halifax, on his way to Britain and the North Sea coast of the continent, to learn all there was in it for the benefit of his own country. He was a typical Japanese of medium size, not more than 30, lithe and limber in movement, quick but deliberate in act and observation. He talked English after a fashion, and I had to listen closely, for as I already knew by experience, the bookish tongue is different from the talking tongue in any known language.

Wanted Outline

He wanted an outline of the Canadian fisheries, and I wrote for him that afternoon 18 pages of big notepaper elaborating the salient points, and filling in details as far as I knew at that period. They had no chemical fish freezers in Japan then; and I was allowed to take him through the late Arthur Boutillier's cold storage plant, where he eagerly noted every particular. Then to the big warehouses and the stores on the wharves, which completed that day's demonstration. On the eve of Mr. Matsuzaki's departure from New York to Europe, he wrote me: "Much thanks for kindness given to me when I had been in Halifax. I leave tomorrow for Europe."

Another sequel: Last night, Capt. Cameron returned from an extended tour of the Japanese coast where he visited the chief fishing stations as a soliciting agent for a well known firm at the said fish pier. He performed the job with his usual thoroughness, and his praise is now in all the magazines. The National Geographical makes fittingly conspicuous the worthy captain and the establishments he inspected. And this morning's Boston Post (March 19) comes out with a cry of alarm that Japanese frozen swordfish is coming into Boston in easy competition with New England catches and Canadian imports, on account of low price and better preservation; for those fish on Japanese boats are chilled as soon as taken on board.

There were some Boston imports of frozen swordfish from Japan previous to this new influx. I know that receipts of fresh swordfish from Canada last year totalled 1,108,000 pounds at five and a half cents; and of frozen swordfish, 9,545 pounds. Japan is now the chief competitor. The Massachusetts Fishery Association is aroused and asking Washington for a higher tariff. Senator Walsh says he will move to investigate. If Canada and the United States would only learn to watch out, with the keenness of the Japs, they wouldn't have to investigate. All it wants is observation and common sense, instead of conjectural compilations and pseudo-science.

Captain Cameron often comes in of an evening to tell me about the wonders of his cruise; and that first hand intelligence is instructive throughout. Hence we learn that the foreshores (the low tide flats) are fenced and cultivated for clams, crabs and oysters with as much care and more skill than a cabbage patch in America. We glimpse the huge strand structures for receiving, cooling, curing and transshipping the daily landings of the various kinds from shark, tuna and swordfish to the smaller swimming species, that infest the lagoons and inshore waters; while anchored off shore are the large ships, each with hundreds in crew, floating laboratories and cannery factories, where the live raw material is taken on board and readily turned into the edible product, which is crowding out the more roughly handled and more tardy treated fishfoods landed in Canada and the United States. That work is to outshoot us with our own bow, unless we go and do likewise.

I have an offsetting idea to be formulated later: There are no lobsters in the Pacific. The canned neat, husked out from shellfish, is 'insipid compared with canned halibut and mackerel, because the washing detracts from the flavor, which in the broiled lobster, makes it the favorite dish in all the palm gardens. If the baby lobster, now being broiled and sapless, were tinned alive in a suitable container, steamed and hermetically sealed afterwards the succulent juices and the special flavor would be all retained, the article would be popular, even in Japan; and the tinning could be done at one-fifth the present cost.

In the course of a tour of British Columbia lines, B. T. Chappell, general superintendent of the Canadian National Railways for British Columbia, and G. A. McNicholl, general passenger agent, both of Vancouver, arrived in the city from Jasper Park on this morning's train and will sail tonight on the Prince George for Vancouver. They were accompanied here from Prince George by W. H. Tobey, divisional superintendent, and Harold McEwen, divisional freight and passenger agent.

Vancouver Man Named to Board

Dr. Douglas Ashburn Gray is Appointed Member of Pensions Tribunal of Canada

OTTAWA, April 21.—Dr. Douglas Ashburn Gray of Vancouver has been appointed a member of the Board of Pensions Commissioners for Canada.

Canada is meeting the world depression, so say experts, better than most countries.

Our weakness is her strength, if you know what we mean. Miss Elsie Aulenbach, Pennsylvania school girl, has a leg pull of 800 pounds.

SOFTBALL IS PLAYED

Giants Break Falcons' Winning Streak in High School League

Yesterday in the High School Softball League, the Falcons received their first setback of the season when they lost to the Giants by a score of 13 to 3.

The first inning showed no run for either side, but, in the second, the Giants ran away with the game. They brought in ten runs before the Falcons showed any signs of resistance. The Falcons seemed to fade away before the onslaught. Their fielding was loose and careless and the pitcher was distinctly off his usual game. This, combined with poor support, accounted for the surprising score of the Giants.

In the last three innings, the Falcons had every chance to equalize but their batting was almost as ineffectual as their fielding. They went out in quick succession by knocking many pot flies. It was an easy victory for the Giants.

The teams were as follows: Giants—Arney, lf; Smith, 1b; (Capt.) Dominato, p; Blake, st; Forbes, 2b; Suekro, 3b; Murdoch, cf; Kishimoto, c; T. Johnstone, cf. Falcons—Christinson, 3b; R. Allen, p; Welle, lf; Stegavig, c; Cross, ss; (Capt.) Dugate, 2b; Hale, 1st; Murray, lf; McCaffery, rf; Ritchie, cf. Umpire—R. Moxley. Base Umpire—R. Tobey. Reporters—G. Bussinich, R. Allen.

Canada's live stock shipments took a marked upward curve in 1931 with excellent prospects for 1932.

CUP FINAL SATURDAY

Arsenal Held Trophy Twice in Last Five Years—Newcastle's Last Win Was in 1924

LONDON, April 21.—The great trek of soccer enthusiasts to Wembley Stadium for the cup final this season takes place this Saturday. It will be a battle between the north and south, with the Metropolis intimately interested as the finalists are Arsenal, a London club, and Newcastle United.

Arsenal will be in familiar surroundings at Wembley as they have appeared there in cup finals twice in the last five years, losing to Cardiff City in 1927 and winning the trophy in 1930 by beating Huddersfield Town. Newcastle won the cup in 1924, their opponents being Aston Villa. Newcastle made history back in 1910 when they won the cup after a replay with Barnsley. There have been very few drawn matches in the history of cup finals. Newcastle United were four times runners up back in the early part of the century.

Arsenal left the following teams in the discard on their march to Wembley: Darwen, Plymouth Argyle, Portsmouth and Manchester City. Newcastle beat Blackpool, Southport, Leicester City, Watford and Chelsea.

Results of the English Cup series since the war are:

- 1919-20—Aston Villa beat Sunderland, 1-0.
- 1920-21—Tottenham Hotspurs beat Wolverhampton Wanderers 1-0.
- 1921-22—Huddersfield Town beat Preston North End 1-0.
- 1922-23—Bolton Wanderers beat West Ham United 2-0.
- 1923-24—Newcastle United beat Aston Villa 2-0.
- 1924-25—Sheffield United beat Cardiff City 1-0.
- 1925-26—Bolton Wanderers beat Manchester City 1-0.
- 1926-27—Cardiff City beat Arsenal 1-0.
- 1927-28—Blackburn Rovers beat Huddersfield Town 3-1.
- 1928-29—Bolton Wanderers beat Manchester City 1-0.
- 1929-30—Arsenal beat Huddersfield Town 3-1.
- 1930-31—West Bromwich Albion beat Birmingham 2-1.

Ice Scarce In Montreal For Coming Summer

MONTREAL, April 21.—Ice companies in Montreal are hoping for moderate weather next summer. If there are many long drawn-out hot spells the supply of ice gathered during the past freakish winter may not be sufficient for the demand according to officials of the city's leading ice companies. For a month and a half lake ice remained at an average of nine to ten inches, four or five inches below the minimum required for a cut, the usual harvesting of December being postponed to the middle of January. There was very little severe weather in February but along came the unexpected frosts of March which saved the day, thus preventing an ice famine. In spite of the inroads made by electric refrigeration about 600,000 tons of ice are sold on the Island of Montreal annually, approximately 100,000 tons less than the amount sold 15 years ago.

March's snowfall this year was 45.3 inches, just 1.1 inches short of the record fall for that month during the last 57 years, according to McGill Observatory Record which dates back to 1875. March's banner year as far as quantity of snow is concerned was in 1900 when the fall reached the high mark of 46.4 inches and people used snowshoes to go about the streets of Montreal.

SPORT NOTES

Plans for another active tennis season at the interior town of Vanderhoof were made recently when the Vanderhoof Lawn Tennis Club held its annual meeting. The club decided to adopt a blackboard system of rotation playing similar to that used by the Vanderhoof Badminton Club. Officers were elected as follows: president, R. M. Taylor; vice president, sergeant A. G. Birch; secretary-treasurer, Miss Betty Lamb; executive, George Ogston, Dr. W. Ross Stone, George Haddon and Miss Dorothy Birch.

The first step in the rebuilding of the Boston Bruins was made when the management of the National Hockey League team purchased Billy Burch, veteran centre, from the New York Americans in a straight cash transaction. Burch, 32 years old, and first string centre for the Americans for the past seven seasons, will probably start the next hockey campaign in the Bruins' first line, unless Manager Art Ross succeeds in making more attractive deals. Ross believes the veteran has several more seasons of top grade hockey in his system. In the event Ross manages to obtain more able centres during the off-season, Burch will be retained to coach young wingers.

Not since the days before the lively ball first invaded the major leagues have pitchers demonstrated such striking early-season mastery of the batsmen as they have this year. The season was not a week old before pitchers had written into the records 13 games in which the opposition had made not more than five hits. Dazzy Vance of Brooklyn and Hal Schumacher of New York Giants have contributed two hit masterpieces. Vic Sorrell and Earl Whitehill of Detroit and Si Johnson of Cincinnati had pitched three-hit games. Monte Weaver of Washington and Whitlow Wyatt of Detroit have

The Daily News welcomes correspondence on live topics of the day or any other subject of public interest, but letters must be brief and to the point. The long-winded correspondent has no place in modern journalism.

Every letter must be signed by the writer, not necessarily for publication but as a matter of good faith and courtesy. All unsigned documents go to the waste paper basket. Letters of a caustic character must have the signature appended for publication.

Letter should be written on one side of the paper only. Correspondents must avoid personalities and the language should be such as would be allowed in the ordinary rules of debate.

Moose Social Is Enjoyable

Following the regular lodge meeting, a joint social was held last evening for members of the Women of the Mooseheart Legion and Loyal Order of Moose lodges, the ladies having been invited by the men. There were about sixty persons present and the features of the proceedings were a whist drive and fine supper.

Prize-winners out of 12 tables of whist were Mrs. Charles Edwards and C. R. Biggart. During the supper, much interest and entertainment was derived from a mock auction of several articles, the proceeds going to relief. Auctioneer was Gillis Royer.

William McCallum, dictator, president and Charles Lemon was chairman of the social committee. Arrangements were made to hold a church parade and memorial service on May 22.

EVENING OF GOOD MUSIC

The name of Prince Rupert known in many countries before very long. As she played the "Moonlight Sonata" it was quite possible to picture Beethoven sitting there in the half dark at his harpsichord improvising, creating this immortal classic.

The other piano numbers were duets by two well known and popular young ladies, Misses Ruth Gillies and Margaret McCaffery, each of whom played well, their selections being also from the classics. They played together with great precision and the result was entirely pleasing.

Miss Laura Frizell and William Lambie danced the "Merry Widow Waltz" in splendid style and won a deserved recall.

Last but not by any means least deserving of praise was the work of the Prince Rupert Senior Boys' Band, directed by Charles Balagno. This fine organization was heard to their advantage in three numbers. The boys looked very snappy in their uniforms and their playing showed very great improvement since they last appeared in public. Members of the Rotary Club who were present remembered when the proposal was first made to them that they should pay the salary of the trainer of the boys for the first six months and of the efforts made to secure instruments. They also remembered sympathetically that first terrible concert the boys gave and the way the newspapers prevaricated in connection with it. They said it was good. Comparing that almost tragic event with last night's finished performance and the improvement made is so great as to be almost unbelievable.

Twenty Years Ago In Prince Rupert

April 21, 1912

Practically every important personage in Prince Rupert attended the Titanic memorial service held in the Westholme Theatre this afternoon, every seat in the commodious assembly place being taken up. Mayor S. M. Newton and other speakers paid tribute to the memory of the late Sir Charles M. Hays, one of the victims of the great disaster.

A prominent local contractor appeared before Magistrate Alfred Cars in city police court yesterday charged with unlawfully removing part of the sidewalk near a new building which is in course of construction on Third Avenue.

Test piles for the new dry dock at Hays Creek are being driven and all the preliminary work is practically finished. Actual construction of the enormous plant will soon commence.

SPENDING TO SAVE .. THROUGH

Advertising

Not many of us, these days, are troubled with so much money that we cannot spend it. But we are interested in spending the money we have, to get the most out of it.

One way—and not a new way, either—is to make a budget. Put down, week by week, the money that comes in. Put down beside it, week by week, the money that goes out. So much for food, so much for clothing, so much for rent. So much for giving, and for luxuries.

Where Advertising Helps

It won't always be easy, of course, to stay within the budget. That's where advertising helps you. Advertisements in this newspaper tell you how much rugs, butter, breakfast foods, dishes, homes, automobiles will cost, before you go shopping! They point out ways to save money. They show you how to cut a little here, a little there. And each day, they tell about new inventions, new products, new ways of doing things, that help make this life of ours very much worth living!
