Amalgamation of Lines Would Be Great Calamity, Declares Conservative Member

OTTAWA, April 22:—Amalgamation of the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Railways would be "the greatest national calamity Canada ever experienced," said J. L. Bowman, Conservative member for Dauphin, in defending the government-owned system in the House of Commons yesterday.

Many sections of Canada have been opened and developed and untold millions of new wealth created by the national system. Before disruption of the Canadian National, consideration should be given to these aspects, Mr. Bowman declared.

Mr. Bowman was replying to the suggestion of J. L. Hackett, Conservative member for Stansfeld, Que., for centralizing control of the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Railways.

Municipalities Will Share In Additional Revenue Forthcoming

Government Considers Price Boost to Be Preferable to Tax Provided For in Budget—Will Become Effective Almost Immediately

VICTORIA, April 22:—Liquor prices in British Columbia will go up five percent almost immediately, it was announced yesterday. The government has decided that a price increase would be more satisfactory than a tax, as proposed in the budget, as it is more flexible and the Liquor Control Board may distribute the increase as it thinks best.

The increase is expected to yield $600,000 annually and will mean a revenue to the municipalities of $138,000 which they would not have received under a tax.

The price of beer to beer parlors will be increased $1 per barrel.

CRITICIZE SENATORS

Report of Special Committee on Beauharnois is Presented to Upper Chamber Today

Majority Finding

McDougald and Haydon Performed Actions "Not Consistent With Duties and Standing"

OTTAWA, April 22:—Senators Wilfrid McDougald and Andrew Haydon performed actions which were not fitting or consistent with their duties and standing as senators of Canada.

Senator Donat Raymond accepted very large sums of money by way of campaign fund contributions from a company which was dependent vitally on government franchises or concessions.

Such are the outstanding conclusions contained in a majority report of the special committee of the Senate on Beauharnois which was tabled in the Senate today by Hon. Charles Tanner, the chairman.

Liberal members of the committee will move an amendment indicating disagreement with certain of the findings, their declaration that the findings "are largely based on suspicion and against the corroborated evidence of senators named in the reference" having been recorded in the minutes of the committee.

In respect to Senator Raymond, the committee accepts his denial that he exercised any influence for affecting government policy in regard to Beauharnois.

MAKE SETTLEMENT EASY

In a new country such as this where settlers are badly needed it seems as if the government should make it as easy as possible for them to go on the land. Just now it is not easy. In fact it is very difficult to purchase lands from the government in some districts. It seems that the lands were valued years ago when prices were high and settlers are required to pay those prices or wait for months before they can get possession. Complaints have been made that settlers asking for land in the spring were not able to get on it to work until the season was gone. Such a condition should not exist. Red tape should be eliminated as much as possible and every effort made to induce people to return to mother earth.

We draw the attention of the government to this condition and ask for their serious consideration. In no way can they better help the north country than by offering every possible facility for people to cultivate the land.

INCREASE IN LIQUOR PRICES

In these days of protest at this or that, there is at least one of many increases in governmental levies to which we do not believe many people will object. That is the five percent increase in liquor prices announced today. There will be few in these hard times who will object at the consumer of liquor having to pay something extra, even if it were more than five percent, to help in supplying the government with its revenues. In short, it is a very likely consensus of opinion that those who can afford to buy liquor can, at these times, afford to pay extra for it.

We do not think the increased price of liquor will meet with any very serious protest on the part of the public as a whole.

Douglas Lay Looks For Bigger Gold Production in Canada—Consolidated in Ingenika—Smithers Citizens Support Jessie Financing

Douglas Lay, resident mining engineer for the north-eastern mineral survey district, lecturing recently at Vanderhoof, stated that there are two subjects which are absorbing the minds of all interested in mining at the present time—lode gold and placer gold. He said there had been three distinct waves—a lead wave, a copper wave, which suffered owing to depression, and, now, a gold wave. Many great men and authorities have declared that one of the principal causes of the depression has been the insufficient supply of gold. This, the speaker thought, had something to do with the starting of the gold wave. Mr. Lay declared that there was absolutely no reason to believe that placer gold production was falling away in this province. During the past two years there has been a tendency on the part of really big companies to devote more attention to placer gold and also there has been far greater activity on the part of prospectors. Mr. Lay said that last year Canada produced two and a half million ounces of gold, out-running the United States in production. Africa, the great source of gold production, yielded 11,000,000 ounces of gold of which the Transvaal was responsible for 10,000,000 ounces. While it might be too much to expect this country ever to reach the South African figures, Mr. Lay believes that Canada can produce very much more gold than it is now doing and that it will become one of the greatest gold producing countries of the world.

W. M. Ogilvie will again spend the summer in the Ingenika district north of Vanderhoof in the interests of the Consolidated Mining &

Frank Charnley is Speaker Before Parent-Teachers' Association Here

Academic Subject

Effects of Education Discussed In Interesting Way Last Night

There was a large attendance at the regular monthly meeting of the Prince Rupert Parent-Teachers' Association last evening in the Borden Street school to hear Frank Charnley, member of the Biological Station staff, speak on the subject of "Transfer of Training," or "Mental Discipline." Beginning his address, Mr. Charnley stated that the subject of his remarks might be put in the form of the question: "Does the development which the child gains through his education consist merely in gathering information and in acquiring skill in one particular subject or in one particular narrow field of activity, or does he gain abilities which will make him more efficient when he meets problems in other situations?" Does training or discipline acquired in one branch of learning carry over to other branches, both similar and diverse? If so, what is the extent of the transfer; and is the amount of transfer to one subject the same as to another?

The belief in transfer is widespread. Every course of study for elementary and high school pupils is a testimonial to the schoolman's belief in mental discipline. Especially do educators believe in the disciplinary virtues of latin mathematics, and grammar. These subjects are regarded as giving the pupil a desirable body of useful knowledge, and also considered to be pre-eminent in strengthening the intellect. Prior to 1900 the faith in formal discipline or transfer of training was announced positively, but today most educators are careful to be more moderate in their claims for such transfer. The speaker quoted several excerpts from the writings of well-known authors which expressed the profoundest faith in the transfer of training. One of these is as follows:

"The value of the study of German lies in the scientific study of the language itself, in the consequent training of the reason, of the powers of observation, comparison, and synthesis; in short, in the upbuilding of the scientific intellect." Such an excerpt as well as others quoted showed the widespread belief in the transfer of training.

Mr. Charnley then gave a brief survey of the history of this doctrine. The Greek philosophers, Socrates and Plato, subscribed to it and taught it in their writings as did also the English philosopher Locke; and the celebrated Dr. Samuel Johnson applied the doctrine when drawing up the curriculum for his grammar school. To these exponents of the doctrine of mental discipline the human mind was divided into great divisions or faculties, such as, memory, observation, judgment, reasoning, concentration, imagination, etc. Each of these great faculties could be developed by specific training and the power thus acquired could be transferred to learning all subjects based upon that particular faculty. Anything that was memorized strengthened memory as a whole. Observation in general could be improved by making any kind of specific observations.

This theory reached its culmination during the period from about 100 years ago to 30 years ago; in fact until modern psychologists began to investigate it. The American psychologist, Thorndike, expresses considerable scepticism as to the amount and value of transfer of training. In his view the mind is not a collection of a few general faculties but is the sum total of countless particular capacities or specified functions, each of which must to some extent be educated by itself. Improvement of any one of these mental functions will be rarely transferred and will approve others only in so far as they possess elements common to it also. Judd emphasizes the fact that the human being is able to generalize his training and experience, thus in contrast with Thorndike, implies the possibility of transfer in the field of thinking.

Thorndike and Woodworth experimented to study the transfer of the ability to make special judgments. Considerable practice was given to students in judging the lengths of lines and areas of rectangles. After the training they found that there was little improvement in judging lengths different in extent or areas different in size. Bagley found that neatness was not transferred.

Pupils of a class were trained for the purpose of bringing about an improvement in their arithmetic papers. After they had undergone training in the subject, their geography papers were examined to see whether they had also improved in neatness in this subject and it appeared that the improvement in the arithmetic papers was not carried over to the geography papers. The psychologist James memorized in the course of eight days 158 lines of Victor Hugo's "Satyr," a task which required 131.8 minutes. Then, for 38 days he spent 20 minutes per day in memorizing passages from "Paradise Lost." Following this practice, he again memorized 158 lines of the "Satyr," finding that it required 151.5 minutes. Two weeks of practice on one kind of poetry had not improved his ability to memorize another kind of poetry. There was thus no transfer.

Other illustrations were given by the speaker which tended to show that sometimes there is a transfer and sometimes there is not. It is generally agreed that there is some transfer of training but that it is small and varies widely with conditions. Most modern psychologists take a stand midway between the old faculty psychology and Thorndike's idea of a very large number of specific abilities or functions of the mind each of which must be trained individually. They believe also that general attitudes, if thoroughly trained, are transferred. One may develop predominantly certain attitudes, such as, an analytical, an appreciative or a practical attitude. One may develop predominantly certain social attitudes, for example, an attitude of fairness or unfairness, truthfulness or a habit of shiftness with reference to the truth. There are certain values in education which can not be measured in terms of amount of information and skill acquired. Speaking of industry and accuracy, the speaker stressed the value of manual training in developing the attitudes of neatness and accuracy.

In conclusion Mr. Charnley emphasized the importance of the appropriate method used by the teacher. General training does not result automatically from the teaching of subjects but only results when the subject is taught in the best way, and the teacher taking into account the general result as well as the special knowledge or skill which is to be developed by the study. Hence the burden must always fall upon the teacher. He must be above all educational equipment.

A hearty vote of thanks was accorded Mr. Charnley on the motion of Miss E. A. Mercer and D. H. Hartness.

Mrs. S. V. Cox presided over the meeting and over the business meeting which preceded the address. Master David Houston delighted those present by his sweetness and clearness of his voice when he sang two songs as did Miss Audrey Parkin by her skillful playing of a pianoforte solo.

The treasurer's report, presented by Miss S. A. Mills, showed that the recent candy sale had been very successful and that a considerable sum of money had been obtained for sport and other equipment for the schools.

At the conclusion of the meeting refreshments were served and a pleasant time spent in conversation.

MAN SOON RETURNED TO TELL HOW WELL HIS GLASSES FITTED

Recently a man, complaining of having suffered severe headaches for the past five or six years, and unable to read at all, called on G. F. Davey, Reg. Optician, in charge of the Optical Dept. of Max Heibroner, Jeweler, to see if glasses would give him relief. A thorough examination soon explained the headache and how he must have suffered as the eyes were unable to work in harmony, one being very defective.

A pair of double vision glasses were supplied to suit his particular case and inside two days he called to tell us that the headaches were entirely gone, reading a pleasure and he was very pleased with the service which cost a lot less than he had expected. He also told us that we could expect to meet a lot of his friends.

Notice to Employers

The Income Tax Act now requires every employer to deduct 1% from All Wages and Commissions paid after April 12th, whether earned before that date or not. The exemptions of $15,000 or $25.00 per week allowed under the former Act no longer apply. Such deductions are to be paid over to the Provincial Collector not later than the 15th of the succeeding month. Employers who are not at present receiving forms on which to report such deductions should notify

THE COMMISSIONER OF INCOME TAX, Parliament Buildings, Victoria.

Domestic Help

Returns of deductions from such employees may be made quarterly instead of monthly. Board and room supplied to domestic help should be valued at not less than $20.00 per month. No deduction need be made in the case of an occasional employee who is engaged in connection with the domestic establishment of his employer if the wages for the period of employment do not exceed $5.00.

SPENDING TO SAVE .. THROUGH

Advertising

Not many of us, these days, are troubled with so much money that we cannot spend it. But we are interested in spending the money we have, to get the most out of it.

One way—and not a new way, either—is to make a budget. Put down, week by week, the money that comes in. Put down beside it, week by week, the money that goes out. So much for food, so much for clothing, so much for rent. So much for giving, and for luxuries.

Where Advertising Helps

It won't always be easy, of course, to stay within the budget. That's where advertising helps you. Advertisements in this newspaper tell you how much rugs, butter, breakfast foods, dishes, homes, automobiles will cost, before you go shopping! They point out ways to save money. They show you how to cut a little here, a little there. And each day, they tell about new inventions, new products, new ways of doing things, that help make this life of ours very much worth living!

REPLY TO SCEPTIC

Editor, Daily News:—
 We notice a letter in your issue of the 21st, relating to Supreme Coffee under the signature of "Sceptic," and if you will permit us the space, we would like to reply to same. Whilst we might take exception to the language used by Sceptic, we feel that as this is a free country we are not exempt from criticism, especially so if the criticism is justified and made in good faith.

Now as to Supreme Coffee, we might say that nothing but the pure coffee berries are used. There is no adulteration, and the plant is open to inspection at any time to Sceptic or anyone else he wishes to delegate.

We might inform Sceptic that so anxious were we to attain the highest perfection in coffee that we had samples of Supreme cupped by one of the best experts in Vancouver on two occasions. In the first test Supreme ranked first, in the second test Supreme tied with another well known brand.

Regarding the "Made in Prince Rupert" point raised by Sceptic, any school child would know that coffee berries are not a product of B. C. but there is a great deal of labor expended in the production of the finished article, and it is important in these hard times that this money be spent in Rupert. The amount of money involved does not make any difference to this principle. A dollar spent in town has a chance to circulate many times, and might possibly get even to Sceptic's hands on its way round.

The people of Prince Rupert we know are heartily in accord with these views, as evidenced by the tremendous sale of Supreme in the last month, and we would like to courteously suggest to your correspondent that value and price being equal, it is a moral duty to support home industries at this period.

FOOTBALL MEETING

Season Will Open First Wednesday in May, Association Decided Last Night

Four Teams

Enthusiasm Prevails Over Prospects For Success of Activities This Year

With four teams in the field—Regiment, Merchants, Canadian Legion and Home Oil Distributors Ltd., it was decided last night at a general meeting of the Prince Rupert Football Association to open the 1932 season's play on the first Wednesday in May. The executive will decide in the meantime which of the season's trophies will be competed for first.

A committee consisting of Bert Morgan, G. W. Laidler, Robert Arthur, sr. and E. Webster was delegated to interview the executive of the Prince Rupert Baseball Association to arrange playing nights for the season on the Acropolis Hill grounds. This committee will also go into ways and means of making repairs to the dressing room on the grounds which is now in rather dilapidated condition.

Players' registration forms for the season will be available to the various delegates at the Grotto Cigar Store after 6 o'clock this evening.

The question of substitutes for injured players was discussed and it was decided to leave the matter on the table until next meeting in order to give all a chance to think it over.

The feeling was expressed that the association should do all in its power to foster better feelings and co-operation between referees, players and spectators as well. With this end in view it was decided to distribute to each referee and each club delegate a chart of official English Football Association rules.

Bert Morgan, president of the Prince Rupert Football Association, was in the chair. There was a good attendance and considerable enthusiasm prevailed in regard to the outlook for a successful season.

Fire Department Is Appreciated

The following letter has been received at the Daily News office:

"We wish to express our sincere thanks to our wonderful fire department for their great speed and kindness in regard to the fire in Mr. and Mrs. Hans Gurke's home on Fraser Street. We feel Chief McDonald and his men deserve lots of credit and we again thank them.

"Also thanking the Daily News for this valuable space in their paper.—Nellie Schiller and Mrs. F. Fitzgerald."

Bright Looking Pups

It's all right for you guys, but what do we get out of it? asks Picolo and Pierrot d'Armourette, a couple of entries at the French bulldog show, New York. Owner Cornelia Phillips assures them everything is on the level.

TIGERS IN TOP NOTCH

Have Exclusive Leadership of American League Now—Braves Still Ahead In National

NEW YORK, April 22—Detroit Tigers took exclusive possession of first place in the American League yesterday by defeating Cleveland Indians while Washington Senators were dropping a close decision to the lowly Boston Red Sox. The Philadelphia Athletics improved their standing by winning over New York Yankees in a free-scoring contest.

Boston Braves confirmed their National League leadership by doubling the score of the Brooklyn Robins. Chicago Cubs took second place from Cincinnati with an easy victory over the Reds. The world champion St. Louis Cardinals were left in exclusive possession of the cellar by losing a close game to Pittsburgh Pirates while New York Giants were taking the measure of the Phillies.

Yesterday's Major League scores were as follows:

American League
Philadelphia, 8; New York, 6.
Boston, 1; Washington, 0.
Detroit, 5; Cleveland, 3.
Chicago-St. Louis, rain.

National League
Pittsburgh, 7; St. Louis, 6.
Boston, 6; Brooklyn, 3.
New York, 5; Philadelphia, 4.
Chicago, 3; Cincinnati, 2.

SPORT NOTES

All good managers are profuse with statements to the effect that their teams have been "strengthened, improved and will surely finish the league race in the first division," writes Hardin Burney. Of course, there are only four division places in each baseball league, with 16 teams battling for the coveted eight spots. Eight teams must naturally finish worse than fourth, but we have yet to hear a manager predict that his team will wind up in the second division.

Now Manager Bert Shotton, of the Philadelphia National Leaguers, is no exception to the rule. Perhaps Manager Shotton has good reason to be optimistic, for he has improved the Phillies. In addition, Shotton is a game fighter and a keen judge of playing material. Rumors are flying about the Quaker town that unless Shotton makes good the prediction about a place in the first division this will be his last season as manager of the Phils. With good pitching, Shotton believes that his team can make the grade. And with the following staff he may get it. The Phillies' pitching department includes Ray Benge, Big Jim Elliott, Dudley, Ed Holly, Phil Collins, Nichols, Ace Elliott, Bolen, Adams, Fallenstein and Milliean "Figgety Phil" Collins, star right-hander of the outfit has shown splendid form in pre-season games and seems destined to have another good season. And in addition, Manager Shotton will have that big gun of outfielders, Chuck Klein, doing his stuff again.

Shotton, like all the other big league pilots, is schooling his players in scientific baseball. The home run belting is out, at least in crucial situations. It was quite a sight to visitors at the Phils' training camp this spring to see the team, famous pill pounders for a decade, laying down bunts and dashing for first. Inside play, smart tricks and base running was the order each day.

Klein, home run monarch of the National League, was taking his short snaps at the ball and dashing off to first just like the others. He quickly fell into line with the new order of things, much to the satisfaction of Shotton. But then Chuck is probably one of the easiest men in the majors to handle. Of course, all heavy hitting is not to be eliminated, but the sluggers will have to step to the plate with instructions to bunt should conditions at the moment warrant that play. Yes, the Shottonmen may come through and fulfill their mentor's predictions and wind up secure in a first division berth.

SOFTBALL BY GIRLS

Lucille Brooksbank's Team Wins Opening Honors of Season

The game started with Margaret's team scoring five runs in the first inning. In the second and third innings Lucille's team scored five runs in each.

Heavy hitting played the most important part in the game. The fielding was slack on both teams.

Teams were as follows:
Lucille Brooksbank (captain), Lillian Vaccher, Creddie Morgan, Beverly Jack, Frances Thompson, Vieno Lehto, Kathleen Kempback, Jean Ritchie, Margaret Mussallem, Enyd Morris.

Margaret Fritz (captain), Elizabeth Sturgeon, Ann Kirkendall, Annie Kach, Eva Morris, Betty Inglis, Molly Ellison, Adelia Thurber, Noriko Yamanaka, Gudrun Welle, Umpire, Miss M. Delaney.
Base Umpire, Ruthana Wood.
Scorekeeper, Maxine Heilbronner.
Reporter, Enyd Morris.

The fury of a woman scorned! I pitied but dared not warn her to be more careful about "B.O."

The Other Woman's STORY

ROMANCE cannot live when carelessness about "B.O."—body odour—creeps in. Men instinctively turn from the girl, women shun the man who is guilty.

To this day she hates me—blames me for stealing him away. But it was her own carelessness that cost her his love.

It removes germs too! Wash your hands often with Lifebuoy so that your finger prints will not put harmful germs on foods you eat.

Don't risk your happiness through over-confidence. Don't feel that you can never offend. Pores are constantly giving off odour-causing waste—a quart daily. We become so used to this ever-present odour that we don't notice "B.O." in ourselves. But others do—instantly!

Play safe. End all "B.O." danger the sure way. Not by trying to cover it up with powders and lotions but by keeping pores clean and deodorized. Frequent bathing with Lifebuoy will do it! Lifebuoy is different from ordinary toilet soaps. Its very smell is different—a pleasant, extra-clean scent that vanishes as you rinse. It lathers more abundantly—leaves you feeling fresher, cleaner. Its creamy, searching lather purifies pores—removes every trace of "B.O."

A Complexion Secret
"Don't be afraid of soap-and-water cleansing for your face," complexion authorities urge. There's no risk if the soap is as pure and bland as Lifebuoy. Work its gentle, purifying lather well into the pores at night; then rinse. See how quickly dull complexions freshen and glow with healthy radiance.

Guide to Correspondents

The Daily News welcomes correspondence on live topics of the day or any other subject of public interest, but letters must be brief and to the point. The long-winded correspondent has no place in modern journalism.

Every letter must be signed by the writer, not necessarily for publication but as a matter of good faith and courtesy. All unsigned documents go to the waste paper basket. Letters of a caustic character must have the signature appended for publication.

Letter should be written on one side of the paper only. Correspondents must avoid personalities and the language should be such as would be allowed in the ordinary rules of debate.

NEW HAZELTON

At a meeting of the New Hazelton Baseball Club on Saturday last J. Rukin, manager, and S. H. Senkpiel, captain, turned in their resignations. Bert Spooner was elected manager while no individual has yet been named for captain.

Mr. Jendron of Winnipeg, inspector of stores for the Hudson Bay Co., has been spending several days at the Hazelton store this week on business.

Miss Vivian Chappell returned to her home in Hazelton on Monday night last after spending a month in Prince Rupert as the guest of Miss Jessie Moffatt.

Dr. and Mrs. H. C. Wrinch returned home last Saturday night from Victoria where Dr. Wrinch had been attending the session of the Legislature in his capacity as member for Skeena.

The tunnels in Bulkeley Canyon just east of New Hazelton have been giving the Canadian National Railways considerable trouble and there is no indication that the trouble is over by any means yet.

The Indians at various points along the Skeena River and at Haggwilget are cleaning up and graveling the roads leading through the different reserves and a great improvement is being made. Many other natives are getting their land in shape for the year's crop.

Roads in this part of the district are very rough and hard on cars just now. The use of the grader on the roads is badly needed.

Fireman Neil McIntosh of Smithers received a severe leg sprain last Saturday morning when he jumped from an engine which he feared was going to be caught in a slide in Bulkeley Canyon.

SMITHERS

A trenchant condemnation of machine tactics employed by the Tolmie government was made by Dr. H. C. Wrinch, M. L. A. for Skeena, in addressing a meeting on Tuesday night of this week of the Smithers Liberal Association. L. H. Kenney, the president, was in the chair. The meeting passed a resolution protesting at the mutilation of Skeena district under the provincial government's Redistribution Bill.

According to intimations received here, the authorities will make every effort to provide as much relief work as possible for married men on the basis of $2.80 per day wages. Single men will have to accept the $7.50 per month and board plan or else go without relief.

Smithers boys' and girls' basketball teams made a trip through the snow to Telkwa on Tuesday night of this week to engage in matches with the teams of that town. The Smithers boys were successful in

SUFFERED FOR FORTY YEARS

Then One Lucky Day She Used Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

Here is great news for sufferers from constipation. Read Mrs. Kendig's voluntary letter:

"For about forty years I had been praying for a lasting remedy for constipation and its attending evils. To make it short, I ate nothing but ALL-BRAN and a little broth. Since that time (about ten years ago) I have not taken any medicine. Have been well and entirely free from constipation." — Mrs. I. H. Kendig (address upon request).

Constipation is caused by lack of two things in the diet: "Bulk" to exercise the intestines. Vitamin B to tone the intestinal tract. Laboratory tests show ALL-BRAN furnishes both. ALL-BRAN also furnishes iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in lettuce. Within the body, it forms a soft mass, which gently clears out the wastes.

Isn't it much pleasanter to enjoy ALL-BRAN than to risk taking pills and drugs—so often harmful?

Two tablespoonfuls daily will overcome most types of constipation. If you have intestinal trouble not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Serve as a cereal, or use in cooking. It is not habit-forming. Recipes on the red-and-green package. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

their encounter while the Telkwa girls were victorious over Smithers.

The Smithers and District Board of Trade has passed a resolution protesting at the findings of engineers in connection with the Peace River outlet. A committee consisting of L. S. McGill and L. B. Warner has been delegated to follow the protest up.

J. Armstrong, mechanical superintendent for the provincial Department of Public Works, was a visitor here the latter part of last week following the suspension of Thomas Cook, who has been in charge of upkeep of road machinery in this district for some time. Six applicants for the position were examined by Mr. Armstrong but no appointment has yet been announced.

Two or three days of fine weather have been interrupted by heavy rains and snowfalls during the past week. Several parties of motorists were caught on the rain-soaked road between Burns Lake and Smithers at the end of last week and it took one car 12 hours to make the trip while another driver had to walk nine miles to get assistance in extricating his car from a ditch.

TRIBUTE IS PAID

Letter to Vancouver Province Tells of Gallantry of Alex Saint, Recently Drowned

The following letter written by R. V. Leese of Powell River, appearing recently in the magazine section of the Vancouver Sunday Province, pays tribute to the memory of the late Alex Saint, formerly of Prince Rupert, who was drowned during the past winter in Burrard Inlet at Vancouver.

"It was with very deep sorrow that I read of the finding of the body of Alexander Saint. He had many friends in Prince Rupert and Hazelton districts and was well known up and down the line as an efficient and reliable provincial constable before the war.

"He enlisted in the Naval Reserve at Esquimalt and took his commission in Greenwich in 1916, commanding a submarine chaser in the English Channel with considerable credit. On one occasion his boat was set on fire and burnt almost to the water's edge. Shortly after, he was appointed to Portsmouth, with a number of other officers, for instruction in the equipment of craft with mine detectors. Later he was sent to Malta to install a detection system around the entire island. The job was secret and could only be done by night, requiring nerve and courage.

"All his friends up and down the coast will join me in mourning the passing of a brave man and a staunch friend."

Harry Dyer, who left on this afternoon's train for a visit to his home in London, England, will sail from Montreal on the steamer Alaunia on April 29.
