DIED ON GASBOAT

James Hunter, Aged 59, Passes Suddenly on Fisheries Patrol Boat Yesterday Morning

James Hunter, well known resident of 23 years' standing or more in Prince Rupert, died yesterday morning off Banks Island aboard the gasboat Ringleader upon which he was employed as engineer in connection with the fisheries patrol. He is believed to have been the victim about 7 a.m. of heart failure while he slept.

The late Mr. Hunter retired Saturday night apparently in fair health and spirits although he had complained for two or three days of pains around the heart. When Thomas D. Smith, owner and skipper of the Ringleader, went to rouse him for breakfast at 7 o'clock yesterday morning he found that he was dead. Deceased had been heard to stir around aboard the boat about 5 a.m. and is believed to have been ill at that time. As soon as he found that Mr. Hunter was dead, Capt. Smith headed the Ringleader for port arriving here last night.

Mr. Hunter, who had engaged in blacksmithing hefe for more than twenty years, at first conducting his own shop and later entering the employ of others, had joined the Ringleader, regularly a halibut boat, only last Thursday as engineer.

The late Mr. Hunter, who was born in Scotland in October, 1882, had spent the most of his life in Canada. He is survived by three daughters—Nina and Beatrice in Prince Rupert and Margaret, who resides with her grandmother at Gilsome. Deceased's wife died in the influenza epidemic of 1918 soon after the birth of the youngest daughter. A brother of deceased, who resided here before going overseas, was killed in the Great War.

VETERANS CAMP ON STEPS OF CAPITOL

WASHINGTON, D.C., June 20.—Tattered and rain-soaked but undaunted by the action of the Senate last night in killing the $2,400,000,000 bonus bill, a large contingent of the soldiers' bonus army has occupied the steps of the Capitol and sent for their camp kitchens with the expressed intention of camping there until the Senate considered favorably the bill authorizing full payment of soldiers' bonuses. They will continue the fight until 1945 if necessary, they declared, for passage of the bill which was passed by the House only to be rejected by the Senate.

Poultry farming is one industry that seems to be on the increase. More birds are being brought in all the time and, consequently, the housing capacity is being increased. On one farm alone there are 1000 birds. Most of the eggs are shipped to Prince Rupert and some to the closer points on the line but all of the farms are paying their way and dairy farms also seem to be making a small revenue.

The sawmill here is only working about two or three days a week and employs some fifteen to twenty men.

HER MUSIC ACCLAIMED

Daughter of Mrs. Russell M. Smith of This City Creates Sensation in England With Her Compositions

"Lozanne", daughter of Mrs. Russell M. Smith of this city, is being hailed by musical critics in England, where her works are creating a sensation, as a rival of the famous Tosti for composition. Keith Prowse & Co. the large London publishing house, has undertaken the publishing of her works and are very enthusiastic over her music. Edward Lockton, who wrote the world-famous songs "Because," "Until" and "Where My Caravan Has Rested," is writing the lyrics for "Lozanne's" music. Songs of this Canadian composer, who has been a brilliant pianiste since a child and who began her career as a composer in September of last year, to be published already have included "You Brought My Heart the Sunshine" (waltz-song), "Night Brings You," "Deep in My Heart," "Black-Haired Marie" and "Lauretta" (ballads) and "Havana Night" (tango song).

Ambrose and His Band, perhaps the most celebrated band in London, is featuring music by "Lozanne" at the Mayfair Hotel in London and Sir Dan Godfrey's Orchestra is also playing it at the Pavilion at Bournemouth. The music is also being played at the Trocadero in London and Yvette Darnac, representing France on the British Broadcasting Company, is broadcasting some of her songs. Miss Gracie Fields, one of England's favorite actresses, has asked for a song by "Lozanne" to suit her voice.

F. H. Hoadley, principal of the Stewart Superior School, is paying a brief visit to the city, having arrived on the Prince Rupert Saturday evening from the north.

RAIN GOOD FOR CROPS

Precipitation of Last Week Beneficial in Manitoba and Saskatchewan

WINNIPEG, June 20.—In Manitoba, the whole province was visited by one of the heaviest rains enjoyed this year, according to the Canadian National Railways crop report for last week. Precipitation was heavier in the north and north western section, centering on Dauphin and the Swan River Valley where it was more required than in other districts. All southern points and the Portage plains were saturated. Grasshoppers are particularly active in some southern areas and a number of poison bait mixing stations are working day and night to supply the requirements of farmers. The general feeling now prevails, however, that the ravages of these pests are being kept under control.

In all the 1931 drought areas of Saskatchewan heavy rains have been experienced interspersed with cool cloudy weather and, in some of these districts, the moisture has seeped into the ground to a depth of 18 inches. Fields damaged by soil drifting have been reseeded and all grains are now growing rapidly.

In Central and Northern Saskatchewan crop conditions are good as weather has been ideal and growth is remarkably rapid on account of rains being followed by warm weather. Wheat is stooling thickly and showing healthy even stand while coarse grains are stretching rapidly.

Crop growth is considered ahead of any previous year.

Receipts of cattle on western stockyards were practically similar to those of a week ago. Values of well finished grain cattle showed steady but in all other classes a weaker undertone developed. The hog market is still unsettled and any bolstering of supplies makes prices react to lower levels.

Game Warden Ed. Martin returned to the city on the Princess Norah Saturday afternoon from a trip into the Taku River district on official duties.

Progress of Peace River Block Reviewed By Canon Proctor; Need For Outlet Is Stressed

Prince Rupert is Logical Terminal, Declares Cleric—Tells Synod of Work of Anglican Church

After speaking of the size of the place and describing it as an inlet without an outlet, Rev. Canon T. D. Proctor, at the Anglican Synod Thursday night, set forth in a most interesting and entertaining manner the rapid developments which had taken place both materially and spiritually in his thirty months of residence in the Peace River Block. A point which was of great interest, was the fact that he had had to travel 1436 miles from his parish in order to come to Synod, the headquarters of his own Diocese, which should not be, and would not be, if the necessary coast outlet, of which so much has been heard for the last ten years, were put into effect. This would then cut down the distance by more than fifty per cent.

Canon Proctor set forth the advantages of climate, soil fertility and mineral wealth and how the population had increased some three hundred per cent within the last few years, despite the period of depression. He also stated that about sixty-five per cent of the settlers were of Anglo-Saxon stock and that about ninety per cent of those who had come in within the last three years had been successful farmers on the prairies who had been driven out by the continued droughts. Many who were considered wealthy during the last decade had made their entry upon freight trains without a cent to make a fresh start in a country which has a most wonderful future, both for the diocese and province.

The speaker made mention of the increase in the number of schools which had taken place, amounting to 300 per cent, in keeping with the increased population.

Need of Outlet

After setting forth the extensiveness of the development in the taking up of land by the new settlers, he set forth the dire necessity of the same and the need for immediate relief, which could be no better satisfied than by the building of a coast outlet, of which Prince Rupert would be the logical terminal, being fairly easily accessible and this port being the nearest to the Orient. This would open up, not only the wealth of the north country, but make a speedy and short means of access to the coast and Orient.

From a church standpoint Canon Proctor set forth the development which has kept up with the increase in population and material development, stating that no less than six churches and church halls had been erected during his period of office to the glory of God and in the name of the Anglican Synod of Caledonia. Two other buildings are at present under construction. Three ordained workers are now in the field, with four lady workers, and another ordained worker will enter the field at the end of this month. Over forty service centres have been established.

Many places which were decidedly rural three years ago, are today developed into real live towns, the first of which to be incorporated was Pouce Coupe, some six months ago. This, however, is not the largest for, with the entry of steel into Dawson Creek, on January 15 a year ago, a real live centre immediately came into being. Eighteen months ago this place was a half-section covered with stubble, from which the grain had just been removed. At that time there was but one small old log farm building. Today, on that same site, there is a town with a population of over 400, with buildings, including five grain elevators, an up-to-date station and round house, four-roomed school, hospital, three churches, four hotels, three restaurants, two butcher shops, five barber shops, six stores, home curing meat plant, flour mill, printing press, four lumber yards, two halls, besides some forty or more residences, well equipped sports ground, including race track, curling and skating rink, and all the other things that go to make up a real live town. This being the end of steel, it serves a country settled up for 70 miles west and almost a hundred miles north of the Peace River. All will admit that the development has been tremendous. The church, however, had kept pace although it had been a most arduous and difficult task.

Relieving Distress

The Anglican Church has not been behind in relieving the distress of the newcomers. The speaker mentioned through the generosity of church people, Dominion wide, extending from the Prince Edward Island to the Pacific coast, and through interested friends in England, he had been able to distribute some three and a half tons of clothing and footwear, besides some $1400 in groceries, milk and other necessities for undernourished mothers and babies, and some $70 worth of garden seeds to help the struggling newcomers to avoid a repetition of the dire necessity of the past winter. This necessity last winter was increased by the extreme winter which made it an unusual one.

Canon Proctor then pleaded for the prayers of the Synod assembled, for the continuance of God's blessing upon the work of the church, in this portion of His great vineyard.

The Letter Box

UNEMPLOYMENT FIGURES

Editor, Daily News:— One is almost tempted to believe that the government of Canada is very indifferent towards the unemployment problem, perhaps the most vital of all questions. At least it seems to be persistently evaded. What is, for instance, the official figure of Canada's unemployment? Is it 600,000 as a year ago, or what? The Financial Post estimates the figure at 725,000. A cabinet minister protested, but as he could furnish no actual figure himself, the Post still claims to be right.

No sane minded person will have much confidence in the government's efforts of curing ills, the extent of which it does not attempt to face squarely. Other civilized countries publish the figures weekly or monthly, at least, and it is not unreasonable to believe that these same countries also will be among the first to solve the problem, some steps having been taken already.

Why not face the facts and the responsibilities?

JOHN BOSTROM
Prince Rupert, June 19, 1932.

Back of Canadian Homes

THANKS to the foresight of past years, hundreds of thousands of Canadian homes are now protected against present-day privations and future uncertainties. Back of these homes is a vast financial reserve created by savings wisely invested in Life Insurance.

Canadians today own $6,800,000,000 of Life Insurance. In a period of financial disturbance, these policyholders have proved that Life Insurance lives up to every promise—never depreciates in value—pays every obligation fully and promptly—and constantly safeguards the homes and businesses of the nation.

Frequently, Life Insurance has become the only asset of a family made poor by adverse circumstances, or bereaved by the loss of a breadwinner. Likewise, it has ensured independence for many a man who has been obliged to retire earlier than he had expected.

It is more necessary now than ever to maintain the full protection of your Life Insurance. It is wisdom, too, to add to your investment in Life Insurance so that it will provide ample security for the future of yourself and loved ones.

CAST FORD V-8 CYLINDER BLOCKS

CLIMAXING an unusual industrial achievement, the Holmes Foundry Co., Ltd., of Sarnia, Ontario, is now engaged in casting cylinder blocks for the new Ford V-8 cars, according to L. G. Blunt, president. The photo shows workmen in the Holmes plant pouring molten iron from an overhead ladle into a casting box. The Holmes company is manufacturing cylinder blocks for the Ford Motor Company of Canada, Limited, at East Windsor, Ontario, which is now engaged in volume production of the new Ford cars. The casting process is unusual inasmuch as the two cylinder blocks and the upper half of the crankcase are cast in one piece. This is the first time, so far as is known, that this has been accomplished in Canada. The production on account of the Ford company has resulted in increased activity at the Holmes plant and the re-employment of many workers.

NEW DOUBLE VISION GLASSES SURE PLEASED ONE LADY

Not long ago a lady whose eyesight was failing very badly was fitted with a pair of double vision glasses by G. F. Davey, Registered Optometrist in charge of the Optical Dept. of Max Heilbronner, Jeweler. These proved to be so satisfactory that in a very short time a friend called asking to be fitted with a pair of exactly the same style. That's exactly how our optical business keeps growing, satisfactory glasses at a very moderate service charge makes people talk.

Some Babies owe it their lives!

THAT'S what grateful mothers often write us, praising Carnation Milk for baby feeding. Famous specialists recommend it because of its purity, uniformity and safety. Carnation is heat-treated forming finest, softest curds in the baby's stomach. And homogenization breaks up the coarse fat globules into easily assimilable ones. This makes Carnation super-smooth in cookery, too. Splendid when creaming coffee and for use with fruits and cereals. Economical because double-rich.

PICNICKED AT OSLAND

Outing of Sons of Norway Lodge Much Enjoyed—Seventy-Five Persons Made Trip

Despite unfavorable weather conditions, the local Sons of Norway Lodge held a very successful picnic yesterday at Osland, the Icelandic settlement on Smith Island. Seventy-five persons made the trip aboard the halibut boats Covenant, Capt. Hans Underdahl, and Pair of Jacks, Capt. Axel Peterson.

On arrival at Osland, luncheon was served after which there was a baseball game followed by dancing in the afternoon with accordion music by Julius Welle. A tug-of-war between mixed teams proved a draw, the prize being divided. Much merriment was occasioned by a mock auction of the purchaser of the article auctioned being Alf Storvick. Supper was served before the picnickers left on their return home after a happy day's outing.

The committee in charge of the picnic consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Gunnar Selvig, Mrs. Hans Underdahl and Joseph Welle.

In addition to loaning their hall to the visitors, the people of Osland did everything else in their power to assist in entertaining the visitors.

BAKING makes potatoes better

BAKING makes bread featherweight

BAKING makes beans marvellously tender

Baking makes many foods taste better—but beans, above all, need to be baked to bring out their flavour. Heinz Beans taste better because they are really baked in dry-heat ovens just like your own. Most beans are simply steamed in a sealed can. But oven-baking makes Heinz beans marvelously light, tender and digestible. The sauces, that only Heinz can make, permeate every bean. One taste will tell you the difference oven-baking makes.

Four kinds of Heinz Beans—all baked!

Heinz Beans are really Baked!

And what a nourishing meal they make—all the food value of meat and potatoes. Get Heinz Oven-Baked Beans the next time you're at your grocer's.

DOES YOUR BUSINESS NEED A DOCTOR?

Now, Mr. Businessman, have you ever tried to diagnose the reason for that sudden drop in profit over the figures of "last month?" If the temperature of your business alarms you there is no need for you to lose any sleep—the remedy is simple.

ADVERTISE

"Ah!" you say, "But that's all very well. I'm only a small man and can't afford it." That's the reason the small man remains a small man. The big men in business today did not become big by hiding their light under a bushel, they advertised, and Advertised, and ADVERTISED. Advertising is as necessary to a "sick" business as the doctor's services are to a sick person. And it will find the money to pay its own bills, if done judiciously, from the increased volume of increased profits. Start with a small appropriation

Atomic Force Science Church Subject Sunday

The subject of the lesson-sermon in Prince Rupert Christian Science Society on Sunday was "Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?"

One of the Bible texts was, "And they came to him, and woke him, saying, Master, master, we perish. Then he arose, and rebuked the wind and the raging of the water: and they ceased, and there was a calm" (Luke 8: 24).

The lesson-sermon also included the following passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The world would collapse without Mind, without the intelligence which holds the winds in its grasp."

TERRACE PEOPLE ARE MAKING GOOD ON FARMS; LARGE FRUIT CROP EXPECTED THIS SEASON.

The places are very beautiful. Lilac trees and snowball trees are very numerous and are laden with blossoms. Roses are also more advanced here and many bushes are covered in bloom.

Now that the school term is nearly closed, people with families are preparing to spend the summer months at that beautiful camping ground—Lakelse Lake. From all reports there will be more campers at the lake this year than ever before. Camps are going up all along the shores of the lake. In fact, there seems to be more activity at the lake than there is in Terrace itself. Even in the older camps improvements are being made. George Little has a beautiful home on the lake shore and he is now building a road connecting his camp with the main road.

Building Fine Cottage

A Mr. Poe of Chicago is now up at the lake superintending the building of a beautiful summer cottage which he hopes to have finished this summer and which he plans fitting up with all the modern conveniences.

One of the beauty spots of the surrounding country of Terrace is Lakelse Lodge. After a drive of about forty minutes on a beautiful road one comes to the shore of Lakelse Lake. This lake is some seven miles long and about a mile and a half in width. From this point one is taken in a launch for a twenty minutes' run up the lake to the lodge.

The lodge and its surrounding buildings are very picturesque, all being built of log structure and with the trees and foliage as a background and the lake stretching out in the foreground. The whole effect makes a very pleasing picture indeed.

Great improvements at the lodge have been made this year, one of the most important being the building of another large log two-storey building next to the hotel. This is the "bath house." In it there are six baths, 10 bedrooms and a large living room. Here people may bathe in the hot spring water without actually going up to the hot springs at all. This water has been piped direct from the hot springs into these baths through about a mile of piping. The baths are the average sized baths used in the homes today.

This building, like the hotel, is made of peeled logs and very beautifully finished inside with oil varnish. The banisters of the curved staircase in both of the buildings, that lead to the second floor are very quaint, being made of small naturally curved trees. In both buildings also are large log fireplaces made of rocks. The rooms are all nicely furnished with many beautiful pictures on the walls. Some of these are oil paintings of the surrounding country and are framed in rustic frames.

The hotel itself has 14 bedrooms and there are eight cottages also to accommodate visitors.

Fine Sandy Beach

A lovely sandy beach stretches along the shore near the lake making it an ideal place for bathers. Trout fishing in the lake this year seems to be even better than usual.

Mr. Johnson is also building a clay tennis court near the hotel and expects to have it finished in a short time.

What with ideal weather conditions and numerous ways of spending the summer days, this is, indeed, an ideal spot for spending a holiday vacation.

Actor Sued

"I wouldn't pay $3,500 for the 'Blue Boy,' much less a painting of my own mug," drawled To mMix, being sued for that amount by an artist who did him in oil.

IS WEDDED FOR MONEY

Joan Bennett Star of "She Wanted a Millionaire" at Capitol Theatre

Depicting the adventures of a small town factory girl who vowed she would never marry any man unless he possessed at least a million dollars and who kept her vow only to find that wealth is a poor substitute for love and romance, the film drama, "She Wanted a Millionaire," featuring Joan Bennett and Spencer Tracy in the leading roles, is the first of the week offering at the Capitol Theatre here.

Miss Bennett plays the part of the girl who is entered in a beauty contest by ambitious friends, thus starting on her way to gilded riches but tarnished love. Tracy appears as a young railway locomotive engineer who is deeply in love with the girl who, however, refuses to listen to his pleadings and promises. James Kirkwood impersonates a rich and lustful rounder who satisfies Miss Bennett's desire for riches but shatters her ideals of romance.

The film is a clever interweaving of spectacle, pageantry, drama and romance with a sparkling tinge of humor. Many beautiful girls are shown in a bathing suit contest and the picture also gives a good insight into some of the latest fashions.
