Plans For Pulp Mill Going Ahead; Type Of Plant Is Being Decided Upon

Nothing is being held in abeyance but, rather, definite progress is being made regarding the local pulp mill project it is stated in a letter received today by Olier Besner of this city from Frank L. Buckley of Vancouver, who is promoting the project for the establishment of the new industry at Prince Rupert. This will come as reassuring news to Prince Rupert people who had heard that there might be some interruption in the plans for the enterprise. Mr. Buckley's letter to Mr. Besner reads as follows:

"I wish to assure you and want you to so advise everyone else who is interested that nothing is 'being held in abeyance.' We are steadily working on our plans having now definitely decided on a 200-ton Miterlich pulp mill, this being the highest grade of pulp known on the market, and there is not another Miterlich pulp mill on the Pacific Coast. I had expected to leave for the north tonight but am obliged to wait over another week in connection with some plans I am working out with our engineers.

"You and all other business men of your district know that this is a most difficult time to get under way but I again assure you we are not hesitating and as I stated to you in the first instance we may be delayed a little and it may take longer than anticipated or rather we might consume more time than if conditions and times were normal but we will go steadily ahead and eventually win out."

OTTAWA, April 27.—Canada receives full British preferential tariff on all exports to New Zealand with the exception of six items under the new Canada-New Zealand trade agreement which was made public last night and tabled in the House of Commons today by Hon. H. H. Stevens, minister of trade and commerce. Under the agreement Canada receives for the first time preference on lumber, laths and shingles which are accorded a preference of two shillings per hundred super-feet which is equivalent to $5 per thousand feet. In return, Canada concedes New Zealand special rates on goods of outstanding interest to her and otherwise continues in operation the British preferential tariff as regards New Zealand products.

Halibut Fishermen Complain at Depredations of Fur Seal; Are Cause of Destruction of Fish

Just at a time when the fishermen are having a hard time to make expenses on their trips, there comes an added hardship of which some of the fishermen are complaining. This is the depredations of the fur seals that are now on their way north to the rookeries on the Pribiloff Islands. There have been complaints in the past that the seals consume large quantities of fish but this year the complaints are louder and more insistent.

John Ivarsen, skipper of the Melville, a six-man halibut boat, has just arrived from fishing on the "whaleback," about 25 miles west of Langara Island. He reports that there were hundreds of fur seals on the banks and that, as they pulled in their lines, the seals tore the fish off the hooks just before they reached the surface. He estimates that he must have lost between three and four thousand pounds of halibut on that trip. The banks are deep and the seals do not seem to want to go to the bottom to get the fish but wait until the fishermen bring them up.

The galling part of the business is that the seals are protected by international law and the fishermen, even if the seals get on the hooks, dare not bring the pelts ashore. They claim that the treaty benefits the Americans and yet, when the fishermen return to port, Americans get about two cents a pound more for exactly similar fish to those caught by the Canadians because of the two-cent tariff imposed on Canadian caught fish entering the States. They say that if they were allowed to take the seals they could make a living whereas now they lose money.

Capt. Underdahl of the halibut boat Covenant reported a similar occurrence a few weeks ago on the west coast and others complain similarly. In Hecate Straits, where the smaller female seals pass, the salmon trollers complain that the seals bite the salmon after they are on the hooks and make them unfit for market. It is a very common occurrence for trollers to lose a number of fish in that way.

When Captain Ivarsen was telling of the occurrence to a Daily News representative yesterday, he pictured the scene on the banks. He and the crew could see the depredators take the fish off the hooks. Now and then one would come to the surface and look up at the boat, just like a dog begging for more. Naturally the fishermen were wrothy, especially in view of the restrictions against killing them.

Captain Ivarsen is reporting the occurrence to the fisheries department and expressed the opinion that the treaty protecting these seals should be abrogated so that the fishermen might be able to protect their calling by killing the seals and selling their pelts.

ACCUSED OF STEALING

A correspondent of the Daily News accuses the canneries of stealing from the fishermen because the canneries paid less for their fish last year than they did the year before. What was forgotten by our correspondent was that the year when those large prices were paid was the year that brought big losses to the canneries in some cases almost amounting to ruin.

We all like to see the fishermen get good prices. The businessmen particularly are pleased because it means that the fishermen have more money to spend when they are earning big money. Today when the fishermen, like the farmers and all other producers, are earning practically nothing and in many cases losing money, the merchants also find themselves very hardly pressed and in many cases losing money rapidly.

The canneries in 1930 paid more for their fish than the market warranted and their loss was heavy. Naturally they refuse to operate this year unless they can see a way of at least breaking even. Also the fishermen are looking for the best possible price for their product and they usually earn more than they get. Anything they can do to improve conditions is worthy of general support.

All we suggest is that in discussing questions of this kind we be moderate in our language and keep to facts. Also we suggest that because high prices were paid one year is no reason to think the same should be done all the time. Just now prices must be low for fish because all food-stuffs are low in price. We heard recently of eggs being sold at Swift Current at four cents a dozen. That is no reason why eggs should always sell at four cents but it is a reason why fish cannot be very high in price because the average person would rather have a dozen eggs than a pound of fish.

Today everybody is having a hard struggle to live. It is a period of discipline when we have to deflate our extravagant ideas and get down to earth.

CURIOUS EFFECT OF CONDITIONS

The present condition is one that sets people thinking whether or not we are on the right track governmentally. People of a certain type of mind turn to Karl Marx as the prophet who will lead them into the Promised Land. They are hurt by the difficulties of life as they meet them today and they feel that with a change of conditions things might be better and could not be worse. That is always the condition of affairs during a period of deflation.

Several hundred years ago there was a bad time in Britain and the Chartists tried to reform the world. Most of the things they asked for have since been granted but they came gradually. In France they had a revolution but we have not noticed that the French people found any more liberty in their republic than did the people of Britain in their monarchy.

Today all socialists and communists, known generally as "Reds," point to Russia, but they get no great solace from conditions there. The country is developing and the condition of the people is improving, for which we are all thankful, but the revolution did not give them much better living conditions and today they have a long way to go before they reach the standard that prevails in Canada. And the governmental conditions can be changed in Canada in such a manner as to gradually improve the lot of the people just as is being done in Russia and without that visionary revolution of which the Communists dream.

Some people are born revolutionists. The average Canadian, however, is far different. He is an evolutionist, who believes in gradual improvement of the mass of the people. It should not be difficult to legislate in such a manner as to see that, when there is plenty of food in the country, no person should be without the possibility of being able to earn his living. To that we are all aiming and it does not need a revolution to bring it about. Already proposals have been made for a levy on capital and doubtless this will be done if it is found that there are too many people who are inordinately rich. The power is in the hands of the people through its constituted authority to do almost anything they wish. But the power does not lie with a few revolutionists to force their views on the rest of the country.

DISCOURSE ON DRUGS

Interesting Address Delivered Before Gyro Club by A. W. Morrow of Walkerville, Ontario

A. W. Morrow, chemist for the Parke-Davis Co., well known drug manufacturing concern, who is here conducting investigations into the possibilities of medicinal use of halibut liver oil, was an interesting speaker before the Prince Rupert Gyro Club at luncheon yesterday. Although dealing with rather technical matters, Mr. Morrow was able to hold the rapt attention of his listeners throughout his talk. The speaker described the products turned out by his company at its large laboratories and factories at Walkerville, Ontario, and traced step by step the machinery used in the manufacture of drugs from the raw down to the finished product. Mr. Morrow referred briefly to the subject of halibut liver oil possibilities here.

The meeting was favored with violin solos by Bert Cameron, accompanied by Charlie Balagno. William Cruickshank, president of the club, was in the chair.

Mussolini gets only $1250 a year for being dictator of Italy. Jake says he'd hate to do the job for that sun. He prefers his cabin and his pen on forty cents a day relief allowance.

Jake wants to know if a man gambles away his salary and then loses his job, should he get relief pay? I think he should have to do without relief for losing his job.

Some people are so mad with the Tolmie government that they refuse to buy gasoline so as to avoid paying the six cents tax.

Leap Year is getting along nicely and very few casualties are so far reported.

Not a Limerick But Good Verse

A contribution to the Stewart & Mabley limerick contest in connection with the Supreme Coffee campaign has been received from a fifteen year old girl. It is not a limerick but is an interesting verse. It is suggested that she try again, keeping to the limerick form.

Supreme Coffee
If coffee is your weakness
Why don't you try our brand?
There isn't anything like it
To give you a helping hand.

It peeps you up like magic.
It makes you feel like new.
I just love Supreme Coffee.
And I'm sure that you would too.
Just let it perk eight minutes,
And pour it from the pot,
Then add the milk and sugar
And serve it piping hot.

If you want the best brand
At a price which you can pay,
Just try our Supreme Coffee—
It's the big hit of the day.

So many people want it
That it keeps us on the run—
But still we like to please you
And its really lots of fun.

Young Elks Defeat Sons of Canada By Narrow Margin

Last night the Young Elks defeated the Young Sons of Canada by a score of 9 to 8 in Intermediate League baseball. The winning run was brought in by Stinech through Welle's single in the last inning.

If Forbes can manage to get control of the ball he will make a hard pitcher to beat, as he only allowed the one hit, although he walked several men.

Nakamoto at second played an excellent game. The game was featured by very few hits.

SPORT CHAT

The announcement of the British team of golfers to compete for the Walker Cup against the Americans this summer fails to mention Roger Wethered, who had been spoken of prominently as the prospective captain. The list also does not include the young university undergraduate E. Martin Smith, winner of the amateur title. The team, captained by T. Bookless, is John Burke, Irish champion; Leonard Crawley, Lister Hartley, Rex Hartley, Eric McRivie and J. A. Stout.

Al Foreman, Montreal boxer, who held the lightweight championship of Great Britain, was deprived of that title by the board of the British Boxing Association, with no reason being given. Foreman's manager, his brother Maurice, endeavored to explain the mystery by saying that the board wanted them to take on Johnny Cuthbert in defence of the title. The row came about, it appears from Maurice, because he turned down the offer of Cuthbert's father, which was considerably under two others, one from Leeds and another from London. A legal fight looms on the right of the authorities to force a boxer to accept the lowest purse or lose a title.

FOOTBALL SCHEDULE

City Championship Competition to Start on May 5

Referees Named

Gilhuly Cup Will Be Played For Later in Season

A meeting of the executive of the Prince Rupert Football Association was held in the Grotto Cigar Store last evening with President Bert Morgan in the chair. In view of the fact that there are four teams in the league this year it was felt that, if the Gilhuly Cup was operated on the same basis as in former years, that is, on the basis of a home and away game for each team with each of the remaining teams, it would entail a total of 12 games and would take too long to complete. It was finally decided that the Gilhuly Cup would be left until later on in the season in case of it being necessary to make this competition a knock-out competition should the weatherman interfere too much with the running off of the other schedules.

It was also decided to commence the season on Thursday, May 5, with the Mobley Cup competition, which is emblematic of the league championship of the city. The following schedule was drawn up.

May 5—Merchants vs. Regiment.
May 10—Canadian Legion vs. Home Oil.
May 12—Home Oil vs. Merchants.
May 17—Regiment vs. Canadian Legion.
May 19—Merchants vs. Canadian Legion.
May 24—Regiment vs. Home Oil.
May 26—Canadian Legion vs. Regiment.
May 31—Home Oil vs. Canadian Legion.
June 2—Regiment vs. Merchants.
June 7—Canadian Legion vs. Merchants.
June 9—Home Oil vs. Regiment.
June 14—Merchants vs. Home Oil.

Applications were received and accepted from J. A. Johnstone and D. A. Jack for the position of referee for this season. These gentlemen were appointed in the above order to referee the first two games. Any others desirous of refereeing games this year should file their applications with the secretary.

Gaumont Palace Is New Cinema In Old London

LONDON, April 27.—London's latest cinema is the Gaumont Palace at Hammersmith Broadway. It seats 4,000 people and cost $1,500,000. For the small sum of 12 cents up to 60 cents a three-hour program of pictures and stage shows may be enjoyed. The theatre's circle alone seats 2,000 people. While its total capacity of 4,000 is smaller than that of the Trocadero at the Elephant and Castle, the new cinema claims a number of records, including the size of the stage arch, said to be the largest in the country. The safety curtain weighs 18 tons.

The long-winded correspondent has no place in modern journalism. Every letter must be signed by the writer, not necessarily for publication but as a matter of good faith and courtesy. All unsigned documents go to the waste paper basket. Letters of a caustic character must have the signature appended for publication. Letter should be written on one side of the paper only. The spacious rooms were attractively decorated for the occasion with spring flowers and foliage. Many ladies called during the afternoon.

WORK OF MISSION

Rev. W. B. Jennings Tells Public Meeting of Activities of Northern Cross in Marine Missions

Describing by word of mouth and by magic lantern slides the fine work of the Prince Rupert Coast Mission of the Anglican Church, Rev. W. B. Jennings, skipper of the mission boat Northern Cross, delivered a highly interesting illustrated lecture last evening before a public meeting in the hall of St. Andrew's Anglican Cathedral. The meeting formed part of the program in connection with the holding here this week of the annual meetings of the Woman's Auxiliary of Caledonia diocese and there was a fair attendance. Mr. Jennings was assisted in the lecture by his wife, who is also his assistant in his missionary work. The pictures and remarks were descriptive of many points of interest to be reached by the water from Prince Rupert. There were scenes of the mining, fishing and farming industries with slides showing Port Simpson, Alice Arm, Portland Canal, Port Essington, Porcher Island, Kitkatla, Metlakatla, Port Essington and other points in the district. Mr. Jennings told of the splendid spiritual work being done at lonely lighthouses, at isolated communities and among the natives. There were many intimate glimpses of life both among the white people at their outposts along the north coast and among the natives in their villages. Incidentally some of the interesting and quaint customs of the natives were also described.

At the outset of his address, Mr. Jennings paid tribute to the work which had been carried out for many years by his predecessor, Canon W. F. Rushbrook, who had instituted the coast mission in 1912 and who had carried on until three or four years ago. The work had been a good deal more difficult in those pioneer years than it is today. In the course of his address, Mr. Jennings referred to the good use that could be made of old magazines for distribution among the people living at outlying places where the Northern Cross visited. Literature of a suitable type could always be put to good use and was always welcomed.

Dean Gibson presided at the meeting which was to have been addressed by Mrs. D. B. Donaldson, treasurer of the Dominion Board of the Woman's Auxiliary, who, with interior delegates, had been unable to reach here on account of trouble on the railway line. Dean Gibson read the Scripture lesson and offered prayer. Miss E. G. Lenox M.D. presided at the piano to accompany the hymns. Canon W. F. Rushbrook pronounced the Benediction.

SPENDING TO SAVE.. THROUGH

Advertising

Not many of us, these days, are troubled with so much money that we cannot spend it. But we are interested in spending the money we have, to get the most out of it.

One way—and not a new way, either—is to make a budget. Put down, week by week, the money that comes in. Put down beside it, week by week, the money that goes out. So much for food, so much for clothing, so much for rent. So much for giving, and for luxuries.

Where Advertising Helps

It won't always be easy, of course, to stay within the budget. That's where advertising helps you. Advertisements in this newspaper tell you how much rugs, butter, breakfast foods, dishes, homes, automobiles will cost, before you go shopping! They point out ways to save money. They show you how to cut a little here, a little there. And each day, they tell about new inventions, new products, new ways of doing things, that help make this life of ours very much worth living!
