Large Attendance Last Night At Presbyterian Ladies' Aid Anniversary Banquet

Toasts and Music

Fitting Spirit Pervaded Air At Gathering—Interesting Speakers Are Heard

With appropriate speeches, song and music and a spirit fitting to the occasion pervading the atmosphere, the 173rd anniversary of the birth of Robert Burns, great national poet of Scotland, was celebrated at a banquet held last night in the Church Hall by the Ladies' Aid of First Presbyterian Church.

Thomas McClymont presided and the speakers of the evening were Rev. W. G. Hollingworth, D. C. Stuart, Mayor C. H. Orme and Jas. McGlashan, each of whom responded ably to the principal toasts.

Contributing to the musical program were an orchestra, consisting of John Bremner, James Watt, J. B. MacKay and J. L. Lee, which played lively Scottish airs; Mrs. J. M. McLeod, who sang "Scots Wha' Hae" and "Jock o' Hazeldean"; Alex Clapperton, whose vocal selections were "Green Grow the Rashes O" and "My ain Wee Hoose"; Mrs. J. H. Carson who rendered "Loch Lomond" and "Mary of Argyll" as vocal solos; Mrs. William Milar, who sang "Flow Gently, Sweet Afton" and "Where Has Scotland Found Her Fame"; Mrs. P. H. Linzey and J. E. Davey, who presented "O Wert Thou in the Cauld Blast"; as a vocal duet, and John Campbell, who played violin solos. All musical numbers (Continued on Page Two)

MUST BE PREPARED

While most people are learning to hate war and see in excessive armaments one of the great dangers to peace, they must at the same time realize that an international police force is very necessary. The present outbreak at San Salvador is an indication of the need. If the British do not protect their own nationals, no one else can be expected to do it for them. The two little Canadian naval boats are already proving their usefulness.

REPARATIONS AND TARIFFS

Following the publication a few days ago of an editorial article defending the United States in connection with its dealings with Italy, our attention has been drawn to an editorial of a different tenor in Toronto Saturday Night in which the writer says:

"I believe that history will assign the United States a large share of responsibility for the world's sufferings of these and recent days. And I think she will be judged more harshly for her sin today—the persistence, owing to greed, in a course of action destructive to society—than for those errors which, while producing the present situation, were due to error of judgment rather than intent.

"The United States has committed, and commits, the error of obstinately persisting in a foolish and impossible course of action, the wrongfulness of which has been abundantly demonstrated. She insisted on payments of war debts and reparations while raising her tariff walls to heights that precluded the import of goods from the debtor countries, leaving, in effect, gold as the only medium in which payment could be made. The consequent withdrawal and sterilization in the treasuries of the United States and France of nearly two-thirds of the world's monetary gold had the inevitable effect of forcing down to a corresponding degree the prices of all goods and services, and business became progressively paralyzed. No other result was possible.

"War debts and reparations should be wiped off the slate for the good of everybody, including the people of the United States. They will be eventually, whatever the Lausanne conference recommends. And the world should get together on the question of tariffs. It is not practicable at present to eliminate entirely these obstacles to world trade, but they should and can be scaled down. High tariffs are destructive. Since Mr. Bennett raised Canada's tariffs so sharply, no less than thirty countries, some of them our best customers in former years, have taken steps to restrict their imports from Canada."

EXCELLENT WORK

The management of the Daily News wishes to pay a tribute to the work done by the newsboys on Saturday evening. Although it was about seven o'clock before most of them got away and a gale was blowing and it was raining hard yet only one complaint was received. Apparently all others received their papers. The whole eleven were on the job and most of them were on the road for at least two hours. Appreciation of their excellent work was expressed by a number of subscribers.

CITY ASSESSMENTS

It has been drawn to our attention that it was stated at the meeting of the Ratepayers' Association that the C. N. R. assessments had been cut in half while the assessments of the other ratepayers had remained the same. Our informants tell us that the city assessments have been cut 47 per cent in that time.

Burns Is Honored

were very acceptable and were roundly applauded. Piano accompanists were John E. Davey, Mrs. J. S. Black, Mrs. W. M. Blackstock and Miss Maizie Macdonald.

The proceedings opened with the singing of "O Canada," after which the chairman pronounced as Grace "Some Hae Meat." Born aloft by Robert Cameron. The Haggis was piped into the hall in the ceremonial manner by Piper Sam Leslie in Highland costume. W. M. Brown gave in effective manner the "Address to a Haggis."

After full justice had been done to a splendid banquet spread, the toast list and musical program was proceeded with.

The Addresses

In responding to the toast to "The Immortal Memory," Rev. W. D. Grant Hollingworth paid his sincere tribute to Robert Burns whom he termed as a man who had been a great poet and fashioner of British literature, an independent democrat, a philosopher of the people and a great Scottish patriot. Burns' philosophy of democracy of man, the speaker declared, was becoming more and more accepted by the world, ever down to present times. Burns ranked first among the creative artists and in spirit reigned today over a greater dominion than that which could be boasted by many a king. His personality had become permanently enshrined in the hearts of mankind.

D. C. Stuart read a poem of Burns which had been sent by Mrs. J. M. Carmichael, former resident of this city, from Santa Monica, California. In responding to the toast of "Scotland," Mr. Stuart said that he intended to talk of Scotland's place in the sun. Scotland had found its fame through the character of her people. The co-mingling of the early forerunners—the Celts, the Anglo-Saxons and Normans—had imbued the Scottish people with loyalty, caution, religion, patriotism and love of liberty. The influence of the Scotch had become firmly imprinted in the life of Canada and other countries in the world. In literary, military, patriotic and other lines the achievements of Scotsmen had been great and numerous.

Mayor C. H. Orme, in responding to the toast of "Canada and Our City," added his tribute to the memory of Robert Burns of whose works he too was a lover. Canada had benefited by having so many Scottish citizens and Canada had in turn been good to the Scotsman. The mayor referred to the influence of the Scotch upon this country. Turning to the city, the mayor declared that the same reason which had caused the founding of Prince Rupert existed as strongly today as in the early days. All that was awaited was the putting into effect of the opportunity. So far as the future of Prince Rupert was concerned, there was nothing to fear. The young people who had been born and raised here would carry the city through.

Combining humor and seriousness in an effective manner, James McGlashan spoke on the toast to "The Lassies." He divided the lassies into three groups—the sweet hearts, the wives and the mothers. He paid tribute to the work of women in various spheres. Their part was equally as important as man's and often more difficult although too seldom recognized.

At the close of the evening's program, all joined hands and sang "Auld Lang Syne," after which the proceedings closed with the singing of "God Save the King."

Mrs. D. McD. Hunter is president of the Ladies' Aid. Ladies of the Aid assisted generally in connection with the affair.

THE FRONT DOOR OF THE PEACE RIVER COUNTRY

Economy is the keynote of all activities today. No money is expended unless it is looked upon as an absolute necessity.

It is at a time like this when the advantages of the Pacific outlet to the sea should be recognized by all Canadians. It is the hope of a very large section of the country, particularly of that new and rapidly growing young empire through which the Peace River flows.

PRINCE RUPERT WAS BUILT TO BE THE WESTERN OUTLET

the logical point from which the grain of the Peace should be shipped. There are other points which might be made available but the railway is already built into Prince Rupert from Edmonton by the best grade of any line on the continent. The port is already here and a fine elevator ready to receive the grain. No expense is necessary except for the piece of railway connecting the existing Peace River railways with the main line of the Canadian National at some point between Hansard and the coast. With that operated jointly by the two big railway companies and with the C. P. R. granted suitable running privileges over the C. N. R. to enable them to do business on an equality with their competitor, the business of hauling grain to the Pacific by the best possible route can commence.

While this is a time when strictest economy is being practised everywhere, it is a time when the employment of labor in a large way is eminently desirable. Men are out of work and must be fed. The reasonable thing would be to set them to work on big undertakings of a productive nature and this Peace River Pacific outlet is one that lends itself to the purpose, especially if one of the longer and more economical routes such as that to Hazelton should be adopted.

SETTLERS ARE STILL POURING INTO THE PEACE COUNTRY

The towns are growing into cities and the villages into towns. The people are a unit in demanding a western outlet and they have adopted the Prince Rupert attitude which is that it be built by the most feasible route to the coast.

The location of this route means everything to the country. If it should be built south instead of west and should go by a tortuous route with mountain grades instead of by way of a perfect water grade to the sea, it would mean that high freight rates would be set to enable the railways to earn dividends under the difficult circumstances. A case in point is that of the C. P. R. which was built through the difficult Kicking Horse Pass and as a result of which a mountain differential had to be established.

It would be little short of a crime to place a permanent embargo on all western shipments from the Peace River country, especially at a time when people are looking for the most economical way of carrying on the business of the country and enabling the farmers to compete with grain growers in other countries to the best advantage. The interests of the grain growers should be paramount. Any line that is built should be for the purpose of serving them and not to advantage any particular port or district.

PRINCE RUPERT IS THE PORT OF THE WESTERN ROUTE

for the products of Northern Alberta and British Columbia. The port has one of the finest harbors in the world, open all the year round and easily accessible from the ocean. It has one of the most up-to-date elevators suited for terminal shipping purposes. It has docks suited for deep sea shipping, a large dry dock and shipyard and other conveniences that go to the making of a port, such as a quarantine station, wireless and radio telephone stations. Nothing is lacking. The port is ready for business, the railway is ready to carry the grain and all that is needed is the western connection with it from the Peace country.

It would seem the part of statesmanship for any government to enable such modern facilities to be used for the benefit of the Peace River farmers and at the same time to provide employment for that army of men who today are clamoring for honest jobs to enable them to live as decent citizens of Canada.

WATERWAY IN NORTH

Glacier Bay on Panhandle Subject of Article in National Revenue Review

(National Revenue Review)

Here is a seasonal winter story. Ice recession at Glacier Bay, Northern British Columbia, has opened a deep waterway into Canadian territory, through the Alaskan panhandle, and presented the possibility of sometime establishing a Canadian port at the head of Tarr Inlet. The Grand Pacific Glacier, which once filled Glacier Bay and emptied into United States coastal waters, has receded about one mile beyond the international border. The approach through Glacier Bay, Reid Inlet, and Tarr Inlet to Canadian territory is wide and deep, and, in daylight, easily navigable. Dry land has already appeared along most of the glacier front and the ice is still receding. As ice conditions are at present, however, any road from the head of Tarr Inlet to the interior along the Grand Pacific Glacier would have to cross tributary glaciers and this, of course, would render the route impracticable.

A Unique Glacier

The history of this great ice river is unique. It has receded, for reasons unknown as yet, over sixty miles since the position of the ice front was first recorded by Captain George Vancouver in 1794. It then filled Glacier Bay. The next record was taken by Indians in 1814 and showed that, in those intervening 20 years, the ice front had receded 15 miles, leaving half of Glacier Bay open water. Sixty-five years passed before the location of the gigantic ice barrier was again reported, and this time it showed a recession of another 20 miles. By 1894, one hundred years after Captain Vancouver had made his observations, Glacier Bay, which is 44 miles long, was open, and a branch named Reid Inlet had appeared. Gradually the glacier retreated the 12 miles of Reid Inlet, and narrowed into Tarr Inlet, which is 13 miles long, and is crossed, near the far end, by the international boundary line. By 1912 most of the inlet was clear, and the ice front receded into Canadian territory a few years ago. The recession continues, though slowly, averaging at present less than one hundred feet a year. This slowing up is largely due to the fact that four-fifths of the ice front, which is about one mile long, is now on dry land, and only about one thousand feet are subject to the action of the salt water. The most rapid recession of the ice front occurred between the years 1892 and 1912 when it equalled over twenty miles, averaging one mile a year. Before 1892 recession averaged nearly about half a mile.

Carefully Investigated

With the prospect in view that eventually a port might be established at the head of Tarr Inlet, the Dominion Government made a careful investigation. The report filed at that time stated that "Tarr Inlet cannot at the present time be considered as a means of access to Canadian territory. However, it is possible that the place should be made from time to time for the purpose of watching that further action takes place there, as at some time in the future it is possible that such a recession of ice may occur as to entirely alter the present situation and provide a feasible entrance to settled Canadian territory without the necessity of traversing any American territory, and being sub-

JOBS ARE ABOLISHED

Forest Ranger and Assistant on Queen Charlottes Lose Jobs Under Economy Program

(National Revenue Review)

SKIDEGATE, Jan. 26.—According to word received here, the Forest Branch, under its economy measures, is to abolish the offices held by Forest Ranger Benson and his assistant, K. G. Bosworth. Queen Charlotte Islands will very much regret the loss of two popular men. It was Mr. Benson who proved that Douglas Fir could be grown successfully on the Queen Charlotte Islands. It is hoped that conditions may soon pick up so that both Mr. Benson and Mr. Bosworth will be able to return to the service of the department.

HERRING RUN BIG

Fish Are Exceptionally Numerous in Skidegate Inlet—Are Larger Than Usual

SKIDEGATE, Jan. 26.—During the past week Skidegate Inlet has been practically full of very large herring. Some persons claim that they have not been herring but pilchards.

There have been such large schools that surface of the water was covered with foam and a strong smell of fish could be perceived for a long distance. The fish have been running for over three weeks.

ected to the delays and expense necessitated by Customs and immigration regulations." Nature requires a long period of time for the process of carving out a site for a new port. As the ice rolls back, stumps of trees of long-buried pre-glacial forests are coming to light. Bits of wood from these stumps, date back about 300,000 years. Yet the wood is perfectly preserved. Even seeds taken from one of these pre-glacial sitka spruce, when released from this long period of cold storage, began to germinate soon after being planted. Remains of large pre-historic animals have been uncovered by the receding ice, and found to be in a perfect state of preservation.

The present practical value of this newly opened waterway lies mainly in the realm of the tourist trade. The scenery is exceptional, even for this part of the world where Nature lavishes her splendors. The largest sea-going vessel could sail to the head of Tarr Inlet, the depth being nowhere less than forty fathoms, and the formation of sea ice in Glacier Bay or adjoining inlets in the coldest weather is unknown. This is due, doubtless, to the warm Japan currents that reach these shores. Reporting upon the navigability of this waterway the district engineer for the Department of Public Works, stationed at Victoria, stated: "There is a comparatively small amount of floating ice encountered in Glacier Bay and Tarr Inlet, and navigation if these waters is now practically safe during daylight. As there is no other glaciated country so accessible, and very few parts of the Pacific Coast can show such marvellous scenery as is to be seen in Glacier Bay, it is hoped that steamship lines can benefit from the new conditions existing there very considerably."

FINANCES OF CITIES

Interesting Per Capita Statistics For Province Are Compiled By Municipal Expert

According to a compilation of per capita assessments, revenues and liabilities of various cities of the province which has been drawn up by James Fairweather, Vancouver, expert on municipal affairs, Prince Rupert assesses $1010 per capita of population on land and improvements and derives $68.47 per capita from taxation and various revenues. These figures are on a yearly basis. Government grants here amount to $6.78 per capita, bringing total revenues up to $75.25. Per capita liability of the city is placed at $262.

The next highest per capita assessment for cities in B. C. is $972 in Port Moody. The highest per capita revenue from taxes, etc. is the $68.47 in Prince Rupert. Greenwood derives the most per capita revenue from government grants with $26.40. Prince Rupert has the greatest grand total of civic revenue, $75.25. North Vancouver has the greatest per capita liability, $357.

WAGE CUT PROTESTED

School Board Passes Resolution and Will Seek Endorsation

The following resolution was unanimously passed last night by the Prince Rupert School Board and is being forwarded to the boards at Nanaimo, Nelson, New Westminster, Vancouver, Victoria and North Vancouver for endorsement:

"Resolved that this board is strongly opposed to a cut in the provincial government's grant towards teachers' salaries taking effect April 1, 1932, as outlined in letter received from the Minister of Education. This board has engaged all teachers now on the staff for a period of one school year from September 1, 1931, to June 30, 1932, and feels that, if a cut is contemplated, such action should date from September 1, 1932. Otherwise, it being illegal to cut salaries during the school year, this board will have to pay this eight and one-third per cent cut from April 1 to June 30, a period of four months.

BOON TO INDUSTRY

Halibut Liver Oil is Creating Interest—Another Laboratory Starts Work On It

Research work in the Alaskan halibut industry has reached the stage where one of the nation's largest laboratories now is manufacturing a halibut liver oil that may be destined to play an important part in the field that formerly was monopolized by the famous cod-liver industry says the Ketchikan Chronicle.

A bulletin just received in Ketchikan from the Parke, Davis & Company of Detroit, addressed to the medical profession, states "that more than a century of therapeutic use of cod-liver oil, at first empirically and finally on a scientific basis, a new and richer organic reservoir of vitamins A and D has been discovered. The new source is the liver of the halibut. Although related to the cod, the halibut provides in its liver far more of the fat-soluble vitamins and in much higher concentration than can be obtained from the oil of the cod-liver."

Continuing the announcement states that "we have developed from halibut liver oil a remarkable product whose therapeutic importance can hardly be exaggerated. Its concentration does away with the need for bulky dosage. The vitamin V value of this new product is so high that one minim equals in vitamin A value one teaspoonful of cod-liver oil."

The importance of this announcement to Ketchikan, like the product itself, can hardly be exaggerated. It is virtually the first time that halibut has definitely and completely taken on importance in other than the ordinary means of marketing it as a food fish.

GAR WOOD GOES FAST

Drove Miss America IX 111.14 Miles Per Hour at Miami Beach Yesterday

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Jan. 26.—Gar Wood, with his speedboat Miss America IX, was reported yesterday to have set up a new speed for man on the water when he drove the craft 111.14 miles per hour on the first part of a two-mile course. However, it cannot be counted officially as a new record since Wood did not make the speed over the full required course.

The present speed record is held by Kaye Don, the British driver, it being 110.23 miles per hour.

SPORT CHAT

Steve Donoghue, England's great jockey, likes football as he saw it in Southern California's recent victory over Tulane. A rugby player himself, the little jockey who rode to six victories at Epsom Downs, had only one difficulty, and that was finding proper football terms to express his emotions. "He tied 'em up that time," Steve would chirp, after a good tackle. "That's a knock on," he would lament after someone fumbled. He thought football more scientific, but rugby faster. The announcement over the public address system that Erny Pinchert had the wind knocked out of him following one play disturbed Donoghue. "We never tell them what happens to a man in 'rugger,' we let 'em guess at it."

The Minto Skating Club of Ottawa, the Granite Club and the Skating Club of Toronto, and the Winter Club at Montreal are famous for the singles, pair and four champions in figure skating they have produced in the past; and clubs in Boston, New York, Philadelphia and elsewhere in the United States have found the competition from Canada overwhelmingly strong of recent years. This winter the World Figure Skating Competitions are to be held at the Winter Club in Montreal, following shortly after the Olympics at Lake Placid, and immediately following the world competitions the participants will probably appear in the carnival of the Minto Skating Club in Ottawa, in the carnival of the Toronto Skating Club a day or so later, and from there they must hurry off to take part in another ice carnival in New York. Figure skating reaches its greatest heights in a carnival where music, lighting effects, costumes and stunts are all harmonized to set it off; and any of the occasions mentioned should be unusually interesting this winter. Whether skaters from this continent will match or surpass those who will come over to compete from Europe remains to be seen. The present titles are held overseas, but it is believed by those who have observed the progress of Canadian and United States skaters that this season will see a far more vigorous and even successful attack made upon European supremacy.

CONFERENCE ON SHIPPING

International Treaty Urged by French Marine Interests

PARIS, Jan. 26.—An international shipping conference to draft a treaty for the merchant marines of the world is a likely event for 1932, in the opinion of French maritime spheres.

The project, fathered by Rene Moreux, important ship-owner and construction specialist, has received the approbation of Louis de Chappedelaine, Premier Laval's Minister of Merchant Marine. In a note of approval the minister said the time was coming when it will be necessary for the nations to abandon competition in ocean commerce and replace it with policies of close and confident cooperation.

M. Moreux says there are too many merchant ships afloat on the high seas today.

MADE NEW INDUSTRY

Nor were there any accidents in his success, for at thirty he deliberately selected Chicago as a favored shipping point and went there from Philadelphia to find a product with a world-wide market. Wrigley selected chewing gum after rejecting soap and baking powder.

Chicle Introduced

The children's knickknack which was chewing gum when Wrigley began its manufacture was made of spruce or paraffin and put up in long packages containing prizes. Under Wrigley's leadership chicle was brought into use as the basic ingredient of the product, the packages were standardized, and machinery was substituted for manual methods.

Within ten years after Wrigley began the manufacture and promotion of chewing gum; what had been a bad habit had become a general custom.

Twenty-five years after he had embarked in the business, the public was paying $30,000,000 a year for his products, and by 1925 his annual sales were between $65,000,000 and $70,000,000. Factories in Chicago, New York, Berlin, London, Toronto and Sydney were manufacturing the four brands upon which he had staked his business success.

Selling his chewing gum on the road during his early Chicago career, Wrigley was twitted about his city of Chicago by a rival salesman who remarked that the town did not even own its own ball club—the Chicago National League team controlled by Cincinnati interests.

Organized Ball Team

The jest struck home, for baseball was Wrigley's hobby, and the whim born then was gratified 25 years later when Wrigley and several associates acquired the club from the Cincinnati men who still owned it. The club was moved to Chicago and styled the Cubs. A few years later he obtained sole control of the club, and added to his baseball holdings the Los Angeles team of the Pacific Coast League.

His third major business venture was the purchase in 1919 of Catalina Island, off the California coast, which he converted not only into a popular summer resort, but into silver, lead and zinc mining properties which pyramided his fortune.

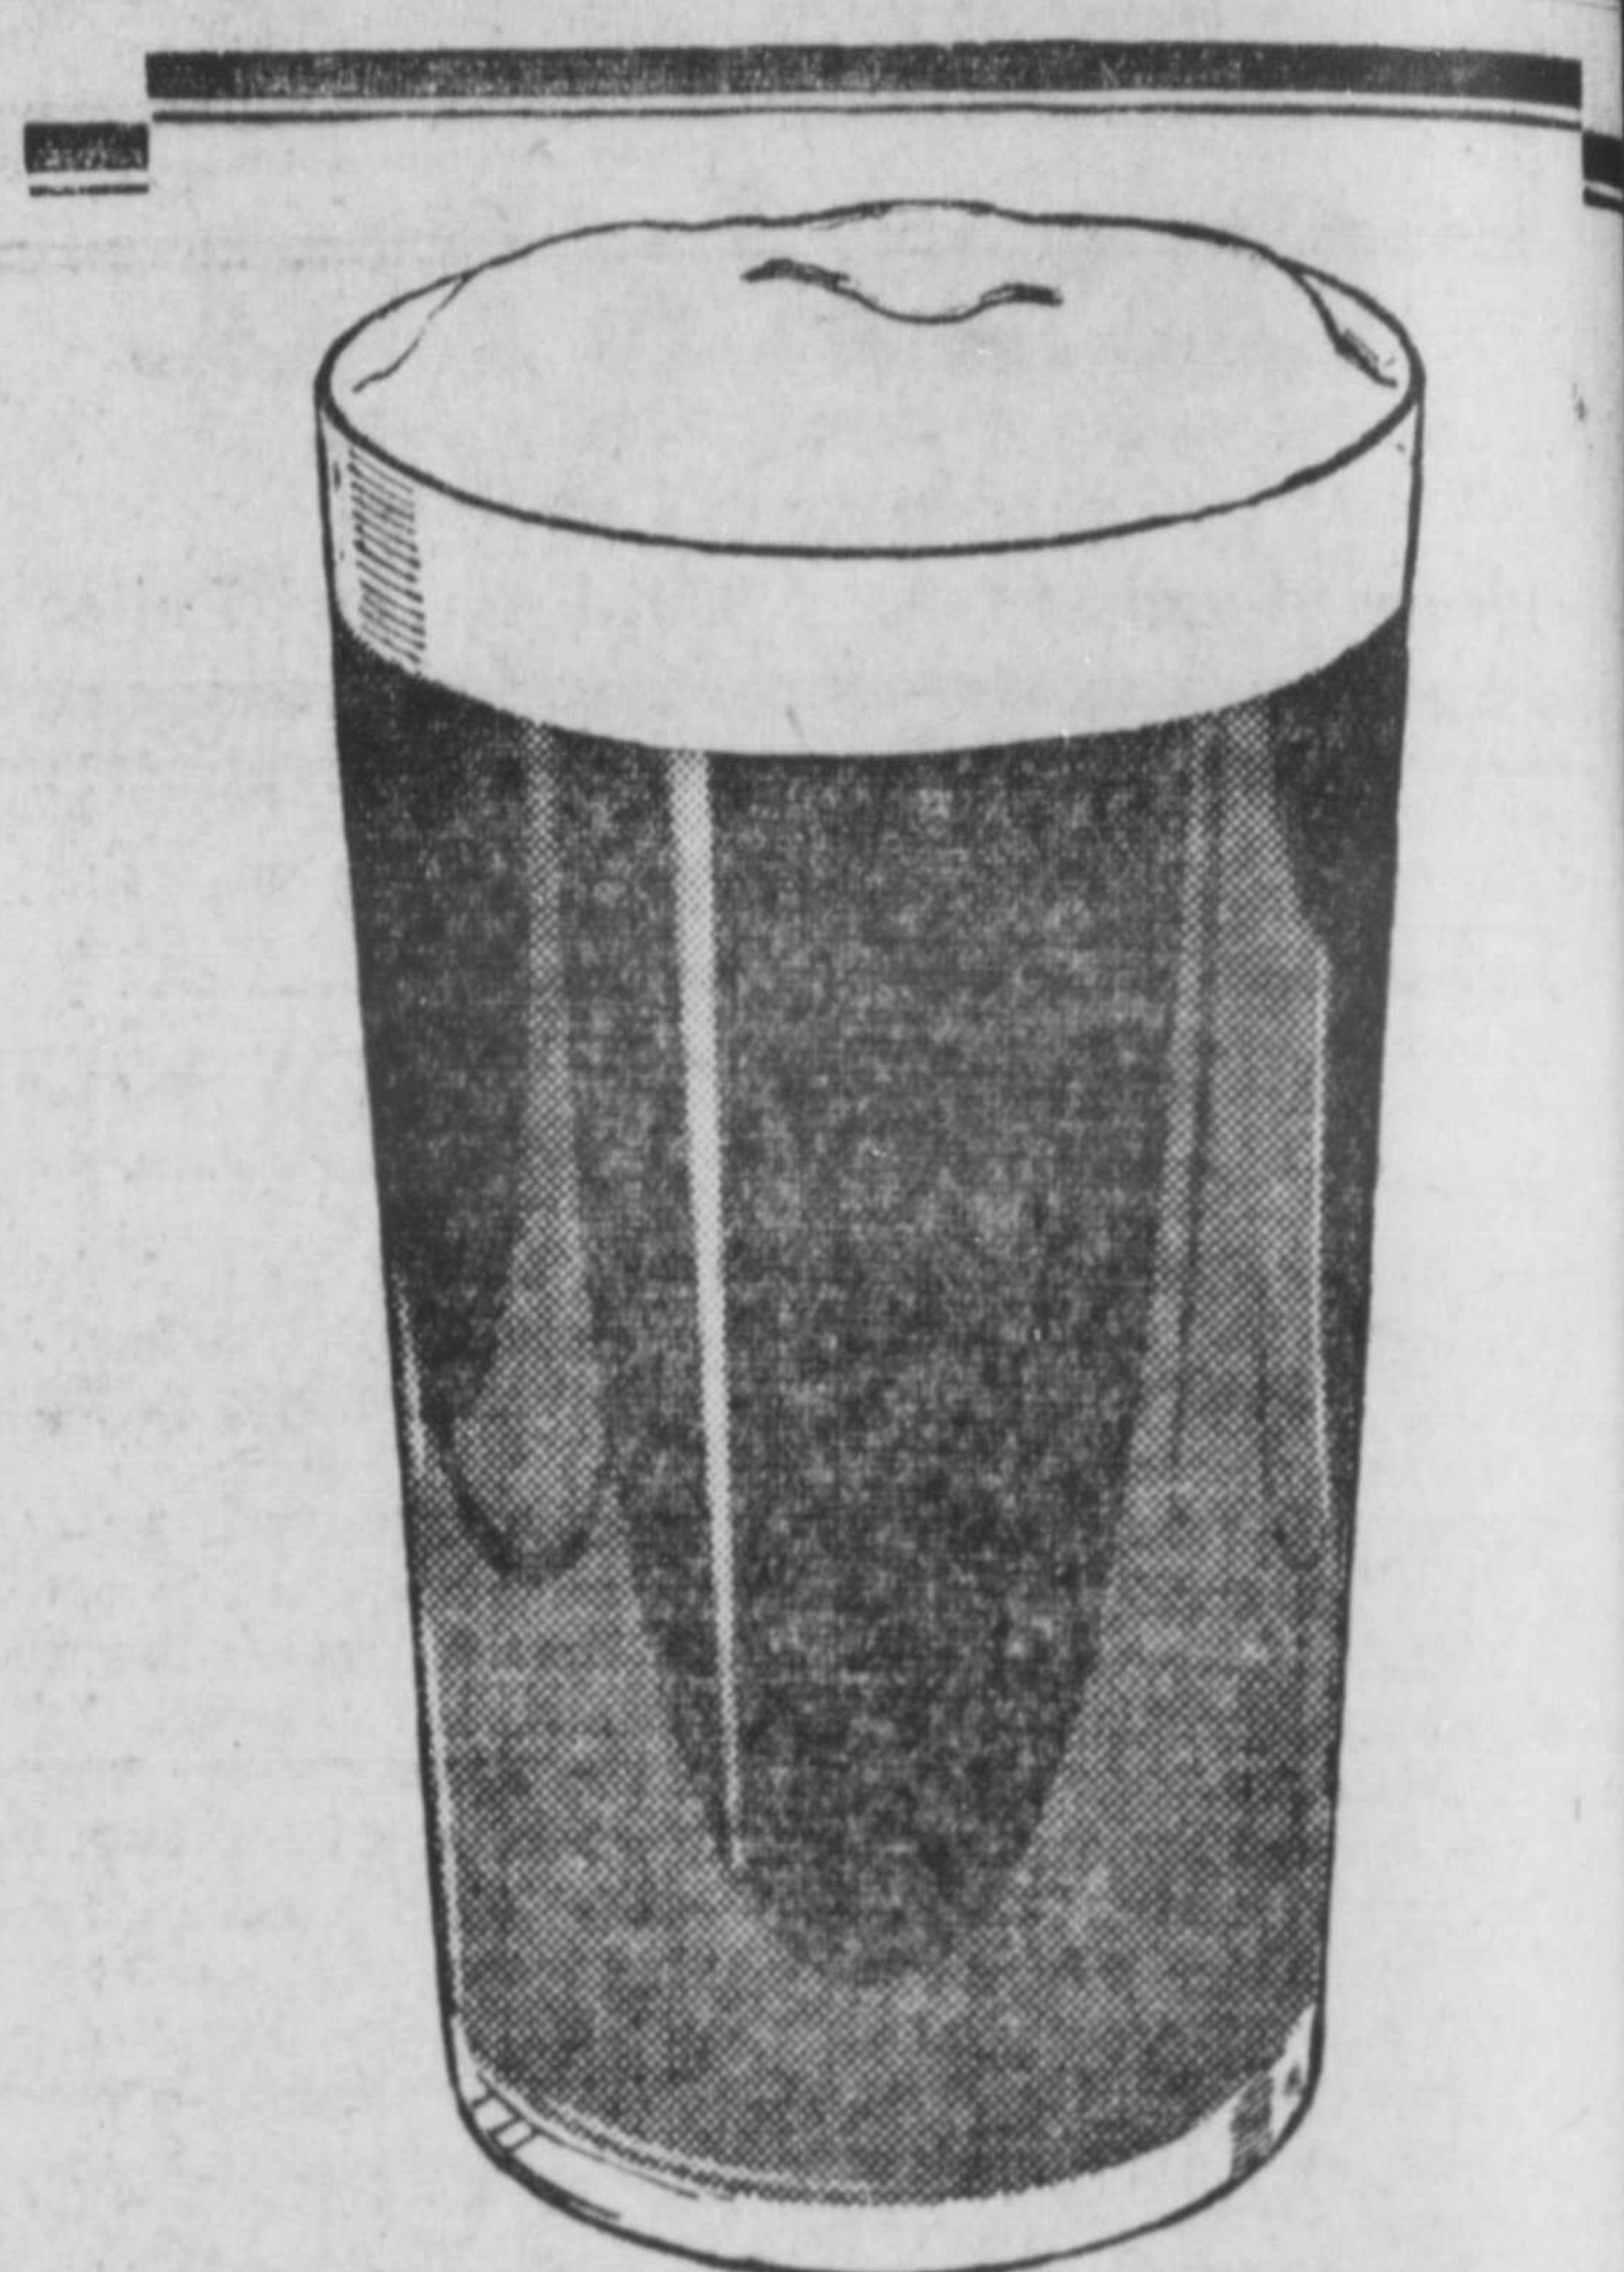

Because the son born to William Wrigley sr., and Mary Ladley Wrigley at Philadelphia on September 30, 1861, was not content to ascend to the ownership of his father's scouring soap manufactory, William Wrigley jr., was enabled to make his own son, Philip K., president at 28 of his chewing gum company and the youngest executive in the country of a business of that size. Philip and a daughter were born from the union in 1885 of William Wrigley jr., and Ada Foote, of New York.

Guide to Correspondents

The Daily News welcomes correspondence on live topics of the day or any other subject of public interest, but letters must be brief and to the point. The long-winded correspondent has no place in modern journalism.
Every letter must be signed by the writer, not necessarily for publication but as a matter of good faith and courtesy. All unsigned documents go to the waste paper basket. Letters of a caustic character must have the signature appended for publication.
Letter should be written on one side of the paper only. Correspondents must avoid personalities and the language should be such as would be allowed in the ordinary rules of debate.

The Daily News

The paper that Northern and Central British Columbia people look to to keep them informed on world news and the problems peculiar to the north.

The Only A. B. C. paper north of Vancouver and west of Edmonton.

The Daily News goes into all the—

- TOWNS AND VILLAGES
- MINING CAMPS
- LUMBER CAMPS
- PAPER MILLS
- FARMING CENTRES
- FISHING CAMPS

It is the paper that is read by the fishermen, miners, workers and operators throughout a district twice as large as the three Maritime Provinces of the east.

When a person wishes a message to go to the people of Northern and Central British Columbia there is only one way of sending it, and that is through the columns of the Daily News.

The future is full of hope. The Daily News is making plans to keep pace with the progress of the country. No one can afford to be without it.

The cost is small.

Delivered by Carrier, in Prince Rupert, per week, 10c.

PRINCE RUPERT Likes the Best!

Prince Rupert merchants say that their customers like to buy goods of the best quality. They are a discriminating people.

If there are any Prince Rupert people not taking the Daily News regularly we suggest that they are making a mistake in not taking the best. The price is now so low that it is a mistake to do without the paper that circulates throughout the district.

Call up the Daily News business office and ask that the boy call and collect.

James Harron Thompson Has Two Daughters Living in Prince Rupert

The funeral took place last week in Vancouver of James Harron Thompson, father of Misses Dora and Bessie Thompson of this city, whose death had occurred on the Saturday previous in the Vancouver General Hospital. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. Thomas Wilson and was followed by interment in Mountain View Cemetery.

In addition to the two daughters here, the late Mr. Thompson is survived by his widow, one son and three other daughters.

Deceased years ago was in the service of the Canadian National Railways on the lower Skeena division.

Graham Island Timber Company Appealing Tax

In provincial court of revision in Vancouver, the Graham Island Timber Co. is appealing against an assessment of $18,000 for provincial income tax.

The Graham Island Timber Co. was incorporated in 1923 to take over timber from Washington Pulp & Paper Co. which the latter company field on Graham Island. The price was $575,000 made up of $275,000 cash and $300,000 in fully paid-up shares in the purchasing company. Three years later the timber was sold to the Powell River Co. for $600,000 less ten per cent. commission. The government's position is that the $300,000, represented by shares, can be disregarded with the result that the assessor has calculated that the Graham Island Timber Co. made a profit of $188,000 after allowing the firm carrying charge. The tax on this would be a little more than $18,000.

The appeal is taken on the ground that the $300,000 is part of the cost and that, on this basis, little, if any profit, was realized from the transaction.

The appeal is proceeding.

Week-End Hunters Had Experience In Howling Gale

Two local boys, Bob Parker and Pete Fisher, had a rather trying experience at the week-end. They set out on Friday evening in W. E. Fisher's launch, the Chilo, to visit Pillsbury Cove. Very soon it started to blow so they changed their plans and tried to make the Salt Lakes. Off Wolfe Island they lost their rudder and with no oars aboard and nothing to make a rudder they drifted all night, almost going onto the rocks at Digby Island and then back to the neighborhood of the Salt Lakes.

On Saturday morning they fired three shots with a gun that was aboard and a man came out with a skiff and took them in tow.

Twenty Years Ago In Prince Rupert

January 26, 1912

The St. Andrew's Society honored the anniversary of the birth of Robert Burns, great Scottish poet, with a banquet last night. M. J. McNeill, president of the St. Andrew's Society, acted as toastmaster and speakers were D. C. Stuart, Fred Stork, J. H. Kelly, W. E. Williams, Malcolm McLeod, H. F. McRae, Rev. F. W. Kerr, Rev. W. H. McLeod, F. H. Mobley, Thomas McClymont, Mayor S. M. Newton, Ald. W. B. Clayton, Ald. Hamilton Douglas and Frank Ellis. W. G. Dennis recited the "Address to a Haggis."

Diver Ole Evinnsen succeeded this morning in breaking into the cabin of the tug Glen Rosa which sank at the Rupert Marine Ironworks wharf but there was no trace of the bodies of either Capt. Tallander or his son. The watch of Capt. Tallander was found.

A petition is being circulated requesting the city council not to change its plans for labor on the carrying out of the building of the hydro-electric system. The original plan was that part of the work would be done by day labor and part by station work.

NEW CHECK TAX IS ON

Charge of Seven Cents Will Be Made on Each Check Issued From Account Under $200

Merchants whose bank balances are flirting with the red ink have a shock in store as the banks have decided upon a scale of charges for all cheques issued against small balances. This decision was reached by the bank clearing house association and will doubtless be put into effect here within a few days. On all accounts in connection with which the balance is below $200, a charge of seven cents is to be made for each cheque drawn against it. With respect to accounts the balance in connection with which fluctuates between $200 and $299, ten cheques per month will be free, and seven cent charges will apply on the remainder. Where the bank balance is between $300 and $399, there will be twenty free cheques allowed, with the charge on the remainder. With respect to balances of from $400 to $499 there will be thirty free cheques. For accounts with a balance of $500 and over there will be forty free cheques, and the remainder subject to the seven cent charge. It is said the new charge will replace the existing service charge of the banks in the handling of small accounts.

It's got to be good to be ADVERTISED

READ THE GROCERY ADS TODAY

All the king's horses . . . and all the king's men can't make a success out of a bad product. No amount of advertising will create a market for it. The more it's advertised, the more its defects become known.

A Good Product Well Advertised

grows as swiftly and naturally as a healthy plant. People try it and like it. They tell others. They like it. Soon that product is found everywhere . . . and its name, spread abroad by advertising, is on every tongue.

When you see something widely and consistently advertised, you can be pretty sure it's well worth having. If it weren't . . . if it didn't represent an honest and worthy value . . . the maker couldn't afford to advertise it.

Look Over the Advertisements in this Paper

Some of these names you know. Others, perhaps, are newcomers, all are entitled to your trust . . . all are here because they have potential friends bringing some new comfort or convenience. But something real to contribute to your advantage . . . your service . . . your happiness.
