Federal Appropriations Passed So That Men May Continue at Work at Camps

EDMONTON, Jan. 16.—Welcome news for 450 Edmonton men employed in Jasper-Banff and Elk Park relief camps was received by A. U. G. Bury, M.P., when it was learned that federal appropriations have been passed to continue work until the end of February.

Under previous reports, funds had been provided for the month of January only. The announcement makes it clear that the camps will remain open until the end of February in any event. As the house of Commons will be in session, and can deal with conditions at that time, it is felt that work will be continued until spring as first intended, providing that weather conditions are suitable.

There are over 325 Edmonton ex-service men employed on the Jasper-Banff scenic highway, while another 125 are in camps at Elk Island park.

Continue Road Extension Another bit of cheering news for Edmonton is that sufficient funds are available to continue work on an extension of the Jasper Highway westward from Jasper to the British Columbia boundary till March 15. THREE-WAY TIE IN SENIOR HOOP LEAGUE

Three-Two Taxi Down Panthers And First Half Honors Are as Result in Complete Deadlock

Last night's Senior League basketball game brought the three teams into a tie when 32 Taxi defeated the Panthers 38-27. Very seldom does a three-cornered tie occur in the first half of a basketball series. It shows the quality of basketball and evenness of the teams and it is to be regretted that the public does not give them more support.

In the junior game, the Scouts beat the League of Nations in an overtime contest 24-16, clinching for themselves the first half of the league.

The girls' game was the best that has been played this half. The Cardinals defeated the Comets in a hard-fought game, 16-8.

In the intermediate fixture the Merchants easily took the High School team, 26-15.

Senior Game

A lot depended on last night's game which 32 Taxi dominated right from the whistle. With Wrathall shooting from any place on the floor and making some of the most sensational shots, 32 could not help but win. The Panthers' defence was weaker than usual and the Taxi boys took full advantage of it, scoring at will. The Panthers flashed occasionally but were not steady enough, and, when they got near the basket, the Taxi guards stopped them easily. The Taxi boys were fighting all the way and never slackened their pace, playing a good combination game.

In the second half the Panthers struggled valiantly to overcome a big lead. For a while it looked as if they were going to accomplish the impossible but the 32 players were out for victory and, with the play that they put up, it couldn't be denied them. The game ended with 32 on the safe side of a 38-27 score. For 32, Wrathall made eight baskets; with the rest of the team giving him everything in the line of support. For the Panthers, nobody seemed to be able to get going.

Panthers—Mitchell (5), Macdonald (7), Irvine (2), Kelsey (10), Cross (1), McNulty (2), Lyons (2), 32 Taxi—Stalker (3), D. Gurvich (2), Hatchford (9), V. Menzies (3), H. Menzies, W. Wrathall (16); 38.

Junior Game

The junior game was very interesting to watch, with both teams playing good steady basketball. Good shooting and combination predominated. Play was fast and clean with both teams scoring equally and it was not a surprise when, at full time, the teams were tied, making it necessary to play five minutes overtime. In these few minutes, however, young Wilson, for the Scouts, exhibited some real nice playing and gave his team an eight-point lead which they maintained until the final whistle. The League of Nations fought hard but could not stop the Scouts when they went on this little scoring spree at the end.

Scouts—Santurbane (8), Wilson (10), Miller, Vlerick (6), Smith, Lindsay, Naylor; 24. League of Nations—Dominato (2), Antonelli (2), Hill, Alphen, Marshall (2), Arney, Gillis (10); 16.

JACK MAY MEET MAX

New York Rumors Regarding Heavyweights Following Collapse of Schmeling-Walker Bout

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—With the proposed fight between Max Schmeling and Mickey Walker at Miami next month for the former's world heavyweight boxing title definitely off, it was thought in pugilistic circles here yesterday that the German champion would probably meet Jack Dempsey, former world's heavy-weight champion, some time during the coming summer.

Leonard Sachs, Dempsey's manager, is awaiting the arrival of Joe Jacobs, Schmeling's manager, before committing himself on the matter. He did admit, however, that he hoped Dempsey would meet either Schmeling or Carnes some time during the course of the year.

CLOSE CALL OF OFFICER

Trapper's Bullet Passed an Inch From Heart of Mounted Policeman at Aklavik

AKLAVIK, Jan. 16.—Shot fired at R.C.M.P. Constable A. W. King by a crazed trapper at a lonely cabin on the old Yukon trail, missed the constable's heart by a scant inch, a medical examination of King has revealed. The injured man, cared for by Dr. J. A. Urquhart in hospital here, is recovering. Meanwhile a patrol headed by Inspector Eames is pressing forward steadily through the darkness shrouding the Arctic. It must traverse 80 miles to reach the Yukon trail cabin where its members expect to arrest Albert Johnson, who is believed to be the demented man seen tampering with Indian trap lines and who is blamed for the shooting of the constable.

Bullet Through Body
Constable King was investigating the complaint of Indian trappers that a man had been tampering with their trap lines. The man, the trappers said, acted strangely and appeared to be unbalanced.

The policeman was seeking admittance to a cabin owned by Albert Johnson, when, without warning, a shot was fired through the window from the interior. The bullet struck King's body one inch below the heart, breaking two ribs as it entered and, passing through, broke two more ribs as it emerged from his back.

Several more shots were fired as King sank down on the snow but all missed their mark. The wounded officer was placed on a sleigh by his companion, Constable R. G. McDowell, and brought to Aklavik. Little is known of Johnson by residents of the district. He was first seen at Fort McPherson last fall where he purchased supplies.

From Yukon Area
He said he had come over the mountains from the Yukon country. He had no dogs, a pair of homemade snowshoes being his only equipment, although he was apparently plentifully supplied with money.

The hut in which he lives is built of logs and stands only a few feet above the ground. The theory that the man is mentally deranged is supported by reports of his action in hanging traps of the Indians to trees.

Before leaving for the scene of the shooting recently, Inspector Eames said he was prepared to bring the man responsible back dead or alive.

Ruth Expected to Accept Salary of $70,000 Offered Him by New York Yankees

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—Babe Ruth has just been handed a contract by the New York Yankee management under the terms of which he will receive a salary of $70,000 for the 1932 season as compared with $30,000 which he was paid last year.

While the Babe did not commit himself, it is generally felt that he will accept. The reduction is less than had been generally expected for it was thought that he would have been cut to $60,000 or possibly $50,000.

WORK OF CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

It is—sometimes charged that the chamber of commerce never does anything that is of direct advantage to the city. That is only because a good deal of the work is done quietly and the people do not know about it.

A case of distinct advantage was that recorded yesterday when a reply was received from Sir Henry Thornton to a request from the chamber, granting the extension of credit to fishermen which had previously been denied. That alone is worth a great deal to the city for if the fishermen do not go out there will be no industry of importance remaining.

The way to make the chamber of commerce effective would be for every businessman in the city to become a member and join in its activities. While only comparatively few can be members of the executive it is the united general membership that provides the funds and keeps up interest in the organization. If the business of the chamber is run by a few, it is because the others fail to attend meetings and take part.

A time like this is when the chamber of commerce is most needed. If it keeps active it may do a great deal toward bringing back prosperity. The proposal to reduce the yearly dues from twelve to ten dollars might help to make it more popular. Merchants should look on the payment of this fee as an investment rather than as a drag on their finances.

NEW RADIO TELEPHONE SERVICE

The opening of the new radio telephone service yesterday was one of those events that stand out as of being of historic importance in the city. In the first place it cost the city nothing to make the connection and in the second the city gets a small share of the revenue derived from the business done. In the third place the city is now connected up with the rest of the world by radio telephone and has already secured considerable advertising from the installation. Finally it places Prince Rupert on the map as a central distributing point for radio service in the northern section of the province.

When the small places, including the mining camps, are connected with the city by this system, we look for a distinct benefit to business here.

c The Garnet—For the January-Born

By E. DORSAY

THE garnet has a natural affinity with the sodical sign of Aquarius, which controls the destinies of those who first see the light of day in the bright, chill first month of the year. Friendship, leadership, and a high order of personal magnetism are the qualities which Aquarius bestows upon its children. And these virtues are said by the faiths of gem lore to be greatly augmented if the Aquarius born wear on their fingers the precious garnet. The jewel is the chief adornment of the traditional "House of Friends" where Aquarius dwells.

Beside deep red, January's birthstone frequently shines with the rich hue of claret, or with a lustrous emerald green. Indeed, it is found in virtually every color except blue. Men eagerly seek it throughout the world; in South Africa, in the glacial placings of the Alps, in the Australian bush, and in Brazil. The finest of American garnets are found in northeast Arizona, where Indian braves and soldiers from frontier forts collect the gems from ant hills and scorpion's nests.

No chapter in the romantic history of precious stones is more fascinating than that which bears a column of British soldiers, fighting against native tribesmen in India, one sultry, blazing day in 1852. At the height of battle, the British observed that the bullets falling about them had a strange, impelling gleam—unlike any missile they had ever encountered in their warfare with the curious peoples of the East. They investigated, and discovered that their adversaries were showering them with one of nature's loveliest gems. Dazzling ordinary, steel-jacketed lead, the Indians were pelting them with precious garnets. Strangely, the British were face to face that day with more than a mere local superstition, or weird, oriental whim. They were encountering a deep-rooted belief, as old as the love of gems itself. For untold centuries, men have held that garnets confer upon their owners the sublime virtues of victory and strength—and it was to achieve these that the Indians loaded their guns with garnets.

To use the gem in warfare, however, was a corruption of its noblest property. For, since time immemorial, the garnet has been the badge of friendship. It is as a token of brotherly love that the gem was designated as the birthstone of January.

The history of man's love for the garnet is almost as venerable as time itself. References to the stone occur in the literatures of Chaldea, Egypt and ancient Greece. One of the most famous garnets in history was a handsome stone—symbolical of love—which Pope Innocent III gave to Richard Coeur de Lion. And today, the gem stands higher than ever in popularity and esteem, because of the current vogue of antique gold and silver settings which seem to enhance its beauty.

The New Motive, The New Creature, The New World Are Discussed In Sermon

(By Rev. A. Wilson, First United Church)

We have read of the period in the religious life of the Hebrew race when the people were restrained from wrong-doing by fear of punishment, and inspired to do right in hope of reward of an external nature. When Jesus came he lifted men into a new realm of experience where they served God and man because of inner compulsion, and strong passion and affection.

The successful parent or teacher is one who can put his finger on the inner springs of a child's nature, while not forgetting that it takes time to train the individual to the higher and nobler responses of human nature.

It is still true that men will do great things for material reward and the appreciation of others, but from the days of Christ they are responding more to the higher appeal. Jesus brought a new insight into the possibility of human nature and stirred greater depths in the soul by the power of a great love. Indeed the soul of man was brought into touch with a new law, evoking life of a higher kind. Paul experienced this and he became a new man because of a new motive power brought to him by the one who met him on the Damascus road.

The scope and ordered movement of a planet is in great contrast to the short-lived flash of a meteor, and though both are subject to law, the planet moves under a higher law than the meteor, so it is when a man comes under the constraint of the love of Christ.

It is most essential that we know today what will make new men out of humanity torn by many fears, and pulled here and there by conflicting desires and passions; certainly it cannot be steam, electricity or the discovery of new physical forces, such as the much talked of release of atomic energy. No, it must be a new motive power, redeeming and sublimating the soul-stuff and the strange bundle of instincts and impulses making up man. Apart from that, these other things spell destruction on a vast and awful scale. The power of the Christian religion, which is Christ in the heart of man, alone can do this, for we should then have a new creature without which we cannot have a new world.

In regard to the reformed society or Utopia pictured by reformers, based on co-operative effort, for the good of all, our older economists have said, yes, very fine, but it does not work.

Today we see that the old selfish individualism which seeks to appropriate the benefits of new-found powers and resources, does not work. This is because the ruling, directing motive, amid much that is admirable and kindly, is acquisitive. If it were true that the better order were impossible because selfishness is the mainspring of human conduct, then the Christian ideal of the Kingdom of God is impossible, bankrupt, and Jesus, above all, misled.

One thing that Christ claims to do is to bring men within the operation of a new motive, the law of love. Without this there can be no progress toward the age of brotherhood. Give man a new motive and you have a new creature, recreated homes and communities, and a new world. Continue under the old motives and instincts, with men seeking wealth, regardless of the wrong done to others, corrupting governments and fattening on practices which batten on the unguarded appetites of men, at the same time fostering ancient rivalries, and you will have another phase of hell on earth.

The Christian religion is an inward force empowering us to do God's will from the heart, the centre of being, from whence radiates those influences which bring heaven on earth to creatures made new.

Fifty Persons in Attendance at Happy Affair in I. O. D. E. Hall Last Night

A very enjoyable dance was held last night in the I. O. D. E. Hall by the Prince Rupert Badminton Club and, if the success of last night's affair may be taken as any criterion, it might well be made an annual event.

There were some fifty couples in attendance and the evening from 9 p.m. until 2 a.m. was happily spent in dancing to the strains of splendid music furnished by Charlie Balagno and his Venetian Orchestra. George Mitchell made a genial master of ceremonies.

Decorations, while simple, were appropriate and effective. Mrs. S. C. Thomson was in charge of the arrangement of decorations.

At midnight delicious refreshments were served, Miss Jean Grieve and Miss Jessie Moffatt being in charge of this important feature.

In general charge of the dance was the executive of the Prince Rupert Badminton Club.

Eliminate the Frills from Advertising!

FOLKS who are in the position to know where sales are made, where results are immediate and who demand action from advertising—continue to use space in the daily newspapers.

While others argue about the efficacy of various media, the retailer who sells direct to the consumer consistently invests his money in daily newspapers. The retailer demands dividends, and he gets them—rich dividends.

The medicine that is good for the retail outlet is equally good for national advertisers whose aim is to reach the same consumer through the retailer.

The biggest advertisers in the world use daily newspapers day in day out, year in and year out, and they must know something about successful advertising.

THE most successful national advertisers in Canada have always made the daily newspapers the backbone, if not the entire structure, of their merchandising set up. They too have found frills costly and non-productive.

There are still those who must learn by a series of experiments—do you want to be one of these in 1932?

Make no mistake, the retailer knows where results are sure, where sales are made. National advertisers will do well to keep this in mind when making plans for increased sales in Canada this year.

We suggest the elimination of frills in advertising and the focussing of attention on the markets afforded by daily newspapers where the audience is always assured.

Guide to Correspondents

The Daily News welcomes correspondence on live topics of the day or any other subject of public interest, but letters must be brief and to the point. The long-winded correspondent has no place in modern journalism. Every letter must be signed by the writer, not necessarily for publication but as a matter of good faith and courtesy. All unsigned documents go to the waste paper basket. Letters of a caustic character must have the signature appended for publication. Letter should be written on one side of the paper only. Correspondents must avoid personalities and the language should be such as would be allowed in the ordinary rules of debate.

Halibut Landing Comparisons—Getting Ready For Season—Herring Seining to Start Soon

According to a statement issued by the United States Bureau of Fisheries, halibut landings on the Pacific Coast for the 1931 season totalled 42,903,375 pounds as compared with 49,470,277 pounds in 1930. American vessels landed 35,344,735 pounds in 1931 as against 40,994,652 pounds in 1930 while Canadian landings for 1931 amounted to 7,558,640 pounds as compared with 8,475,626 pounds in the year previous.

At the port of Prince Rupert American landings for 1931 totalled 10,606,000 pounds as compared with 16,935,000 pounds in 1930 while Canadian landings here in 1931 amounted to 6,151,000 pounds in comparison with 7,365,000 pounds.

At Seattle 1931 American landings totalled 15,043,735 pounds as against 12,618,185 pounds in 1930 while at the Puget Sound port 12,760 pounds of Canadian halibut was landed in 1931 whereas there was none in 1930.

In 1931 American vessels landed 9,695,000 pounds at Alaska ports as compared with 11,348,767 pounds in 1930.

There were no American landings in Vancouver in 1931 whereas there was 42,700 pounds in 1930. Canadian landings at Vancouver in 1931 totalled 1,243,500 pounds as against 1,099,600 pounds in 1930.

Canadian vessels landed 151,380 pounds at Victoria in 1931 as against 11,025 pounds in 1930.

Taking Indian Agent W. E. Colison to Port Simpson to conduct the annual election of a native council, the Indian Department's power cruiser Naskeena, with Skipper Jack Watkinson in command, left here on Wednesday morning of this week and was back again on Thursday evening.

Repairs have been made at Seattle to the well known American halibut schooner Akutan, Capt. Ole Bjerke, which sustained considerable damage on November 10 as she was proceeding to Seattle after her last trip of the season and piled up on Chain Islands near Sidney, Vancouver Island, laying on the rocks for 12 hours before she was pulled clear by the tug Burrard Chief.

Several Seattle halibut boats have been fishing cod during the halibut closed season. Among them are the Neptune, Capt. H. Giske; Evolution, Capt. George Mathison; Wesley, Capt. O. Pedersen; Presho, Capt. J. M. Matson, and Reliance, Capt. Bernt Ona.

John Dybhave, head of the Royal Fish Co., is expected to return here Wednesday from a trip east. He attended the annual meeting of the Biological Board of Canada, of which he is a member, in Ottawa and also visited New York and other eastern cities on business.

The Prince Rupert Salmon Fishermen's Co-operative Association now boasts a membership of about 100 operators. Co-operative buying of fishing gear continues as one of the activities of the association. Eventually, although probably not this year, the association plans to establish and operate at least one salmon cannery in district waters.

Pictures and brief descriptive articles of the local power yachts Full Moon (Dr. W. T. Kergin) and Ethelda (Wright & Hinton) appear in the December issue of the Pacific Motorboat.

Here's an item for the bright side of the ledger. Profits from a fish cannery enabled the quaint Indian village of Metlakatla, near Ketchikan, to celebrate the completion of a $50,000 town hall, the largest in Alaska, and present its 60-piece band with $8,000 worth of new instruments. The band has been in existence for 52 years. Metlakatla, with a population of less than 500, is situated on an Indian reservation on Annette Island. The fish cannery also supports a municipal light and power plant which furnishes energy to all homes free of charge.

Prepare For Season

The latter part of the month of January is expected to be marked by much activity on the part of the Prince Rupert halibut fleet in the way of preparation for a resumption of fishing operations on February 15 when the three-month close season will expire. With many, if not the majority, of the boats of the fleet planning to start work promptly on the legal date, there will no doubt be general activity in anticipation of that occasion. Waterfront supply houses, machine shops, etc. will have a brisk trade after a quiet three months.

The outlook as far as fish markets are concerned is quite promising and there is a general feeling of hopefulness that the coming season will be a much more satisfactory one all around than was the last. Indeed, a good deal of optimism is already beginning to pervade the air and there is a general cheerful feeling.

There will be no experiments this spring and the Canadian fishermen are resolved to get to work promptly and avail themselves of all the opportunities that offer.

Having found indications of an early run in the vicinity of Port Simpson herring seiners of Prince Rupert are but awaiting an improvement in weather conditions before starting their operations on these acceptable table and bait fish. It is understood that the seiners have larger orders for these fish than last year.

Ole Skog has a contract to take 2,000 tons of herring for the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co. and will again use his seiner Fredelia in the work, boats of the Storage fleet of tenders assisting in the packing.

Gammon & Watt, using the boats Bertha G. and Zenardi, will again seine herring for the Rupert Marine Products reduction plant. They will also fill their fresh herring bait pound at Pearl Harbor.

It is the first important fishing activity of the year out of Prince Rupert.

The Prince Rupert halibut boat Prosperity A. Capt. Andrew Christiansen, which has been spending the winter in Vancouver, is having a new 65 h.p. full diesel engine installed there, replacing a 40 h.p. Frisco-Standard gas gasoline engine. Capt. Christiansen will be moving his family back to Prince Rupert this spring from Vancouver.

Another new engine installation for the Prince Rupert halibut fleet is that of the Pair of Jacks which is to have a 40 h.p. Fabco-Fuxham engine put in to replace a 35 h.p. Corless engine. The engine has arrived and installation is about to proceed.

While the new radiotelephone service connecting Prince Rupert with the south is now officially in operation, there is still a good deal of experimental work to be carried on locally and, in view of this, the Northwest Telephone Co.'s power vessel and experimental ship Belmont will be remaining here for a month or so longer, it is expected. One of the engineers who had been here in connection with the local installations sailed Thursday night of this week on his return to Vancouver.

Capt. Tony Martinusen has his halibut boat Livingstone on the Lipsett ways undergoing hull repairs preparatory to the opening of the 1932 halibut season.

The Northern B. C. Power Co.'s patrol boat Ruby May, formerly well known as the service boat of John Currie & Sons, contractors, sank while moored at the dock at Balmoral in the Skeena River at the end of last week. The Pacific Salvage Co.'s tug Billmor was sent out and towed the Ruby May in. Damage is understood to be not very extensive apart from what might be naturally expected as a consequence of such immersion.

Overhauling Steamer

Overhaul of the Canadian National coastal steamer Prince George started at the end of last week at the local dry dock where the vessel has been tied up all winter. The work will be in progress for several weeks, it is expected. In February or March, the Prince George will be recommissioned in service and the steamer Prince Rupert will then be taken off and also given annual overhaul at the local yard.

The local halibut boat Morris H., Capt. Carl Giake, is having an engine overhaul at the hands of the Pacific Machine Works in preparation for the resumption next week of the season's fishing operations.

Rumors are current throughout fishing circles in British Columbia that a new salmon cannery scheme will be got under way in the early future and that plants will be constructed during the summer and will be ready for operation next season. No details regarding the project are available, but it is understood that at least three canneries will be erected, one of which will be located on the West Coast of Vancouver Island, one near Prince Rupert, and one at another point.

The executive of the Smithers Ski Club, at a meeting on Tuesday night of this week, set February 9 and 10 as the dates for the ski tournament to be held here this winter. Many expert skiers are expected to participate in the tournament.

S. J. Mayer is the only member of the board of village commissioners who has definitely decided to be a candidate for re-election to the commission at the election which will take place two weeks hence. F. V. Foster will not be running again since it is likely he will be leaving Smithers and L. B. Warner may not seek re-election to the board on which he has served for six years. J. P. Downey, A. L. Evitt and John McKenzie are among those mentioned as possible candidates.

Mrs. T. M. Spencer, who has been visiting for the past month in Smithers, returned to the city from the interior on this morning's train. Mr. Spencer, who is running as conductor on the Canadian Railways between Smithers and Prince George, also came in this morning for a week-end visit to his home here.

Cheapest Way of Reaching the People

The cheapest way of reaching practically all the people of Prince Rupert and district is by means of the classified columns of the Daily News.

Nearly everyone has something they could turn into cash through the "For Sale" column. Perhaps they have a house to rent. Here is the chance. Spend 50c on a classified advertisement and secure a tenant rather than have it idle.

If a girl wishes a position or a housewife wishes help, the best means of getting supplied is through a want ad.

Dressmakers sometimes want work; small storekeepers want to move their goods; or maybe you need an article that has been used rather than pay the price for new. Give the Daily News classified columns a trial. Many have been very pleased at the result.
