The central committee of the Unemployed Association of Prince Rupert had a session yesterday afternoon to consider a reply received from Rt. Hon. R. B. The central executive interpreted Premier Bennett's communication as throwing the blame for cessation of unemployment relief upon the provincial government.

W. M. Brown, chairman of the board of directors of the Prince Rupert General Hospital, at the board meeting last night, announced appointment of standing committees for the present year as follows: Finance—Frank Dibb, G. V. Wilkinson, R. E. Benson and Norman A. Watt. House—Ald. S. D. Macdonald, Ald. G. W. Rudderham, Robert Gordon, G. P. Tinker and Dr. C. H. Hankinson. Grounds—Robert Gordon, Ald. S. D. Macdonald, Ald. Halibut Fishermen and Boat Owners Take Responsibility Of Honoring Unpaid Checks

Halibut boat owners and fishermen, at a meeting last night in the Eagles' Hall, decided to take care of some $8,000 of unpaid checks issued last spring by the United Pacific Fisheries by pooling the total amount outstanding equally among all the men of the fleet, each man to pay his proportion out of his share from fishing this season. Therefore, some 400 men in the fleet will pay approximately $20 each to clean up the checks. Most of the checks were cashed by tradesmen doing business with the fleet although some are still being held by boat owners to whom they were issued.

LIE GIVEN TO RUMORS

No Other Municipality in B. C. Thinking of Returning to City Police, It is Stated

Twenty-two municipalities in British Columbia are now being policed by the provincial force and Prince Rupert is the only one in which it has been even suggested to return to city policing. It was declared in an official statement this morning.

The lie was also given to a rumor which has been circulated to the effect that, should Prince Rupert revert to city policing, three members of the present city detachment of the provincial police would be staying with the city force, one officer having, indeed, already made application. "No member of the city detachment has made such application and there are none who have any intention of leaving the provincial police force," it is declared.

HOSPITAL DEFICIT FOR LAST MONTH

POLICE SITUATION

Next week the voters of Prince Rupert will be asked to decide whether Prince Rupert is to continue under the provincial police or change back to the old system of city policing so well known to the old-timers here.

To the average person the police do not mean much unless some person raids his hen roost, breaks into his home or assaults some member of his family. There have not been many cases of that kind and, as a result, people are well satisfied with the condition that exists except that it is perhaps, too costly.

Equitable law enforcement in a small place is always difficult because people all know each other and to arrest or convict a friend is not a pleasant duty.

School statistics show that Prince Rupert is developing into a city of homes where young people are growing up and parents wish to have them surrounded by the best possible influences.

We hope that all citizens will turn out next week and take part in the plebiscite and, we expect a very large majority for continuation of the provincial policing system.

IN THE LETTER BOX

TELLS OF OLD POLICE DAYS

Editor, Daily News:— I would also like to express myself about Alderman Casey's movement to have the policing of our city changed backwards to the old system which was in vogue some years ago.

POSSIBLY SARCASM

Editor, Daily News:— I was more than pleased with Ratepayer's letter in your edition of yesterday; in it the evolving of the scheme to relieve the depression is being unfolded.

Now, if any of the police are remiss in their duty, they are moved on to another place, and the ordinary citizen never hears a word about it and, after a few moves for the same reason, they are moved entirely out of the service.

A policeman, in order to carry out his duty, must exercise neither fear nor favor, and, to do this in a small community like this, it needs a man who has not become too well acquainted with everyone.

Everybody should turn out and vote on this important matter and express themselves. This is something you should not leave for the other fellow to do for you.

The agitators for a locally controlled force are working overtime the word "democratic" I probably am dumb, but I fail to see anything undemocratic about our present policing system.

Those can be obtained by the new force with a pledge against their first month's wages.

The depression might cause some of our good citizens, eminently fitted for the position, slight difficulty in obtaining the necessary election expenses.

This difficulty, if surmounted, would disappear after the commissioners became better acquainted with the electors and with the intricacies of the position.

NATIONAL RADIO

Editor, Daily News:— Being one of those who long ago resolved never to buy certain brands of tooth paste, etc. as a result of having them irrelevantly forced upon my attention and lied about over the radio, it gives me great pleasure to congratulate you on your timely support of national broadcasting as against private exploitation of this great means of education and social pleasure.

The provincial inspector of factories had a letter before the local hospital board at its meeting last night requesting that the drum type elevator in the Prince Rupert General Hospital be equipped on or before February 15, as a measure of safety, with emergency cable the same size of the hoisting cable to which it would be attached.

The closest game of the evening was the Junior League affair in which the Japanese Students defeated Boy Scouts 21 to 15 to take exclusive possession of first place.

Jake says the police are the least of his worries. The only kick he has against the local squad is that they won't arrest him and give him a square meal.

Religion

Things in Churches Have Changed For Better—New Emphasis Laid on Religion Today

(By Very Rev. J. B. Gibson, Dean of St. Andrew's Cathedral)

"Religion is the dope of the people." These words are painted in red on one of Moscow's public buildings. I fancy they mean that religion has seemed to act as a brake or drag on the wheels of progress—that, while eager reformers in Russia were working for a new earth, organized religion was apparently dreaming of a new heaven and we are told that this, or something like it, is the reason why the churches make no appeal to the majority of people. The complaint now is not that religion is the dope of the people, but rather it is so remote from the people as to be apparently indifferent to their life and needs. While we admit there was a time that that complaint was justified, yet today things have changed in the churches in many directions, and for the better, though unsuspected by the man in the street. For instance, in the old days the fear of hell and the lure of heaven answer to the riddle of our troubled and disordered common life. Christ has been called our Elder Brother in the sense of being the World's First Brother and the Inspirer of all brotherhood. In the service of all sorts and conditions of men He lived and died and to that same service of men He is calling you and me. What wonders would begin to happen if once this spirit of brotherhood laid hold of us all! Why our common life would be redeemed from all its dark shadows and would be bathed in perpetual sunshine of joy and goodwill; and more than that every serious trouble would cease to disturb our peace.

WISTFUL PICTURE

Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell Prove Popularity With Local Theatre-Goers

Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell, who are a very popular couple with local theatre-goers, are again co-starred in "Delicious," which is week-end feature offering at the Capitol Theatre here.

In this picture, Miss Gaynor is once more most appealing as the pathetic little figure surrounded by poverty and squalor through which her innate goodness and charm shine brightly. The story of "Delicious" is consistent with this characteristic of Miss Gaynor except that her occupation is a little more than ordinarily unusual. Here she is a little Scottish marmalade girl. She emarks on a giant trans-Atlantic liner to make her home with an uncle in Idaho and meets on board ship Charles Farrell, a handsome young sportsman and polo player returning from a tour of Europe. The pretty adventures and activities thereafter of this altogether charming pair make the foundation for the rest of the story which is entirely delightful.

After a series of more or less heavy dramas, "Delicious" is proving a very welcome change for local movie fans and is especially timely coming at the week-end.

Help The Fishing Industry

Bring Back Prosperity By Eating More Fish

PRINCE RUPERT PEOPLE URGED TO SUPPORT THE BIGGEST INDUSTRY THE CITY HAS BY KEEPING EVERY FRIDAY A FISH DAY AND USING THE LOCAL PRODUCT OFTEN

Prince Rupert's biggest industry is fishing. A large section of the local people are engaged directly in the industry and all others depend on the success of the fishing to keep their businesses going or to provide their salaries. For that reason it is desirable that as much fish as possible be consumed locally.

Who can help in this? Nearly every person can do something.

FISH BUYERS AND WHOLESALE DEALERS can help by making fish easily accessible to local merchants at the lowest possible price consistent with the price paid to the fishermen.

LOCAL STORE KEEPERS can help by displaying fish in their windows periodically—at least once a week—and including fish in their advertising.

HOTELS AND RESTAURANTS can help by keeping local fish well to the fore in their daily menus.

ALL HOUSEHOLDERS can help by providing a fish meal as often as possible, at least twice a week and by insuring that it be cooked and served in the most appetizing manner possible.

CITIZENS WHO ARE NOT HOUSEHOLDERS can do their part by asking for fish whenever possible and making suggestions as to methods of cooking and serving.

If Prince people lead the way, others will follow. Every pound of fish consumed locally is a help to the fishing fleet on which the city depends.

Fish produced and marketed at Prince Rupert includes Halibut, Salmon, Cod, various varieties of Flat Fish, Crabs, Shrimps, Oolachan, Herring and Kippers.

Guide to Correspondents

The Daily News welcomes correspondence on live topics of the day or any other subject of public interest, but letters must be brief and to the point. The long-winded correspondent has no place in modern journalism. Every letter must be signed by the writer, but necessarily for publication but as a matter of good faith and courtesy. All unsigned documents go to the waste paper basket. Letters of a caustic character must have the signature appended for publication. Letter should be written on one side of the paper only. Correspondents must avoid personalities and the language should be such as would be allowed in the ordinary rules of debate.

When You CAN'T QUIT

Fatigue is the signal to rest. Obey it if you can. When you can't, keep cool and carry-on in comfort.

Aspirin was meant for just such times, for it insures your comfort. Freedom from those pains that nag at nerves and wear you down. One tablet will block that threatening headache while it is still just a threat. Take two or three tablets when you've caught a cold, and that's usually the end of it.

Carry Aspirin tablets when you travel. Have some at home and keep some at the office. Like an efficient secretary, they will often "save the day" and spare you many uncomfortable, unproductive hours. Aspirin is harmless, so keep it handy, keep it in mind, and use it. No man of affairs can afford to ignore the score and more of uses explained in the proven directions. From a grumbling tooth to those rheumatic pains which seem almost to bend the bones, Aspirin tablets are ready with quick relief—and always work. Neuritis. Neuritis. Any nagging, needless pain.

Get the genuine tablets, stamped with the Bayer cross. They are of perfect purity, absolute uniformity, and have the same action every time. Why experiment with imitations costing a few cents less? The saving is too little. There is too much at stake. But there is economy in the purchase of genuine Aspirin tablets in the large bottles.

Halibut Fleet Ready to Go — Attempt to Avoid "Bunching" — Herring Moving in

The Prince Rupert halibut fleet is all set for the legal opening of the 1932 halibut fishing season on Monday of next week. The majority of vessels of the fleet are all poised and ready to leave. Outfitting and servicing establishments have been having a busy time of it and, after an exceptionally quiet winter, the generally renewed activity is very good to see. While a few are getting away a day or so prior, tomorrow will witness the departure of most of the boats.

Next to the Tahoma and Frisco, American vessels which have wintered at Prince Rupert and which left about the middle of the week to take on supplies at Ketchikan in Alaska, the Lysekil was the first of the Canadian fleet to leave Prince Rupert, having departed on Thursday for the westward. On the same night the Cape Beale got away while the Takla cleared yesterday. Today sees several boats getting away with many more following tomorrow.

During the week preceding the opening of the season, the Tatoosh and Pierce of the Seattle fleet have called at Prince Rupert for bait. The Tatoosh was in on Tuesday and the Pierce from Tuesday to Friday.

For the opening of the season this year the Seattle fleet has adopted a plan whereby only half of the fleet left port with a view to being on the grounds on the opening day. The boats of the fleet were divided into two alphabetical groups—one, the boats with first letters from A to L and the other, with first letters from M to Z. Lots were cast as a result of which the M to Z boats were allowed to leave to be on the banks on February 15, the A to L boats to clear one week later. By means of this start, it is hoped that "bunching" of landings may to some extent be eliminated. The boats of the American fleet have also agreed to stay in at least four days between each trip this year in the hope that somewhat curtailed production may have the effect of causing better prices without inflicting serious hardship or inconvenience on any one. It is expected that the Prince Rupert fleet may fall in line with the American, at least so far as the four-day lay-over between trips is concerned.

After a scarcity of fish for a week or so owing to a cold snap, herring are moving freely into Prince Rupert again from the Pearl Harbor seining grounds. On Wednesday night the power tug P. R. T. brought in the first scowload of herring to be used in the Rupert Marine Products reduction plant at Prince Rupert. The day following two more scowloads arrived and the plant is now running steadily. Gammon & Watt are doing the seining at Pearl Harbor for Rupert Marine Products using the seineboat Zenardi. Steady deliveries are being made by packers of the company fleet to the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co. freezers to be put up as bait. Capt. Ole Skog, with his boat Fredelia, is doing the seining and the Cold Storage packer Chief Jeegay has been doing the most of the packing.

To Operate Four Canneries

According to reports received in Prince Rupert, the B. C. Packers will operate four canneries in the Skeena River this year whereas the company only ran two last year—Sunnyside and Claxton. It is understood that Balmoral will be one of the additional canneries to be operated this year with the possibility that Port Edward will be the other.

Orville F. Denstedt of the scientific staff of the Prince Rupert Fisheries Experimental Station left Prince Rupert on Thursday night for Departure Bay Biological Station, Vancouver Island, where, with members of the Departure Bay station staff, he will give lectures on physics, chemistry, biology, principles of canning and kindred subjects before officers of the Fisheries Department. James Boyd, supervisor of fisheries for District No. 2 is among the fisheries department officers of Prince Rupert who will be in attendance at the lectures.

Shore destinies of the halibut fishermen's organizations at Prince Rupert this season will be in the hands of George Anderson, who, as secretary of the Deep Sea Fishermen's Union of British Columbia, is making his headquarters in the Central Hotel, and Charles Lord, who has opened an office for the halibut branch of the Northern B. C. Salmon Fishermen's Association, of which he is secretary, in the Ward Marine Electric building on the waterfront.

Following the return this week of her sky-pilot skipper, Rev. W. B. Jennings, after spending a vacation in Toronto, the Anglican Mission boat Northern Cross will soon be moved down from George Newcombe's float at Seal Cove, where she was wintered, to her regular mooring at the floats of the Prince Rupert Rowing & Yacht Club. Skipper Jennings is scheduled to leave on February 23 on his first circuit-riding voyage of the year. Many friends will wish him another year of success in his splendid work.

Capt. H. K. Kohrt, veteran fisherman of Prince Rupert, is seriously ill in the Prince Rupert General Hospital. He is doing as well as can be expected.

Trying a new venture last year, with apparently satisfactory results, one of the salmon canneries on the Fraser River in British Columbia skinned part of the sockeye catch before putting the fish through the canning process and reported obtaining a price premium for the product.

Salmon are ordinarily canned without removal of the skins and the advantage obtained by the cannery which has been experimenting with the use of skinned fish is said to lie in an added attractiveness in the appearance of the finished product.

The skinning process, as outlined to officers of the Dominion Department of Fisheries by the manager of the cannery, is not difficult or complicated, and is estimated to cost about three cents per fish. It is carried out by hand workers with the use of a knife and a wooden clamp tool, which consists of two pieces about three-quarters of an inch square fastened together at one end by a light metal bolt and rounded at the other end to fit the hand. After a cut has been made in the skin of the fish, near the tail, the clamp is attached and rolled toward the head. As it is moved along, it peels off a strip of the skin in each operation. After the fish has been cut into pieces of suitable size and packed in cans, the containers are sealed and the cooking process is carried out in the usual way.

Simply a point of incidental interest, it may be noted that sockeye skins weigh several ounces each. For example, ten skins weighed last summer averaged a little more than a third of a pound each.

Following are official figures for 1931 and 1930 halibut catches on

All the king's horses . . . and all the king's men can't make a success out of a bad product. No amount of advertising will create a market for it. The more it's advertised, the more its defects become known.

A Good Product Well Advertised grows as swiftly and naturally as a healthy plant. People try it and like it. They tell others. They like it. Soon that product is found everywhere . . . and its name, spread abroad by advertising, is on every tongue.

When you see something widely and consistently advertised, you can be pretty sure it's well worth having. If it weren't . . . if it didn't represent an honest and worthy value . . . the maker couldn't afford to advertise it.

Some of these names you know. Others, perhaps, are newcomers, all are entitled to your trust . . . all are here because they have potential friends bringing some new comfort or convenience. But something real to contribute to your advantage . . . your service . . . your happiness.
