DAILY EDITION Wednesday, Feb. 3 1932

PEOPLE TO CHOOSE

The people of Prince Rupert are to choose whether they wish to continue the provincial police arrangement or change back to the old method of a municipal police under a local board of police commissioners elected by the people.

Most people seem to be agreed that the present cost of the policing of the city should be reduced but there is a difference of opinion as to the system. Judging from the remarks of the average citizen it seems as if the people were satisfied with the present system and prefer it to the other but the vote is what will tell when the poll is taken. It is up to the people.

At the meeting Monday night Mayor Orme explained that the provincial police department was prepared to reduce the cost according to the service given.

The general local opinion seems to be that a four-man service would meet the situation and for it we think the city council should get a price from the provincial superintendent. There should be something definite to vote on when the day for taking the plebiscite comes.

Snow is all right in its place but its place does not seem to be in Prince Rupert.

TOLMIE INDISPOSED

Premier Tolmie is reported to be indisposed and will have to give up attending to public business for a short time. This is regrettable because just now there is so much to be done. The session opens toward the end of the month and there must be a great deal of preparation necessary before that time.

We hope that the Premier will be quickly restored to his usual vigor and that he will be able to so administer the affairs of the province that there will be an improvement in general conditions in the near future.

Don't be ashamed to advertise. If you have the goods and the price is right, the people should know about it.

SALARY AND WAGE CUTS

Everyone regrets the necessity of having to make salary and wage cuts in the city. Private firms had in many cases done so long ago while others have been contemplating similar action. The businessman does not like wage cutting because it reduces the buying power of his customers. Others object to it on more humanitarian grounds. A period of high wages means a period of prosperity.

In spite of the objections it seems necessary just now to keep down expenses in order to insure that the city keep solvent.

If it were not for China and Japan we would be still thinking about our own troubles. Possibly it is to give us some interest outside of ourselves that the little scrap was arranged.

OFFICERS INSTALLED

President William Cruickshank and Other Members of Gyro Executive Take Over Offices

Banquet Enjoyed

Speeches and Music Featured Service Club Proceedings Last Evening

The annual installation banquet of the Prince Rupert Gyro Club was held with a goodly attendance of members and guests in the Commodore Cafe last evening when William Cruickshank, the new president for 1932, and his supporting officers were duly installed in office by L. W. Waugh, senior past president of the club. The proceedings were both interesting and enjoyable to all present. Full justice was done to a fine dinner spread and there was also a splendid program of speeches and music.

C. C. Mills, retiring president, occupied the chair during the early part of the proceedings. Before handing the gavel over to the installing officer, he briefly reviewed the activities of the club during 1931. Despite the depression, considerable had been accomplished. The club had been instrumental in raising $700 and had turned over $150 to the Fair Board as well as distributing $500 in relief. The retiring president acknowledged the assistance that had been accorded him during the year by the officers and members.

With suitable remarks, Mr. Waugh then formally installed the following officers for 1932:

- President, William Cruickshank. Past President, C. C. Mills. Secretary, A. S. Nickerson. Treasurer, S. J. Jabour. Directors—H. A. Breen, William Mitchell, W. H. Tobey and L. W. Waugh.

New President Heard

After taking over the chair, the new president expressed his appreciation for the honor that had been accorded by electing him to the presidency. With the assistance of as good a slate of supporting officers as the club had ever had, he hoped that 1932 would be a successful year in the affairs of Gyro. Mr. Cruickshank paid tribute to the work of the retiring president and his executive.

The next speaker was G. H. Munro, president of the Rotary Club, who brought the greetings of that organization and expressed the hope that the new officers of Gyro would have a most successful year. Mr. Munro paid tribute to the Gyro Club for past accomplishments and referred to the excellent spirit that prevailed between the two service clubs. He then gave a brief description of the Rotary organization which was now of world-wide scope. With clubs in 70 countries, Rotary had set itself upon work toward the accomplishment of world peace.

Dr. R. Geddes Large was heard in two excellent vocal solos. During the evening splendid orchestral music was furnished by Charlie Balagano and his Venetian Orchestra. Community singing was also enjoyed under leadership of William Balagano.

Guests of the evening were G. H. Munro, Dr. R. G. Large, A. R. Nichols, S. J. Hunter, Ted LePage, Dr. I. P. Cade, V. S. Moore, J. J. Little, W. M. Blackstock, W. D. Vance, W. E. Drake, C. H. Elkins, Joseph Scott, William Stuart, Joseph Arseneau, George Rorie Jr., John Saunders, G. A. McMillan and R. E. Benson.

The regular league basketball games were staged in the Auditorium last night. The intermediate game was the best of the evening. The Tuxis, playing their old style of game against the heavy checking Merchants, finally, after many tense and exciting moments, gained a seven-point lead which they maintained until the final whistle blew.

The junior game was also very interesting to watch. Both teams played good basketball. The Rovers played hard but were not quite strong enough to defeat the Japanese who kept a lead all through the game ending with a small margin, 16-12.

The senior game was very disappointing. Too much individual play was exhibited by all players. Unnecessary roughness tended to make the game uninteresting for spectators. The C. N. R. A. easily won over 32 Taxi by a score of 39-27.

The girls do not get enough credit for their playing for something was lacked in last night's program and it can easily be put down to the absence of the girls' game. It is hoped to see them out in full force on Friday.

SPORT NOTES

Shifting form, which always marks the mid-section of athletic races, may prove the bane of fans who are trying to win part of the $15,000 award in the Turret cigarette hockey competition now under way, and meeting with a coast to coast response. Toronto Leafs, through the medium of their dashing "Kid Line" have been settling a dizzying pace in the matter of scoring goals, but this trio is now developing sharp fluctuations of form. After annexing eleven goals in one match, the highest total in several seasons, they were held almost scoreless by Canadiens in Toronto, Leafs only goal in that contest coming from the stick of "King" Clancy, the energetic defence player.

High School Wins Three Straight Games and Goes to Top Of League

In an exhibition game here Saturday night the High School basketball team continued its winning streak by defeating Vanarsdol 16 to 15. This is the third straight victory for the High School and places it on the top of the league. Feak was the outstanding player for Vanarsdol, while the High School owes their victory largely to the good shooting of Little.

(Line-ups)
Vanarsdol—Feak, 7; Nelson, 2; Bennet, 3; Gray, 1; Barton, 2.
High School—McLeod, 1; Little, 11; Johnstone, 2; Olsen, 1; Green.

In the other senior game the Native Sons showed their superiority over the Town by beating them by a score of 23 to 18. Hipp played well for the Town, while Burnett and Michiel played a steady game for the Native Sons.

(Line-ups)
Town—Thomas, 5; France; Hipp, 9; Hill, 4; McLeod; McKenny.
Native Sons—Smith, 6; Burnett, 6; Michiel, 7; Kerr, 4; Graham, Wallace.
In the ladies game the Dubs entirely outclassed the Dumbells when they defeated them by a score of 34 to 8. Helen Greig played a great game for the Dubs to gather 18 points.

New York Rangers are another club likely to bewilder the estimating fans. They held all scoring records until a week ago or so, when they ran into injuries and were displaced in scoring by the Toronto crew. Two defeats in a row, a season's record, was a further Ranger set-back, introducing a confusing trend into the processes of the dopsters. Boston Bruins are another club confusing the analysts. From undisputed leaders last season, they have dropped to last position in their section, with their scoring falling off in keeping with the decline. The estimators will be like the transgressors—they will find the way hard as the League team's battle on to the play-offs.

SHADOWY FORMS

Editor, Daily News:—
About 10 p.m. on Monday evening certain strange noises arose from below the sidewalk railing a few yards east of Little's News Stand on Second Avenue. Peering through the darkness into the depths of the C. N. R. Hotel excavation shadowy forms could be seen moving hither and yon between two lighted lanterns, lanterns which were perched on boxes some yards apart. A small group of figures hovered inside the circle of light of both lanterns.

Came a voice, "All right Mac, give 'er the inside turn—it's all right if you lay up ag'inst it." Then a figure in the other group stooped, and with a forward motion of his arm thrust a small object from him, which could be seen for a short time on the shiny surface within the circle of light; as it disappeared to the sound of a subdued rumbling noise into the blackness towards the other light, shouts of "Don't sweep 'er boys, don't sweep—she's got plenty," could be heard. Then a few seconds later the small object glided from the darkness along the shiny surface lighted by the other lantern, slowing up, and finally stopping. "Fine, Mac, shot rock, Mac."

Witnessing this manifestation of the spirit of Auld Scotland one suddenly was reminded of a story about a Scotch clergyman who was a great curling enthusiast. Having dispatched his rock he gave his instructions to the boys with the curling wisp: "Sweep, sweep, sweep her boys—sweep I tell ye! Easy now, she's doing fine, easy—easy. Give her a little boys; there, easy now, Easy, she's doing . . . Aw, Hell!"

ANYOX WON BASKETBALL

Kincolith Team Took One of Four Games at Smelter Town

ANYOX, Feb. 3.—On Thursday and Friday last two local teams engaged in a series of four games with the Sons of Kincolith. One senior and one intermediate game was played on each of the two evenings.

In the first night's play honors were about even—Kincolith taking the intermediate game 32 to 24. This game was followed by the senior encounter which was just one thrill after another. The game was point for point all the way and at the full time the score was tied at 19 all. In the first overtime period each team scored two points to gain tie at 31. Things were different in the second overtime five minutes for Anyox managed to register three field goals (six points) or only three points by the visitors. The final score was 37 to 34 in favor of Anyox.

The series was continued on the Friday night with both lineups almost identical to those of the previous night. The local intermediate team took the measure of the Kincolith to the tune of 27 to 13. Bunker and Gillies secured 12 and 14 points respectively for Anyox. Anderson and L. Gillies were a tonewall defence and in the first period held the visitors to a lowly count of only three points.

The senior clash was a somewhat atrocious affair. Kincolith was outclassed at every angle of the game. The class and pep of the previous night had vanished and the game got somewhat rough. Personals were handed out in rapid succession. Anyox won 29 to 10.

The result of the series was therefore three games to Anyox and one to the Sons.

Quaint Idea of Vaudau People in Southern Rhodesia

BOSTON, Mass., Feb. 2.—Wives and cattle have an equal rating among the native Vaudau peoples of South Rhodesia, in Africa, according to Mr. and Mrs. Samuel J. Curtis, who have returned to Boston after five years of missionary work there. Mr. Curtis is principal of Mt. Silinda Training School in Southern Rhodesia.

The average Vaudau has plenty of wives, but he has to pay for them. He shells out anywhere from $15 to $30 for these females, and the richer a man is, the more wives he may have. The same thing goes for cows. A Vaudau is no quicker to buy a wife than he is to purchase a good Holstein, for he has just as much regard for one as he has for the other.

Mr. Curtis teaches native children from the ages of three to 18. This work is sponsored by the government.

It is estimated that the cost of operating the average home radio receiver in the United States is $27.84 a year.

STEWART

Dr. Vosburgh of Abbotsford has decided to locate in Stewart and practice as a physician and surgeon. He and Mrs. Vosburgh are expected to arrive here this week.

Eli Watland's cabin at the east end of Fourth Street, which was one of the old landmarks of Stewart, was destroyed by fire with practically all its contents at noon last Thursday. An overheated stove pipe going through the roof caused the fire during Mr. Watland's absence.

Audience Carried Back to Tribal Days By Dances, Songs and Speeches

PORT ESSINGTON, Feb. 3.—The natives of Port Essington staged a show in the Cunningham Hall in which they carried the audience back to the early days of the Kitsumkalum tribe and, by dance and song and speeches, portrayed some of the festive customs of a hundred years ago and showed the way the tribes welcomed each other. Mrs. Pollard, a daughter of a Kitsumkalum chief, who had often attended these festive seasons with her father, very kindly supplied the songs.

There was also quite an interesting program by a number of the younger people. The entertainment was well attended and much applauded. The program was as follows:

Song, "Sheem Gi Gette," by the Chief and his tribe. As sung by the Kitsumkalum Tribe while their visitors are coming into the festive hall.

Song, "Tshim-lak-sanakqua" (the fairy). In this case the fairy is showing herself to the people in the guise of an old woman accompanied by her grandson.

"The Dance of the Chief." The chief is dancing before his visitors during the festivals accompanied by his tribe.

Speech by James Bolton.

Solo, "A Native Love Song," by Stephen Campbell.

"The Witch Doctor or the Medicine Man." Peter Stafford. Showing the witch doctor curing a very sick man after the white doctors have diagnosed his case as smallpox.

Speech by Edward Bolton.

Speech by L. L. Starr.

Novelty fox-trot, "Charlie Cadet," by the Essingtonians.

Policing is Discussed by Retail Merchants—Views to be Placed Before City Council

The question of city policing was the most important matter of discussion at a dinner meeting of the Prince Rupert Retail Merchants' Association last night and it was finally decided to write to the city council pointing out that protection is what the merchants primarily desire. Opposition was voiced against any measures of economy which would be taken at the sacrifice of protection. A committee consisting of Joe Brown and Bert Morgan was appointed to attend the next meeting of the city council for the purpose of discussing policing.

Other matters of interest were discussed at the meeting. It was decided to defer nomination of 1932 officers until the next meeting. John Bulger, president, was in the chair and there was a fair attendance of members.

Rev. P. M. Fosse, who has been relieving for several weeks in the pulpit of St. Paul's Lutheran Church here, sailed by the Catala yesterday afternoon on his return to his home in Bellingham.

Building at Indian Mine Burned—Mining of This District Described in Federal Report—Placer Mining in Atlin District

Larry Dimock, watchman at the Indian Mine in the Stewart district, is in hospital suffering from burns on the back while one of the mine buildings was destroyed by fire following the explosion of a gasoline lamp one day last week. Mr. Dimock was taking a bath at the time and all he was able to save from the burning building were a mackinaw and pair of trousers. Wrapping old sacking around his feet, he set out in this scant clothing through below zero weather for Premier. He was met on the way by men who had set out to rescue him and assisted the rest of the way to Premier.

A summary report has been issued on investigations carried out during the 1930 season by the Geological Survey of Canada. The report is devoted largely to a discussion of geological and economic features with brief descriptions of individual properties and prospects.

The mining industry of the Yukon and parts of Northern British Columbia is dealt with by W. E. Cockfield while some of the mineral properties of the Taku district and explorations between Stikine and Taku Rivers are described by F. A. Kerr.

Results from drilling indicate possible occurrence of good values over an appreciable area warranting systematic exploration and development, says Dr. Joseph T. Mandy, resident mining engineer, of Otter Creek, flowing into Surprise Lake, in an official report. Considerable hydraulic mining was carried out on this creek in former years in the attempt to attain bedrock up from the mouth. For this purpose a deep cut, about a mile long, through glacial drift was carried up the creek proper but, with the exception of some good recoveries in places on the high steeply sloping rim and from above hard pan, results were generally unsatisfactory and bedrock of the old channel was never reached. Similar work with the same results was also carried out higher up the creek. A study of the rim attitude as exposed in the present creek also indicates that an old channel strikes diagonally across the present creek site. In 1928 the old interests were taken over by the Campagne Francaise des Mines d'Or du Canada and a totally new and more logical plan of attack launched under the direction of J. E. Morgan. This entailed starting in at the lake level at a point about half a mile east of the old site and cutting in towards the old channel in a southeasterly direction.

A Scottish engineer has invented a new lubricant, which gives warning of the danger of overheated bearings by emitting a specific odor.
