FIRE LOSS WAS DOWN

Fewer Calls and Damage Less in 1931 Than in 1930, Figures Show

During the past year the Prince Rupert fire department responded to sixty alarms as compared with 75 in the year previous. Owing to loss in a fire in December having yet to be finally adjusted, total estimated loss for 1931 cannot be definitely given although estimated fire loss for the first eleven months of the year was $8,131 as compared with $31,549.70 in the corresponding period of 1930. Following is a record of fire calls and loss in the city this year and last month by month:

During 1931 101.31 inches of precipitation were recorded as against 85.33 inches in 1930, 82.45 inches in 1929 and 80.84 inches in 1928.

Despite Depression Building in 1931 Here Was Higher Than That Of Two Years Immediately Before

In spite of the general depression, building permits in the city of Prince Rupert during the year 1931, totalling $156,443 in value, showed a small increase over 1930's $148,694.50 and a very marked increase over $91,296.82 in 1929. Permits of 1931 were, indeed, within very close range of the $160,379 recorded in 1928 well before the depression commenced. Permits issued in December 1931 were light at $1,235 as compared with $2700 in December 1930.

At 12:30 noon last Monday in Victoria a quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized at the First United Church manse, 777 Pemberton Road, when Rev. W. G. Wilson, D. D., united in marriage Ruth Edna, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Eborall of Keatings, to Major W. J. Wilby, M.C., elder son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wilby, Yates Street.

Given in marriage by her father the bride was attended by the bridegroom's sisters, the Misses Laura Wilby, and the bridegroom was supported by his brother-in-law, Mr. Harry Robson. The bride looked charming in her travelling suit of marine blue gabardine with a blouse of eggshell satin, with hat gloves and shoes to match. Her only ornaments being a necklace of pearls. Only the immediate relatives of the young couple were present. The gifts received were numerous and costly.

Major and Mrs. Wilby left on the afternoon boat for Terrace, where they will reside, many friends seeing them off. Major Wilby was formerly on the teaching staff of the Victoria High School, leaving the city six months ago to assume the principalship of the high school at Terrace.

The minister of finance is also distributing among the municipalities $162,753.57 representing 1931 pari-mutuel race-track receipts. This is a decrease of $7,000 from last year. This pari-mutuel distribution is made on the basis of the 1931 census.

SEATTLE, Jan. 2:—The crew of the Japanese freighter Tamaho Maru were safe today in the North Pacific Ocean after abandoning their sinking ship following a sixty-hour fight with wintry seas. PHONE IS UNIVERSAL

N. F. Pullen Tells of Wonders of Radio Telephony

VANCOUVER, Jan. 2—The wonders of modern radio telephony which enables Vancouver to talk to 25 countries and 32 million telephones constituting over 85 per cent. of the telephones in the world were told in the Hotel Vancouver, by N. F. Pullen, publicity manager of B. C. Telephone Company, at a luncheon meeting of the Advertising and Sales Bureau of Vancouver Board of Trade.

Radio now spans the vast spaces not covered by land wires but modern engineering has made the radio hook-up as efficient as the wire. Anyone in Vancouver can telephone to Australia at a cost of $7 for 3 minutes, but there is no record of it having been done yet. "But it is sure to happen before long when someone is in a hurry," Mr. Pullen said. The Australian service is longest of all in mileage, 17,000 miles via New York and England.

To Call Hawaii

The rate on the new connection with Hawaii is $21 for 3 minutes so that anyone who wishes to send New Year greetings to Hon. H. H. Stevens in Honolulu can do so for that comparatively small sum, Mr. Pullen explained.

Using a world map, Mr. Pullen gave a graphic picture of the reach of the human voice through the magic of modern electrical engineering.

Brazil has just been added to South American countries that may be reached. Bermuda has been added within two or three days. Sumatra is also a new country on local telephone lists, and Rumania has been added to (Continued on Page Four)

Scotch Dance On Hogmanay

I. O. D. E. Hall Scene of Delightful Affair on New Year's Eve

As has been the custom for many years, many young folks gathered together on Hogmanay night to spend the last hours of the old year in tripping "the light fantastic toe."

The I. O. D. E. Hall had been prettily decorated and the Scotch orchestra, consisting of John Bremner, James Watt, J. B. McKay and J. L. Lee, played for Scotch dances while Mr. and Mrs. McKay played for Canadian dances. The Highland Schottische, danced to bagpipe strains, was especially enjoyable.

Delightful refreshments were served at 11:30 p.m. after which Piper Leslie piped out the Old Year and all joined heartily in the New Year's welcome "A Guid New Year ta'oe One an' a'."

Dancing and merriment were kept up until 2 a.m. J. Hadden and D. Ritchie proved efficient masters of ceremonies.

BUY BRITISH GOODS

The movement to buy British Empire goods is gaining considerable impetus in Great Britain, especially in some sections, with the result that Canada as well as other portions of the Empire are benefitting. As one small example of what is being done, people were urged to buy only Empire products for their Christmas puddings and various recipes were sent out showing how everything used in this great national dish could be supplied somewhere under the British flag.

While the sentimental side of the British nation is being commandeered in favor of the Empire, the anti-dumping duties and the exchange both contribute to Empire trade solidarity. Nothing like it has ever before taken place.

In the past Empire products have been looked upon as more or less of a joke. Lumber was purchased from Norway or Oregon in preference to British Columbia and these products or Russian were usually included in architects specifications. Today there is a row if an architect does not give at least an opportunity for Empire products in all specifications.

When some years ago the minister of lands, Hon. T. D. Pattullo, went to England and initiated the lumber shipments to that country, it was looked upon as a strange experiment. It was difficult to persuade people there that Douglas fir was exactly the same wood as Oregon pine and that the farther north it was grown the tougher it was. Today the change has come as a climax to those efforts. The Empire is looking everywhere for Empire goods. Pretty soon we shall develop an Empire complex which is bound to be beneficial as long as it is not exerted in a manner actively hostile to other countries. Today it is a matter of self-preservation.

DAYLIGHT SAVING PROPOSED

Victoria Chamber of Commerce has gone on record in favor of advancing the clocks of the nations an hour in order to induce the people to get up earlier and have more daylight in the evening.

As a sectional measure, we can see the force of argument for it. One district wishes to be up earlier than the others and puts all the clocks of the district one hour ahead. It causes confusion but it is more or less effective.

Let daylight saving become national and let it operate throughout the year and it seems likely that very soon the whole nation would drift back into the old habit of getting up in the morning at the hour which seems most convenient in the matter of light distribution.

It is true that in the summer most people lose a good deal of the best part of the day because they lie in bed until nine o'clock, when to enjoy the freshness of the morning they should be up at 4:30. It is only when they go hunting or fishing or when they are in poor health that they happen to be awake at that hour. Social engagements interfere with early rising.

We may fool ourselves for a few months by advancing the clocks or possibly for a few years but eventually, if we persist, we shall forget that the clocks were moved ahead and have to give them another jerk forward if we wish to camouflage ourselves out of bed at 6 a.m.

They win! The girls are now taking the feathered headdress as an accompaniment to evening gowns. And this young miss, as she looks in the glass, doesn't find it so hard on the eyes either

APPEAL TO LEADER OF OPPOSITION

Government Having Failed to Bring Relief Unemployed Turn to Other Side

The Provincial Government having failed to bring them relief, the unemployed at Cloyah Camp are turning to the opposition and asking T. D. Pattullo to try to help them. They held a meeting of protest at the camp and at the meeting a petition was signed by ninety men addressed to T. D. Pattullo, leader of the Opposition, which reads as follows:

We, the undersigned workers in camp at Cloyah Bay, Prince Rupert, now assembled in meeting held on December 30, 1931, feeling that we are unfairly dealt with in the several undemocratic matters, and are unable to interest the present government in our condition, whether it is through inability on their part to handle the unemployment situation, or through callousness, hereby petition you in your capacity as Leader of the Opposition of the present Government, to enquire into, and endeavor to get action taken in removing the causes of complaint.

1.—Several weeks ago, on representations being made to the Government that there was considerable lack of clothing among some of the workers in this camp, and that they were unable to purchase same through work being closed down, a list of necessary clothing was forwarded to Victoria, but to date same has not been received, and the only satisfaction we receive from correspondence is that the matter is under consideration.

2.—In the early part of December a new Ration List or "Menu for Relief Camps" was put in force, reducing the diet to the minimum, in fact, it is believed that the penitentiary rations would compare favorably with this list. For instance, a telegram from Victoria dated December 16 ruled that the Christmas dinner would be the same as that on the ration list for Sunday dinner, with Christmas pudding added. Relief camps in other provinces of Canada are employed steadily, and in the press we read glowing accounts of the Christmas fare that was provided. We are at a loss to understand why this drastic reduction is made in the rations. It is surely bad enough to be unemployed when there is abundance of useful and necessary work to be performed, without the authorities tampering with our food when there is abundance of food in the country. We have committed no crime, yet we are treated worse than criminals.

3.—It was further brought to the attention of the meeting that there was strong suspicion of exploitation by private individuals in the supplying of food, and that considerable saving could be effected if purchases were made in the regular business manner, i. e.—either contracting for the catering or buying in the cheapest market. Restaurants and other large users of food supplies enjoy certain cut rates, while supplies for this camp are apparently purchased in a haphazard fashion regardless of cost or any effort to secure the best prices. As stated above, there is strong suspicion that this could be remedied by investigation. We are unable to gain access to invoices to compare them with current prices, but this meeting is of opinion these invoices would repay investigation, and you are in a position where you could possibly demand this.

This petition is respectfully submitted for your consideration.

BIG DANCE IS STAGED

Close to Five Hundred Persons at Moose Hall Saturday to Help Usher in New Year

Close to five hundred persons attended the monster dance which was staged on New Year's Eve. It was probably the largest crowd that has ever been seen in the spacious Moose Hall.

The occasion was one of much enjoyment and enthusiasm. Splendid music was furnished by the Premier Orchestra under leadership of Robert Greenfield. Dancing commenced at 9:30 p.m. and held full sway until 2:30 a.m.

The hall was gaily decorated for the occasion with evergreens, colored lights and balloons and the scene was very attractive indeed.

At the midnight hour as the old year passed out and the new one stole in, all joined hands and sang "Auld Lang Syne." Much noise making and merriment followed and buffet refreshments were served under direction of Jack Jeans.

B. J. Bacon was, as usual, a general master of ceremonies. Ole Stegavig presided at the door.

The committee in charge of the dance consisted of Fred Scadden, Gillis Royer, N. S. K. Brewer, L. J. Blain, Ted Rorvik, R. Long, J. Ratchford and J. M. Morrison.

XMAS TREAT AT TERRACE

Sleigh Ride Followed By Refreshments and Visit From Santa Claus

TERRACE, Jan. 2.—The children of St. Matthew's Anglican Sunday School were given an enjoyable treat on Wednesday afternoon when they were taken for a jolly sleigh ride around the district. Following the drive they were taken to the home of Mrs. Geo. Dover where light refreshments were served.

Santa Claus arrived at an opportune moment, much to the delight of all present. His sack contained a remembrance and bag of sweets for each child present and he was given three rousing cheers by the youngsters.

The treat was arranged by the Anglican Woman's Auxiliary and the teams and sleigh were loaned for the occasion by W. A. King and W. Ross Thomson.

Having completed her calls in the Skeena River and at waypoints earlier than usual, Union steamer Cardena, Capt. Andrew Johnstone arrived in port at 11:45 yesterday morning from the south and lay here until 12 o'clock last night when she sailed on her return to Vancouver via waypoints.

NONE BUT OPTIMIST SUCCEEDS

M. P. McCaffery Gives New Year Message to Members of Rotary Club at Luncheon

"I never knew anyone who ever climbed to great heights who was not an optimist," declared M. P. McCaffery in a New Year address at the weekly luncheon of the Rotary Club Thursday afternoon. "To attain the greatest success it is necessary that a person have faith in himself, faith in his fellowmen and faith in his country. If he has these he is bound to succeed."

Mr. McCaffery spoke of the previous epochs in the history of Prince Rupert. There was the 1911 period when all were prosperous but not contented. All were looking forward to better things. There was the year 1914 when war broke out and all were influenced by the wave of patriotism that swept the country. In 1918 peace was signed and a sigh of relief went up and all felt that their troubles were over forever. Then came 1931 when there was a world-wide depression such as had never before been seen or heard of. During the last few weeks in Prince Rupert it had been very intense.

Under these conditions the New Year was breaking and it was for people to consider what steps they should take. He reminded them that he could look back to the Victorian days. He remembered the time when he worked for $22 a month. In those days people got a thrill from seeing a girl's ankles; from fishing with a rod cut from the bush; from using an old flintlock shotgun. It was the days of buggies instead of motor cars and, in spite of it all, they enjoyed themselves. They got just as many thrills from life as the people did today and at much less expense. People, at any rate, were able to work and earn a little and it cost little to live. He believed they were better off than today. They were happier.

If the modern inventions and improvements did not bring happiness, the speaker said, what use were they? Mr. McCaffery said he thought people would have to get down to bedrock again, live within their means and pay their debts. There was nothing else to do. Turning then to purely local conditions, Mr. McCaffery urged that the spirit which had animated them this Christmas be continued throughout the year. Prince Rupert people must stick together. People in other parts of the country would not pull for this city. If local people presented a solid front and stood for Prince Rupert, first and last, the city would succeed. The address closed with an appeal for a spirit of optimism which would carry over all obstacles to the goal set.

"Half a sec, you bozes, till I get the war 'paint on!" says Billy Cadley of San Francisco and member of the California Roses girls' rugby team. "Give a break, can't you!"

SPORT NEWS

Canadian yachtsmen are taking kindly to the suggestion advocated by several prominent United States yachting enthusiasts for an international trophy, according to the tenor of letters received by the secretary of the North American Yacht Racing Union at New York. It has been suggested a trophy be put up for competition among 12-meter craft to replace the America's Cup. It is taken for granted that it will be some time before anyone steps into the breach left by the famous Irishman, Sir Thomas Lipton, who has been the only challenger for the America's Cup in years.

George H. Gooderham, Toronto, considered one of the Dominion's foremost yachting authorities, wrote to the Union saying in part: "We must have international racing if we are to keep the sport alive, and the suggestion of an international race for 12-meter boats is, I think, a very excellent one. In the first place, these boats are of a size that a reasonably wealthy man can afford to own and race, and, also, they make excellent cruising boats."

Mr. Gooderham, however, opposes a contest between several boats as he believes a race of this kind mentioned should be a duel between two countries. He also suggests a deed of gift should be drawn up to prohibit anything in the nature of a machine, "such as was so disgracefully exemplified in the Enterprise." G. H. Duggan, Montreal, another leading Canadian skipper, and other yachtsmen from as far east as Halifax, in addition to scores of United States yachtsmen, have written to the Union in favor of the new series.

Fair Sum Realized For Gyro Club Relief Fund—Conducted By C. N. R. Rifle Association

Considerable interest was taken yesterday afternoon in the turkey shoot conducted by the Canadian National Recreation Association Small Bore Rifle League at the new range in the railway yards, on behalf of the Gyro Club's winter relief fund. A number of birds were shot for and a fair profit was realized.

W. H. Tobey was in general charge of the shoot with A. R. Nichols, William Brass, Jeff Wooddall and Harry Lincoln assisting.

STORY IS DRAMATIC

Tallulah Bankhead Featured at Capitol Theatre in Brand New Talking Picture

Tallulah Bankhead, who made a good impression here recently in "My Sin," is back again on the Capitol Theatre screen this weekend in "The Cheat" and has a role which is excellently fitted to her enigmatic and excitement-craving self. Playing opposite Miss Bankhead is Irving Pichel, gifted character artist. To those who saw "The Cheat" in silent with Fanny Ward and Sessue Hayakawa, itself a great picture, the talking version is no disappointment.

The story tells of an alluring woman intrigued by the love-making of a mystic man of oriental culture. In spite of the fact that she is happy and satisfied with her husband, she permits this flirtation and a gambling debt to draw her into the power of the intruder. He writes a check to pay one of her obligations. In the meantime, money is provided by her husband with which she cancels the check but the enslaved lover refuses to consider her promise fulfilled. The latter sequences reveal how she is actually branded and the dramatic suspense which follows when her vengeful shooting of the tormenter brings herself and husband to a notorious position in court.

This is the first showing of "The Cheat" in British Columbia, the picture having been released only thirty days ago.

European countries to whom one may say "hello" if one knows the Rumanian translation.

New Trans-Canada Line
 The new Trans-Canada all-Canadian connection will be opened officially towards the end of January and the new section connecting B. C. with Alberta has cost $1,000,000, requiring over a million pounds of copper wire and 500 carloads of telephone poles. "It was an exceedingly interesting and difficult job over the mountains," Mr. Pullen said.

Telling of the success of long years of experimenting with radio connections in B.C., especially along the coast, Mr. Pullen said that apparatus was now being installed at Prince Rupert which will soon give direct connection with Vancouver and other parts of British Columbia.

In many interesting experimental hook-ups by radio and land wire, including both-way talks with Queen Charlotte Islands, Prince George, Prince Rupert, West Coast of Vancouver Island and Alaska, the most interesting was a completely successful connection between Ketchikan, Alaska and Montreal.

ABANDONING OF QUOTAS

System is Already "Ditched" in Regulating Immigration to United States

WASHINGTON, D.C., Jan. 2.—Abandonment of quotas as a method of restricting immigration into the United States is suggested. In the past fifteen months the Labor Department has found by experiment a more effective way of checking the flow.

The quota system, which dated from 1924, does not apply to the western hemisphere or Canada or the Latin-American republics. It limits immigration from the rest of the world to 150,000 annually. Under this dispensation the arrivals have several times exceeded 300,000 in a year, Canada alone providing as many as 100,000.

Since October, 1930, by Presidential order, the Labor Department has admitted only one-tenth of the normal quotas from quota countries and has cut by 90 per cent. the movement from non-quota countries. This is done by applying a simple economic test to "very applicant for admission. Anyone 'likely to become a public charge' is kept out, and the meaning of these words has been stretched to the limit. In effect, the quota system has already been ditched.

Effective Method
 The new method of holding down the movement has proved so very effective that Harry E. Hull, commissioner of immigration in the Labor Department, in his report for 1930-31 suggests dropping the quota idea altogether. In previous reports he has recommended a quota for Canada. This year he says that a "selective system like that enforced for fifteen months past would make unnecessary any numerical restriction of immigration from the world at large."

This request that Congress eliminate quotas, letting the Labor Department settle how many people the country needs and can absorb, is not likely to be conceded. Congress will be unwilling to give the executive so much discretion. Among the 6,000 bills already introduced at this session is one from Representative Jenkins, an Ohio Republican cutting all quotas by 90 per cent. and establishing a quota for Canada at 10 per cent. of 1930 entries. This bill is sure to be buried, but it shows the temper of Congress. Some numerical limit will be kept in the law, to make sure that when prosperity does return the doors will not be opened wide.

Another suggestion by Mr. Hull is more likely to be adopted. The law instructs United States consuls to give first chance to farmers in granting visas. Mr. Hull says this preference should be abolished, this country having farmers in abundance. A third recommendation is that all aliens resident in the United States be registered by the Federal Government.

Few Canadians
 Mr. Hull's report shows that in 1930-31, 21,167 Canadians migrated to the United States intending to stay permanently, the smallest movement recorded in 23 years. Of this number, 14,998 were natives of the Dominion and 6,689 were born elsewhere. In the same twelve months 13,554 persons moved northward over the border to live for good in Canada. The net loss to the Dominion for the year was apparently 7,613 by these figures but Mr. Hull admits the computation of the border movement can only be approximate.

He estimates that 28,939,318 persons were admitted to the United States over the Canadian border in 1930-31, including 16,009,986 Americans and 12,929,750 others. Each individual crossing is counted, so that every daily Canadian commuter across the line contributed 365 to the total. Even so, the movement is evidently so large that exactitude in counting the temporary visitors and the permanent settlers is not to be looked for.

Of 18,142 persons deported in the year, Mr. Hull reports, 2,276 were sent to Canada. During the year 5,454 Canadians seeking admission as immigrants were rejected at border ports, 2,961 as likely to become public charges and 1,602 because they had not secured visas.

A report on naturalization issued simultaneously with Mr. Hull's shows that in the fiscal year 7,173 Canadians became citizens of the United States.

MINING IN INTERIOR

Has Been Quiet Year For Omineca Division—Some Work Done

Coal Mine Active

Cronin and Columario Properties Were Under Development

(By L. S. McGill, Smithers)

The close of the year 1931 found no metal mines operating in Omineca Mining Division and there is no disguising the fact that it has not been as good a year as preceding ones. The only mine in actual production at the present time is the Bulkley Valley Coal Mine, being operated under lease by Frank M. Dockrill of Telkwa.

This coal mine is owned by eastern interests who have held it for many years. But it was Mr. Dockrill who started up actual production when he took it over in the fall of 1930. It is situated only seven miles by a good motor road from the town of Telkwa on the Canadian National Railways. Economy of development and operation is aided by its natural exposure on the side of a steep bank running up from Goat Creek. Bunkers and ramp are built in the valley bottom while two slopes are run from the bunkers right into the side of the hill following down an easy grade in a fourteen foot seam, all of which is clean coal except for one parting an inch in thickness. Production to date has been all from this No. 1 level.

High qualities in heating make this the best coal ever offered for use in British Columbia and there is a growing demand for it as it becomes more generally known that it is an excellent general purpose coal. During 1931 production was 7900 tons, sold at various points between Prince George and Prince Rupert. As the market grows, Mr. Dockrill increases his present crew (now 13 men) to enlarge production accordingly.

Low Ash Content
 The coal has a low ash content, and is very low in moisture—less than one percent of an average moisture content as against approximately 19 percent in some of the Alberta coal shipped into the district. But it is in British thermal units—the measure of heating content—that Bulkley Valley coal is shown to excel. All British Columbia coals have been shown by analysis to be higher in B.T.U.'s than their Alberta competitors. But that produced by Mr. Dockrill is the highest of all British Columbia present producing mines. It averages 13,900 B.T.U.'s against 9,000 or less in the average Alberta coal or approximately as three is to two. The result is that, taking an average price of $12.00 per ton, that the consumer buying a ton of Bulkley Valley coal gets $18 worth of heat for the same price. Naturally the demand for the product is growing throughout the entire district.

Cronin mine in the Babine Range, though a silver-lead mine, was developed steadily throughout the year, and with good results. Work now closed down for the winter period. World financial conditions as low prices for metals stand as obstacles to the immediate installation of the plant now warranted, bringing this mine into active production. On Hudson Bay Mountains close to Smithers, favorable results were also obtained in the silver lead developments in the Silver area. A larger operation will follow in 1932.

Active Gold Mine
 Columario mine at Usk has been the only active gold mine in the district apart from placer operations. Underground workings have now been carried out to prove a large body of ore, warranting the installation of a mill, and the management is now arranging for the financing of this. Other gold prospects are lying idle, close to the railway, for lack of needed finances. There are unequalled opportunities for capital in these.

Placer mining has been more active than for years past. The only placer field close to the railway that was given attention is that of Lorne Creek on the Skeema River and right on the Canadian National Railways, about 140 miles inland from Prince Rupert. Jas. Jones, S. A. Corley and Mack Orr have been getting good results. It looks like a real come-back for this fifty-year-old placer ground. Nathan River and Manson Creek areas were also given considerable attention. In many cases results are promising and there should be more real mining going on there this coming summer. Distance from transportation has proven a great handicap but the road northward from Vanderhoof and Fort St. James is being pushed ahead by the provincial government and should give a great impetus to the whole placer region.

The Daily News welcomes correspondence on live topics of the day or any other subject of public interest, but letters must be brief and to the point. The long-winded correspondent has no place in modern journalism. Every letter must be signed by the writer, not necessarily for publication but as a matter of good faith and courtesy. All unsigned documents go to the waste paper basket. Letters of a caustic character must have the signature appended for publication. Letter should be written on one side of the paper only. Correspondents must avoid personalities and the language should be such as would be allowed in the ordinary rules of debate.

To End RESTLESS, TOSSING SLEEPLESS NIGHTS

Ovaltine is widely used in hospitals and nursing homes, not only for sleeplessness but for building up the health and strength of convalescents, for expectant and nursing mothers, and for aged folk who need extra nourishment. It is also widely used as a family beverage where there are growing children—at meals, between meals and at bedtime.

FRAYED and jangled nerves . . . nights of restless tossing and miserable wakefulness . . . fitful dozing crowded with anxious thoughts . . . awake at or before dawn and no more sleep till rising hour . . . mornings of listless weariness, forcing yourself to the daily tasks—no mere sedative can correct these conditions. You need Ovaltine, a tonic food beverage for nerves, body and brain.

Ovaltine—"The World's Best Night Cap"

Ovaltine corrects the causes of sleeplessness—feeds the worn-out nerves and fatigued body-cells. One cup just before retiring, immediately allays any digestive unrest that may be keeping you restless and awake, soothes and feeds the nerves, and allows the over-ly alert brain to relax. Deep restful sleep follows quickly and naturally.

Ovaltine is a highly concentrated extraction of ripe barley malt, rich creamy milk and fresh eggs from our own and specially selected farms. Do not mistake ordinary malt and cocoa flavoured beverages for Ovaltine, or expect them to have the same beneficial effect upon your system. Ovaltine is the original and supreme Tonic Food Beverage. There is no satisfactory substitute for it.

OVALTINE RUSKS
For firm teeth and healthy gums eat Ovaltine Rusks. They combine Canadian wheat flour and Ovaltine granules, and offer a much higher food value than ordinary rusks or biscuits.

Ovaltine is sold at all good stores, in 50c, 75c, $1.25 and special $4.50 family size tins; also served at soda fountains.

WATERFRONT WHIFFS

Future For Whaling is Uncertain—Large Anchovy Schools on West Coast Useless

The vagaries of international exchange and world markets will dictate the policy of the west coast whaling industry this year. Whale products, like pulp and paper and similar products, are in competition in world markets with the output of Scandinavian countries, whose exchange has been severely depreciated since Britain abandoned the gold standard. Officials of the whaling industry in British Columbia are now studying the far reaching effects of this situation before they determine whether or not to send their vessels into the North Pacific to hunt the big mammals. In the normal years the Consolidated Whaling Corporation, largest concern of its kind on this side of the Pacific, operates eleven whalers and whaling tender in the west coast whaling campaign, but last year, owing to a general decline in prices whaling operations were suspended. The catch in an average year amounts to about 300 whales. Chief products of the industry are oil, whalebone, meal and fertilizer. The various by-products and refined products from these commodities number more than a score because almost every part of the whale carcass is utilized. Meanwhile whaling masters and biologists are speculating on the probable effect of a long moratorium on whaling. A prolonged suspension of whaling operations will naturally result in increasing the whale population of the North Pacific. The situation is working out in accordance with the predictions of old-time fishermen who have claimed that there will always be whales in the sea because the cost of whaling will rise to such an extent as the schools gradually become depleted that its continuance will become unprofitable, thus always leaving a sufficient number of whales to continue the species.

Large schools of anchovies, in splendid condition, have made their appearance off the west coast of Vancouver Island, and every herring seine has been filled with tons of this fish. However, as anchovies are regarded as without commercial value here, they are dumped overboard as soon as caught. Many hours have been spent by fishermen in clearing their nets of the anchovies, prized in many other markets. Anchovies have made a fairly regular appearance off the west coast each fall for several years, but seldom in such large quantities as at the present time. Years ago a determined attempt was made by a British Columbia fishing company to market these fish, as is done in Europe. In spite of exhaustive market research and careful experimental packing, it was found that the cost of production was too great for the venture to be practicable. Although conditions may have altered since the first attempt, there is apparently no commercial use being made of anchovies.

Rift in the ranks of the Deep Sea Fishermen's Union as between the American and Canadian factions of the organization was not difficult to perceive on Tuesday of this week when, owing to preponderance of vote at Seattle and Ketchikan as against the vote of Prince Rupert, members decided by a total vote of 148 to 86 in favor of closing the Prince Rupert branch. Seattle voted 105 to 48 in favor of closing the Prince Rupert office and Ketchikan 39 to 19 in favor of such action. Prince Rupert voted 19 to 4 against the closing of the branch.

Some observers see in the vote on this issue a reprisal on the part of Seattle and Ketchikan against a move which was mooted last year in Prince Rupert to close the port to American vessels. If such was the case, it simply appears that business sentiment on the part of the American fishermen was stronger than the union principle.

With the closing down of the Deep Sea Fishermen's Union at Prince Rupert, after having operated a branch at the port for many years, speculation is rife as to what the Prince Rupert halibut men shall now turn to if they are to continue as an organized body. Steps have already been taken to bring the Canadian halibut men under the banner of the Northern British Columbia Fishermen's Association which heretofore has been largely a salmon men's organization. It has also been suggested that the Canadian halibut men may organize independently of any existing association. No doubt, action of some kind will soon be taken. A meeting of halibut fishermen has been called for tomorrow to discuss future organization.

J. M. Morrison, agent of the Deep Sea Fishermen's Union at Prince Rupert for the past three years, finds himself in a peculiar situation. While he was elected agent at Prince Rupert by a margin of 115 to 79 over Einar Larsen, his only opponent, the office was abolished by the referendum so Mr. Morrison is without the position although favored for it.

Signs of the times could be seen in one vote of 186 to 46 opposing the raising of dues and in another vote of 185 to 49 favoring a cut from $45 to $40 per week in the salary of agents.

Harold Grottle was elected agent at Seattle, being accorded 120 votes as against 96 received by the present incumbent, Thorvald Kipperberg. Gust Olsen was re-elected agent at Ketchikan by a vote of 154 to 85 received by two opponents.

P. B. Gill of Seattle was re-elected secretary-treasurer of the Union without opposition.

The Department of Marine announces that the black steel can buoy on the east side of the channel about one mile southward of Lawn Point gas and whistle buoy, entrance to Skidegate Inlet, will be discontinued and a red steel conical buoy established on the west side of the channel about one and three-quarter miles southward of Lawn Point gas and whistle buoy. The change will be made without further notice.

Cheapest Way of Reaching the People

The cheapest way of reaching practically all the people of Prince Rupert and district is by means of the classified columns of the Daily News.

Nearly everyone has something they could turn into cash through the "For Sale" column. Perhaps they have a house to rent. Here is the chance. Spend 50c on a classified advertisement and secure a tenant rather than have it idle.

If a girl wishes a position or a housewife wishes help, the best means of getting supplied is through a want ad.

Dressmakers sometimes want work; small store-keepers want to move their goods; or maybe you need an article that has been used rather than pay the price for new. Give the Daily News classified columns a trial. Many have been very pleased at the result.
