One of the principal events of the holiday season was a dance given at Queen Charlotte City by the Queen Charlotte City Badminton Club. PEACE RIVER COUNTRY

Economy is the keynote of all activities today. No money is expended unless it is looked upon as an absolute necessity.

It is at a time like this when the advantages of the Pacific outlet to the sea should be recognized by all Canadians. It is the hope of a very large section of the country, particularly of that new and rapidly growing young empire through which the Peace River flows.

PRINCE RUPERT WAS BUILT TO BE THE WESTERN OUTLET

The logical point from which the grain of the Peace should be shipped. There are other points which might be made available but the railway is already built into Prince Rupert from Edmonton by the best grade of any line on the continent. The port is already here and a fine elevator ready to receive the grain. No expense is necessary except for the piece of railway connecting the existing Peace River railways with the main line of the Canadian National at some point between Hansard and the coast. With that operated jointly by the two big railway companies and with the C. P. R. granted suitable running privileges over the C. N. R. to enable them to do business on an equality with their competitor, the business of hauling grain to the Pacific by the best possible route can commence.

While this is a time when strictest economy is being practised everywhere, it is a time when the employment of labor in a large way is eminently desirable. Men are out of work and must be fed. The reasonable thing would be to set them to work on big undertakings of a productive nature and this Peace River Pacific outlet is one that lends itself to the purpose, especially if one of the longer and more economical routes such as that to Hazelton should be adopted.

SETTLERS ARE STILL POURING INTO THE PEACE COUNTRY

The towns are growing into cities and the villages into towns. The people are a unit in demanding a western outlet and they have adopted the Prince Rupert attitude which is that it be built by the most feasible route to the coast.

The location of this route means everything to the country. If it should be built south instead of west and should go by a tortuous route with mountain grades instead of by way of a perfect water grade to the sea, it would mean that high freight rates would be set to enable the railways to earn dividends under the difficult circumstances. A case in point is that of the C. P. R. which was built through the difficult Kicking Horse Pass and as a result of which a mountain differential had to be established.

It would be little short of a crime to place a permanent embargo on all western shipments from the Peace River country, especially at a time when people are looking for the most economical way of carrying on the business of the country and enabling the farmers to compete with grain growers in other countries to the best advantage. The interests of the grain growers should be paramount. Any line that is built should be for the purpose of serving them and not to advantage any particular port or district.

OF THE WESTERN ROUTE

For the products of Northern Alberta and British Columbia. The port has one of the finest harbors in the world, open all the year round and easily accessible from the ocean. It has one of the most up-to-date elevators suited for terminal shipping purposes. It has docks suited for deep sea shipping, a large dry dock and shipyard and other conveniences that go to the making of a port, such as a quarantine station, wireless and radio telephoning stations. Nothing is lacking. The port is ready for business, the railway is ready to carry the grain and all that is needed is the western connection with it from the Peace country.

It would seem the part of statesmanship for any government to enable such modern facilities to be used for the benefit of the Peace River farmers and at the same time to provide employment for that army of men who today are clamoring for honest jobs to enable them to live as decent citizens of Canada.

Owing to lack of funds, we mending than heretofore because have never been able to supply the heavy strain involved in their necessant circulation causes them to wear out to such an extent that they can only be rebound or discarded. Our policy of buying reinforced books has brought good results in their wearing quality and has much decreased the number of volumes waiting for binding at one time. With few exceptions, all children's books are now ordered with reinforced binding; all reprints and duplicate pay books are also reinforced: reprints give excellent service and the reinforced copyright wears about three times as long as the ordinary book.

"Highest points touched in the work of the year are as follows: "The largest number of borrowers in one month came in November with 79 applications. The number of books added reached high hark also in November when 81 additions were made. The largest

Last Saturday broke all records for work at the public library, it was stated at the meeting of the Prince Rupert Public Library board held last night. The number of books given out was exactly 700. the first time that figure had been reached in the history of the institution. That was done between the hours of 1 and 6 and between 7 and 9, the average rate being just 100 to the hour.

The secretary in his report to meeting said:

"The degree of popularity which the Library has attained, together future progress however, unless an effort is made, when the civic financial situation improves, to house our Public Library in a more uitable building."
