PROVINCE HELD RESPONSIBLE FOR CUTTING RELIEF WORK

Preliminary Arrangements Have Been Completed For Plant With Capacity Of 200 Tons Per Day

Col. C. W. Peck V.C.

Important Scheme For Local Development Outlined By Frank L. Buckley at Dinner Meeting in His Honor Last Night

Pioneer Resident of Prince Rupert who is revisiting city today with Board of Pensions Commissioners.

Site at Seal Cove Selected; Organization Starts at Once

Mill Payroll Would Amount to $36,000 Per Month—700,000 Feet of Logs Daily Consumption—Construction Within Six Months Planned

Prince Rupert will very soon have a pulp plant capable of turning out 200 tons a day of high grade bleached sulphite pulp to compete with Swedish pulp, if the plans of the promoters of the scheme succeed. The money for the preliminary operations has been subscribed, the backers being men from Minneapolis, St. Paul and New York and the principals of a large southern shipping company. The scheme was outlined at a dinner given by the citizens of Prince Rupert last night to Frank L. Buckley of Vancouver, representing the different interests of the enterprise, who told something of the work he had done on it during the past two years and of the bringing to fruition of the preliminary plans.

The plant is to be established at Seal Cove in the city of Prince Rupert. A site has already been selected and organization work will commence at once and will take several months before actual construction can commence.

The proposed plant will manufacture high grade sulphite and will use approximately 700,000 feet of logs daily. The labor costs in the process of manufacture run to about six dollars a ton which, when the mill is operated at capacity, would amount to something like $36,000 a month, in addition to the subsidiary operations which would also employ a great many men. If actual construction commences within six months, as is planned, the mill should be in operation within 18 months from now.

It was pointed out by Mr. Buckley that at the present time there was no sulphite plant idle on the Pacific Coast and he believed every one in Canada was working at capacity.

Mayor Orme presided and introduced the speaker, Alderman Pillsbury, president of the Chamber of Commerce, spoke appreciatively of the preliminary work done and of the benefits which would accrue to the city if the plans matured. Alderman Macdonald, president of the Trades and Labor Council, welcomed the advent of an industry which might mean so much to the city.

In telling of the preliminary work done, Mr. Buckley read a copy of a letter which he had written to the Minneapolis interests before he undertook the work of organization. He told of his previous interest in the district in connection with his airplane spruce operations on Graham Island during and after the war. He stated that he believed a plan could be worked out and brought to a successful conclusion, the con-

TAXATION EXPLAINED

Details of How New Income Tax Will Operate Revealed by Minister of Finance Jones

Surplus Expected

Municipal Grants Remain Untouched Although Cities Must Increase Participation

VICTORIA, March 17.—Hon. J. W. Jones, minister of finance, in presenting his budget to the Legislature yesterday, announced an anticipated surplus of $155,000.

Under the new income tax, salaries up to $1000 pay one percent with two percent on the second thousand, three percent on the third and so on up to $19,000 when the tax would approximate ten percent and where the gradual increase would cease. For instance, a man earning $2000 would not pay two percent on that amount but one percent on the first thousand and two percent on the second thousand. There are exemptions of $500 for married persons and $200 for each dependent and also on life insurance premiums up to $300 per year.

Municipal grants remain as heretofore but municipalities pay fifty percent of mother's pensions, $1.25 instead of 70c for patients at Tranquille Sanitarium, 50c per day for each inmate in mental hospitals and 80c per day for each inmate in boys' and girls' industrial schools.

PULP MILL PROPOSAL

Today we are able to announce definitely that the organization of the proposed pulp mill for Prince Rupert has commenced and that the backers of the project will proceed as soon as all the plans are completed. This will take some months, possibly six or more, but Frank L. Buckley, representing the various interests, assures the Daily News that the mill will be built and will be located in Prince Rupert.

The plant is to be for the purpose of manufacturing high class sulphite, such as that made in Sweden which is used in the manufacture of high class stationery and other papers for which there seems to be an unlimited demand.

At the dinner last night much enthusiasm was shown but a few were disappointed that Mr. Buckley did not announce that the work of construction would commence next week. They had been filled up with foolish rumors. It would have been ridiculous to expect this. Much hard work has to be done before construction work is commenced. In the meantime the strong backing of the company seems to indicate that the organizers are likely to meet with complete success.

In regard to the labor situation it may be wise to say a word. There are at present several hundred idle men in the city and many more in the district, quite sufficient to undertake all the work necessary when the time arrives to commence. In the meantime no one should come to the city expecting to secure employment as a result of the pulp mill. It will be possibly six months before construction can commence and even then there will be plenty of men here to undertake the work. All that will be needed will be a few specially trained men for certain classes of work.

DR. MANDY IS HEARD

"The World on Which We Live," Interesting Subject For Discourse to P. T. Association

There was a larger attendance than usual at the regular monthly meeting of the Prince Rupert Parent-Teachers' Association last evening at the Booth Memorial School when Dr. J. T. Mandy gave an extremely interesting talk on "The World on—or in—Which We Live." Prefacing his talk with the statement that it was a beautiful world, Dr. Mandy referred to the songs "The Spring Has Come" and "Down in the Forest," which had been so well sung by Mrs. H. N. Brocklesby, as evidence of one of the phases of the beauty of the world, the melody of the human voice.

To introspective people particularly, but to all in general, the questions as to why they are here, why they are living and why they die, must be provocative of much meditation. Undoubtedly the acquisition of knowledge with its resultant advancement of humanity followed upon the application of this knowledge must be a real reason for being. Yet, with the increase of knowledge, people found, first, that they thought they knew little about a great many things, then they found they knew less about more and more till, finally, they were sure that they knew nothing about everything.

The complete dependence of people upon the earth for everything was emphasized and contrasted with their general ignorance of the very earth to which they owed all. The value of the microscope in revealing the secrets of parts of the material world, the result of this knowledge accumulation and the broadening of foundations for future knowledge were stressed. How much more a rose would mean to children after they had been made acquainted with its composition and the marvellous complexity of its structure! "To the natural philosopher no natural object is unimportant or trifling. From the least of nature's works he can learn the greatest truths," and "Every grain of sand is an immensity, every leaf a world, and every insect an accumulation of incomprehensible events, reveal what philosophers say of this earth about which so many know so little."

Then Dr. Mandy took his hearers for a journey through parts of the solar system, revealing his rare familiarity with his subject, impressing on all the immensity of the infinite, and then more concretely dealing with the history of the earth such as might result from the logic of the philosopher telling the story of the earth from "a pebble on the beach."

In this connection Dr. Mandy's reference to the fact that the earth was gradually slowing down, and the result of this decrease of motion, was effectively brought home by applying such a change to everyday routine. The length of day fifty seven million years ago was only six hours so that one would have been kept busy getting in three meals a day in addition to getting up, dressing and undressing, working and playing. What it would be in another similar period of time, when one would require to eat enough at a meal to last four times as long as now, was too terrible to contemplate.

Crust of Earth

With the facts verified that the crust of the earth was two and a half times as dense as water while the whole earth was five and a half times as dense as water, geologists were able to conclusively state certain facts about the interior of the earth. At a depth of 25 miles rocks must be molten, the greatest penetration of the crust of the earth by man being less comparatively than a visible scratch on the surface of an orange.

The application of this knowledge regarding the earth was the particular business of the mining engineer. The importance of metals; the necessity of knowing where they might be found, could not be overestimated. In fact, it was this urge that led Julius Caesar to invade England, Leif Erikson to search for what is now Canada, Columbus to try to find a shorter way to Asia where metals and the spices of the earth might be obtained. The exploration of the various parts of the world in detail were attributable to the same urge.

In concluding his very interesting talk, Dr. Mandy again reminded his audience that, when they have reckoned up all they know, they ...must realize in all humility that they know very little. A very hearty vote of thanks was accorded the speaker on motion of Mrs. J. E. Boddie and conveyed to him by the president, Mrs. S. V. Cox.

At the business meeting preceding the address, it was announced that the regular Easter sale of candy would take place at the various schools on Thursday, March 25. Owing to the Prince Rupert Singers' Concert taking place on the regular meeting night of the P. T. A. the next regular meeting will be held at Borden Street will take place on Thursday, April 21. A tea is to be held at Mrs. Cox's residence on April 29.

Miss Mills, treasurer, reported a credit balance of fifty dollars.

Miss Grassie played an enjoyable solo as well as playing for the opening and closing numbers. Mrs. Brocklesby was accompanied by Mr. Brocklesby in her attractively rendered solos.

The affirmative side was taken by Ben Sampson and A. O. Franks and the negative by Ald. G. W. Rudderham and Andrew McDonald. The decision of the judges was awarded to the affirmative on points. The judges were D. C. Schubert, N. S. K. Brewer and J. M. Morrison. The dictator of the lodge, William B. McCallum, presided. Following the debate, a clam chowder supper was enjoyed. There were about sixty-five members present.

SPORT NOTES

As a preliminary to the final game between Prince Rupert All-Stars and Port Simpson Y.P.E.A. on Friday night of this week, there will be an important game between Merchants and High School. The High School won the first half of the schedule and now, with only a lead of one game over Merchants in the second half, they must win Friday's game to claim this season's city intermediate championship.

Should the Merchants win, the teams will be tied. This will necessitate a play-off in conjunction with the senior and junior play-offs next week. As Panthers won the first half, and C. N. R. A. the second half of the senior schedule, it will be necessary to stage a play-off next week. The same applies to the Scouts and Japanese in the junior division.

Probably the basketball thrill of the season is in store for those who witness Friday's games—the Port Simpson-Prince Rupert final, and the crucial intermediate game between High School and Merchants. Even if sport enthusiasts have failed to follow the season's play, they should make an effort to see these really first-rate games. It is highly probable that the crack Y. P. E. A. team of Port Simpson could battle on even terms with some of the best teams in the province. And our intermediate division rivals the seniors in its stirring exhibitions of the hoop pastime.

JOHNSON CRITICAL

Fiercely Senator From California Attacks U. S. State Department and Foreign Bankers

WASHINGTON, March 17.—In a scathing attack upon the State Department while speaking in the Senate, Senator Hiram Johnson of California declared that, as a result of the avarice and greed of international bankers in this country, United States people had been duped into purchasing nearly two billion dollars of foreign bonds floated in this country. These bonds, Senator Johnson declared, were of very questionable value today and it was more than likely that some or all of them would eventually be repudiated.

EVENT IS EXPECTED

BUCHAREST, Roumania, March 17.—Dowager Queen Marie of Roumania is buying tiny clothes these days. A blessed event is said to be expected before so very long concerning the Dowager Queen's youngest daughter, Princess Ileana, who was married not long ago to the Archduke Anton of Hapsburg.

Ralph Smith, who has been spending some time at Telkwa with his brother Thomas Smith, returned to the city from the interior on this morning's train.

GREAT FLOODS IN NORTHERN RUSSIA

MOSCOW, March 17.—Great floods covering an enormous area in the northern Caucasus region of Russia have been reported here. Fifty villages have been inundated and the death toll is believed to number hundreds if not thousands.

Preliminary Arrangements

clusion being based upon the following facts:

"With the supply of suitable wood and timber within a radius of 100 miles, which we have discussed, you would have a perpetual supply for any development within reason. You are most fortunate in the number of natural advantages which your proposed development commands and carries. They are as follows:

Raw Materials

"There is an abundance of raw materials, the species of which lend themselves to that particular industry owing to the large percentage of spruce they contain and the accessibility which insures cheap delivery of wood and logs for all time. The operations should include a medium capacity saw-mill for the manufacture of rough clears principally, so that logs could be sorted, taking out the No. 1 and No. 2 clears only. I presume you are aware that clears in spruce bring the highest price of any of the clears on the Pacific Coast, ranging in price from $25 per M feet B.M. to $300 per M. This latter price being for airplane grade. In this way you would have two sortings, one in the log and another in the sawing, as anything that then developed in the saw-mill below a No. 2 grade would go over to the pulp operation and in this way eliminate waste, getting the maximum in quality and quantity of the operation, which in the final analysis gives you the greatest value in dollars and percentage of profits.

Location

"The location for the mill, owing to the abundance of raw material, as stated before, is most suitable for the industry, the best on the Pacific Coast. You can draw a circle of 100 miles around or from Prince Rupert, using this point for your axis, and you include the greatest volume of suitable timber for the manufacture of high grade pulp and paper, viz: spruce, balsam and hemlock, that there is left available on the North American continent. Second, Prince Rupert is located on and is the terminus of a transcontinental railway, enjoys a mild climate, has one of the finest deep water harbors in the world, with ample shipping facilities with an open port the year round, and if a mill is built at this point, it will be the only one on the Pacific Coast, in fact, the only one in Canada, which can boast of and capitalize all of these advantages.

"In connection with the location of a plant at Prince Rupert and its relation to the city, first, this northern terminus of the Canadian National Railways needs and wants industries, which in turn produce and maintain pay-rolls, and there is not any industry, comparatively speaking, that develops the country around, builds up the city and community, being a steady industry for 365 twenty-four days out of the year, as that of the pulp and paper business. Therefore, as stated the city wants these sort of things, and it will develop other lines of industry such as the building of houses for the employees, which is vastly important. And as the houses are of wood, so is the pulp and paper of wood, all of which comes from the countryside, which is wooded in every direction, which again furnishes employment to a large number of settlers all of whom are directly or indirectly tributary to the city of Prince Rupert. There are many other points in connection with this that I could enumerate and enlarge upon but will leave them for your imagination for the time being.

"On the other hand, there are always two sides to every question, and in this connection, I would just mention the advantages of those engaging in this industry, or any other by locating in a city such as Prince Rupert. You are not burdened with the necessity of raising capital to build houses, stores, places of amusement, etc., for your men, or the maintaining of the same. You are on a railway as well as a harbor which gives you a variety as well as competitive transportation facilities to all parts of the world, which none of your competitors are favored with in their entirety. Your labor supply will be much more easily maintained. Especially is this true of skilled and highly technical employees, on account of living conditions, educational facilities for their families, etc. You can have your executive offices right at your plant, instead of maintaining two sets of offices and in some cases three, as is the case with some of the operators in British Columbia.

Power

"Power is a most important consideration, and the situation in Prince Rupert is now most unique, as quite recently there has been completed a magnificent hydro-electric plant of large dimensions and capacity, which is now delivering its power into Prince Rupert, and they are in need of customers at the moment as badly as you would be off for power if you had your mill completed and had not arranged for your power. Remember this plant is completed, not going to be built, and needs just such an industry and operation as a pulp and paper mill for their minimum load. Again, this is an advantage to you, as it will eliminate just that much capital expenditure and you are not paying any premium for it.

Transportation

"The Canadian National Railways and Canadian Government Merchant Marine is an immense transportation system which, in reality, is the Dominion of Canada. I would group them as one, they being in need of industries, which in turn are feeders for their transportation lines, as badly or worse than the city of Prince Rupert needs them. They ship train loads of fish to Eastern points—the long haul—and now in most cases return the cars empty. It is a dead loss to haul empties in any direction by any railroad. But in event there was built a pulp and paper mill at their terminal, it would mean these as well as other cars would roll west loaded with merchandise, etc., so we can see they will be, and in fact, are most anxious for an industry of the proportion which you contemplate. Remember "business creates

Provincial Government "The members of the provincial government are extremely interested in an industry of these dimensions, being one which, tied with the natural resources of the province and more especially the northern part of the province, and again more particularly the lumber industry from the province derives its revenue and which has been suffering some of late. You depend on all the assistance as humanly possible from the present interested departments, especially the forestry and works departments.

Marketing

"Marketing is all important. Morgan's advice was—When you get into the manufacturing business three cardinal points which judgment would insure success were: an abundance of raw materials, good transportation and a market for the manufactured products. You are assured owing to the quality of pulp you propose making, that all spruce product on the continent of a premium of $4.00 to $6.00 per ton with an undertaking to take the complete output of your mill."

The letter also referred to management of the new company and mentions two men already selected for the positions of manager and superintendent. He also alluded to the preliminary work of organization and to the need of operation if success is to be attained. The dinner was one of the most attended and most enjoyable ever held in the city. Those present represented all the business and professions including bankers, merchants, doctors and a few labor representatives.

NEWS OF THE MINES AROUND PRINCE RUPERT

Stewart Mine Case is Still in Courts—Planes Serving McConnell Creek Goldfields—New Deal on Georgia River

After considering since November last an appeal which John McNeill and James A. Connors, miners of Stewart and Juneau respectively, appealed from a judgment requiring them to pay $10,000 to Harry Quickstad, miner of Vancouver, the British Columbia Court of Appeal heard additional argument last week in Vancouver.

On behalf of the appellants, it was urged that David Johnson and J. J. Wored of Seattle, to whom Quickstad assigned ten and fifteen percent interests respectively in the subject matter of the litigation, should have joined as parties. Quickstad was awarded $10,000 damages by Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald in Supreme Court for breach by defendants to sell the Red Top mine which adjoins George Copper back of Stewart. The plaintiff alleged that McNeill and Connors broke an option agreement to sell the mine to him for $250,000. Quickstad was negotiating for a sale of the property to J. F. Duthie, Seattle millionaire. Quickstad's assignees should have been before the court, it was urged and, without them, the claim should have been dismissed.

Planes of the Canadian Airways Ltd. are giving an excellent service between Burns Lake and the new gold discovery on McConnell Creek, making as many as three round trips in a single day. The operating company is well equipped and expects to make a good showing during the coming summer.

A deal is reported to be under way whereby New York interests will provide additional finances for continuation of development work on the Georgia River Gold Mines Ltd. property on the Canadian side of Portland Canal below Stewart. Something definite in this connection is expected to be announced before very long.

Guide to Correspondents

The Daily News welcomes correspondence on live topics of the day or any other subject of public interest, but letters must be brief and to the point. The long-winded correspondent has no place in modern journalism.
Every letter must be signed by the writer, not necessarily for publication but as a matter of good faith and courtesy. All unsigned documents go to the waste paper basket. Letters of a caustic character must have the signature appended for publication.
Letter should be written on one side of the paper only. Correspondents must avoid personalities and the language should be such as would be allowed in the ordinary rules of debate.

Hemorrhoids

Or piles are quickly relieved by Dr. Chase's Ointment

It is a serious matter to have piles and one person in four has them at one time or another. The annoyance and distress is great. It is difficult to obtain lasting relief. So much so that a surgical operation may be considered necessary. That is unless your physician is familiar with Dr. Chase's Ointment for many doctors recommend this treatment to their patients.
For nearly half a century Dr. Chase's Ointment has been the never failing relief for itching, bleeding and protruding piles. It is now very generally known by the medical profession, and the public generally, as the standard treatment for this torturing ailment.
Ask your friends about Dr. Chase's Ointment for "users are boosters" in this case. Relief comes quickly and you can obtain the ointment at any drug store.

STARS IN 'WAYWARD'

Delightful Picture With Mother-in-Law Theme Being Offered at Capitol Theatre

"Wayward," current feature offering on the screen of the Capitol Theatre here, presents Nancy Carroll, Richard Arlen and Pauline Frederick, three cinema stars of notable achievement and popularity. The theme is that of a persecuting mother-in-law, portrayed by Pauline Frederick, who thinks her son's wife, Nancy Carroll, is quite unworthy of the affection of her boy, Richard Arlen.

Miss Carroll has a splendid vehicle for her flashing beauty and dashing spirit. The veteran Pauline Frederick is splendid indeed in the dramatic parts. The manly Arlen also gives a fine performance. On the whole, the picture is a highly delightful one.

Another interesting feature of the current picture program is a reel descriptive of the development of air mail service in Canada. This picture contains numerous interesting views including aerial scenes of Montreal, Toronto, Calgary, Edmonton and Vancouver.

LET A MOTHER TELL YOU

Mrs. Albert Bolton, Toronto, gratefully speaks of what Eagle Brand did for her little daughter, Margaret Joan. "For the first three months she was nursed, but this did not seem to satisfy her, so after trying nearly everything, I read an advertisement in a newspaper about Eagle Brand and decided to try it. She took to it right away and there has been no trouble since. She has 14 teeth, all coming through without difficulty. Her flesh is firm, lovely straight limbs, good bone development and so contented. She won third prize at the Canadian National Exhibition Baby Show last September in Class D, with 102 entrants."

If you are unable to nurse your baby, or he is not gaining as he should, follow the advice of hundreds of thousands of other wise mothers and try Eagle Brand Milk. If you will send us your name and address, we shall be glad to send you helpful, free booklet on infant welfare, filled with advice and practical suggestions that will delight you.

Every photograph and letter published by the Borden Company is voluntarily sent us by a grateful parent or other relative.

VANDERHOOF

L. C. Gunn, district engineer for the provincial department of public works at Prince George, was a visitor in town last week on official business.

The public works department officials here have received plans and work orders for the Nation River bridge. There are 20 men and three teams at work on building operations.

After having been engaged in mining operations in the Rainbow Creek district for a little more than a year, Edward Moore has been spending the past week or so in Vanderhoof and Fort St. James. He will be returning north in the near future.

W. G. Gamble, inspector of schools, returned last Saturday to Prince George after having inspected the Vanderhoof and Lakes District schools.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Smedley left last Saturday morning for Vancouver by motor truck. They took with them a load of furniture for Mr. and Mrs. E. F. W. Heath and, on their return, will bring a load of goods for local business men.

"How do they do it?"

Among your friends there's sure to be at least one smart young married couple who are the envy and admiration of all who know them.

With an income that is frankly abbreviated, and with no benevolent Aunts in the offing, they still have a home that is correct and comfortable in all its appointments, a home that is admired and copied by their friends.

"Yes, Jane is a remarkable little manager," will probably be the young husband's proud answer. And there is little doubt about it.

THEY DO IT THIS WAY

Take a look around that home and you will find no end of well known advertised products. For Jane is an efficient little manager. She can't afford to take chances that must only be debited to "Experience." When she buys for her home she must get tried and tested and trusted products which carry an honorable name to guarantee her satisfaction.

You will find that Jane is a consistent reader of the advertisements. Are you?
